NUREMBERG, May 16.—The Bavarian agricultural, industrial, and art exhibition is the largest that has ever been held in Germany. There are upward of three hundred exhibitors, representing trade and industry, with interesting exhibits of raw products, materials partially manufactured, processes for art restorations, panels, and other decorations of great variety, articles of trade, machinery and general works of art. The park in which the exposition is held is the finest that I have known to be selected for such a purpose, having an area of 120,000 square metres. There are four buildings containing the art, commercial, mechanical, and agricultural exhibits. The building devoted to industry has a space of about thirty-three thousand square metres. The catalogue, which contains a number of splendid scientific descriptions, also has an industrial encyclopædia of the highest scientific value.

THE VICEROY'S POLICY.

DUBLIN, May 16.—Earl Spenser expressed a determination to pursue a vigorous policy to root out the evil which has caused the desolation of the country.

AN UNFOUNDED STORY.

LONDON, May 16.—It is officially announced that the story that England had addressed an energetic remonstrance to the United States against the proceedings of Irish-Americans is untrue. Nothing has been done beyond what is contained in the documents presented to the House of Commons and published.

THE EGYPTIAN CRISIS.

CAIRO, May 16.—The Khedive has been advised by the English and French consuls to pardon the Ministry, who have thrown themselves at his feet. The English consul has issued a proclamation declaring that the presence of the Anglo-French fleet is purely amicable, and that no occupation will take place if the negotiations with the Egyptian Government are successful. The attitude of the army is still doubtful. Cairo, it is declared on high authority, is not a fit place for women. The whole country, excepting the army, is loyal to the Khedive.

WAR NOTES.

LONDON, May 16.—Cairo advices state that relations have been resumed betwenn the Khedive and his Ministry. It is stated that Arabi Bey, hearing that the fleets were summoned, ordered all the army reserve to be sent to the capitol within three days. The Cabinet last evening submitted completely to the Khedive. The English and French squadrons have arrived in Suda Bay, and it is reported that a Turkish squadron has also been ordered there. Some of the French vessels will go to Tripoli. When his Ministers waited on the Khedive last night they kissed his hands and garments, implored pardon, and expressed loyality. The Khedive received them coldly, but said he would sink personal differences to save the country, which was placed in serious danger. The Ministers then withdrew humiliated. The Porte has addressed a note to England and France representing that, as calm has been restored in Egypt, the despatch of the fleet is unnecessary. Six ironclads are outside the port of Alexandria. Their presence creates great excitement.

LOSING HOPE.

DUBLIN, May 16.—The hopelessness of feeling in Dublin in regard to the discovery of the assassins is shown by the general belief that an enquiry into the remissness of the police will soon take place.

MR. PARNELL'S VIEW.

LONDON, May 16.—Mr. Parnell does not attribute the assassinations to the Fenians, but thinks the assassins were members of some much more extreme association.

TREATY OF KILMAINHAM.

LONDON, May 16.—In the House of Commons to-day, Mr. Gladstone, replying to a request by Sir Stafford Northcote for further information regarding the negotiations with the suspects, reiterated that it was not conducive to law and order to explain the details. He said it was the duty of the Government, neither looking to the right nor to the left, to open the prison door. He had had no communication with Mr. Parnell, and there were no official communications, nor stipulations. In consequence of Mr. Gladstone's answer Mr. Balfour (Conservative) moved the adjournment of the House. Mr. Balfour said the compact with the suspects was unexampled in infamy. Mr. Gladstone, speaking in a great passion, declared that there was not a word of truth in the charge that a compact existed, and such assertions were a disgrace to those making them. The remark of Mr. Balfour, which particularly excited Mr. Gladstone's rage, was that Mr. Gladstone's statements might be verbally accurate, but they were substantially inaccurate. Sir William Harcourt declared that the Government were bound to release the suspects when they believed they desired to help to restore peace. Mr. Chamberlain stated that when Mr. Parnell was released he was absolutely unaware how the Government meant to deal with the arrears of rent and other questions. Mr. Gibson (Conservative) declared that if the Government and the suspects were not aware of each others' intentions, each had a reasonable suspicion. He regretted the effect that would be produced in Ireland by the Government's pitable display of readiness to confederate with anybody likly to serve them. Sir Wm. Harcourt said Mr. Balfour should take the sense of the House on his charges, or they would be treated with contempt. He was glad to hear that anyone, even Mr. Sheridan, was willing to assist in restoring peace and order. Such assistance was better than inflammatory speeches. Sir Stafford Northcote thought further information was necessary to show that no submission had been made to the power of the Land League. Ireland above all requires to know that she is governed.

OUT OF THE BAG.

NEW YORK, May 17.—The Tribune's London special says it seems now established beyond a doubt that in spite of Gladstone's repeated denials an understanding does, or did exist, by which, in consideration of the release of the members and introduction of the Bill, the Land League members undertook to support the Government. It is regarded as evidence that Gladstone was ashamed of the transaction because he allowed the truth to come out by uncertain instalments. The effect of the debate in the Commons is generally to discredit and and weaken the Government in the development of its new policy towards Ireland. The arrears of rent Bill does not appear likely to find much favour among the Conservatives and moderate Liberals.

THE IRON DUTIES.

We ere glad to be able to agree with the Examiner on one point, which is that the iron duties are the weak point in our present tariff. The National Policy promised, as it has since proved, to be so beneficial to the country, that we did not like, in the face of the fierce opposition to it, to complicate the situation by cavilling at one imperfection in it. We however felt then as we do now, that the duty on iron instead of being too high, as the followers of Mr. Blake say, is not sufficiently protective. It has been shown by the event not to be sufficient to tempt capitalists into the outlay of the large expenditure than would be required to enable Canada to produce its own iron. We have some of the finest ore in the world and an abundance of it, so it seems to be folly that we should be so largely indebted to other countries for our supply.

We need have no fear that a really protective duty would permanently increase the price, for we have past experience to guide us. When Great Britain some years ago was building up its trade by protective duties, there was no industry so completely protected as the protection of iron. The duties already high were raised again and again till they were absolutely prohibitive, yet as the duties rose the price fell from the effect of the internal competition that was thus stimulated. In the United States they have had a similar experience; a protective tariff instead of raising, lowered the price of iron.

We would gladly see such a duty imposed as would develop our own valuable mines, and render us independent of supplies from abroad.

MR. MACKENZIE'S VIEWS IN 1879-80.

In Hansard for 1879 Mr. Mackenzie is reported as saying:—

"The Hon. gentleman who had spoken on this subject had evidently spoken simply with a view to the local advantages derived from the expenditure of public money on this work. His hon. friend who spoke last gave a glowing picture of the hopes entertained in regard to the canal, and the Trent navigation works projected before the union of Upper and Lower Canada. This work, however, was long ago given up as one utterly impracticable, and every practical man knew that there was not the slightest intention to build a canal, or a possibility of it being made through to the Georgian Bay. The project had been given up by every engineering authority, and by the Provincial and Dominion authorities. * * He mentioned two years ago, in this House, in connection with the estimates for non-improvements, slides and booms, the desirability of giving up the work altogether, as one that imposed a heavy burden on the taxpayers of the Dominion and yielded no corresponding advantage whatever. * * * It was not one of the great lines of navigation; it had utterly ceased to have any character of that kind for many years."

Again in 1880, we learn from the official report that Mr. Mackenzie said (with reference to Mr. Stark's survey):

"These wild projects are utterly absurd, and it is a waste of public money to send engineers to examine such projected work."

And again in the same discussion he said:

"Here is a work which would cost not less than $15,000,000 to $20,000,000 and an engineer is gravely sent to see whether it is wise or not to proceed with it. A single glance at the map, at the geneal geography or topography would show, apart from the information of the Department that this IS ONE OF THE WILDEST SCHEMES EVER SPOKEN OF."

INLAND NAVIGATION.

As some persons, who do not keep abreast of the information of the day, appear to think that the period of inland navigation has passed by, to be succeeded by railways, we quote two interesting paragraphs from the American Engineer, an undoubtedly high authority:—

"The River and Harbor Bill, which is about to be reported to the House, is said to appropriate some $16,000,000 for the improvement of the water ways and harbors of the country. For the Mississippi and Missouri rivers some $6,000,000 is set aside for levy repairs and reconstruction and for deepening and improving the channel under the control of the Mississippi River Commission."

"At Sea Horn, Salamis, the King of Greece turned the first sod of the proposed Corinth Canal on May 5th. At least so says a dispatch, and it had been previously reported that General Turr had succeed in placing all the stock of the project, so that it may be inferred that this age of canal building will witness another addition to the list of useful commercial canals."

THE division of the Brant Ridings is one of the points of Redistribution Bill that has been most strongly attacked, but without any warrant. The Paris Review, a Liberal paper, says:

"No division of the Brants could be more convenient for practical purposes that proposed by the Redistribution Bill. In South Brant the G. T. R. renders rapid transit from one end of the riding to the other easy, while the G. W. R. performs a similar office for North Brant."

MECHANICS' INSTITUTE.

THE FOURTEENTH ANNUAL MEETING OF THE MECHANICS' INSTITUTE.

The Election of Officers—Increased Membership—The Large Library Augmented—Favorable Report of the Directors &c.

On Monday, May 15th, the fourteenth annual meeting of the Peterborough Mechanics' Institute was held in their rooms, with the President, Mr. A. P. Poussette in the chair.

The President read the annual report of the Directors as follows:—

To the Members of the Peterborough Mechanics Institute.

The Directors in presenting their 14th annual report have pleasure in stating that the membership for the pass year has considerably increased and now number 313, being the largest of any year up to the present time, and while this is in itself a cause for congratulation, it must be felt that so useful an educational institution should receive more cordial support from a town of the importance and population of Peterborough.

The Library Committee have prepared a careful and exhaustive report of the work of the Institute during the year and their report which has been adopted by the Board is submitted as part of this report.

The expenses of the Institute have been kept within such limit as is consistent with efficiency. A statement of receipts and expenditures, which has been duly audited, is submitted herewith.

During the winter the Directors obtained the services of Captain Cheyne, R. N. for a lecture on Arctic Discovery, but although the attendance was not unsatisfactory the expenses were so great as to entail a small loss to the Institute. In view, however, of the fact that the object of the Institute is rather to afford instruction than profit, this is not so much to be regretted as it would be if the reverse were the case.

The Directors are of opinion that it is in the interests of the Institute to adopt the system of making each ticket good from the date at which it is signed and recommend that the by-laws be amended to carry out that object.

For the Board,
A. P. POUSSETTE,
President.

Peterborough, May 15th, 1882.

The report of the Library Committee was read as follows:—

Peterborough, 1st May, 1882.

To A. P. Poussette Esq., President of the Mechanics' Institute:

SIR,—Your Library Committee beg to report that two hundred and fifty one volumes have been added to the library since last report, at a cost of $322.35, and classified as follows:

	No. of Vols.	Costing.
Biography	30	$ 37.44
Essays and Reviews	3	3.08
Fiction	47	47.24
History	4	6.84
Works of reference	5	34.00
Miscellaneous	110	124.27
Poetry and Drama	5	5.42
Periodical Literature	3	5.00
Religion	3	5.20
Science and Art	14	28.06
Voyages and Travels	17	25.80
	241	$322.35

In addition to which a sum of $136.39 has been expended on the reading room.

The number of volumes now in the library (or in circulation,) is now 4,494, and your Committee recommend that additional accommodation be at once provided for books as there is barely room for the present number of volumes, and it is proposed to add largely to the number during the ensuing year.

There were 6194 volumes issued to the members last year and the membership has increased to 313; a number which although comparing favourably with former years, is still only about half what it should be, considering the size of the the town, and the advantages given for the small annual subscription.

Your Committee have much pleasure in reporting that the new librarian (appointed since last report,) has fulfilled her duties to their entire satisfaction, and they feel that the Directors of the Institute, and the members, are to be congratulated upon the appointment of Miss Shaw, who has made herself popular with all, by her zeal and attention to the interests of the Institute and her uniformly polite and obliging manner to all members.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

F. J. LEWIS,
Chairman, L. C.

TARIFF COMMISSION BILL IN CONGRESS.

After long debate the Tariff Commission Bill has passed the American House of Representatives, and its speedy adoption by the Senate is looked for as a matter of course. As it is supported by the party to which President Arthur belongs, and as there are no treaties with foreign powers to be considered, as in the case of the first anti-Chinese bill, it will be promptly signed by him and become law. The bill provides for the appointment of a mixed commission, half members of Congress and half private individuals, representing manufactures, commerce, agriculture respectively. It will be the duty of the commission to go over the existing tariff item by item, from the beginning to the end, taking evidence as to its working, and hearing suggestions as to points wherein it might be improved. Then a report on the whole matter will be made to Congress, as the basis of an amended tariff, on which Congress will be invited to take action.

In the passage of the Tariff Commission Bill the Protectionists have scored an important victory. It was strenuously opposed by the Free Traders, for much the same reason that the Fenians are opposed to the pacification of Ireland. They do not want the tariff amended, or made more satisfactory in its working, just because that would spoil their game, and leave them nothing to agitate for. The existing tariff has many and grave defects; its framework was constructed rather more than twenty years ago, since which time circumstances have greatly changed. Had it been as nearly perfect as possible when made, it would still need revision to adopt it to the changes of ten, fifteen, or twenty years. But it was far from perfect; it was made in a hurry in the first place, and of late years distractions of various kinds have hindered Congress from giving proper attention to its amendments. It is no argument at all against the principle of protection to say that the tariff of this or the other nation, established upon that principle, has proved defective in its details. We are nearly all agreed as to the principles of legal justice between man and man on matters of bargain and sale, and as to those which govern the punishment of crime. Yet every session of every legislature sees many amendments to the law, both civil and criminal, the necessity for which is affirmed by the majority.

This important action now being taken by our neighbors is not without interest to ourselves. It has become one of the moral certainties of the near future, that there will soon be a revised American tariff, with many objectionable features of the present tariff eliminated, and many new and good ones added, as experience and evidence may suggest. This work done, the new tariff will be very much stronger and less open to attack than the old one. It will therefore stand the better chance of remaining as the nation's permanent decision on the principles of protection reduced to practice. The day of America's return to Free Trade is again indefinitely postponed; and Canada may earn a lesson from the fact. Still, we wait to hear from the Globe on the subject of America's sure and rapid progress towards Free Trade.—The Canadian Manufacturer.

HAUNTS OF BOYHOOD.

BY THOMAS NEWBIGGING.

Haunts of boyhood! how I love ye,
Scenes of beauty fair and free;
Woods and hills around, above me;
Wear a calm serenity.
Warble soft, ye birds, full sweetly,
Sing of happy, youthful days;
Come, my soul, be thou completely
Lost in mem'ry's backward gaze.

Rippling waters onward flowing,
While I gaze into your stream;
Long-lost thoughts my mind through-going,
Pass before me like a dream.
Wind of morning, softly sighing,
Clear the mist of time away;
And, while mem'ry's sweets enjoying,
Whisper thou a lullaby.

Haunts of boyhood! I adore ye,
Scenes of happiness and joy;
Time, alas! will not restore me
Back those years without alloy.
Haunts of boyhood! I revere ye,
Home of beauty wild and free!
Passing years will more endear ye,
Closer knit each scene to me.

SPRINGVILLE.

MR. EDITOR,—Scarcity and dearth prevent me sending much to you this week in the form of news. It is a difficult matter to collect items worth printing, there being no objects of amusement or interest, as debating societies and temperance lodges, to brighten and develop the mental faculties and thereby create facts worthy of publication. The mildness and gentleness, together with a freedom from irascibility of the people in this locality, is the principal cause of the news famine in this district. They are so much so that a person would almost think that they were existing without any knowledge of it.

Doubtless many of your readers will rejoice to hear that Mr. Jas. Brown, under the care of Dr. R. King, Peterborough, has recovered from a bed of sickness.

There was a number of handsomely illustrated papers distributed at the office last Saturday night. Mr. Brown had some very fine oil paintings made by putting sweet milk on the paper and letting it remain until it became mouldy. M. John Wright received one for which the subscription fee was one dollar's worth of church mice. The papers were printed in the years 1877 and 1878.

Mr. Thomas Ferguson sold his farm to Mr. Brown, and he is now in Howick, where he has purchased another.

Mr. George Campbell sold one of the finest farming mares in this township for fifteen dollars. Thomas Bannan was the fortunate purchaser. There was wailing and gnashing of teeth when the noble animal left Pine Grove farm.

Mr. John Wright has removed across the street, one door north of Goodfellow and Baptie's store, where an inexhaustible supply of dry goods, groceries, hardware, &c., may be found, good enough to suit any man and at prices fit to suit any man. There is also a tailor who can make clothes to fit any man and at prices to suit any man, and were he hardly pressed, I believe he could make a silk dress or trim a summer hat.

Mr. Robert Lockie has the fence round his garden completed and the garden planted and sown. The neighbors will regret to learn that he is about to sell or rent his house and lot, and remove to town where he will engage in the grocery business.

The residence of Mr. John Dunlop near the banks of Claddy was badly injured by fire, and would probably have been reduced to ashes had not Mr. David Dunlop arrived in time with a pail of water. The cause of the conflagration is unknown, if it were not that the hand of some "incendiary criminal" was instrumental in igniting it.

The crops are looking fairly in this neighborhood. The fall wheat in general is a promising crop.

Yours, etc.,
WESTWARD.

O'GRADY TO THE "REVIEW."

DEAR REVIEW,—I cannot write ye a very long letter this toime as I isn't very well, but I will give ye more in my nixt. His Royal Highness the Black Prince feels so proud of being taken so much notice of in yer paper that I'm going to give him up; he aint fit to be noticed by an O'Grady, and will ye plase tell Mister Bralligan the same thing, not to pay any attention to him at all. I was down to Ennismore the other day and of course I had to stop at Selwyn for a while to see the boys, and they treated me foine too. Fitz had to part with Buckskin as he skinned him out of ten dollars every time he hitched him up. Tother blacksmith skinned out too.

Ennismore is about as quiet as it usually is.

We have have had a big toime here since I came back, there was a feller took a smashing notion and broke up everything he had in the house and scared Henry so bad he is trimbling ever since. Tommy denies the charge, but ye must know he is a a cunning little cuss.

Most of the boys have been on the sphree lately. I cant give ye any more news at present, I hope to call on ye shortly and Mister Bralligan too, so goodby dear REVIEW a and believe me as ever,

Yours truly,
YOUNG DANIEL O'GRADY.

Arbor Day.

Mr. Joly has given notice in the Legislative Assembly of Quebec that he will move that, whereas the rewooding of denuded lands is one of the questions of the day, not only in the old countries of Europe but also in the United States of America, and in a great portion of the British and French Colonies, and is worthy of the serious consideration of this House. Whereas without incurring any expense whatever, there is an easy means of awakening public interest, and gradually attracting the attention of the people to the importance of rewooding our country, a means which has already been productive of extraordinary results in the neighboring States—that is to set apart one day in the year fixed by proclamation of the Governor for planting forest trees, which day is called in the United States "Arbor day," be it resolved that it would be desirable to follow this example, thereby making the rewooding of our lands an undertaking of public utility, and, being invested with the sanction of authority, would cause it to gradually become one of our national institutions.

FROM ALL OVER.

A COTTON mill enterprize is about to be started at Yarmouth, N. S. The capital stock is $200,000.

A HOSIERY manufactory has been started at Richmond, Que., by Messrs. McMoine Bros. Samples shown compare favorably with English or American hosiery.

A COMMON, and often fatal, disease is Jaundice. Regulate the action of the Liver, and cleanse the blood with Burdock Blood bitters, and the worst case may be speedily cured.

WHY suffer from Indigestion and Dyspepsia when Burdock Blood Bitters will positively cure these ailments? A trial bottle only costs 10 cents.

THE new Hudon mill at Hochelaga will contain 200 looms. All the machinery will be supplied by Messrs. Howard and Bullough, England. The engine will be 500 horse power.

MESSRS. JOHN HERRING & SON, the present proprietors of the Napanee Glass Works, are taking steps to organize a joint-stock company to operate the works, and to double their capacity.

THOUSANDS suffer untold miseries from Nervous Weakness, Pain in the back, and other distressing symptoms arising from disordered Kidneys. Burdock Blood Bitters is the Sovereign remedy. Trial bottles 10 cents.

ANOTHER evidence of the beneficial effect of the National Policy on manufacturers was furnished one day recently, when Messrs. John Stewart & Co., of Hamilton, shipped 105 of their fanning mills to Portage la Prairie, Manitoba.

TO CONSUPTIVES, or those with weak lungs, spitting of blood, bronchitis, or kindred affections of throat or lungs, send two stamps for Dr. R. V. Pierce's treatise on these maladies. Address the doctor, Buffalo, N. Y.

THE Amherst Gazette says that Mr. G. W. Beach, manager of the N. S. Glass Works, New Glasgow, has been visiting that town with a view to organizing a company for the manufacture of pressed table glassware. Such an industry as that proposed would give employment to 100 men, of whom 25 would be skilled artizans, and consume $450 worth of slack coal and five tons of straw per month.

ARE you a martyr to headache? Suffer no longer. A remedy is found in Burdock Blood Bitters. It regulates the Bowels, cleanses the system, allays nervous irritation and restores health and vigor. Sample bottles 10 cents.

THE Monetary Times says that another English steamboat boat company is about to engage in the Canadian trade, running a line of large steamers between Montreal and West Hartlepool. The company will be known as the "North American and West Hartelpool S. S. Co.," and its first ship, the Brantford City, will be due in Montreal in course of a few days. Messrs. Howland & Son are the Canadian agents.

IN THE SPRING of the year almost every one requires a good Blood Purifier, more especially in the month of May. We would earnestly advise our readers to try Dr. Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters. A few doses will soon convince you that it is the best remedy known for affections of the stomach, Bowels, Liver and Kidneys. In large bottles at 50 cents. J. D. Tully, Agent.

MR. ARMANT, of Toronto, is in Kingston for the purpose of effecting arrangements for erecting hinge and washer factories. The proposed capital $50,000. He waited on some capitalists lately, and his proposition was received with favour. If a factory be started from fifty to seventy-five men will be employed. Recently Mr. Armant was instrumental in establishing a wheel factory in Toronto.

MEDICINES taken into the Stomach in concentrated form such as Pills and Powders, are most injurious. The great substitute for these nauseous littlte Calomel pills is Dr. Carson,s Stomach and Constipation Bitters. They cleanse the bowels stimulate the Liver and Kidneys, and cure all stomach disorders, such as Dyspepsia and Indigestion. In large bottles at 50 cents. J. D. Tully, Agent.

MORRISON BROS. are enlarging their "Soho Machine Works," which were partially destroyed by the late fire on the Esplanade, so as to have about 10,000 square feet of shop room, and intend to have, when the tools and machinery are all in place, one of the best equipped machine shops in Canada. In addition to their present mill and machinery business, they are preparing to manufacture iron and wood tools, which will be another new industry for Toronto.

A SINGLE BOX of Mack's Magnetic Medicine will prove to any sufferer from nervous prostration or weakness of the generative organs, that it is the best and cheapest medicine ever sold for this class of diseases. Read the advertisement in another column and send at once for the great Brain and nerve food.

THE prospects for the erection of smelting works in Three Rivers are daily brightening. We are assured there is no difficulty in regard to raising the capital, and, provided the city is willing to exempt the enterprise from taxation, and the charter is obtained, together with other neccessary arrangements for building a branch road from Leeds to the Q. C. R. R., &c., the completion of the works may be looked for with reasonable certainty.—Canadian Manufacturer.

WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY.—From the Kingston (Ont.) Daily Whig.—This old medicine, the ever-effective healer of ills that flesh is heir to, is still before the public in its full favor. It stated on its career of mercy (for a good medicine is a merciful agent), forty years ago, and is to-day sought after by the children of the men who first sought out its virtue and established its name. Were it not for its merits it would long since have "died and left no sign," like many a once popular curative has done even in the last five years. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry is no artificial, deleterious compound, certain to afford temporary relief only by cutting its way by powerful agents through vitality, yet leaving a worse injury behind it. It is a vegetable, and by natural remedies works off complaints from a slight cold to a threatening consumption. 50 cents and $1 a bottle. Sold by dealers generally.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—An EXTERNAL MEANS of CURING SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic; whilst old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalculæ which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produce a clear, healthy natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION, a FLUID peculiar in itself, is the most potent enemy to all Skin Disorders. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the least degree comparable for its Healthy Action on the Human Skin.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. Startin, and every year it is used adds more and more favourably to its widly increasing reputation. Anyone, however deeply and hopelessly afflicted with Skin Disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent in a diminished appearance of the malady, a growing tendency to fade away, and complete obliteration of the eruption.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—BOTTLES CONTAINING NEARLY HALF A PINT.—SOLD BY CHEMISTS EVERYWHERE. Made in London, Eng.

Daily Evening Review

WEDNESDAY, MAY 17, 1882.

Conservative Meeting—Correction.

A meeting of the Liberal Conservatives of the village of Ashburnham will be held at the Council Chamber, Ashburnham, for the purpose of forming an association, to-morrow, Thursday evening at 7.30 o'clock. Not Monday evening, as incorrectly stated in yesterday's REVIEW.

The Judgment Day.

Under the above heading appears the following stanza, written on a postal card addressed to His Honor the Mayor. The verses are well worthy of Gay and as the card is postmarked Belleville perhaps the poet Laureate has returned to the Bay City :—

"The day of wrath is close at hand,
All persons soon will take their stand,
The bride of glory will appear
Before the end of this half year.
Kings, Presidents, Mayors will be slain
By Him who came to rule and reign.
Almighty God will sweep the land
With fire and sword and righteous hand."

Matrimonial Union.

The numerous friends of Miss Mary Adams in this town will be pleased to hear of her marriage in Saginaw City, Michigan, to Mr. Eugene M. Joslin, a leading attorney. The Saginaw Courier remarks that the interesting ceremony occurred on Wednesday last, 10th inst, at the residence of the bride's uncle, Mr. Lanncelot Adams, in the presence of a small company of relatives and intimate friends of the contracting parties. Congratulations and a wedding lunch followed. Many elegant presents testified to the high esteem in which the happy couple were held. Mr. Joslin is a leading lawyer of Saginaw City, and has gained an enviable position in his profession. The beautiful bride has a host of friends both in Saginaw and Canada. The newly married couple are now visiting the sister and mother of the bride in Napanee. After making a tour of the principal cities of the Eastern States, they return to Saginaw, their future home. The many friends of Mrs. Joslin in Peterborough extend them hearty congratulations and wishes for a bright future.

Railway Notes.

We learn, but not from official sources, that the contract for the construction of the link, by way of the locks, to connect the Grand Junction division of the Midland with the main line, has been awarded to Mr. H. J. Beemer who has the contract for the "Missing Link" and the line from Bridgewater to Perth.

The Intelligencer says that the erection of the Midland elevator at Belleville may now be regarded as a foregone conclusion. The timber for its construction is being got out, and will soon arrive. The Company have rented a lot opposite Downey & Preston's elevator on which to frame the timber. As we have before announced, the elevator will be construced on stone piers in the triangular enclosed space formed by the old dock, the new extension and Rathbun's dock. It is the intention to fill up this space and have one solid pier, but this will not be done for some time yet. In order to expedite the work of constructing the foundation, and also to secure a sound and substantial foundation for the elevator, a cofferdam is to be sunk on the site. Tenders for the construction of the foundation are now being received, and it is probable that active work will be commenced in the course of a week or two.

The Globe says that The judgment obtained by Mr. Frank Shanly against the Grand Junction Railway has been set aside by Judge Armour, upon the terms of the railway paying the costs and giving security for the amount of the judgement.

The Belleville Ontario says that Mr. J. Reed Perry, C. E., with a staff of 12 or 14, is engaged in locating the line of the Ontario and Quebec R.R. east from Peterborough, and will in about a week meet, near Tweed, a location party from the west.

The Intelligencer says that the Mayor of Belleville will no longer sit on the Board of Directors of the Midland Railway. The Council decided, by a unanimous vote on Monday evening, that it was not advisable, under present circumstances, for the city to be represented on the Board.

THE POOR BRAKEMEN.

Ralph Gibson of Belleville Struck by a Bridge on the Midland.

This afternoon a young man named Ralph Gibson of Belleville, employed as a brakeman on the Grand Junction division of the Midland, on way freight No. 9 met with an accident that will in all probability prove fatal. As the train was backing up towards the switch near Smith street, Gibson who was walking on top of the train of box cars, just after reaching the last car, was struck on the head by the bridge of the C. P. & M. R. R. over the main track of the Midland, and was thrown between the tender and a box car. The tender and engine ran over his body. His head and legs are badly smashed. He was at once taken to the Union Station and several physicians were summoned.

Since writing the above we learn that the unfortunate man has died.

No. 1. Company.

The company will muster at the drill shed, at 7.30 this evening. Every member must be present. Those having uniforms out will appear in uniform. Those intending to join will give their names to a member of the company.

Legal.

In the report of the proceedings on Tuesday at Osgood Hall in chambers before Mr. Dalton, Q. C. Master, we find the following :— ... HIM

HILLIARD V. THURSTON.—Judgment on application to stay proceedings pending appeal to the Court of Appeal, security having been given. Motion dismissed, costs to plaintiff in the cause in any event. G. H. Watson for the motion ; H. Cassels contra.

Frivolous.

An advertisement in the Port Hope Guide states that Mr. Geo. A. Cox, because he closed the back gate of a hotel "has made another stab at the interests of Port Hope, as a part of the policy persued by the President." We have yet to learn that a person or company has not a right to close anything they may desire as long as it is on their own property. The whole thing is very frivolous.

Fine Cattle.

Nothwithstanding the fact that an exceedingly large number of cattle have been shipped from this section of the country during the last few years, there still appears to be many left. For the last two or three days, Mr. Doherty has been kept busy weighing the finest lot of cattle we ever saw together. They are for shipment across the line, and to Europe. Many of the leading breeders are represented.

The Queen's Birthday

The usual annual athletic sports under the auspices of the Boating and Cricket Clubs will be held in the Agricultural Grounds on the Queen's Birthday. A varied and attractive programme, containing several new events, will be presented. The 57th Battalion Band will be in attendance, and there will also be a promenade concert in the evening. The Midland Railway will issue return tickets at single fares.

Her First Trip.

The Golden Eye made her first trip this season yesterday. She has been thoroughly overhauled and looks splendid. She has gone to Healy's Falls in the Trent, where she will be engaged for a week in towing logs. Captain Jacobs has command and the crew is just about the same as last year. She will soon commence her regular trips. We understand that there will be more work than usual for the river boats this year.

"Hazel Kirke."

The famous Madison Square, New York, Theatre Company, played Hazel Kirke to a large audience on Monday night. The play was well put on and the performance gave general satisfaction. We understand that the management intend to play through Canada during the season, producing all the latest favorite pieces and that Peterborough is included in their route. If better arrangements were made for seating those who have marked seats, more general satisfaction would be given.

Not Found Yet.

The body of the child Gain, drowned on Monday night, has not at the time of writing been found. The accident occured just behind Mr. J. Campbell's house, at a place where the water are not deep, a strong current, however, prevails at the spot and would speedily carry the body down. Persons have been searching almost ever since the child was lost, but without success. It is extremely difficult to see in the water on account of the sawdust, and grappling irons are almost useless on account of the stones, roots, and logs on the bottom of the river.

The "Dropped" Business.

Notwithstanding that our farmers have, according to the Globe, dropped the feeding of cattle since the N. P. came into force, 103 head were brought into town to-day en route for Montreal and, we believe, for the English market, for Mr. Aikens, who has purchased them. The lot was made up as follows :—

	No. Head.	Av. weight per head.
C. D. Moore, Smith	34	1,570 lbs.
Jos. Trennam, Smith	31	1,270 "
John Sanderson, Smith	24	1,250 "
Geo. Hilliard, Peterboro	6	1,411 "
D. Curtis, Douro	4	1,792 "
W. A. Hall, Smith	2	1,280 "
Jas. Elliott, "	1	2,570 "
H. Collins, N. Monaghan	1	1,910 "

While all the animals were good, those of Mr. C. D. Moore were particularly so. The heaviest of his animals kicked the beam at 2,240 lbs. and the lightest pair at 2,660 lbs., and a cow of Mr. Curtis' weighed 1,800 lbs., while Mr. Elliott's carried off the palm as the heaviest of the lot. Mr. Collins' animal was the heaviest in proportion to age, as his was three years old against the others' six. The purchase money for the whole must have reached $9,000—a not bad showing for one day in a "dropped" business.

REVIEWS.

ROSE BELFORD'S CANADIAN MONTHLY.—The May number of the Canadian Monthly contains some especially interesting papers. A. Freelance, of Toronto, contributes an admirable article on "Protection and Free Trade," in which the benefits of the National Policy are forcibly shown, but in the simplest and clearest manner. T. S. Hamilton, of Halifax, in "Old and New World Tales," gives a very readable account of the early visits of the Northmen to this continent. The Rev. W. Wye Smith, continues his "Illustrations of Canadian Life." "Our English Critics" are themselves criticised by T. Cross, of Ottawa. Other papers are, "Notes upon Romeo and Juliet," "The cure of Moral Insanity," "Longfellow," "Editor and Contributor," "The Permanence of Christianity," "Darwin's Life and Work," and "The Royal Society of Canada." The serial story, "Ellerslie Grange," is concluded, and there are some poems of unusual merit. The Young People's Department will do doubt have eager readers.

The Midland Railway.

The annual meeting of the Midland Railway Company took place at Port Hope yesterday. We are obliged to hold over a full report. The old board were all re-elected.

Mission Work.

The Rev. Mr. Crompton, of Muskoka, is here and will hold a meeting in St. John's Church Sunday School this evening at 8 o'clock, when he will give an interesting account of mission work in Algoma. Everybody interested in missions is desired to come, particularly the members of the congregation.

Entertainment.

The entertainment for the benefit of St. John's Sunday School fund drew a large audience and gave great satisfaction. Some of the performers especially among the ladies, displayed histrionic talents of no mean order. The tableaux were effective, and the recitations of a very young reciter were enthusiastically applauded, more particularly his stump speech.

BRIDGENORTH.

A TEA MEETING.—The ladies of the choir of the Bridgenorth Church intend having a Tea Meeting on the plains adjoining the village, May 24th ; the proceeds to go in aid of the Church. Games, boating &c., will constitute the amusements of the day. A large attendance is expected.

For Cream or Pale Blue Nun's Veilings go to Turnbull & Gray's.

SYDNEY SMITH being ill, his physician advised him to "take a walk upon an empty stomach.' "Upon whose"? asked Syney. Still, better steps would be the purchased of Dr. R. V Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery" and "Pleasant Purgative Pellets," which are especially valuable to those who are obliged to live sedentary lives or are afflicted with any chronic disease of the stomach or bowels. By druggists.

ERYSIPELAS, Scrofula, Salt Rheum, Eruptions, and all diseases of the skin and blood are promptly cured by Burdock Blood Bitters. It purges all foul humors from the system, imparting strength and vigor at the same time.

CLOTHING TO MEASURE.

The demand for clothing to measure is certainly on the increase. At no time were we kept so unusually busy SO EARLY IN THE SEASON.

THE CONTENTED MAN,
Who is He?

The discussion of this question by an able lecturer was listened to a few evenings ago with interest by large audience.

We venture to think that one of this class may be represented by the head of a family, who has been instructed to purchase a supply of that essential commodity for the table—TEA.

He has an indefinite idea that the article ought to be cheaper on account of the removal of the duty, but when he finds that he can save 10 cents per lb., instead of 5 he is jubilant.

THE CONTENTED MAN is he who gets the full benefit of the reduction of the duty on his tea for this year by making a saving of, say $3.00 on a purchase of 30 lbs.

Prove it by inspecting my stock of JAPANS AND YOUNG HYSONS.

A leading line of sweet and good drawing JAPAN offering at 35 cents, formerly sold at 45 cents.

MORE CRIME AFLOAT.

LONDON, May 17.—Chatsworth House is being watched owing to the appearance of suspicious looking men in that vicinity. A parcel of explosives has been received there.

A DISSOLUTION.

LONDON, May 17.—There is a very general feeling that the state of Irish politics will lead to a dissolution of Parliament, and possibly a change of Ministry. It is likely that the Tories will obstructed the Irish measures in Parliament.

ANOTHER MARRIAGE.

LONDON, May 17.—It is stated at Berlin that Princess Bertrice, Queen Victoria's youngest daughter, will marry Prince Frederick William, eldest son of the Landgrave of Hesse.

DUTY OF FOREIGN CEREALS.

MADRID, May 17.—In the Spanish Chamber of Deputies to-day the Minister of Justice stated that only three provinces were suffering from the effects of bad crops, and there is not sufficient reason for exempting foreign cereals from duty.

CRIME IN IRELAND.

DUBLIN, May 17.—During the first quarter of the year there were six murders in Ireland without a single conviction. One thousand, four hundred and seventeen outrages were committed, for which only 51 persons were apprehended and 21 convicted.

EUGENIE WINS.

PARIS, May 17.—The case of the municipality of Marseilles against the ex-Empress Eugenie to recover possession of the chateau presented to the late Emperor, has been decided in favour of the ex-Empress.

THE COMBINED SQUADRON.

ALEXANDRIA, May 17.—The Ministers having expressed a hope that the squadrons would be withdrawn immediately on their arrival, the British and French consuls replied that they could hold out no such hope. It is understood that the counsels will demand the disbandment of the army, and the banishment of the lately promoted colonels. The Circassian officers will be exiled.

THE REPRESSION BILL.

LONDON, May 17.—On the second reading of the Repression Bill, the Government will indicate its readiness to make a considerable number of amendments, and the clauses relating to public meetings and newspapers will be greatly modified.

DISSATISFIED.

LONDON, May 17.—There is a good deal of dissatisfaction among the Home Rulers with the Kilmainham compact, and it is stated that it has endangered Mr. Parnell's position as leader.

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE.

MADRID, May 17.—Great interest is excited by the debates commencing to-day in the Chamber of Deputies on the Government measure instituting oral and public trials. The Attorney-General has resigned and will introduce a counter scheme favouring the establishment of the jury system. Senor Sagasta declares that the country is not ripe for it, and will make the Government's scheme a Cabinet question.

NEW FORM OF PRAYER.

CANTERBURY, May 18.—The Upper House of Convovation has agreed upon a form of prayer, for use during the present troubles in Ireland. It asks for preservation from secret conspiracies, open violence, the appeasement of the troubles in Ireland, and healing facilities.

THE MALLEY TRIAL.

DEAD DESPERADO.

OPELOUSAS, La., May 18.—Simon Woods charged with horse stealing, was shot and killed by Deputy Sheriff McKinney while resisting arrest.

POISON IN THE CUP.

LONG BRANCH, May 18.—The Captain of the wrecked steamship Pliny, warns all the people that the coffee which came ashore was poisoned by hides saturated with arsenic which were stored in the same part of the vessel and soaked with water that entered. Thousands of bushels of coffee have been carted away. The people are greatly excited. The sudden death of an old lady ascribed to drinking coffee found, was due to apoplexy. It is alleged that a number of boarding house keepers at Asburg park gathered large quantities of the coffee.

A GREAT SCOURGE.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 18.—The Board of Health refuse to allow any more small pox patients to be removed from the steamer Allonowar to the pest house, as it is as full as circumstances warrant. No quarantine grounds can be obtained, and over 750 Chinese and seventy-three Caucasians are constantly exposed. The ship's surgeon hid away from the Chinese all yesterday, and the quarantine officers are also threatened by them. The disease is spreading. The Captain's wife has been removed to the pest house, out of harm's way.

ST. LOUIS, Miss., May 18.—The North-western packing and provision establishment at east St. Louis was burned at Midnight, loss $60,000.

ESCAPED.

NEW YORK, May 18.—Upon the arrival of the steamship Scythia yesterday morning, the passengers were inspected to discover if possible among them the perpetrators of the Phœnix Park tragedy. The search revealed nothing. Hardly had it been concluded, however, before word was received that a person answering the description of one of the assassins had arrived on board the Wisconsin, from Queenstown. He had given the name of Michael Turner, and his action on the passage across excited the curiosity of many of his associates during the trip. As the vessel was made fast to the pier at the foot of King street one of the passengers, a Mr. Kittle hurried at once to police officials and the British consul's office, and made them acquainted with his suspicians. A search was at once instituted for the mysterious passenger, but in the meantime he had disappeared.

CONDITION OF TRADE.

NEW YORK, May 18.—The Times publishes letters on the condition of trade from 35 centres of business in 25 States. The letters indicate in general that the spring wholesale trade is barely satisfactory. The chief export is in the Great North West where business has in some branches increased from 10 to 50 per cent on account of immigration and railroad construction. Among the older states New York alone reports a very good business. The backward spring has done much to check trade in states where there is no cause, as in the North West, to give it extra stimulus, but even in these the season has been prolonged. The greatest disappointment is expressed in trading centres dependent upon the South, where there was a drought last year, and floods this spring. Dry goods and groceries appear to suffer most. Branches which furnish farmers' supplies are most active. The drug business shows flourishing indications of a large fall trade dependent somewhat upon the crops. Manufacturers generally are busy. Makers of textile fabrics are working continuously. Small profits are made in plain cotton goods which appear to be in the best demand. Woollens are very backward. Machinists and agricultural machinery makers are generally not complaining. Millers, especially in New York have all they can do. Tobacco manufacturers' business is about the same. The demand for glass makers' goods is very little better than last year. The Southern floods had disastrous effects on the Rhode Island jewellery makers. There is a growing demand for goods of a better quality as shown for instance in the decreased call for low grade cottons. Skilled labour finds ready employment, and good wages are reported in the ship building interests in Pennsylvania and Deleware. House building is generally brisk, but was checked somewhat in the East by the higher prices of materials and in Nebraska by the recent strike. Business generally may be said to be on the move, and has a more healthy foundation than in recent years. Collections generally are good. There are little prospects of disasterous failures. The letters giving a statement of the condition of business in this state are from Rochester, Syracuse, Buffalo,, and Oswego. They show general trade to be very good. Manufacturers and millers are busy.

LAKEFIELD NEWS.

From Our Own Correspondent.

STREETS AND WALKS.

Nothing seems to have been done as yet in the way of improving and repairing the streets and walks of Lakefield by the Village Council. At the May meeting an appropriation of $450 was made by our Village Fathers for the above objects, to be expended under the direction of the Council as a committee of the whole. The drains were also ordered to be cleaned out at once, but so far nothing has been done. We have been unable to find only the first movement to obtain plank or other material for even repairing the sidewalks. The work intended to be done should be done at once, men though scarce sould be got now, while the prospect is that later it will be impossible to get them to do the work. Surely our Councillors do not intend to take the whole summer to expend the small sum of $450. The money should be all spent and the work completed in a month or at least by the 1st of July. If it is necessary to have these improvements done this season, then it is right that the work should be done at once, the one is the natural consequence of the other Certainly it is not necessary or expedient to repair and improve streets and waiks when the summer is over. It is time that our Council got down to business and did something.

SHADE TREES.

It is very generally conceded that from the 15th of May to the 1st of June is the best time of the year in which to plant maple, balsom and spruce as shade trees. Lakefield is one of the prettiest villages in Ontario, but its appearance would be greatly improved by some system of planting shade and ornamental trees on the streets, which have been neglected in this matter. The expense would not be large, because suitable trees can be obtained so easily here. Your correspondent is of opinion that the corporation should do something in the matter of shade trees on the streets, it should at least agree to protect those planted by individual enterprise. The Municipal Corporation of other Villages and Towns are moving in this important matter and Lakefield cannot aford to take a back seat.

24TH OF MAY.

The anniversay of the birth of Her Gracious Magesty our Queen will be celebrated in Lakefield by a general holiday. The stores and other places of business will as usual be closed, as becomes a loyal village like Lakefield, but there will be no public attraction or amusement except the Church Tea meeting at Young's Point. We understand that the Steamer Cruiser is going to run several trips from Lakefield to Young's Point and return at a small fare. Boating and fishing are generally the recreation prefered by the people of Lakefield on the 24th of May in each year.

SPRING.

The weather during the present week has been quite spring like though chilly at nights. Vegetation begins to start into new life migratory birds are building their nests and the feathery singsters begin to warble their merry notes. All nature seems gladsome and gay.

DANGEROUS.

Some of the Lakefield sidewalks are in a dangerous state particularly near the bridge on the west side of the river, on Chippawa Avenue and Bowkers road. Some one will be getting hurt in all probability if repairs an not soon done, in fact it is a wonder that no accident has happened at these places.

CONSERVATIVE DELEGATES.

Messrs. R. C. Strickland, James Moore, Wm. Cox, Jonathan Griffin and W. C. Sanders are the delegates appointed to represent Lakefield at the convention to be held in Norwood on Tuesday next for the purpose of selecting a candidate in the Government interest. Lakefield will be fully represented in the Trent Valley Canal interest which is of the greatest importance to the village.

FORESTERS MEETING.

The regular fortnightly meeting of Court Lakefield, No., 43 C. O. F., will be held in Union Hall on Queen street, on Thursday next the 25th May at 8 o'clock in the evening.

WOOD.

The first scowload of wood was brought to Lakefield by the steamer Cruiser on Tuesday evening last. The season promises to be a busy one for the Cruiser. So it should be. The energetic proprietors of the Cruiser deserve success.

LUMBER.

Mr. Haslet is shipping a lot of splendid market lumber from Lakefield at present, which was cut here last season.

ANOTHER.

Another cow, the property of Mr. L. F. Stone was killed on the Railway near Oxford street, in Lakefield on Tuesday last. There can be no blame attached the train hands, as the train was going slowly, and the animal jumped in front of and close to the engine so that nothing could be done to save it.

PASSENGER TRAFFIC.

On Saturday last, the passenger coach on the noon train coming into Lakefield, was full of passengers.

WEST PETERBOROUGH.

In common with a large majority of our readers, we regret to be called upon to publish the following letter from Mr. Hilliard, announcing that he has finally decided not to be a candidate at the approaching election for the House of Commons. No one regrets more than Mr. Hilliard himself that he has been compelled to say "no" to so unanimous and hearty a request from the members of the Liberal Conservative party of the Riding, but he feels, as indeed he has felt almost ever since he was elected, that it was impossible for him to do justice both to his own business and that of his constituents, and there are many who can testify of their own knowledge that had Mr. Hilliard consulted simply his own interests and feelings, he would long ago have resigned the position to which he was so triumphantly elected in 1878, and they at least cannot be taken by surprise by the decision at which he has arrived. The following is Mr. Hilliard's letter:—

To H. H. Smith, Esq., President L. C. A. W. R. County of Peterborough:

SIR,—Since the meeting of the Liberal Conservative Association at which I was unanimously chosen as the candidate of the party, I have earnestly considered the question of accepting the nomination, but find that my business engagements are such as to render it entirely impossible for me to devote the necessary time to the duties of the position.

I must again express my deep sense of the honor done me, and feel much reluctance in causing any disappointment to the friends who have so cordially supported me, and it is only the sense that my first duty is at home which compels me to decline the candidature.

You may rely upon my using every effort to assist in electing the gentleman regularly chosen as the candidate of the party, and I hope that no steps will be omitted to poll the largest possible vote.

Yours, &c.,
GEO. HILLIARD.

Peterborough, May 17, 1882.

As a necessary consequence circulars have been issued calling a meeting of the delegates of the Liberal Conservative Association for Saturday, the 27th inst., at 2 o'clock p.m., for the purpose of selecting another candidate.

DISSOLUTION OF PARLIAMENT.

THE following is the conclusion of the Governor General's speech from the throne on proroging Parliament, so it will be seen that a general election is close at hand:—

"I heartily congratulate you on the rapid and successful developement of our manufacturing, agricultural, and other industries. I am, however advised that this progress would have been still greater were it not that capitalists hesitated to embark their means in undertakings which would be injured, if not destroyed, by a change in the trade and fiscal policy adopted in 1879. In order, therefore, to give the people, without further delay, an opportunity of expressing their deliberate opinion on this policy, and at the same time to bring into operation the measure for the readjustment of the representation in the House of Commons, it is my intention to cause this Parliament to be disolved at an early day.

CANADIAN PARLIAMENT.

ON Thursday the remaining clauses of the Redistribution Bill was passed in Committee.

Resolutions to aid the Chignecto Ship Railway were passed, and the bill was read a first time.

On Friday Mr. DeCosmos raised the question of Chinese immigration.

On the third reading of Redistribution Bill, Mr. Patterson moved to add Port Elgin to North Bruce, which he had already been offered and the amendment was carried by 124 to 15, the leaders on both sides voting for it. A multitude of other oposition amendments were rejected by 98 to 42, Mr. Blake agreeing that one division should be taken for all. Mr. Rymal however subsequently called for a division on his motion to divide Wentworth into two ridings, and Mr. Blake made no attempt to redeem his pledge, or maintain the learership of his party, but this breach of faith was fittingly rewarded by an increased majority against the amendment of 106 to 41.

The Bill was read a third a time amid cheers, the opposition not venturing to call for a division.

On Saturday the resolution to give an annual bounty of $150,000 to fishermen of the Maritime Provinces was passed.

On Monday Sir C. Tupper moved to go into committee on his resolution for granting subsidies for a railway from Gravenhurst to Callender in Ontario, not exceeding $6000 a mile or $660,000 altogther, and for several other railways in other provinces. After some discussion on the merits, Mr. Blake again performed the feat of posponing further consideration for a day by raising a point of order.

Several members exposed the mendacity of the Globe in accusing them falsely of disorderly conduct in the House.

On Tuesday a number of measures were advanced their final stages.

The Senate amendments on the Redistribution Bill were contested. Mr. Blake objected to one as to the divisions in Manitoba on the ground that the Senate had no right to interfere with legislation as to the representation of the Commons. Sir John Macdonald confuted this, showing that the House of Lords has amended Reform Bills without dispute, and the amendment was agreed to. Messrs. Blake and Mills also protested against the Senate amendment enfranchising the Railway employees on the Intercolonial Railway in Nova Scotia. Sir C. Tupper showed that these men were disfranchised by the Nova Scotia Upper House though the employees in Quebec, New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island were not. Sir John Macdonald said that it was not the first time the Senate had defeated a Reform attempt to disfranchise good voters, for they had resisted the Reform disfranchisment of nearly half the electors of Prince Edward Island. The Senate amendment was then agreed to.

On Wednesday the last steps were taken in a measure, and then complimentary speeches were made.

The Commons were then summoned to the Senate chamber, where the Governor General gave his assent to a number of bills.

He then delivered the speech from the throne giving the usual review of the session and concluded by announcing his intention to dissolve at an early day.

After some congratulatory speeches the report was adopted and the usual motion passed. The old Board remains in office owing to the ama

YOUNG'S POINT

From Our Own Correspondent.

THE DRIVES.—Mr. Geo. Chalmers' drive (P. Phalen, Sr., foreman), consisting of about 25,000 logs, square timber, &c., arrived here last Saturday from Jack's Creek. After sorting at the mills here, the largest logs will be taken down stream to the Lakefield saw mills, to be manufactured into shipping lumber. Mr. Sperry's drive also passed through here last week, consisting of 11,000 cedar logs, en route to his shingle mill at Little Lake. The Messrs. Fowlds', of Hastings, drive (Mr. Orr foreman) passed through here on Wednesday, numbering 15,000 pieces. So the boom in saw logs has fairly commenced for the season. Some very large drives are expected here very shortly.

THE COUNTY BRIDGE.—Your correspondent again wishes to call the attention of the Warden and County Engineer to the bridge, and to suggest that they would do well to come up and examine it. Certainly it is very unsafe, and a new one ought to be built. This is now the main road from Peterborough and Lakefield to the back townships, and traffic yearly is increasing. Nearly all the lumbering is carried on in this section of the county. The Burleigh County bridge is also in very bad repair, and the sooner it is inspected the better it will be for all concerned. Now, Messrs. Collins and Belcher, be up and doing.

QUEEN'S BIRTHDAY.—The fifth anniversary of the opening of Ebenezer B, C. church, here, will take place on Wednesday the 24th of May. The usual picnic will be held on the adjoining grounds, a splendid tea will be served at 4 p. m. Several Rev. Gents are expected to give Platform addresses commencing at 2 o'clock p. m. The steamer Cruiser will connect with the noon train at Lakefield. The managers desire to have a large gathering and also to take in lots of money as they are taking a great deal of pains to insure its succes.

SHINGLE MILL.—Mr Geo. Chalmers is having a new raceway built from the grist mill to his shingle mill, which was formerly run by a Waterous engine of 12 horse power. He was so much afraid of fire that he concluded not to run the risk another season. In about two weeks more the shingle mill will be going ahead with water power. W. I. Freams is at the head of affairs.

SURVEYING.—Mr. Ranny of Peterborough has been up here surveying village lots, some parties are gaining a little more ground others less, all seem satisfied. He is also to draw a plan out for future reference, as no village lots could be registered owing to this neglect.

CORRECTION.—Mr. Hazlitt's drive consisted of 40,000 pieces, not 4,000 as stated in your last week's issue.

BELLEVILLE.

RAILWAY ACCIDENT.—The Intelligencer says a man named Micheal Codie, in the employ of Mr. Jas. Buck, got on a freight train at Cobourg, on Saturday evening, with the intention of stealing a ride to Belleville. He was discovered by the conductor and was put off at Trenton. He got on again, however. When the train was about two miles this side of Trenton the coupling connecting the flat car next the engine (on the end of which Codie was sitting) with the rest of the train became unfastened, and the train separated. The sudden shock threw Codie forward and he fell on the track, a wheel of the car next following passing over one of his ankles, smashing it to mummy. When the trainmen went back to couple the cars together again they found Codie sitting by the track, groaning, and he was placed in the van and brought down to Belleville. He lives on a small street near the bay, and has a wife and a little blind daughter. He was conveyed home on Saturday evening by Dr. Tracy, who, with Drs. Murphy and Gibson, amputated his leg yesterday, the limb being taken off about midway between the knee and ankle. The patient is doing well to-day.

THE engineer on a train on the Cheshire railroad in Massachusetts was astounded on turning a curve to see the track suddenly end at the base of a great rock. In the meantime the rails are laid round it.

THE MIDLAND RAILWAY OF CANADA.

Annual Meeting at Port Hope—A Satisfactory Exhibit and a Bright Outlook.

The annual meeting of the bond and shareholders of the Midland Railway of Canada, as constituted before the consolidation, was held in Port Hope on the 16th instant.

Geo. A. Cox, Esq., President of the Company, occupied the chair, and there were present Messrs. H. P. Dwight, R. Jaffray, J. R. Dundas and L. Ross, Directors, H. Read, Secretary, and E. S. Vinden, A. Hugel, Chas. Stuart, C. F. Thomson, John Wright, S. S. Smith, P. R. Randall and Peter Robertson.

The following very satisfactory report was read:—

ANNUAL REPORT

Your Directors in submitting their report for the year ending 31st December, 1881, with the customary accounts and Auditor's Certificate attached thereto, have again the pleasure of reporting a most satisfactory increase over the earnings of the previous year.

The total traffic receipts for the year have amounted to the sum of $404,360.20, or £83,087, 14s, 3d; as against $334,084.55, or £68,647, 10s, 2d, for 1880; showing an increase of $70,275.65, or £14,440, 4s, 1d.

It will be observed by these figures that our most sanguine expectations for the year have been more than realized, notwithstanding the fact that one of the largest lumber mills on the line was burned at the commencement of the season, and not rebuilt in time to contribute anything to the earnings of the year.

EXPENDITURE.

The working expenses for the year have been $223,598.89, 55.30 per cent. on the gross receipts, showing a slight decrease of less than one per cent., but which may be considered as very satisfactory, looking to the marked increase in the price of all material used by the Company, as well as the increased cost of labour.

REVENUE ACCOUNT.

The net revenue for the year amounted to $180,761.31 (£37,142, 14s. 8d.). It has been appropriated as per the revenue statement, herewith submitted, and exceeding, as it does, the interest obligations on the total bonded debt, including the municipal payments of the Company, it has fully justified the confidence expressed in the last annual report:—"That the net earnings of the Company for the future would be quite sufficient to meet all its interest obligations."

These gratifying results have been accomplished during the past year, while in competition with the Grand Junction Company the first half of the year, and with our elevators and other terminal facilities for the through grain trade barely completed at the close of the season, it is only reasonable to regard them as fully assured for the future, with the increased earnings that we shall realize from the through trade, and the advantages that we shall derive from the absence of competition.

As indicated in the last annual report, the Surplus and Preference Bonds still held by the Company, and hypothecated upon very favourable terms, enabled your Directors, after the settlement of the entire floating debt of the Company, to expend $224,666.73 in making very important additions and improvements to the property, particulars of which may be seen by reference to the accounts, but amongst the more important of which may be mentioned:—The relaying of over 26 miles of the line with new steel rails, at a cost with extra ballasting, &c., of $112,343.94; the construction of a large and commodious wharf, elevator foundation and other improvements at Midland, at a cost of $55,897.18; the expenditure of $33,537.61 in the acquisition of new rolling stock; and of $23,-644.23 in laying down additional siding accommodation to meet the increased demands of business, and to afford accommodation for the new mills erected on the line.

The demands for additional rolling stock, beyond what we were able to provide, led to a satisfactory arrangement with the Midland Rolling Stock Company, whereby four (4) locomotives, eight (8) conductor's vans, two (2) postal and smoking cars, one (1) coach, ten (10) box and seventy (70) platform cars were added to our equipment, upon terms of payment extending over a period of five years, with the option to the Company of paying the full balance due at any time they so desired.

The erection of the Midland elevator was undertaken and satisfactorily carried out by the same Company, and upon the same terms as the Port Hope Elevator. It was not completed until near the close of navigation, but we shall now be fully prepared, with terminal facilities at each end of the line, and the necessary equipment to successfully handle a large quantity of through grain.

In the last report, reference was made to the fact that the Grand Junction Railway had been completed from Belleville to Peterborough. After a sharp competition with that Company for several months, resulting in demoralized rates, we took possession of it, under lease, on 1st of June, and since that date, negotiations were entered into, which led to the confirmation of an agreement at a Special General Meeting of the Proprietors, held in Port Hope, on the 12th day of December, for the amalgamation with this Company of the Grand Junction, Toronto & Nippissing, Whitby, Port Perry & Lindsay, Victoria, and Toronto & Ottawa Railway Companies, under the name of the Midland Railway of Canada. The agreement was ratified by special Act of Parliament, at the recent session of the Ontario Legislature, and received the Royal assent on the 10th day of March.

The importance of this consolidation to the proprietors of the other interested Companies, and to the section of the country served by the consolidated lines cannot be over-estimated.

The acquisition of the Toronto & Nipissing line, with the change of gauge that has now been completed, gives the entire system direct connection with the City of Toronto, the commercial centre of Ontario.

The Grand Junction line and the completion of the link between Peterborough and Omemee, now under construction, affords an addional junction with the Grand Trunk Railway at the City of Belleville, giving the best and most direct route between the upper lake ports and the Bay of Quinte, which is at the head of St. Lawerance river navigation, to the Atlantic ports.

The Whitby, Port Perry and Lindsay line extends from the important town of Lindsay on the main line, through a rich agricultural district, to a Junction with the Grand Trunk Railway at Whitby, and a valuable harbour on Lake Ontario.

The Victoria Railway also extends from the Town of Lindsay and penetrates 56 miles into the, as yet, only partially developed mining and lumbering districts of the north.

The Toronto and Ottawa line, now under construction from Madoc (a point on the Grand Junction line) eastward, passes through a rich mining and agricultural district, a distance of 118 miles to the City of Ottawa, thus giving the consolidated system a direct and independent line to the capital of the Dominion, where connection is made with the Canada Pacific; Quebec, Montral and Occidental; and Canada Atlantic Railways, thereby providing a second direct through line from the west to the east.

It will thus be seen that the consolidation into one company of these various lines forms an important system.

It will afford very ample railway facilities to all the principal towns in the Midland district.

It gives a shorter and more direct line between the cities of Ottawa and Toronto.

To connecting lines, such as the Great Western and Credit Valley, it offers another through all-rail-route by which the products of the west may reach the Atlantic sea-ports.

With its magnificent harbor at Midland, on Lake Huron, and its four harbors on Lake Ontario, it possesses the shortest and best mixed rail and water route between the Western and North Western States and the sea-board.

In addition to the foregoing advantages, the amalgamation under one management of these six lines, heretofore under separate management, must give a more efficient service to the public; and cannot fail to effect an important saving in expenses, besides largely increasing the earnings, which may be safely estimated at $250,000 over the aggregate earnings of the different sections for the last year.

This, taken in connection with the fact that the total net earnings of various companies for last year, were sufficient to pay interest on the full amount of Consolidated Bonds allotted to the several companies, cannot but be very satisfactory to the proprietors.

Under the terms of the amalgamation agreement, there was allotted to the Midland Railway £705,000 sterling of the new Consolidated Company's bonds, for the purpose of redeeming the existing bonds, which are as follows, viz.:—

First Mortgage Bonds	£525,000
Preference Mortgage Bonds	150,000
Deferred Interest Certificates	30,000
	£705,000

It will be remembered that a certain portion of the above bonds have not been sold, but were hypothecated, for the purpose of securing advance obtained by the Company, for the settlement of its floating debt and expenditure on capital account.

Under the terms of agreement each company has to pay all its liabilities excepting the bonded debt and Municipal liens. Your Directors were of the opinion, after very careful consideration, that the sale of the bonds thus hypothecated would be sufficient to pay the amount for which they are pledged, and discharge all other liabilities of the Company, in accordance with the consolidation agreement.

Again, the Canadian Directors have great pleasure in acknowledging the hearty and zealous support and co-operation of their co-directors in London, and the very valuable assistance rendered by them in carrying out the negotiations in connection with the consolidation, which as been so satisfactorily consummated, and which must necessarily result in such permanent advantages to the Company.

Their best thanks are also due to the officers and employees of the Company who have been most successful and untiring in their efforts to promote the general prosperity of the line.

THE PRESIDENT'S ADDRESS.

In moving the adoption of the report the PRESIDENT said:—"Gentlemen,—In moving the adoption of the report that has just been read, it is not my intention to trespass on your time at any length. The figures on the report speak for themselves. They show a larger gross revenue, a larger net revenue, and a lower percentage of expense than any previous year in the history of the company. All our interest obligations for the year were promptly paid at maturity from the net revenue. From the sale and hypothecation of surplus and preference bonds the entire floating debt of the company was settled, and no less than $224,660.73 expended on the improvements of the property in addition to the ordinary expenditure under that head. The year under review has not only been the most successful, but it has also been the most eventful year in the history of the company. At a special general meeting of the proprietors, held on the 12th of December, an agreement was confirmed whereby the Midland railway of Canada by the absorption of competing and connecting lines increased its mileage from 142 to 455 miles." After a reference to the recent amalgamation, Mr. Cox went on to say:—"The acquisition of the Toronto and Ottawa charter gives us the necessary legislative power to extend to the city of Ottawa, where we can connect with other lines for the sea-board. Some of our newspaper friends have been good enough to say that this charter was obtained simply for the purpose of preventing the construction of that line, and profess to believe that the only hope for the country is in the Ontario and Quebec line, which is proposed to cover precisely the same ground. I do not intend to make any very lavish predictions or promises for the future; I prefer to let that speak for itself. I wish to state, however, that scarcely three months have elapsed since the legislation which gave us control of that charter received the royal assent, and already four seperate sections are under contract, which will complete our line from Toronto to Perth. Not less than eight hundred men are engaged on the work, and their number are being daily augmented, pushing the work forward to completion with the least possible delay; We expect to have our trains running between Toronto and Bridgewater, a distance of 158 miles not later than the 1st of November next; and the contract for the contruction of the 62 miles between Bridgewater and Perth, awarded on Wednesday last to Mr. H. J. Beemer, of Montreal, is to be completed by the 10th of May, 1883. Possible English capitalists may be found who, in their anxiety to assist and encourage railway competition in Canada, will furnish the necessary funds to the Ontario and Quebec Company to build a third line over the same ground, lying as the valley does in Western Ontario, between and a short distance on either side from the two existing lines. But the Canadian public, who for a time may benefit by various competition, while willing to encourage this to the extent of the writing sensational newspaper articles, will be very careful not to invest much of their own money in it. I therefore venture the opinion that it will be some time before we see this line constructed. But I have taken up more time on this subject than I intended; I shall return to what more directly concerns our own proprietors, and speak of the position and prospects of our own company. By the absorption of consolidation of the various lines to which I have already referred, the earning capacity of our road has been lately increased, and our securities placed in a much safer and and more satisfactory position. The aggregate earnings last year of the different sections forming the consolidated company in their disjointed and competing attitude were enough to pay interest on the entire bonded debt of the new company, and we have already had so far this year (and it is the worst part of the year) an increase of $98,603, or nearly 46 per cent. over the corresponding period of last year. The through grain trade, which was barely commenced last fall—our elevator and wharves having been scarcely completed before the winter set in—and consequently added but very little to the revenue of last year, has opened with so much encouragement this season that during the last eighteen days we have handed the Grand Trunk company at this station no less than 315 cars of through grain, besides large quantities of lumber and other freight. The large amount of traffic that we are handing that company at the different stations where we intersect them explains how the Midland railway can be both a competing and contributing company to the Grand Trunk, and, while maintaining its own independence as a competitor, at the same retaining, by its large contributions, the friendly co-operation of that company. And the circumstance that will add very largely to the importance and earning capacity of the Midland system is the exceedingly encouraging prospects of the immediate construction of the Ontario and Sault Ste. Marie railway, which will form an important connetcion for this company. The subsidy that the Ontario Government proposes to grant for the purpose of aiding a line in making a connection between the Canada Pacific and the Ontario system of railways, together with the substantial subsidy of $660,000 to be granted by the Dominion Government for the same purpose, taken in connection with the very encouraging remarks of Sir Charles Tupper in the House of Commons last night, in which he states that the Government have decided to accept the proposal of the Ontario and Sault Ste. Marie Company, affords good grounds to hope for the immediate construction of this road, which will throw a large amount of traffic over our own line. There is another matter that I desire to acknowledge, and that is the very magnanimous position taken by the town of Port Hope in not retarding our legislation as some other towns did from feelings of petty local jealousies. The legislation providing for the location of the head offices of the company at Peterborough might very naturally have incurred the opposition of Port Hope, but I was pleased to know that they took too broad a view of what was really in the interest of the company and of the town as its most important terminus to raise any petty objections, and in justice to those who took that position, I desire to say that while the impression has to some extent gained ground that the policy of the company is injurious to the town of Port Hope, at no time in the history of the company were there as many men employed as much business transacted, as much disbursed for wages as at the present time. In signing a cheque for the Port Hope pay-roll yesterday for $8,062.18, I was curious to know what it was for the corresponding month of the first year that I assumed the management of the company, and I found it was $4,752.38, very little over one-half what it was for the month just closed. So if Port Hope is not as prosperous as it was, Mr. Ross and his followers must charge it upon the National Policy or some other cause and Col. Williams and his followers must claim that it is because they have not yet had the National Policy long enough. But they must both agree in exonerating the Midland railway from all blame in the matter. I have much pleasure in moving the adoption of the report.

WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY.—From the Kingston (Ont.) Daily Whig.—This old medicine, the ever-effective healer of ills that flesh is heir to, is still before the public in its full favor. It stated on its career of mercy (for a good medicine is a merciful agent), forty years ago, and is to-day sought after by the children of the men who first sought out its virtue and established its name. Were it not for its merits it would long since have "died and left no sign," like many a once popular curative has done even in the last five years. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry is no artificial, deleterious compound, certain to afford temporary relief only by cutting its way by powerful agents through vitality, yet leaving a worse injury behind it. It is a vegetable, and by natural remedies works off complaints from a slight cold to a threatening consumption. 50 cents and $1 a bottle. Sold by dealers generally.

Vegetable Balsamic

ELIXIR!

This valuable medicine is purely vegetable, the discovery of which was the result of many years' close study, in order to discover the cause, the symptoms and the cure—viz.:

Consumption, Coughs, Colds, Catarrh, Croup, Asthma, Influenza, Pleurisy, Hoarseness, Spitting Blood, Bronchitis,

and every species of oppression of the Chest and Lungs. In all cases where this Elixir has been duly administered its efficacy has been invariably manifested, convincing the most incredulous that is not incurable, if properly attended to.—Consumption, at its commencement, is but a slight irritation of the membrane which covers the lungs; then an inflammation when the cough is more observable, but rather dry—then becomes local fever and the pulse more frequent, the cheeks flushed and chills more common. This Elixir in curing the above complaints, operates so as to remove all morbid irritations and inflammation from the lungs to the surface, and finally expel them from the system. It facilitates expectoration.

IT HEALS THE ULCERATED SURFACES

and relieves the cough and makes the breathing easy. It supports the strength and at the same time reduces the fever. It is free from strong opiate and astringent articles, which are also drying a nature as to be in great danger of destroying the patient; whereas this medicine never dries or stops the cough, but, by removing the cause, generally destroys the hectic before the cough is entirely gone. Consequently, when the cough is cured the patient is well. Send address for pamphlet giving full directions for cure of pulmonary diseases. Price 25cts. and $1 per bottle. Sold everywhere.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—An EXTERNAL MEANS of CURING SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic; whilst old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalcule which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produce a clear, healthy natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION, a FLUID peculiar in itself, is the most potent enemy to all Skin Disorders. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the least degree comparable for its Healthy Action on the Human Skin.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. Startin, and every year it is used adds more and more favourably to its widly increasing reputation. Anyone, however deeply and hopelessly afflicted with Skin Disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent in a diminished appearance of the malady, a growing tendency to fade away, and complete obliteration of the eruption.

Daily Evening Review

THURSDAY, MAY 18, 1882.

A Big Sum.

On May 15th the Midland Railway Treasurer paid out for April wages $36,153.83. This does not include any wages of persons employed in new construction.

Immigrants.

About fifty English immigrants, to work on the Missing Link arrived here on the Junction. They are to be placed along the line. They are are a fine healthy looking lot of men and will make good navvies.

The Weather.

The weather probabilities for this district for the following twenty-four hours, as reported from Toronto at 10 a. m. to-day by the Great Northwestern Telegraph Company, are as follows:—Lakes—Winds mostly between south and east, fine weather, higher temperature.

The Champion.

We have received from the Joseph Hall Manufacturing Company, of Oshawa, one of their Champion Agricultural Almanacs for 1882, which is about the neatest and best thing of the kind in the advertising line that we have yet seen. As its name indicates, its chief object is to bring under the notice of farmers the good qualities of their Champion reapers and mowers.

No. One Company.

There was a meeting of No. One Company of the Peterborough Rangers at the drill shed on Wednesday evening, when the members appeared very enthusiastic over the prospect of turning out for the Brigade Camp at Kingston this summer. It was determined to give an entertainment before setting out for camp, and a committee was appointed to make the necessary arrangements.

Another Alarm.

On Wednesday afternoon about 4.30 o'clock, dense clouds of black smoke were noticed arising at the south end of George Street, and those who saw them at once came to the conclusion that Wescott's old pottery was on fire. A badly sounded alarm brought out the brigade but after proceeding as far as Lake street it was ascertained that the smoke came from a pile of burning stumps, and that there was not the slightest danger, so they at once returned to the fire station. In this case the alarm was justified, as the fire had every appearance of a burning building.

Should be Looked After.

The mother and grandmother of the child drowned on Monday evening are in poor circumstances, and as both are compelled to work for their living, they cannot afford to engage persons to search for the body. Heretofore the searchers have been all volunteers, who have not the necessary time to spare, and it appears but fair to us that that the authorities should engage two or three men who could doubtless find the body and restore it to its parents, who are in a very bad way over the loss. We feel quite confident that not a single ratepayer would raise the slightest objection to the proposed expenditure, and we think it is but just that it should be made.

A Golden Wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex. McNeil recently celebrated an event which does not fall to the lot of many mortals, that of their "golden wedding." They were married in New York on May 22nd, 1832, so on the fiftieth anniversary of their wedding day, they and several of their children, with other friends who were invited, had a pleasant celebration party. During a residence of forty years in Peterborough they have made many friends and have secured the general respect of the community. They have reared a large family, amounting at the time of their golden wedding to 29 descendants, 9 children, 19 grandchildren, and 1 great-grandchild. Those who through the distance of their residence were unable to be present did not forget the occasion, as the golden gifts showed. This fortunate couple are not likely to be left desolate and friendless in their old age, as they are reaping the due reward of the exemplary manner in which they brought up their family.

OF THE MANNER IN WHICH RALPH GIBSON MET HIS DEATH.

The Body Terribly Mutilated—Stories of Eye Witnesses of the Affair—An Effecting Scene—Opening of the Inquest.

In our edition of Wednesday, owing to the early hour at which we went to press, we were unable to give full particulars of the manner in which Ralph Gibson came to a horrible and untimely end. As we stated death put an end to his sufferings within two hours after the terrible accident occurred.

HOW IT HAPPENED.

It is customary for the trains on the Grand Junction division of the Midland to back into the Union Station and when leaving, to back out, as far as a switch, situated just north of Smith street, and about 100 yards above the the bridge which is supposed to have caused the death of this poor brakeman. A brakeman is placed on top of the train so as to warn the engineer of any thing that may be on the track ahead. The deceased had this position on way freight number 9, about 2 o'clock, and was standing on one of the first cars, until within a few hundred yards of the Cobourg, Peterborough and Marmora railway bridge, which crosses the Midland track, above Smith street. The height from the rails to the bottom beam of the bridge as measured by one of the jurymen, is 19 feet 3⅝ inches. It has never been used except for the passage of construction trains, and none of those have crossed it for five or six years at least. Gibson, it is supposed noticed that the structure was not sufficiently elevated to allow him to pass under in a standing position, and doubtless thinking he had plenty of time he turned around and started to walk back towards the engine. He had traversed the entire length of the train and was about to step to the tender, when he was struck on the back of the head by the bottom beam and thrown to the track, between a box car and the tender. Of course those on the engine saw the young man fall, the engine was reversed and other means taken to stop the train, but the warning was so short, that it was impossible to do it, until the engine and tender had both passed over the unfortunate brakeman. When picked up he was unconscious and Dr. Fife, who was at the scene in a very short time, at once saw there was no hope of saving his life, He was taken on the train and speedily conveyed to the Union Station, where other medical men were present and concurred with Dr. Fife.

HIS DEATH.

Within two hours from the time that the accident occured Gibson was a corpse, notwithstanding all that medical skill could do. Before breathing his last, he requested to have his head propped up, and requested his mate to ask his mother not to take his death too much to heart, and shortly afterwards expired.

THE EXTENT OF HIS INJURIES.

The body is said by old railway men to be the worst mutilated in the lower limbs that ever they saw. The left leg was split almost to the knee from the body and was just hanging by a slight shred of skin, being almost severed across at the thigh. The right leg was not so badly mutilated being cut in two just above the knee. The large bones protruded on each side of the cuts and the body was covered with blood. On each side of the head near the ears were great gashes and the face was slightly scratched in several places.

A VERY SAD CASE.

The victim was aged about 26 years and bore an excellent character. He had been working as a brakesman for about one year altogether and had been employed on the Grand Junction Division, only since April last. His brother who is a Grand Trunk brakeman, had one of his hands badly jammed about six weeks ago and is not yet able to go to work. The mother and sister of the deceased are both cripples or invalids, and depended altogether on the sons for support. They reside in Belleville near the Grand Trunk station.

AN EFFECTING SCENE.

The brother of deceased arrived on the evening train on the Junction and felt very badly, shaking like a leaf. He was accompanied to the room where the body was lying, by two of the train hands and would have fallen had he not been supported. His grief was something fearful to behold and he was taken away as speedily as possible.

DISPOSING OF THE BODY.

As soon as the railway officials learned of the accident a handsome coffin and other necessaries were ordered, and after the jury had reviewed the body it was handed over to Mr. D. Belleghem, who prepared it for burial, and it was sent down on the morning Grand Junction train.

THE INQUEST.

An inquest was opened on the body by Coroner Fife in one of the waiting rooms at the Union Station on Wednesday night, the following gentlemen composing the jury:—

JAMES T. STENSON, FOREMAN.

JAS. BYRNE,	W. HETHERINGTON,
T. WORKMAN,	JOHN IRWIN,
JAS. LITTLE,	O. GILES.
A. McDONALD,	JNO. ROBINSON,
W. ROBERTS,	GEO. ELLIOTT,
S. P. McCABE,	THOMAS MONTGOMERY,
W. BALL,	R. LAING,

W. McELWAIN.

The Coroner explained the duties of the jury and accompanied them to examine the body, after which a witness was called.

H. McGRATH, sworn—He was on the road near the C. P. and M. R. bridge across the track that afternoon. He saw a man fall from the top of a box car when close to the bridge. He did not see deceased strike the overhead bridge. The train was going north. He did not know whether the train was backing up or not. Deceased is the man he saw fall.

There being no other witnesses present, the enquiry was adjourned until this evening at 7.30 o'clock.

The Fastest Train Time.

The Philadelphia Record says that the fastest time ever made in this country by a train of three passenger cars was made recently, when a party of journalists from Philadelphia, Baltimore, and other places, were whirled to Cape May over the West Jersey Railroad. The trip of eighty-one and a half miles was accomplished in eighty-three and a half minutes. The run to Millville of forty-one miles was made in forty-two minutes. Many of the miles, especially after Millville had been passed, were covered in less than fifty seconds. The engine accomplishing this work was No. 22, in charge of Harry Reinhart. This trip formally opened the season at the Cape.

A Remedy For the Pea Bug.

Mr. Lewis Coryell writes to the Oshawa Vindicator in reference to the above pest, and prescribes a remedy. He says: "Now is the time to settle his hash for this year, and if every farmer will unite with me in a war of extermination we would not hear so much from some sections as we do, although there are some so foolish as to think that they will not do much harm. My secret is this: Mix one gallon of coal oil with twenty-five bushels of peas one month before seed time, and the object is accomplished. I have already doctored 1,600 bushels for this season, and will get all my stock oiled this week."

REMEDY FOR HICCOUGH.—Dr. M. S. Leslie, of Lexington, Ky., says that the best remedy in ordinary hiccough is about twenty five grains of common table-salt placed in the mouth and swallowed with a sip of water.

ASHLAND, Pa., June 3, 1880.—A case of spavin that came under my observation was entirely cured by one bottle of Kendall's Spavin Cure. and the horse sold afterwards for two hundred dollars. Yours truly, C. H, Barnard.

BRIGHT'S DISEASE, DIABETES.—Beware of the stuff that pretends to cure these diseases or other serious Kidney, Urinry or Liver diseases, as they only relieve for a time and make you ten times worse afterwards, but rely on Hop Bitters, the only remedy that will surely and permanently cure you. It destroys and removes the cause of disease so effectually that it never returns.

WHY ARE WE BILIOUS?—Why do we have sick headache? Why do we feel weak and tried with little or no appetite? Why that coating of the tongue and that bad taste of the mouth? Your liver is out of order, and does not do its work as nature designs. Baxter Mandrake Bitters act directly on the liver, stomach and bowels, and will relieve you at once. They are the best medicine known for costiveness, which is the starting point of ninety-nine cases out of a hundred of all the complaints that human flesh is heir to.

CLOTHING TO MEASURE.

The demand for clothing to measure is certainly on the increase. At no time were we kept so unusually busy so EARLY IN THE SEASON.

THE CONTENTED MAN,
Who is He?

The discussion of this question by an able lecturer was listened to a few evenings ago with interest by large audience.

We venture to think that one of this class may be represented by the head of a family, who has been instructed to purchase a supply of that essential commodity for the table—TEA.

He has an indefinite idea that the article ought to be cheaper on account of the removal of the duty, but when he finds that he can save 10 cents per lb., instead of 5 he is jubilant.

THE CONTENTED MAN is he who gets the full benefit of the reduction of the duty on his tea for this year by making a saving of, say $3.00 on a purchase of 30 lbs.

Prove it by inspecting my stock of JAPANS AND YOUNG HYSONS.

A leading line of sweet and good drawing JAPAN offering at 35 cents, formerly sold at 45 cents.

PORT HOPE.

Special to the Review, May 19.

ABOUT SIX O'CLOCK this morning a pile of lumber was discovered on fire at one of the centre docks of the harbor. A stiff east wind was blowing at the time and the flames spread rapidly. The alarm was quickly given, and a great crowd of citizens hurried to the scene. The Midland Railway hands were ordered to the conflagration, and they soon had all the neighbouring piles of lumber floating in the harbor. By that time the flames had reached the docks, and three or four hours had to be spent in extinguishing them, but not until nearly one hundred feet of dockage had been burned or destroyed. The lumber that was burnt, about 30,000 feet, belonged to S. C. Kanaday, purchased from Irwin & Boyd, Peterborough, on which there was no insurance. It will probably cost two or three thousand dollars to replace the pier that has been destroyed. But for the tremendous exertions of the fire brigade and the assistance rendered by the steam pumps on the tugs, and the steamer Norseman, the fire would have swept the whole of the centre piers. None of the loss is covered by insurance.

LINDSAY.

Special to the Review, May 19.

A FATAL accident occurred about ten o'clock to-day. As James Arkasey, a carter, was unloading barrels at Robson Bros.' tannery, he stepped off a raised platform and fell a distance of some nine or ten feet, lighting on his left temple. Concussion of the brain was caused, with loss of consciousness. Death resulted in about an hour after the accident. Dr. Burrows and Dr. Rogers were in attendance, but could render no material assistance, as no rallying effort could be induced.

The Weather.

The weather continues fine, but showers are to be apprehended. The weather probabilities for this district for the following twenty-four hours, as reported from Toronto at 10 a.m. today by the Great Northwestern Telegraph Company, are as follows:—Lakes—Fresh to strong easterly to southerly winds, fine weather today, followed by increasing cloudiness and showers to-morrow, stationary or higher temperature.

PARIS, May 19.—Davitt states he does not think that Parnell in a letter to O'Shea, meant that he would be prepared to enter into an alliance with the Government or would abandon the Home Rule policy. Davitt says, "I ask all friends of the Land League movement in America to suspend judgment upon Parnell and the supposed negotiations with the Government until he has a chance of fully explaining things. Neither Eagan, Dillon, nor myself question the honesty of Parnell or his motives." Davitt declares that he never expressed a fear of being assassinated. He only expressed a fear of being re-imprisoned. He says the Nationalist party having repudiated him, his connection with the party is now severed. He states that a meeting of the leaders of the Land League will be held shortly, at which the whole situation will be discussed and the future movements of the League be determined. He believes that the new repressive legislation will encourage secret societies. He thinks that no power wielded by the English Government will be able to crush the secret organizations, which after the suppression of the Land League will be regarded by the victims of Irish landlordism as the only power that can defend them. He hopes that the outrages will not continue, but is afraid to say what will happen when the Irish people are confronted by additional coercion. He declares that he does not intend to comply with the conditions of his ticket-of-leave.

AMERICAN.

EXPIATED THE CRIME.

NEW YORK, May 19.—Leighton, the murderer, was hanged at 8.47 this morning.

POLITICAL QUARREL.

WASHINGTON, May 19.—It is reported that the quarrel between Senator Williams and Congressman Blackburn, over the question which of the two is entitled to the credit of securing an appropriation of $100,000 for the public buildings at Frankfort, Ky., which promised at one time to result in a duel, has not yet been satisfactorily arranged.

SENSIBLE MAHONE.

WASHINGTON, May 19.—Senator Mahone having been criticized by the newspapers and politicians of Virginia for voting with the republicans to refer to the judiciary committee the case of Tibbs an ex-confederate who desires to enter the army, in a letter to a Richmond paper defending his action, Mahone says:—"I cannot permit myself to aid in making the graves of confederate soldiers nor their widows and orphans to become the stakes and pawns in the game of politics. I will not become a party to the profitless discussion of irritating questions, calculated to freshen issues which are naturally closing and when the whole country is drifting surely and earnestly to the safe anchorage of peace and fraternity under the guidance of a president whose policy toward the South is one of friendship. I will by no word of mine check the pacifying liberalising influences on the whole country which Virginia has set in motion.

FRANCO-AMERICAN.

WASHINGTON, May 19.—The number of cases against the United States before the French-American claims commission is 726, and against France 19. The amount claimed against the United States is $35,000,000 and against France $4,000,000. The awards against the United States thus far are $10,000, and against France nothing. The claims against the United States amounting to $2,809,000 have been disallowed.

STAR ROUTE TRIALS.

NEW YORK, May 19.—The Herald's Washington special says the star route trials at last are at the point of actually opening. The prosecution is confident that the trial on the first indictment will be concluded by the last of June. This covers Brady, Booth Dorsey, Miner, Turner and Rerdell and is for conspiracy.

WATCHING HIM.

NEW YORK, May 19.—Michael Turner the mysterious passenger on the steamer Wisconsin, is not believed to be connected with the Dublin murders. Turner is not his real name. He is still under surveillance.

PYRAMID POOL.

NEW YORK, May 19.—The Pyramid Pool Tournament closed last night. Albert Frey was victor having won 21, James John Danketman was second.

MORE OF IT.

WASHINGTON, May 19.—The treasury agent who investigated the surveyor's office in New York city, reports that Alex. Dugget, in less than six months received $189,000 on weighing contract or $10,000 more than Spitzer received in over two years. The report says that while the terms of Spitzer's contract were inadequate, it would be difficult to account satisfactory for the condition which permitted this wide difference in the cost of the work.

SHOOTING.

CHATTANOGA, May 19.—A hack containing three men was fired at near Kingston on Wednesday night. One passenger returned the shot at a daughter of Mrs. Pierce, who it was thought fired at the hack.

A DOUBLE MURDER.

LEBANON, Ky., May 19.— Rosa Osborne's body was found yesterday in a stream with a cut on the head. The body of another daughter aged 10 was found in bed with her throat cut. There is no clue.

FIRE.

OLIMPIA, Wyoming, May 19.—A number of business houses were burned yesterday, loss $75,000.

SMALL-POX.

TRENTON, May 19.—There are forty cases of small-pox here. There is much alarm. Two public schools have been closed.

MIDNIGHT TELEGRAMS

CABLE.

IRISH AFFAIRS

DUBLIN, May 18.—Evictions of tenants for non-payment of rents have been resumed in many parts of Ireland. The events of the past two weeks have wholly changed the surface current of feeling among the people, and the temperature becomes hot and cold according as blows the wind from the House of Commons. The sadness and astonishment following the assassinations of the Irish Secretaries had the effect of stopping for a time the work of agitation, and little of bluster was heard for several days. Taking advantage of the situation, the process-servers again put their legal papers in order and prepared to oust tenants in arrears. In county Galway alone three hundred poor tenant farmers have been driven from their holdings inside of a week, and the process-server and constable are still doing their work as rapidly as they can, while the national organizations are yet in dread of making any overt opposition.

CONDEMNED.

LONDON, May 18.—A meeting of the Irish parliamentary party to-day unanimously condemned the Repression bill as an unworthy Irish bill, and fraught with the direst consequences to them. It was decided to ask Mr. Gladstone to expedite the Arrears bill.

A DUBLIN RUMOUR.

DUBLIN, May 18.—In Dublin the report is general that the assassins escaped in the garb of priests, and are now on the way to America.

TRIAL BY JURY.

DUBLIN, May 18.—All the Irish judges except the Lord Chancellor have resolved to send a strong remonstrance to the Government against the abolition of trial by jury.

TREVELYAN GUARDED.

DUBLIN, May 18.—Two policemen constantly attend Mr. Trevelyan.

DISSATISFIED.

DUBLIN, May 18.—In consequence of the suspected defection of Mr. Parnell from the extremists, a movement is afoot to demand, on behalf of the American subscribers, the publication of the Land League accounts for the last two years.

POLICE PASSPORTS.

Dublin May 18.—For fear of being arrested in connection with the murders of Lord F. Cavendish and Mr. Burke, peasantry travelling outside their own district apply to the police for passports. Many emmigrants leaving the south of Ireland for America resort to the same course.

A BOGUS YARN.

DUBLIN, May 19.—The Freeman's Journal publishes an eight column story, which was lately sent bearing the London post mark, professing to be a confession of one of the assassins. It intimates that the crime was conceived as an answer to the appointment of Cavendish by the Irish Assassination Society, having branches throughout the kingdom. Twenty other persons are said to be implicated in the crime, all of whom escaped to England in various disguises, in which the writer says they attended the funerals of the victims. The story created a sensation, but contains many absurdities.

AMERICAN.

ON THE LOOKOUT.

NEW YORK, May 18.—The police have been looking for Michael Turner a passenger on the steamer Wisconsin, who came from Queenstown without any luggage, who was pronounced a nihilist and who disappeared suddenly on his arrival here. It is suspected that he was connected with the Dublin tragedy.

AN ORANGE PROTEST.

BOSTON, May 18.—John Dugin, who calls himself Grand Master of the Orangemen of Massachusetts, states that the letters read at the Irish indignation meeting last Tuesday, purporting to represent the feeling of the Orange-men in the struggle to free Ireland, was wholly without the authority of the Grand Lodge; that the Orangemen are peaceful, law-abiding citizens of the country, and have no sympathy whatever with revolutionary tactics.

NORWOOD.

FIRE PROTECTION.—The Register says that it is to be hoped that the experince of our sister village, Hastings, will awaken our Council and the villagers generally to the necessity of having some sort of fire protection. That our village has never at any time suffered very severely from the effects of the fire fiend, should be no excuse for not having the necessary protection, as we are just as liable to suffer at any time as Hastings or any other village. We think that $600 or $700 would supply the necessary apparatus for a volunteer hose and hook and ladder company, and we feel confident that if the apparatus was supplied that plenty of volunteers would be found. Property owners in the village should make a move in this matter immediately by subscribing a portion of the amount—say one half—and calling on the Council for the balance. We have written to the editor of the Campbellford Herald for information relative to the cost of establishing the Fire Brigade in that village, and will publish his reply in our next. Meanwhile let those interested make a move in the matte.

ALMOST.—As a young daughter of Mr. M. Nicoll, of this village, was playing with some others around the flume, in the vicinity of Mr. Burk's mill, on Saturday last, she accidentally fell in, and was going down the third time when a son of Mr. James Livingstone's, aged 9 years, showed considerable pluck and energy by rescuing her.

Snatched From the Grave.

Mrs. Helen Pharviz, No. 331 Dayton St. Chicago, Ill., is now in her sixty-eighth year, and states that she has suffered with consumption for about ten years, was treated by nine physicians, all of them pronouncing her case hopeless. She had given up all hopes of ever recovering. Seven bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption completely cured her. Doubting one, please drop her a postal and satisfy yourselves. Trial bottles free at Taylor & Macdonald's Drug Store. Large size $1.—1.

IF NEARLY DEAD after taking some highly puffed up stuff, with long testimonials, turn to Hop Bitters, and have no fear of any Kidney or Urinry Troubles, Bright's Disease, Diabetes or Liver Complaint. These diseases cannot resist the curative power of Hop Bitters; besides it is the best family medicine on earth.

THOUSANDS suffer untold miseries from Nervous Weakness, Pain in the back, and other distressing symptoms arising from disordered Kidneys. Burdock Blood Bitters is the Sovereign remedy. Trial bottles 10 cents.

THE CONTEST AT HAND

THE writs for the the general e lection have been issued. The nominations are to take place on Tuesday, June 13th, and the polling on Tuesday, June 20th.

It will thus be seen that there is no time to be lost. All those in favour of a Government which has helped to place every industry in the country in a flourishing condition,, while maintaining a surplus in the treasury, should support the Conservative candidates against "so-called" Reformers, whose reign was an era of depression and deficits. Those who wish to see our country developed by such works as the Trent Valley Canal should vote for the party that undertakes them, and not for men whose leaders are indifferent to our interests and belittle and oppose such improvements.

Let not Conservatives alone, but all those who desire the welfare of the Dominion of Canada, do their utmost to return supporters of the present able and patriotic administration.

Work zealously now, with this end in view, for the time is short.

SACRIFICING OUR CLAIMS

"An Old Reformer" in a letter to a contemporary waxes wroth because we said the recent "mass meeting" failure of the West Riding Reformers was guilty of the height of impudence, and accuses of insolence for denouncing them for expressing their convictions of the personal and political integrity of Mr. Blake and Mr. Mowat.

"An Old Reformer" should not accuse of doing what we did not do, and then blame us for the creation of his own imagination. His own quotation from our article might have shown him, if he had not lost his temper, that we made no referrence at all to their estimate of Mr. Blake, nor to that of Mr. Mowat except in one particular. The merits of these gentlemen is a matter of opinion, and an honest opinion, however little we might agree with it, we sertainly would not stigmatize as "impudent." What we did consider and still maintain to be "the height of impudence" was the tender of thanks to Mr. Mowat and his colleagues for their zeal in standing up for the rights and interests of Ontario. This is not a matter of opinion but of fact. Mr. Mowat has chosen to postpone the settlement of the boundary question and the securing of our rights by a reference to a competent court. He prefers to urge acceptance of an award which he himself has declared in his place in the House, in despatches and in the Provincial statute book, does not give us our full claim—which one of the arbitrators admits was decided unfairly for Ontario—and which their Quebec leader advocates, because he says he fears that the Privy Council would give us the extended territory which we claim.

It is the height of impudence to thank Mr. Mowat for his zeal in thus abandoning our rights.

ACREAGE UNDER FALL WHEAT.

THE May report of the Bureau of Industries for Ontario furnishes the following estimate of acres under fall wheat and also of the acres cleared—most of this information having been obtained from the assessors for the current year, viz.:—

	Acres cleared.	Acres in Fall Wheat.
Lake Huron group....	1,049,000	211,000
Lake Erie "	1,211,000	248,500
Georgian Bay " ..	960,000	84,000
West Midland " ..	2,025,000	340,000
Lake Ontario " ..	2,310,000	186,000
St. Lawrence & Ottawa group.....	1,842,000	47,400
East Midland group..	867,000	32,200
Total.....	10,264,000	1,149,100

The East Midland group is made up as follows:—

	Acres cleared.	Acres in Fall Wheat.
Victoria.....	250,000	10,000
Peterborough.....	200,000	13,000
Haliburton.....	22,000	200
Hastings.....	395,000	9,000
Total	869,000	32,200

FALSIFYING FIGURES.

UNABLE to cite facts in support of its contentions the Examiner is outheroding itself in billingsgate and in wild and false statements. In its issue of the 11th instant it professed to quote figures from the report of Dr. Orton's Committee in support of its contentions, which we alleged and still contend were misstated—in one instance exactly reversed—and instead of either acknowledging its error or sustaining its position, the Examiner replies with any amount of abuse, amid which it only dares to venture the assertion that in its "quotations" it "followed those before" it. To any one who reads between the lines it is sufficient to observe that it does not dare to say it quoted from the "official report." As the point at issue is simply the correctness of its "quotations," it will be time enough to take up our editor's shortcomings when it has cleared its skirts in this matter, and in the matter of the falsification of figures taken from our columns not so very long ago, and with regard to which it has never dared to offer either one word of defence or apology.

In each case the Examiner, finding that the true figures would not support its contentions, deliberately falsified them.

THE LATE RAILWAY ACCIDENT.

To the Editor of the Review.

SIR,—Yesterday added another to the sad casualties that are happening of late, much too frequently on the Midland Railway. This last should not be dismissed with the thought that the victim was "only a brakeman" who risked his life in the duty he undertook. The Road I contend is largely responsible for what occurred, for the train was backing up and was running at a high rate of speed, both contrary to law, and no proper signal to brakemen standing on the tops of freight cars was placed, as is done on all good roads, in places where the train has to pass under a bridge. The writer saw the train pass through the town, at a short distance before reaching the place where death occurred, at the rate of about ten miles per hour and this with the engine in the rear, and no bell rung except on the engine to warn passers by of the approach of the train.

I trust that the town and railroad authorities will see that an enquiry is made into the late sad accident and into the mode of running the trains on Bethune and other streets of the town.

Some very narrow escapes have lately occurred to townspeople in crossing track, and the enquiry may cause the adoption of a lawful and more careful management of this great source of danger in our midst, to which the town I suppose is compelled in some shape to submit.

Yours,
A. B.

Peterborough, May 18, 1882.

HASTINGS.

OBITUARY.—That Phœnix the Star says that we have again to record the death of an old resident, in fact the oldest settler in Asphodel, in the person of Mr. Thos. Healy, who died at his daughter's residence in this village on Saturday the 13 inst., at the ripe old age of 84 years. The deceased gentleman was born in Donreal, County Cork, Ireland, in the ever-memorial year of the Irish rebellion, 1798. Emigrating to Canada in 1825 he settled in the township of Asphodel, where he resided continuously until a few days ago, when he moved into the village to spend his allotted time on earth. He had been somewhat indisposed for a few days before the fire, and no doubt the excitement attended on the removal of the furniture from the daughter's residence, which was endangered, hastened his death. The funeral took place yesterday, the remains being interred in the R. C. Cemetary, Asphodel.

NO COURT.—Our magistrate convened a court on Saturday evening, but the prisoner gave the constable leg-bail, taking the handcuffs with him, not that he had any use for them, but it simply saved time. On returning from the court his worship was honored by an escort of ladies across the bridge.

SUDDEN DEATH.—We regret to have to chronicle a very sudden death, in the person of Mr. John Tink, a carpenter, who had resided in this village for nearly a year. The deceased had worked very hard at the fire saving property, and complained of being unwell the same afternoon and died during the night.

THE LOSSES.—Mr. Saulter was in town on Thursday and Friday adjusting the losses of the several insurance companies.

CAMPBELLFORD.

AN EFFECTIVE WATER POWER.—The Herald says that a trial of the water works of the new woollen mills was made on Saturday last. The hose was brought from the building and carried to the end of bridge, where the corporation hose was attached sufficient to reach to the Post Office. It was ill adapted for this use, however. When only a part of the power was applied the hose burst at the couplings like paper, so that the strength of the stream which the power was capable of throwing could not be ascertained. In the event of a fire near the factory the hose could be attached and a powerful stream poured on the flames in a few minutes. Mr. Turner, the Manager, informs us that he has sufficient hose in the building to send a stream on the St. Lawrance Hall, Front street. Such a means as this should commend itself to the Council instead of the present slow, laborious and untrustworthy engine. At a not very expensive outlay, a system of this kind could be established which would be sufficient to quench the fiercest fire along the principal streets in a few minutes.

"DRAWS" WITH THE "LADDIE."—The "Herd Laddie" has received much hospitality from those who secured him, and attention from those who desired to pit their skill against his, and he remained in Campbellford a considerable time longer than he expected. During his sojourn he played upwards of 400 games, all of which he won but five, which were drawn. Mr. J. W. Johnston, Mr. McLean and Dr. McCrea were studying over the board with Mr. Wylie in the drawn games.

PROSPECTING—The Doryphora Decemlineata, or the unpatterned little nuisance very familiarly known as the potato bug, is cropping above the surface of the ground, and looking about for his summer quarters. A large number have been turned up in the gardens, and it does not seem likely that their numbers will be undiminished this year.

THE G. J. R.—A ballast train is to be put at work this week, ballasting the road between here and Hastings. There are many places along the line deficient of ballast for safety.

TIMBER.—Timber has been carried over the Grand Junction in considerable quantities for some days past. It has been consigned to Belleville, and will be used in repairing the dock.

ERYSIPELAS, Scrofula, Salt Rheum, Eruptions, and all diseases of the skin and blood are promptly cured by Burdock Blood Bitters. It purges all foul humors from the system, imparting strength and vigor at the same time.

BRALLIGAN TO O'GRADY.

DEAR DAN,—Since my last few lines a sthroke av luck has befell me intirely, as regards health an occupation. Finding the proprietor of the loft too aristhocratic in apparances for my plabayan notions, I betook myself across the wather where I gets my glass by the pint. Its there I struck a permanent situation at applying liniment to Davie's feet, and consoling him on the cornery opposition. By the pipers av Mulheron the very air is beginning to look like elections when it is going to be and who is going to run, are questions often asked your humble sarvant.

The Grits are commencing to feel like a hen on a hot gridle. It seems as if they had a job to get any one bould enough to lade them, and no wonder, for its a purty ticklish bit av business to have to convince a whole riding that certain things ought to be, when every right minded individual knows that it should'nt. But I suppose its all on account of Gerry marrying, but as to what difference it would make as to whether he got married or not. Spaking av lections that reminds me that our ex-school teacher, av the Gore, is red hot for the coming fray; shure he does nothing but read politics and attend conventions, and buy papers. I believe his hair is getting more curly from the effects av it. He is worth a whole township full av votes to the side he belongs, as he has local notoriety in the Gore, as a temperance orator, and general whipper in at trustee elections, besides he is a walking dictionary av the county for news, and has the knack of being no ways backward in expressing his opinion, and supplying his advice, gratis. By the same token, I don't see him drive around so much with his medical patron; can it be that the last named gentleman is too perpendicular in his political sthanding to suit Martin's advanced ideas, or, perhaps, they have dissolved partnership for mutual improvement, and its doubtful which will gain the most. On main sthrate on Saturday I met in with the long dark bachelor from Ashburnham, and with him was his friend little Jerry, from Cork. He discoursed me with words as long as a pike staff. "Patsey," sez I it's a wondher yez never got married. "Well," sez he, "conjugal felicity is an irrationalistic creation of a stultificated immagination promulgated only by the mendacious, homalgated and corroborated by the medicore, in short to bring my peroration to a caption I concatinate in the flammiferous regions of my ignescent cerebrum the hypochondriacal fallacy that the benefits purporting to emanate and accrue from the system of gynocrasy are as deteriorating as they are assiduously acrtmonious, and as illimiably chimerical as the multitudinous illusions of the phantasmagoria." Turning for relief I beheld Jerry with eyes like saucers and mouth extended to the width av a waggon box, being affected I suppose from the electrical current that was turned on him from such a battery av words. Is that thrue sez I, waiting fifteen minutes till he recovered, and them proceeded from him as solemnly as from the Temple av Delphos, the oracular words "its not, nor nothing."

The "Knight of the Pine Grove" is making things bowl. He has put such a change on matters that yez would'nt hardly know them. The N. P. has worked well in its application to education, and I think this generation can raise a better stock av trustees than the last. The "Knight's" health is a subject av great concern to his well wishers, as it is doubts they have that he will catch the malary from the foul atmosphere arising off the "frog pond," over which he is said to cross, but faix they nad'nt be troubled, as I am tould he greatly contemplates having three "mentions," but I betther not say much as the lad is dangerous when riled,

Dan, asthorah, there is one thing layin' heavy on my mind, I am purty well acquainted, but have no vote, and consequently I seldom get a shake av the fist from the nabobs, and people seldom tell me that they are glad every one belonging to me is well. I must finish now, Dan, as I sees Davy taking off his shoes, and my close application to business has learned me to know what that manes, and what is expected av me for the next three quarters av an hour.

I am your affectionate chum,
MICKEY BRALLIGAN.

WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY.—From the Kingston (Ont.) Daily Whig.—This old medicine, the ever-effective healer of ills that flesh is heir to, is still before the public in its full favor. It stated on its career of mercy (for a good medicine is a merciful agent), forty years ago, and is to-day sought after by the children of the men who first sought out its virtue and established its name. Were it not for its merits it would long since have "died and left no sign," like many a once popular curative has done even in the last five years. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry is no artificial, deleterious compound, certain to afford temporary relief only by cutting its way by powerful agents through vitality, yet leaving a worse injury behind it. It is a vegetable, and by natural remedies works off complaints from a slight cold to a threatening consumption. 50 cents and $1 a bottle. Sold by dealers generally.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—An EXTERNAL MEANS of CURING SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic; whilst old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalculæ which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produce a clear, healthy natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION, a FLUID peculiar in itself, is the most potent enemy to all Skin Disorders. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the least degree comparable for its Healthy Action on the Human Skin.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. Startin, and every year it is used adds more and more favourably to its widly increasing reputation. Anyone, however deeply and hopelessly afflicted with Skin Disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent in a diminished appearance of the malady, a growing tendency to fade away, and complete obliteration of the eruption.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—BOTTLES CONTAINING NEARLY HALF A PINT.—SOLD BY CHEMISTS EVERYWHERE. Made in London, Eng.

Daily Evening Review

FRIDAY, MAY 19, 1882.

POLICE COURT.

FOUND DRUNK.

FRIDAY May 19.—James Wilford of Ennismore appeared to answer to a charge of being found drunk on the street last night, preferred by Chief Johnston.

Prisoner who had passed the night in the cells acknowledged that he had imbibed too freely, pleaded first offence and promised not to do it again. He stated that he was a farm laborer, working in Ennismore, and yesterday being a Holy Day he took a holiday, and thus the whole thing occurred.

The Magistrate entered a plea of guilty, and in consideration of this being his first offence he allowed prisoner to go with a reprimand.

Smashed his Hand.

A Midland brakeman named John Coates smashed his hand the other day, while coupling cars at Port Hope.

Monday's Sale.

None of the lots to be offered for sale by Mr. Stapleton at his Auction Rooms (Market Block) are less that one quarter of an acre, and most of them exceed that. Sale at 2 p. m. on Monday the 22nd.

Successful.

Mr. Fred. Sherin, a Peterborough boy and a former student of our Collegiate Institute, having successfully passed his final examination, was admitted to the degree of B. A. at the convocation of Victoria University, Cobourg, on Thursday. We congratulate our young friend on his well merited success.

"Never so Cheap as Now."

It should be gratifying to the ladies to know that some of our pushing dry goods merchants are offering Dress Goods, Muslins and Silks, at prices "never so cheap as now." Such is the announcement made by Messrs. Giroux & Sullivan in their column on the first page of the REVIEW, to which the attention of the ladies is especially called this evening.

Midland Railway Traffic Returns.

The traffic of the above railway for the week ending May 13th, 1882, was as follows:—Passengers and mails, $5,550.33; freight, $13,350.05; total, $18,900.38, as compared with $15,711.03 for the corresponding week of 1881, being an increase of $3,189.35; and the aggregate traffic to date is $314,989.05, being an increase of $98,603.89 over 1881.

Flower Gardens.

Visitors are flocking to Frank Mason's extensive flower gardens in the north end of the town. The sight just now is worth seeing, and a pleasant hour can be spent in walking through the various green houses which are filled with beautiful blooming and foliage plants. Mr. Mason deserves to receive the patronage of our townspeople seeing that he has devoted so much attention to providing Peterborough with a nursery so convenient and extensive as it has now become.

Runaway.

On Thursday evening just about 6 o'clock, Mr. W. Croft's team ran away from the hotel, taking with them the hack. They sped along Hunter Street at a terrific pace and were stopped by the pole running through the end board of a waggon, loaded with wet slabs. The horse drawing the load did not appear to be a bit restless and stood perfectly still, notwithstanding that one of the runaways was thrown on its back and was making desperate efforts to free itself. Willing hands soon unharnessed the team and they were taken back to their stable, not the least bit the worse on account of their escapade. The hack was but slightly damaged.

Still Another Alarm.

On Thursday evening about 9.30 o'clock the third fire alarm within a week was sounded, and as usual intense excitement prevailed until the cause was discovered. It appears that one of the boarders at the Stewart House was lighting a lamp in his bedroom near a window, when a small piece of sulphur flew off and alighting on a lace curtain, soon set it in a blaze. A person across the road, noticing the flames, at once gave an alarm. The occupant of the room soon extinguished the fire, and the firemen being informed of the fact, they did not turn out. The horses were at the fire station before the alarm sounded, the drivers having noticed the blaze. It would have been a lively turn out if there had been any cause for it.

AN ADJOURNED INQUEST

ON THE BODY OF RALPH GIBSON, WHO WAS KILLED ON THE MIDLAND.

The Evidence of Eye Witnesses—The Height of the Bridge—Considered Dangerous by Employees—Deceased knew of the Danger—The Verdict of the Jury.

The adjourned inquest on the body of the young man, Ralph Gibson, was held at the Midland Station, on Thursday evening. Coroner Fife presided and all the jurors were present. After perliminaries the proceedings commenced.

Mr. A. P. Poussette appeared for the Midland Railway Company.

WM. BOWEN, Conductor, sworn,—He was on way freight No. 9. on Wednesday. He did not see deceased until after the train was stopped. The train was running north towards Hilliard's junction at the time of the occurrence. The train was running about 6 to 8 miles an hour. He knew nothing about the accident until the train stopped and he saw the other brakeman drop to the ground. Witness then got off and went back and found the deceased laying inside of the track, with his legs badly cut. His head was also gashed. He did not know how the accident occurred. He never measured the height of a box car. Deceased was not dead but sensible when found. He inquired from witness two or three times how the accident occurred, and spoke about his mother. The body was found a little to the north of the bridge. Deceased was sensible when put on the engine. He could not say whether the deceased was struck by the bridge or not.

To Mr. Poussette,—He considered the bridge dangerous, unless when on a low car. He was not aware whether all the train hands knew it or not. A brakeman could pass under by lying or sitting on the car. There is not much of a curve at the place.

REV. E. J. STOBO, Baptist, sworn.—He resides near the Railway track and had just risen from the table and was standing on the verandah of his house when the train came along. He saw brakeman McNeilly and another man on the top of the train. Both men were at their brakes and passed safely under the bridge, being almost bent double. The deceased was on either the second or third car from the engine, and when about 28 feet from the bridge he turned around and walked towards the engine. The centre truss of the bridge struck deceased on the head and knocked him over double. Witness saw the occurrence. Witness shouted to the engineer and cried "Stop, as there was a man killed." He ran to the body. Deceased was 27 feet north of where he struck the bridge. The body was lying inside of the track, all mangled, with both legs off, the flesh of one thigh lying outside of the right hand rail. Deceased was then living and conscious. He saw that death was imminent and he tried to guide his mind to the Saviour, and engage in prayer with him. He then sent for Dr. Fife, and in the meantime placed deceased on a cushion and gave him a stimulent. The body was then removed to the Union Station. Witness accompanied deceased and remained with him until death ensued. Witness was about 200 feet distant when he observed the accident. Deceased spoke to him.

To Mr. Poussette.—Deceased fell between two box cars. The train was going about six miles an hour. Witness had seen a good many narrow escapes at the bridge, and upon measuring he found that the distance from the rail to the under side of the truss was 15 feet 4 inches. This leaves out an iron flange and knot. He had been told that freight cars varied in height from 10 feet 2 inches to 11 feet 6 inches.

ROBERT WETHERSPOON, Engineer, sworn.—He had charge of the engine of No. 9., on Wednesday afternoon. Deceased was a brakeman on the train which left here about 1.15, p. m. The train was backing out at about 4 or 5 miles an hour. After passing under the bridge he heard a person cry out. He did not reverse his engine until signalled to by another brakeman. He found that deceased was lying in the centre of the track about twenty yards away. He did not see the accident and could not say how it occurred. The smokestack of his engine is 13 feet 6 inches. He never heard the bridge mentioned by any of the train hands. No other bridges like this one are crossed between here and Belleville. He had run on the Grand Trunk, and in his time, he left in 1867, there was nothing to warn brakemen. Some of the bridges have been raised of late. He thought that it was the duty of the brakemen to be on the cars all the time the train was backing up.

To Mr. Poussette—He was looking towards the rear end of the train. He did not see deceased on top of the train. Deceased ran only the day he was killed with witness. The locomotive ran over deceased. It ran about 25 or 30 yards over deceased before it was stopped.

J. G. GORDON, Bridge Inspector, sworn—He examined the bridge in question and found that it was 15 feet 5 inches from the bottom of the lowest timber of the bridge to the top of the rail. The uniform height of box cars is 11 feet. He found a Midland Railway car 10 feet 10½ inches and a Grand Trunk car 11 feet 2 inches. He measured in the yard here. Up to the last two years in the Lower Province, Quebec, the law required all overhead bridges like the one in question to be 18 feet clear of the rail, but now they had to be 23 feet clear.

Mr. POUSSETTE said the law was the same in this Province.

The CORONER produced the Ontario statutes of 1881 containing a Railway Act.

WITNESS resumed—He was on the train when the accident occurred, and corroborated previous witnesses as to the condition of the body when it was picked up. He considered the bridge dangerous for brakemen on top of cars. He made that remark nine months ago, and within two months suggested that it should be taken down. He spoke to Mr. Blackwell, then Chief Engineer of the Midland, and he promised to write to the owners about it. He understood that the Midland had no right to remove the bridge.

Mr. POUSSETTE read from the Act that the lowest beam of all bridges was required to be 7 feet above the top of the highest freight car, Railway companies have no right to remove any bridge crossing its track unless with the permission of the owners of the bridge and he was prepared to show that the Midland had applied for and had been refused the necessary permission.

ALEXANDER MCNEILLY, brakeman, sworn,—He was on the train when deceased was killed. He saw him get on the train. He had to stoop while going under the bridge, which was about four feet above the top of a car. He was on the rear end of the train when the deceased fell off.

To Mr. Poussette,—Deceased told witness to look out for the bridge as it was very dangerous. It was necessary to stoop about two feet to pass under. If a person stooped low enough he could pass. Brakemen have always to look out for such things. There are three overhead bridges between here and Belleville, and you are required to stoop at both the Hastings and Campbellford bridges. When on top of a train brakemen are required to look in the direction in which the train is moving. There were five cars and a van. Deceased had to walk back to get to his brake, which he could not do while looking in the opposite direction. Witness was always required to be on the top of a car while passing under this bridge.

WM. A. RUSSELL, Brakeman, sworn.—He saw deceased on top of the train walking to the engine. When on the fourth car the bridge struck deceased and knocked him down between the third and fourth cars. Witness at once signalled the engineer and was the first on the scene. The rest of his evidence corroborated that of previous witnesses. Witness thought the bridge dangerous. Deceased spoke of dangerous bridges on the line. He thought Deceased was killed while in the discharge of his duty. He thought that by ordinary care a man who knew the danger of the bridge could escape it.

H. READ, Secretary-Treasurer of the Midland Railway, sworn,—He had an idea of where the bridge was. It is the property of the C. P. & M.R.& M.Co'y. The Midland had no control over it. His Company applied to the first named Company asking power to remove it in September, 1881, an answer was received refusing the permission, and they still refuse to give it. They had no objection to having it raised "a little."

THE VERDICT.

After addresses from Mr. Poussette and the coroner the jury retired and after deliberating for over an hour, returned the following verdict:—

"That the deceased Ralph Gibson came to his death while in the discharge of his ordinary duties as brakeman on the Midland Railway, being knocked from the train while it was in motion by his head coming in contact with the bridge of the Cobourg, Peterborough and Marmora Railway, and the locomotive and three cars passing over his body. The said bridge being of an unlawful height and known as dangerous, we deem the Midland Railway Company deserving of censure for negligence in not having the said bridge elevated to a proper height having received permission to do so from the Cobourg, Peterborough and Marmora Company, and would recommend that it be attended to at once."

Lacrosse.

We are enabled to state definitely that a lacrosse match will take place on the Ashburnham cricket ground, on the morning of the Queen's Birthday, between the "Independents" of Toronto, and the "Peterboroughs." Now boys to work and give them a good game and a good "trimming" if possible. You can do it if you practise steadily.

For Cannibalism.

The man William Storms charged with assaulting Christopher Fagin, above Lakefield, was tried before His Honor Judge Dennistoun, this morning. Mr. C. A. Weller appeared for the Crown, and the prisoner was ably defended by Mr. O'Meara. The evidence was the same as that given at the Police Court, with the exception that Dr. O'Sullivan was called and testified that the piece bitten out of Fagin's lower lip measured an inch and three quarters by an inch. The prisoner was found guilty, and after a very severe reprimand was sentenced to six months in the common gaol with hard labor.

THE CONTENTED MAN,
Who is He?

The discussion of this question by an able lecturer was listened to a few evenings ago with interest by large audience.

We venture to think that one of this class may be represented by the head of a family, who has been instructed to purchase a supply of that essential commodity for the table—TEA.

He has an indefinite idea that the article ought to be cheaper on account of the removal of the duty, but when he finds that he can save 10 cents per lb., instead of 5 he is jubilant.

THE CONTENTED MAN is he who gets the full benefit of the reduction of the duty on his tea for this year by making a saving of, say $3.00 on a purchase of 30 lbs.

Prove it by inspecting my stock of JAPANS AND YOUNG HYSONS.

A leading line of sweet and good drawing JAPAN offering at 35 cents, formerly sold at 45 cents.

Railway Notes.

It is an old and trite saying that you have to go from home to learn the news. In this case although Peterborough is the headquarters of the Midland Railway, we take several Railway items of interest from the Lindsay Post.

Upon the first of June the express company and the Midland enter upon a new arrangement. Heretofore the express company has paid a lump sum for service over the Midland line—something like $4,000 for the last year. It will now be done on a commission on the amount of express matter carried over the line. The traffic has been much greater this year than any preceding year. In fact merchants are favoring this way of shipping goods wanted for special sale, as the time of carriage is short and the deliveries of the goods always prompt.

We are informed that the plans have been prepared for a new station at Orillia for the Midland. They are in the hands of a contractor who is forming an estimate of the cost with a view of tendering for its erection. Orillia is one of the prettiest towns in Ontario and it deserves a handsome station. Not too handsome, but just enough so. It was rumoured that the new station which the Midland people have threatened to build at Lindsay would be of the same design, in fact both from the same plans. But nothing definite about the thing is known at present.

Three years ago the Midland railway used during the year a total of 7,132½ cords of wood, running eleven locomotives. During last year a total of 11,993 cords was used, supplying sixteen locomotives. This year the motive power having been largely added to the consumtion will run up to something enormous, even with the coal burners to relieve it. Three years ago the man who held fifty cords of wood looked upon the railway as a rather shaky customer. To-day the wood-man sells to the railway in preference to any other purchaser. It is this among causes, and not to the N. P., that we are to look for the high price of fuel. The cost of wood in Toronto, where it has for years been brought in on the cars, has been the same all last winter as in winters before.

Mr. F. M. Upton, for several years the general freight agent of the Toronto and Nipissing railway, was recently made the recipient of a magnificent ice pitcher and stand by Mr. Wm. Gooderham, president of the company. Mr. Upton has accepted a position on the Midland.

THE REPRESSION BILL.

LONDON, May 19.—The debate on the Repression bill was resumed in the House of Commons to-day. Mr. Sexton denounced the bill. He said the Irish members would see by the way in which the bill was administered whether they could continue to discharge their functions, or whether it would not be their duty to allow the Government and the people of Ireland to come face to face. Mr. Gladstone denied that the bill was the outcry of English resentment. It was founded on the Phœnix park disaster, but was contemplated long before that. He desired it to pass unaltered in its main lines. The bill was not founded on panic nor conceived in a party spirit. It was intended meet a great crisis, and was approved by all loyal citizens. Mr. Gladstone was frequently cheered. Mr. Parnell said he hoped with the passage of the Arrears bill and other amendments to the Land Act that the Land League agitation might be ended. He trusted the Government would give more time for the discussion of the amendments his party intended to move. Mr. Broadhurst (Advanced Liberal) said the bill was undnly stringent. Mr. Healy declared that it was aimed at the suppression of the Land League. Mr. Gladstone, replying to Mr. Sexton, denied that the bill was the outcome of English resentment. He had received six hundred addresses from public bodies expressing a hope that the murder would not hinder remedial legislation. The Government considered the Repression and Arrears bill inseparable and could not consent to the abandonment or essential impairment of either. Mr. Mitchell Henry opposed the bill because of the absence of Irish elements in the Executive of Ireland. The bill passed its second reading by 363 against 45.

GUITEAU'S LATEST.

WASHINGTON, May 19.—Guiteau has addressed the following to a paper here:—I tell the American people and its officials, from the Executive down to the court in banc who are reviewing my case, that I tell the truth, "and lie not." when I say I am God's man in the matter of President Garfield's removal, and if a hair of my head is harmed the Almighty will make the officials pay for it. If I was outside I would lecture under the auspices of some bureau on religious subjects. One of my subjects would be "Paul the Apostle, and kindred topics." If my time has come to leave this world I am willing, bnt I want the officials that murder me on the gallows to understand the issue. If they murder me they will incur the wrath of the Almighty God, and it will be a long time before He lets up on them and this nation. The devil g that crucified the despised Galilean thought they were doing God service, but that did not release them from their liability. They and their nation incurred the wrath of the Almighty by the act, and He got even with them at the destruction of Jerusalem; and He will get even with this nation and with the officials if I am murdered on the gallows. I want an unconditional pardon or nothing, and I want the Executive so to understand it. I have set forth my views fully in my book. If the honorable jurists representing the Washington court in banc decide this case according to the law there is only one decision they can make, and that is that they can have no jurisdiction. If they decide contrary to the law the matter will rest with President Arthur, and they will have incurred the wrath of Almighty God."

"RED CROSS" MISSIONS.

WASHINGTON, May 20.—The American Association of the "Red Cross" is about sending money, clothing, &c., which have been forwarded to it, to destitute families. The mission of the "Red Cross" is rapidly becoming understood and letters of sympathy and support are reaching the Central Committee by every mail. These include communications from "Red Cross" missions or people throughout Europe, among others a letter from the Grand Duchess of Baden. The "Red Cross" organizations abroad heretofore only applied their efforts to softening and covering war. The example of the United States society in extending its scope to include sufferings caused by floods, famines, fires, pestilence and other national calamities is a good one and Russia has already added these features to her "Red Cross" work, and it is probable that all the European nations will ultimately fall into line.

THE FARMERS AND THE TARIFF.

As a forged version of the figures in regard to the answers submitted to the Committee to inquire into the operation of the tariff on the agricultural interests has been circulated in this county, we publish in another column the official table from the return presented to Parliament by the Committee, which comprised Reformers as well as Conservatives.

It will be seen that the replies, by a majority averaging more than two to one, were favourable to the N. P., with the single exception of the effect upon the price of wool, as to which the majority was about reversed. It must be remembered that in this instance the full benefit of the tariff has not had time to be manifested. When we manufacture a larger proportion of our own blankets and produce a larger proportion of fine instead of coarse wool, the benefit of the tariff will be seen in this respect also.

These replies are from no selected witnesses, but are fairly representative. The report explains that the questions were sent to every Reeve in Ontario, and seven copies to every member of Parliament with instructions to forward them to the Presidents of Agricultural Societies and other leading and intelligent farmers in their constituencies.

The answers of the Ontario Reeves are shown separately, and it will be noticed that they are nearly in proportion to the general replies, thus testifying to the fairness of the latter. Out of all the Ontario Reeves the unfavourable answers, which were sent in, averaged only 48 on each question.

A fairer and more complete evidence as to the feeling among our agriculturalists in regard to the National Policy there could not be.

THE MAP FORGERIES.

THE Lindsay Post is angry with us for exposing its forgeries of maps of the new ridings. Instead of explaining or confessing, it repeats its falsehoods with several additions. One of its excuses is amusing, that "The outlines are correct with the exception that they necessarily have not the freedom of a lithograph or wood engraving." It would be difficult for an artist in any line to take greater freedoms with the truth. The Post also says:—"Our outline referred to the gerrymandering as at first brought down — considerable change has since been made." The shape and positions of the townships were not changed, and it was for falsely presenting these to deceive its readers that we condemned it. Several falsehoods about the REVIEW are not worth our notice.

BENEFITED BY THE N. P.

In a report of the proceedings at the recent Conservative convention of South Brant we read:—

"Mr. W. E. Adams, a Paris manufacturer, formerly an adherent of the Reform party, being called upon rose amid great cheering. He said he had never attended a political gathering before, but the time had arrived when duty to his country demanded that he should be at the post. He had now a decided opinion upon the financial question—his eyes had been opened since the adoption of the N. P.—(cheers)—and he meant to do his duty in the premises. Regarding the interest he represented he would say that it had been vastly benefitted by the present tariff. The feeling manifested throughout the length and breadth of the land was very largely in favor of the National Policy. (Hear, hear.) He could now be counted upon to support Sir John Macdonald and his policy; he was pleased as a Canadian to say that the principles of the Premier and Sir Leonard Tilley were doing very much for Canada. (Cheers.) When Mr. Mackenzie was in power he had said to his friends in Paris that he was sorry he had ever invested a dollar in the town. He now withdrew this expression, because his industry was in prosperous condition and was increasing in dimensions every year. (Cheers.)

In answer to a question by Mr. R. C. Smyth, Mr. Adams said that he was making commodities cheaper than before 1878; and what was more he was paying higher wages since the adoption of the N. P. (Hear hear.)

Mr. Baird corroberated what Mr. Adams had said. The industry over which Mr. Adams presided had been much more than doubled since September, 1878."

NORWOOD.

ATTENTION.—It is to be hoped that the accident of Saturday last, will open our Councillor's eyes to the necessity of having the approaches to the flumes, etc., properly guarded by substantial railings. Some say that it is the duty of Mr. Buck—if a difference of opinion exists as to whom the duty belongs, have it settled at once, and have the necessary work done immediately. Picture a man driving across the dam on a dark night—an old rickety railing on one side, 20 yards or so knocked out here and there, to relieve the monotony of the thing as it were—and headed by an open flume, and on the other side, not the first particle of a railing. The poorest municipality in the country would not allow allow such a state of affairs to exist.

LINDSAY.

SHARP.—The Post says that one day last week a farmer went into a certain blalcksmith shop in town with a broken grindstone, which he wanted to get mended. He asked the smith if he could mend it, and was told that a band could be put round it. The farmer told him to mend it and then left. He returned after a while and asked for the stone. It was brought out to him, with a band of iron the same width as the stone, tightly fitted on. The farmer said it was no good and that he would not pay for the work when the blacksmith told him he would charge him a dollar or keep the stone. The farmer then said he would pay for it if he could tell him how to use it and on what to use it. The blacksmith said all right, take the stone home, put it in a convenient place, and when he intended going to town to go and take a good look at it and sharpen his wits. He took it.

WANTED.—Scattered along the shore of the river are about twenty-eight boat-houses. Each contain boats—canoes, skiffs, and a steam yacht or two. The boat houses are more or less unsatisfactory, at one time under water, a month after high and dry. It would pay some enterprising citizen to build one large boat house, handy to the town, large enough to house af the craft. At a moderate rental for racks, etc., enough could be realized to make it pay. And then the convenience is something not to be sneezed at. As it is now, when a young lady is invited to a trip o'er the billow she is obliged to wait outside the boat house while her admirer disappears, to turn up unexpectedly fifty yards down stream before a landing can be effected. Who will be the pushing man to take the thing up? And who would be the avaricious ship owner who would refuse to house his boat therein if built.—(Motion to adjourn carried.)

THE OPERA HOUSE.—As soon as the engagements now made for the use of the opera house are filled the work of improving the room will be gone on with. Mr. Bradburn will execute all he has agreed to with the council, although he has, or is, we believe, to make a further proposition. He offers to build an extension of the main building of the hall some forty feet further west, and of course of same height, two storeys. This would, allowing for a greatly increased depth of the stage, give about twenty feet more length to the room and enlarge the capacity of the hall sufficiently without putting in the gallery proposed. As the outlay for this work would be much more than the alterations first anticipated, he would ask the council to allow him six per cent. interest on the money spent in the extension or a corresponding reduction in the annual rental.

LOOK AFTER IT.—The curve in the main line of the Midland a rod or two above Lindsay is about the sharpest curve on the road. It is certainly the most difficult to run the trains over when the weight and draught of the heavy freight trains are considered. During the rain storm of Wednesday night of last week an enormous train of lumder came to a stand-still right on the curve. The rails were wet and the drivers of the engine whirled round without taking a grip of the rails. An hour's exertion and manœuvering did not better the situation, and it was only when the engine from a second train and the engine from the shed had been brought up to assist that the train was pulled through.

ROBCAYGEON.

WELL DONE.—The Independent says that Mr. Thos. Armstrong, of Port Perry, but at one time citizen of this village, was employed last year as an agent for the Fonthill Nurseries. The proprietors of the Nursery offered a premium of a handsome gold watch and chain to the agent who should prove the most successful during the year. The friends of Mr. Armstrong will be pleased to learn that he carried of the cake, or watch, we should say, against three hundred competitors.

BURNT.—At noon, on Thursday, a fire broke out in Mr. J. L. Read's fine barn. The men had quit work for dinner, had put their three teams of horses into the stable to feed, and come down to the house. Mr. Read was following them, and was not much over a hundred yards from the barn, when the whole roof of the barn burst into one blaze of fire. Some persons living on the opposite side of the street rushed to the stable, and burst in the door, but the place was already in flames, and the poor animals were past saving. The six horses were burnt, a find bull, a fat steer, several calves, and several pigs. There was a large qunatity of hay, wheat oats, barley, and valuable implements. Mr. Read's loss will be between two and three thousands dollars; partly covered by insurance.

FIRE.—The village was unpleasantly aroused into activity on Monday morning by the city of "Fire." A chimney in the new portion of the Forest House caught fire, and being defectively constructed, set fire to the roof. This was about ten o'clock, and the moment the alarm was given help arrived, and the three little fire engines were pouring water on to the building. The fire burst through the roof, and from a brief space it looked as if the building was doomed. The hosemen, however, climbed the roof, and with a dexterous management of the hose, and a determined effort by the water carriers the flames were got under control. The engines worked admirably and the villagers carried up water with astonishing rapidity. Considerable damage was done to the building, both by fire and water, and some damage to the furniture by removal. The loss will be covered by insurance.

PORT HOPE.

ANXIETY.—The News says that much anxiety was being experienced in town last Sunday and Monday at there not being any tidings from the Eliza White, owned by Capt. Janes, which had left here loaded with lumber the previous Tuesday for Oswego. It was feared that the vessel had been caught in the storm on Wednesday. However, in the afternoon of Monday the cheerful intelligence was received that the vessel had arrived all right at Oswego.

COTTON FACTORY.—Mr. John Young who was in correspondence with some of our citizens last year in regard to a Cotton factory, will be here in a few days again. He has just arrived in Canada from England, after a trip of twenty-four days, fourteen of which had been spent in the ice fields in the Gulf of St. Lawrence.

PAYS PORT HOPE.—As may be observed in the address of the President of the Midland Railway at the annual meeting here a few days ago, the April monthly pay roll of the Port Hope employees, now amounts to $8,062, as against $4,752 for the corresponding month of the first year after Mr. Cox assumed charge of the road. These figures speak for themselves.

HARBOR TOLLS.—The Harbor tolls received for 1882 to Tuesday were.—Imports, $495.50; Exports, $4,003.26; total, $4,498.76. The amount received to the corresponding period of 1881 was.—Imports, $166.46; Exports, $2,486.77; total, $2,653.23. The increase thus far, this year, has been $1,845.53.

SUDDEN DEATH.—The death of Mr. Robt. McBurney last Sunday was a sad surprise to the whole community. Few men have been more deserving of the high esteem in which he has always been held, than the deceased. The family have the sympathy of the public in their sad bereavement.

R. R., Y. M. C. A.—Mr. E. Douglass, of the Midland Railway, started on Tuesday for St. Thomas to attend the International Convention of the railway branch of the Young Men's Christian Association. He will be absent for about a week.

PICKED.—As Mr. G. M. Healey was playing with a pet fowl a day or two ago, he was pick ed in the eye, causing an exceedingly severe wound.

FOR BELLEVILLE.—A number of men left here on Wednesday to work on the Midland elevator at Belleville.

Is the Duty Added?

Is the duty added to the price? In order to test that question, a gentleman living in Boston imported a pair of English blankets. The English price was $4.45, and duties and custom house fees amounted to $4.90 or more than 100 per cent, bringing the total; without charging anything for freight or handling, to $9.35. If the duty were added to the price, that would be the selling price of like blankets of home manufacture. But like blankets of home manufacture were selling at $5.20, or 75 cents above the English price, as low as the English blankets could possibly be sold if there were no duty. The like demonstration has been made in Canada, where the duty on blankets has largely increased and the price has largely decreased, though in the mean time the price of wool has advanced. The most absured and the most readily disproved of all free trade fictions is that which affirms that the duty is added to the price.—Hamilton Spectator.

N. H. DOWNS' Vegetable Balsamic ELIXIR!

This valuable medicine is purely vegetable, the discovery of which was the result of many years' close study, in order to discover the cause, the symptoms and the cure—viz.:

Consumption, Coughs, Colds, Catarrh, Croup, Asthma, Influenza, Pleurisy, Hoarseness, Spitting Blood, Bronchitis,

and every species of oppression of the Chest and Lungs. In all cases where this Elixir has been duly administered its efficacy has been invariably manifested, convincing the most incredulous that is not incurable, if properly attended to.—Consumption, at its commencement, is but a slight irritation of the membrane which covers the lungs; then an inflammation, when the cough is more observable, but rather dry—then becomes local fever and the pulse more frequent, the cheeks flushed and chills more common. This Elixir in curing the above complaints, operates so as to remove all morbid irritations and inflammation from the lungs to the surface, and finally expel them from the system. It facilitates expectoration.

CONSUMPTION

IT HEALS THE ULCERATED SURFACES

and relieves the cough and makes the breathing easy. It supports the strength and at the same time reduces the fever. It is free from strong opiate and astringent articles, which are also drying a nature as to be in great danger of destroying the patient; whereas this medicine never dries or stops the cough, but, by removing the cause, generally destroys the hectic before the cough is entirely gone. Consequently, when the cough is cured the patient is well. Send address for pamphlet giving full directions for cure of pulmonary diseases. Price 25cts. and $1 per bottle. Sold everywhere.

MONTREAL, P. Q.

Written for the Review.

GLORY TO GOD FOR SALVATION BY JESUS AND HIS BLOOD.

I am glad Jesus died, is the language
Of the penitent soul who has seen
Its own utter vileness, but washing
In the blood of the Lamb, is made clean.
I am glad that he died, for forgiven
I will hide in the wounds made for me,
And the robe of His righeousness flowing
Around me my covering shall be.

I am glad Jesus died, for He saves me
From the guilt and dominion of sin.
Being freed from its bondage, no longer
Can I serve or take pleasure therein;
I would shrink on my own works relying
To appear in the Presence Divine,
For before holy purity sinful
Are sincerest endeavours of mine.

When seeking to follow Christ fully
And to walk as He walked in the way
Of holiness, more and more precious
Is the sin cleansing fountain, each day;
But the joy of forgiveness is mingl'd
With deep soul-melting sorrow, that by
His atonement for me as Sin-Bearer,
God's wrath on His own Son did lie.

I am glad Jesus died, for Mount Calvary
Doth each covenant blessing reveal.
There His love to my soul by the tokens
Of His body and blood He did seal,
For such love can I e'er feel ungrateful,
Shall not my affections entwine
Around Him in loving allegiance,
Crying, Lord I am Thine, wholly Thine!

Purified by the fire from the altar,
And created to good works anew
By His Spirit within me abiding,
Of His pleasure to will and to do,
"One eternally one," with King Jesus
His triumphs are mine, and to see
Him crowned with His blood purchased trophies
Th' inspiration of service will be.

I am glad Jesus died, and was buried,
And victorious arose to the sky;
Yea exalted a Prince and a Saviour
To plead for His people on high,
And to give unto them true repentance,
And remission of sins in His name,
While His saints have the honor of being
His heralds the good news to proclaim.

In sav'd souls consecrated in loving
Obedience because that He died,
To redeem them, He sees of the travail
Of His soul and is now satisfied,
"Bore His fellows with gladness anointed,"
O my blood-sprinkled soul let this be
Thine increase of joy that the Saviour,
Now with singing rejoices o'er thee.

I am glad Jesus died, is the rapture
Of gratitude thrilling me now,
But oh, with what rapture I'll sing it
When He places a crown on my brow,
Now redeem'd I begin my eternal
Song of the ransomed in Heaven;
To the Lamb that was slain worship, honor,
And glory forever be given.

AN EXTRAORDINARY STATEMENT.

The Assassination Planned in America—How it was Executed.

NEW YORK, May 18.—Advices recived from Irish revolutionary sources state that beyond a possibility of doubt the assassinations were plotted in this country. The original plot did not include Lord F. Cavendish, but the assassination of Forster, Burke and Gladstone was arranged. The plotters were connected with the extreme branch of Irish revolutionists, who for a long time have had their headquarters in this country. A document authorizing the assassination of the three officials was prepared at a special meeting of the executive council of the organization at which Irishmen from Canada and the United States were present. Two men were selected to execute the proclamation and a large sum was given to equip them. The men landed at Liverpool and remained in England awaiting instructions. In a few days they received an order evoking the sentence upon Gladstone. Forster was dogged from the moment he left England. From Hollyhead to Dublin, one of the men following him secured a state room almost adjoining Forster's. He had an infernal machine with him, but was constantly foiled through the vigilance of the officials. While speaking at Tulla one of the men shot at Forster with an air gun, but the bullet struck a police man. There was only two engaged in the assassination of Lord F. Cavendish and Burke, and there was no car as stated. It is alleged that the assassins are now on their way to this country and expect to avoid the detectives.

The steamer Scythia has been searched by the United Sates marshall, but no suspicious persons were found. The steamer State of Indiana which arrived to-day was also searched with the same result.

A REFORMER'S TESTIMONY.

Prefers Sir Leonard Tilley to Sir Richard Cartwright.

MONTREAL, May 17.—The following enlightened and vigorous protest has been addressed to a local paper by Mr. Henry Lyman, one of the ablest and most respected members of the Liberal party in this city:—

"SIR,—As my name is published in the list of a committee for the selection of a Liberal candidate for Montreal West, it is fitting that I should say that I have not consented to act in such capacity. If the views I entertain on public questions can be supposed to have the slightest importance in the public estimation, I may say that as between Sir Richard Cartwright and his policy of so-called free trade and Sir Leonard Tilley, I prefer the latter; that while I am convinced the present tariff is susceptible of very considerable amendment, I hold, nevertheless, that a measure of wise protection is needed to develop our domestic industry and give employment to our population both present and prospective. Further, I must confess to little sympathy with those who can think of nothing better for this country than annexation to the neighboring democracy, with its constitutional revolution every four years, and that for no better reason than that it is more numerous and wealthy than we are, and also more aggressive. Here, however, we have ample room to expand, and in time we may become as populous as our neighbours, in which case it would seem unwise to have sold our birthright for such a mess of pottage. No, let us be as friendly as it is possible to be, but let us work out our own destiny in our own fashion, and if they will tax our eggs they must eat dearer pudding or we shall eat cheaper ones.

(Signed) "H. LYMAN.

A CONCERTED movement is afoot among the Catholic societies of Kings county, N. Y., to suppress profanity.

A CRANK stepped into the Cincinnati police court and made the startling announcement that he was "St. Peter, Elijah, the prophet, Moses II., the new lawgiver," and "the saviour of the Jews.

THE noose tightens about the necks of the Malley boys. Death by poison is established and the murdered girl is traced to the companionship of the Malleys the day before her dead body was found.

MASSACHUSETTS imposes a penalty of $5 for every smelt caught out of season, one-half going to the complainant. The local officers at Quincy have lately made a seizure of a large quantity of the fish caught near by.

A SINGLE BOX of Mack's Magnetic Medicine will prove to any sufferer from nervous prostration or weakness of the generative organs, that it is the best and cheapest medicine ever sold for this class of diseases. Read the advertisement in another column and send at once for the great Brain and nerve food.

LABORERS are in great demand in Kingsville, Steady work would be given to two or three dozen men all summer at good wages if they could be induced to come there, says the local paper.

SWITZERLAND has 1,594 miles of railroad, representing over $200,000,000 of capital. These railroads do not pay well; some have paid no interest for years, even to debenture holders. Over 13,000 persons are employed. Accidents are few.

KRUPP'S works were founded by his father in 1810. The present Krupp succeeded in 1848, when there were 74 workmen against 10,000 today, exclusive of workers in his mines; 2,680 tons of coal and coke are consumed daily. The iron comes from Germany and northern Spain.

THE Lake Superior Fish Co., are now heavily into the season's business, and by every steamer are shipping large quantities of trout and whitefish. They consign chiefly to "Jones," the well known fish man of Minneapolis, and Winnipeg also has contracted to purchase 32,000 lbs. per week, for the present season.

IN THE SPRING of the year almost every one requires a good Blood Purifier, more especially in the month of May. We would earnestly advise our readers to try Dr. Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters. A few doses will soon convince you that it is the best remedy known for affections of the stomach, Bowels, Liver and Kidneys. In large bottles at 50 cents. J. D. Tully, Agent.

CHICAGO'S great May musical festival, to be given in the Exposition building, under the directorship of Theodore Thomas, will open on the 16th instant, and extend through four afternoons and evenings. The greatest singers and players now in this country will take part. The chorus will consist of nearly a thousand voices, and there will be 172 instruments in the orchestra. It will be the greatest musical event ever witnessed in that city.

IF the opium statistics are trustworthy, there will soon be needed a red ribbon for some other organization against the opium habit. From 1869 to 1880 the importation increased from 90,997 pounds to over 500,000 pounds, without taking account of the morphia importation or the amount of the drug smuggled. It is estimated that there are over 6,000 American opium eaters.

JOHN CARR MOODY, Counsellor-at-Law, Vallejo, Cal., says that he suffered seven years from a cruel joint trouble—rheumatic in its nature and exceedingly painful. Commander Coghlan, of the U. S. Navy, strongly urged him to use St. Jacobs Oil. After continuous use of the remedy the effect was so wonderful that he must congratulate himself specially, and the human race generally, on the perfection of the product.

THE Kingston Cotton Mill is now in good running order, and is turning out about 3,000 yards of cloth per day. This is a large amount, considering that nearly all the employes are green at the work. On Saturday the first cheque was received by the Secretary in payment for the product of the mill. Before long it is expected that the output of the mill will have been increased to from 6,000 to 8,900 per day.

MEDICINES taken into the Stomach in concentrated form such as Pills and Powders, are most injurious. The great substitute for these nauseous littrle Calomel pills is Dr. Carson,s Stomach and Constipation Bitters. They cleanse the bowels stimulate the Liver and Kidneys, and cure all stomach disorders, such as Dyspepsia and Indigestion. In large bottles at 50 cents. J. D. Tully, Agent.

THE "graveyard insurance "business of Pennsylvania have received a wholesome check. Fifty-eight of the companies have been dissolved by decree of court, and of the two hundred against which proceedings are still pending the majority have notified the public prosecdtor that they are willing to suspend. Now, if the Pennsylvania courts would turn their attention to the marriage insurance companies they would do another good stroke of business.

WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY.—From the Kingston (Ont.) Daily Whig.—This old medicine, the ever-effective healer of ills that flesh is heir to, is still before the public in its full favor. It stated on its career of mercy (for a good medicine is a merciful agent), forty years ago, and is to-day sought after by the children of the men who first sought out its virtue and established its name. Were it not for its merits it would long since have "died and left no sign," like many a once popular curative has done even in the last five years. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry is no artificial, deleterious compound, certain to afford temporary relief only by cutting its way by powerful agents through vitality, yet leaving a worse injury behind it. It is a vegetable, and by natural remedies works off complaints from a slight cold to a threatening consumption. 50 cents and $1 a bottle. Sold by dealers generally.

Daily Evening Review

SATURDAY, MAY 20, 1882.

The Port Hope Fire.

The Guide says that the damage to the pier by the fire at Port Hope will amount to about $600. About sixty thousand feet of lumber was thrown into the lake, but none of it will be lost.

Impounding Cattle.

The authorities are at last waking up to the necessity that exists for impounding the stray cattle that wander around our streets at will. The pounds are to be put in order, and we hope that they will soon be filled, as there is plenty of material.

The Market.

The market to-day was one of the best of the season and almost everything appeared to be in abundance. The fine weather probably invited our country cousins in, as they were present in large numbers and disposed of a large amount of produce at remunerative prices. The supplies embraced everything usually offered at this season and the prices ranged about as usual. Grain was not offered in any great quantity.

Entertainment.

The closing entertainment for the season to be held under the auspices of the Parochial Association of St. Luke's Church, will take place on Monday evening next at 8 o'clock, in the school room, Ashburnham. An excellent programme has been provided and a pleasant evening is anticipated, these entertainments being very popular and well attended. Admission ten cents.

Houses for Winnipeg.

Mr. William Lasher, of Peterborough, is going extensively into the business of shipping ready made houses to Winnipeg and other places in Manitoba. The material is all prepared and framed in town, then taken apart and shipped in box cars, to be put together again in a very short time upon arrival at its destination. He has already shipped two houses, but intends to send many more during the season. All the glass, putty, hardware, and in fact everything necessary is purchased here, so that the houses are complete in every respect.

More Room Wanted.

If any of the members of the Council visits the market on a busy day they will see the great necessity that exists for providing more accomodation for both buyers and sellers. The platform around the market building is so crowded that it is almost impossible for persons to pass, and on a wet day they have to step in the mud. If the varandah were extended a few feet this would be obviated. The suggestion has been made at the council but has not yet been acted upon. We would like to hear from the market committee on this subject.

Great Sale of Town Lots.

One of the best opportunities that has been given for a long time in Peterborough of securing a building lot will be offered on Monday, May 27th, when 37 lots north of Smith street and east of the Communication road will be sold by auction. A glance at the very clear map of the property which appears in our advertising column will show the precise locality of each lot, and the very commodious means of communication that have been provided by laying out the streets. It is an excellent situation and the lots are of good size, containing a quarter of an acre each, so that they afford very eligible sites for residences.

A Furious Animal.

A farmer named Short residing somewhere in the township of Otonabee, sold a fine bull to Mr. Duncan, a Buffalo cattle dealer. The owner was to deliver the animal in town and with that end in view, two men drove the bovine in. On the way the bull became fractious, some persons say mad, and escaped from those in charge, and made its way home again. Another attempt was made to bring it in again, but the animal got more irascible and the two drivers had a very narrow escape from a frightful death. When about opposite St. John's Church on Hunter street, the bull laid down, apparently in a dying contition. Bleeding was resorted to, but without success and seeing there was no hope of saving its life, a butcher was called in and ended the scene by cutting the animal's throat. The body was taken to one of the slaughter houses, and after the hide was taken off, was cut up and fed to the pigs. The loss falls on Mr. Short as the animal had not been weighed when it died.

T. V. C.

Mr. Rubidge, C. E., who has charge of the Trent Valley Canal survey, has been in Peterborough and Burleigh for some days in connection with the prosecution of this much desired work.

Fishing.

Almost every day boys are to be seen walking up street with long strings of fish, principally suckers and shiners. The river is said to be well stocked with the finey this year. Reports from the north are not yet of a very encouraging character.

Making it Wider.

The street scrapings which are being placed on the west side of George street across Spaulding's Bay, while assisting to fill in that plague spot will also serve to widen the street six or eight feet, thus allowing the sidewalk to be moved in and making George street of a uniform width.

Bathing.

Although the water must be rather cold yet, quite a number of the smaller boys have been disporting themselves in the lake and river, and appear to enjoy it greatly. In old times the Queen's birthday was the standard for the commencing season, and now they commence somewhat earlier.

The 24th of May

An exchange says that Vennor, by request, says regarding the weather on the 24th of May, as follows;—"Permit me to answer one and all by a brief statement in your columns. My opinion is that the day will be fair, but exceedingly windy. A cold period will probably occur a day or two prior to the 24th, and terminate abruptly previous to the holiday. Evening likely to be cool to cold."

The Weather.

According to the probabilities of yesterday the weather to-day has been fine and warm. About noon a slight breeze sprang up, and the sky darkened somewhat, giving every indication of an approaching rain storm, but at the time of writing none has fallen. The weather probabilities for this district for the following twenty-four hours, as reported from Toronto at 10 a.m. to-day by the Great Northwestern Telegraph Company, are as follows:—Lakes—Light to Moderate winds. Fine, warmer weather.

Artillery Notes.

Messrs. Hickey and Robertson, two of the members of our battery, have taken fourth class, short course certificates at B. Battery, Kingston.

It it proposed to fire a salute of 21 guns on the market square on the Queen's Birthday, provided the authorities do not object.

The Battery is getting along splendidly and are making good progress in their drill. We understand that Lieutenant Sanderson is endeavouring to have this made the headquarters of the Battery instead of having it attached to Port Hope.

Peterborough Abroad.

From an exceedingly neatly printed book, entitled "Emerson, Manitoba, and her industries," we take the following extracts regarding former residents of our town:—

WALTON & BIRD.

This firm is extensively engaged in the wholesale and retail of hardware, stoves, paints, oils, glass, silver ware, &c., to which they add the manufacture of tinware and galvanized iron for any purpose whatever, also general plumbing. They established business here in 1879, and have been quite successful in building up an extended patronage owing to their fair, square dealings and the varied stock of goods carried, which is always selected with special reference to the wants of the public, and from their years of experience they have learned to anticipate the wants of patrons, therefore customers will always find in their stock the goods desired with quality and price to suit them. They carry a stock value for about $20,000, and their business, for the past year, has reached fully $60,000. They now occupy their fine, new, solid brick premises, which are located on Dominion street, in the business center of the city, 28x65 feet in area, two-story, with shops 23x40 feet, with two flats connected, where they carry on their manufacturing department. Messrs. Walton & Bird's combined business gives employment to eleven hands, which will be necessarily largely augmented in a short time as the large amount of building supplies and roofing contracted for by them will require more labour. Among those who have deservingly prospered in this new country, by their plodding industry, this firm deserve a prominent place, and are recognized as one of the leading mercantile and manufacturing concerns of Southern Manitoba.

F. E. BURNHAM.

This gentleman is a barrister, solicitor, and attorney, practices in the provincial courts, and holds the very responsible position of city solicitor. Although Mr. Burnham is a professional gentleman in the strictest sense, and in no way engaged in any industrial pursuit, he is nevertheless doing quite a work in the building up of the Gate City and its surroundings. In his professional capacity as solicitor for the Landed, Banking & Loan Co., a corporation whose funds are freely invested in this country, he it a very valuable auxilliary in the work of developing the great North West. Outside of his professional capacity Mr. Burnham handles heavily in real estate, not that he does a regular business in that line, but he shows his faith in the great future of the country by investing his funds in its lands, and using his superfluous capital in its development.

CLUXTON & BOUGHTON.

This firm date their organization from February, 1st 1882, although Mr. Cluxton has been in business in Emerson for three years, and during that time he has been intimately connected with the city's real estate interests. The firm, although infantine in age is by no means so in vigor, and they have their business machinery up to a pitch of perfect working only to be found in cases of old and well organized concerns. They buy and sell every class of town and farm property, and their transactions extend pretty well over Manitoba, while they have agents to attend to their business in different cities in Ontario. It is seldom that a new firm step into a leading position in their line in a city like Emerson, yet such is the case with Messrs. Cluxton & Boughton, and they have accomplished a great amount of work in the way of spreading the fame of Manitoba in general and Emerson in particular throughout the Eastern Provinces of the Dominion. They have the most perfect arrangements for attending to the interests of absent property owners, and in many other ways they have given quite an impetus to the real estate business of the Gate City. Their offiices are located on Dominion street, and are well supplied with maps, plats and other necessary guides to profitable real estate investment.

New Printed Muslins, choice patterns, at Turnbull & Gray's.

Piano to Rent.

Mr. E. J. Hartley, Hunter street, has a Dunham, N.Y., piano to rent.

The Locks Bridge.

The County Engineer has notified the Warden of the county and the Mayor, of the unsafe condition of the swing bridge at the locks. He considers that it is unsafe for travel, being rotted in some of its most important parts and may have to be replaced by a complete new structure. This is an important matter and should be looked after at once.

Lacrosse.

As will be seen by posters, a grand lacrosse match will take place on the morning of the Queen's Birthday, on the Ashburnham cricket ground, between the "Independents," of Toronto, and the "Peterboroughs." All who desire to witness the best game ever played in the Midland District should be on hand. The Toronto men are bound to win back the trophy wrested from them on the first of July last, while the home men are determined to win if they possible can. A genuine tug-of-war will be the result.

Legal.

From the Mail of to-day we take the following which will be interesting to our readers:—

"This case, which was to have been tried yesterday in the Chancery Division, has been posponed till to-day. The action is brought by Mr. Hector Cameron, Q. C., against Mr. E. O. Bickford to recover from him half of the profits arising from the sale of iron to the Grand Junction Railway Company. The plaintiff alleges that an agreement was entered into between the parties whereby it was agreed that he should receive half the profits, whatever they might be, and it is on this contract that the action is brought. The amount claimed is said to be large, but it is not yet ascertained."

Ontario and Quebec Railway.

A Kingston telegram under the date of Fri. day says that a gentleman who returned from New York yesterday states that on Tuesday last a meeting of the Canadian Pacific Railway Syndicate was held at New York, at which Mr. Hugh Ryan, of Perth, was taken into the company. Mr. Ryan is a contractor of high reputation, a railroad builder, and director of the Kingston Locomotive Works. It was decided to proceed at once with the Ontario and Quebec railway from Toronto to Ottawa, the link from Perth to Sharbot lake being taken up first. Five millions of dollars will be spent upon this work, two millions of which are now placed at Mr. Ryan's disposal. It is the policy of the syndicate to give the control and management of the different divisions of their work to separate members. Thus, Mr. Van Horne has charge of the lines in Manitoba and the North-West, Mr. McIntyre looks after the Canada Central, its extensions, and the Quebec, Montreal, and Ottawa, and Mr. Ryan will be responsible for the Ontario and Quebec.

To the Cemetery.

Again we would draw the attention of the Council to the necessity that exists for constructing a sidewalk to the Little Lake Cemetery. Every day in the week large numbers visit this beautiful resort, and on any fine Sunday they may be counted by the hundred, including many of our leading citizens and their families, nearly all of whom have some relative or a friend buried there, and all these are obliged to walk for a long distance over a rough road and often through mud. Often the subject has been spoken of, but nothing whatever has been done and with the exception of the short sidewalk from Lake street to Crescent street matters remain as they were many years ago. Now that the Street and Bridge Committee are about to take their annual tour, we expect that they will give this subject their attention and earn the gratitude of the citizens at large. While on this subject we might also draw attention to the rapid manner in which Crescent street is being washed away, owing to the action of the water of the Lake. Some years ago the Cemetery Company, seeing the necessity of immediate action, cribbed the portion of their property bordering on the Lake, and the town followed the excellent example thus set, by also doing a little work in the same line. The work was well done and has had the effect of stopping the ravages of the water, but as a large portion is yet open, the bank is being gradually washed away and before many years, unless more cribbing is done, no road will be left. Surely this is worth the attention of the City Fathers.

FINE FINISHING.

More attention is now being given throughout the country to the artistic finishing of houses and fine business structures, and more expert carving is done for the purposes named, the appearances indicate, than in the manufacture of furniture, which industry for a long time laid claim upon the greater share of this class of mechanical talent. The reasons for this may not be fully self-evident or patent, but it would seem that it is largely because the real value of hardwood in this direction had never been fully realized or understood in this country, and because, also, the real high art in decorative architecture is scarcely native to American ingenuity and talent, which is famous in other ways, since there are oriental splendors in building and interior display in the palace-like habitations of many a pagan, or uncivilized native, which would never have been deemed possible of execution by our own designers, however artistic their eye, or however deft their touch. Processes and appliances for producing excellent results are known to many European workmen, in whose breasts the secret of such achievements is firmly locked. During the past few years many of these expert operatives in wood-carving have been forced to the shores of America, as it were, through the unsatisfactory state of affairs in their own countries, and their superior abilities have begun manifesting themselves in the wood manufacturing industry of this country, and, latterly, to a very marked extent, so that a renaissance in wood-carving may be fairly said to have resulted. The importation and employment of this class of talent led to a responsive sentiment in the community, or such channels of it as evidenced a sufficiently refined or artistic taste to appreciate and encourage a sensible and utilitarian form of art, which was experiencing an important enhancement of its excellence, and now quite a pronounced stimulus has been given the industry of wood-carving, more particularly for house finishing.

The Scientific American says regarding wood-carving in New York, that a marked and rapid increase has been made during the past 10 years in the demand for fine wood-carving, and with it a corresponding increase in the number of skilled workmen employed. Ten years ago the 100 skilled wood-carvers in the city were almost wholly engaged upon fine furniture. Now nearly 600 carvers are at work for two firms, and as many as a 1,000 accomplished artists find employment in the city, the larger part of them upon the interior decoration of houses.

A writer for the Evening Post, who has lately investigated this (for them) new industry, says that the rapid immigration of skilled carvers from Europe has had the effect of reducing wages considerably, yet they are still good. The very finest workmen, especially those in possession of some secret processes of doing difficult work, receive wages as high as $8 a day. The average pay of good wood-carvers is from $4 to $5 a day. The process of ebonizing cherry wood, for instance, used by one of the firms visited, is a secret known only to the workman who does it. Even the members of the firm have no right to ask what his secret is. The fact that he can get a finer, more ebony-like surface than any other man gives him a high value at once. Although the use of mechanical devices for carving wood are so much disliked by the best workmen that sandpaper is forbidden, machinery is now used to cut away the rough parts of a bit of carving. A peculiar tool driven by steam power eats out the wood wherever it goes, and thus a skillful man blocks out in a rough way as much work in a day as 20 men could have done formerly.

The delicacy and lightness of wood-carving, and the pay which good workmen receive for it, have already attracted many American apprentices, who, untrammeled by union rules, are making rapid headway, and promise to surpass the foreigners.—Northwestern Lumberman.

A Paper House.

In the Sydney Exhibition there is a house built and furnished throughout from paper. The structure is one storey high, and its skeleton is made of wood. The exterior is moulded in cartonpierre, whilst the exterior is covered with the same material, being plain on the floor forming splendid arabesques on the walls, and moulded in imitation of plaster on the ceilings. The doors, cupboards, and shelves are of the same material, whilst the entire furniture, including chandeliers and a stove, in which a fire can be lighted, is made of papier mache. The carpets and curtains are of paper, and there is a bedroom in which there is not only a large bed made of papier mache, but there are also blankets, sheets, quilts, and female underclothing, dresses, and bonnets, in the latest styles, composed solely of cartonpate. It is proposed to give a series of banquets in this building, in which the plates, dishes, knives, forks, and glasses will all be of paper.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—An EXTERNAL MEANS of CURING SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic; whilst old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalculæ which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produce a clear, healthy natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION, a FLUID peculiar in itself, is the most potent enemy to all Skin Disorders. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the least degree comparable for its Healthy Action on the Human Skin.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. Startin, and every year it is used adds more and more favourably to its widly increasing reputation. Anyone, however deeply and hopelessly afflicted with Skin Disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent in a diminished appearance of the malady, a growing tendency to fade away, and complete obliterration of the eruption.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—BOTTLES CONTAINING NEARLY HALF A PINT.—SOLD BY CHEMISTS EVERYWHERE. Made in London, Eng.

THE CONTENTED MAN,

Who is He?

The discussion of this question by an able lecturer was listened to a few evenings ago with interest by large audience.

We venture to think that one of this class may be represented by the head of a family, who has been instructed to purchase a supply of that essential commodity for the table—TEA.

He has an indefinite idea that the article ought to be cheaper on account of the removal of the duty, but when he finds that he can save 10 cents per lb., instead of 5 he is jubilant.

THE CONTENTED MAN is he who gets the full benefit of the reduction of the duty on his tea for this year by making a saving of, say $3.00 on a purchase of 30 lbs.

Prove it by inspecting my stock of JAPANS AND YOUNG HYSONS.

FIRE CRACKERS.

To the Editor of the Review.

DEAR SIR,—I enclose the following advertisement re "Fire Crackers," cut from the Montreal Gazette. Would it not be well for our local authorities to take a hint from it, and perhaps prevent a serious fire?

Yours, &c.,
CAUTION.

PUBLIC NOTICE is hereby given that the undersigned has received strict orders for the rigid enforcement, on the Queen's Birthday, and on all future occasions of public rejoicings, of the by-law prohibiting the use of fire crackers, squibs, etc., in all cases and against all persons who may offend against the provisions of said by-law.

By order,
HERCULE PARIDIS,
Chief of Police.

Chief of Police Office, City Hall, Montreal, 20th May, 1882.

P. B. C.

The adjourned monthly meeting of the Peterborough Boating Club will take place at the boathouse on Tuesday evening at 7.30 o'clock. The sale of racks, lockers, etc., will take place. A large attendance of members is desired.

Personal.

The Globe says that Traffic Agent White of the Midland has been in Chicago trying to effect an arrangement for freight from that point to the East via Midland, over the Midland Railway.

Appeals.

There are only twenty appeals against the assessment roll of the town for the year of 1882. The majority of them are for the pupose of making changes in descriptions, but there are some heavy ones that will occupy considerable time in hearing.

ST. JOHN, N. F.

Special to the Review, May 22.

A STEAMER from the west Bank reports that 21 ships are locked in the ice northwest of Cape Ray. Two large ocean steamers were also caught fast and driven over on the coast between Cape Ray and Cape Anguille, at Redocks point. A ship of a thousand tons was driven sheer up a sloping cliff by the pressure of the sea and ice. The fate of the crew has not been ascertained.

THE DERBY.

LONDON, May 22.—The interest in the Derby is not so great as usual owing possibly to the fact that so many favorites have gone wrong. The American Horse stands somewhat in bad order in consequence of so many scratchings.

ELECTRIC LIGHT.

LONDON, May 22.—Great excitement is caused by the speculation in electric light. So great was the rush for shares that the bank where the subscription list was opened, was blocked by a crowd, those behind picked some of the number up and threw them over the heads of those in front.

BOGUS CONFESSION.

LONDON, May 22.—The confession of the murderers of Cavendish and Burke published in Dublin proves to be a hoax. Similar manuscripts have been plentiful on Fleet street during the past few days. The confession occupies fifty folio pages writen. Some work of the same parties was sent to a London paper with a letter stating that the manuscript was found near the Post Office.

A SUMMER CRUIZE.

LONDON, May 22.—Sir Allen Young's search for Leigh Smith's Arctic expedition will be limited to a mere summer cruize.

PARNELL'S ATTITUDE.

LONDON, May 22.—Mr. Parnell's new attitude towards the Government has caused considerable dissatisfaction among the young members of the party, who desire to harress the Government under all circumstances. It was this section which precipitated the conflict over the Coercion bill last session, which so damaged the influence of the party in the House, and was with difficulty restrained from repeating its error on the second reading of the new bill.

AMERICAN.

AN OBSCENE BOOK.

BOSTON, May 22.—The Attorney-General has threatened to bring a suit to compell the publishers to stop the circulation of Walt Whitman's "Leaves of grass" on the grouud that certain portions are obscene. If he expurgates the work the publishers will throw up its publication.

CLEVER COUNTERFEITERS.

NEW YORK, May 22.—Chas. Smythe, engraver, has been arrested on a charge of stealing with Wm. Brackway, a counterfeiter, a certain bond plate, from the United States treasury. It is asserted that counterfeit bonds were set afloat and hundreds of thousands worth were never detected. Smythe pleads innocence. Brackway has not yet been arrested.

A THREATENING CARD.

NEW YORK, May 22.—A postal card was mailed here yesterday, addressed to the President, on which the following was written:—"If you do not recall the Minister from England, and ask for the unconditional surrender of all Americans in England at present, you shall be shot and killed. This is no idle boast, we mean business, you are no American." The card has been sent to the Postmaster General for disposition. The Postmaster here considers it a silly joke.

MURDER MOST FOUL.

BROOKLIN, May 22.—Ira Curry and Jos Freeman, quarreled in a saloon yesterday evening. Curry ejected Freeman and afterwards left the saloon and returned covered with blood from head to foot. He had been stabbed eight times. He died soon afterwards. Curry was arrested on suspicion. He denies the charge.

CARDINAL McCABE.

NEW YORK, May 22.—Cardinal McCabe has received a number of threatening letters. He is guarded by police.

ON ALASKA.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—E. W. Nelson, who spent four and a half years Northern Alaska in the signal service is pepairing a report giving much new information regarding the geography, inhabitants, birds, animals and fishes of Alaska.

SWINDLING PRINTERS.

NEW YORK, May 22.—It is alleged that Henry Lyon and Wm. Tutchill publishers of the Scientific World have decamped after swindling a number of paper dealers to the amount of several thousand dollars.

CONKLING'S CASE.

NEW YORK, May 22.—The Herald reports that Conkling was questioned regarding the charges against him in connection with the senatorial canvas contained in an article in the Washington Freeman on Friday. He said:—"My policy has been, never to reply to slander however foul. I have for years silently endured newspaper assaults, most cruel in character and having not the least foundation in fact. It may be this habit of silence which encouraged calamny when my name was used for re-election. I went to Albany because of the urgent advice or request of all those whom I had opportunity to consult. My going was one of the most reluctant acts of my life. I did not go to solicit votes. I never asked any man to vote for me. My presence there was insisted on by others on the ground that information should be given respecting my resignation and the causes which led to it, and that such information should come directly from me. Not one of those whose judgment had been given in favor of my standing for re-election ever advised or suggested my withdrawal. On the contrary, though I repeatedly made the suggestion myself, not one of my friends whose advice determined my action ever proposed or assented to any course other than the one pursued. No bargain, corrupt or otherwise, to which I was a party, was ever made or proposed during the whole course of the senatorial controversy. I know of no fact giving color to such an allegation. If there be such a fact it is unknown to me.

A CRITICAL BISHOP.

CLEVELAND, May 22.—Bishop Gilmour, Catholic, yesterday made an onslaught upon the ladies of the congregation, and other Catholic churches for identifying themselves with the Ladies' Land League. The latter at a meeting of the Ladies' League severely criticised the Bishop's address. The Irishmen of the city are with the ladies.

NO HOPE.

NEW YORK, May 21.—The World's London special says the Irish police and Government have abandoned all hope of catching the assassins of Lord Cavendish and Mr. Burke, or unearthing their instigators, the reward of ten thousand pounds having failed to produce a grain of information.

THE BRAGGARTS AGAIN.

NEW YORK, May 21.—The council of the Fenian Brotherhood has issued a manifesto addressed to the Irish revolutionists at home and abroad. It says:—"The spirit of revolution is abroad, and every effete and gouty monarchy in Europe totters on its rotton foundation. Brethren, awake! arise and labor with us! Help on the wise ways of Providence, and advance the good cause. Thus shall we in solemn secret conclave continue with augmented force to give the emphasis of dagger, fire, and sword, and other available resources of civilization, to our ancient merciless and unrelenting enemy, to destroy whom we shall use, while life endures, every means within the reach of human effort. We proclaim unswervingly fidelity to the ancient gospel of force, and those revolutionary principles upon which the great Republic is based. We say to those most concerned, and with knowledge whereof we speak: "Beware, lest in thus trampling upon the people you tread on torpedoes. Let our enemies look to it; they are fairly warned."

THE NEW RELATIONS.

LONDON, May 20.— The atmosphere of the House during the past few days has been charged with rumors of a startling nature anent the new relations between the Parnellite members and the Government. According to the rumormongers, the compact of Kilmainham was to be no unsubstantial treaty so far as the Home Rule members are concerned. Some newspapers went so far as to insinuate that offices were to be given as solid peace offerings to the followers of Mr. Parnell. These rumours have excited special indignation among the Irish Whigs, who promptly resented the appropriation of the spoils by anyone but themselves. Considerable amusement was caused among the Parnellites by these rumours, which are regarded as inventions to embarass both the Government and the Irish party. The existance of any such corrupt arrangement is strenuously repudiated by the Home Rulers.

COMPLETED AT LAST.

BOSTON, May 21.—The Herald's London special says: The Parnell-Gladstone programme is now complete. The Land League members have been informed that the progress of the Repression bill is determining the action of the Government regarding the Arrears Act. If they obstruct the first the Government will delay the second. Mr. Gladstone's anxiety is great as to the fate of tha Repression of Crime bill, though this is explained by his vast loss of Ministerial popularity since the Dublin murders, and his hope of recovery by this method. The Liberals have been giving the leaguers to understand that certain amendments will be accepted, and others will be introduced as a matter of course, but they will be rejected. The work of the Irish members will have an appearance of the usual force, but this will be superficial. They expect a speedy dissolution after the adoption of the new Coercion Act, and hope if the Government splits to secure its repeal. It is understood that Mr. Parnell has gone to Paris to consult Messrs. Davitt and Egan.

LINDSAY.

THE PAPER MILL.—The Warder says that, Mr. McKay is as busy as a nailer superintending the vast improvements that are being made at the paper mill. Until now it was hardly possible to get a correct idea of the nature and extent of the work of renovating and preparing the old building for the machinery that will be placed in it. The Company appears to have given instructions to have everything done in the most thorough manner. Outside the building has not changed very much in appearance, but on going inside no one would recognize the old paper mill. The powerful engine has been overhauled by Mr. Makins and looks in as good trim as a new one. Four solid stone piers have been erected for the four beating engines, and two stone piers each eighty feet long have been built in the south wing on which the new paper machine will be placed. This machine is eighty feet in length and for its accommodation an extension of 35 feet to the south wing has had to be made. The paper machine will be of the best make and has already been ordered from the manufacturers. It will make all kinds of paper except writing, and it it is even possible by using different stock to manufacture three kinds at once; it will be run by a new 30 horse power engine. A canal is being constructed from the well inside the building to the river for the water supply. The machinery will not arrive in time to begin manufacturing before August. Besides the improvements mentioned the building will be painted both inside and out, roof included.

INCENDIARY FIRE.—As Mr. Joseph Cooper was going home on Tuesday night he discovered a light, as he thought, in the cellar of a vacant frame house on Colborne street adjoining the residence of Rev. Mr. Hastie. At first he supposed some persons were inside with a light, but knowing the house was unoccupied he determined to ascertain the cause of the light. Under the house he discovered some soft stuff like cotton saturated with coal oil and a heap of chips blazing up against the sill. He poked the burning mass from under the building and then went to Mr. Hastie's house and informed him of what had happened. They immediately procured water and extinguished the fire. It was fortunate that Mr. Cooper happened along when he did for had the frame building caught fire nothing would have saved the brick house in which Rev. Mr. Hastie lives.

DESTROYING SHADE TREES.—Last week Mr. Cooper and Mr. Bradburn planted a number of shade trees on the street opposite their properties, and they were just beginning to grow nicely when some mischievous persons pulled them out of the ground and threw them across the sidewalk. The authorities should take this matter in hand and offer a substantial reward for the conviction of the vandals.

A GOOD JOB.—The work of removing the cross sign boards on the north side of Kent street has commenced and not before it was time either. The improvement is at once apparent. The unsightly wooden verandahs must go next.

CAMPAIGN NOTES.

AT the Norwood meeting Mr. Blezard, M. P. P. for East Peterborough, is reported to have alluded to the "unswerving and slavish support given his leader by the present member for East Peterborough (Mr. Burnham) to the detriment of this Province and to the disgust of his constituents." There is an old saying that those who live in glass houses should not be the first to throw stones, and upon that principle we venture to suggest that the less Mr. Thomas Blezard, M. P. P. for East Peterborough, says derogatory to "unswerving and slavish" support the better for himself, inasmuch as it would be impossible to find a representative who gives a more "unswerving and slavish" support to a political leader than this same Mr. Blezard does to Mr. Mowat, while his "slavishness" has been so marked that he has been selected by Grip, as the representative par excellence of a voting machine.

THE Governor General in his prorogation speech estimated the remission of duties made during the session at a million and a quarter of dollars. The remission of the tea and coffee duties, which are included in the foregoing, gives an almost free breakfast table—a thing unknown under the Mackenzie-Cartwright regime.

THE Mail has the following remarks on the East Peterborough Reform convention:—

"East Peterborough held a convention, it appears, on Tuesday, and this the most representative and most united ever held there. It was a convention at which everything was in the superlative degree, including the speech of Mr. Roxburgh, the candidate, who spouted about the "most important and critical" era—whatever that may mean. We are told that he is a man of great ability and integrity; but we should not judge so from his speech. The fun of the the thing, however, lies in the resolution. The first opened with a sentence twenty-five lines long, in small type, and is so involved that not even a High School Inspector could analyze it. The "wicked attempts" of the Conservatives is good; but iniquities would have been more telling. These attempts it appears have been put forth "to make all thing subservient to the enemies of the Dominion." So far the only enemies of the Dominion have been Messrs. Charlton and Mowat. Can it be possible that the elegant composer got muddled at this "era," to use the candidate's phrase. The Grits, however, struck out an original path in East Peterborough; they have discovered that the N. P. is rank rebellion against heaven. One resolution expresses "abhorrence" of "that party who put the N. P. in the place of Him who sends the early and later rains," &c. Another tells us that the same party, by their profanity, "dare" to attribute to their trickery what can only be wrought by Divine power, "and thereby make all men," (Grits, of course), "dread the day of coming wrath." Is it any wonder that men of intelligence and common sense despise the Grit party? We wonder if these reckless partisans ever read the third commandment?"

ENORMOUS TAXATION.

THE Globe of the 19th inst. has an article under the heading of "our enormous taxation and its effects," which for a wilful misrepresentation of facts has scarcely ever been exceeded in its columns, and that is saying a great deal. While we will not insult the intelligence of our readers by troubling them with an exposure in detail of its misrepresentations, we connot resist the temptation of pointing out one or two of them, inasmuch as they are likely to hear a good deal, during the next three or four weeks, of this "enormous taxation" dished up second hand from the Globe.

In this article we are gravely asked:—

"How can a people prosper whose taxation has been more than doubled in the course of three years? We say more than doubled advisedly. There was collected in 1878 taxation to the amount of $22,375,011. In 1882 there will be collected $33,000,000. If to the difference between those sums be added the illegitimate profits reaped under the N. P. by the monopolists, the rate of taxation will, we say, be found to have doubled! But confining ourselves to the amount of taxation which is actually paid into the Treasury, let us examine and see of what extent is the burden now endured by the people. Thirty-three millions of dollars of revenue represents the abstraction of $8 from the pockets of every man, woman and child in the Dominion. * * * That is $40 from every Canadian family, and at least $50 from every Ontario family."

Passing over the "illegitimate" profits of the manufacturers and the difference between the contributions of the people of Ontario and the other Provinces, as ones fairly open to dispute and argument, we desire to point out that the foregoing is a wilfully dishonest statement of facts, because it includes under the head of taxation items of revenue which are in no sense a tax upon our people. For instance it includes as revenue derived from taxation such items as the following:—Receipts from Public Works including Railways $2,034,483 in 1878, and which through Sir Charles Tupper's business like management had increased to $2,682,924 in 1881, and the further increase in which, everybody knows, goes to make up the $33,000,000 at which the Globe professes to be so greatly alarmed; again, interest on investments shows an increase of over $140,000 in 1881 (the last year for which we can speak by the book) as compared with 1878; again, casual revenue shows an increase of $100,000 during the same time; Premium and Discount yielded $90,685 against nothing in 1878; Dominion Lands gave us $131,124 in 1881, as compared with $19,424 in 1878, and we all know that the receipts from this source are much larger this year than last, and that they too are included in the Globe's frightful taxation, and so on through a large majority of the thirty-seven items which are classed under the general heading of "other receipts," and which are included in the figures given by the Globe for 1878 and in its estimate for 1882. As these items all combined yielded $4,533,073 in 1878 and $5,693,158 in 1882 out of a total of $22,375,011 and $29,635,297 respectively, or about one-fifth of the whole, we may take one-fifth off the Globe's $8 per head or $40 per family to begin with.

We will no doubt be told that even if we confine ourselves to the revenue derived from customs, excise and stamps, that the increase has been enormous, namely from $17,841,938 in 1878 to $23,942,138 in 1881. But while this is no doubt true, yet we contend that the larger sum has been collected in a way that has not only fostered and developed the internal trade and prosperity of the country, but that it has been collected in such a way as to take it out of the pockets of those best able to bear it. Beginning with stamps: Our readers are well aware that this tax which yielded $200,442 in 1878 and $193,024 in 1881, has, during the recent session, been wiped out altogether—a thing which the Globe is careful to say as little as possible about. Then as to excise, which shows an increase of nearly half a million dollars in 1881, as compared with 1878, and for which a proportionate increase is no doubt allowed in the estimate for 1882, it was all derived from spirits, beer, and tobacco, except about $75,000 in 1881. Does the Globe desire a reduction in the taxes on whiskey, beer, and tobacco, or does it seriously think that those who use these articles, but who are not compelled to do so, have a right to complain of the taxes imposed on them? And yet the excise duties and the stamp duties (which have been abolished,) formed nearly one-fifth of the dreadful taxation collected in 1881, and so far as a majority of our people are concerned another fifth may be deducted from the Globe's $8 per head and $40 per family.

We now come to the chief and last item, the receipts from customs. The revenue from this source has, we are glad to say, largely increased since the bad times of 1878, because this increase is the best possible proof that our people are now able to buy many things which they were previously compelled to do without. For instance the duty collected on silks and satins in 1878 was but $248,358 as compared with $833,069 in 1881, and at the same rate of increase, as compared with over a million of dollars in 1882, the duties on wines increased between 1878 and 1881, $114,056; on spirits $106,067, and on tea, notwithstanding that the average duty per pound was a quarter of a cent less in 1881 than in 1878, there was an increase of revenue of $270,570, the quantity entered for consumption having increased from 11,019,231 lbs., in 1878 to 16,637,325 lbs., in 1881, or an increase of a little over fifty per cent. This last fact goes to prove one of two things, viz.: either that our population increased very rapidly between 1878 and 1881, or the consumption of tea did. It is also to be noted that the importations of tea in 1881 were equal to 4 lbs., for every man, woman and child, and that, following up the Globe's line of argument, the entire repeal of the duty on tea during the recent session, another thing about which the Globe is careful to say nothing, means a reduction of 22 cents per head, or of a dollar and ten cents per family in the present rate of taxation, as compared with that of 1878, and that too upon an article which enters into more general consumption among the great mass of the people than any other article that is consumed in Canada. The amount of revenue collected from tea in 1881, was $881,883, so that in admitting tea free of duty, and in repealing the stamp act over one million of dollars of direct and positive taxation has been removed from the shoulders of the people, and therefore will go to reduce the burdens of which the Globe would like to make so much, but, which are in reality much more easily borne than those which had to be carried when Mr. Mackenzie was making this a cheap country to live in.

DISPUTE, AXE, INQUEST.

A Farmer Killed by His Landlord in the Township of Tiny.

PENETANGUISHENE, May 19.—On Wednesday the 10th instant, Henry Yorke and Daniel Dewal, both of the township of Tiny, quarreled in reference to the former's alleged right to cut down timber on a disputed piece of ground. The parties are landlord and tenant and Dewal ordered Yorke, his landlord to leave the premises The latter refused to do so. After more or less words Yorke struck the other man in the forehead with an axe and inflicted a wound which resulted fatally on the following Tuesday. An inquest was held at which these facts were brought out, and in the verdict Yorke is charged with manslaughter. A warrant has been issued for his arrest. The accused man seems to have friends and sympathisers among his neighbors. His poor wife is worrying herself to death over the affair, and doubtless in a few days her gray hair will be brought down to the grave, on account of the evil charge brought home to her husband. On visiting the house of the deceased his widow and six little ones were found bemoaning the loss of him who had been their only provider.

OUR PINE FORESTS.

The first paper read at the recent Forestry Congress at Cincinnati was that of Mr. James Little, of Montreal, on "The Pine Woods of Canada." The writer expressed regret that his advanced age prevented his attending the Congress. His paper related to the White Pine forests of Canada and the serious commercial loss that would arise from a total loss of the woodlands. Laboring for years almost single-handed to bring his own people to a proper knowledge of the subject, he expressed gratification that the papers of this country had so generally taken up the question of forestry. He claimed that the black walnut, once so abundant, and oak and ash, for long a great source of revenue to the country, were nearly all gone, white pine, spruce, birch and tamarac were following so fast that soon none would be left of commercial value. He corrected the error of considering the timberland of Canada as practically exhaustless. He thought ten thousand millions of feet, board measure, would comprise the merchantable pine of Canada, Ontario, New Brunswick and Nova Scotia, which might be exhausted in less than ten years. The stock in Newfoundland and the area adjoining Hudson's Bay was still satisfactory in amount. He quoted the remark of Mr. Charles Gibbs that "our native white pine may yet be peddled in some parts of our country as a rare exotic, so scarce has is become. Britain, which was supposed to need timber only for repairs, being built up, paid seventy-five to one hundred million dollars yearly for her timber, paying the cheapest rates. Mr. Little thought that if the waste of forests was not checked it would yet cost more than all our exports of grain and cotton, and require more than the combined sailing tonnage of the whole world to procure timber for the use of the United States from other countries. The effect of the dearth of timber now threatened upon the industries of the United States and of Canada was one which may well cause apprehension.

COUNCIL MEETING.—The Council met pursuant to a call of the Reeve at 10 o'clock a. m. Present, the Reeve, Wm. Rutherford, and Councillors, John Lightfoot, A. Dawson John Riddell, and James Perrin. The Reeve presiding. The minutes of the last meeting were read by the clerk, and on motion of Mr. Riddell seconded by Mr. Lightfoot, were confirmed. A petition was received from Wm. Green signed by 39 ratepayers opposing the opening up of the north part of the quarter line between lots 4 and 5, con. 4. Moved by Mr. Lightfoot, seconded by Mr. Dawson, that the foregoing petition be received and laid on the table.--Carried A circular was read from G. Wilkinson & Co., Aurora, with a price list for road scrapers. The Committee to whom was referred the locating of the line at the south end of E½ lot 17, Con. 2, reported that they had established the said line based on the information derived from owners of adjoining lots. The Committee appointed to examine the cedar supplied by Thos. Dodds reported favourable and recommended payment of the same. The Reeve reported verbally that he had met a member of Cavan council and that they examined the ditch on the west boundary, opposite lot 1 Con. 6, and that they decided not to expend any money at present towards deepening the said ditch. The Committee appointed at the last meeting to examine the north half of the quarter line between lots 4 and 5, concession 4, reported that they had examined the same and recommended immediate sale of all the timber on the said road allowance, together with the timber now in a crossway on the 5th concession, opposite lot 4, and that the proceeds of such sale be applied towards repairing the east end of Beat No. 20, on condition that D. Baxter, John Donaldson and J. G. Donaldson each perform ten days work on the said beat over and above the number of days now charged against them for the present year. Moved by Mr. Riddell, seconded by Mr. Dawson,—That the foregoing Committee reports be received and adopted.—Carried. Moved by Mr. Lightfoot, seconded by Mr. Dawson, —That this Council do now adjourn for one hour and a half, to examine the swamp road east of Centreville.—Carried. The Council did then adjourn, and resumed at 1.30 p. m., the Reeve presiding. Moved by Mr. Dawson, seconded by Mr. Riddell, and resolved,—That in future all committees appointed by this Council to report on any matter referred to them, shall make such report in writing, and the same may contain there opinion thereon, and that no report shall be received unless signed by a majority of the Committee. Accounts were presented from Josiah Robertson, for goods advanced to E. Gilarno, an indigent, during 1881 by order of the Council, $6.22; from Wm. Rutherford for provisions for S. Boner. $7.58, and Thos. Dodds for cedar, $45.56, and were ordered to be paid. Moved by Mr. Dawson, seconded by Mr. Perrin, that the sum of $250 be appropriated for the purpose of gravelling and repairing roads in the municipality as follows: On the first Con., opposite lot No. 5, $50.00; on second Con. opposite lot No. 6, $50.00; on third Con. in cutting down Clarke's hill and removing the clay to swamp opposite lot No. 2 $75.00, and in gravelling the peice of road opposite lot No. 4, $25.00 and on fourth Con. opposite lot No. 6, $50.00. —Carried. Moved by Mr. Lighfoot, seconded by Mr. Riddell, that the sum of $25.00 be expended in gravelling the road between Squirrel bridge and Wallace point. Carried. Moved by Mr. Riddell seconded by Mr. Perrin, that a Committee composed of the Reeve and Councillor Lightfoot, be appointed to advertise and sell the timber on the road allowance between lots No. 4 and 5, Con. 4, and opposite lot No. 4, Con. 5.—carried. Moved by Mr. Lightfoot, seconded by Mr. Perrin,—That the following Committees be appointed to superintend and let the contracts for gravelling, viz., for Con. 1 and 2 Councillors Perrin and Dawson; for Con., 3 the Reeve and Councillor Riddell; and for Con. 4 the Reeve and the mover of this resolution.—Carried. Moved by Mr. Lightfoot, seconded by Mr. Riddell.—That this Council do now adjourn to meet as Court of Revision, on Tuesday 30th of May, 1882, at 10 a. m., in the Town Hall Centerville. —Carried.

FARM AND GARDEN.

To grow raspberries successfully, select good soil, well underdrained.

A soil run down by long cropping can be brought back to fertility by green manurings.

If only one crop of grass is to be obtained, probably the best time for cutting is usually when the plants are beginning to blossom.

House plants should have there "washday" as regularly as our linen, as cleanliness is as important to the well-being of plants as it is to our own health. An occasional sprinkling will not benefit them.

Those who use lime as a fertilizer apply from ten to fifty bushels to the acre; ashes may be applied at the same rate, salt at the rate of two hundred to four hundred pounds, and plaster at the rate of one hundred pounds.

Superphosphates are naturally more speedy in their effect than manures consisting of undissolved phosphate. A small quantity of phosphoric acid applied as superhosphate will have as great an effect as a considerable quantity applied as bones or ground phosphate.

The new breed of fowls—American Sebrights are destined to take high rank as layers, setters, and for the table. They are rose-combed, beautifully marked, and are short-legged and compact in shape. They must not be confounded with the Sebright bantams, however, as the former are large in size.

A poultry house may be very quickly and effectually cleaned out by first using an old broom and removing cobwebs, dust, etc., and cleaning the floor with a shovel. Then take half a bushel of lime and slack it in a barrel. If one of the syringe or fountain pumps used for washing windows can be procured the lime wash may be syringed all over the inside, forcing the lime into every crevice and cranny.

MARSHALL P. WILDER says the importance of properly thinning out fruit trees when bearing redundant crops is more and more apparent. To produce fruit that commands a good price in market it has become an absolute necessity. This is seen especially in that intended for exportation, apples of good fair size and properly packed commanding in the English market fully double the price of those which had not received such care.

MURIATE of potash is so strong that unless it is very evenly distributed there is a danger of injuring the crops. Whether it is to be used as a top dressing of meadows or on ploughed land it is always safer and more advantageous to mix it thoroughly with four or five times its weight of dry muck or soil previous to application. All potash salts should be applied as early in the season as possible, that the spring rains may diffuse them through the soil. Three to four hundred pounds should be used per acre.

PETER HENDERSON SAYS:—"If garden seeds when planted in spring, are firmly pressed when under the earth by the ball of the foot at the time the gardeners are putting them into the ground, they will invariably grow, drought or no drought; and what is still more important, they will spring up earlier and grow faster and mature better than any of their kind which have not been subjected to this discipline. The same rule of pressure holds good in transplanting trees, shrubs, and plants."

IN the recent French municipal election at Marseilles only 12,000 electors out of 65,000 voted; at Toulon, 600 out of 15,000; at Arles, 300 out of 7000. Equal indifference was shown in other places.

REPUBLICAN France maintains as many embassies (as distuinguished from ministries) as imperial and royal France did, and pays as good salaries. St. Petersburg, $50,000 (which is more than England pays); London, $40,000 and a fine house.

"I FOUND it all that could be asked," said Mr. W. F. Hetherington, editor of the Emporia (Kan.) Sentinel, in speaking of St. Jacobs Oil for rheumatism. The remedy caused the pain to entirely disappear.

ENGLISH names and titles really do seem an impossibility to the French. The English correspondent of the Figaso writes, on May 3, of "Sir Leighton," alluding to Sir F. Leighton, president of the academy, and says that Lord "Cooper" is succeeded by the "Marquis" Spencer.

MEDICINES taken into the Stomach in concentrated form such as Pills and Powders, are most injurious. The great substitute for these nauseous litttle Calomel pills is Dr. Carson,s Stomach and Constipation Bitters. They cleanse the bowels stimulate the Liver and Kidneys, and cure all stomach disorders, such as Dyspepsia and Indigestion. In large bottles at 50 cents. J. D. Tully, Agent.

MR. DIJOUD, who had previously been convicted eighteen times, and spent thirty-five years in prison, lately set fire to Valence cathedral, but, the fire being quickly discovered, only $7,000 of damage was done. He said he was tired of prisons in France, and wished to end his days in New Caledonia—twenty years' penal servitude.

THE London Spectator sees in the solitary life of Darwin in travel and at Down, and the seclusion of Carlyle at Craigenputtoch, the germinating periods of their lives, and says that Englishmen too often forget that what is for the average mad the dull and even stupefying life of seclusion is the very condition under which great genius is nursed into intensity.

IN THE SPRING of the year almost every one requires a good Blood Purifier, more especially in the month of May. We would earnestly advise our readers to try Dr. Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters. A few doses will soon convince you that it is the best remedy known for affections of the stomach, Bowels, Liver and Kidneys. In large bottles at 50 cents. J. D. Tully, Agent.

M. VERESTCHAGIN, the distinguished printer of battle pictures, has recently had two singular compliments paid him by continental governments. So vividly had he depicted the horrors of the battle field that in Russia the public exhibition of his paintings was altogether interdicted, while at Berlin the military authorities forbade soldiers to pay them a visit.

ALPHONSE DAUDET, in the history of his books, which he is now publishing in a French review, all but admits that one of his earliest and most celebrated books was based upon the leading idea of "David Copperfield," namely, the life of a homeless little boy gradually working his way through poverty and wretchedness to the position of an author and journalists.

CHICAGO'S great May musical festival, to be given in the Exposition building, under the directorship of Theodore Thomas, will open on the 16th instant, and extend through four afternoons and evenings. The greatest singers and players now in this country will take part. The chorus will consist of nearly a thousand voices, and there will be 172 instruments in the orchestra. It will be the greatest musical event ever witnessed in that city.

A WORD OF CAUTION.—As is usually the case where an article of true merit has attained a world-wide reputation by its wonderful results, as the celebrated Electric Bitters have done, certain unprincipled parties have endeavored to imitate them, and expect to induce an unsuspecting public to purchase their fraudulent wares. Ask your druggist for the genuine Electric Bitters, that are guaranteed to cure, and take no others. Sold by Taylor & McDonold at 50c.

DR. THOMAS MCKEOGH, medical officer of health for Boffin Island, County Galway, states that unless aid is speedily forthcoming nothing short of famine will overtake the poor islanders. The scanty crop of potatoes last harvest was wholly blighted from the inclemency of the season, and they have been unable to catch any fish. It is heartrending, he says, to see the poor creatures gathering seaweed and shellfish all day to keep themselves and their families from starving.

THE watermelon contains about 95 per cent. of purest water and a trace of the purest sugar, and nothing has yet been discovered that furnishes so perfect and speedy a "cure" for summer complaint as watermelon, and nothing else. Even when diarrhœa has been kept up by continued eating of ordinary food until the disease has become chronic, this delicious beverage—for it is little more—watermelon, taken freely two or three times a day, has again and again been known to work wonders and to cure when all the usual remedies had failed.—Food and health.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—AN EXTERNAL MEANS of CURING SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic; whilst old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalculæ which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produce a clear, healthy natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION, a FLUID peculiar in itself, is the most potent enemy to all Skin Disorders. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the least degree comparable for its Healthy Action on the Human Skin.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. Startin, and every year it is used adds more and more favourably to its widly increasing reputation. Anyone, however deeply and hopelessly afflicted with Skin Disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent in a diminished appearance of the malady, a growing tendency to fade away, and complete obliteration of the eruption.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—BOTTLES CONTAINING NEARLY HALF A PINT.—SOLD BY CHEMISTS EVERYWHERE. Made in London, Eng.

Daily Evening Review

MONDAY, MAY 22, 1882.

Card of Thanks.

We wish to return our sincere thanks to the many friends who so kindly assisted in the search made for our father. John H. Hewitt. MRS. E. GREEN and MRS. T. L. STARK, Chicago, Ill.

Known Abroad.

The New York American Canoeist for May has the following paragraph :—

"Stephenson, of Peterborough Canada, is, busy filling an order for fifty of his beautiful cedar rib canoes to be exported to England, where they are attaining great popularity. This does not look like the extinction of the Canadian model."

The N. P.

The Napanee Standard says that the other day Mr. John Herring received an order for a vessel load of glass to be sent to Manitoba. He is so pressed with orders that it will be some time before he can fill this one, if at all. This is more of the stagnation caused by the oft-quoted National Policy.

Regretted.

The Belleville Intelligencer has the following paragraph :—

"It is to be regretted that Mr. Geo. Hilliard, M. P. for West Peterborough, finds it necessary, for business reasons, to decline nomination, which was tendered him by a unanimous vote of the party convention. Mr. Hilliard was an able representative, but no doubt a fitting successor will be found.

Entertainment.

The closing entertainment for the season to be held under the auspices of the Parochial Association of St. Luke's Church, will take place this (Monday) evening at 8 o'clock, in the school room, Ashburnham. An excellent programme has been provided and a pleasant evening is anticipated, these entertainments being very popular and well attended. Admission ten cents.

Housebreaking.

Early on Sunday morning "a house" occupied by one Mrs. Udell, late of Oshawa, situated on Elm street in the western section of the town, was forcibly entered by three men, who did considerable injury to the building and the furniture. One of those who participated was rather severely handled by one of the inmates, and was hammered about the head with some kind of a club. It is probable that further particulars will be obtained shortly. At present the affair is being kept quiet.

The Weather.

The weather yesterday was very hot during the day and cool in the evening. At present it looks very much like rain. The weather probabilities for this district for the following twenty-four hours, as reported from Toronto at 10 a.m. today by the GreatNorthwestern Telegraph Company, are as follows :—Lakes—and upper St. Lawrence. Light to moderate winds, mostly between the south and west, fair weather with showers in some localities. Not much change in temperature.

Our National Game.

The members of the Lacrosse Club are practising nightly for the great struggle which is expected to take place on Wednesday morning. As will be seen by the following names, three of the old standbys—P. Rudkins, Sheehy and Coughlin—are not in, but as they are not in the Province, it is not probable they will play here at all this season. The new men are good, and taken altogether we think that the team will play a better game than they did last year. The excitement has already commenced to work up and by Wednesday it will be at fever heat. We expect to see an enormous attendance and the best game ever played between Toronto and Montreal. The Club will wear their new and handsome uniforms for the first time on this occasion. The following will compose the team :—

W. Rudkins	Point.
J. Joyal	E. "
M. Halpin	D, Field
M. McDonald	"
A. Yelland	"
J. Simpson	Field.
M. Tierney	"
R. H. Fortye	"
E. Rutherford	3rd Home
E. J. Hartley	2nd "
Geo. Giroux	1st "
W. A. Sanderson	Captain

The goal keeper has not yet been selected, but there are plenty of men able to fill the place.

Legal.

The case of Cameron vs. Bickford was not finished on Saturday and is still in progress.

Court of Revision.

The Court of Revision for 1882 meets at the Council Chamber on Thursday evening next at 7.30 o'clock.

Derby Sweepstakes.

The drawing for the Derby sweepstakes will take place to-morrow, Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock, at Chamberlain Hotel and Restaurant.

At Belleville.

Oscar Wilde lectures at Belleville on Tuesday night. We understane that a number of persons from here propose to be present.

Town Council Meeting.

The regular monthly meeting of the Town Council takes place this evening at the Council Chamber at 7.30 o'clock. There is no important business, and very little of any.

No. 1 Company.

The committee will meet this evening at 7, to arrange programme for the proposed entertainment, when squads will be selected for the tableaux, bayonet exercise, &c. General meeting of the Company at 7.30.

Odoriferous.

On the market square are two or three dead felines, some rotten beef, a couple of animal's heads and a regular collection of other noisome articles, which "smell to heaven." They should be removed.

A Narrow Escape.

When chronicling the mad bull affair we neglected to mention that one of the drivers, a farmer named Short, had a very narrow escape from a horrible death. The furious animal had him down on the ground between two boulders and was endeavouring to gore him to death, when the other man approached and with a small whip beat off the bull, running the risk of being killed himself in doing so.

Filthy.

Our attention has been drawn by one of the health officers to the filthy condition of the premises in rear of some of the old houses opposite the south side of the Market Square. Several cases, one or two fatal, of diphtheria have occurred in one of the houses, anh there is not the slightest doubt that the filth now observable was the cause of them. The authorities should prosecute both the landlord and tenant if they are not cleaned up immediately. The officers are now on the warpath and intend to make a regular stir around the town. There is plenty of room for them to work.

Incorrect.

Some days ago we drew attention to the fact that our Belleville contemporaries incorrectly stated that our band would visit the Bay City on the Queen's Birthday, but notwithstanding that fact we notice that the Intelligencer of Saturday, referring to the Oddfellows' picnic at Massassaga Point, says "The celebrated Fire Brigade Band from Peterborough will be present and will play several choice selections at the Point." The fact is that the Band is engaged to play at the drill shed here in the afternoon and evening at the athletic sports and the promenade concert, so that our citizens will have a chance of hearing some of their excellent music.

Educational.

The following, which we take from the Toronto World, may be of interest to some of our educationalists :—

"The following is a portion of the new scale of fees to be adopted by the senate of the University of Toronto. They have been advanced one hundred per cent. At present the examination fees sum up about $3,000 and the cost of the examinations—examiners, stationery, printing, etc.—is over $5,000 :—

Each examination	$ 5 00
Except supplemental, which is	10 00
Each local examination	1 00
Ad eundem	6 00
Registration of exemptions	5 00
Change of faculty	5 00

Special LL. B	30 00
LL. D	50 00
M. B	20 00
M. D	20 00

Railway Notes.

The Madoc Review says that the west pier of the T. & O. bridge over Deer Creek in Madoc is about completed. The bridge will be a substantial structure when completed. 1000 men will be wanted for the construction of the T. & O. R. between Bridgewater and Perth. Work will be commenced shortly. We are informed the Ontario & Quebec surveyors have gone back to the vicinity of Sharbot Lake for the purpose of trying a new line by way of Madoc to Peterborough. From Marmora to Peterborough their line is within a few yards of the Toronto & Ottawa line.

Ore is coming into Belleville on the Grand Junction division of the Midland at the rate of nine cars per day.

The Steam Excavator is now at work at Fowler's cut and is doing some big work. The other machine has started from Omemee and men have to stay up the bridges along its route, as they were never intended to carry such an enormous weight. Mr. Steerman has charge of the work of taking it to the pit.

More immigrants are arriving almost every day and procure work immediately, as sufficient men cannot be obtained to complete the "Missing Link." A large number are also wanted for the section from Bridgemater to Perth, operations on which are to commence at an early date.

An immense quantity of lumber is being shipped at present and many special trains are required to carry it.

The C. P. & M. R. R. & M. Coy's bridge, which killed young Gibson the other day has not been touched. On Sunday the scene was visited by a large number of people, many of whom expressed the opinion that a match would be a good thing to remove it with.

Arrested.

A young man named Purcell was arrested and lodged in the cells this afternoon by P. C. McGhee on a charge of malicious injury to property.

Ontario and Quebec Railway.

The Mail says that the money necessary to build the Ontario and Quebec railway has been paid down, and the road is now under contract, to be finished by January, 1884. The line will run north of Toronto and connect with the Credit Valley, of which it will in fact be a continuation. A station will be built at Yorkville near the tollgate, and it is expected that it will be completed in about six weeks. The branch between Kingston and Perth will probabe finished in a few months.

The 24th of May.

Remember the Athletic Sports on the Queen's Birthday, at 2 o'clock p. m., to be held under the auspices of the Boating Club and Cricket Club. As will be seen by the posters the programme contains 14 events, all of which will be interesting, and as members of both lacrosse teams (Peterborough and Toronto), are expected to compete, spectators will have an opportunity of witnessing well contested races. The mile race for medal will be particularly interesting, Mr. Bird, the present holder, having only once more to win in order to become absolute owner, will make a struggle to retain his present advantage. A novel feature in the shape of an egg race for which a silver watch will be given, will no doubt prove attractive; each competitor must pick up ten eggs placed in a line ten yards apart, and carry them unbroken one by one to the starting point.

Black Birch.

Black birch is one of the woods which is crowding into the shoes of walnut, which are sure to be vacated before many more years of consumption. It is coming rapidly into favor, and is an excellent substitute for walnut. It is clear grained and handsome, and can be readily given an exact walnut stain. It is easily worked and suitable to nearly all the purposes to which black walnut is at present applied. Birch is about the same color as cherry, but it is immensely cheaper and far more plentiful. Besides the fact of its staining so as to resemble walnut, it is susceptible of a beautiful polish equal to any wood now used in the manufacture of furniture. In the forests throughout Ontario birch grows in abundance, especially if the soil is not too boggy. There is a great difference in the wood of different sections. Where the land is high the wood is firm and clear, but if the land is low and wet the wood has a tendency to be soft and of a bluish color. In all the northern regions it can be found in great abundance, and as the trees grow to such great size, little trouble is experienced in procuring large quantities.—Northwestern Lumberman.

A NEIGHBOUR Gave me a dose of Dr. Smith's German Worm Remedy and it removed a large number of worms from my children, after all so-called worms medicines failed.—Thomas McElligott, 51 Anderson street, Montreal. 25 cents of J. McKee Peterborough.

TO PREVENT FEVERS, Bilious Colds and Ague; to tone up the system and purify the blood, try a course of Dr. Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters. In large bottles at 50 cents. J. D. Tully, Agent

WHY suffer from Indigestion and Dyspepsia when Burdock Blood Bitters will positively cure these ailments? A trial bottle only costs 10 cents.

A COMMON, and often fatal, disease is Jaundice. Regulate the action of the Liver, and cleanse the blood with Burdock Blood bitters, and the worst case may be speedily cured.

THE CONTENTED MAN, Who is He?

The discussion of this question by an able lecturer was listened to a few evenings ago with interest by large audience.

We venture to think that one of this class may be represented by the head of a family, who has been instructed to purchase a supply of that essential commodity for the table—TEA.

He has an indefinite idea that the article ought to be cheaper on account of the removal of the duty, but when he finds that he can save 10 cents per lb., instead of 5 he is jubilant.

THE CONTENTED MAN is he who gets the full benefit of the reduction of the duty on his tea for this year by making a saving of, say $3.00 on a purchase of 30 lbs.

Prove it by inspecting my stock of JAPANS AND YOUNG HYSONS.

A leading line of sweet and good drawing JAPAN offering at 35 cents, formerly sold at 45 cents.

THE NORTH WEST.

To the Editor of the Review.

DEAR SIR,—Knowing what great interest the inhabitants of Peterborough take in the progress and welfare of the North West, I beg, with your permission, to narrate a few facts relating to the "Eden" of this country, viz., Prince Albert.

Prince Albert, is, I feel convinced, the most lucrative and generally advantageous district for the emigrant and settler; it is not only the largest and most populous place in the Territories, but possesses equally as good and product. ive soil as any settlement east of the Bow River Country, and even the commendation of that country is placed upon anything but certain—as far as I can understand—reliance.

The market of Prince Albert is both certain and immediate; the chief difficulty is, to furnish sufficient wheat, to supply the constant demands of the buyers.

Speculators have already reached here, and land is going—in the immediate neighborhood of the place—at a very high figure; farms which a few years before, could have been obtained for the mere trouble of home-stead duties, are now worth their thousands.

The Carrot River Country, 30 miles from here seems now to be the favorite spot; land can yet be obtained there and I believe in abundance.

I know the soil of that district to be excellent and fully equal to that of Prince Albert.

Several persons from Peterborough have already settled there, among them Mr. A. J. Rogers, of Ashburnham, and Mr. Meyers, of Toronto, also has decided upon that "oasis."

One of the greatest advantages which Prince Albert possesses is that of its education, decidedly a very important one. Emmanuel College stands first and foremost of the educational deparments of the West.

It is truly surprising the great work this college does in the several divisions it succeeds in maintaining; the higher education for boys, of which there are at present between thirty and forty, then follows the course of theological students for the Church of England, and lastly the great and good work it annually does for the advancement of the poor benighted heathen of the Territories.

Yours, &c.,
RONALD HILTON,
Emmanuel College, Prince Albert, N. W. T.

MIDNIGHT TELEGRAMS

CABLE.

MR. PARNELL'S RESIGNATION.

DUBLIN, May 22.—The Freeman's Journal denies that Mr. Parnell is about to resign his seat in the Commons.

ALLEGED AMERICAN CITIZEN.

LONDON, May 22.—In the House of Commons this afternoon Mr. Trevelyan said, "O'Mahony the suspect is not an American citizen, and has not been prevented writing to Mr. Rowell. The Government has not offered O'Mahony or any American citizen money to quit the country."

PARNELITE OPPOSITION.

LONDON, May 22.—At a meeting of the Irish parliamentary party to-day, Mr. Parnell presiding, the secretary was directed to telegraph to all absentees to attend the session of the House of Commons to oppose the Repression bill. Messrs. Parnell, Sexton, Healy, Leahy, and Dillon were appointed to draft amendments to the bill. This signifies a strenuous resistance.

THE IRISH JUDGES.

LONDON, May 22.—In the House of Commons to-day Mr. Gladstone stated that he had seen the resolution of the Irish judges against the supercession of trial by jury, but the Government had carefully considered the matter before the resolution was framed, and the Repression bill contains their deliberated conclusions.

BY FIRE.

LONDON, May 22.—A Calcutta despatch says a number of small dwellings, covering three acres, and occupied by natives, were burned on Friday.

"THE COMPACT."

LONDON, May 22.—In the House of Lords the Marquis of Waterford gave notice of and postponed his question relative to the Kilmainham compact. Earl Granville protested against such a notice, as the Speaker of the House of Commons ruled a similar one out of order. An adjournment of the House to June 1st was agreed to.

THE JEWISH REFUGEES.

LONDON, May 22.—A correspondent at Brody says the condition of the Jews there is more terrible than previous telegrams led the public to suppose. The complaint is made against the Liverpool Relief Committee that they only transport strong young men to America, while men and women with large families are left at Brody. Starvation is increasing, and sickness is widespread. The emigration from Russia is still progressing, the Jews selling the whole of their property at any cost and hurrying to the frontier. The mayor of Lemberg has directed the relief committee ahere to disburse the funds hitherto held back. The Jewish committee at Berlin has resolved that they will only help those whom the action of the Russian authorities or the destruction of their property obliges to emigrate. They are no longer able to assist voluntary emigrants.

TRIAL BY JURY.

MADRID, May 22.—The amendment proposing the re-establisnment of trial by jury was only defeated after an energetic speech by Senor Sagasta, wherein he challenged the expediency of hasty reforms and electing for slow execution of the former promises made in his programme. He deplored the secession of the large body of Liberals who voted against the Cabinet. In the minority voted twenty-eight veteran Liberals, the adherents of Lopez, Dominiquex, Serrano, Martos, Meret, and Castelar, and twenty-seven Democrats. Sixty-two Liberals and seven Democrats, though present, declined to vote with the Government. Many Conservatives abstained, and the Creole Liberals voted against the Cabinet. The Liberal, Democratic, and Republican papers consider the warning serious for Senor Sagasta, implying a rupture with the Democracy and the formation of a new party under Serrano and Meret. A fresh conflict on the tariff is expected.

RESIGNATION OF A MINISTER.

PARIS, May 22.—The French Chamber of Deputies to-day resolved, despite the Minister of Finance, M. Say, to consider a proposal substituting a duty on alcohols for the duty on wines and beers. At the close of the sitting M. Say resigned.

THE ARREARS BILL.

LONDON, May 22.—Mr. Gladstone moved the second reading of the Arrears bill in the House of Commons to-day. A debate ensued. Mr. Gladstone said it is impossible to compel people to borrow, therefore the money supplied by the Government most be a gift. There are five hundred and eighty-five thousand tenants in Ireland paying under thirty pounds rent. (Griffith's valuation.) Of these two hundred thousand are excluded from the benefit of the Land Act by being in arrears. This must be remedied. He admitted that the proposal was extraordinary, but so was the state of Ireland. Mr. Sclater-Booth, Conservative, moved an amendment declaring that in is expedient to charge the consolidated fund with any payment for arrears except in the form of a loan. Ae described the Government's plan as communistic and demoralizing. It was an evil precedent and most objectionable. The Scotch and English farmer suffered as much as the Irish farmer. Mr. Forster testified to the general leniency of the landlords in Ireland, though there were individual cases of hardship. It would be of interest to the landlords to reduce the number of tenants. If the poor tenants got a fair start they would become fewer and better off, and wretchedness would no longer furnish an excuse for agitation. He believed many landlords would accept a small compensation from the tenants in order to get the Government's grant. He strongly favoured the grant taking the form of a gift. Mr. Mullholland (Conservative) strongly opposed either a loan or a gift. Mr. Shaw hoped the bill would pass its second reading to-night. Mr. Trevelyan said the bill would give tenants the great advantage of a fresh start with a feeling of independence which probably neither they nor their predecessors had ever before known. Baron de Worms moved the adjournment of the debate. Mr. Gladstone opposed the motion, and it was rejected by 290 to 190. A second motion to adjourn the debates was rejected, and third being made, Mr. Gladstone said, in view of the opposition it was hopeless to proceed. He would take the bill in the morning sitting on Tuesday instead of the Repression bill. The House then adjourned.

AMERICAN.

GUITEAU TO SWING.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—Chief Justice Carter announced that the opinion which has been uttered was the unanimous opinion of the court, that the new trial is denied, and the judgment below affirmed in this case. The court then adjourned. Guiteau received the news of the overruling of the motion for a new trial in his case with outward calmness. He said that Mr. Reed would fix him all right, and expects a reprieve for six months. Meanwhile he hopes for relief from the Supreme Court in some way. Mr. Reed refuses to explain the next step to be taken in the case. There has been no change as yet in the control of the prisoner.

AN IMPORTANT SUIT.

The Case of Cameron v. Bickford in the Chancery Division—Particulars.

The suit of Cameron v. Bickford, involving a large sum of money, commenced on Saturday in the Chancery Division of the High Court of Justice before Mr. Vice-Chancellor Proudfoot. The case arose out of agreement entered into between Mr. Hector Cameron and Mr. E. O. Bickford to engage in an adventure for the supply of railroad iron required in construction of the Grand Junction railway from the city of Belleville to the village of Hastings. In pursuance of that agreement they entered into a contract in writing with one Alphonso Brooks, the contractor for that railway. The profits were to be divided between the plaintiff and defendant in the proportion of 80 per cent. to the defendant, and 20 per cent. to the plaintiff. A sum of $5,500 is alleged to have been paid in full discharge of the claim, but the plaintiff alleges that the mony was paid for other purposes, and that no payment has ever been made as share of profits arising out of this transaction. The plaintiff prayed that an account may be taken of the gains and profits arising out of those adventures, and that the defendant may be ordered to pay the plaintiff his share of the profits. The agreement was entered into on June 9, 1874. The defendant says that, save as his counsel and solicitor, the plaintiff had nothing whatever to do in obtaining the contract with Brooks, and prayed that the case may be dismissed with costs. Charles Moss, Q. C., and Dalton McCarthy, Q. C., for plaintiff; S. H. Blake, Q. C., and D'Arcy Boulton, Q. C., for the defendant.

THE ISSUES OF THE CAMPAIGN.

Now that the campaign is fairly open it will not be out of place for us, as briefly as we can, to summarize what we believe to be the chief issues involved, and therefore those upon which the electors should, in our opinion, cast their votes pro and con as their judgment dictates. And first of all permit us to observe that among these issues we do not include the dead ones of the past, but the living ones of to-day; i e those questions upon which a decision must be given whether we will it or no, and by the giving of which our future, as a people, must be more or less affected.

Looking then straight before us, we think it will scarcely be disputed that the chief, if not the issue involved in the present campaign is the principle upon which our fiscal policy is to be founded. And that no matter what may be the personal opinions of particular candidates as to questions of detail, the one fact as to whether they are the pronounced opponents or supporters of the present administration must be taken as deciding, in so far as their election or rejection is concerned, whether our tariff is to be framed on the principles of protecting our own people and our own interests. The National Policy although imperfect, as all human things are, has, we contend, proved itself a valuable adjunct in bringing about the present prosperous state of affairs in Canada, and should be maintained in principle, however much experience and altered circumstances may call for change in detail from time to time, while our political opponents take equally strong ground that the present tariff is radically wrong in principle, however much a few of them may be willing to deprecate a sudden change in the interest of vested rights. The issue therefore, between the two parties, is as plain and distinct to-day as it was in 1878 with this advantage, that in its discussion we have now before us the experience of its effect during what we hope and believe will prove but three of its infantile years.

Although we have no difficulty in placing the N. P. before our readers as the chief and first issue of the campaign, we must confess we have some difficulty in deciding upon the order in which those other questions, to which more or less prominence will undoubtly be given, should be placed. Indeed from our own standpoint we should almost be disposed to place as second in importance to the Electors in this section of Ontario at least, the Trent Valley Canal, as its completion or non-completion is, in our opinion of much greater consequence to ourselves, and of as much consequence to the Dominion as the Boundary question, or the disallowance of the Rivers and Streams Bill. While the substantial appropriation made during the recent session for the construction of this important line of navigation is all that any reasonable man could expect at the present time, and assures the completion of that part of the route between Lakefield and Balsam Lake, and will prove a valuable aid in securing the early completion of the entire work, yet we would be extremely foolish to assume that "our" part of the work is done. While we are thoroughly convinced that the present administration are thoroughly in earnest in this matter, it must not be forgotten that this government, like all Canadian governments, must be largely guided by the feelings and wishes of its supporters. That the money will be expended and navigation between Lakefield and Balsam Lake completed, if the present government are sustained, as we believe they will be, we have not the slightest doubt, but what of the other links in the chain? Should the District through which it runs, send opponents to the government as their representatives, what voice would be raised in those conferences with ministerial supporters, in which every popular government indulges, and by the result of which ministerial action is largely influenced, in favour of the early completion of this project?

It may be said the present government having put their hands to the plough are bound to go ahead with the work until it is fully completed. No doubt this would seem to be a legitimate conclusion, but the past history of this project, as well as that of many other similar projects, proves that such a conclusion is not only a broken reed to lean upon but that now, if ever, is the time for those more immediately interested to give no uncertain sound upon this subject.

But it may be said: Where will you be if the government are defeated and the present opposition come into power, and you elect representatives belonging to the defeated party? Well, fortunately or unfortunately as the reader chooses to look at it, even in that improbable event we would be no worse off than we would otherwise be, because the leaders of the party which will then come into power have declared in the most emphatic manner, by both word and deed, that they are opposed to the construction of this water way and that they look upon it as a waste—nay worse than waste of the public money, and unless they be dishonest beyond belief it would be their bounden duty, entertaining the opinions which they do, the moment they come into power not only not to proceed with the work to completion but to stop that now under way. The record is too plain and too distinct for this position to be successfully controverted, and such being the case it is useless for a single elector to deceive himself by supposing that he can vote against the candidates supporting the present government and for the T. V. C. He may think that he would be better without the canal if he only got rid of the N.P. at the same time, and so thinking would be justified in voting for the opposition candidate, but the result, if successful, will be the death for a time, perhaps for ever, of the T. V. C. No doubt Mr. Roxburgh for instance will say, and say it honestly too, that he is just as much in favour of this project as Mr. Burnham. But words and wishes wont build it. If Mr. Roxburgh should have the the power, he stands pledged to turn out a Government whose members have proved that they are personally in favour of and sympathize with this project, and to put in their places men who have denounced it in the strongest possible terms. It has taken a good deal of work in one way or another to place the project in its present advantageous position and we for one cannot believe that the people of this district, when they have got the ball so near the top of the hill, are going to withdraw, and allow it to rebound further from the goal than it ever was before.

Of the Boundary and Disallowance questions much need not be said in the present article. We have no hesitation in repeating the opinion we have already expressed namely. That the Boundary question is a purely legal one, which in the interest of all concerned should be settled by the highest legal tribunal of the land—the Privy Council—and that it would have been so settled long ago had it not been for Mr. Mowat. We as citizens of Ontario want all we are legally entitled to—nothing more. If, as Mr. Mowat has claimed, our rights extend much further west than the Lake of the Woods we want our rights, but if on the other hand our rights do not extend beyond Prince Arthur's Landing, then we do not want one single acre beyond it. We want justice, neither more nor less, and Sir John Macdonald's policy having been from first to last, the only one that is statesmanlike and just to all parties, we have no hesitation in expressing the opinion that the verdict should be in favour of Sir John and against Mr. Mowat.

Then with regard to the Rivers and Streams Bill, it seems to us the issue lies almost in a nutshell. First, has the Dominion Government the "right of disallowance?" That it has is not seriously disputed, because if it were the question should be raised in the courts. Secondly, conceding the "right of disallowance," the next question is: Has it been improperly exercised? This is, of course, a matter of opinion, which must be decided on the merits of each particular case, which brings us face to face with the real question involved, viz., should this particular Rivers and Streams Rill have been disallowed? For our part we cannot see how any man of ordinary intelligence can, after reading the bill, come to any other conclusion than that it should have been disallowed in the interest of rights the protection of which has always been held to lie at the very foundation of all civilized government, and without a due respect for which all incentive to individual industry and enterprise would be at an end. If legislation which involves such an important right and element to the well being of this Province, and therefore to the whole of the Dominion, is not one in which the Dominion is interested, and with regard to which the government of the day cannot ignore the reponsibility put upon them by the Confederation Act, we are at a loss to understand on what occasion they would be justified in exercising the right of disallowing dangerous and tyrannical legislation in the Provinces.

NEW CHEESE FACTORY.—A new cheese factory has just been started on Lot 3, 4th concession of Douro, by Mr. W. J. Moore of Lakefield. As there is no other factory within eight or nine miles it is proving a great convenience to the farmers in that neighborhood, who are patronizing it freely, their daily receipts of milk having already reached a ton and and a half, and will no doubt be largely increased as the season advances. The financial management of this factory is in the hands of Messrs. Jas. Hall, Otonabee and Pat. Moher, Douro.

"MINE is a remarkable case," says Postmaster J. E. Bornsall of Liverpool, Pa. "At 15 years of age, I was seized with a fearful attack of rheumatism which lasted for twenty-five weeks, resisted medical treatment until my physician said I would never get well, and finally left me with my system liable to frequently recurring attacks. In the winter of 1879—80, I was so used up with rheumatism that I could scarcely walk from my house to the office. When I was worst, I happened to hear of that wonderful substance St. Jacobs Oil. I obtained a supply, used the article as directed, and was entirely cured. Its action in my case was almost miraculous, as I am now perfectly free from rheumatism after being afflicted with it for thirty-four years."

N. H. DOWNS' Vegetable Balsamic ELIXIR!

This valuable medicine is purely vegetable, the discovery of which was the result of many years' close study, in order to discover the cause, the symptoms and the cure—viz.:

Consumption, Coughs, Colds, Catarrh, Croup, Asthma, Influenza, Pleurisy, Hoarseness, Spitting Blood, Bronchitis,

and every species of oppression of the Chest and Lungs. In all cases where this Elixir has been duly administered its efficacy has been invariably manifested, convincing the most incredulous that is not incurable, if properly attended to.—Consumption, at its commencement, is but a slight irritation of the membrane which covers the lungs; then an inflammation when the cough is more observable, but rather dry; then becomes local fever and the pulse more frequent, the cheeks flushed and chills more common. This Elixir in curing the above complaints, operates so as to remove all morbid irritations and inflammation from the lungs to the surface, and finally expel them from the system. It facilitates expectoration.

CONSUMPTION

IT HEALS THE ULCERATED SURFACES

and relieves the cough and makes the breathing easy. It supports the strength and at the same time reduces the fever. It is free from strong opiate and astringent articles, which are of so drying a nature as to be in great danger of destroying the patient; whereas this medicine never dries or stops the cough, but, by removing the cause, generally destroys the hectic before the cough is entirely gone. Consequently, when the cough is cured the patient is well. Send address for pamphlet giving full directions for cure of pulmonary diseases. Price 25cts. and $1 per bottle. Sold everywhere.

The first was referred to the Printing Committee and the other ordered to be paid when certified.

DECEASED FELINES.

Councillor Rutherford drew the attention of the Health Officers to the fact that dead cats and other nuisances were lying in many places on the streets of the town.

SPAULDING'S BAY.

Councillor Cahill spoke of another health matter, that great plague spot Spaulding's Bay. Last year many persons in town suffered from malarial fever caused by the stench from the Bay. In order to put an end to such a thing this year he proposed to fill it in.

Moved by Councillor Cahill, seconded by Councillor McNaughton, and resolved,—That all moneys in the hands of the Commissioners of the Town Trust, which may have been derived from the sale of lands in the "South Reserve," as well as moneys accruing or hereafter to be derived from the sale of such lands, be and are hereby appropriated for the filling of Spaulding's Bay, and that the Street and Bridge Committee and the said Commissioners be a committee for the expenditure of such money, a majority of such committee to be a quorum thereof; and that the said Commissioners be and are hereby requested to advance such sums as may be in their hands, or may be now due, or hereafter accruing from the above lands, for the above purpose, and that the Corporate Seal be attached to this resolution to give it the effect of a by-law.

Councillor Richardson was not favourable to filling up the bay at the expense of the whole town.

Councillor Menzies said that other places besides Peterborough suffered from malarial fever and surely Spaulding's Bay was not to be blamed for it. The town only realized $16,000 from the sale of the property around the Bay and he was not in favour of expending $100,000 in filling up a small portion of the property. He was willing to do the work gradually by placing refuse in it.

Councillor McNaughton said the matter was not a sectional one. The Bay caused disease in 1881 and would do it again. The smell from the Bay goes all over the county.

Councillor Menzies drew attention to Goose Island pond, where all the filth of the town had been deposited for seven years and still no person in the vicinity was injured, although the refuse was of the worst character. He did not ask to have that place filled up as it would cost too much and he would oppose the motion.

Councillor Douglas thought that the steam shovel should have been employed to cut down Smithtown Hill and put the gravel in the Bay.

Councillor Rutherford said that the Ontario and Quebec Railway was to be built now and the company might fill it in without it costing the town one cent.

Dr. R. W. Bell on motion was heard. He said that the Bay was a regular plague spot. He would fill it in at any cost. The Bay has caused a large amount of disease and more than one death. There were other plague spots in town that should also be filled in, but Spaulding's Bay was the great one. Lives were too precious to weigh against dollars and cents. He advocated filling it in as soon as possible. The Goose Island pond was bad, but not as bad as the other.

Councillor Poussette thought that Dr. Bell's remarks were correct. Such a place cannot but breed fevers. In Peterbourough there were more people died under 40 years of age, than in any other place that he knew of. He could not call this a healthy place. While it is desirable to fill in the Bay, he regarded it as almost impractible. He thought the water could be confined to a small stream, and an engineer should be consulted. To fill it up would cost too much and the earth could not be procured except by building a railway. As he understood it the lands at the south end of the town were to be sold and the proceeds appropriated to mitigate the evils of the Bay. It appeared rather curious to him that the question had not been brought up before during the 21 years that had elapsed. He favoured having the Bay inspected by a competent engineer.

Councillor Cahill did not ask to have the Bay filled in at once. He asked that the money now in the hands of the commissioners be expended in helping to fill in the Bay. He had tried for a number of years to bring up the matter, but without success. All admitted that something should be done and a commencement should be made and that at once. A healthy town encouraged people to come here, while an unhealthy town drove them away. The other plague spots should be removed, but he did not want one part of the town set against the other. He did not ask for any amount, but wanted a commencement. He knew it would be a big job, and his idea was to confine the water to a narrow channel, if practicable. The great source of trouble was that the water receded and left vegetable matter exposed to the sun. The work could be done gradually at no great expense. He asked the Council to let the resolution pass. He did not think that any immediate action would be taken, and if the railway filled in the Bay in the meantime, no person would be better pleased than himself. He read from the Statutes of 1861, from the act passed in that year, showing that the town was then desirous of filling in the Bay.

The motion was allowed to stand over.

FIRE, WATER AND GAS.

Councillor Rutherford, chairman read and submitted the following report of the above committee:—

The Fire, Water, and Gas Committee beg leave to report that in regard to the resolution passed at the last regular meeting of this Council in reference to hydrants for fire protection.

1. Your Committee find that there would be required 82 hydrants to cover the entire corporation.

2. Your Committee also interviewed the Water Company to see what would be the lowest price they would charge for each of the 82 hydrants that will be required for fire protection. The said Company promised to furnish the town clerk with their report.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

(Sg.) A. Rutherford.

Councillor Rutherford, said that he had waited on the Water Company, and found that they did not care about laying down pipes and hydrants except in the centre of the town. As regards the necessary 82 hydrants the company would not give a stated price except the figure named in the by-law, $50.

Councillor Menzies, objected to the report as it was a minority one.

Councillor Douglas said it was no report as nothing was recommended.

Councillor McNaughton thought Councillor Rutherford took too much upon himself.

Councillor Rutherford said nothing was recommended in the report, but it was simply a statement of proceedings.

Councillor Poussette had moved the motion on which the report was founded and it was in his opinion just as it should be under the circumstances.

Councillor Paterson was present at the meeting, and said the report was correct.

The report was received and adopted.

MORE OF IT.

Moved by Councillor Cahill, seconded by Councillor Richardson,—That a certain amount to be fixed by the Street and Bridge Inspector, subject to the approval of the Street and Bridge Committee, be allowed for stuff to be deposited in Spaulding's Bay.—Carried.

FIRECRACKERS.

Moved by Councillor Cahill, seconded by Councillor Kelly,—That the Constables be instructed to have the by-law, preventing the firing off of firecrackers, squibs, etc., enforced.—Carried.

Councillor McNaughton thought there was no use in passing resolutions unless the police enforced the by-laws.

Councillor Poussette took the part of the boys, and thought they should be allowed "to enthuse" a little on the Queen's Birthday.

Councillor Richardson objected to firing off crackers.

Councillor Menzies said that the by-law should be carried out.

Councillor Cahill wanted a park for the boys to fire off crackers.

Councillor Rutherford favoured the motion as the boys tried to scare horses, etc., and he wanted the by-law enforced.

Chief Johnston said that the police could not possibly stop it altogether.

POUNDS.

Moved by Councillor Douglas, seconded by Councillor Wilson,—That Thomas Beavis be instructed to have the fences of the pounds in the different wards of the town, put in a proper state of repair.—Carried.

OPEN THE STREETS.

Councillor McNaughton wanted to know if any action had been taken to open all the streets of the town.

Chief Johnston had notified two or three, who occupied streets, and would notify the others as soon as he found out who they were.

MUCH NEEDED.

Moved by Councillor Poussette, seconded by Councillor Kelly.—That the platform around the market house be widened to the extent of 6 feet, and that the small scales be placed outside of the verandah posts.—Carried.

NOTICES OF MOTION.

Councillor Poussette gave notice that he would at the next meeting of the Council introduce:—

1. A by-law to grant aid to the extent of $100 to the Peterborough Mechanics' Institute.

2. A by-law to prohibit the running at large within the corporation limits of the town of Peterborough of horses, cattle, swine and geese, subject to such limitations as may be considered advisable.

The Council then adjourned for one week.

Charcoal.

Mr. J. A. Mathieu, of Detroit, reports to the Northwestern Lumberman that the mill men are showing some interest in the manufacture of charcoal, a subject in which Mr. Mathieu is interested. He will soon erect sixteen retorts at Luther, Lake County, Mich., where the slabs of the mill of Waterman, Paney & Co. will be reduced to coal. A cord of pine slabs makes sixty bushels of charcoal, that is worth at least 6 cents per bushel at point of shipment, and as the slabs can be put through the retorts at as small expense as they can be consumed in a saw-mill hell, it is plain that there is a saving worth mentioning. The Lumberman has had a claim on fyle for years that there is too much needless waste of wood in this country, and it considers it a matter of public interest when a method or process is discovered whereby this wood, which has been burned in order to get it out of the way, can be utilized. The more charcoal there is, the better iron our furnaces will turn out, and if, in connection with this important fact, the refuse of the mills is a source of considerable profit to the mill men, it takes no arguments to show the value of charcoal manufacture. Mr. Mathieu is also erecting retorts at Portland, Oregon.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—An EXTERNAL MEANS of CURING SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic; whilst old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalculæ which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produce a clear, healthy natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION, a FLUID peculiar in itself, is the most potent enemy to all Skin Disorders. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the least degree comparable for its Healthy Action on the Human Skin.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. Startin, and every year it is used adds more and more favourably to its widly increasing reputation. Anyone, however deeply and hopelessly afflicted with Skin Disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent in a diminished appearance of the malady, a growing tendency to fade away, and complete obliteration of the eruption.

Daily Evening Review

TUESDAY, MAY 23, 1882.

Adjourned Sale.

The adjourned sale of Mr. Dumble's lots (Block B. Smithtown Hill) will come off on Saturday night next at 8 p. m. at Stapleton's Auction Room, Market Block. The terms are easy.

Proposed Excursion.

We learn from good authority that the Masons of Lakefield contemplate joining the brethren of Peterborough in an excursion to Belleville on the 24th of June, St. John's Day. These excursions are always among the best and most enjoyable of the season, and we have no doubt that the "men of the square and compass" will see fit to go ahead with the undertaking, as they will undoubtedly receive the support of the public.

No Issue.

Once more the anniversary of the birthday of our Sovereign Lady, Queen Victoria, is at hand, and as printers are just about as loyal as any other class of people, and being hard workers, they desire a holiday for the double purpose of celebrating the auspicious occasion and taking recreation. Therefore the DAILY EVENING REVIEW will not appear to-morrow evening, but on Thursday it will contain a full report of the day's proceedings and the latest news from home and abroad.

Destroyed by Fire.

Of late we have had so many alarms without fires that a fire without an alarm is something of a novelty. A fire occurred on Friday night about eleven o'clock, by which the residence of Mr. Arthur May, outside of the corporation, near the Roman Catholic Cemetery was destroyed by fire. No alarm was given as there was no necessity for it. The fire is supposed to have originated from a defective stovepipe. The family had a very narrow escape, some children being rescued in their nightclothes. All the furniture was burned. The loss will be between $400 and $500. Insurance unknown.

The Boating Club.

Yesterday the two double scull boats that have been purchased by the Peterborough Boating Club arrived from Toronto. They are fitted with Warin's patent roller seats, which seem to work easily and to be an improvement upon the old fashioned slides. The club is now well provided with boats, and therefore there is every facility for members desiring to practice. The captain is obtaining a list of all the rowing men with their weights and heights, so as to adjust the crews to the best advantage, and is at the same time making a list of all canoe owners with the names of their canoes. The letting of racks and lockers will take place this evening.

Spaulding's Bay.

As will be seen by reference to our Council meeting report, that great plague spot, Spaulding's Bay, occupied the attention of the Councillors for a considerable time last night. All appeared willing that something should be done to mitigate the evil, but the great cost was the question which threw a damper on the project. Councillor Poussette's idea of confining the water to a narrow channel is one that will commend itself to all, and as it is thought that it can be accomplished at a comparatively small cost when the great benefit is considered, we think it well worth the while of the Council to employ a competent engineer to inspect and estimate the cost.

The 24th of May.

Remember the Athletic Sports on the Queen's Birthday, at 2 o'oclock p. m., to be held under the auspices of the Boating Club and Cricket Club. As will be seen by the posters the programme contains 14 events, all of which will be interesting, and as members of both lacrosse teams (Peterborough and Toronto), are expected to compete, spectators will have an opportunity of witnessing well contested races. The mile race for medal will be particularly interesting, Mr. Bird, the present holder, having only once more to win in order to become absolute owner, will make a struggle to retain his present advantage. A novel feature in the shape of an egg race for which a silver watch will be given, will no doubt prove attractive; each competitor must pick up ten eggs placed in a line ten yards apart, and carry them unbroken one by one to the starting point.

THE QUEEN'S BIRTHDAY

HOW IT IS TO BE CELEBRATED BY THE LOYAL INHABITANTS OF OUR TOWN.

Grand Lacrosse Match—Athletic Sports and Promenade Concert by the Fire Brigade Band—Excursion to Idyl Wild—The Battery—Cheap Railway Fares to all Points—Many Other Attractions.

THE LACROSSE MATCH.

The Lacrosse match between the "Independents" of Toronto and the "Peterboroughs" will take place on the Ashburnham cricket ground in the morning, commencing at 10.30 o'clock. Both teams are in good trim and the best game ever played here is anticipated. The visitors will arrive an the 9.50 Midland train this evening and after a good night's rest they will be in first class trim for play. The personnel of the team is somewhat changed from last year and is stronger than ever before. The Mail says the first twelve of the Independents of this city will play at Peterborough on Wednesday. The team will be as follows:—J. Hughes, John Burns, L. Hurston, J. O'Neil, J. Shaper, J. Lucett. F. Bourdon, Joseph Burns, J. Carbery, J Morrison, C. Lyndon, and J. Kerr, with J. Murphy captain.

Mr. J. Donoghue the old goal keeper of the "Peterboroughs" has consented to once more keep the ball out and we have no doubt that he will do it as well as usual. As the home team are under a heavy expense in endeavoring to give our citizens an opportunity of witnessing first class play, we anticipate that the townspeople will turn out en masse and encourage the boys in their laudable undertaking.

ATHLETIC SPORTS.

The annual athletic sports under the auspices of the Cricket and Boating Clubs, take place during the afternoon at the Agricultural Grounds. The sports have now become an established institution and are always successful in the highest degree. This year more than usual interest has been taken in them and the preparations are very elaborate. Those who desire to see some of the best athletic contests ever witnessed here must not fail to be on hand. Many athletes from a distance have signified their intention of being present, and as the local men are in a good shape, some exciting contests are sure to take place. The programme includes the following:

Throwing the cricket ball, running high jump, one hundred yards' heats, one hundred yards' heats (boys), one mile race, tug of war (best two in three), three legged race, three legged race (boys), quarter mile race (boys), quarter mile race (open), hurdle race (open), hurdle race (boys), egg race, one hundred yards, tilting at the ring, game of quoits (commencing at 2 o'clock), consolation prize, consolation prize (boys).

The Fire Brigade Band will be present all afternoon.

THE PROMENADE CONCERT.

In the evening a grand Promenade Concert will be given in the Drill Shed by the Fire Brigade Band. This season, our citizens have had but very few opportunities of listening to their playing, and as the music for this occasion is all new and choice, we fully expect to see the shed packed.

IDYL WILD.

Under the management of Mr. John McGivern, of Cobourg, this already famous summer resort promises to become even more popular than ever. This year extensive alterations and improvements have been made to the Island and buildings, all of which will be welcomed by the patrons of Idyl Wild. An extensive programme has been prepared for Wednesday, including boat races, athletic sports of all kinds, a hop in the pavilion and numerous other attractions, added to which all who desire can obtain permits for fishing. The Golden Eye leaves her wharf at 7 a. m., calling at all the places along the river.

THE BATTERY.

The Battery will turn out during the morning and will fire a salute at noon, either on the market square or in the agricultural grounds.

MISCELLANEOUS.

All the railway lines offer cheap fares and many will doubtless take advantage of that fact to visit neighboring towns and cities. Several are going to the Review at Kingston, some to Lakefield, Young's Point, Belleville, and other places, and many visitors are expected here from all the surrounding places. With such a bill of fare no person need want enjoyment.

Interesting.

Mr. Sproule's Studio will be open to-morrow, 24th. All work will be by the new process—(instantaneous).

The Writs Received.

The writs for the election in this county has been received. Mr. J. A. Hall, Sheriff, being the returning officer for the West Riding, and Col. Haultain, Registrar, being the returning officer for the East Riding. The nomination is appointed for June 13th and the polling for June 20th.

The Weather.

The weather probabilities for this district for the following twenty-four hours, as reported from Toronto at 10 a.m. to-day by the Great Northwestern Telegraph Company, are as follows:—Lakes—and upper St. Lawrence. Moderate to fresh north-westerly to south-westerly winds. Fair weather, stationary or slightly higher temperature, followed to-morrow by fine warm weather.

Personals.

THE CONTENTED MAN,
Who is He?

The discussion of this question by an able lecturer was listened to a few evenings ago with interest by large audience.

We venture to think that one of this class may be represented by the head of a family, who has been instructed to purchase a supply of that essential commodity for the table—TEA.

He has an indefinite idea that the article ought to be cheaper on account of the removal of the duty, but when he finds that he can save 10 cents per lb., instead of 5 he is jubilant.

THE CONTENTED MAN is he who gets the full benefit of the reduction of the duty on his tea for this year by making a saving of, say $3.00 on a purchase of 30 lbs.

Prove it by inspecting my stock of JAPANS AND YOUNG HYSONS.

A leading line of sweet and good drawing JAPAN offering at 35 cents, formerly sold at 45 cents.

EAST PETERBOROUGH.

ENTHUSIASTIC NOMINATION OF MR. JOHN BURNHAM AS THE STANDARD BEARER.

A Unanimous Meeting—The Government Policy Endorsed—Interesting Speeches from Our Member and Others.

On Tuesday afternoon last a meeting of the East Peterborough Liberal Conservatives was held in the Town Hall, Norwood, to select a candidate to contest the constituency in the ensuing election contest. The attendance was exceedingly numerous, the large hall being filled to its utmost capacity and was no doubt the largest representative gathering of the kind ever held in Norwood. The most intense enthusiasm prevailed throughout the large body, and all were united in one bond of political sympathy. The meeting was presided over by Mr. J. B. Pearce, President of the Associacion, while Mr. Thomas Burke filled the office of Secretary.

The following delegates presented their credentials of appointment from their several districts.:—

NORWOOD—Robert Scott, W. J. Riseborough, Wm. Hutchinson and Rev. W. M. Pattyson.

LAKEFIELD—R. C. Strickland, Reeve, W. C. Saunders, Jonathan Griffin, James Moore and Wm. Cox.

ASHBURNHAM—Geo. C. Rogers, Henry Bennett, H. T. Strickland, Thos. Weir and John Burnham.

ASPHODEL—F. Birdsall, C. O'Rielly, John Breckenridge, Joseph Walker, Wm. Thompson, James Stevenson, John Fitzpatrick, John Boland, W. H. Stephenson, John P. Brown, Geo. Lipsett and John Knox.

BELMONT—John Brown, Wm. Anderson, P. J. Garrison, Thos. Wild, W. J. Armstrong, R. Anderson, Joseph Doupe and A. W. Dafoe.

DOURO—John Maloney, Reeve, James McCliggott, Deputy Reeve, George McIlmoyle and Patrick Doherty.

DUMMER—Daniel Wigmore, Robert Wigmore, Henry Ferguson, John McNaughton, Wm. Snelgrove, Jonh Pickings, John Rose, S. Rorabeck, Robert Robson, Jordon Crow, James Logan, Michael Barr, George Kirk and David Rose.

OTONABEE—David Armstrong, sr., David Armstrong, jr., Alex. Campbell, sr., Alex. Campbell, jr., Geo. Read, Patrick Quinn, Henry Cruickshanks, Thomas McIntyre, Redmond Casey, Joshua Smithson and Duncan McIntyre.

After the preliminaries of organization had been effected, the chairman stated the object of the meeting, and that he was prepared to receive nominations.

Mr. JOHN MOLONEY, Reeve of Douro, then moved that John Burnham, Esq., our present member, be the candidate for the East Riding in the Conservative interest to contest the constituency in the ensuing general election. Mr. Moloney, in a terse speech, eulogized Mr. Burnham's parliamentary conduct, commended the fiscal policy of the Government, and praised its conduct in extending substantial aid to the construction of the Trent Valley Canal and its steady prosecution of public works generally.

Geo. Reed, Esq., of Otonebee seconded the nomination,—He said it was the duty of all Conservatives in the present contest to do all that lay in their power to support the present government, and that it would be a great misfortune to the country if the government of Sir John A. Macdonald was not sustained in the present contest.—The motion was carried unanimously.

Mr. Burnham was received with prolonged and deafening cheers. He said he was pleased to meet the electors of the East Riding at this large convention. Personally he was not aspiring for the position as its representative, and if he consulted his own interest he would retire, and give place to some one else; but in accepting the honor, he did so in the interests of the Conversative party alone. He referred to the statement circulated by his opponents that he was not a local man, and that he did not live in the Riding, and had no interest whatever in the constituency. To the statement he could say that he had a large interest in the Riding, and perhaps equally as much as, or perhaps more so than his opponent, and it was well known that he was a life long resident of the Riding. He alluded tersely and amuseingly to the maiden speech of his opponent, as well as to several high-falutin unmeaning resolutions passed at the recent Reform Convention held in Norwood. He referred at length to the policy of the government, the prosperity of the country under the present regime; to the construction of the Trent Valley Canal, and to the great advantages acruing to the Dominion generally by the successful working of the abused National Policy, as well as to other things of general importance. He closed an interesting address by thanking the electors for the nomination, and for the hearty unanimous support accorded to him by the meeting. Then Mr. Burnham sat down amidst the enthusiastic cheers.

Mr. George Reid being called upon, said that the gentlemen composing the present government were statesmen of great ability, and deserved to be sustained, and he thought that if they did not receive the hearty support of the electors they would be performing a very ungrateful part. As a supporter of that government he had great confidence in Mr. Burnham, and he would again give him his sincere support in the present contest, and trusted the electors would show their estimation of the general policy and conduct of the administration of Sir John A. Macdonald, by returning Mr. Burnham by a very large majority.

Moved by R. C. STRICKLAND, Reeve of Lakefield and seconded by W. M. PATTERSON, —That we the conservatives of the East Riding of the County of Peterborough in convention assembled to nominate a candidate for the Riding for the House of Commons, take this opportunity of expressing most heartily our unwavering confidence in the Right Hon. Sir John A. Macdonald, and his government, they having so fully and completely redeemed the pledges made to the people, previous to the election in 1878, by inaugurating the National Policy, which retains Canadian markets for Canadians, and enlarging those markets by adopting a railway policy in the North-West which is fast peopling that great country, and where our sons can settle thus avoiding the necessity of their going to Texas, as advised by the Hon. Alexander Mackenzie, late leader of the opposition, who also advised the poor workmen in 1877 to go west without providing any tangable means of so doing, thus offering him a stone in place of bread, whereas the railway policy of the present government not only provides a way for the poor man to go west, but also something for him to do when he gets there. We also desire to express our approval of the many measures passed by the government of the Right Hon. Sir John A. Macdonald to benefit the agricultural, manufacturing and commercial interests of the whole Dominion, and we the conservatives of this Riding wish most fully to show our disapproval of the hypocritical, and absard resolutions submitted to and passed by the Reformers in convention, held in this village on the 15th inst. which accused the present government of hating the day of wrath and ruin well knowing as they did that the day of wrath, ruin and defeats was timely stayed, by the advent of the Right Hon. Sir John A. Macdonald to power on the 17th day of December 1878.

We further desire to express our thankfullness, to the Great Giver of all good, that the Right Hon. Sir John A. Macdonald's healt has been renewed, and most earnestly hope he may be long spared to lead the Conservative party to victory, feeling as we do that the country has been and is being blessed, under his just and wise administration.

Moved by W.J. B. BROWN seconded by W.J. RISEBOROUGH that the electors of this riding emphatically declare that they are desirous of maintaining the connection which now so happily exists between Canada and the mother country and in their opinion nothing more detrimental to the prosperity of the country could happen than that the ties which now bind us together should in any manner be impared; and that we regret that the leader of the opposition should have introduced in the Parliament of Canada the resolution which he did in reference to the treaty making powers of the Dominion.

At the close of the meeting, the delegates arranged with Mr. Burnham to hold meetings throughout the Riding, and to push forward the work of the canvas with the utmost diligence.

THE CAMPAIGN.

NEXT week the campaign in this county will be in full vigour. In the east both candidates are now fairly in the field, and it will be observed that Mr. Burnham announces a series of meetings in various parts of the Riding.

In the west both parties hold meetings on Saturday for the selection of candidates, and candidates will no doubt be selected on both sides, because no matter how hopeless the "Blakites" may consider their chances of success they will, in obedience to the mandate from headquarters, that "no matter what the chances of success * * not one seat should be left uncontested" (see Globe of Wednesday), put somebody in the field and assert that they are perfectly confident of success. For our part, although we have as good reason to be confident of the result in both constituencies as any one can have before the ballots are counted, yet we would remind our friends that elections cannot be won unless the electors put their ballot papers where they can be counted. The elector who hurrahs for a cause and neglects to poll his vote is in reality its worst enemy. He is like the soldier who runs away when the hour of trial arrives, and the election is lost, not because the majority do not sympathize with the losers, but because they neglected to discharge a duty and allowed themselves to be disfranchised. We hope this class will be few and far between on the 20th of June. If they are, we have no fear for the result, either in the County of Peterborough, the Province of Ontario or the Dominion.

OUR EX-MEMBERS.

WE are sorry to find our contemporary begining the campaign in such a bad spirit. The Examiner has one article bestowing great praise upon Mr. Hilliard, and another as lavish of its abuse of Mr. Burnham. It is impossible to mistake the animus thus displayed, or to doubt that if Mr. Hilliard were running and Mr. Burnham retiring, the allotment of praise and blame would have been exactly reversed. So our contemporary from the very start is prepared to sacrifice truth to immediate party exigencies, and to indulge in personalties instead of fair discussion of the great questions of the day.

The fact is that both our late members have done their duty by giving an intelligent support to the present administration in carrying their measures for the good of the country at large, and they have also been zealous and successful in looking after our local interests. They have both been equally deserving of praise in these respects, and we are sure that neither of them would wish a comparison to be drawn in his favour to the disparagement of the other.

Both Mr. Burnham and Mr. Hilliard can point out not one, but many, "good and beneficial acts of legislation at which they have assisted." We have only space now to mention one or two of the most prominent. They have assisted in passing and supporting the present tariff, which has secured the trade of Canada for our own manufacturers and mechanics, and caused the present prosperity of the country to succeed to the depression that reigned under the last administration. They have aided in the arrangements under which our great transcontinental railway is being rapidly pushed to completion, and this without any permanent cost to the people, as the receipts from the land thus made available are meeting the expenditure. They also supported the arrangements by which settlement is so rapidly progressing in the North West, that the additional population of the year promises to exceed that during the whole period of "Reform" maladministration.

They have done their full share in pushing on step by step the opening of the Trent Valley navigation, in the face of opposition of Reform leaders, till now this very important work, of so much benefit to us locally as well as to the whole country, is no longer a mere project, but a government work under construction. Other local interests of minor importance have received their effectual attention, and we may ask, since comparisons are forced upon us, when did we before secure the expenditure in this locality of public money, even when we had a Reform member, and a Reform Government. We then contributed largely to the revenue and received but little in return.

Both as to public and local legislation our late members have an unimpeachable record.

AFTER MANY DAYS.

AFTER many days the Globe of the 23th May has ventured the opinion that "the increase in the value of spring wheat arises from the adoption of the patent process of milling, which has made spring wheat more valuable than fall." That wont do, Mr. Globe! The "patent process" of milling was introduced first into the States, and it is therefore in vogue and has had just as much influence upon the price of wheat there as in Canada. The fact of the matter is that it is the N. P. and nothing else that has "increased the value of spring wheat," and it will be observed that the Globe admits that it is the price of spring wheat which has "increased" and not that of fall wheat which has fallen.

WHAT IS MEANT BY HOME RULE!

MR. C. J. DOHERTY contributes to the Canadian Spectator a sensible and valuable paper entitled "What is meant by Home Rule?" If the question were argued on both sides in the moderate and practical style of the writer, there would be no long delay in arriving at a satisfactory settlement. It is only what might be expected that Irishmen in Canada seeing the benefit of our constitution and having experience of its working, should wish to see their countrymen at home enjoying similar privileges, and should have a reasonable appreciation of the difficulties in settling the details, which is the first step towards overcoming them. Mr. Doherty gives a sketch for the division of jurisdiction. Some points in this are obviously debateable, but we will leave detailed criticism to the parties more immediately interested. A full and free discussion of them cannot but be valuable.

CAMPAIGN NOTES.

PATRIOTISM! The Globe asserting in the interest of party and contrary to fact, that the people of this Dominion were taxed to the tune of $5.33 per head in 1878, and that they will be taxed to the time of $8 per head for the current year. This is the way the Globe tries to raise our credit abroad and encourage the settlement of the country.

The Hastings Star thus sums up the qualifications of Mr. Roxburgh:—

"The "tall talking" done by our reform friends of East Peterborough, at the convention held in Norwood on the 15th, would be amusing did it not savor of blasphemy. Mr. Wm. Roxburgh was the choice of the convention, and, no doubt, that it was a "most important and critical era," treated the assembly to a speech which was simply a re-hash of the absurd opposition utterances in Parliament, interlarded with choice, though obscure, passages by the doughty William. Time was when an experience in township and county municipal affairs were considered a necessary qualification in a candidate, and judging by that standard, the present selection is rather unfortunate as—if we might use the paradox—the highest position ever attained by Mr. Roxburgh, was the lowest in the gift of his own village. William is ambitious, and his ambition urged him to aspire to the guburnatorial chair of Norwood, but his fellow villagers decreed otherwise. More anon."

THE TRENT VALLEY GRANT.

THE Fenelon Falls Gazette, a staunch Reform journal, has an editorial on the commencing of the construction of the Trent Valley Canal. The Gazette very correctly says this is the fulfilment of a promise, and that "the work has been carried on with as much expedition as it was possible to exert."

It will be remembered that the Reform leaders have made no such promise and that their exertions have been to thwart the project. It will also be remembered that the Reform Minister for this Department abandoned this navigation, though fortunately his action was revoked by the Conservative administration, that he stigmatizes the project as a folly, and that year by year he has opposed every step taken to forward it.

The Gazette speaks as follows:—

"It affords us much satisfaction to find the Government engineers at work in locating the locks. They believe that about the beginning of July we will see the actual work of digging and blasting going on. Many of our villagers and others find it difficult to look on the present position of affairs connected with the canal in any other light than as "an electioneering dodge." Whether it may be so or not, it is only the fulfilment of a promise. We have been much interested in the affair, and have closely watched every move since the inception of the present movement for building the canal, and the history of it is briefly this:—Shortly after the accession of the present Government to power, the committee appointed at the representation meeting, held at Peterborough, brought the matter before the Government. The scheme, which was an old and well known one, was regarded with favour, and the promise was made, that as soon as the Dominion finances would admit of it, the scheme would be taken up. When next brought to the notice of the Government, the Canadian Pacific Railway enterprise had to be settled before anything else of a new character could be entertained, but then the promise was renewed, that as soon as that could be dealt with we would be attended to. When that was disposed of an appropriation was asked for a survey, which was readily granted. Now, though the appropriation was not sufficient to finish the survey, a farther appropriation of $8,000 for finishing the survey, with $290,000 for the actual building, has been made. It appears to us that the work has been carried on with as much expedition as it was possible to exert. Before we could attribute the present grant to electioneering dodging, we would have to acknowledge that we in this back country have no right to any part of the public revenue spent amongst us for its development, by means of public works, but that such revenue ought to be spent where nature had been more lavish of her bounties, and where they rejoice in a finer soil and warmer climate than we do. We do not think that any one who has advocated the scheme, and pressed it upon the Government, ever thought of asking the Government to take it up as a favour, but as a right. Nature appears to have placed this great water way in this back country on the natural law of compensation, and we would be very much lacking in our duty if we did not so use it.

OMEMEE.

ILLEGAL.—The Herald says that several nights this week lights have been observed on the water above the mills. On enquiring the cause we were informed that some parties were out fishing by jack lights. As this is the close season for fishing we would warn the persons that their conduct is illegal at any time and that they had better look out, or the Inspector will be after them. It is too bad that the law, in this respect, cannot be observed for the short time required.

NEW MACHINE.—Mr. A. E. Byers, general agent, has just imported fsom Leeds, (Eng.) one of the famous Peatson A 1 Wax Thread sawing machines, for one of our enterprising shoemakers, Mr. Sherwood. It is without exception the best sewing machines for shoemakers' use in Canada. The celebrated New York and Syracuse boot makers use the same kind, and they consider work done by it far superior to hand work. It has the wonderful duplex motion, secured by Royal letters patent, throughout the world. Mr. Sherwood is bound to keep pace with the times.

ARRIVED.—Since work commenced on the missing link, numbers of emigrants have taken up their abode in this village. We hope that the appearance of our thriving town will make such a favorable impression on the minds of the new-comers as will induce them to become permanent citizens.

Consumption, Coughs, Colds, Catarrh, Croup, Asthma, Influenza, Pleurisy, Hoarseness, Spitting Blood, Bronchitis,

CONSUMPTION

is not incurable, if properly attended to.—Consumption, at its commencement, is but a slight irritation of the membrane which covers the lungs; then an inflammation, when the cough is more observable, but rather dry—then becomes local fever and the pulse more frequent, the cheeks flushed and chills more common. This Elixir in curing the above complaints, operates so as to remove all morbid irritations and inflammation from the lungs to the surface, and finally expel them from the system. It facilitates expectoration.

IT HEALS THE ULCERATED SURFACES

and relieves the cough and makes the breathing easy. It supports the strength and at the same time reduces the fever. It is free from strong opiate and astringent articles, which are also drying a nature as to be in great danger of destroying the patient; whereas this medicine never dries or stops the cough, but, by removing the cause, generally destroys the hectic before the cough is entirely gone. Consequently, when the cough is cured the patient is well. Send address for pamphlet giving full directions for cure of pulmonary diseases. Price 25cts. and $1 per bottle. Sold everywhere.

DARING BURGLARY.

KINGSTON, May 23.—Last evening a lamentable burglary occurred at the residence of Rev. Dr. Elliott, William-street, while the family were attending service. The amount secured was over $700. Dr. Elliott, as Chairman of the Kingston district of the Methodist Church of Canada, is treasurer for all connexional funds, and as the meeting of the Conferance is approaching has been receiving from various mission fields the offering of the people. Last week he received a sum of about $650 and intended to send it to Toronto this week. This money was in a cash-box, and was placed in a secret drawer in the secretary in Rev. Dr. Elliott's study. Dr. Elliott went to Queen-street Church to conduct service, the remainder of the family going to Sydenham-street Church. Mrs. Elliott, before leaving, attended to the locking and bolting of the doors, carrying with her the key of the front entrance. During the absence of the members of the household the house was ransacked and the money abstracted from the secretary. The burglars, with skeleton keys, unlocked all the drawers on one side, then opened a small cupboard on the other side, and finding that it was not deep seem to have surmised that there was a secret drawer in the rear. They were right, and finding and unlocking it they took out the cashbox, opened it with a key, removed a roll of bills, took some English soverigns and other good coin, but left other valuables. Exit was made through the back door, the key of which was in the lock. The back shed door was unbolted, and through it the thieves escaped. It was a daring burglary, accomplished while many persons were passing up and down the streets. During the service in Sydenham-street Church a man was seen to drive with a horse and buggy into a lane on the east side of the church. This lane passes back of the parsonage property. The keys of the secretary were in Dr. Elliott's pocket with the exception of that of the secret drawer, which was in another locked drawer. It would look as if the person who committed the robbery was a professional. He may have entered the porch, and with skeleton keys opened the door. Evidently skeleton keys were used to unlock the secretary. Nothing but money has been taken.

WASTE NOT, WANT NOT.

We have on many occasions advocated the establishment of a Bureau of Forestry, and as time goes on the necessity for such a Government department becomes more apparent. Canada is wasting her forest resources to such an extent that in a few years they will be exhausted. Living in the midst of the forest operations—surrounded as we are by logs, posts and lumber—we know more of the forest resources of Canada that those journals published in localities where lumbering is extinct, and we say deliberately that the waste now going on is criminal. To one matter we wish to draw particular attention. A demand has arisen in England for Canadian hemlock bark, and efforts are being made to supply the demand. Now it must be noted that the present supply of hemlock bark is very limited, and is not more than sufficient to supply our own purposes. It takes about 150 years to replace a tree cut for its bark. Up in the north country, about 45 years ago, an insect pest passed through the woods and killed every hemlock tree in a district extending over a hundred townships. The only hemlock there now has grown since that visitation, and is just large enough for railway ties. Therefore it is clear that any additional demand for hemlock trees would speedily make the hemlock an extinct tree in the northern district. "Protection" might very properly be applied in this direction, and a department of forestry would do important national service.—Bobcaygeon Independent.

PROFIT OF TREE PLANTING.

Professor Sargeant, of the Harvard arboretum, probably the best authority in this country on the subject, estimates that the profit on a plantation of 10 acres of larch trees, at the end of 50 years, will average 12 per cent. per annum for the whole time on the capital expended. The philosophy of this is apparent. There is little outlay upon a tree crop beyond the first cost of planting, while day by day the silent forces of nature go on adding to its value, whether the owner works or idles. Enough is positively known to furnish the strongest incentive to tree planting from the practical point of view as well as from physical and sanitary considerations. The west and northwest need more attention to this enterprise, often as its advantages have been urged upon them. Such a want ought not to continue, now that it is an assured fact that no other crop is so remunerative, secured with so little trouble, and subject to so few risks from destructive agencies, as the tree crop. The industry is scarcely yet out of its infancy. With due care given to its development by the state, the interest of individual farmers will become more active and more intelligent. A school of forestry will educate the people by that iteration of precept upon precept which is necessary to the acceptance of the plainest truth. But when once it is thoroughly understood that tree planting is not a matter of sentimental care for the future only, but of hard cash for the present, it will be welcomed and recognized as one of the legitimate branches of husbandry.

Trees for the Streets.

At the Montgomery, Ohio, Horticultural society, a late discussion turned on the varieties of trees most suitable for planting in the streets, and in the monthly report was the following:—"The trees which were particularly recommended were the American and the European linden, the Norway, silver and sugar maples, elms, horse-chestnut, and the hardy catalpa. The The silver maple and white elm had been found to make a quick growth on strong soils. The most common error in street planting was in placing the trees too near together, often even less than a rod apart, when they should never be nearer than three rods apart. When thus crowded they were drawn up and distorted in form, and could not develop their full luxuriance Mr. Steele quoted a letter from Charles Downing, in which he said: "This city (Newburg) has the same fault as Dayton—trees 15 to 20 feet apart—unsightly when grown, and keeping the street wet and muddy after each rain storm. Maples should be 50 to 60 feet apart, and elms 70 to 80. There is one street in this city where elms are 70 feet apart on each side of the street, and yet the branches touch each other. Some of our readers will remember the wide streets in New Haven, Conn., where the long lines of American elm meet over the centre of the street and suggest the arch-work and tracery of a gothic cathedral, the resemblance to the interior of which is quite striking."

SETH GREEN is something of a philosopher. Someone said to him the other day that there would be less objection to shad if he would invent a machine to take out the bones. Seth's answer was; "If there were more bones in the food people eat, there would be less dyspepsia." The moral about slow eating can easily be extracted from this.

Destruction of Trees in Scotland.

The indignation of the people of Devonshire when they heard that Baron Lyndon was about to cut down the Hacton woods, was mild in comparison with the rage and grief with which the news of the sale of Lord Huntley's famous Glen Tanar woods has been received in Aberdeenshire. There are considerably over 100,000 trees in these woods, and they are reported to have been sold to a Glasgow firm of timber merchants. Their destruction will considerably interfere with the "amenities" of Glen Tanar deer forest, which is let to Cunliffe-Brooks, M. P. Scotland can ill-afford to lose any more trees at present, for several places have been well-nigh devastated by last winter's gales. At Tyningham and Dunse Castle, the destruction has been prodigious, and at Luss, Sir James Colquhoun's place on the shores of Loch Lomond, some 6,000 trees fell. The Queen will find that her "policies" at Balmoral have lost some of their greatest ornaments and nearly 2,000 trees have been blown down in Her Majesty's forest at Ballochbuie. The havoc produced in Mar forest is almost incredible, especially on the north side of the Dee, where the oldest trees were; indeed, the scenery of the river has been pretty well destroyed, and there has been a heavy fall in Invercauld Forest.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—An EXTERNAL MEANS of CURING SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic; whilst old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them, It destroys the animalculæ which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produce a clear, healthy natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION, a FLUID peculiar in itself, is the most potent enemy to all Skin Disorders. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the least degree comparable for its Healthy Action on the Human Skin.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. Startin, and every year it is used adds more and more favourably to its widly increasing reputation. Anyone, however deeply and hopelessly afflicted with Skin Disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent in a diminished appearance of the malady, a growing tendency to fade away, and complete obliteration of the eruption.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—BOTTLES CONTAINING NEARLY HALF A PINT.—SOLD BY CHEMISTS EVERYWHERE. Made in London, Eng.

Daily Evening Review

THURSDAY, MAY 25, 1882.

NORWOOD CONSERVATIVES.

Meeting of the Conservative Association of this Village—Mr. Burnham well Supported.

A meeting of the Liberal Conservative Association of the village of Norwood, was held in that place on Monday evening last, for the purpose of reorganization, and to select delegates to attend the East Peterborough convention held on the following day. Though notice was only given verbally, there was a very large number of the villagers in attendance, who represented to a very large extent the public opinion of the community on the various political topics now engaging public attention. It is perhaps needless to say that a feeling pervaded the meeting of strong confidence in our present member, Mr. Burnham, and that no local consideration would prevent the Conservative party of Norwood giving to him their cordial and undivided support in his candidature against Mr. Roxburgh. The following officers were elected :—

PRESIDENT.—J. P. Brown.
VICE-PRESIDENT.—Robert Scott.
SECRETARY.—Thomas Burke.
TREASURER.—Dennis Mahony.

The delegates to attend the convention were then appointed.

On motion, the officers of the of the association, the delegates, and Messrs. Chas. Stephenson and W. Coon were appointed a standing committee.

Moved by THOMAS BURKE, seconded by ROBERT SCOTT.—That this association, having every confidence in our present member, hereby pledge to Mr. John Burnham, in the event of his being the nominee of the Conservative convention to be held in the village of Norwood, on Tuesday 23rd inst, our hearty and undivided support in this constituency, and to do the utmost in our power to secure his election.—Carried unanimously by a standing vote.

Moved by the REV. W. N. PATTYSON, seconded by MR. W. J. RISEBORO, and resolved.—That the Norwood Liberal Conservative Association hereby records a unanimous vote of implicit confidence in the Dominion Government of the day for its veracity in carrying out the National Policy, for its successful scheme in the Pacific Railway; together with the Trent Valley Canal, the re-adjustment of the constituencies, and the carrying out of their pledges generally to the people of the Dominion of Canada.

It was decided to meet weekly during the election contest, and to make personally every legitimate endeavour to secure the election of the Conservative candidate.

The Herndon troupe played last night to a good audience. This evening they will play "Kathleen Mavourneen" and "Selem Shingle," Mr. Herndon's great speciallty. They are an excellent company and deserve a packed house.

Fat Cattle for England.

The Toronto World, a Reform journal, has the following :—It would hardly do to depend much on the argument that the duty on Indian corn is causing the cattle-fattening business to be "dropped." The Berlin News has a statement of the weights of 125 head of fat cattle shipped there last week for export, averaging 1300 lbs. each, live weight. And the Peterborough REVIEW has an account of one day's shipment from that town recently, consisting of over 100 head, running from 1250 to 2000 lbs. each. It is evident that the business of fattening cattle is still carried on in Canada, and to some purpose, too.

THE QUEEN'S BIRTHDAY

HOW IT WAS CELEBRATED BY THE LOYAL INHABITANTS OF OUR TOWN.

Grand Lacrosse Match—Athletic Sports and Promenade Concert by the Fire Brigade Band—Excursion to Idyl Wild—The Battery—Cheap Railway Fares to all Points—Many Other Attractions.

Once more the Queen's birthday has come and gone and the loyal people throughout the British Empire have celebrated it in a becoming manner. The weather was rather cold, but withal it was enjoyable. Here everything passed off very successfully and there was no lack of amusement.

THE LACROSSE MATCH.

The first event of the day was a lacrosse match between the "Independants" of Toronto and the "Peterboroughs." The Toronto men arrived here on Tuesday evening and were quartered at the Peterborough House. Profiting by last year's experience the visitors brought a splendid team, in fact they had the pick of the Queen City, and they came with the full determination "to wipe out" the backwoods team and they did it. About 11 o'clock the two teams faced each other as follows :—

TORONTO.

J. Hughes	Goal
M. Matthews	Point
S. Hurson	Cover point
J. Burns	Home
J. H. Lucett	"
J. O'Neil	"
Jos. Burns	Field
J. O'Farrell	"
F. Bourdin	"
J. Morrison	"
C. Lynden	Home
Jno. Dunn	"
J. Kew	Captain

PETERBOROUGH.

J. Donoghue	Goal
W. Rudkins	Point.
J. Joyal	C. "
M. Halpin	D. Field
M. McDonnell	"
A. Yelland	"
J. Simpson	Field.
M. Tierney	"
R. H. Fortye	"
C. Rutherford	3rd Home
W. J. Morrow	2nd "
Geo. Giroux	1st "
W. A. Sanderson	Captain

Mr. A. McNeil acted as Referee and Messrs. Fitzgerald and Regan as Umpires. A very large crowd was present including many ladies, and the excitement was intense. The Toronto men wore no particular uniform, or rather the uniform of at least half a dozen clubs, to which the men belonged last year—we suppose. The home team wore their new uniform for the first time and looked splendid. The shirt is black and red and the knickerbockers gray.

When on the field it was plain to see that Peterborough had the advantage in weight, but the visitors were wiry and had the advantage of practise, while the home team never played together before this season. There is no necessity for an extended report of the game, but suffice it to say that the Toronto men showed the Peterboroughs "a wrinkle or two" that the latter will adopt. The home team was beaten, badly beaten, in fact the visitors won three straight games, but the defeat is a good thing, inasmuch as it will teach the Peterborough men that they are not the best players in the province. There are others just as good and some better, as they now know. The games were all well contested, the first lasting one hour and four minutes, the second twenty minutes and the third and last ten minutes. The play on both sides was good, although "shinny" was not by any means unknown. The games were won by J. O'Farrell, J. Lucett, and C. Lynden, respectively. One or two rows occurred on the field that somewhat marred the enjoyment of the game. One of the Toronto players, named O'Neil, during the second game deliberately bit Simpson and McDonnell, two of the home team and came very nearly getting into trouble. If ever the Toronto men play again they had better leave the "Cannibal" at home, or he may not fare as well as he did here. Such work may take well enough in "the Ward" but the Peterborough people are civilized and flesh chewers like O'Neil are sent to penitentiary from this vicinity. We hope that Mr. McNaught will take cognisance of the above fact and bring it before the association, to which body we understand the "Independents" belong.

Now the Peterborough men will get to work and practise and we will undertake to say that on the First of July they can produce a team that can with ease defeat the same team from the "Queen City."

THE ATHLETIC SPORTS.

The athletic sports and games passed off splendidly. There was a large attendance and the number of entries was large. We are obliged to withhold for the present a list of the prize winners.

THE BATTERY.

The Battery turned out and fired a salute of 21 guns in the Court House Park.

Adjourned Sale.

Fire.

We regret to chronicle that the barn of Mr. Richard Parnell, of Smith, was destroyed by on Wednesday afternoon. We have not learned full particulars, but understand that the fire was caused by firecrackers. A horse, a cow and two calves were burned.

A SAD EVENT.

A Lad Supposed to be Drowned in the River—His Body Still Undiscovered.

On Tuesday morning Thomas Barrett a lad of 17 years of age, the son of Mr. Cole Barrett, left his home at 8 o'clock with the intention of fishing at the Lock. As he did not return in the evening, his father became anxious and went to look for him, but could find no trace of him, nor had some men who were working at the dam seen anything of him.

On Wednesday morning the father renewed his search, and on the pier of the dam at the Ashburnham side found a fragment of his son's fishing rod. About a quarter of a mile down the river he also found his son's hat in the water, but blown against the shore.

He could find no trace of the body, but there can unfortunately be no doubt that the lad fell in to the river, and in the present state of the water escape would be almost impossible. As he was not observed by the men at the dam, he probably met his sad fate almost immediately after his arrival at the river side.

Mr. Cole Barrett is no canoe man, so cannot himself make a very effective search, and as he is not in a position to offer a substantial reward, it would be a good action for anyone who can go down the river to make a search for the body.

The Weather.

The weather yesterday was fine but cold, and to-day has been somewhat warmer. The weather probabilities for this district reported from Toronto at 10 a.m. to-day for the following twenty-four hours, as by the Great Northwestern Telegraph Company, are as follows:— All Canada—moderate winds fair weather stationary or higher temperatures.

WHY ARE WE BILIOUS?—Why do we have sick headache? Why do we feel weak and tried with little or no appetite? Why that coating of the tongue and that bad taste of the mouth? Your liver is out of order, and does not do its work as nature designs. Baxter Mandrake Bitters act directly on the liver, stomach and bowels, and will relieve you at once. They are the best medicine known for costiveness, which is the starting point of ninety-nine cases out of a hundred of all the complaints that human flesh is heir to.

TO PREVENT FEVERS, Bilious Colds and Ague; to tone up the system and purify the blood, try a course of Dr. Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters. In large bottles at 50 cents. J. D. Tully, Agent

THE CONTENTED MAN,

Who is He?

The discussion of this question by an able lecturer was listened to a few evenings ago with interest by large audience.

We venture to think that one of this class may be represented by the head of a family, who has been instructed to purchase a supply of that essential commodity for the table—TEA.

He has an indefinite idea that the article ought to be cheaper on account of the removal of the duty, but when he finds that he can save 10 cents per lb., instead of 5 he is jubilant.

THE CONTENTED MAN is he who gets the full benefit of the reduction of the duty on his tea for this year by making a saving of, say $3.00 on a purchase of 30 lbs.

Prove it by inspecting my stock of JAPANS AND YOUNG HYSONS.

A leading line of sweet and good drawing JAPAN offering at 35 cents, formerly sold at 45 cents.

Daily Evening Review

FRIDAY, MAY 26, 1882.

MR. ROXBURGH AND THE T. V. C.

IN his address to the electors of East Peterborough, Mr. Roxburgh promises to support by his vote and influence the construction of the Trent Valley Canal, and dwells upon its importance and upon the benefits that would be derived from it.

Mr. Roxburgh could not have given a better reason to the electors for refusing their votes to him and giving them to Mr. Burnham.

However much Mr. Roxburgh may favour this project individually, he would, if unfortunately he should be elected, go to Parliament pledged to do his utmost to overturn the existing administration and to place in power the so-called "Reformers." That is, he would remove from office the Ministers who, from the time their attention was called to the project, have favoured it, and have pushed it on as rapidly as possible, visiting it personally, causing it to be surveyed, and then making the appropriation of $290,000 for construction. He would place in power a party whose leaders have ridiculed the idea of the project, have opposed the grants for it, and have persistently thwarted its progress. However well Mr. Roxburgh may be disposed in this respect, what would his vote and influence be worth with, say, Mr. Mackenzie at the head of the Department as formerly, when he has publicly proclaimed the project a folly, and expenditure upon it a waste of the public money.

If we want the Trent Valley Canal—and who does not?—we should keep its friends and not its opponents in power.

THE TARIFF.

MADRID, May 25.—At the council of Ministers to-day there was revealed a difference of views on the tariff policy between Premier Sagasta and the Minister of Finance, of the Colonies, and of Public Works. No decision, however, was arrived at. The favourable reports of the authorities on the state of the crops after the last nine days rain-fall have decided the Ministers to adjourn the proposed suspension of the import duties on corn.

THE JEWS IN RUSSIA.

ST. PETERSBURG, May 25.—A St. Petersburg despatch says:—The Governor of Kieff has issued a proclamation to the inhabitants of Balta declaring that the authors and instigators of Jewish outrages will be tried by court-martial and that if the number of police is insufficient to prevent outrages, the military will be used. The chief of the Balta police has recommended the Jews to remain calm, and has assured them of the immediate repression of all attempts at outrage.

AGRARIAN TROUBLES.

ST. PETERSBURG, May 25.—The agrarian agitation in the Baltic provinces is increasing. It has been quieted in Courland, but the peasant in Pernau, in the district of Livonia, have now revolted.

THE BASQUE AGITATION,

MADRID, May 25.—The Captains-General of Catalonia and the Basque provinces report that the agitation is not spreading much since the appearance of small bands, which slowly retired toward the frontier before the troops.

SLAVERY IN CUBA.

MADRID, May 25.—A Cuban deputy, Senor Sibra, has presented a motion for the immediate abolition of slavery. The veteran Liberals, Democrats, and Republicans will vote for the motion, but the Cabinet declines to modify the law, fixing the abolition for 1888.

THE PRINCESS.

LONDON, May 25.—H. R. H. the Princess Louise sailed from Liverpool to-day for Canada.

A PEASANT PROPRIETARY.

VIENNA, May 25.—The peasants of Roumania have sent a petition to Parliament asking for the distrebution of the State domains among the peasantry. The petition will be opposed by the land owners.

THE INTERIOR OF EGYPT.

CAIRO, May 25.—Lamentable accounts come from the interior of Egypt of the disastrous results from the absence of administrative government, the neglect of all precautions for ensuring water for the crops, and the absence of labour, owing to the conscription. The natives come to Cairo entreating the protection of the British consul-general against the soldiery, stating how their villages are becoming deserted through fear.

ANGLO-FRENCH ULTIMATUM.

CAIRO, May 25.—England and France have delivered an ultimatum to Mahmoud Baroudi, stating that:—"Whereas, the President of the Chamber of Notables has proposed, as the only means of ending the distubance of the country, the temporary removal of Araba Bey from Egypt, with the retention of rank and pay, and the resignation of the Ministry; and whereas these conditions can prevent the misfortune of menacing Europe, we recommend them to the serious attention of the Ministry, and, if necessary, the two governments will exact their fulfilment. In intervening in the affairs of Egypt, England and France have no other object than the maintenance of the status quo, and they will use their good offices with the Khedive to obtain a general amnesty." The Government has been given twenty-four hours to come to a decision on the ultimatum. Arabi Bey, Minister of war, has made requisitions upon the workingmen's corporations for military works

AMERICAN.

DON'T GIVE IT AWAY.

NEW YORK, May 25.—The Sun's Albany special says a leading capitalist offers the Government $1,250,000 for the franchises of New York city, which the surface railway bill now before the Senate committee proposes to give away.

THE GUITEAU CASE.

WASHINGTON, May 25.—The District Attorney says no court can grant a writ de lunatico inquirendo, as has been suggested in the case of Guiteau, and the only move the counsel can make before the courts is to apply for a writ of habeas corpus. Guiteau seems confident that Mr. Reed will secure a respite, and perhaps a commutation of his sentence. The feeling against the assassin is becoming intensified, and it would not be safe to admit visitors to his cell. Gen. Crocker states that even if he was awaitiug trial they would, for the prisoner's protection, prevent him receving visitors. A prominent gentleman from New York who visited the gaol recently declined to see the assassin, saying he could not trust himself; he might end the job. Another party offered a hundred dollars for the privilege of pulling the rope. Quantities of scurrilous mail matter are received at the gaol daily for Guiteau. Many postal cards refer to the scaffold, hell, Satan, &c.

A CANADIAN'S FATE IN MICHIGAN.

EAST SAGINAW, Mich., May 25.—Yesterday the dead body of a man was found lying on his face in a pool of water ten inches deep near Pinconning, Bay county. On an examination of the body a small amount of money was found, an East Saginaw hospital ticket drawn to Robert Baker, and a baggage check on the Pinconning house. An examination of the bag for which the check called confirmed the opinion of the jury with regard to the man's name. The bag contained a quantity of good clothes, besides photographs and a letter from a Mrs. St. Charles, of Madoc, Ont., to her son James St. Charles. She was notified by telegraph of the finding of the body. A verdict of death from natural causes was rendered.

GAS vs. ELECTRICITY.

NEW YORK, May 26.—The price of gas stocks has fallen during the last two weeks from five to fifteen per cent. The cause of the decline is said to be the renewed agitation in favor of the electric light system.

NOT SO BAD.

NEW YORK, May 26.—It is now stated that Canon Bernerd did not steal two million frances from the Bishop of Tournay, Belgium, but brought it to this country for safe keeping and so protect the interests of the deposed Bishop. The new Bishop offered Goodhue, a Montreal lawyer, forty per cent commission for recovering the property. Bernard was found in Chicago earning his own living not having touched the Bishop's funds Bernard transferred the property to Goodhue who gave it to the Bishops lowyer in London. Goodhue was afterwards arrested in Belgium on a charge of being Bernard's accomplice but was released.

A BIG FRAUD.

ST. PAUL, Minn., May 26.—A New York Life Insurance Company sues its agent here, F. Studdart, for insuring to a fictitious person a policy for $5000 and collecting the amount. It is also alleged that Studdart placed a policy on the life of a consumptive with whose wife he had illicit relations, the man dying soon after. Several other crooked transactions are rumored. The whole amount of the frauds is said to be twenty or thirty thousand. This is however regarded as an exaggeration. It is also alleged that Studdart while sub-Inspector of the Constabulary force obtained several thousand pounds from the British Government through fraudulent vouchers.

VALUABLE QUOTATIONS!

THE Globe of the 23rd of May devotes a good deal of space to enlightening (?) "our farmers" as to their "losses by the N. P." and in the course of its article favours its readers with numerous quotations of prices intended to give force to statements which are coming to be received with considerable doubt by even the most credulous of its readers. Unfortunately for itself, but happily for us, it on this occasion ventures to give us the figures for the "present time," and in so doing enables us to form some ides of the correctness of its other quotations. In the article to which we are referring, the Globe says that on May 19th, No. 1 spring wheat was worth $1.37 in Toronto, and No. 1 hard Duluth, worth $1.68 in Buffalo, and that after allowing "six cents for the difference in value between No. 1 spring and No. 1 hard Duluth, which is ample," the Toronto price is twenty-five cents the lowest. Believing that this was just proving a little too much, we turned up the Globe of the 20th and in its commercial columns we find, under the head of Buffalo, a sale of No. 1 hard Duluth on the 19th at $1.67 and a sale of No. 2 Chicago spring at $1.30, while a sale of No. 2 Canada spring is reported the same day in Toronto at $1.35½. If we are not very much mistaken, Chicago No. 2 is quite as good as No. 1 Canada spring of the present day, indeed it has frequently been alleged that the American is not only the best, but is a necessity to our millers, but whatever the merits of No. 1 hard Duluth, it is perfectly obvious that that the latter wheat cannot be compared with Canada spring, and that it is a fraud for the Globe to institute such a comparison. The prices we have quoted, and to which the Globe appeals, instead of proving its case, proves that spring wheat is worth from five to seven cents more in Toronto than a similar wheat was worth on the same day in Buffalo. Moreover we have to note that Canada spring was quoted in Montreal on the 20th at $1.38 to $1.40, showing that the Toronto price is of anything relatively higher than that of Montreal, for this particular grade of wheat—all of which cannot be successfully accounted for in any other way than through the N. P., and the very best evdience that such is the case, is the fact that its opponents never discuss the subject without in some way falsifying the record.

TRENT VALLEY NAVIGATION.

WE are told that if Mr. Blake came into power as the result of the coming election, the progress of the Trent Valley Navigation would be equally secure in the hands of the Reform party. We know the contrary too well. It cannot be forgotten how their Minister for this portfolio has pertinaciously opposed and ridiculed the scheme, without a word of protest from any of their leaders. We know how their ally, the Ontario premier, endeavored to destroy the works on the Trent, and encouraged the idea of obstructing navigation at the other end of the route by lowering the level of Lakes Simcoe and Couchiching.

And now we have another evidence to submit to our readers of the hostility of the Reform party to this important project. The Montreal Herald, one of the leading journals of the party, has an editorial on the subject, which from its gross ignorance of the facts and the violence of its condemnation, might almost have been written by Mr. Mackenzie himself.

The following is the disgraceful article to which we refer, and which will be read with equal astonishment and disgust by every one in this district:—

"The completion of the Trent Valley Canal is predicted. We hope it may be, but we are extremely timorous about it, and with very good reason. We have under our hand at the time of writing, every report which has yet been made on the scheme, right down to date, and from personal investigation we can certify to the questionableness of it. If the Province of Ontario is willing at a cost, which would enhance its expenditure to but a trifling extent, it might make the folly of the work clear to every one. The Province has lost enough already on this account. Our maps are very imperfect, but we can roughly sketch the course of this most expensive canal. It has neither an Alpha nor an Omega. There is not a single mile of which but would drive a Mississippi pilot mad. There is not a yard of it which is safe for navigation. We are speaking now of the stretches on which so many millions have been spent. Who knows anything at all about the route or utility of this precious canal! No man living—that is the blunt and true reply. Those who have traversed the route, and they have been mostly Government officials, have laughed at the idea. Those who write these lines know what sort of a country it is through which this mock canal would feebly and humbly trickle, too weak by far to raise a murmur which would have any effect whatever in a poetic mind. The district traversed by this strain is for the greater part a most dreary one; here and there you miss the brooklet, now and then it widens out a little, it is here and there deep enough for steamboats to wrestle with its shallowness, then come snags and a fast-flowing stream, and then a wharf and a request from the captain to go ashore. This is only a specimen of the canal on which it is proposed to waste public money. We may have something more to say regarding it, but the Trent Valley Canal is an undoubted sham."

THE POPULAR VERDICT.

We quote the following from the speech of Sir L. Tilley, at the recent meeting at Ottawa:

"We might have held our position with a majority of eighty at our back in Parliament, and comfortably administered the affairs of the Dominion for the next eighteen months. But we felt that it was in the interests of the people of Canada that we should put ourselves and our policy before the people of the country. (Cheers.) As an illustration: Within the last three months two gentlemen from the United States were brought here by men who are interested in the richest iron deposits of the continent of America, perhaps of the world. One of the gentlemen represented a capital of $2,000,000 in the United States, and the other a capital of $5,000,000. The gentleman who came here as representing $2,000,000, sitting in my office, said he came for the purpose of investigating the character of our iron deposits in this vicinity, and to report to the gentlemen of capital whom he represented, and for the purpose of ascertaining what the policy of the Government would be with reference to that industry. I said to him that it was declared in Parliament in 1879 that though steel was made free for a period, it was only free until it could be manufactured in the Dominion of Canada, and then a duty can be imposed, that we had imposed a duty on pig iron, and that we had increased the duty upon bar iron, and with reference to the policy of the Government in the future, that if it varies at all it will be more in the direction of protection even than it was in 1873. But, said he, there is another question you have not answered, that is: is this policy likely to be sustained by the people? I replied that there is no doubt of it. (Applause.) What was his answer? He says, "The Canadian paper most read in the United States is the Toronto Globe, and that paper says that when the next appeal is made to the people of this country they will reverse the decision and return to Free Trade. (Voices—No, no.) I said to him, "You need not be alarmed on that score, because I will ask you to look at what has taken place since the elections of 1878. It has been unprecedented in the political history of any country in any part of the world. We know that from the day a Government is formed we cannot give everything to our friends, who ask sometimes like the boy who, wanting something from his mother and not getting it, said to her, "If you do not give me what I want I will go across the road and catch the measles. Like the boy some is willing to run across the road and catch the measles. (Laughter.) Therefore, it is a common thing, it is universal I may say, that from the day the Government is sworn in they lose a certain number of their friends and supporters. But since 1878 we have had ten elections—that is, we have lost only two seats and grained six in the odd elections that has taken place, making our majority eight more to-day than when the House met in 1878. (Tremendous cheering.) I point you to this fact in order to show beyond a doubt what the spirit of our people is with reference to the policy that the electors declared in 1878 should be the policy of the Dominion Government. (Hear, hear and cheers.)

A CHEAP TRICK.

The Hamilton Spectator thus describes the bearing of one portion of Mr. Blake's manifesto:—

The manifesto begins with a denunciation of the Redistribution bill. We should have more respect for Mr. Blake's utterances on this subject had he expressed the same views on former occasions; but while we read his cheap indignation we cannot but remember that ten years ago he was just as indignant because the Government had not done what he now blames it for doing. Then Mr. Mackenzie moved, and Mr. Blake supported, a resolution censuring the Government for not dividing up counties and apportioning the new seats on the principle of representation by popularity, just as now they censure the Government because it has done so. We should also have more respect for this manufactured indignation if a little of it had been expended on Mr. Mowat's bill of 1874, which went much farther than the present bill in dividing municipalities, even running the lines along boundary fences and slicing villages in two, while rep. by pop. was not considered. As Mr. Blake had no censure for that bill, it is evident that his censure of this is not an expression of his conviction, but a cheap trick of the professional politician.

SCHOOL HOURS AND EXERCISE.

To the Editor of the Review.

DEAR SIR,—Under the above heading I clip the following from a number of the New York Albion of 1860, and anent the late question of military drill in connection with our Collegiate Institute, which has been principally agitated by Mr. E. B. Edwards, it appears to me to be an article of such high authority and the result of a large field of investigation, that its reproduction may be found interesting to many of your readers. The subject of school hours, also, is one that should receive the attention of all parents, and did the article but take up the subject of proper hygienic principles for our schools I think the whole would form features whereby a vast improvement in the physical education of our schools in general might be effected.

Yours truly,

HEALTH.

SCHOOL HOURS AND EXERCISE.

Mr. Edwin Chadwick, whose name is identified with so many important social reforms, has of late been prosecuting an educational inquiry of great interest. He was, as our readers may remember, appointed by the British government a commissioner to inquire into the excessive labour of young persons in cotton factories. The results he obtained led him to propose measures, which were in part executed, for reducing the working time of children under thirteen years of age to six hours a day, and for ensuring their attendance at school the residue of the time, say three hours. The children under this provision are called "half timers;" and it turns out, according to Mr. Chadwick's investigations, that in well-conducted schools their attainments are quite equal to those of the "full timers," who attend school six hours daily, while in aptitude for application of their knowledge they are said to be superior. As they gain in bodily condition by the reduction of their physical labour, so they do in mental condition by the reduction of the time devoted to mental labour.

Mr. Chadwick made also a close examination of the best of the long time schools for young children, and found, upon the testimony of the most intelligent teachers, that they could not keep up voluntary attention to study beyond two hours in the morning and one hour in the afternoon. By force, even, they cannot get more than an additional half-hour of real attention, and that half-hour proves in the end a mental mischief, as well as a bodily injury. From these facts it would seem to follow, as he contends, that our school systems are a violation in this respect, of the laws of physiology.

Boys are enabled to repair the injury of undue mental work, to a certain extent, by their athletic games. Not so with girls. In boarding schools they are fastened to their sedentary occupations often eight hours a day, with but slight intervening relaxation or exercise. Mr. Chadwick finds that the daughters of mothers who have worked, but whose fathers have got on in the world, and have sent these daughters to day or boarding schools, and kept them from work, are shorter and generally of inferior strength to the working mothers; that the proportion of mothers of the well-to-do classes who can suckle their own children is diminishing; that among women who have one servant there are ailments which are unknown amongst women who have no servants; and that these ailments are worse with women who have two servants, and get very bad, indeed, and with new complications of hypochondria, amongst women who have three servants.

The remedies recommended by this gentleman are the reduction of the ordinary school hours by one half, and the devotion of them either to manual labour or gymnastics. But no form of exercise, he thinks, is equal to the naval and military drill. This he considers both in reference to the future personal welfare of the pupil, he contends that the drill is good for the correction of congenial bodily defects; that it gives an early initiation to all that is implied in the term discipline, namely: duty self-restraint, order, punctuallity, obedience to command, and patience; that it renders action prompt and easy, and adds to the efficiency and productive value of pupils in after-life. Looking to the welfare of the nation, he maintains that the military and naval drill is more effectively and permanently taught in the juvenile than in the adolescent or adult stages of life, and that if made generally prevalent, it would accomplish eventually, in a wider and better manner, the object sought to be obtained by volunteer military companies, which, by the interruption of productive occupations, are highly expensive, and that the juvenile drill would produce an immensely stronger and cheaper defensive force than is now produced by any means in use in any nation.

LAKEFIELD NEWS.

From Our Own Correspondent.

THE QUEEN'S BIRTHDAY.

The 24th passed off very tamely in Lakefield. The village had more the appearance of Sunday than that of a general holiday. The young folks spent most of the day out of the village, some went boating, fishing, or picnicing. The two junior cricket clubs were at the sport nearly all day. In the afternoon the Cruiser was crowded with excursionists for the Point. The day was rather chilly for comfort and hence the general outing usually taken on the 24th of May by the people of Lakefield was not so numerously patronized this year.

THE REV. G. WASHINGTON.

At the concert and social recently held at Selwyn, occasion was taken to present the following address by the members and friends of the Selwyn Methodist Church to the Rev. G. Washington, M. A.:—

DEAR PASTOR AND FRIEND,—It is with feelings of the deepest regret that we regard the speedy approach of the time when the bond that unites us, as pastor and people, must be severed. We take this opportunity of publicly expressing to you our heart-felt appreciation of your earnest and self-sacrificing efforts to benefit us since you came amongst us. In the three years during which you have ministered to us you have endeared yourself to us all, not only by the earnestness of your pulpit ministrations and the faithfulness which has characterized your preaching, but also by the geniality and ready sympathy which you have ever manifested in our personal intercourse with one another, as you have visited us from time to time in our houses. It is not necessary to refer to the details of your work here, but we desire to express our gratitude to you for two special instances of self-sacrifice and earnest effort on your part. We consider you deserve our hearty thanks for the assistance you so cheerfully gave in more ways than one last year when our church was being built. We have now a neat and commodious sanctuary in which to worship God, in connection with which we shall ever remember your name. For your deep and steady interest in conducting among us a weekly Bible class we desire also to express our gratitude, and we pray that the seed which has been sown there from week to week may speedily bring forth fruit to God's honor and glory. We desire you to accept as a very slight evidence of the esteem in which we hold you this "autograph quilt," and we trust that in future years you may look upon it, when perhaps far away from here, with none but pleasant thoughts associated with your reminiscences of Selwyn. Your removal from among us will leave a gap which it will not be easy to fill, but we trust that, though removed from us, you may long be spared to labor in the vineyard of the Master. We trust, too, that your new field of labor, wherever it may be, may be a pleasent one and that God's blessing may follow your labors therein. In our wishes and prayers for your prosperity, both temporal and spiritual, we would join with your name that of your esteemed wife, Mrs. Washington. Trusting that Heaven's choicest blessings mas be given you in your toil, we bid you "God-speed," in the noblest work to which man can devote himself.

Signed in behalf of the members and friends of the Selwyn Methodist Church,

ANNIE MCKEE,
J. HERBERT BURROW.

May 12, 1882.

MR. WASHINGTON in replying said he felt that the honor and kindness done him was very great, but it had been done by those who had always shown, and he believed always would show, an ardent and fixed purpose to co-operate in any toil tending to extend and establish the Kingdom of the Great Redeemer. He felt how feebly his work had been done, as compared with his wishes, his ideal, or their kind appreciation of it, but the noble spirit shown by the people he would ever remember. He had found it one of the special joys of his work to meet weekly in the bible class with so many whose attention and interest gave a sure guarantee that the seed was falling into "good ground." He hoped to keep to the end of life the valuable memento which to himself and wife would be associated with so many pleasing memories. He would rejoice to look over the names inscribed, each and all of whom he hoped would be associated with Christ's army and family here and be found writsen for ever in the "Lamb's Book of Life."

The social in every particular was a success, netting $13.00 for the Sunday School.

TWO CRICKET CLUBS.

The old saying, it never rains but it pours, was verified this week in two junior cricket clubs being started in this village. The Lakefield cricket club has become disorganized and went down among the things of the past. The bats, balls etc. were offered to the young folks if they would organize a club, so two parties went at it and got the ads out about the same time. It was finally arranged that there should be two clubs, one to be composed of members over 17 years of age and the other of members under 17 years of age.

CRICKET MATCH.

The boys attending Mr. Sheldrake's school near Lakefield, and 11 boys from Peterborough, played a match on Saturday the 20th inst., on the Lakefield cricket ground. The weather was splendid and the boys played excellently considering their ages. The Peterborough boys were victorious.

THE LATE COL. MACKENZIE.

Interment of the Remains at Barrie—Nearly Two Miles Long.

BARRIE, May 24.—The funeral of the late Col. Mackenzie, which took place to-day, was the largest ever witnessed in the county of Simcoe. The remains lay in state in the drill shed during the day, guarded by a detachment of his old regiment, the 35th battallion Simcoe Foresters, and were visited by thousands, who came to look upon all that remained of one who during the past 35 years has been a prominent citzen of Barrie, and whose many gentlemany qualities had endeared him to the hearts of all. It is doubtful if a more popular man could be found in the county of Simcoe. The funeral procession was formed at three o'clock, and was in the following order:—Escort, band, corps, mourners, officers in uniform, non-commissioned officers, men in uniform, officers and men not in uniform who had served with the deceased, Mayor and Corporation of Barrie, members of the County Council, Warden, Sheriff, County Judge, and county officials, clergy, carriages, public on foot. The funeral procession at the start must have been nearly two miles long, and the dirge-like strains of the Dead March in Saul from the 35th Battalion band added solemnity to a scene already sorrowful in the extreme. The firing party was formed principally of men taken from Col. Mackenzie's old company; men who drilled with him through many a year and who had followed him through the trying times of the Fenian raid. The body was placed in the grave with the usual military honours. The last gun was fired, the last rite read, the last song sung and the mournful pageant was ended. In Col. Mackenzie our volunteer force lost one of its brightest lights. Col. Denison and several officers of his staff from Toronto were present, as well as many officers from the surrounding counties.

Sawdust Fuel.

George F. Brott, of Louisiana, and Platt B. Walker, of Minneapolis, have undertaken to solve the sawdust problem by means of a process for utilizing sawdust as a portable fuel, for which they have secured a patent. The process consists simply in mixing the sawdust with peat, the latter forming a cohesive paste, which when dry, results in a solid compound, that cannot be easily fractured, and can be as easily transported as wood or coal. Mr. Brott is now superintending the construction at Philadelphia of the necessary machinery for the purpose.

THOUSANDS suffer untold miseries from Nervous Weakness, Pain in the back, and other distressing symptoms arising from disordered Kidneys. Burdock Blood Bitters is the Sovereign remedy. Trial bottles 10 cents.

SWINBURNE is about to publish a new volume of poems. The principal poem in the volume will be on the subject of "Tristram and Iseult," a subject which Tennyson had previously dealt with in his "Idyls of the King."

THERE has been a row in a London club about a member introducing a jockey, and the statement by the offender that the jockey is far better off than most of the complainants, inasmuch as he is making some $25,000 a year, dosen't mend matters.

TO PREVENT FEVERS, Bilious Colds and Ague; to tone up the system and purify the blood, try a course of Dr. Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters. In large bottles at 50 cents. J. D. Tully, Agent

KATE CLAXTON, the actress, had a lady visitor at a Cleveland hotel, and the head waiter, mistaking her for a maid, placed her at the servants' table. After an explanation had failed to rectify the error, the waiter was thrashed by Kate Claxton's husband, who was fined $5 in a police court.

ENJOY all the good things of life, and keep St. Jacobs Oil convenient in case of rheumatism. Such would seem to be the view of Mr. Roberts, business manager of the Milwaukee (Wis.) Sentinel, who says: "I believe St. Jacobs Oil to be the very best remedy known to mankind."

"THE crowned heads of Europe" seem very favorable inclined towards American juvenile periodicals. An empress and a queen are known to be regular subscribers to St. Nicholas, and now it is said that the Prince of Wales takes six copies of that magazine for the young people in his household.

A NEIGHBOUR Gave me a dose of Dr. Smith's German Worm Remedy and it removed a large number of worms from my children, after all so-called worms medicines failed.—Thomas McElligott, 51 Anderson street, Montreal. 25 cents of J. McKee Peterborough.

ROBERT BUCHANAN, the author, has just returned to England from a matrimonial expedition to Switzerland, where he was married to his sister in-law, Miss Joy, author of the "Queen of Connaught." Marriage with a deceased wife's sister, which is unlawful in England, is lawful in Switzerland.

BOYCOTTING took the queer form in Leavenworth, Kansas, of a demand of a barber to discharge a workman because he had signed the total abstinence pledge. The boycotters were the proprietors and employees of the hotel in which the shop was, and they did not like to see the business of the barroom injured.

BRIGHT'S DISEASE, DIABETES.—Beware of the stuff that pretends to cure these diseases or other serious Kidney, Urinry or Liver diseases, as they only relieve for a time and make you ten times worse afterwards, but rely on Hop Bitters, the only remedy that will surely and permanently cure you. It destroys and removes the cause of disease so effectually that it never returns.

Now that the sellers of soda water are engaged in polishing up their fountains for the summer trade, it will interest the public to know what kind of syrups it is going to have. In reply to a correspondent, a pharmaceutical journal recommends the following for a raspberry syrup; Butyric ether, 60 drops; acetic ether, 40 drops; sweet spirits of nitre, 10 drops; glycerine, 20 drops; alcohol, 2½ ounces, and tincture of alkanet sufficient to color. The idea of introducing anything like raspberries seems to have been lost sight of.

THE DOCTOR'S SECRET.—Probably no new development will more surprise the public, than to learn the secret of success of certain leading physicians. When they have a difficult case of throat or lung disease that baffles their scientific skill, they prescribe Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, Coughs and Colds, having it disguised in a prescription bottle, with their own directions and name attached. The patient is cured and they get the credit.—Tribune. Trial bottles free at Taylor & McDonald's Drug Store. Large size $1.—2

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—An EXTERNAL MEANS of CURING SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic; whilst old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalculæ which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produce a clear, healthy natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION, a FLUID peculiar in itself, is the most potent enemy to all Skin Disorders. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the least degree comparable for its Healthy Action on the Human Skin.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. Startin, and every year it is used adds more and more favourably to its widly increasing reputation. Anyone, however deeply and hopelessly afflicted with Skin Disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent in a diminished appearance of the malady, a growing tendency to fade away, and complete obliteration of the eruption.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—BOTTLES CONTAINING NEARLY HALF A PINT.—SOLD BY CHEMISTS EVERYWHERE. Made in London, Eng.

Daily Evening Review

FRIDAY, MAY 26, 1882.

Lacrosse.

A meeting of the Lacrosse Club is called for Monday evening next. There will be important business.

Adjourned Sale.

The adjourned sale of Mr. Dumble's lots (Block B. Smithtown Hill) will come off on Saturday night next at 8 p. m. at Stapleton's Auction Room, Market Block. The terms are easy.

Court of Revision.

The Court of Revision for 1882 was called for Thursday evening, but as only Messrs. Rutherford and Menzies filed an appearance, no meeting could take place. They will probably meet on Tuesday evening next.

The Circus.

Mr. Burke the advance agent of Myers and Sorby's great circus, etc., has made arrangements for the Company to preform here on the 15th of June next. From our exchanges we learn that the circus is a good one and is well worthy of support. We have no fear but that the tents will be crowded here at each performance.

The Herndons.

The Herndon Company played "Kathleen Mavourneen" and "Solon Shingle," to a rather slim audience last night. It is a well known fact that this company always give a good entertainment, and it has often puzzled us to know why they are not better patronized. Perhaps a more liberal use of printers ink might have a good effect. The show last night was above the average and gave the best of satisfaction, both plays being put on with every attention to detail.

Drowned.

On the Queen's Birthday a man named Thomas Lancaster, married, aged about 50 years, who resided near Bewdley, was drowned near the head of Rice Lake. He was trolling in a punt and was noticed to fall into the water, by some men who were fishing close to him. Those who saw the accident at once rowed to the place where Lancanter was seen to go down, but could render no assistance as he did not rise to the surface again. He was probably entangled in the weeds. He leaves a widow and family. At last accounts the body had not been found.

Y. M. C. A.

At the meeting of the Railway Employees Young Mens' Christian Association recently held at St. Thomas, we learn from the London Free Press that among the other business transacted a report of the committee appointed to mature a plan for arranging a Dominion Railway Committee as auxillary to the Provincial Executive of the Y. M. C. A. was brought in, advising the selection of the following persons to be submitted to the Provincial Executive at Toronto, and to the International Committee at New York, for the purpose mentioned above, and the report was adopted as follows:—

Belleville—J. J. Ross, Wm. Muir.
Port Hope—E. W. Douglas, Willian Whitney.
Peterborough—G. A. Cox, J. F. Jeffers, J. F. Holden, Mr. Boundrett.

Fire at Port Hope.

A dastardly attempt was made on Wednesday to burn out the Weekly News office at Port Hope, owned by W. J. R. Preston. An entrance was effected through one of the rear windows, and the fire fiend thoroughly saturated the staircase with an inflammable oil, and also started another fire among the papers up stairs. Owing to the prompt action of the night watchman the alarm was given, and the fire brigade was on the spot in short order. Owing to the inflamable nature of the oil used, the flames made rapid headway, soon enveloping the press and job rooms. All that was combustible about the Wharfdale and Gordon press was destroyed, together with a large quantity of wood type and some forms of metal type. The flames spread to the adjoining premises, which were occupied by W. G. Stevenson, merchant tailor, completely destroying his books, papers and a large part of his stock. The buildings were completely gutted, so that what was not injured by fire was seriously damaged by water. The authorities are satisfied that the fire was the work of an incendiary and believe they are on the track of the scoundrels. Mr. Preston was insured for one thousand dollars and Mr. Stevenson for three thousand on their stock. The publication of the News will be delayed for a few days.

Midland Railway Traffic Returns.

The traffic of the above railway for the week ending May 20th, 1882, was as follows:—Passengers and mails, $4,565.71; freight, $14,446.66; total, $19,012.37, as compared with $16,994.30 for the corresponding week of 1881, being an increase of $2,018.07; and the aggregate traffic to date is $334,001.42, being an increase of $100,621.96 over 1881.

West Durham.

A telegram from Millbrook, received too late for yesterday's edition, informed us that Colonel Williams received the unanimous nomination of the Liberal Conservative party, for the Commons, for West Durham. The prospects are that he will carry the riding by a larger majority than he received in 1878. Mr. J. R. Dundas, of Lindsay, will be the N. P. standard bearer for South Victoria.

The Weather.

The weather to-day is fine but withal cool and not uncomfortable. The weather probabilities for this district for the following twenty-four hours, as reported from Toronto at 10 a.m. to-day, by the Great Northwestern Telegraph Company, are as follows:—Lakes and upper St. Lawrence—Moderate to fresh winds, fair weather with showers in some localities, slightly higher temperature.

Waterworks.

Satisfactory progress is being made with the construction of our long-talked of and much desired waterworks. The pipes are now being distributed along Smith street and another consignment has arrived at Montreal and will be here in a few days. As soon at there are pipes enough on hand the work of laying will commence. Mr. Kinsella, a practical man, of Ottawa, has the contract for laying them down. Petitions are now being prepared by the residents of all the principal streets of the town and will be presented to the Council, probably at its next meeting.

A Word of Caution.—As is usually the case where an article of true merit has attained a world-wide reputation by its wonderful results, as the celebrated Electric Bitters have done, certain unprincipled parties have endeavored to imitate them, and expect to induce an unsuspecting public to purchase their fraudulent wares. Ask your druggist for the genuine Electric Bitters, that are guaranteed to cure, and take no others. Sold by Taylor & McDonold at 50c.

Brilliant Scientific Triumph.—Thousands cured of catarrh, bronchitis, asthma and lung disease by Dr. M. Souvielle's Spirometer, an instrument which conveys medicinal properties direct to the parts affected. These wonderful instruments are used in all first-class hospitals, and prescribed by leading physicians. Full directions, for treatment sent by letter, and instruments expressed to any address. It is only since Souvielle's invention that lung disease are no longer feared until their very last stage. Write for particulars to Dr. M. Souvielle, ex-Aide Surgeon of the French Army, 13 Phillips Square, Montreal, and branch office 75 Yonge Street, 1 door north of King, Toronto. All letters must contain stamp for reply. d64-w11

POLICE COURT.

HOUSEBREAKING.

Thursday, May 25.—Thomas Purcell was charged with breaking into the house of Mrs. Udell on Elm street. Several witnesses were examined including the prosecutrix, and from them, it was learned that the prisoner in company with several others, having heard that the house had a questionable name, went there and demanded admittance. They were told to go go away but insisted on going in and forced the door. The prosecutrix said that no damage was done, and that the door was an old one and it was not very strongly fastened.

Prisoner was found guilty, and fined $5 and $4.50 costs and three months in gaol. He went up.

T. V. C.

The Lindsay Post says that the survey of the location of the locks at Fenelon Falls was completed last Friday by Mr. A. Belcher, the engineer who has had charge of this detail. The survey strikes through, running north, from the point on the race known as the "Big Eddy," a short distance below the Falls. The line of the canal passes a few yards north of R. C. Smith's flour mill and comes out into the lake above the village, a distance of about one-quarter of a mile of cutting in all, including the locks. The office of R. C. Smith's lumber mills happens to be directly in the line of cut and will be sacrificed. This places the locks directly in the village, in fact the main street will have to be provided with a crossing over the canal in the shape of a swing bridge. Another route has been surveyed but it would be of much greater length. The locks would be placed in this case as near deep water as possible some distance below Green & Ellis's saw mill, the canal coming into the lake west of the Victoria railway bridge. The lifts in the latter case will be a trifle higher to overcome the difference in fall of the stream at the village and below the mill.

Medicines taken into the Stomach in concentrated form such as Pills and Powders, are most injurious. The great substitute for these nauseous litttle Calomel pills is Dr. Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters. They cleanse the bowels stimulate the Liver and Kidneys, and cure all stomach disorders, such as Dyspepsia and Indigestion. In large bottles at 50 cents. J. D. Tully, Agent.

In the Spring of the year almost every one requires a good Blood Purifier, more especially in the month of May. We would earnestly advise our readers to try Dr. Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters. A few doses will soon convince you that it is the best remedy known for affections of the stomach, Bowels, Liver and Kidneys. In large bottles at 50 cents. J. D. Tully, Agent.

Why suffer from Indigestion and Dyspepsia when Burdock Blood Bitters will positively cure these ailments? A trial bottle only costs 10 cents.

Kendall's Spavin Cure

ON HUMAN FLESH.

Thousands of trials on Human Flesh has proved voud a doubt that "Kendall's Spavin Cure has sufficient strength to penetrate and virtue to cure the worst cases of rheumatism, corns bunyons, frostbites or any bruise, cut or lameness which are not affected in the least by ordinary liniments. It does not blister, but on the contrary, removes all soreness.

Dunham, P. Q., March 10th, 1879.

Dr. B. J. Kendall & Co., Gents:—About a year ago I fell in the road on to some ice and was badly hurt in the hip joint, which caused me much suffering. I tried various remedies, but none gave relief until I tried Kendall's Spavin Cure, I applied it full strength twice a day for two weeks during last October, and it effected a perfect cure. I have since then been well and free from lameness. It is very valuable for man as well as or beast.

Yours truly,
Chester K. Green.

THE CONTENTED MAN,

Who is He?

The discussion of this question by an able lecturer was listened to a few evenings ago with interest by large audience.

We venture to think that one of this class may be represented by the head of a family, who has been instructed to purchase a supply of that essential commodity for the table—TEA.

He has an indefinite idea that the article ought to be cheaper on account of the removal of the duty, but when he finds that he can save 10 cents per lb., instead of 5 he is jubilant.

THE CONTENTED MAN is he who gets the full benefit of the reduction of the duty on his tea for this year by making a saving of, say $3.00 on a purchase of 30 lbs.

Prove it by inspecting my stock of JAPANS AND YOUNG HYSONS.

A leading line of sweet and good drawing JAPAN offering at 35 cents, formerly sold at 45 cents.

SATURDAY, MAY 27, 1882.

WEST PETERBOROUGH.

THE CANDIDATES FOR THE REPRESENTATION OF THE WEST RIDING.

Both Political Parties have Selected their Standard Bearers—A Full Representative Meeting of Conservatives, who are Confident of Success.

There was a full meeting of Liberal Conservative delegates, representing every portion of the West Riding, in the old Music Hall this afternoon, to select a candidate. Mr. Hilliard was persuaded to reconsider his determination, and to consent once more to become a candidate. His success is generally considered to be certain.

The Reform Convention also met this afternoon, and selected Mr. J. J. Lundy as their candidate.

THE COST OF LIVING.

IN another column we give the detailed statement of a prominent Toronto grocer, showing that the monthly bill of a mechanic was actually lower this year than in 1877. This fully agrees with what we are told by our own local grocers. Similar details as to articles of clothing would give an equally favourable result.

The truth is that under the N. P. the only articles of necessity, almost without exception, that are dearer, are farm products, by which our farmers are benefitted, and our mechanics with their higher wages can well afford to pay these prices. Yet the more unscrupulous Reform journalists, by falsely asserting that the duty is added to the price, pretend that the cost of living has increased. They dare not quote the figures for they well know that the truth would then be shown.

REVIEWS.

HEALTH AND HEALTHY HOMES IN CANADA.—In a volume which he describes on the title page as "A Short Work on Domestic and Public Hygiene," Dr. Robert Sproule, of Peterborough, gives the general public in a very readable form free from abstruse technical terms the latest scientific information bearing upon this very important subject. Unfortunately in Canada too little attention has been paid to our sanitary surroundings, without a proper regard to which, even the highest medical science is all but helpless, and nature's neglected laws have inevitably their fatal effect. Dr. Sproule from his varied services as a medical officer in tropical climes has had his attention more especially directed to the classes of disease, which are originated, and, fomented by natural decay or man's neglect of cleanliness, and from the official statistics of our Registrar-General's report he draws lessons in regard to this subject, for our information in Canada. It is evident that the death rate from these diseases is far higher in Canada than it should be, or than it would be if proper precautions were observed. But while giving these much needed warnings, our author points out in a very clear but thorough manner the cure for such evils. Our limited space would not permit us to give a full account of the subjects touched upon in this work, but a brief list of some of the principal topics will show its value. The opening chapter points out the importance of a favourable site, and gives rules to guide us in the choice. Then follow chapters on the relation of forests, swamps, etc., to health, on sewers and house drainage, etc., on water and water supply, climate and the seasons, food and its preparation, house isolation and ventilation, the skin and its requirements, disease and infection, and finally death and burial. Volunteers will value the hints for their guidance coming from one who has seen so many campaigns as Dr. Sproule. This is only a list of the principal points discussed, for a hundred others receive due attention. For instance in the chapter on water supply, we have a full account, with illustrations, of filtering apparatus, from that for a public water supply down to the little but effective pocket filter. This whole chapter indeed deserves especial attention; the analysis of water from surface wells similar to those in use in our own town will shock many a reader, but fortunately with good waterworks now under construction we will soon be freed from this danger. Numerous wood cuts help to explain the meaning of the text, and to render the work what it is, a compendium of sanitary science for popular information. In conclusion we will give a quotation:—

"Not only is the death-rate lowered in towns where sanitation has been properly attended to, and particularly the department of sewerage, but the average duration of life has been lengthened, and the books of many a general practitioner would show the dates of sanitary reform as plainly as the engineer's record, and much more forcibly, by the decrease of fever, diarrhœa, dysentery and allied complaints; yet to their credit be it told, these men are among the first to extend to humanity, in a spirit of worthy disinterestedness, the boons which will make their own income visibly decline."

This work, which bears the imprint of the PETERBOROUGH REVIEW office, may be obtained at this office or through any bookstore. The low price, 60 cents, need not deter any one from the purchase.

SENTENCED.

LONDON, May 26.—Albert Young, for writing a letter to the Queen's secretary threatening her Majesty's life, has been sentenced to ten years' penal servitude.

CARLIST RISING.

MADRID, May 26.—Several small bands of rebels have risen in Catalonia. The movement is Carlist in character, but the Government attach small importance to it, although symptoms of a rising are also reported in the Basque Provinces.

THE MINISTRY RESIGN.

CAIRO, May 26.—The Ministry has resigned after refusing the demands of England and France, and referring them to the Sultan.

WON'T SUBMIT.

LONDON, May 26.—It is reported that the Government has received a telegram stating that Arabi Bey is firmly resolved not to submit.

THEIR REPLY.

CAIRO, May 26.—The Ministry has sent the following reply to the agents of England and France:—"Your note trenches upon internal questions, in regard to which the powers have recognized the liberty of action of the Egyptian Government, and the Khedive is unable to discuss these points without infringing upon imperial firmans and international treaties, and without compromising the organic laws of the country. The Government will always be happy to follow your friendly counsels, but regrets in the present case its inability to comply with your note. If your Governments believe the question raised by you is not exclusively internal they must submit it to the great power under whose sovereignty Egypt is placed." The Khedive has accepted the resignation of the Ministry.

TO THE KHEDIVE.

CAIRO, May 26.—The President of the Council of Ministers has sent the following to the Khedive:—"Your acceptance of the ultimatum is contrary to the unanimous advice of your Ministers. As an admission of intervention by foreign powers this incident constitutes an infringement of the rights of the Sultan. We therefore tender our resignation."

NO FORCE IN EGYPT.

LONDON, May 26.—In the House of Commons to-day Sir Wilfrid Lawson (Radical) protested against a Liberal Government upholding the integrity of the Ottoman empire, and asked for a pledge that force will not be employed in Egypt. Mr. Gladstone stated that it was impossible to give such a pledge, but there is nothing at present making it likely that force will be necessary.

EVICTIONS.

LONDON, May 26.—In the House of Commons to-day a warm discussion took place concerning the evicted tenants of Lord Cloncurry. Mr. Dillon was willing to give a pledge that no violence would result if huts were allowed to be erected so as to save the evicted persons from going to the workhouse. Mr. Trevelyan said the evicted number 215 families. Huts could be erected, but intimidation would be sternly repressed. Mr. Trevelyan stated that the cases of the imprisoned suspects were continually under consideration.

SUSPECTS LIBERATED.

DUBLIN, May 26.—Nearly seventy suspects have been released during the past fortnight.

A REWARD.

DUBLIN, May 26.—A reward of two thousand pounds has been offered for information leading to the conviction of the murderers of Mrs. Smith; also rewards for private information leading to the same result, and for information leading to the conviction of any persons harboring the murderers.

CARDINAL McCABE.

DUBLIN, May 26.—Cardinal McCabe, in replying to an address this evening, strongly reprobated the murderers of Lord Cavendish and Under-Secretary Burke, and said he was convinced they were planned in America, and executed by imported assassins.

AUBURN, N. Y., May 26.—Mary Boyle a widow aged 55 drowned herself in a cistern yesterday. The body was discovered this morning. Deceased was subject to hallucinations.

BLOODY FIGHT.

MT. STERLING, Ky., May 26.—"Buck" Hampton and John Henry, between whom bad feeling has existed, met yesterday, both on horseback. After firing at each other until their ammunition was exhausted they dismounted and began clubbing each other with their pistols. Soon both fell exhausted and covered with blood. Hampton died in half an hour, and Henry's recovery is doubtful. The affair has created intense excitement, as both men are well known, and have hitherto borne excellent characters.

AN INFERNAL MACHINE ATTEMPT.

TROY, N. Y., May 26.—An infernal machine containing powder and a fuse, was found in the porch of the office of the Weekly News at Warensburg. An attempt had been made to fire the fuse. The inscription warned the former editor to leave town. He had offended some by his temperance principles.

THE MUSKEGON STRIKE.

DETROIT, May 26.—A Muskegon despatch of last night says the strike is ended. At a very strong meeting of the Labourers' Union this afternoon it was resolved that the members are released from all obligations, and can work as long and at any price they choose. Nearly three hundred men are working on the booms to-day, fifty of them old hand. The others will go to work in the morning. All the mills will start up next week.

THE EGYPTION CRISIS.

ALEXANDRIA, May 27.—It is asserted that the resignation of the ministry was in consequence of an order from the Porte. Sheriff Pacha will form a new ministry. There is great rejoicing over this turn of affairs as the exodus of Europeans had stopped business. There are some fears that the porte will press the Policy of reducing Egypt to the condition of a Turkish province.

BROOKLYN, May 27.—A four year old daughter of Ferdinand Rosette mysteriously disappeared on Wednesday while playing on the street. BROOKLYN, N. Y., May 27.—A safe weighing 17 tons fell yesterday, while being hoisted into a factory here. Wm. Rafferty was crushed to death.

A PURE INVENTIVE.

HARFORD, Conn., May 27.—It is now alleged that the story of Charles Way, Station Agent at East River, about his discovery of the attempt of five men to wreck a train on the Shore Line road after night, is a pure invention gotten up either by desire of notoriety or in hopes of obtaining promotion. Way stated that he was struck on the cheek with a stone, and shot in the arm. In fact he was not injured at all. Way was accompanied on the night in question by one Foster, who it is suspected assisted Way in putting the obstruction on the track. Further disclosures are expected which will warrant the arrest of Way and Foster.

THE GREAT TUNNEL.

NEW YORK, May 27.—It is stated that not a single life has been lost among those employed on the North Hudson River tunnel since the great accident of 1880. The work is being pushed forward with great rapidity. It is said that the greatest difficulties have now been overcome and the rest of the work will be comparatively easy.

GUITEAU AGAIN.

WASHINGTON, May 27.—It is understood that the purpose of the visit of Mr. Reed, Guiteau's counsel, to Boston is to apply to Justice Gray for a writ of habeas corpus.

BRADSTREET'S WEEKLY REPORT.

NEW YORK, May 27.—There were 124 failures in the United States and Canada reported to Bradstreets Journal during the past week, an increase of 8 over the preceeding week, and 23 more than the corresponding week of last year. New England States had 31, increase 10; Middle States 28, decrease 1; Southern States 13, decrease 8; Western States 38, increase 7; California and the Territorries 14, no change; Canada 5, decrease 9. Special despatches to Bradstreet Journal from twenty-five cities show that while trade has not materially improved during the week the weather generally has settled and the prospects now appear to be favourable for the crops. The industrial outlook is clouded and a widespread strike appears probable within the next ten days.

GUITEAU'S STRETCHER.

NEW YORK, May 27,—James Van Heiz of Newark has been asked by the authorities of Washington to superintend the hanging of Guiteau. $200 have been offered him for his services. Van Heiz has written that if he undertakes the works he will require a gallows similar to that in use by him in New Jersey to be used, and that he be allowed an assistant. He also asks that the compensation be increased. Van Heiz has conducted thirteen hangings in New Jersey, and is an expert hangman and is not credited with a single blunder. He has an improved gallows used by him. Van Heiz is a working carpenter.

MR. ROXBURGH'S ADDRESS

In no other way than upon the assumption that Mr. Roxburgh has been reading the Globe, and the Globe only, can we account for a man of his usual intelligence and probity issuing the address which he has done to the electors of the East Riding.

Outside of the Globe and those who take it as the Alpha and Omega of their information upon public questions, the bombast about the rights and privileges of Ontario being endangered, in which Mr. Roxburgh indulges, only excites a smile at the hypocrisy of those who, knowing better, use them, and regret for the ignorance of those who are led away by such clap-trap of words. The rights of Ontario are not endangered either by the refusal to confirm the Boundary Award or by the disallowance of the Rivers and Streams Bill, and no amount of bombast and fancy estimates can prove such to be the case. The Act of Confederation (not the Globe) declares that that part which formerly constituted the Province of Upper Canada SHALL constitute the Province of Ontario (see sec. 6), and no power short of the Imperial Parliament can alter the Act of Confederation. The men who are trying to "deprive" Ontario, we say, and we are prepared to prove it, are not Sir John Macdonald and his colleagues, but Mr. Roxburgh and his friends. Instead of standing upon our rights, they are asking to have our boundary fixed under another section of the Confederation Act, and under which nothing can be done without the consent of all parties, a section which men of no mean legal ability argue cannot be made to apply to this case so long as the boundary is undefined, and which, if correct, would render its confirmation by the Dominion and Ontario Parliaments so much waste paper. Moreover, it should be remembered that from the first time this question was raised Sir John Macdonald has always taken the same ground, viz., that this was a question that should be settled, not by arbitration, but by the highest legal tribunal in the land, and that Ontario is not now in the fullest possession of her rights is the fault, not of Sir John Macdonald and his colleagues, but of Mr. Mowat and his colleagues. Then we are told Ontario's rights have been infringed at the "nod and beck of a political supporter and partizan!" What right has been taken from a single individual in Ontario by the vetoing of the Rivers and Streams Bill? Not one! Every man's right stands to-day just where it did before this iniquitous measure, this bill to take from one man his property and give it to another, was sanctioned by Mr. Mowat's "brute majority." The veto power at most simply compells the Local Legislatures to leave things where they were. Hence it is simply absurd to to talk about our being "robbed" of our rights, as Mr. Roxburgh, no doubt through ignorance, does in his address. We hope he has not fallen into the same trap which another Grit candidate not a thousand miles from Peterborough did, allowing a certain editor to make suggestions as to its contents.

Then Mr. Roxburgh pins his faith to the political syndicate, which suddenly discovered that they would like to have a hand in the Pacific Railway, and at whose head was that would-be financier, Sir William Howland, whose able (?) management of the Ontario Bank would, no doubt, have caused foreign capital to flow into the company's coffers at a rate unprecedented in the history of financial operations, and upon terms much more favourable than was possible in the case of a company having for its President a man of Mr. Stephens' banking and business antecedents. Whether the heaven born financiers who formed the second Syndicate would ever have built the road or not, is of course matter of opinion, but this we do know, that they failed to step into the breach when Mr. Mackenzie was offering infinitely better terms. Then they could either see nothing in it or else like true Grit patriots they were looking for more. We all know that there is a class of men, who always wish they had bought, or are ready to buy after the thing is gone—after their offers cannot be accepted—doubtless Mr. Roxburgh has met such men in his time, and it is to this class the second Syndicate belonged, i.e. if their offer was ever intended as any thing else than an act in the farce which the party of hypocrisy are continually playing. But, how gingerly Mr. Roxburgh touches the N. P., is he afraid it will bite him? It is simply "the enormous taxes" that alarm him! He will do his best "to prevent the increase of monopolies" and he will seek to limit the expenditure to the absolutely necessary requirements of the Dominion, and in the next paragraph he tells us he will give his vote and influence in favour of that "vitally important enterprise the Trent Valley Canal." What a bundle of consistencies we have here! Mr. Roxburgh wants to cut down the enormous taxation through which alone we are getting the T. V. C. Mr. Roxburgh wants our expenditure limited to the absolutely necessary requirements of the Dominion, and yet professes to be in favour of the T. V. C.—a work which "those noble men who have so energetically sought to stay mis-government" have declared to be a worse than waste of public money. And finally Mr. Roxburgh desires to protect the "hard earnings" of the people of East Peterborough by taking the duties off bread and fuel, both of which they produce at home, and reimposing it on tea which they do not and cannot produce. What next!

Comparative Cost of Living for the Workingmen.

It has been alleged over and over again by the opponents of the National Policy that since its inauguration the cost of provisions has increased and that, therefore, the workingmen were sufferers. A complete and unanswerable refutation of that allegation is given by Mr. Bickerstaff, a prominent retail grocer on Queen street west, who does a large business with workingmen. That gentleman at a meeting of the Liberal-Conservatives of St. Andrew's ward on Tuesday last, was reported to have said that "in April, 1877, the amount of a certain workingman's monthly bill for groceries was $18. In April, 1882, taking the same articles of the same quality, the amount of the bill would only be $16.47." For the purpose of receiving further confirmation of the truth of that statement a reporter of the Mail waited upon Mr. Bickerstaff on Thursday, and was shown his books, containing a list of the goods furnished to the workingman referred to for the month of April, 1877, and the cost of the same, which is given below, as also the prices applicable to the same classes of goods as retailed by him at the present time:—

LIST OF GOODS FURNISHED.

	Cost 1877	Cost 1882
1 bag flour	$4 00	$3 45

It will be thus seen that the month's bill for April, 1877, was $18.37, and at the present time the bill would be $16.60, or $1.77 less now than in 1877. Mr. Bickerstaff also mentioned a few articles not enumerated in the above bill which are cheaper now than in 1877, some of them being nearly half the price.—Mail.

SPRINGVILLE.

MR. EDITOR,—Thanks to you for printing my last letter. Its errors were quickly spied by the vigilant eyes of our village critics. It was found too erroneous, first because Robert Lockie and Mr. J. Dunlop were included as villagers, second because it was indicative of idleness on the part of the writer. The first I shall rectify by styling this letter Springville and Vicinity, the second should be the reverse for be it remembered I have to struggle hard to gather any news at all.

Mr. Wright is busy wheeling his potatoes from the banks of Claddy to his new home.

It is reported that a young man in this vicinity has purchased a horse for twenty dollars and knows where he can purchase a buggy for one dollar. "Wont he cut a swell?" boys.

Thomas Bannan has got another excellent roadster.

Mr. Dunlop on hearing that the papers gave a brief account of the damage done to his house by fire, said, and why did they not give the price of it, which according to my estimation is five dollars?

One of the villagers received none of those elegant papers before mentioned, nor was his name in the Springville news, hence he considered himself slighted. Therefore, to gratify him I will give his name, trade and address, viz. Mr. William Bidgood, Blacksmith, Springville, North Monaghan, Ontario. He is the best workman in this township. His work is done in a style that may be imitated but not equalled.

The young man who was riding one of his yoke of oxen down Water street east, had such a sudden stop, just as he entered Maine street, that he fell off. He nor the oxen have not since been seen or heard of, but it is hoped that the injuries inflicted on him by the fall and on the oxen after he arose have not proven fatal.

It was a clear still dreary night,
And the moon o'er the land shone bright,
And brave Patrick Oh! so sweetly sang
That all the doors with one great clang,
Flew open and with people filled
To hear the music as it thrilled,
Through wood and plane, o'er hill and dale,
And the cats and dogs with faces pale,
Rushed to the house beneath the stove,
And quiet lay till the sun arose.
The night owls they began to flee,
And the foxes to old hollow trees
Ran for refuge. While brave Patrick,
Marched on and on with head erect,
His heart light and buoyant as air,
Till the shower (music) began to fair.

It generally thought by the people round here that it is a young man, not an old fellow like me, who is writing these letters, consequently by our critics he will be considered an indolent. I am very sorry to think that I caused the public to form such an opinion of him.

Yours,
WESTWARD.

LINDSAY.

THE SIGNS.—The Post says that our merchants have acceded to the situation must gracefully. There is not a sign to be seen projecting out over Kent-street., with the exception of those announcing the localities where tooth pulling is carried on and a lawyer's shingle or two. A clean sweep have been made, and every one will admit that the change is a great improvement, as far as appearance is concerned. Visitors from the country are strifle at sea as to the whereabouts of their favorite shops, having been accustomed to steer for either the longest, widest, lowest or ugliest sign in the offing, as the case may be. It is not likely that any further effort will be made to abolish the awnings. Many of them are of a very substantial character, and there is no denying their value or usefulness on either a hot or rainy day. If it was understood that no more would be put up and those now up come down within say a couple of years, merchants would have time to prepare a sinking fund for the purchase of awning cotton and irons.

VANDALISM.—Mayor Taylor has offered a reward of $20 for information such as will secure the conviction of the parties who pulled up the shade trees opposite the residences of Mr. Bradburn and Mr. Cooper. A reward will also be paid for information as to who attempted to set fire to the vacant premises adjoining the residence of the Rev. Mr. Hastie. Both of these acts were reprehensible in the extreme, and if the information is forthcoming a heavy penalty should be laid on the guilty parties. Had this attempt at incendiarism proved successful no one could tell where the next match would have been applied.

PRESENTATION.—A pleasing event was the presentation to Mr. C. E. L. Porteous, of a gift from the pupils of his drawing class at the institute, of a very handsome solid silver crayon holder, set with rubies, as a mark of their esteem and as a trifling compensation for much patient instruction given them by Mr. Porteous. The occasion was on Tuesday evening made a pleasent and enjoyable one. An address accompanied the token, to which Mr. Porteous made a suitable reply, thanking the members for the kind expressions of good will which their gift made apparent.

THE GAS WORKS.—The plans for the gas works have arrived and are in charge of Mayor Taylor, managing director. Tenders for putting up the necessary buildings are advertised for, and as soon as a satisfactory party takes the job the work will be gone on with. The locality is at the corner of William and Wellington-streets. It is expected that three months will see the works in operation.

FOR PAPER.—A large quantity of poplar wood is being shipped from this port to the Merriton paper mills. It is cut along the shores of Pigeon Lake and brought up on scows.

CRAZY.—Constable Garrett, of Minden, brought down by train on Thursday a woman out of her mind. She was provided with quarters at the county gaol.

HORSES.—The celebrated Quintal shipped off another batch of sixteen fine horses on Saturday last. The prices ranged from $50 to $150 each.

N. H. DOWNS' Vegetable Balsamic ELIXIR!

This valuable medicine is purely vegetable, the discovery of which was the result of many years' close study, in order to discover the cause, the symptoms and the cure—viz.:

Consumption, Coughs, Colds, Catarrh, Croup, Asthma, Influenza, Pleurisy, Hoarseness, Spitting Blood, Bronchitis,

and every species of oppression of the Chest and Lungs. In all cases where this Elixir has been duly administered its efficacy has been invariably manifested, convincing the most incredulous that is not incurable, if properly attended to.—Consumption, at its commencement, is but a slight irritation of the membrane which covers the lungs; then an inflammation, when the cough is more observable, but rather dry: then becomes loose and the pulse more frequent, the cheeks flushed and chills more common. This Elixir in curing the above complaints, operates so as to remove all morbid irritations and inflammation from the lungs to the surface, and finally expel them from the system. It facilitates expectoration.

CONSUMPTION

IT HEALS THE ULCERATED SURFACES

and relieves the cough and makes the breathing easy. It supports the strength and at the same time reduces the fever. It is free from strong opiate and astringent articles, which are so drying a nature as to be in great danger of destroying the patient; whereas this medicine never dries or stops the cough, but, by removing the CAUSE, generally destroys the hectic before the cough is entirely gone. Consequently, when the cough is cured the patient is well. Send address for pamphlet giving full directions for cure of pulmonary diseases. Price 25cts. and $1 per bottle. Sold everywhere.

DISTRICT INTELLIGENCE

CAMPBELLFORD.

HORSE TAKEN FROM THE STABLE.—The Herald says that a valuable mare belonging to Mr. M. A. Hawley, was taken from his stable, in this village, sometime during Sunday night or early on Monday morning. The intruder entered the stable through a small window at the south side of the building, unfastened the back door from the inside, and led the horse out. As soon as the loss was known, search was made by despatching one messenger to Hastings and another to Stirling, but a few hours later word was received that the horse had been seen near the Seymour West cheese factory. She was subsequently found on the roadside near the residence of Mr. Miller, about one mile west of the village. Who the person is that entered the stable or what the motive was in taking the horse therefrom is not known.

ACCIDENT IN THE MILL.—Mr. William Jordan, an employee in Mr. Dunk's saw mill, received a very serious, severe, and painful cut on the forehead, and through the eye, by a piece of wood which flew from a band saw, he was working one day last week. The eye was almost knocked out of its socket, and the pupil, we believe, is cut open. Two physicians waited upon the sufferer and recommended an operation by one skilled in the treatment of the eye. Mr. Jordan suffered intense pain soon after the occurence, and on Saturday morning he went to Kingston to undergo such treatment at the hands of an oculist as might be necessary. It is believed he will lose the sight of the injured eye, and probably require the entire removal of the eye-ball.

RUN OVER.—A year-and-a-half old child of Mr. W. Archer, Reeve, was run over by a buggy in which was seated two young men, at the intersection of Bridge and Front streets, on Friday last. The little fellow barely able to walk, had toddled out on to the road from the sidewalk during a few inattentive moments of its mother, who was in conversation on the corner of the street, and was not observed by the driver of the horse. It was thought when the child was picked up that it had received fatal injuries, but this impression gave way as it recovered from the fright received. Except that of a somewhat severe bruise on the hip, fortunately the little innocent is suffering from no injury.

NEW BRIDGE ACROSS HOARD'S CREEK.—A new bridge of the "Howe Truss" style, is now being built over the creek which crosses the railway track at Hoard's station. The mechanical work is under the superintendence of Mr. W. H. McKeel. This old railway veteran informs us that the work is slow and difficult. To secure a solid foundation he has had to dig fourteen feet below the surface. On the way thereto, two large oak trees buried several feet (we think he said seven) in the muddy deposit, formed obstacles of no small account to the workmen. These were removed at the expenditure of considerable time and labour.

NORWOOD.

THE "MCGREGOR HOUSE."—The Register says that the proprietor of the "McGregor House" having thoroughly over-hauled the inside of the hotel is now directing his attention attention to outward appearances by covering the roof with galvanized iron. This will not only improve the appearance of the house, but add greatly to the comfort of guest within, as heretofore the roof has leaked badly. Mr. T. Frazer has the contract, and, as, usual, is "rushing" the job through lively.

A COW KILLED.—Mr. R. Wigmore, of Belmont, had the misfortune, last week, to have a fine cow accidently killed. As far as the owner can judge, the animal had been lying on the road, and, before it could escape, was run over by a heavily laden waggon. And, as it occurred in broad day-light, there is not the first particle of an excuse for the guilty party—the name of whom has not yet been ascertained. Fast drivers should take warning by this and be more careful in future.

RUNAWAY.—Last Saturday as a son of Mr. Geo. Elliott's, of Asphodel, was driving over the bridge on Colborne street, an audacious youth threw a fire-cracker in front of the horse, causing them to start off at full speed. Mr. E. was thrown out, but pluckily retained the lines until they were brought to a standstill. Beyond a few bruises, Mr. Elliott received no injuries from the fall.

R. C. CHURCH.—The grounds of the R. C. Church, of this village, have been beautified considerably this spring. A row of maple and spruce trees have been planted in front of the Church, and a similar row on the lot adjoining—the property of the Rev. J. Quirk. The fences have also been overhauled. These improvements add greatly to the appearance of that quarter of the village.

A "FALL."—A tinsmith from Hastings was engaged, last week, to add several feet of pipe to the smoke-stack on Mr. N. B. Gould's Grist Mill, on Colborne St. The pipe was duly taken down, and the necessary number of feet added thereto. The next move was to raise it. This was also done. But judge of the dismay of the poor "tinker," when (the pipe) on reaching the perpendicular, suddenly bulged out in the centre, and, thus loosing its centre of gravity, came tumbling down to the ground. He didn't swear "nor nothin'!"

METHODIST.—The District meeting of the Peterborough District Methodist, Church, assembled in Norwood, Tuesday morning. The Chairman, Rev. J. Shaw, of Peterborough, presided, and the Rev. H. Manning, M. A., of Fraserville, was elected Secretary.

HALIBURTON.

FIRES.—A correspondent of the Independent says that there have been several fires in the neighborhood, arising from the settlers burning their fallows. The most serious loss is that of the English church in South Dysart, which caught fire from a burning fallow, and was totally consumed on Saturday afternoon. Mr Sunderland's fences were damaged at the same time as were also the fences of others in the neighborhood. There was a fire on the same day in Harburn, and Mr. Wilson's barn was burnt.

A SUMMER RESORT.—The observation was made by every stranger here that this place possesses all the qualifications for becoming the great summer resort of the Midland Counties. It is most romantically situated, embosomed among verdant hills hills with a lake of fairy like beauty, and the real original forest showing itself at every point untouched by man. Then again its the healthiest place in the world its spring water is delicious, and the Toronto city dweller can breakfast at home and be here to dinner. If some one would open a large summer hotel on the banks of the lake, there would be a fortune in it.

THANKS.—By the way, thanks to the influence of Mr. Burnham, the member of Parliament, the government have consented to give five thousand bass and five thousand salmon trout to be placed in these lakes. May Mr. Burnham receive the reward of the just, say I.

"I CAN'T get up early," said a poor victim to his doctor. "Oh, yes, you can," was the reply, if you'll only follow my advice. What is your hour of rising?" "Nine o'clock." "Well, get up half an hour later every day, and in the course of a month you will find yourself up at four in the morning."

BRIGHT'S DISEASE, DIABETES.—Beware of the stuff that pretends to cure these diseases or other serious Kidney, Urinry or Liver diseases, as they only relieve for a time and make you ten times worse afterwards, but rely on Hop Bitters, the only remedy that will surely and permanently cure you. It destroys and removes the cause of disease so effectually that it never returns.

THE next general convention of the Catholic Total Abstinence union of America will take place at St. Paul, Minn., on August 2nd. The indications are that it will be a great success. Bishop Ireland is taking a cordial interest in it and the St. Paul men promise a hearty welcome to the delegates.

"WE were seized a few mornings ago by a terrible pain in the left shoulder and neck," says W. F. Cook Esq., editor of the Canajoharie (N. Y.) Curier. "Having been favourably impressed for some time with the virtue of an article recommended for all sudden pains, and especially rheumatism, we thoroughly rubbed the offending part, and in less time than we write it, relief came. The article in question is St. Jacobs Oil, and we are loud in its praise.

A MAIDEN lady to her little nephew; "No, Johnny, you go to bed early, and always do so, and you'll be rosycheeked and handsome when you grow up." Johnny thought over this a few minutes, and then observed: Well, aunty, you must have sat up a good deal when you were young."

DR. PIERCE'S "Favorite Prescription" perfectly and permanently cures those diseases pecular to females. It is tonic and nervine, effectually allaying and curing those sickining sensations that effect the stomach and heart through reflex action. The back-ache, and "dragging-down" sensations all disappear under the strengthing effects of this great restorative. By druggists.

A CURIOUS action at law is that which has just been brought by a Bangor lawyer against the publishers of a history of Penobscot county. In the history the lawyer is reported as dead and receives a very complimentary obituary notice, but he considers that he has been damaged to the extent of $5,000.

WHY ARE WE BILIOUS?—Why do we have sick headache? Why do we feel weak and tried with little or no appetite? Why that coating of the tongue and that bad taste of the mouth? Your liver is out of order, and does not do its work as nature designs. Baxter Mandrake Bitters act directly on the liver, stomach and bowels, and will relieve you at once. They are the best medicine known for costiveness, which is the starting point of ninety-nine cases out of a hundred of all the complaints that human flesh is heir to.

A COW at Vicksburg, Miss., put her tongue through a lattice work, and a mule bit off four inches of it.

JOSEPH RAYTOY, of Simsburg, Me., aged 72, has just married the widow of his son, who died untimely at 30.

LIZZIE MOORE, of Fremont, Ohio, 17 years of age, has become totally blind. She had rubbed her eyes after touching a vaccinated arm.

EDWARD VANKUREN, of Brookside station, Wis., felled a large tree that had a hollow at the top, and found two bears in the hollow, which surprised him.

HENRY EDMONDS, of Charlotte county, Va., is willing to swear that his hound swallowed a rabbit it caught, without biting it, and that the rabbit working from within, killed the dog, and slipped out again. His neighbors say he swears easily.

THE best legal talent of Holly, Mich., was engaged without regard to expense on the trial of Stranahan, a butcher, who threw a knife at a dog that was stealing a piece of meat from his shop and killed the dog. Stranhan was fined $10.

THE Garfield and Arthur twins, children of Henery Chapin, of Gilbert's Mill, N. Y., are now six months old. Each weighs exactly nineteen pounds and three ounces. They laugh and cry in precisely the same style, and cannot be told apart when the distinguishing ribbons around their necks are removed.

ANDREW CHARLES of St. Johns, Mich., has a walking stick four feet long, around which is coiled a snake six feet long. It is supposed the snake was sick or indisposed when it took its position upon the growing sapling, and, the bark being moist and gummy, the snake adhered, without effort, and there died and dried.

LAKEFIELD NEWS.

From Our Own Correspondent.

GATHERING BIRDS EGGS.

The boys in the clearing have started the pernicious practice of gathering birds' eggs, and offered the village boys so much each to gather eggs for them. In consequence it seems a general raid has for a week passed been made on little birds' nests through the whole country round. Constable McIlmoyle has the matter in hand, and intends to have a lot of those boys before a justice of the peace, and fined, Fortunately this mean practice is contrary to the Ontario Statutes. It is to be hoped that an effectual stop will be put to such work at once.

CHAMPION COWARD.

A gentleman living not far from Lakefield, has the largest dog in this part of the country. A few days ago, this gentleman accompanied by his dog, was walking through the village. All at once the dog was missed, search was made and it was found under the sidewalk, where the walk was quite a height above the ground, and where it had been driven by a cat. The owner of the dog went to its assistance with a walking cane, and after considerable fencing the cat was driven off and the dog allowed to go in peace.

Received last week Six Packages of New Goods by Turnbull & Gray.

Now that the sellers of soda water are engaged in polishing up their fountains for the summer trade, it will interest the public to know what kind of syrups it is going to have. In reply to a correspondent, a pharmaceutical journal recommends the following for a raspberry syrup; Butyric ether, 60 drops; acetic ether, 40 drops; sweet spirits of nitre, 10 drops; glycerine, 20 drops; alcohol, 2½ ounces, and tincture of alkanet sufficient to color. The idea of introducing anything like raspberries seems to have been lost sight of.

THE DOCTOR'S SECRET.—Probably no new development will more surprise the public, than to learn the secret of success of certain leading physicians. When they have a difficult case of throat or lung disease that baffles their scientific skill, they prescribe Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, Coughs and Colds, having it disguised in a prescription bottle, with their own directions and name attached. The patient is cured and they get the credit.—Tribune. Trial bottles free at Taylor & McDonald's Drug Store. Large size $1.—2

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—An EXTERNAL MEANS of CURING SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic; whilst old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalcules which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produce a clear, healthy natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION, a FLUID peculiar in itself, is the most potent enemy to all Skin Disorders. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the least degree comparable for its Healthy Action on the Human Skin.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. Startin, and every year it is used adds more and more favourably to its widly increasing reputation. Anyone, however deeply and hopelessly afflicted with Skin Disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent in a diminished appearance of the malady, a growing tendency to fade away, and complete obliteration of the eruption.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—BOTTLES CONTAINING NEARLY HALF A PINT.—SOLD BY CHEMISTS EVERYWHERE. Made in London, Eng.

Daily Evening Review

SATURDAY, MAY 27, 1882.

Professional.

Dr. Clarke may now be found at his office on George Street, over Lech's upper store, at all hours, by night as well as by day.

Adjourned Sale.

The adjourned sale of Mr. Dumble's lots (Block B. Smithtown Hill) will come off on Saturday night next at 8 p. m. at Stapleton's Auction Room, Market Block. The terms are easy.

Personal.

Mr. W. D. Murray, Travelling Agent of the Intercolonial Railway, and Mr. J. A. Richardson, Passenger Agent of the Union Pacific, are registered at the Caisse House.

Finance.

Messrs. Poussette and Paterson alone appeared last night and in consequence the Finance Committee did no work, there not being the necessary number present to make a quorum.

Coming.

The famous Clifton Church Choir Company are to play here on the 5th of June. They have a great reputation and will doubtless draw a crowded house.

Costly.

It costs the town twenty-five cents each to bury dead dogs and cats. Considering the length of time it takes to perform the job, the men are pretty well paid, or perhaps it is the distaste of ordinary mortals to such work that causes it.

Railway Notes.

Mr. F. C. Upton, for several years the general freight agent for the Toronto and Nipissing railway, was recently made the recipient of a magnificent ice pitcher and stand by Mr. Wm. Gooderhan, president of the campany. Mr. Upton has accepted a position on the Midland, as freight inspector.

Railway Accident.

On Tuesday last an accident occurred on the Midland Railway near Madoc, by which the tender of an engine was badly damaged, and four or five box cars were thrown from the track by a small bridge over a swamp. The tender was brought here to be repaired. The track was soon cleared and trains ran as usual.

Not Found Yet.

The body of the child Gain, drowned nearly two weeks ago, has not yet been found. Of late no endeavors have been made to find it, the friends expecting that the body would rise at the end of the nine days. It has probably got caught on the bottom or floated down towards Rice Lake. Nothing has since been heard of the lad, Thomas Barrett, who is supposed to have been drowned on the Queen's Birthday.

Depositing Filth.

A farmer, residing near the town, complained this morning that some person from town had deposited several loads of decayed matter on his farm and he wanted the police to investigate, and if possible find out who did it. Another gentleman, not quite as æsthetic as the first offered to close his eyes while the same amount, and any quantity more, of the same material was deposited on his land. He remarked that it made excellent manure, and he would soon deodorize it. The police cannot discover the man.

A Bad Fire.

The fire at Mr. Richard Parnell's on the Queen's Birthday was more disastrous than we at first supposed. It occurred early in the afternoon, from some cause unknown, destroying no less than five barns, and their contents, consisting of a horse, two calves, a quantity of grain, and agricultural implements of different kinds. The loss on the buildings is about $1,800, and on the contents about $600. The first were insured for $800 and the loss on the contents is covered; both in the Royal.

The Weather.

Although rain has been threatening for some days none has fallen. The weather continues fine enough, but is rather cool for some. To-day the sun is obscured and there is every appearance of an approaching rain storm. The weather probabilities for this district for the following twenty-four hours, as reported from Toronto at 10 a. m. to-day, by the Great Northwestern Telegraph Company, are as follows:—Lakes—Moderate to fresh winds, mostly between the east and north, cloudy to fair weather, with local rains, more particularly in the southern portion.

Be Careful.

If some of our egg dealers are not a little more careful they will find themselves before the Police Magistrate to answer to a charges of purchasing "hen fruit" on the market before the hour named in the by-law. One individual in particular is the most cheeky individual we ever met on the square and unless we are greatly mistaken the P.M. will have a chat with him on Monday and Tuesday.

The Market.

Evidently the much talked of "free" market system is a good one, as far as this town is concerned at least, as the attendance every Saturday since it came into force has been larger than the average. The market to-day was a good one and produce was on hand in large quantities. An enormous quantity of vegetables were sold and in fact almost everything that was offered brought good prices.

T. & O. Railway Notes.

The Madoc Review says that Chief Engineer Bailey visited the works here last week and we understand expressed himself as highly pleased with the manner in which it had been done. Engineer Sykes, in charge of the construction between here and Bridgewater, expects to remove his headquarters to the latter place in a few weeks, on the commencement of work on the contract east. Mr. J. B. Campbell, the right-of-way man, was in the village last week. Upwards of 400 men were paid on this contract the last pay-day. Mr. Parr inform us they have now about 200 men at work and about 60 double teams. The pay sheets for the last few months have averaged between $6,000 and $7,000 per month, and since the commencement of work on the contract, the contractors have paid out between $50,000 and $60,000. We ought to hear no more of "hard times" in this neighborhood for some time. The barbed wire fences have been completed for a few miles on this side of the line. The grading between Madoc and Bridgewater is expected to be completed in a few weeks, the only extensive work then remaining being the bridges, principally the one on Black Creek, near Bridgewater, and the completion of that over Deer Creek here. The work on these will last some two or three months yet.

MURDER IN MONTREAL.

A Swedish Immigrant Killed by a Comrade With a Beer Bottle.

MONTREAL, May 26.—The coroner opened an inquest here to-day on the body of Johannes Olofsson, a swedish immigrant who is alleged to have been foully murdered for the sake of robbery by a fellow-countryman named Johannes Jacobson, who was stopping with the deceased in a third-rate hotel known as the Californian. The parties came out from Sweeden together and put up in the same room in the hotel. From the evidence given at the inquest it would seem that the victim had laid down to sleep, and when he was in that state, his room-mate beat his life out with a beer bottle and then cut the man's throat. In addition he stabbed him in several vital parts. The alleged murderer then attempted to escape after securing the luggage of the deceased, which consisted of a travelling bag. He was seen making off, however, by the landlord, who stopped him and investigated with much intelligence the fellows movements. There being some board due Jacobson offered money to pay it. One of the coins was besmeared with blood, seeing which the landlord immediately proceeded to the room occupied by the two men, and there found the horrible spectacle of Olofsson's mangled corpse. His next work was to arrest the murderer, who was subsequently taken to the police station. On his person the police found two watches, five sovereigns, and other things belonging to the deceased. Jacobson refuses to give any explanation whatever. His age is about sixty, and his forbidding countenance as well as stolid manner are very much against him. The inquest has been adjourned.

Windows in Hot Weather.

Tamboured embroideries on muslin or net is a novelty for summer curtains. For simple sash curtains the sprigged or dotted patterns or those with large rings or daisies wrought in them are used without borders, while for the flowing curtains there is a vine or stripped border and scalloped edges down the inner sides and across the bottom. The square-meshed canvas or grenadine curtains are seen in many of the handsomest residences for both curtains—those fixed in shape next the sash and for the flowing curtains behind it. The trimming for these is insertion and lace; either Cluny or antique lace is preferred, and sometimes the snowy Russian is used. The scrim curtains have very much the same effect as grenadine curtains and are much less expensive. Colored embroidery in artistic designs has been added to these white curtains, forming sometimes a daub or else a border on two sides, and occasionally there are small figures wrought all over the curtain. For those who like more color the Madras muslins are commended, with their gold, olive or robin's egg blue grounds, strewn with flowers of gray colors. These come in beautifully blended colors that give almost the effect of stained glass. Momie cloth, made of cotton, has taken the place of cretonne for cottage parlors and chambers, because it is found to be more durable.

Cornices and lambrequins are abandoned. Poles of wood or gilt, with rings to which the curtains are attached, are used for curtains of all kinds, whether thin or thick, muslin or lace, cotton or damask. The rings are sewed directly to the hem at the top of the curtain, or else they attached by little clumps that have been made for this purpose. In place of lambrequins there are sometimes calances, or the Queen Anne cap, made of a straight width of plush, felt or other stuff, simply edged with glimp or fringe, placed smoothly across the top of the window, and from beneath this falls the muslin or lace curtains.

MEDICINES taken into the Stomach in concentrated form such as Pills and Powders, are most injurious. The great substitute for these nauseous litttle Calomel pills is Dr. Carson,s Stomach and Constipation Bitters. They cleanse the bowels stimulate the Liver and Kidneys, and cure all stomach disorders, such as Dyspepsia and Indigestion. In large bottles at 50 cents. J. D. Tully, Agent.

TERRIBLE FATALITY.

PHILADELPHIA, May 26.—A fire broke out tonight in the grocery store of Robert McNeal at Manayunk, a manufacturing suburb in the city limits about eight miles from the centre. While the firemen were endeavoring to extinguish the flames a large barrel of coal oil took fire and exploded with a terrific effect, the burning fluid being scattered over the firemen and the crowd of spectators who were watching their operations. A despatch just received says 28 are injured, of whom 15 may die. The explosion was so sudden that the lookers-on who were unharmed stood for a moment paralysed, until the shrieks and groans of the injured awakened them to the real situation. Instantly there was a rush to the relief of the sufferers, but just at that moment another barrel exploded, and the burning fluid was thrown over many who had escaped the first calamity. The scene which followed beggars description. The air was filled with cries and moans, and hundreds of friends and relatives of the afflicted, who had been attracted by the sound of the explosion, came rushing from all parts of the village to the spot with loud lamentations. Medical assistance was telegraphed for from the surrounding country and Philadelphia, and the injured received every possible attention. Among those who it is expected will die are Daniel Shrunk, a fireman; Howard Shuster, Patrick Teagle, John McNeal Joseph Englehart, Peter Price, Joseph Kane, Henry Neally, and Henry Felton. The seriously injured include Thomas Mulligan and Greenwood Ferth, firemen; Lambert Shuster, James Downing, Samuel Fraser, John Crawford, Bright Piniard, E. John Hutchinson, Robert Morrow, Wm. Eastwick, Edward Higney, Archie Thompson, and James Morgan.

ON April 29th, the Austrian of the Allen line called at Galway and took away 285 passengers. The emigrants are mostly young women from Connemara, and from the neighboring Counties. This is the fourth emigrant ship that has called there this season, the four taking away an aggregate of neerly 1,000 emigrants. It is stated that a vessel of a new line will take away some 200 Connemara peasants whose passage money has been paid by an emigration society.

THE CONTENTED MAN,

Who is He?

The discussion of this question by an able lecturer was listened to a few evenings ago with interest by large audience.

We venture to think that one of this class may be represented by the head of a family, who has been instructed to purchase a supply of that essential commodity for the table—TEA.

He has an indefinite idea that the article ought to be cheaper on account of the removal of the duty, but when he finds that he can save 10 cents per lb., instead of 5 he is jubilant.

THE CONTENTED MAN is he who gets the full benefit of the reduction of the duty on his tea for this year by making a saving of, say $3.00 on a purchase of 30 lbs.

Prove it by inspecting my stock of JAPANS AND YOUNG HYSONS.

A leading line of sweet and good drawing JAPAN offering at 35 cents, formerly sold at 45 cents.

OTTAWA, 23rd May, 1882.

THE HONORABLE JOHN CARLING, of the City of London, in the Province of Ontario, to be a member of the Queen's Privy Council for Canada.

JOHN COSTIGAN, of Grand Falls, in the Province of New Brunswick, Esquire, to be a member of the Queen's Privy Council for Canada.

THE HONORABLE JOHN CARLING, to be Postmaster General for the Dominion of Canada, vice the Honorable John O'Connor.

THE HONORABLE JOHN COSTIGAN, to be Minister of Inland Revenue, vice the Honorable James C. Aikins.

No comment is necessary, for the strength that these additions will bring to the Cabinet, and the satisfactory nature of the appointments, are indisputable.

ECONOMIZING OUR FORESTS.

At the meeting of the Royal Canadian Society, in the scientific section, a paper was read by Mr. Wm. Saunders, of London, Ont., on "The Importance of Economizing and Preserving our Forests," in which he referred to the importance of forests in providing shelter from storms, regulating the temperature, equalizing violent alternations of heat and cold, and on the manner in which the humidity of the atmosphere is equalized and conserved. Reference was also made to the importance of forests in influencing the rainfall and purifying the soil and atmosphere. He alluded also to the forest policy of Germany as showing the possibility of a country, by proper forest regulations and sufficient forest area, growing a sufficient supply of timber for the use of the people. He also called attention to the needless waste of timber from the carelessness of the lumberer and the wanton destruction of vast quantities by forest fires. In conclusion, he suggested that more stringent rules were needed to remedy these evils, urging also that more attention should be given to the replanting of the denuded districts.

The President called the attention of the meeting to the importance of the subjects, and remarks in connection with the paper were made by Professor Macoun and Dr. Lawson.

It was afterwards moved by Principal Dawson, seconded by Dr. Lawson, that at the general session to-morrow the attention of the society be directed to the subject of the preservation and planting of forests by public and private means as an important object to be promoted in connection with this society and with the International Forestry Association.

NO SECRET SOCIETIES.

LONDON, May 27.—It is stated that the Catholic clergy in London are about to commence preaching a crusade among the Irishmen of their flocks against connection with secret societies.

ARRESTED.

ST. PETERSBURG, May 28.—A man named Laviron, who arrived from Stockholm this morning, was arrested on suspicion of being one of the Phœnix park assassins. He was recognized by a scar on his cheek.

GOVERNMENT MAGAZINES.

LONDON, May 27.—In consequence of a report that an attempt will be made to destroy the Government magazines at Purfleet, containing 50,000 barrels of gunpowder, the garrison there has been strengthened, and the public warned to keep to the main road.

THE IRISH POOR LAW.

LONDON, May 27.—A striking sign of the change in relations between the English Parliament and Ireland is afforded by the passage of the Poor Law Guardian bill through committee last week in a single night. Not one English or Scotch member interfered; the Irish members of all parties met each other most courteously, despatching business with rapidity and decision, forming an excellent example for their neighbours. It was the first Home Rule Parliament at Westminster, and created an excellent impression.

THE CHIEF SECRETARY.

LONDON, May 27.—The conduct of the new Chief Secretary under trying circumstances is highly commended. There is a marked change in his mode of replying to questions of Irish members. They convey the impression that a radical change is to be introduced in the spirit of Irish government under his administration from that which distinguished it under Mr. Forster's. His announcement in the House that special magistrates, like Mr. Clifford Lloyd, are not to be allowed to administer the Crime Prevention Act was received by the Irish members with a ring of prolonged cheers, and his statement that Major Bond's appointment is to be cancelled was received with equal satisfaction. If Mr. Trevelyan can maintain the same conciliatory disposition when surrounded by the official atmosphere of Dublin Castle his administration may prove a great success; but even moderate Irishmen express great fears that he will succumb to influences which have always proved too strong for chief secretaries.

NOT CORRECT.

LONDON, May 27.—The report of the engagement of Princess Beatrice to Prince William of Hesse is officially denied. Is is said that the Princess is so devoted a companion of the Queen that she is is not anxious to enter the wedded state. Besides, it might be inconvenient to ask Parliament to grant provision for a second time in one session.

A DELICATE SUBJECT.

LONDON, May 27.—Mr. Parnell's effort on Thursday night to undo the effect of Mr. Dillon's harangue on the previous day, so far as English public opinion is concerned, and at the same time to fasten on the member for Tipperary the full responsibility of the Kilmainham conversations, was one of the cleverest bits of parliamentary work witnessed for a long time in the House. It was a delicate subject, and Mr. Parnell had evidently prepared his statement with unusual care, speaking, contrary to his custom, from copious notes. The work was done in the Irish leader's best style—cold, incisive, relentless, but smooth and studiously moderate expression.

CETEWAYO'S VISIT.

LONDON, May 27.—It appears that society is to be deprived of the pleasure of over-feting and over feeding King Cetewayo, the government having decided that his presence would be inopportune and dangerous to the peace of Zululand; the probability being that after having been the lion of the London season the monarch would find an easy way back to the throne, from which he was hunted by Lord Chelmsford and run to earth by a major of dragoons. Meanwhile things look black in poor Cetewayo's native land. Lady Florence Dixie writes to Lord Kimberly warning him that a conflagration as dangerous, if not more so, than the late war will arise if justice is not done, as the Zulus will not long remain satisfied with the bare comfort of words.

AMERICAN SYMPATHY.

LONDON, May 27.—An amusing instance of English ignorance of America was displayed in Wednesday's debate, when Sir Stafford Northcote assured the House that no one in America had any sympathy with the Irish except the Stalwart politicans, who had lost their hold on the country. The leader of the Oppposition in the Lower House went on to describe General Grant as an extinct volcano now engaged in raising companies. As Sir Stafford Northcote and his son do not disdain to turn an honest penny by raising companies, the last reflection might decently have been spared.

A NEW CALIFORNIA.

LONDON, May 27.—Geographical and scientific circles are interested in the accounts brought to England by Captain Burton and Commander Cameron from the Gold Coast of Africa. The former stated that oe landing he found women washing the sand and earning from one-half to four dollars a day. They found gold spangles after the rain everywhere in the streets and roads. The country is impregnated with gold. It is hoped that some enterprising men will take the matter in hand and make great fortunes as western Africa is another California.

THE "FREIHEIT."

LONDON, May 27.—The prosecution of the Freiheit does not seem to have terrified the Nihilist societies of London. A meeting of the "Communisticher Arbeiterbildungsverein" resolved to instruct the Freiheit to continue its publications and make its tone still more revolutionary. A meeting of the Social Democratic Workingmen's Club adopted a resolution highly approving the "courageous deed of the Irish rebels, which was especially well timed at a moment when certain chiefs of the Land League praty were on the point of entering into a shameful treaty with the English Government."

THE LATEST ARREST.

A PARDONED OUTLAW.

ST. LOUIS, May 29.—The Government has been making negociations during the past ten days for the surrender of Frank James, an outlaw, and is thought the later will be pardoned within a week. An attempt will also be made to secure pardons from the Government of Minnesota and Texas where Frank is also under the ban of the law.

COSTS TOO MUCH.

PHILADELPHIA, May 29.—An intimate friend is reported as saying that Senator Cameron is not a candidate for re-election, and no constituency as far as he has seen could induce him again to accept a senatorship. His reasons are alleged to rest somewhat on the tremendous expenses attending a party leadership in Pennsylvania.

A POLITICAL POINT.

WASHINGTON, May 29.—The Republican congressional committee has issued a statement giving a history of the Mackey-Debbel contest and claiming that the returns as counted by the Democrat's manager give Mackey's majority as 879.

FATALLY CLUBBED.

NEW YORK, May 29.—John O'Connell is dying in a hospital here, it is alleged from the effects of an unprovoked clubbing from a policeman. The police assert that he fell from a roof.

THE SOLID SOUTH.

NEW YORK, May 29.—The Times addressed letters to 100 Democratic editors in Alabama, Florida, Louisana, Mississippi, North Carolina, South Carolina and Texas inquiring if the policy of the Democratic party managers is in harmony with the general sentiments of the people, and asking how the people regard Arthur's administration, and whether there is any decided expression of opinion regarding the tariff? Fifty responses were received. The letters indicate that the South is still solid in its affiliation with the Democratic party and the dissatisfaction is only local or with the leaders. The prominent thought in all the responses is the desire manifested by the masses for improvement in their material affairs. From Mississippi, Louisiana, and Arkansas only came expressions of praise for the Arthur administration, and these are almost entirely due to the Mississippi levee proclamation, and even these are generally mingled with words of distrust. With the above exception the feeling, where denunciation is not expressed in a fulness of words, is generally that of indifference.

SUSTAINING PARNELL.

NEW YORK, May 29.—The Star says the unanimous opinion among the Land Leaguers here apppears to be that Parnell should be sustained in his present attitude in the House of Commons.

DROWNED.

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., May 29.—Harry Link, aged 9, while bathing yesterday in a gravel pit, was seized with cramps. His brother Matthew went to his rescue and both were drowned.

A STORM.

READING, Pa., May 29.—Much damage was done in this vicinity by the storm yesterday. Many narrow escapes from death are reported.

PROTECTING AMERICANS.

WASHINGTON, May 29.—Two vessels of the European squdron are proceeding to Alexandria to protect the interests of American citizens.

OPENING THE BALL.

WASHINGTON, May 29.—The House opened this morning with many indications of the bitter parliamentary conflict expected during the day. The Hall contained fewer vacant chairs than usual. The galleries were pretty well filled. The chaplain's prayer requested that the path of right and duty be made plain to the members.

BROKERS AND ROBBERS.

SANFRANSISCO, May 29.—The widow of General Colton, sues Charles Croker, Leland Stanford, C. Huntington and Wells, Fargo & Co, for over two millions worth of bonds and stock which she claims was obtained through misrepresentation by brokers. Colton was Vice-President of the Southern Pacific. Croker says the stocks were taken to satisfy the Colton indebtedness and claims that the embezzlement from the Rocky Mountain Coal Co. stock, did not begin to satisfy the real indebtedness.

THE ORGANIZED HYPOCRISY.

ALTHOUGH by no means complimentary, no words in the English language so well describe the leaders of the party now making a desperate effort to regain power at Ottawa as those which we have placed at the head of this article. From Mr. Blake downward they are, so far as principles are concerned, a party of dissolving views, whose only compass is that which seems to guide to power and its casual advantages. Utterly bankrupt in political principle and patriotism, they seek to cover their nakedness by vain boastings, self-laudations and gross misrepresentations combined with a goodly admixture of falsehood. To see that this is no fancy picture but one too easily proved, one need not travel beyond the address issued by that prince of political hypocrits—Edward Blake—to his constituents in West Durham.

To those acquainted with the history of Canada since confederation it will certainly appear the height of hypocrisy for Mr. Edward Blake to arraign his political opponents, as he does in this address, upon the charge of their appealing to the country upon "a record of broken pledges." Broken pledges! Where are the many pledges which he has made and cast to the winds since 1867? A denouncer of coalitions, his first act was to form a coalition government. A denouncer of a rumour that it was proposed to increase the number of Ontario Ministers to six, his first act as a premier was to make it six; a denouncer of Sandfield Macdonald's railway policy, his first act was to go further in the same direction; a stickler for Parliamentary control over public expenditure, he rushed through the Legislature in a few hours orders in council granting hundreds of thousands of dollars for purposes for which members were not allowed time to read much less consider the object: a man who is never tired of prating about "honour," his first step to power was by the purchase of a political opponent and by corrupting a member of the government he was endeavouring to displace; as a member of a government he has shown the white feather again and again and sought to protect himself at the expense of his colleagues by vanishing when the division bell rang; a purist he alleged sickness in order to prevent a speaker from being turned out of Parliament, for dipping his fingers, contrary to law, into the public chest, before the Blake rod was knocking at the door. The disallower of Provincial bills on public grounds he denounces the power of disallowance; The would be champion of Ontario's rights, he has not a word to say on the floor of Parliament anent the boundary award, although he could spend hours in discussing the value of a penitentiary pig. The advocate of more extended commercial relations, he is trying to hunt with the hounds and run with the hare, on the question of keeping our own markets for our own manufacturers and agriculturists. In 1872 the denouncer of a re-adjustment bill because it did not more fully recognize the principle of representation by population as between the different constituencies in Ontario, to-day the denouncer of a bill whose every change is in the direction of equalizing the population of the constituencies. An opponent of the Pacific Railway, he is for once consistant in denouncing the non-acceptance of a bogus tender for its construction. A——, but really we think we have gone about far enough in attempting to call to mind a few of the "broken pledges" and inconsistencies of this man, who never does wrong—in his own estimation, this fitting leader of "the organized hyprocisy." But as two blacks wont make a white, and this prince of political hyprocrite has thought proper to arraign Sir John Macdonald and his colleagues on the charge of "broken pledges" let us try to discover what Mr. Blake characterizes as broken pledges. Mr. Blake knows full well (although he was conveniently absent, on his oft repeated plea of ill health, from the country when his political friends were on their death bed, like the political poltroon that he is) that the issue upon which Sir John Macdonald appealed to the country in 1878 was what is known as the National Policy, and we defy Mr. Blake, and the whole of his chancery brigade, to prove that Sir John Macdonald has not honestly acted up to the pledges he then made. That Policy may be a good, or it may be a bad policy, but good or bad it has been put into operation,—it has been tried—and good or bad one thing is beyond dispute, that this same Edward Blake is anxious to secure, by false pretences of course, the support of its friends. No one needs to read between the lines to learn that if the "monopolists" will only vote for Blake, Blake will not only maintain their little monopolies, but possibly increase them, as he did in the Ontario Railway matter. The fact of the matter is that Edward Blake has been so accustomed to plead first on one side, and then on the other—as a chancery lawyer it has been bred in his bone—that he has no principles which forbid him taking first one side, and then the other in any matter. He has always been accustomed to plead to win, that's his business, and his pleadings are adjusted to attain the object for which he is retained, entirely regardless of right and justice, and that is just his position to-day. He has been retained to lead the opposition to power, the retaining fee being the Premiership, and to obtain a verdict for his clients and his own fee, he is playing just the same part as that which he has been accustomed to play in the courts, namely suppress or distort all that tells against his client, and magnify everything that he deems calculated to tell in his favour—regardless of truth, justice or right.

THE POINT TO DECIDE.

SIR JOHN MACDONALD at a recent public meeting at Ottawa, thus plainly gives the reasons for the dissolution and the great question that is to be decided by the constituencies:—

"Our tenure of office would not have ended, the Parliament would have lasted until October, 1883, and we the Government of Canada, we the fourteen Ministers who govern the policy of Canada, might have been enjoying our salaries and holding our positions until a year from next October. We have surrendered them, and why? Because we thought it was of the greatest consequence to Canada, and to the future prosperity of the manufacturers of Canada, that the people should have an opportunity of expressing their opinion whether our policy is wise or not. (Cheers.) A good many manufactures have been established, and various industries have been commenced, but they would have quadrupled, four times as many manufactures would have been started in Canada if it were not for the dread that the policy of 1878 would be destroyed and upset by a Free Trade Parliament in 1883. (Cheers.) You know capitalists who have hoarded up their money, who have got their money with great pains and during a lifetime of saving, are timid. Many men here and in England as well—and I have been over to England every summer for the last three years—say, "You are starting manufactures under very auspicious circumstances, but how long will that last? We may send our money over, we may have our mills going on, we may have our manufactures going on, we may take our machinery over there, and spend hundreds of thousands in doing so, we may bring out skilled labourers to teach your people to make these things, but by the voice of the people declaring that they do not approve of the policy, that they wish to reverse it, and return to Free Trade again, all our money will be gone, and we have no assurance that the policy will be lasting." We find that this is so, and we desire that the people may at once declare whether they wish to have fair trade, plenty of work and prosperity, or Free Trade, want of labour and poverty. (Cheers.) We place that fairly before the people and say: If you want to reverse that policy, do so; if you want a continuance of prosperity, declare so at the polls, and you will have five years ahead during which that policy cannot be reversed. We have had three years now, and at the end of five more the manufacturing interest will be so strong that, as in the United States, it will be able to fight its own battles, and there is no fear of that policy being reversed to ruin the manufacturer who has put his money, his means, his credit and his capital into such enterprises.' (Cheers.)

YOUNG'S POINT.

From Our Own Correspondent.

FALL WHEAT.—The fall wheat sown last fall on Mr. Chalmer's new fallow on the road to Burleigh bridge, containing 110 acres, really looks beautiful. This fallow, which was very rough, reflects great credit on Arthur Dugan and the gang of men he had under him. Arthur says if he could take his field to the show he would carry off the first prize.

THE FISHING.—We had a visit last week from one of Mr. Cochrane's deputies, looking after illegal fishing. He thought to be very cute, saying he was on the look out for a son of his coming down on the drive, but the boys smelt a rat.

SUMMER RESIDENCE.—Mr. Chas. Fuller has rented his cottage on Clear Lake, furnished, to Mr. Geo. M. Roger, of Peterborough, for the summer months of July and August. It is a most enjoyable spot for summer lodgings.

QUEEN'S BIRTHDAY.—We had quite a gala day here. The Bible Christian Church held their annual picnic, on the 24th; financially it was a success, the managers deserve credit for the way everything was managed. The Cruiser brought up from Lakefield a large number of passengers. The day was pleasant but cool, and a day of pleasure for both young and old. A good deal of bunting was displayed all through the village.

POLITICAL MEETING.—The Reform meeting called here for last Monday evening, to elect delegates to the nominating convention, was small but respectable, consisting of Mr. J. R. Stratton, of the Peterborough Examiner, no one else appearing. We are informed that the meeting was unanimous and enthusiastic.

IMPORTANT ARREST.

The Toronto Counting-house Robbers at Kingston—They deny the Charge.

KINGSTON, May 26.—A telegram was received this morning that three sneak thieves were wanted, one 50 years of age, one 45, and another ecclesiastical-looking man, age not stated. Detective Sullivan and officer Hinde were sent to the depot, and when the express from the west arrived three men answering the description stepped off the cars, two entering the refreshment room and one remaining on the train and taking observations. The officers and railway constable McAuley decided to make the arrest. Those in the eating room when told they were wanted by the police expressed great surprise, and said "gentlemen travelling quietly through the country should not be submitted to the indignity of arrest without cause." The police were so sure of them that no talk would fence them off. The little fellow on the platform, who was elegantly dressed, became quite demonstrative when taken into custody. He requested the privilege of going back to the car to secure a valise, and when inside dropped into a seat and declined to leave. He was seized but could not be pulled away without considerable trouble. Once he threw himself upon an elderly lady, and greatly shocked her. Finding that he could not resist arrest, he attempted to draw a seven-shooter upon Officer McAuley, but the weapon was taken from him. Detective Flynn who was on the train, says the men got on it at Whitby, and that they acted in a most suspicious manner. They did not sit together, but passed and dropped remarks, their action indicated a feeling of danger, however well they attempted to conceal it. He knew that a robbery had been committed at Toronto, and had shadowed the thieves, whose flight by train he expected. They are believed to have driven from Toronto to Whitby, there changed their money, and purchased tickets for Montreal. At the police station they gave their names and particulars of their business as follows:—Charles Wilson, thick-set, moustache turning grey, lumberman, well dressed, wearing a silk hat, and carrying a silk umbrella; he had in American bills $180.70, a valuable gold watch, several keys, including two belonging to safes. He took the arrest nonchalantly. Joseph Miller, the disturber, is gentlemanly in appearance, with full whiskers, greyish, wearing a tile and fine brown overcoat. He had $250 in bills, a gold watch, and various ornaments. Charles Webb has a decidely clerical cut, and he evidently wished to pass as one when he said, "Police should be careful about laying hands upon a priest." He is about 35 years of age. He had on his person $410 in bills, a gold watch, and several keys. They are undoubtedly the men wanted in Toronto, the Chief of Police of which place has been notified of the arrest. Miller says he belongs to Philadelphia, and has never been in Toronto. They thought they were all safe when Flynn did not arrest them on the train, and believed their detention illegal until notified to the contrary by Mr. McIntyre, Q. C., whom they engaged to watch the case for them.

A CURIOUS history is that of the lace worn by the Princess Beatrice at the Duke of Albany's marriage. The Princess herself found it, years ago, when in girlish curiosity she was rummaging among a quantity of castaway odds and ends in one of the Queens apartments. CLOSE upon the festivities consequent upon the Duke of Albany's marriage comes the news that Queen Victoria's only remaining unmarried child, the Princess Beatrice, is betrothed to Prince Frederick William, eldest son of the Landgrave of Hesse, and a lieutenant of the regiment of Royal Prussian Hussars, and of the Russian regiment of Hussars of Marianipol. He was born on October 15th, 1854, and Princess Beatrice on April 14th, 1857.

Improvements at Deseronto.

The Kingston Whig has the following from Deseronto, formerly Mill Point:—The Bay of Quinte R. R. Co. are extending their line at Deseronto eastward to Unger's Island, along the bay shore. We understand the company intend to start some new industries at the terminus. The company entered into an agreement with the G. T. R. Co. to furnish 200 carloads of freight the first year, but this contract has been already filled. The above amount was furnished in less than three months, a really encouraging fact to the stockholders of the road. The cedar mill at Deseronto will be a gigantic structure when completed. The building is 80 x 100 feet, part of it being two storeys in height. On the upper flat there are two saws for the manufacture of ties and field posts. The lower flat will be principally used for cutting large timber and shingle bolts. Adjoining this building is the shingle mill, which is being supplied with two double and two single machines, and has a capacity of about 75,000 per day. It will be in operation by the first of June.

Now that the sellers of soda water are engaged in polishing up their fountains for the summer trade, it will interest the public to know what kind of syrups it is going to have. The idea of introducing anything like raspberries seems to have been lost sight of.

THE DOCTOR'S SECRET.—Probably no new development will more surprise the public, than to learn the secret of success of certain leading physicians. SULPHOLINE LOTION.—An EXTERNAL MEANS of CURING SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic; whilst old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalculæ which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produce a clear, healthy natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION, a FLUID peculiar in itself, is the most potent enemy to all Skin Disorders. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the least degree comparable for its Healthy Action on the Human Skin.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. Startin, and every year it is used adds more and more favourably to its widly increasing reputation. Anyone, however deeply and hopelessly afflicted with Skin Disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent in a diminished appearance of the malady, a growing tendency to fade away, and complete obliteration of the eruption.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—BOTTLES CONTAINING NEARLY HALF A PINT.—SOLD BY CHEMISTS EVERYWHERE. Made in London, Eng.

Daily Evening Review

MONDAY, MAY 29, 1882.

Council Meeting.

The regular meeting of the Town Council takes place this evening at the council chamber, at 7.30 o'clock.

Personal.

Mr. P. R. Randall, Mayor of Port Hope, was in town to-day, evidently encouraging the "faithful."

For the Drive.

A large number of men left this morning for the various drives, both on our back waters and on the Georgian Bay. Wages are higher than they were last year, and the good men are rapidly being picked up by the leading lumber firms.

A Popular Candidate.

The announcement of Mr. Hilliard's candidature appears to give very general satisfaction, this feeling being shared by many who usually act with the Reform party. His election is admitted to be a foregone conclusion.

Municipal.

The joint committee of the town and county council meets at the committee room this evening, to take into consideration the advisibility of building a new bridge at the Locks. According to the report of the county engineer, a new bridge is badly needed.

A Candid Admission.

One of our Peterborough foundry men in conversation the other day said that though he had always been a staunch Reformer, he was compelled to admit that the National Policy had done a great deal of good. He was now obliged to turn a lot of work away.

Resigned.

We learn that owing to ill health, the Rev. Mr. Workman, who for some time has had charge of the Charlotte Street Methodist Church, has resigned his position. A new appointment will have to be made by the Conference in July. Mr. Workman's many friends will regret to hear that he has been compelled to adopt his present course, as he was deservedly popular, not only with his own parishoners, but with people of all demoninations.

The Waterworks.

Sixty tons of the large twelve inch mains for the waterworks are now laid down George street, or more properly speaking Water street, stretching along for quite a distance. The pipes are manufactured in Glasgow and are of the very best make procurable. Five lengths were broken when the consignment arrived here. One hundred and twenty tons are now at Montreal, and when they arrive digging will commence at once. A bridge has been built from the road to the river, just south of the old shingle mill, and the flume is to be built at the end of it. The water is to be taken from the river over a hundred feet above.

The Weather.

The weather yesterday was fine, but a slight shower of rain during the afternoon somewhat dampened pedestrians. The heavy rain of Saturday night followed by a hot sun, cannot but have a good effect on vegetation. The weather to-day is fine with a nice breeze. The weather probabilities for this district for the following twenty-four hours, as reported from Toronto at 10 a. m. to-day, by the Great Northwestern Telegraph Company, are as follows:—Lakes and Upper St. Lawrance—Light to moderate variable winds, fine warm weather, continued fine warm weather to-morrow.

The Campaign.

The campaign has commenced in earnest and already both sides are hard at work, The election takes place in three weeks and in that short space of time there is any amount of work to be done, and judging from the spirit that characterized the opening the contest will be a hot one, if not of long duration. The Conservatives of the town meet to-night in the old Music Hall to organize committees, and from the enthusiasm displayed on Saturday, we presage a large attendance of the "working men" of the party, who are prepared to put their shoulders to the wheel and elect Mr. Hilliard by a larger majority than he received last time—unless he is permitted to go in by acclamation, a not at all unlikely thing from what is said on streets.

Mr. Hilliard opens the campaign at Lakefield on Wednesday evening. Mr. Lundy is invited to be present at this and following meetings.

The Link.

Reports from the missing link state that the work of construction is steadily progressing. About three miles of the line from the junction at Omemee, towards Peterborough is graded and ready for ties and rails. The steam excavators are working splendidly and are rapidly cutting through the high hills. About three hundred men are now employed and more are wanted. No person need look for work or stand idle. A noticeable fact is that there are very few men from town or vicinity among the navvys, they are nearly all foreigners.

Mysterous Disappearance.

For the third time within two weeks we are called in to chronicle another mysterious disappearance. In each of the other cases, there are grounds for supposing that the persons were drowned, but in the present instance there is not the slightest clue. This morning a Mrs. Quinn, who resides near Bridgenorth informed the police that her son John Quinn, had not been home since Saturday morning, and as that was something unusual for him, she became alarmed, and coming to town, she inquired at hotels which he had frequented, and was informed by several persons that he had been seen last on Saturday afternoon about 5 o'clock, in company with two companions and that he was under the influence of liquor at the time. Since then however, he has not been seen and no trace whatever can be obtained of him. He was 21 years of age, about 5 feet high and walked lame. He had dark hair, without any whiskers, and gray eyes. When last seen he had on gray pants, with the bottoms inside his bootlegs, a dark coat and a light felt hat with a black band around it. The police or parents will be thankful for any information regarding the whereabouts of the missing man.

New Orders.

From the Canada Gazette we learn that it is ordered by an order-in-Council that "there may be paid to the proprietor of any leather-dressing establishment in Canada, a drawback equal to five per cent. ad valorem on the value on which duty has been paid on goatskins tanned, but not further dressed, waxed, glazed, or dyed, imported into Canada for the purpose of being finished, upon satisfactory proof that such goat skins have been finished at such establishment by being so dressed, waxed, glazed, or dyed."

"Foot grease," the refuse of the cotton seed after the oil is pressed out, is placed on the free list.

The following addition is made to the regulations for the inspection of weights and measures:—"Weighing machines known as 'hydrostatic balances,' being such as are commonly used for determining the weight of coals delivered at the pit mouth, may be verified for use for such purposes, and also for weighing coals as delivered from vessels and barges, provided they give true indications within one two-hundredth part of the load."

A BITER BIT.

How Germany Profited by United State's Example.

When we set up protection for our home industries, we do it to exclude the products of other nations from competition with our own products. This is only just and generous to the people who improve American soil. Thus, when we found that the Canadian fishermen, who are a discouragingly thrifty and economical race, were sending canned and barrelled fish into our market, under the treaty of Washington, we were very much annoyed. We had conceded to the Canadians the right to send their fish into our markets in return for certain fishery rights conceded to us. And, when we observe that they were actually profitted by that permission, we taxed the tin of their tin cans, and the wooden ware of the kegs and barrels. The Canadians grumbled, to be sure; but there was the tariff, that triumph of American ingenuity and skill. How could we protect our tinsmiths and our coopers if cans and barrels were to be allowed free entry into the United States? Then we stooped down behind our protective tariff and laughed long and silently at the discomfited Canadians.

But it happens that there is also a protective tariff in Germany. The beauties and blessings of protection are by no means confined to this free and happy land of ours. To our great mortification and surprise the Germans have laid duty on American hams. Of course Germany would no more tax hams than we would tax fish. But the hams are in cloth coverings, and these coverings are taxed as manufactures of cotton, as they undeniably are. Then, again, the canned meats, so much in demand in Germany, are found to interfere with the manufacture of fine hardware. The tin cans are fine hardware, although the meats are not. So the tins must pay a duty. This is by no means as entertaining as the American decision in the Canadian cases. It illustrates very forcibly the difficulty of inventing a protective tariff that shall enable the nation using it to protect its own infant industries and export its own goods freely to every other portion of the habitable globe. There is a suspicion in the minds of many that the Germans must have been studying the American tariff when they found that tin meat cans were fine hardware and the coverings of hams were manufactures of cotton.—New York Times.

GIRLS AT AUCTION.

A Scheme That was Worked for Raising the Wind at a Church Social.

For new schemes of raising money, church socials are and always have been peculiar. To attain this end they will countenance even the less harmless plans of Satan and pronounce them good. The church treasury, which ought always to be full, but which sometimes becomes so mournfully empty, must be replenished, and after the ordinary means of filling it are tried and fail, other means are resorted to, among which are mentioned grabbs, kissing games where the cash value of the osculation is governed almost entirely by the personal charms of the female osculation, and festivals where it costs ten cents to get in and almost any number of times that amount of dollars to get out; and various other schems which entrap the masculine victim, who shivers with delight while the game goes on, but denounces himself in unmeasured terms for a qualified idiot on the following day when reason resumes its seat, and the full force of his diminishd pocketbook is felt.

Up at Clear Lake, the centre of summer pleasure parties and Sabbath school associations in Iowa, the churches became tired of these old stereotyped plans of raising money, and a new scheme was involved from the inner consciousness of some bright genius. The treasurey of the Congregational Church became rather bare, and so the young folks got together and determined to fill it even to overflow. After a prolonged discussion it was decided to bring about the desired end by putting all the girls of the church up at auction to be disposed of to the highest bidder. The time came around, and every young man in or near Clear lake who had any money or could possibly borrow any, was promptly on hand, eager to bid to the fullest extent. But there were some of the girls on whom it would have been impossible to obtain the bid of an oldfashioned copper cent, while there were others for whom the lovesick swains would willingly have bid their last dollar, and in the spirit of Artemus Ward, the last dollar of any of their relatives. So, to give all the boys an equal chance, the girls were wrapped up in sheets, so as to be completely unrecognizable. Each young man was positive that beneath the snowy folds of the sheet he could discern the outline of the girl on whom he doted, and when from fifteen to twenty of the young fellows singled out one particular sheeted object on which to stake their fortunes, excitement ran high, and money ran out of pocket-books like water down a slant-roof.

After all the fair ones were disposed of, the order was given to "haul up the sheeets," and then ensued an indescrible scene of mingled happiness and disappointment. Maidens who had been purchased for a mere song, owing to a lack of bidders, turned out to be the best looking girls in the town, while beings whose sylph-like appearance under a sheet excited the greatest admiration, and drew hard-earned money from unwilling pocket-books, were found to be most commonplace creatures indeed. But all made the best of it, and the disappointed ones bore themselves bravely. Altogether the plan was a great success; and as long as churches will raise money by lottery schemes, why not adopt this method? It is as harmless, and yet as productive of as much good to the participants, as any game of chance we know of. It gives the homely girls and bashful boys an equal chance with their two opposites, besides resulting in a grand financial success, and we look for its general adoption. To be sure, it is asking a good deal of modest, womanly, refined girls. But then church sociables are always doing that.

A COMMON, and often fatal, disease is Jaundice. Regulate the action of the Liver, and cleanse the blood with Burdock Blood bitters, and the worst case may be speedily cured.

ARE you a martyr to headache? Suffer no longer. A remedy is found in Burdock Blood Bitters. It regulates the Bowels, cleanses the system, allays nervous irritation and restores health and vigor. Sample bottles 10 cents.

A GENTLEMAN AGED 65, writes: "I heartly thank you for the great boon I have obtained through the use of your wonderful rejuvenator, known as Mack's Magnetic Medicine. I am fully restored—feel like a young colt" Read advertisement in another column.

MEDICINES taken into the Stomach in concentrated form such as Pills and Powders, are most injurious. They cleanse the bowels stimulate the Liver and Kidneys, and cure all stomach disorders, such as Dyspepsia and Indigestion. In large bottles at 50 cents. J. D. Tully, Agent.

THE CONTENTED MAN,
Who is He?

The discussion of this question by an able lecturer was listened to a few evenings ago with interest by large audience.

We venture to think that one of this class may be represented by the head of a family, who has been instructed to purchase a supply of that essential commodity for the table—TEA.

He has an indefinite idea that the article ought to be cheaper on account of the removal of the duty, but when he finds that he can save 10 cents per lb., instead of 5 he is jubilant.

THE CONTENTED MAN is he who gets the full benefit of the reduction of the duty on his tea for this year by making a saving of, say $3.00 on a purchase of 30 lbs.

Prove it by inspecting my stock of JAPANS AND YOUNG HYSONS.

A leading line of sweet and good drawing JAPAN offering at 35 cents, formerly sold at 45 cents.

THE MADOC ACCIDENT.

To the Editor of the Review.

DEAR SIR,—Allow me to rectify your statement of the 27th inst., concerning the railway accident at or near Madoc on Tuesday 23rd inst. It was not the bridge that caused the accident, the tender wheels jumped the rails at least 500 feet before coming to the bridge and the ties on the bridge being some 22 inches apart, leaving a chance for the wheels to drop between, then causing the ties to split and cleaning them along ahead of the wheels until the opposite bank was reached, then came a dead stop. Very little damage was done and as for box cars there was not one on the train, all were flats loaded with iron ore, and two coaches.

Yours truly
JAMES G. GORDON,
Bridge Inspector,
Midland R.R. of Canada.
Peterborough, May 29. 1882.

R. R. Y. M. C. A.

Mr. Halden of the Midland Railway, Peterborough, addressed a good meeting of railway men at Port Hope on Sunday, with a view to forming a permanent association in that town.

Removed.

We learn from the Globe that the offices of the Secretary and Superintendent of the Nipissing division of the Midland Railway, have been removed to the Union Station.

The Total Loss.

Mr. Saulter who adjusted Mr. R. Parnell's loss by the recent fire has completed his figures. The total loss was $2125.09, and the total insurance $1389.

P. B. C.

Tuesday evening being fixed for a canoeing evening, the first turn out of the season will take place to-night at 7 p. m. A large muster is expected.

The Weather.

The weather still continues fine and warm, but rain before long would not surprise us in the least. The weather probabilities for this district for the following twenty-four hours, as reported from Toronto at 10 a. m. to-day, by the Great North-western Telegraph Company, are as follows:—Lakes and Upper St. Lawrance—Moderate to fresh, southerly to south-westerly winds. Fine warmer weather to-day, followed by local rains to-morrow

Appointed.

We observe by the Monetary Times that Mr. Geo. A. Cox has been appointed a member of the directorate of the Boiler Inspection and Insurance Company of Canada.

Personal.

We are pleased to learn that Mr. Robert Jaffrey, Toronto, one of the directors of the Midland Railway, who has been lying ill for some time at his residence, is recovering under the care of Dr. Kincaid, M. P. P.

Fire.

About 12.30 on Monday a large frame stable at Lakefield belonging to Ross & Co., was destroyed by fire. The loss on the building will be $600 and it is insured for $400 in the Phœnix of England. Loss in contents about $200, Insurance $300 in the same company.

Monday's Meeting.

There was a large attendance of conservative "workers" at Hill's old Music Hall on Monday evening. Committees for all the wards are formed, all the old "war horses" again getting into the traces, prepared to roll up a larger majority than ever before. Active canvassing is already in progress and the N. P. is bound to win.

A Fine Horse.

On Saturday last a one year old colt owned by Mr. James Jackson was measured. The animal stood 15½ hands high, girthed 5 feet 7 inches, girthed around the arm 23 inches, around the knee 14 inches, and weighed 965 lbs. The colt was sired by "Scotland's Glory" and the dam was a Clydesdale. We are inclined to think that there are but few colts in this part of the country that can compare with the one in question.

How It Works.

As a fair sample of the manner in which the N. P. benefits the workingman, we may state that a mechanic, a cabinet maker by trade, informed us on Monday evening that although he voted against the National Policy in 1878, he intended to support and work for it during the present campaign, giving as his reasons for so doing that he found out after careful calculation that while his weekly wages were $4.50 higher now than then, his increased outlay, as far as he could ascertain, was about 30 cents per week less. Any candid person must acknowledge the benefits to be derived from Sir John's policy.

A Reply.

In the Mail of to-day, there appears a very gentlemanly letter from Mr. J. Murphy, Secretary of the "Independant" Lacross Club of Toronto, in which he states, that the REVIEW's account of the recent match was a very one sided affair. Such is not the case by any means as far as we can see, and having been present throughout its continuance, we are likely to hold our own opinion. Regarding the disturbance which occured, which we justly censured in strong terms, the letter says in effect that Messrs. Simpson and O'Neil, had some hot words during a scuffle, and that the former player applied a certain epithet to the other, a slight row followed, and O'Neil being held by other players, in an effort to free himself, "slightly and unintentionally touched Simpson with his teeth." The fact as given are in the main correct, but not having been close enough at the time, we are unable to state so personally. However we take exception to the word "slightly," saying nothing whatever about "unintenally," on the ground, that a slight bite won't draw blood, and leave the marks of the two rows of teeth for fully an hour. And then again did the same offender "slightly and unintentionally" take a small piece of flesh out of one of McDonnell's fingers, when he interfered between O'Neil and Simpson? Perhaps he did, but 99 out of every 100 of the 1,500 spectators who witnessed the game are not of that opinion. We have no desire to enter into any controversy in this matter, as the "feat" has been published to the world already, but as we have been charged with giving a "one sided report," we consider it but fair to ourselves to state our grounds for witing the article in question.

ONEMEE.

ACCIDENT.—The Herald says that a daughter of Mr. Jas. Lee, of Manvers, had her leg fractured on the evening of May 24th by being thrown from a buggy while passing the steam shovel on Crawford's hill east of this village.

CREDITABLE.—Mr. I. Glenny, the lately appointed constable for this village has proved himself to be the right man for that office. When a row or any disturbance is going on he does not stand with folded arms and look on, but rushes in and seizes the disturbers of the peace and marches them off to the lockup.

THE STEAM SHOVEL.—After causing a number of runaways and several minor accidents this ponderous machine has been moved up over Crawford's hill east of the village. We are informed that a team of horses this week broke away from the vehicle to which they were attached and ran away, spreading out as far as the neckyoke and harness would allow them; they ran astride a horse and buggy coming up the hill, keeling the animal and rig over backwards, doing considerable damage.

IN LUCK.—The many friends of Mr. John Bailey, the respected reeve of the township of Emily, will be pleased to learn that he has disposed of a portion of the land which he purchased in Manitoba some three years ago. Mr. Bailey had received several telegraphic messages negotiating for said land, and so left on Tuesday evening for DeWinton, Man., to make final arrangements. The amount he expects to realize is somewhere in the neighborhood of $32,000. A nice little sum.

RUSSIAN REFORMS.

ST. PETERSBURG, May 29.—The Czar, desiring to appease the poeople, has decided to grant reforms. Two commissions will be instituted to consider the question of control of institutions and the share in the administration to be given the people. There is a commission already sitting under the presidency of General Kachanoff to examine into local institutions. General Loris Melikoff is placed as supreme head of all three commissions. A manifesto will shortly be issued stating that the Czar desires to celebrate his coronation by granting reforms, but is compelled to pospone the ceremony for a year because of the impossibility of completing preparations earlier.

TURKISH INTERVENTION.

CONSTANTINOPLE, May 29.—With the advice of the Cabinet Council the Sultan has decided to refuse the request of the English ambassador to send troops to Egypt unless with full sovereign powers and without any conditions. It is stated that the British and French ambassadors have withdrawn their objections to Turkish intervention in Egypt.

SPAIN AND URUGUAY.

MONTEVIDEO, May 29.—The representative of Spain, in accordance with instructions, presented a formal complaint to the Government of Uruguay relative to the ill-treatment of a Spaniard, Cabillero. The Supreme Court has solicited permission of the Chamber of Deputies to prosecute the Deputy for complicity in the outrages on Cabillero. A rupture of diplomatic relations between Spain and Uruguay is probable.

AMERICAN.

VANDERBILT'S WILL.

NEW YORK, May 29.—The will of Cornelius J. Vanderbuilt, who committed suicide, is contested by his sister, Mrs. Berger. He left $750,000, none of which went to the Vanderbilt family. Mrs. Berger alleges that Cornelius was of unsound mind when he signed the document, which was procured by fraud, practised on Cornelius by George Terry and others. She says she was under considerable expense in assisting Cornelius to contest his father's will, and he promised she would be no loser. The case has been set for the 27th of November. No other objections have yet been filed.

BELLIGERENT INDIANS.

FORT APACHE, Ariz., May 29.—Pedro's band of White Mountain Indians have gone to Forestdale to forcibly take the land occupied by white settlers. The Indians claim that the land is theirs. The settlers deny the clam and propose to fight.

GUITEAU'S CASE.

BOSTON, May 29.—It is stated that Reed was unsuccessful in his application to Justice Gray for a writ of habeas corpus for Guiteau. Justice Gray preferred to wait until the case was presented to his associates.

SMALLPOX.

GLASSBORO', N.Y., May 29.—A virulent type of smallpox has broken out here and is spreading. The residents have erected a temporary hospital and quarantine has been instituted.

THE POOR JEWS.

MADRID, May 30.—The society for the protection of Hebrews has applied to Victor Hugo and Emilio Castlar to raise a petition against the prosecution of the Jews in Russia. Castlar sent a reply urging appeals to the historical title of the Hebrews to respect Christian states, and containing a model passage on the liberty of conscience and Russian politics. He has also written another letter offering to join Hugo in a pacific crusade in defense of the Hebrews.

TRADE NOTES.

THE Napanee Brush Company find their new premises too small for their rapidly-increasing business. They will probably erect new offices in front of the factory, and use the space gained for the accommodation of more hands.

WORK at the hammer factory of P. & J. Phelps, at Merritton, is booming. They have recently added a grinding room, 22x32, and are now turning out hammers of every description, heavy sledges, ship mauls, &c. They find their trade rapidly increasing.

Mr. Unser, carpet manufacturer, of Eglington near Toronto, has arrived back from Germany, bringing with him a large number of Germans to work in his new manufactory to be built on Davenport-road. It is understood Mr. Unser has purchased new machinery, and will employ about sixty hands. The material for the building is already prepared and will be put up at once.—The Canadian Manufacturer.

Messrs. W. C. Archibald & Co., manufacturers of the Acadia Seamless Hosiery, have cabled an order to England for eight thousand pounds of colored wools and merino yarns for their manufacture. This is, we believe, a new venture in Dominion knitting factories, and will greatly enlarge the range of their production. During the month of April they have procured an entire new set of forms on which their merino and wools are being made. The samples shown us are attractive, and are well-shaped goods. There is a rapid improvement in the quality and style of this hosiery. The enterprising proprietors have decided to box in half-dozens their entire production for the coming season. They have brought a box-maker to Halifax, who has now some half-dozen hands turning out these boxes for them. This industry is evidently being superinduced by the N.P.—Halifax Mail.

The Town Council of Portland, (N.B.,) have exempted from taxation, for twenty-one-years, the plant for a cotton factory and a woollen factory, the land, however, to be assessed. The company for running the latter is to be called the New Brunswick Merino Company.

The Napanee Standard says that the other day Mr. John Herring received an order for a vessel load of glass to be sent to Manitoba. He is so pressed with orders that it will be some time before he can fill this one, if at all. This is more of the stagnation caused by the oft-quoted National Policy.

MR. ROXBURGH'S PLATFORM.

We have already commented upon several of the principal topics in Mr. Roxburgh's address, and we will now give a little attention to the other points upon which he touches.

Mr. Roxburgh condemns the Redistribution Bill as "cutting and carving the municipalities to prevent the return of Reformers," though we all know that the measure was designed primarily to give Ontario the additional representation to which we are entitled, and secondarily to equalize the population, the first step in the process being to abolish two small Conservative constituencies. He does not tell us why he continued to support Mr. Mowat when he did cut and carve townships into separate pieces, and increased the inequality of the constituencies, not because additional members were called for, but simply to secure an unfair party advantage, in short to perpetrate the very wrong of which the Conservative Cabinet is erroneously accused. We fail to see the object of the apparently gratuitous falsehood that the measure only effects Ontario.

Mr. Roxburgh also objects to the elections being brought on this year, but does not mention that his party leaders and organs have been clamouring for an appeal to the people.

He pronounces in favour of economy, but we have too vivid a recollection of Reform promises in opposition and their performances when in power for such pretensions to have much weight.

He concludes by expressing a desire to prevent the corruption in contract letting which he asserts has prevailed under Sir John Macdonald and his colleagues, though it has been proved that irregularities in contract letting have not occurred under the present administration, and that they were prevalent when Mr. Mackenzie and his colleagues were in power.

We feel convinced that Mr. Roxburgh's programme, even on his own showing is not sufficiently attractive to induce the electors of East Peterborough to elect him in place of a tried and valued representative like Mr. Burnham. The least examination will also show that Mr. Roxburgh has grossly misrepresented the facts as to every question upon which he has touched

East Peterborough will undoubtedly prefer to send Mr. Burnham to support Sir John Macdonald and his policy, under which the country is flourishing, rather than to send Mr. Roxburgh to support Mr. Blake in restoring the former era of depression and deficits, even with the latest improvements of elected Senators and Canadian Consuls.

CAMPAIGN NOTES.

One effect of the N. P. in England is thus stated by Sir Alexander Galt in his annual report:—

"I have had many enquiries during the year from persons desirous of opening up manufactories in Canada, and among other industries I can call to mind woollens, cottons, machinery, beef extract, and condiments. Several persons have visited the country to make personal enquiries, and I am hopeful that the result will be of a nature beneficial to themselves and to the country."

The Independent Montreal Star says:—

"It will be noticed that Mr. Blake does a little "hedging" on that strong plank, in his opponents' platform, the National Policy."

This "hedging" the day before the race, only serves to show how hollow was their bitter opposition to the N. P. which is still maintained by the majority of their leaders and of their journals. By the by it also affords evidence that Mr. Blake's address was constructed in accordance with expediency not principal.

Mr. Needler, the Blakeite candidate for South Victoria, although publishing an address which occupies half a column in the Post is silent as regards the N. P. Such omissions not only show the way the wind blows but also the value of grit principles and professions.

* * *

Having first supplanted Mr. Mackenzie as leader, Mr. Blake has now advanced another step by substituting his own name for that of "Reformer." Instead of "hoisting the standard" of reform as in days of yore, it is now in order to hoist the standard "of Hon. Edward Blake" and instead of being called upon to rally round Reform principles, the faithful are now called upon to rally round "our distinguished leader the Hon. Edward Blake." The change of name is not inappropriate—all reformers are by no means "Blakeites" and the change is no doubt intended as a polite intimation to those who have a mind of their own and who are not prepared to say ditto to every vagary of Edward the Uncertain, that they are not wanted. Men of the Blake stamp can endure no rivals near the throne, hence, with him one must be a worshiper of Blake—or be ostracised as an enemy.

CLOTHING IN 1877 AND 1882.

As it is still falsely claimed that the N. P. has increased the cost of living, we have obtained from one of the leading drygoods and clothing firms of Peterborough an account showing the prices paid by a mechanic, for goods for himself and his family in 1877, as compared with the prices which the same goods cost at the present time:—

MECHANICS, READ THIS!

We have another instance of the hostile feeling of leading Reformers in regard to the factory operatives. At a meeting held in Paris by Mr. Paterson, the Opposition candidate for South Brant, Mr. Watts, the Conservative standard bearer, replied to him. Then by arrangement Mr. Slater, a prominent supporter of Mr. Paterson, followed on his behalf, and this is what he said:—

"Gentleman, what Mr. Watts has just stated as to my views is correct, and I again say that it would be better for the Government to do away with this iniquitous tariff if it closed every manufactory and drove the operatives and their families into the streets and for the Government to erect huge poor houses to shelter them."

Mr. Paterson did not repudiate this utterance of his appointed mouthpiece.

How many of our mechanics will cast their votes for a party which thus proclaims its desire to send them to the streets or to a poor house?

TO BE CONDEMNED IF TRUE.

The Globe asserts that Mr. Wilkinson, one of the Inspectors of Weights and Measures for this district is taking the stump in the present election. If such is the case we have no hesitation in condemning his action as unbecoming that of any Government official. Some no doubt will be prepared to justify his conduct on the ground that the same thing has been and is being done by other officials on the other side of politics, but two wrongs won't make a right. Persons who are in the employ of the people, have no right to take an active part in political contests.

A WONDERFUL CHANGE.

Mr. Gow, an Ottawa manufacturer, writes to the Citizen the following letter which will speak for itself:—

Sir,—Eight years ago I started here as a manufacturer of small steam engines, tinsmiths' tools, safes, and lock and general machine manufacture. During the four years the "Reform" Government was in power I had a hard time of it, could only employ one hand, and even he was not on full time; in fact it was a mere hand-to-mouth effort, and so it continued until the Government changed, and we got the National Policy. Since then a wondeful change has taken place in my business. I have a number of men employed on full time, I receive orders from different parts of Canada—and more remarkable still, am supplying the United States market with my manufacture of ventilators for windows and other purposes. I say then that any workingman or manufacturer who votes to put out the Government of Sir. John Macdonald, votes against his country and his own fireside. I am not a politician, have never been active in working for one party or another, in Canada, but this election I shall do all in my power to secure the election of Messrs. Mackintosh and Tasse. I write this of my own free will and in the interests of the working classes, not in the interest of mere politics.

Your obedient servant,
G. Low.

WOULD BE MOST DISASTROUS.

The Canadian Manufacturer, a leading trade journal, writes as follows:—

"Positively, we cannot wish to see the policy of 1879 reversed, and the country thrown into a commercial crisis. But nobody calling himself a business man can fail to realize that the consequence of a reversed decision would be most disastrous. It would set the country ten years back in progress. In the heat of election arguments people may talk as if strictly political issues were the only ones worth minding, but they must know that public feeling does not run that way. At present we have a certain sense of security, with good business prospects before us. Reverse the National Policy, and instantly dismay and distrust would spread over the land; all faces would "gather blackness," as said the Hebrew prophet. No friend of our country can wish to see the present fair prospect displaced by one so dark. It is, therefore, utterly impossible for a journal professing to speak for the commercial and manufacturing interests, to do otherwise than wish that the policy of 1879 may be fully sustained at the approaching election, and firmly established for five years longer. After that reversal, in our time at least, will be a highly improbable event."

At Nice an ostrich feather which began at the front of a lady's hat fell down her back, and at her waist was fastened with a diamond brooch.

A Word of Caution.—As is usually the case where an article of true merit has attained a world-wide reputation by its wonderful results, as the celebrated Electric Bitters have done, certain unprincipled parties have endeavored to imitate them, and expect to induce an unsuspecting public to purchase their fraudulent wares. Ask your druggist for the genuine Electric Bitters, that are guaranteed to cure, and take no others. Sold by Taylor & McDonold at 50c.

$200.00 Reward!

Will be paid for the detection and conviction of any person selling or dealing in any bogus, counterfeit or imitation Hop Bitters, especially Bitters or preparations with the word Hop or Hops in their name or connected therewith, that is entended to mislead and cheat the public, or for any preparation put in any form, pretending to be the same as Hop Bitters. The genuine have a cluster of Green Hops (notice this) printed on the white label, and are the purest and best medicine on earth, for Kidney, Liver and Nervous Diseases. Beware of all others, and of all pretended formulas or recipes of Hop Bitterf published in papers or for sales as they are frauds and swindles. Whoever deals in any but the genuine will be prosecuted. Hop Bitters Mfg. Co., Rochester, N. Y.

N. H. DOWNS' Vegetable Balsamic ELIXIR!

This valuable medicine is purely vegetable, the discovery of which was the result of many years' close study, in order to discover the cause, the symptoms and the cure—viz.:

Consumption, Coughs, Colds, Catarrh, Croup, Asthma, Influenza, Pleurisy, Hoarseness, Spitting Blood, Bronchitis,

and every species of oppression of the Chest and Lungs. In all cases where this Elixir has been duly administered its efficacy has been invariably manifested, convincing the most incredulous that is not incurable, if properly attended to.—Consumption, at its commencement, is but a slight irritation of the membrane which covers the lungs; then an inflammation, when the cough is more observable, but rather dry; then becomes local fever and the pulse more frequent, the cheeks flushed and chills more common. This Elixir in curing the above complaints, operates so as to remove all morbid irritations and inflammation from the lungs to the surface, and finally expel them from the system. It facilitates expectoration.

CONSUMPTION

IT HEALS THE ULCERATED SURFACES

and relieves the cough and makes the breathing easy. It supports the strength and at the same time reduces the fever. It is free from strong opiate and astringent articles, which are also drying a nature as to be in great danger of destroying the patient; whereas this medicine never dries or stops the cough, but, by removing the cause, generally does, stops the hectic before the cough is entirely gone. Consequently, when the cough is cured the patient is well. Send address for pamphlet giving full directions for cure of pulmonary diseases. Price 25cts. and $1 per bottle. Sold everywhere.

HENRY, JOHNSONS & LORD, Props.
MONTREAL, P. Q.

DO THEY KNOW THEIR POLICY?

The Ottawa correspondent of the Montreal Gazette says that the following story is told of one of the Grit candidates, who is at present making a canvas of the city. He visited the residence of a certain old gentleman, and a conversation ensued in which the old gentleman said it was perfectly understood that the issue of the election was "Protection vs. Free Trade." The Grit candidate said "there were other issues, but anyway they did not intend to interfere with the N.P. or vested rights." "Why," said the old gentleman, "Mr. Mackenzie stated in the House of Commons that he would remove the N.P. gradually, and Sir Richard Cartwright said manufacturers had no vested rights and that they were bought and should be swept away, and surely they knew the policy of their party!" The visit abruptly terminated.

SOUTH MONAGHAN.

From Our Own Coespondent.

A REFORM MEETING.—The Reformers of South Monaghan, wont enthuse worth a cent. The Reform whips of South Monaghan held a meeting on the 23rd May at Bensfort, to drum the faithful into line, after posting their bills all through the Township expecting a large attendance, but they were sadly disappointed when no one came. It soon became evident to the faithful few, that the N. P. has given too much satisfaction to the farmers of South Monaghan, who are too intellegent to be allured any more by the cry of the wolf! the wolf! they seem determined to mind their own business until election day, and then give the N. P. candidate their united support. But knowing that it would never do to admit their failure, or acknowledge the cause, laying far behind, they must attribute the effect to some cause, so they said our worthy Postmaster Mr. R. Fair, had detained the bills purposely in the office until it was too late to circulate them, a charge which he indignantly denies, but forwarded them as per mail to Bensfort. Secretary James must waken up, and attend to the faithful with more vim or throw up the sponge.

COBOURG.

ACCEPTED.—The Sentinel Star says that the Rev. Mr. McCrae, has accepted the call of the Presbyterian Church there and will be inducted into his new charge early in July.

OUR YACHT.—We notice by Chicago papers that the yacht Countess of Dufferin has been thoroughly overhauled and refitted and put in first class racing trim. She has been entered for all the racing events this season.

THE PIER.—A large quantity of spikes for the contractor for the extension of the east pier have arrived from Kingston. We understand that a party in Port Hope has the contract to furnish the timber, and the stone will come from Kingston.

SAVED.—Andrew Green, a son of Mr. Walter Green, Hamilton Township, was on board the ill-fated steamer Manatoulan, which was burnt on the 19th May. After he saved himself, by great exertion and bravery he was instrumental in saving the lives of several others.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT.—One of our townsmen proposed to go pigeon shooting one day during last week. He did so, but instead of shooting pigeons he shot his neighbor, who was very angry, of course, when he found that he would have to sit down very slowly for a few days to come, but the affair was made up by the unfortunate pigeon-shooter paying one of our medical men the necessary charges for attending the four gunshot wounds.

A MEAN MAN.—A townsman on Saturday last attended the market for the purpose of buying a couple of pigs. He succeeded in procuring them, and told the seller where to take them, at the same time telling him that the money was waiting for him at the house as soon as he delivered them. But this man belonged to the class who believe "that if you would by your business thrive, you must cheat your neighbor and skin him alive,"—for on the townsman going home from work in the evening he learned that the pigman had been hoggish enough to charge his wife a considerable sum more than was agreed for at the market.

FENELON FALLS.

A BEAR SHOT.—The Gazette says that Mr. J. Schell, of Somerville, shot a 400 lb. bear last Friday or Saturday. Bruin had murderously assaulted a sheep, so a small party turned out to hunt him, and Mr. Schell fired into his carcase no less than 14 shots from a Winchester repeating rifle before he laid down and died. The victim's mate and cubs were also seen, and have perhaps been killed or captured by this time.

IS IT PINK-EYE?—Thera is a strange mortality among foals this season, and some persons think it is in consequence of their mothers having had pink-eye, which has lately been very prevalent and in many cases fatal. Whatever the cause, it is certain that a great many baby horses have only come into the world to leave it again, some of them drawing but a few breaths and others living some hours; and the above mentioned opinion as to the cause of their early deaths is the only one we have yet heard.

A BAD CUT.—Mr. Wm. Quinn, one of the employees in Greene & Ellis's mill, met with a serious accident last Saturday. While at his post attending to the butting saw his foot slipped on a piece of board, and to save himself from falling he put out his left hand, which came in contact with the teeth of the saw. Fortunately the steam had just been shut off and the saw was slackening its speed; but the first finger was so badly cut that Dr. Wilson had to amputate it, and the flesh on the next two was much lacerated.

A NARROW ESCAPE.—Last Sunday afternoon as a little girl about 8 years old, daughter of the Widow Boyce, of this village, was reaching for some purpose over the point at Powel's landing slipped and fell a distance of twelve or fifteen feet into a deep water below. Several persons who witnessed the accident ran as quickly as possible to the spot, and one of the foremost, Mr. Jas. Adams, dragged a small punt over a boom which enclosed it and sprang in. There was nothing whatever in the punt but an old tin dish, and with this he managed to propel it until he overtook and rescued the child, who was floating on her back, the swift current probably preventing her from sinking as quickly as she would have done in still water. Mr. Adams's courage and presence of mind cannot be too highly praised.

BRILLIANT SCIENTIFIC TRIUMPH.—Thousands cured of catarrh, bronchitis, asthma and lung disease by Dr. M. Souvielle's Spirometer, an instrument which conveys medicinal properties direct to the parts affected. PRESERVATION OF WOOD.

Dr. Joseph Jones, of New Orleans, has, after an extended series of experiments, inaugurated eighteen years ago, in 1864, succeeded in developing a method of preserving wood from decay for great periods of time, and even for centuries. The first series of experiments related to the preservation of animal structures; and in the museum of the medical department of the University of Louisiana are preserved in the open air the most delicate and destructible animal tissues, and entire animals, apparently as fresh as at the moment of death.

The second series of experiments related to the arrest of decomposition in diseased and gangrenous ulcers, cancers, and gunshot wounds, and the results were none the less striking and satisfactory.

The third series of experiments related to the preservation of wood from decay and the destructive action of marine animals.

The process, as finally developed and perfected by Prof. Jones, consists in saturating wood with certain bituminous, resinous, and antiseptic substances and compounds. The sap and moisture of the wood are transformed into steam, and the albuminous constituents coagulated by heat, and the wood thus treated is immediately plunged into a boiling solution, the most important ingredients of which are asphalt or solid bitumen and carbolic acid. The combination may be varied according to the age and density of the wood. As the preservative liquid and wood cools the vapor is condensed and the solution of asphalt is driven into the pores and also penetrates the wood by imbibition. The solvent of the asphalt rapidly evaporates from the surface of the wood after it is removed from the preservative fluid, leaving a smooth, polished surface, impervious to moisture and water. The antiseptic substances are thus locked up within the fibres of the wood. Thus, if it be desired to subject a railroad bridge to this process, the individual portions, after they have been completed, are first heated in order to drive out all the moisture, and then plunged into the solution of asphalt; and after remaining from two to twelve hours, are removed, and each individual part is protected by a complete coating of asphalt, impervious to water, and itself one of the most powerful of wood preservers. When the bridge is erected every portion of it presents a coated surface, and the whole structure presents the appearance of having been carefully painted by hand with durable black varnish.

The saving of expense alone in this mode of painting an entire bridge simply by plunging its component parts into a preservative fluid, it is claimed, will more than equal the expense of the materials used. Wood may be subjected to the hot solution of asphalt without preliminary heating.

A drying room for the wood and a tank heated by steam for the preservative liquid are the only forms of apparatus needed. Solid bitumen or asphalt is found in most countries of the globe; but it is to the West Indies that the United States must look for inexhaustible supplies.—New Orleans Democrat.

The idea of introducing anything like raspberries seems to have been lost sight of.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—An EXTERNAL MEANS of CURING SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic; whilst old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalculæ which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produce a clear, healthy natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION, a FLUID peculiar in itself, is the most potent enemy to all Skin Disorders. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the least degree comparable for its Healthy Action on the Human Skin.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. Startin, and every year it is used adds more and more favourably to its widly increasing reputation. Anyone, however deeply and hopelessly afflicted with Skin Disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent in a diminished appearance of the malady, a growing tendency to fade away, and complete obliterrtion of the eruption.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—BOTTLES CONTAINING NEARLY HALF A PINT.—SOLD BY CHEMISTS EVERYWHERE. Made in London, Eng.

TOWN COUNCIL MEETING

A VERY FULL MEETING WHICH HAS BUT VERY LITTLE BUSINESS TO DO.

The Street and Bridge Committee Through their Chairman Make a Report—The Condition of the Lock's Bridge—Some Miscellaneous Matters.

A regular meeting of the Town Council, took places at the Council Chamber on Monday evening.

Present, Councillors Cahill, Alford, McNaughton, Paterson, Kelly, Poussette, Rutherford, Wilson, Menzies, Denne and Richardson.

On motion Mr. James G. Macdonald was appointed Clerk of the Council pro tem.

On motion Councillor RUTHERFORD took the chair.

PETITIONS.

From James Johnston, asking for compensation for watching his own premises being afraid of fire.—Finance Committee.

From Thomas Beavis, asking that Townsend Street east of Aylmer Street be graded.—Street and Bridge Committee to report.

JOINT COMMITTEE.

Councillor POUSSETTE read and submitted the following report of the above committee:—

The Joint Committee recommend that the Swing Bridge at the Locks be temporarily repaired at the joint expence of the town and county, under the superintendence of Mr. Belcher and so as to ensure its safety until further action is taken.

The committee understand that the timbers of the present bridge are rotten and unsafe and that it will be necessary at an early day, to entirely rebuild the bridge, and inasmuch as the cost of an iron bridge is only a little more than of a wooden one, the committee recommend that the new bridge be built of iron.

All which is respectfully submitted,

(Sg.) A. P. POUSSETTE.
Chairman.

Peterborough, May 29th, 1882.

Councillor POUSSETTE said the Warden was present at the meeting of the committee and acquiesced in the first clause. After the County Council met on on the 20th of June further steps would be taken. As an iron bridge would cost but little more than a wooden one, therefore the former was recommended.

Councillor MENZIES had examined the bridge and found it was good enough and at a slight cost it might be fixed to last for years. He opposed the second clause.

Councillor RICHARDSON learned from the County Engineer that the bridge could be fixed to last but a short time and a new one would have to be built before long. Wooden bridges were very expensive, and iron was gradually replacing wood for bridges and he favoured the plan.

The Chairman thought the bridge was bad and he favoured an iron one as the cheapest in the end.

Councillor POUSSETTE said that Councillor MENZIES agreed with the report in committee, but now voted against it.

Councillor MENZIES said only the first clause.

Councillor POUSSETTE. You agreed with the whole of it. Action must be taken now in order to let the County Council know what they intend to do.

Councillor MENZIES again stated that he had not read the second clause before.

Councillor MCNAUGHTON asked who ordered the County Engineer to examine the bridge?

Councillor POUSSETTE stated that it was that official's business to look after the bridges.

Councillor MCNAUGHTON was afraid of accidents and thought the necessary repairs should be made as recommended by a practical man.

The report was received and adopted.

STREETS AND BRIDGES.

Councillor CAHILL, Chairman, read and submitted the following report of the Street and Bridge Committee:—

To the Mayor and Town Council of Peterborough:

GENTLEMEN,—The Street and Bridge Committee begs leave to report that they have made a partial examination of the streets and bridges, and beg leave to present this their first report:

Your Committee are pleased to report that the sidewalks in town are in a much better state of repair than last year, which is of great advantage to the town, owing to the increased cost of lumber. The streets, however, owing to the absence of snow and the mildness of the weather last winter, and the consequent fact of nearly all the usual winter traffic having had to be done on wheels, are in a worse state than usual. Your Committee recommend—

1. That Park street, north from Sherbrooke street, be water tabled, and the surplus stuff (if any) be put on Sherbrooke street.

2. The Street and Bridge Committee of last year recommended improvements on Paterson street, which have not been done, and we would recommend that an appropriation of $50 be made, provided the parties on said street contribute $20. Also that the town's portion of any money to be expended on the boundary line between the town and North Monaghan be expended south from Sherbrooke street.

3. That the south end of Aylmer street be graded; probable $20.

4. That an appropriation of $250 be made for grading the south end of George street and the intersection of Perry street, and making Rink street across the Bay.

5. That the sidewalk on the north side of Simcoe street, between Stevenson's foundry and Bell's Hotel, be reconstructed, and also the sidewalk on Hunter street for some distance west from the bridge.

6. That Union street be graded and the gravel therefrom placed by the Street and Bridge Inspector; cost, $25.

7. That Smith street west of George to the railway be graded and a sidewalk on north side for some distance; cost, $25.

8. Edinburgh street.

9. That a culvert be built across Water street north of Hilliard's mills; cost say, $12.

10. That Argyle street be improved; cost say $25.

11. That the north end of Stewert street from Antrim to the Communication road be improved; cost say $25.

12. That a four foot sidewalk on the west side of Reid street from London to Edinburgh street; cost say $30.

13. That Macdonald street from Park street to the old burial ground, be improved; cost say $120.

14. That the sidewalk on Reid street from Hamilton's foundry to London street be relaid crosswise and 4 feet wide.

15. That the bridge at Hamilton's foundry be partially rebuilt; probable cost $120.

16. That Elm street be improved; cost say $40.

17. That King street west from Midland railway be improved; cost say $50.

18, That the crossing on Rubidge street between Charlotte and King street be improved; cost say $3.

19. That Simcoe street from Aylmer street west be graded and gravelled; cost say $70.

20. That a sidewalk be laid down on the north side of Mr. Cluxton's house; cost $40.

21. That a sidewalk be laid down on Reid street south from Brock street; cost $30.

22. That the sidewalks on Hall and Rubidge streets be improved; cost $50.

23. That the west end of Simcoe street, also Downey street be graded; cost $50.

24. That Sherbrooke street from Aylmer street to Reid street be graded; cost $40.

25. Your Committee recommend that any portion of the above work be preformed by contract or otherwise, as may be deemed expedient.

All of which is respectfully submitted,

THOMAS CAHILL,
Chairman.

Councillor CAHILL said that the probable cost of the work mentioned was about $1,000. The report was only a partial one and some things that were petitioned for were not mentioned in it.

Councillor DENNE brought up the matter of spending money on the Locks road.

Mr. H. COLLINS, Warden, was heard. He was not aware that any appropriation had been made for repairing the Locks road, but he could say for the County that it had always met the Town half way and would doubtless do the same in the present instance.

Councillor DENNE said the road was very bad and he was glad to hear Mr. Collins speak so favourably.

Councillor MCNAUGHTON drew attention to several bad places in the South Ward and objected to some of the clauses of the report.

Councillor RICHARDSON had visited the places where improvements were recommended and thought all were necessary.

—Received and adopted.

STREET WATERING.

Councillor POUSSETTE asked what action was being taken with regard to watering the streets. There were new petitions in and this matter should be attended to at once.

The Chairman said that tenders were to be asked for and he would look after the matter at once.

TAXES.

Councillor CAHILL spoke of some tax matters that had been referred to the Court of Revision some time ago, and he asked that they be disposed of at the next meeting.

OPENING STREETS.

Councillor MCNAUGHTON again brought up the question of opening up occupied streets.

Councillor CAHILL said that the Chief Constable had told the speaker that he was making as much progress as possible.

Councillor POUSSETTE reproved the Chief for not doing his duty in the matter.

Councillor MENZIES said that two gentlemen had come to him and said the Chief had spoken to them.

Councillor WILSON was the mover of the resolution and intended to press it.

THE GOOSE POND.

Councillor DENNE said that by the expenditure of $150 a good street could be made past the Goose pond.

Councillor CAHILL agreed with the preceding speaker.

MORE WATER.

Councillor POUSSETTE desired that the extended limits should be watered.

Councillor DENNE said another cart was necessary.

The Council then adjourned for four weeks.

No. 1 Company.

The squad for bayonet exercise will meet at the Drill Shed on Friday evening at 7.30. A team from the Company is to fire a match with the Keene Company to-morrow, each Campany firing on its own range.

The Circus.

The van-guard of the Circus that is to show here on the 15th of June, arrived here this morning and the bill posters are hard at work decorating the bill boards with the usual brilliantly colored paper used by all such institutions.

Court of Revision.

The first meeting of the Court of Revision for 1882, takes place this evening at the council chamber at 7.30 o'clock. There are about twenty appeals, most of them of a trivial character, besides some other business that has been referred to this body by the council, from time to time, to adjudicate upon.

Through Trade.

There arrived at Midland on Saturday, and Sunday, 250 car loads of through freight consigned to Europe, and the United States, with more to follow.

Runaway and Spill.

This morning one of the butcher's horses got a little excited and dashed across the marked square at a pace fast even for a butcher's horse, and broke one of the shafts of the cart as well as spilling choice roasts, steaks, etc, all along the ground. The horse was stopped before doing any further damage.

The Late Match.

We have received a letter from the Captain of the "Independent" Lacrcosse Club of Toronto, which played here on the Queen's Birthday. He thinks the REVIEW was rather severe in its remarks, but he cannot justify O'Neil's conduct and states that the Toronto men were perfectly delighted with the treatment they received at the hands of the home team.

Railway Notes.

The Perth Courier in its last issue says that, it is satisfactory to the people of Perth to know that one of their citizens has attained to such prominence in the greatest railway scheme in Canada; and it is equally important for the Syndicate to feel that a gentleman possessing Mr. Ryan's skill and experience as a railway builder, and of his well-known honor and integrity as a business man, has become one of themselves. The people here, on their part, can confidently hope that the town will be placed in a better position even than ever, through Mr. Ryan's connection with the roads. A very short time will see a large number of men at work on the line between this and Sharbot Lake, and it is quite possible yet that the line may be completed to that point by the end of the year. The Midland Railway is almost equally far advanced. Mr. Beemer, the contractor is in town, and a small army of laborers will be along very soon to begin work. Mr. Beemer is a prominent contractor, and has besides this a number of other important works on hand which are well under way. We state this to show that he is a reliable and responsible contractor, and not a man of straw. Mr. Bailey, the chief-engineer of the road, is also in town making things ready for the work of construction. Altogether, the prospects are practically a certainty that both roads will be built, and that without further delay.

MEDICINES taken into the Stomach in concentrated form such as Pills and Powders, are most injurious. The great substitute for these nauseous littlle Calomel pills is Dr. Carson,s Stomach and Constipation Bitters. They cleanse the bowels stimulate the Liver and Kidneys, and cure all stomach disorders, such as Dyspepsia and Indigestion. In large bottles at 50 cents. J. D. Tully, Agent.

IN THE SPRING of the year almost every one requires a good Blood Purifier, more especially in the month of May. We would earnestly advise our readers to try Dr. Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters. A few doses will soon convince you that it is the best remedy known for affections of the stomach, Bowels, Liver and Kidneys. In large bottles at 50 cents. J. D. Tully, Agent.

THE CONTENTED MAN,
Who is He?

The discussion of this question by an able lecturer was listened to a few evenings ago with interest by large audience.

We venture to think that one of this class may be represented by the head of a family, who has been instructed to purchase a supply of that essential commodity for the table—TEA.

He has an indefinite idea that the article ought to be cheaper on account of the removal of the duty, but when he finds that he can save 10 cents per lb., instead of 5 he is jubilant.

THE CONTENTED MAN is he who gets the full benefit of the reduction of the duty on his tea for this year by making a saving of, say $3.00 on a purchase of 30 lbs.

Prove it by inspecting my stock of JAPANS AND YOUNG HYSONS.

A leading line of sweet and good drawing JAPAN offering at 35 cents, formerly sold at 45 cents.

Daily Evening Review

THURSDAY, JUNE 1, 1882.

A Former Resident.

The many friends of Mr. Edwin R. R. Rogers, son of Mr. R. D. Rogers, of Ashburnham, will read the following extracts from the Uxbridge Guardian, in which place Mr. Rogers has resided for some years:—

Never before has it been our duty to record such a pleasing event as that which took place in the rooms of the Mechanics' Institute on Friday evening May 12th. The occasion being a reception and supper extended to Mr. Rogers (before his departure for the great North West) by the ladies of Uxbridge, who all felt that the exit of one who will be greatly missed, could not be allowed to pass without some slight demonstration. Mr. Rogers, who was entirely in the dark as to the movements of the ladies, was very agreeably surprised. Dancing was indulged in until supper was announced and all partook of the excellent supper provided by the ladies. Dr. Bascom, being called upon, expressed the regret of the ladies on the departure of the guest of the evening, and presented on behalf of the ladies, the supper and a vote of thanks to him. Mr. Rogers replied briefly, thanking the ladies for the very agreeable surprise which they had given him and spoke very feelingly of the kindness of the ladies, not only on the present occasion, but at all times since his coming to reside in Uxbridge. He acknowledged his great failing for the fair sex, and would rather thank them all privately, than express his sentiments in a speech, which he was not able to do. Mr. McGillivray spoke in very eulogistic terms of the guest, and expressed his personal regret at Mr. Rogers leaving Uxbridge and said that his departure would be felt not only by the fair sex, but also by the sterner sex, among whom he was a great favorite. Mr. H. H. Cook, rising said he was deputed by the young ladies to say that it will be a bad day for them when the guest leaves Uxbridge, and also by the young men, to say that it will be a good day for them when Mr. R. leaves Uxbridge as they would then have a better chance among the ladies. After singing "For he is a Jolly Good Fellow" an adjournment was made to the Hall where dancing was indulged in until the "wee [sma hours" when the party broke up—each one expressing great pleasure in the enjoyment of the evening."

"On Thursday evening, May 25th, an invitation was extended to Mr Rogers, to meet with some friends, at the Brock road mission, better known as the "Pump Shop" near the residence of Mr. Thom, Sr. The object of the invitation was not stated, but as it proved a pleasant surprise awaited the uninitiated. After some forty people had gathered together, the meeting was opened by prayer, by the Rev. J. Davidson, who officiated as chairman throughout the evening—and who, in a few well chosen sentences, spoke of the great amount of good Mr. Rogers had done in his connection with St. Paul's Church, Uxbridge, as lay leader at the Brock road mission during the past two years—and hoped that in the great North West to which he was going, he would still continue the labor of love he had commenced here. The chairman explained the object of the meeting, saying, that the people could not allow Mr. Rodgers to depart from them without some slight token of their esteem, and called upon Mr. Dyer to read the address which expressed beautifully the sentiments of the people, Mr. Thom, Sr., making the presentation of a beautiful morocco pocket book with gold enclosed, on behalf of the congregation. Mr. Rogers made a suitable reply."

THE LAND ACT.

LONDON, May 31.—Mr. Sexton addressing his constituents, said the land movement wrung the Land Act from a "reluctant and ignorant Legislature." He doubted whether the relations between England and the United States were so friendly that it is advisable for the former to try to embitter them still further. The Irish party felt it their duty to meet every proposal of the Repression bill with stern opposition; there were no splits in that party, and the triumph of the land movement in a year or two was certain. It was never more necessary than now to rally round Mr. Parnell, who had been assailed because he wrote a wise letter from Kilmainham to put a stop to evictions and the outrages resulting therefrom.

THE MONETARY CONFERENCE.

LONDON, May 31.—The international monetary conference has been again postponed till April, 1883.

NOT AFRAID.

CAIRO, May 31.—The Khedive drove out without an armed guard to-day. He afterward held a reception. Arabi kissed the Khedive's hand, and professed himself the Khedive's most humble slave, but directly afterwards circulated a petition denouncing the Khedive. Over two hundred influential persons hostile to Arabi Bey are being deported to Soudan as fast as possible.

LEAVING THE CITY.

CAIRO, May 31.—The natives are escaping from Cairo to avoid signing the petition for the reinstatement of the late Ministry, the withdrawal of the ultimatum, the departure of the squadron, the recall of the consuls-general, and the deposition of the Khedive. No time must be lost to employ measures to save the life of the Khedive.

THE JOINT NOTE.

CONSTANTINOPLE, May 31.—The official joint verbal communications of Lord Dufferin, British ambassador at Constantinople, and the Marquis de Noailles, French ambassador at the same city, to the Porte on the 29th of May, was to the effect that the sultan should issue a declaration of his policy towards Egypt in its present difficulties. The first clause they advised should be in favour of the Khedive; the second to state that the Khedive had acted according to the Sultan's wishes, and the third should summon Arabi Bey and the other military leaders to Constantinople to appear before the Sultan and defend their conduct in the atempted deposition of the Khedive. All the other European ambassadors to-day advised the Sultan to comply with the wishes of the English and French ambassadors.

PREPARATION FOR WAR.

LONDON, May 31.—A despatch to the Standard from Alexandria states that Sultan Pasha has advised the Notables to return home, so as to be beyond the reach of Arabi's soldiery. A correspondent at Cairo of the Daily News telegraphs that the old forts at Alexandria are being repaired and equipped, and that new earthworks are being thrown up at Raselten, within 400 yards of H. M. S. Invincible. The Post's despatch from Constantinople says the army department exhibits no unusual activity, but the naval arsenal is busy fitting out ironclads. All of the native men, women and children have volunteered their services in working at the earthworks. In all garrison towns, excepting Cairo and Alexandria, the soldiers are unchecked in their movements and are plundering the shops. Vessels are being prepared at Davenport to act as guard ships to the Suez Canal. England has agreed to the proposal to hold a Conference at Constantinople to settle the Egyptian question on the basis of the status quo, namely, the maintennnce of the sovereignty of the Sultan, position of the Khedive, etc.

THE JEANNETTE SEARCH.

LONDON, May 31.—An Irkutsh despatch says Harber and Schuetze arrived at Wytini on April 28th. It is expected the Lena will be free from ice by the beginning of June. They are building two boats and a dory, and have also brought a large barge to be used in case the steamer proves useless,

The Comet Now Visible.

The new comet now visible in the northern skies is likely to disappoint some who anticipated a brilliant celestial visitor. From the calculations made by Mr. Hind, the English astronomer, from the Harvard and Albany observations, and those of Professor Tacchini at Rome, the comet's perihelion passage will occur on June 10th. The intensity of its light will then be more than fifteen times as great as it was when first discovered by Mr. Wells. At the ascending node, which it will pass July 1st, it will approach to a distance of only 443,500 miles of the earth, or, roughly speaking, to about twice the distance of the moon. Its present velocity is about forty miles per second, but this will be more than doubled as it makes its nearest approach to the sun, the second week of next month. The tail of the comet immediately after its perihelion passage may undergo remarkable change under solar influence, as did that of the great comet of 1680, which was found to have been no less than twenty million leagues long and to have occupied only two days in its emission from the comet's body. Though the present comet approaches nearer the sun than many of its predecessors we may contemplate with serenity the possibility of its collision with the great luminary. If the sun's atmosphere, as is probable, contains oxygen, the comet's combustion would take place long before it reached the heaving solar surface, and "the bombarding material," as Mr. Mattieu Williams forcibly says, "would be a great gas bubble, a swiftly rushing blast of carbonic oxide, carbonic acid and aqueous vapor," producing a huge sun spot bordered by billows of flame. This might give us another aurora, but it is doubtful whether terrestrial thermometers would sensibly respond to the solar tempest thus occasioned.

Press Despatches to the Review.

THE MARKETS.

LIVERPOOL, June 1.—Cotton is in fair demand, and freely met previous prices. Cheese brings 58 shillings.

RELIGIOUS WAR.

CONSTANTINOPLE, June 1.—It is reported that the prophet who is at the head of the insurrection in Egyptian Soudan with a large army has captured the towns of Dongala, Taka, Kondofan, Danfoer, and Seinvar. In the latter place he massacred 1,100 persons and forced the Europeans to become Mohomedans under the pain of death. The insurrection is spreading. The prophet is receiving excessories from Soundan. The proper object of the insurrection is to throw off the yoke of the Sultan as the head of the Church and to asseat the independence of the faithful.

SETTLING THE WAR.

PARIS, June 1.—It is expected that the invitations to the Conference at Constantinople to settle the Egyptian question will be despatched to the powers to-day. The Conference will meet very shortly.

AMERICAN.

HE DENIES IT.

NEW YORK, June 1.—Hancock is reported as denying that he has been in consultation with the politicians of Pennsylvania in reference to his nomination as Governor.

NOT FOR FRANK.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., June 1.—The Governor contradicts that he is about to pardon the outlaw Frank James.

A BIG STRIKE.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., June 1.—The strike at the iron mills here will effect 5,000 men in this district.

PRETTY BUSINESS.

NEW YORK, June 1.—The Times says that from time to time during the present session there have been scenes of great confusion and disorder in the House, but the scene of last evening surpassed all in violations of the rules. The general uproar was great and sometimes members almost came to blows.

STRIKE PUT OFF.

CHICAGO, June 1.—The great strike of the iron workers at the western mills ordered for to-day has been postponed until June 15. There are many reasons for believing that an arrangement with the manufacturers will be made and the movement postponed indifinitely.

MINER'S PERILS.

VIRGINIA CITY, Nev., June 1.—The pump column at the Alta mine broke yesterday, and soon the bulk head of the east drift gave way letting in a heavy rushwater. Six men in the west cut were shut off. They are still alive. The pumps are running to clear the shaft and there are strong hopes that the men may be saved.

LATER.—There is no hope of saving the men in the drift. The height of the water at the station shows that the drift is completely filled.

STOLEN PLATES.

NEW YORK, June 1.—The Sun's Washington despatch says it is known that other plates than those from which the bonds found on Doyle were printed, are still in the hands of the gang. Different plates from time to time have been surrendered to the treasury, as a condition of immunity. It seems the stock has not been tested.

NO FEMALE VOTES.

CHICAGO, Juue 1.—The convention of the Opiscopal diocese of Illinois yesterday, rejected a proposal to amend the Canon so as to allow women to vote at vestry meetings. Bishop McLaren approved the amendment.

INDIAN OUTRAGES.

TOMBSTONE, Arizona, June 1.—Seymour Dye and Harry Curry in the Dragoon mountains, were on a load of hay and unarmed, when Indians rode up behind and shot them dead.

FOR GIBRALTAR.

PLYMOUTH, June 1.—The channel squadron has sailed for Gibraltar.

FATAL FIRE.

STOCKHOLM, June 1.—The poor house in the town of Questhammer was burned to-day. 20 persons were burned to death.

$200.00 Reward!

Will be paid for the detection and conviction of any person selling or dealing in any bogus, counterfeit or imitation Hop Bitters, especially Bitters or preparations with the word Hop or Hops in their name or connected therewith, that is entended to mislead and cheat the public, or for any preparation put in any form, pretending to be the same as Hop Bitters. The genuine have a cluster of Green Hops (notice this) printed on the white label, and are the purest and best medicine on earth, for Kidney, Liver and Nervous Diseases. Beware of all others, and of all pretended formulas or recipes of Hop Bitterf published in papers or for sales as they are frauds and swindles. Whoever deals in any but the genuine will be prosecuted. Hop Bitters Mfg. Co., Rochester, N. Y.

Bran on Carpets.

Take a pint of any coarse bran—a pint is sufficient for an average room—dampen with as much water as it will hold without dripping, being wet enough to make "splashes" on the carpet. Sprinkle it over one-half the carpet, then commence next to the wall, and sweep the bran over the other half. Keep your shoes off the bran. When the sweeping is finished, the bran, if rightly operated, will have absorbed the dust, and the furniture will be easily rubbed over. This applies to ingrain, rag or other than Brussels, and will not soil the finest fabric, wall or paper.

Personal! To Men Only!

The Voltaic Belt Co., Marshall, Mich., will send Dr. Dye's Celebrated Electro-Voltaic Belts and Electric Appliances on trial for thirty days to men (young or old) who are afflicted with Nervous Debility, Lost Vitality and Manhood, and kindred troubles, guaranteeing speedy and complete restoration of health and manly vigor. Address as above. N. B.—No risk is incurred, as thirty days' trial is allowed.

Daily Evening Review

THURSDAY, JUNE 1, 1882.

MR. LUNDY'S ADDRESS.

Mr. Lundy has issued the platform upon which he appeals to the electors.

In No. 1. he complains that the Government have "unexpectedly" dissolved Parliament; a rather curious complaint from a reader of a paper which months ago announced on "undoubted authority" that these elections were to be held on the 6th of June.

In No. 2. he states what is no doubt perfectly true that it is only owing to the "wishes" of the Liberals that he is a candidate. The Globe gave the order and the Liberals must obey.

In No. 3. he states that should he have the honour of being elected he will give his best attention to the duties of the position. No doubt he will always be on hand when his vote is required by Mr. Blake—not continuously absent like his ~~political friend,~~ Glen, of South Ontario.

In No. 4. he denounces the Gerrymandering Bill, and declares himself "in favour of some course being pursued that would make this impossible in the future." What course? Define your position Mr. Lundy please.

In No. 5. he does not approve of the taxation policy of the Government. Perhaps, a lower duty on satins and a duty on tea would be better in Mr. Lundy's estimation.

As for the "absurdity" of the wool duty we are inclined to think that he will learn before the campaign is over that wool upon which a duty is imposed has been imported, and paid duty.

In No. 6. he announces his desire to "encourage all Canadian industries." This reminds us of a story which we have heard some where of the relative merits of the white man's and Indian's sympathy. The story goes that an unfortunate applied to a white man and an Indian for assistance. The white man had plenty of sympathy —in words. The Indian, when the white man had finished and given nothing, said "me no fine words, but here," diving his hand in his pocket and giving the poor man his last quarter. For the poor man substitute our Canadian industries; for the white man and Indian the reader can substitute Mr. Lundy and Mr. Hilliard.

In No. 7. he is down on the Pacific Railway contract especially the monopoly, and exemption from taxation clauses. Would he prefer to continue to construct the road as Mr. Mackenzie was doing at the cost of the Dominion, including Ontario, rather than to make the lands of the North West pay for the construction, as is now being done?

In No. 8. he disapproves of the North West land policy, because it is against the interests of the settler. Would he prefer to give all the North West lands as free homesteads to the settlers, perhaps from Russia or Sweden, and leave the people of Ontario to pay for the C. P. Railway?

In No. 9. he declares it to be the duty of the Dominion Parliament to confirm the boundary award, notwithstanding that it does not give us our rights, and may be the means of increasing our burdens.

In No. 10. he would like to see the Trent Valley Canal constructed, and will do all he can to aid in the construction by turning out the present Government, who are pushing the work forward, and putting in their places men who have declared it to be worse than a waste of public money.

In No. 11. he announces that he will hold meetings at which he will no doubt afford his opponents an opportunity of discussing with him the issues of the campaign.

It will be noted that the great N. P. is very lightly touched, while the Rivers and Streams Bill is nowhere.

A DISGRACE TO JOURNALISM.

The Examiner of course joins with avidity in the dirty work of endeavouring to excite sectarian rivalry, though it has in the attempt to tell several wilful falsehoods. The Methodists are not displeased, for they know that any legitimate claims they may have are more than satisfied. The Hon. Wm. Aikens has not been expelled from the Cabinet, for he has voluntarily resigned. He has not been cavalierly treated, for the Examiner itself, ten lines above this mendacious paragraph, says:—"Mr. Aikens will succeed Mr. Cauchon as Lieutenant-Governor of Manitoba." Methodism has a representative in the Cabinet, for the Hon. J. Carling, one of the new Ministers, is among the most prominent and zealous Methodists in Ontario. What a cause it must be that requires to use such base means of advancing its claims!

CAMPAIGN NOTES.

Mr. Roxburgh objects to vetoing local legislation, but forgets to mention that the Streams Bill was vetoed to prevent the confiscation of private property without compensation; that his former leaders, Mr. George Brown and Mr. Alex. Mackenzie, helped to place the veto power in our constitution that it might be so used; and that his present leader, Mr. Blake, has recommended the disallowance of Acts within provincial jurisdiction, because he did not like them.

In a statement prepared by the Deputy Minister of Customs and submitted to Parliament it is asserted that the rate of customs duty per head of the population was $4.19 in 1875 (under Mr. Mackenzie) and in 1881 $4.25, an advance of only 6 cents per head, and yet in the first case the people were lightly taxed and economically governed, and in the second they are being ruined. We are inclined to think that the only people who are worthy of consideration, in the estimation of those who are of this opinion, are those whom they would include in the firm of "We, Us & Co."

Mr. Blake says it is "the received opinion that the natural, reasonable and customary mode of settling an international question by arbitration would not be hereafter questioned." Indeed! But how can this apply to the Boundary dispute, unless Canada and Ontario are two different nations? We have not become "different nations" yet (as the dictionary says), however Mr. Blake may desire it, and until we are so we can scarcely call in "international" law to settle our little differences. Ergo, Mr. Blake's highfalutin don't apply.

TENDERS FOR T. V. C.

The Government has published an advertisement inviting tenders for the Trent Valley Canal works at Burleigh, Buckhorn and Fenelon Falls, for the construction of which they have carried an appropriation of $290,000.

This shows that the present administration is in earnest, and that they are desirous of pushing forward as rapidly as possible this very important improvement. Some rabid Reformers have been sneering at the idea, and insinuating that nothing would really be done except carrying on a little surveying to cajole the electors.

An important section of the work will thus be at once completed, and if Sir John Macdonald and his colleagues are sustained we are convinced that we shall see year by year further stretches of this navigation opened for commerce, till in a short time the whole route is available as one of the great arteries of trade.

LEFT IN DOUBT.

The independant Toronto Telegram speaks as follows:—

The impression created by Mr. Blake's letter to his constituents is a good one, although it is not as satisfactory to commercial Reformers as might be. They are left in doubt by it as to what course Mr. Blake and his colleagues would pursue if they were entrusted with the reins of power. If the Reform party is to get back to office, which will not happen this election, it will be by conciliating those who were driven from the ranks to support the N. P. The longer their hostility is kept alive the harder it will be to get them back.

NORTH-WEST LANDS.

Montreal, May 30.—This morning a rumour was in circulation on our Wall street that a rise might be expected in Bank of Montreal stock, as one of the most powerful companies ever projected in Canada had been formed to buy railway lands in the North-West from the Canada Pacific sydicate, in payment for which not only all the land grant bonds now held by the bank would be absorbed, but a further issue of some six millions would be required, making an aggregate of fifteen millions to pay the purchase for the land, and on which the commission to the bank would be simply enormous. At the first session of the Exchange the stock of the bank advanced one and a half per cent., in the afternoon one per cent., the closing sale being at 210. On making enquiry at the Bank of Montreal for information on the subject of this large purchase, your correspondent was courteously referred to the office of the Canada Pacific railway syndicate. The officials there seemed to be as much mystified by the report as the management of the leading bank. They professed to know nothing of the matter beyond the current reports, which had all come in through reporters, they said, who were seeking knowledge on the subject. The next pursuit was to trace the author of the rumor, and that was no easy matter. I am assured, however, that he is an Ottawa banker who arrived here this morning. His statement is to the effect that a gigantic syndicate has been formed, with a view of taking the greater portion of the lands in the North-West off the hands of the railway syndicate to do all that is necessary in their colonization and settlement, leaving the railway directors nothing to do but to build and operate the road. The most influential part of the new land syndicate is composed, it is asserted, of the Duke of Manchester, in his official capacity of president of a London colonization company, the Hartford Land Company of Scotland which must also be a new enterprise, a number of English noblemen and private capitalists in Great Britain, with the addition of some Toronto capitalists, represented by Messrs. Scarth, Cochran & Co., of that city. The capital of the syndicate is said to be fifteen million, of which six million is subscribed by Toronto men alone. Mr. Scarth is credited with being the Canadian manager and projector of the great enterprise. Messrs. George Stephen and R. B. Angus left here last night for Chicago, where they are to meet the Duke of Manchester and other representatives of the new syndicate, and the consummation of the transfer is expected to take place in the great city of the West to-morrow.

Why are we Bilious?—Why do we have sick headache? Why do we feel weak and tried with little or no appetite? Why that coating of the tongue and that bad taste of the mouth? Your liver is out of order, and does not do its work as nature designs. Baxter Mandrake Bitters act directly on the liver, stomach and bowels, and will relieve you at once. They are the best medicine known for costiveness, which is the starting point of ninety-nine cases out of a hundred of all the complaints that human flesh is heir to.

A Word of Caution.—As is usually the case where an article of true merit has attained a world-wide reputation by its wonderful results, as the celebrated Electric Bitters have done, certain unprincipled parties have endeavored to imitate them, and expect to induce an unsuspecting public to purchase their fraudulent wares. Ask your druggist for the genuine Electric Bitters, that are guaranteed to cure, and take no others. Sold by Taylor & McDonold at 50c.

N. H. DOWNS' Vegetable Balsamic ELIXIR!

This valuable medicine is purely vegetable, the discovery of which was the result of many years' close study, in order to discover the cause, the symptoms and the cure—viz.:

Consumption, Coughs, Colds, Catarrh, Croup, Asthma, Influenza, Pleurisy, Hoarseness, Spitting Blood, Bronchitis,

and every species of oppression of the Chest and Lungs. In all cases where this Elixir has been duly administered its efficacy has been invariably manifested, convincing the most incredulous that is not incurable, if properly attended to.—Consumption, at its commencement, is but a slight irritation of the membrane which covers the lungs; then an inflammation, when the cough is more observable, but rather dry; then becomes local fever and the pulse more frequent, the cheeks flushed and chills more common. This Elixir in curing the above complaints, operates so as to remove all morbid irritations and inflammation from the lungs to the surface, and finally expel them from the system. It facilitates expectoration.

CONSUMPTION

IT HEALS THE ULCERATED SURFACES

and relieves the cough and makes the breathing easy. It supports the strength and at the same time reduces the fever. It is free from strong opiate and astringent articles, which are of so drying a nature as to be in great danger of destroying the patient; whereas this medicine never dries or stops the cough, but, by removing the cause, generally destroys the hectic before the cough is entirely gone. Consequently, when the cough is cured the patient is well. Send address for pamphlet giving full directions for cure of pulmonary diseases. Price 25cts. and $1 per bottle. Sold everywhere.

THE PRINCESS LOUISE.

Her Return to Canada—The Future of the Marquis of Lorne.

NEW YORK, May 29.—The Mail and Express newspapers says:—The Princess Louise is at last on the way across the Atlantic to join her husband in Canada. The Marquis of Lorne must have been more surprised than any one else that her visit to England was so long, and he has good reason to rejoice that it has at last come to an end. A less resolute man would have resigned his position as Governor-general of the Dominion and returned to England to please his royal spouse, but he has gained in the world's respect by his firmness in remaining at his post. There is reason to believe that before the end of another year he will be transferred to another position in the British service, and one more congenial to his wife's tastes. It has been suggested that changes are possible which will leave the position of viceroy of India open to him. The splendor of Queen Victoria's court and the social refinement of English life have made the Princess Louise unwilling to reside in Canada. The governor-general is rich and draws a salary of $50,000 a year, and the Princess Louise has an income of $30,000 a year from the revenues of the British crown, but there is neither magnificence nor social refinement enough to satisfy her in her surroundings in the Dominion. Life in Cananada in summer is delightful, and it is intimated that not many weeks after the Sarmatian lands her at Quebec or Montreal a party of her friends will join her for the season, and it is even possible that the Prince of Wales will make a trip across the Atlantic before next winter. A visit from the future British sovereign would doubtless do much to atone to Canadians for any grievance they may have in the reluctance of the Princess Louise to reside among them.

WHO IS COMING WITH THE PRINCESS.

OTTAWA, May 29.—Her royal highness is being accompanied to Canada by Miss Harvey, a lady in waiting; Lieut. Douser, of the Coldstream Guards, who will remain here for some time; Hon. Mr. Bagot, cousin of Capt. Bagot, the present A.D.C., and Sir John C. McNeil, A.D.C., as equerry, who will remain here for a fortnight. Major A. Collins will follow in a week or so. It is not proposed that her royal highness will proceed to Halifax, but to Quebec. The Messrs. Allan have, however, received instructions in case of any danger from ice in the Gulf to send the Sarmatian to Halifax.

OFF FOR QUEBEC TO MEET THE PRINCESS.

His Excellency the Governor-general, accompanied by Mr. Stephenson and servants, embarked on board the yacht Nautilus at McKay's bay yesterday morning and left at 11 a.m. today for Montreal en route for Quebec. The members of his excellency's staff assembled on the bank, and as the yacht steamed off waved an adieu. The party spent the night at Mrs. Richeys hotel. The coachman and assistants, with five horses and seven dogs, left this morning for Montreal by the Canada Pacific railway. Capt. Bagot, Major Short, A.D.C., and servants left at five o'clock this afternoon for Montreal. Col. De Winton, R.A., his excellency's secretary, leaves on Wednesday for Quebec.

A WIFE'S CRIME.

A Former Resident of Chatham Poisons her Husband.

MONTREAL, May 27.—A sensation was created here to-day by a report that Charles Bailey, a well known gardener living about two miles from this city, had been deliberately poisoned with strychnine by his wife. It appears the couple, no longer young, had never lived happily together, and that Mrs. Bailey had often been heard to express the wish that her husband was out of the way. Yesterday Bailey was attending to his duties as usual. In the evening he ate a hearty supper, and afterwards went to bed without complaining. He was shortly after attacked by violent spasms, and before a doctor could be summoned he died in great agony. During the time he was suffering his wife gave herself no concern, but looked on with stoical indifference. On being told that her husband was dead she, with apparent unconsern, replied:—"Oh, is he dead at last? Well, now I'll have some peace. He has been the plague of my life." Dr. Finnie an eminent physician of Montreal, entered the house just as the vital spark had fled. He made an examination of the remains of the food Bailey had beed eating, and from the result, as well as from a description of the symptoms under which Bailey succombed, he declared his conviction that the man was poisoned with strychnine. Bailey was an Englishman, and a veteran of the British army. His wife is a Canadian, having been born in Chatham, Ont. She is about 50, by no means good looking, and of tall masculine appearance. She betrays no symptoms of grief, and to a reporter said, pointing to the body:—This is no place for that; they were to have been here at 10 o'clock." She was referring to the coroner's men, and seemed anxious to get rid of the corpse. She looks like a crazy woman; in fact far more sane-looking women have been seen in the Provincial Asylum.

Edison's Electric Motor.

The bed of Edison's electric railway at Menlo Park is as yet unballasted, so that a drive over its two miles of length is productive of unpleasant jerks and bumps. From the building next to the workshop at Menlo Park, where the steam engine and dynamo-electric machines are placed, a narrow plank walk leads across the field towards the woods in the rear. In this are the wires running from the dynamo-electric machines to the railway track, distant perhaps a quarter of a mile. Here the wires are noticeable, emerging from the casing and communicating with the rails. At first sight the track appears to differ from an ordinary railroad only in in its gauge, which is three feet six inches. But a closer examination reveals three distinctive features. When two rails meet they are joined together on the sides. On each side of the joint is a strip of copper, the ends of which are nickel-plated. Outside these strips are screwed on flat bars of iron, the inner surface being also nickel-plated. Thus the current of electricity passes uninterruptedly from rail to rail. As this cannot be done at the switches, however, thin plates of copper are placed underneath the ends of both rails, so the circuit is not broken. It is three feet long, and as the drivingwheel of the engine is four and a half feet in diameter, the wheel passes over the frog with no perceptible interruption. In appearance the the engine is peculiar. If an ordinary engine were cut in two, midway of the boiler, the forward half discarded, and the cab reduced in size, it would present a tolerably correct representation of the electric engine. Its length is fifteen feet, and the height to the top of the cab nine feet. Of course, there is no smokestack. The road, three miles long, will soon be completed and ballasted. The chief merits which Mr. Edison claims in favour of this electric motor are greater economy in fuel, in help, and in the wear and tear of material and the absence of smoke and cinders. One central station for every ten miles of track in his estimate, and the current sent through the rails for five miles on each side of the station. After elaborate calculations in the case of the electric motor as compared with the steam locomotive engine. Mr. Edison claims that the ratio of mean economy for both is 4 to 8.93, or 55½ per cent. in favour of the electric engine.

RELIGIOUS LITERATURE.

Some person sends us a copy of the Liverpool Daily Courier containing the following marked article;—

We hear that a gentleman has just made a very liberal offer in order to promote the circulation of Christian literature in Canada and the United States. It is to bear the expense of sending to the people of the New World, at almost nominal rates, a large number of parcels of books and pamphlets. These are to be sent to any minister or Sunday-school teacher who may like to apply for them. Some thousands of such parcels have, we know, in the same way, lately been sent all over this country; and now a number are to be sent across the Atlantic. Each parcel is to contain some of the newest English publications by well-known authors, among whom are Haslam, Aitken, Spurgeon, etc., and especially of Miss F. R. Havergal, whose works have lately had such an immense circulation in this country. These names are sufficient indication of the charater of the books. The British Gospel Book Association of this city has the matter in hand, and we understand that so long as the present grant lasts any Christian worker in the States or Canoda, by enclosing to them a one dollar bill, will have a two and a half dollar (or ten shilling) parcel forwarded free. The parcels have been so much appreciated in this country that we are sure many people on the other side of the Atlantic will gladly avail themselves of such help, especially in districts that may have been awakened ud by Mr. Moody's preaching.

Election Bribery in Berlin Prusfia.

Some pithy disclosures just made show that the Conservatives spent more money in their canvass at the late German elections in Berlin alone than was expended by all factions of the liberals together throughout the empire. Much of this was contributed by persons who desired to injure the Jews as a class, in order to reach individual members of the race, against whom they grudges. One extensive dealer in dry goods in Berlin, of the name of Hertzog, whose rage at certain active and successful competitors of the Mosaic faith knows no bounds, alone raised over 400,000 marks for the Conservative campaign fund, and of this is believed to have taken 160,000 marks, out of his own pocket. The aristocracy contributed very little to the outlay and this fact, together with the poor returns obtained for the money, is causing a good deal of dissatisfaction among those who have the best cause of complaint.

WILL YOU EXCHANGE a case of Dyspepsia or Biliousness for 75 cents? It is awfully unwise to agonize under the many ailments arising from Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Disordered Stomach and Liver, when this offer is made to you in your own home in all sincerity, with an absolute certainty of curing you.

ZOPESA (from Brazil) cures Dyspepsia and Biliousness. A single dose relieves; a sample bottle convinces; a 75 cent bottle cures.

It acts directly upon the Stomach, Liver, and Kidneys. Cleansing, Correcting, Regulating, Zopesa gives energy and vim to the Brain, Nerve, and Muscle, simply by working wonders upon the Digestion, and giving activity to the Liver.

Cut this out, take it to any dealer in medicines, and get at least one 75 cent bottle of Zopesa, and tell your neighbor how it acts. It is warranted to cure Dyspepsia and Biliousness.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—An EXTERNAL MEANS of CURING SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic; whilst old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalculæ which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produce a clear, healthy natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION, a FLUID peculiar in itself, is the most potent enemy to all Skin Disorders. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the least degree comparable for its Healthy Action on the Human Skin.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. Startin, and every year it is used adds more and more favourably to its widly increasing reputation. Anyone, however deeply and hopelessly afflicted with Skin Disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent in a diminished appearance of the malady, a growing tendency to fade away, and complete obliteration of the eruption.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—BOTTLES CONTAINING NEARLY HALF A PINT.—SOLD BY CHEMISTS EVERYWHERE. Made in London, Eng.

Street Cleaning.

The Street Inspector has his men at work cleaning George street south of Charlotte. The other streets will be treated in a like manner in their turn. There are many other streets that have never been scrapped and a good cleaning would be a desirable thing.

Annual Picnic.

The annual picnic at Ennismore will take plac In Hennessie's grove on the Boundary, on the 14th June next. Great preparations are being made to entertain an enormous crowd. Further particulars may be learned from the large posters.

The Weather.

Rain fell for some hours during yesterday afternoon and night, but to-day is clearer with stronger wind. The weather probabilities for this district for the following twenty-four hours, as reported from Toronto at 10 a. m. to-day, by the Great North-western Telegraph Company, are as follows:—Lakes—Fresh to strong west and north west winds, fair weather.

Midland Railway Traffic Returns.

The traffic of the above railway for the week ending May 27th, 1882, was as follows:—Passengers and mails, $5,379.21; freight, $14,444.52; total, $19,823.73, as compared with $15,685.55 for the corresponding week of 1881, being an increase of $4,138.18; and the aggregate traffic to date is $353,825.15, being an increase of $104,760.14 over 1881.

Bank Branch.

The Brandon, Manitoba, Sun says:—

Messrs. Wallis, Ramsay & Co., bankers and broker of this city, have made arrangements for opening as branch office at Minnedosa. Mr. Ramsey will proceed at once to take charge of the Minnedosa business, Mr. Wallis continues here. While regretting tht loss to Brandon of a gentleman of Mr Ramsey's standing and abililities, we congratulate our sister town on its acquisition, and bid him good speed.

The above gentlemen are all well known here and we congratulate them on their success.

The Waterworks.

Another consignment of pipes for the waterworks mains have arrived and will be laid down on water street. The contractor for the trenching. Mr. Kinchella of Ottawa, is here and informs us that he will commence work on Monday morning next. The pipe layers, practical men who have just arrived from England, are now ready and are getting their tools, apparatus etc., in good order, so that everything will work smoothly. The contractor finds it impossible to get labourers here to dig the trenches and will have to bring them from Ottawa or Quebec.

The First Accident.

The first accident of any moment that has yet occurred on the Missing Link work occurred on Monday last, and it came very nearly having a fatal termination. One of the navvys, whose name we have not learned, was buried by a portion of a sand embankment falling on him. The land slide was noticed by his fellow workers, who at once set diligently to work and in a short time brought the buried man to the top. Blood was gushing from his eyes, ears and mouth, and all thought that he was dead, but under proper care he recovered consciousness and is now pretty nearly all right. He had a very narrow escape.

Railway Notes.

The Uxbridge Guardian says this time it is the worthy Conductor of the Express train, running between Lindsay and Toronto, Mr John Lethbridge. Previous to his departure from Woodville, for Lindsay, some of his many friends took possession of his home in a very unexpected manner, and spent a very pleasant evening, but all deeply regretting Mr. Lethbridge and his family's removal from their midst.

The wife of conductor Bradley of the Midland was presented with a purse of $150 in gold, upon severing her connection with the choir of the Metropolitan church Toronto.

The Intelligencer says that there is a great scarcity of rolling stock on the Grand Junction division of the Midland. The company are having cars built at half a dozen factories, just as fast as they can be turned out, but they find use for them as fast as received. They expect to soon remedy the difficulty.

Messrs. Cox, Gooderham, White, Jeffers, Beemer and other railway men arrived on the official car from Belleville on Tuesday evening.

POLICE COURT.

AN ARISTOCRATIC DRUNK.

WEDNESDAY, May 31.—P. C. McGhee this afternoon found a shabby genteel looking individual in a beastly state of intoxication and lodged him in the cells. Later on, when his man had somewhat sobered up, he was brought before the Police Magistrate and was a pitiable sight, a regular wreck, shaking like a leaf from the effects of his debauch.

When asked his name he looked around the room and after thinking for a time he gave one which we did not catch, then another and finally, after asking the court not to give it away to "those newspaper fellows," he gave his name as John Arthur Cassal, of Seymour, stated that he owned one hundred acres of land four miles from Campbellford, that he was a gentleman and had been brought up as such. He then proceeded in a very verbose manner to give his family history, saying that his father, who was a major in the Thirty-Second Regimen., had been killed at Waterloo, and further he said he was born the day after the great battle and therefore he never saw his father alive, and he was not sure whether he saw him dead or not.

THE MAGISTRATE at last stopped him and asked him why he got drunk.

THE PRISONER could give no reason, but said he felt awfully "shaky" and he thought a little drop of "whiskey and water" would make a new man of him again.

THE MAGISTRATE remanded him to gaol until Friday morning, so that he might sober up.

Wanted.

Twenty-five or thirty men to work on the Midland Railway ballast trains. Wages $1.25 per day. Apply at the Engineer's Office, George street.

Rifle Match.

The score of the Keene company in the match on Wednesday, was 166, Number one company thus winning by 24 points. In 10 consecutive shots at 400 yards fired by the victorious team (two by each member) 47 were made out of a possible 50.

The Lakefield Meeting.

The West Riding Campaign opened on Wednesday night at Lakefield when Messrs. Hilliard and Burnham held a joint meeting. The attendance was good, but the meeting was too much one-sided, the Reformers not daring to send a man to oppose the Concervatives.

A Grand Rally.

All the members of ward committees are requested to be on hand at Hill's old Music Hall on Friday evening and report progress. Victory is certain, but we want such a majority that it will astonish the Province. Nothing but work will accomplish it, and the work must be done. Let every one be on hand.

New York Church Choir Co.

Mr. Bookhouse the celebrated Tenor is with this famous concert company, also Mr. Howard Clifton the great comic Vocalist and Ventriloguict, who appears in Bradburn's Opera House on Monday evening. The Church Choir Quartette is said to be one of the best in America.

The Circus

Mr Jaques of Ottawa the advance agent of the Nyers and Sorby's New Great Eastern Circus, was to town to-day making arrangements for the appearance here on the 15th of June, of his mammoth show. It is well spoken of by the press of the various places, where it has exhibited. The exhibition will be on the same ground as the last one, in the south end of the town near the Midland Railway track.

Robbed.

We are informed that the rumour recently heard about town, that a Peterborough man had been relieved of a large sum of money, some $2200, by pickpockets, between Winnipeg and St. Paul, turns out to be correct. It is said that the money was taken while the man was asleep by a stranger who shortly before engaged him in conversation. Probably the loser will take a draft next time, instead of carrying such a large sum in bills.

Immigrant Children.

Mr. John T. Middlemore, the founder of the Orphan Children's Emigration Charity, London, Ont., left Liverpool on the 1st inst., in the S. S. Polynesian with a party of 23 girls and 39 boys between the ages of 3 and 18 years, who are brought out to this country for adoption or hire, chiefly among farmers. They are expected to arrive at the Guthrie Home, near the city on or about the 14th inst. This will be Mr. Middlemore's 10th annual visit to these shores with juvenile emigrants from Birmingham, England, since 1872. Already many applications accompanied with good references have been made for the children expected to arrive, but more are required. Further particulars may be obtain by addressing Mr. H. Gibbens, Manager of the Guthrie Home, London, Ontario.

WRITING HIS ADDRESS.

To the Editor of the Review.

DEAR SIR,—The address of the Reform candidate for the West Riding of Peterborough, has been put in my hands. It is dated on the 28th of May. It is to be hoped that our would be representative did not desecrate the Lord's day by writing his address to the "Free and Independent electors" on Sunday afternoon.

I am, Sir, yours &c.
CHRISTIAN.

IN THE SPRING of the year almost every one requires a good Blood Purifier, more especially in the month of May. We would earnestly advise our readers to try Dr. Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters. A few doses will soon convince you that it is the best remedy known for affections of the stomach, Bowels, Liver and Kidneys. In large bottles at 50 cents. J. D. Tully, Agent.

A GENTLEMAN AGED 65, writes: "I heartly thank you for the great boon I have obtained through the use of your wonderful rejuvenator, known as Mack's Magnetic Medicine. I am fully restored—feel like a young colt" Read advertisement in another column.

PORT HOPE.

FOR THE WEST.—The Guide says that Mr Charles A. Wilson, son of the senior member of the firm of Geo. Wilson & Sons, of the Guide, who went to Winnipeg some months ago and entered into the printing business with his brother, G. H. Wilson, returned a couple of weeks ago for his wife and family, who have been stopping for some months past in Port Hope. They all left this morning by the early train for their home in the "Prairie City." Miss Maggie Lydon, daughter of Mr. John Lydon, also went out in company with Mr. and Mrs. Wilson. They made quite a little party—three grown up persons and four children. There was a large number of personal friends at the station to bid them good cheer on their way. Mr. Wilson is well pleased with his business prospects in Winnipeg.

PLEADED GUILTY.—The old scoundrel who was arrested a week or ten days ago by Chief Marshall, for stealing a horse and buggy from Mr. Van Blaricom, Trenton, was brought up for trial on Monday before Judge Lazier at Belleville, and pleaded guilty. Sentence was deferred. It seems this man's correct name is Russel. He was sentenced to fifteen years in the Penitentiary for robbing the post office at Bath and threatening to shoot the clerk; also three years for stealing a horse from from a man in Belleville named Lott, and got five years for stealing from farmers in the township of Hope.

THE CAMPAIGN!

GENTLEMEN,—

The political issues of the campaign are with us Let us cherish them—they are about the best we are likely to see for some time.

It is reasonable to expect that for the next three weeks votes will be an article of commercial value—that is we so anticipate.

A voter in a new suit of clothes is a more estimable constituent than a voter in an old suit, though, of course a voter in an old suit is preferable to no voter at all—at least so we are told.

It will be an additionally gratifying circumstance to find that the successful man has been elected by voters wearing Dolan's Stylish Suits.

Hence it is the duty of all, without regard to previous condition of political servitude, to repair to T. DOLAN & CO'S, and clothe themselves as befits the "Free and Independent."

GENTLEMEN,—This opportunity may not occur again for the next five years. THEN DELAY NOT.

T. DOLAN & Co

THE CONTENTED MAN,
Who is He?

The discussion of this question by an able lecturer was listened to a few evenings ago with interest by large audience.

We venture to think that one of this class may be represented by the head of a family, who has been instructed to purchase a supply of that essential commodity for the table—TEA.

He has an indefinite idea that the article ought to be cheaper on account of the removal of the duty, but when he finds that he can save 10 cents per lb., instead of 5 he is jubilant.

THE CONTENTED MAN is he who gets the full benefit of the reduction of the duty on his tea for this year by making a saving of, say $3.00 on a purchase of 30 lbs.

Prove it by inspecting my stock of JAPANS AND YOUNG HYSONS.

A leading line of sweet and good drawing JAPAN offering at 35 cents, formerly sold at 45 cents.

Daily Evening Review

THURSDAY, JUNE 1, 1882.

A Former Resident.

The many friends of Mr. Edwin R. R. Rogers, son of Mr. R. D. Rogers, of Ashburnham, will read the following extracts from the Uxbridge Guardian, in which place Mr. Rogers has resided for some years:—

Never before has it been our duty to record such a pleasing event as that which took place in the rooms of the Mechanics' Institute on Friday evening May 12th. The occasion being a reception and supper extended to Mr. Rogers (before his departure for the great North West) by the ladies of Uxbridge, who all felt that the exit of one who will be greatly missed, could not be allowed to pass without some slight demonstration. Mr. Rogers, who was entirely in the dark as to the movements of the ladies, was very agreeably surprised. Dancing was indulged in until supper was announced and all partook of the excellent supper provided by the ladies. Dr. Bascom, being called upon, expressed the regret of the ladies on the departure of the guest of the evening, and presented on behalf of the ladies, the supper and a vote of thanks to him. Mr. Rogers replied briefly, thanking the ladies for the very agreeable surprise which they had given him and spoke very feelingly of the kindness of the ladies, not only on the present occasion, but at all times since his coming to reside in Uxbridge. He acknowledged his great failing for the fair sex, and would rather thank them all privately, than express his sentiments in a speech, which he was not able to do. Mr. McGillivray spoke in very eulogistic terms of the guest, and expressed his personal regret at Mr. Rogers leaving Uxbridge and said that his departure would be felt not only by the fair sex, but also by the sterner sex, among whom he was a great favorite. Mr. H. H. Cook, rising said he was deputed by the young ladies to say that it will be a bad day for them when the guest leaves Uxbridge, and also by the young men, to say that it will be a good day for them when Mr. R. leaves Uxbridge as they would then have a better chance among the ladies. After singing "For he is a Jolly Good Fellow" an adjournment was made to the Hall where dancing was indulged in until the "wee [sma hours" when the party broke up—each one expressing great pleasure in the enjoyment of the evening."

"On Thursday evening, May 25th, an invitation was extended to Mr Rogers, to meet with some friends, at the Brock road mission, better known as the "Pump Shop" near the residence of Mr. Thom, Sr. The object of the invitation was not stated, but as it proved a pleasant surprise awaited the uninitiated. After some forty people had gathered together, the meeting was opened by prayer, by the Rev. J. Davidson, who officiated as chairman throughout the evening—and who, in a few well chosen sentences, spoke of the great amount of good Mr. Rogers had done in his connection with St. Paul's Church, Uxbridge, as lay leader at the Brock road mission during the past two years—and hoped that in the great North West to which he was going, he would still continue the labor of love he had commenced here. The chairman explained the object of the meeting, saying, that the people could not allow Mr. Rodgers to depart from them without some slight token of their esteem, and called upon Mr. Dyer to read the address which expressed beautifully the sentiments of the people, Mr. Thom, Sr., making the presentation of a beautiful morocco pocket book with gold enclosed, on behalf of the congregation. Mr. Rogers made a suitable reply."

THE LAND ACT.

LONDON, May 31.—Mr. Sexton addressing his constituents, said the land movement wrung the Land Act from a "reluctant and ignorant Legislature." He doubted whether the relations between England and the United States were so friendly that it is advisable for the former to try to embitter them still further. The Irish party felt it their duty to meet every proposal of the Repression bill with stern opposition; there were no splits in that party, and the triumph of the land movement in a year or two was certain. It was never more necessary than now to rally round Mr. Parnell, who had been assailed because he wrote a wise letter from Kilmainham to put a stop to evictions and the outrages resulting therefrom.

THE MONETARY CONFERENCE.

LONDON, May 31.—The international monetary conference has been again postponed till April, 1883.

NOT AFRAID.

CAIRO, May 31.—The Khedive drove out without an armed guard to-day. He afterward held a reception. Arabi kissed the Khedive's hand, and professed himself the Khedive's most humble slave, but directly afterwards circulated a petition denouncing the Khedive. Over two hundred influential persons hostile to Arabi Bey are being deported to Soudan as fast as possible.

LEAVING THE CITY.

CAIRO, May 31.—The natives are escaping from Cairo to avoid signing the petition for the reinstatement of the late Ministry, the withdrawal of the ultimatum, the departure of the squadron, the recall of the consuls-general, and the deposition of the Khedive. No time must be lost to employ measures to save the life of the Khedive.

THE JOINT NOTE.

CONSTANTINOPLE, May 31.—The official joint verbal communications of Lord Dufferin, British ambassador at Constantinople, and the Marquis de Noailles, French ambassador at the same city, to the Porte on the 29th of May, was to the effect that the sultan should issue a declaration of his policy towards Egypt in its present difficulties. The first clause they advised should be in favour of the Khedive; the second to state that the Khedive had acted according to the Sultan's wishes, and the third should summon Arabi Bey and the other military leaders to Constantinople to appear before the Sultan and defend their conduct in the atempted deposition of the Khedive. All the other European ambassadors to-day advised the Sultan to comply with the wishes of the English and French ambassadors.

PREPARATION FOR WAR.

LONDON, May 31.—A despatch to the Standard from Alexandria states that Sultan Pasha has advised the Notables to return home, so as to be beyond the reach of Arabi's soldiery. A correspondent at Cairo of the Daily News telegraphs that the old forts at Alexandria are being repaired and equipped, and that new earthworks are being thrown up at Raselten, within 400 yards of H. M. S. Invincible. The Post's despatch from Constantinople says the army department exhibits no unusual activity, but the naval arsenal is busy fitting out ironclads. All of the native men, women and children have volunteered their services in working at the earthworks. In all garrison towns, excepting Cairo and Alexandria, the soldiers are unchecked in their movements and are plundering the shops. Vessels are being prepared at Davenport to act as guard ships to the Suez Canal. England has agreed to the proposal to hold a Conference at Constantinople to settle the Egyptian question on the basis of the status quo, namely, the maintennnce of the sovereignty of the Sultan, position of the Khedive, etc.

THE JEANNETTE SEARCH.

LONDON, May 31.—An Irkutsh despatch says Harber and Schuetze arrived at Wytini on April 28th. It is expected the Lena will be free from ice by the beginning of June. They are building two boats and a dory, and have also brought a large barge to be used in case the steamer proves useless.

The Comet Now Visible.

The new comet now visible in the northern skies is likely to disappoint some who anticipated a brilliant celestial visitor. From the calculations made by Mr. Hind, the English astronomer, from the Harvard and Albany observations, and those of Professor Tacchini at Rome, the comet's perihelion passage will occur on June 10th. The intensity of its light will then be more than fifteen times as great as it was when first discovered by Mr. Wells. At the ascending node, which it will pass July 1st, it will approach to a distance of only 443,500 miles of the earth, or, roughly speaking, to about twice the distance of the moon. Its present velocity is about forty miles per second, but this will be more than doubled as it makes its nearest approach to the sun, the second week of next month. The tail of the comet immediately after its perihelion passage may undergo remarkable change under solar influence, as did that of the great comet of 1680, which was found to have been no less than twenty million leagues long and to have occupied only two days in its emission from the comet's body. Though the present comet approaches nearer the sun than many of its predecessors we may contemplate with serenity the possibility of its collision with the great luminary. If the sun's atmosphere, as is probable, contains oxygen, the comet's combustion would take place long before it reached the heaving solar surface, and "the bombarding material," as Mr. Mattieu Williams forcibly says, "would be a great gas bubble, a swiftly rushing blast of carbonic oxide, carbonic acid and aqueous vapor," producing a huge sun spot bordered by billows of flame. This might give us another aurora, but it is doubtful whether terrestrial thermometers would sensibly respond to the solar tempest thus occasioned.

THE MARKETS.

LIVERPOOL, June 1.—Cotton is in fair demand, and freely met previous prices. Cheese brings 58 shillings.

RELIGIOUS WAR.

CONSTANTINOPLE, June 1.—It is reported that the prophet who is at the head of the insurrection in Egyptian Soudan with a large army has captured the towns of Dongala, Taka, Kondofan, Danfoer, and Seinvar. In the latter place he massacred 1,100 persons and forced the Europeans to become Mohomedans under the pain of death. The insurrection is spreading. The prophet is receiving excessories from Soundan. The proper object of the insurrection is to throw off the yoke of the Sultan as the head of the Church and to asseat the independence of the faithful.

SETTLING THE WAR.

PARIS, June 1.—It is expected that the invitations to the Conference at Constantinople to settle the Egyptian question will be despatched to the powers to-day. The Conference will meet very shortly.

AMERICAN.

HE DENIES IT.

NEW YORK, June 1.—Hancock is reported as denying that he has been in consultation with the politicians of Pennsylvania in reference to his nomination as Governor.

NOT FOR FRANK.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., June 1.—The Governor contradicts that he is about to pardon the outlaw Frank James.

A BIG STRIKE.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., June 1.—The strike at the iron mills here will effect 5,000 men in this district.

PRETTY BUSINESS.

NEW YORK, June 1.—The Times says that from time to time during the present session there have been scenes of great confusion and disorder in the House. but the scene of last evening surpassed all in violations of the rules. The general uproar was great and sometimes members almost came to blows.

STRIKE PUT OFF.

CHICAGO, June 1.—The great strike of the iron workers at the western mills ordered for to-day has been postponed until June 15. There are many reasons for believing that an arrangement with the manufacturers will be made and the movement postponed indifinitely.

MINER'S PERILS.

VIRGINIA CITY, Nev., June 1.—The pump column at the Alta mine broke yesterday, and soon the bulk head of the east drift gave way letting in a heavy rushwater. Six men in the west cut were shut off. They are still alive. The pumps are running to clear the shaft and there are strong hopes that the men may be saved.

LATER.—There is no hope of saving the men in the drift. The height of the water at the station shows that the drift is completely filled.

STOLEN PLATES.

NEW YORK, June 1.—The Sun's Washington despatch says it is known that other plates than those from which the bonds found on Doyle were printed, are still in the hands of the gang. Different plates from time to time have been surrendered to the treasury, as a condition of immunity. It seems the stock has not been tested.

NO FEMALE VOTES.

CHICAGO, June 1.—The convention of the Opiscopal diocese of Illinois yesterday, rejected a proposal to amend the Canon so as to allow women to vote at vestry meetings. Bishop McLaren approved the amendment.

INDIAN OUTRAGES.

TOMBSTONE, Arizona, June 1.—Seymour Dye and Harry Curry in the Dragoon mountains, were on a load of hay and unarmed, when Indians rode up behind and shot them dead.

FOR GIBRALTAR.

PLYMOUTH, June 1.—The channel squadron has sailed for Gibraltar.

FATAL FIRE.

STOCKHOLM, June 1.—The poor house in the town of Questhammer was burned to-day. 20 persons were burned to death.

The genuine have a cluster of Green Hops (notice this) printed on the white label, and are the purest and best medicine on earth, for Kidney, Liver and Nervous Diseases. Beware of all others, and of all pretended formulas or recipes of Hop Bitterf published in papers or for sales as they are frauds and swindles. Whoever deals in any but the genuine will be prosecuted. Hop Bitters Mfg. Co., Rochester, N. Y.

Bran on Carpets.

Take a pint of any coarse bran—a pint is sufficient for an average room—dampen with as much water as it will hold without dripping, being wet enough to make "splashes" on the carpet. Sprinkle it over one-half the carpet, then commence next to the wall, and sweep the bran over the other half. Keep your shoes off the bran. When the sweeping is finished, the bran, if rightly operated, will have absorbed the dust, and the furniture will be easily rubbed over. This applies to ingrain, rag or other than Brussels, and will not soil the finest fabric, wall or paper.

Personal! To Men Only!

The Voltaic Belt Co., Marshall, Mich., will send Dr. Dye's Celebrated Electro-Voltaic Belts and Electric Appliances on trial for thirty days to men (young or old) who are afflicted with Nervous Debility, Lost Vitality and Manhood, and kindred troubles, guaranteeing speedy and complete restoration of health and manly vigor. THURSDAY, JUNE 1, 1882.

MR. LUNDY'S ADDRESS.

Mr. Lundy has issued the platform upon which he appeals to the electors.

In No. 1. he complains that the Government have "unexpectedly" dissolved Parliament; a rather curious complaint from a reader of a paper which months ago announced on "undoubted authority" that these elections were to be held on the 6th of June.

In No. 2. he states what is no doubt perfectly true that it is only owing to the "wishes" of the Liberals that he is a candidate. The Globe gave the order and the Liberals must obey.

In No. 3. he states that should he have the honour of being elected he will give his best attention to the duties of the position. No doubt he will always be on hand when his vote is required by Mr. Blake—not continuously absent like his political friend, Glen, of South Ontario.

In No. 4. he denounces the Gerrymandering Bill, and declares himself "in favour of some course being pursued that would make this impossible in the future." What course? Define your position Mr. Lundy please.

In No. 5. he does not approve of the taxation policy of the Government. Perhaps, a lower duty on satins and a duty on tea would be better in Mr. Lundy's estimation.

As for the "absurdity" of the wool duty we are inclined to think that he will learn before the campaign is over that wool upon which a duty is imposed has been imported, and paid duty.

In No. 6. he announces his desire to "encourage all Canadian industries." This reminds us of a story which we have heard some where of the relative merits of the white man's and Indian's sympathy. The story goes that an unfortunate applied to a white man and an Indian for assistance. The white man had plenty of sympathy—in words. The Indian, when the white man had finished and given nothing, said "me no fine words, but here," diving his hand in his pocket and giving the poor man his last quarter. For the poor man substitute our Canadian industries; for the white man and Indian the reader can substitute Mr. Lundy and Mr. Hilliard.

In No. 7. he is down on the Pacific Railway contract especially the monopoly, and exemption from taxation clauses. Would he prefer to continue to construct the road as Mr. Mackenzie was doing at the cost of the Dominion, including Ontario, rather than to make the lands of the North West pay for the construction, as is now being done?

In No. 8. he disapproves of the North West land policy, because it is against the interests of the settler. Would he prefer to give all the North West lands as free homesteads to the settlers, perhaps from Russia or Sweden, and leave the people of Ontario to pay for the C. P. Railway?

In No. 9. he declares it to be the duty of the Dominion Parliament to confirm the boundary award, notwithstanding that it does not give us our rights, and may be the means of increasing our burdens.

In No. 10. he would like to see the Trent Valley Canal constructed, and will do all he can to aid in the construction by turning out the present Government, who are pushing the work forward, and putting in their places men who have declared it to be worse than a waste of public money.

In No. 11. he announces that he will hold meetings at which he will no doubt afford his opponents an opportunity of discussing with him the issues of the campaign.

It will be noted that the great N. P. is very lightly touched, while the Rivers and Streams Bill is nowhere.

A DISGRACE TO JOURNALISM.

The Examiner of course joins with avidity in the dirty work of endeavouring to excite sectarian rivalry, though it has in the attempt to tell several wilful falsehoods. The Methodists are not displeased, for they know that any legitimate claims they may have are more than satisfied. The Hon. Wm. Aikens has not been expelled from the Cabinet, for he has voluntarily resigned. He has not been cavalierly treated, for the Examiner itself, ten lines above this mendacious paragraph, says:—"Mr. Aikens will succeed Mr. Cauchon as Lieutenant-Governor of Manitoba." Methodism has a representative in the Cabinet, for the Hon. J. Carling, one of the new Ministers, is among the most prominent and zealous Methodists in Ontario. What a cause it must be that requires to use such base means of advancing its claims!

CAMPAIGN NOTES.

Mr. Roxburgh objects to vetoing local legislation, but forgets to mention that the Streams Bill was vetoed to prevent the confiscation of private property without compensation; that his former leaders, Mr. George Brown and Mr. Alex. Mackenzie, helped to place the veto power in our constitution that it might be so used; and that his present leader, Mr. Blake, has recommended the disallowance of Acts within provincial jurisdiction, because he did not like them.

In a statement prepared by the Deputy Minister of Customs and submitted to Parliament it is asserted that the rate of customs duty per head of the population was $4.19 in 1875 (under Mr. Mackenzie) and in 1881 $4.25, an advance of only 6 cents per head, and yet in the first case the people were lightly taxed and economically governed, and in the second they are being ruined. We are inclined to think that the only people who are worthy of consideration, in the estimation of those who are of this opinion, are those whom they would include in the firm of "We, Us & Co."

* * *

Mr. Blake says it is "the received opinion that the natural, reasonable and customary mode of settling an international question by arbitration would not be hereafter questioned." Indeed! But how can this apply to the Boundary dispute, unless Canada and Ontario are two different nations? We have not become "different nations" yet (as the dictionary says), however Mr. Blake may desire it, and until we are so we can scarcely call in "international" law to settle our little differences. Ergo, Mr. Blake's highfalutin don't apply.

TENDERS FOR T. V. C.

The Government has published an advertisement inviting tenders for the Trent Valley Canal works at Burleigh, Buckhorn and Fenelon Falls, for the construction of which they have carried an appropriation of $290,000.

This shows that the present administration is in earnest, and that they are desirous of pushing forward as rapidly as possible this very important improvement. Some rabid Reformers have been sneering at the idea, and insinuating that nothing would really be done except carrying on a little surveying to cajole the electors.

An important section of the work will thus be at once completed, and if Sir John Macdonald and his colleagues are sustained we are convinced that we shall see year by year further stretches of this navigation opened for commerce, till in a short time the whole route is available as one of the great arteries of trade.

LEFT IN DOUBT.

The independant Toronto Telegram speaks as follows:—

The impression created by Mr. Blake's letter to his constituents is a good one, although it is not as satisfactory to commercial Reformers as might be. They are left in doubt by it as to what course Mr. Blake and his colleagues would pursue if they were entrusted with the reins of power. If the Reform party is to get back to office, which will not happen this election, it will be by conciliating those who were driven from the ranks to support the N. P. The longer their hostility is kept alive the harder it will be to get them back.

NORTH-WEST LANDS.

Montreal, May 30.—This morning a rumour was in circulation on our Wall street that a rise might be expected in Bank of Montreal stock, as one of the most powerful companies ever projected in Canada had been formed to buy railway lands in the North-West from the Canada Pacific sydicate, in payment for which not only all the land grant bonds now held by the bank would be absorbed, but a further issue of some six millions would be required, making an aggregate of fifteen millions to pay the purchase for the land, and on which the commission to the bank would be simply enormous. At the first session of the Exchange the stock of the bank advanced one and a half per cent., in the afternoon one per cent., the closing sale being at 210. On making enquiry at the Bank of Montreal for information on the subject of this large purchase, your correspondent was courteously referred to the office of the Canada Pacific railway syndicate. The officials there seemed to be as much mystified by the report as the management of the leading bank. They professed to know nothing of the matter beyond the current reports, which had all come in through reporters, they said, who were seeking knowledge on the subject. The next pursuit was to trace the author of the rumor, and that was no easy matter. I am assured, however, that he is an Ottawa banker who arrived here this morning. His statement is to the effect that a gigantic syndicate has been formed, with a view of taking the greater portion of the lands in the North-West off the hands of the railway syndicate to do all that is necessary in their colonization and settlement, leaving the railway directors nothing to do but to build and operate the road. The most influential part of the new land syndicate is composed, it is asserted, of the Duke of Manchester, in his official capacity of president of a London colonization company, the Hartford Land Company of Scotland which must also be a new enterprise, a number of English noblemen and private capitalists in Great Britain, with the addition of some Toronto capitalists, represented by Messrs. Scarth, Cochran & Co., of that city. The capital of the syndicate is said to be fifteen million, of which six million is subscribed by Toronto men alone. Mr. Scarth is credited with being the Canadian manager and projector of the great enterprise. Messrs. George Stephen and R. B. Angus left here last night for Chicago, where they are to meet the Duke of Manchester and other representatives of the new syndicate, and the consummation of the transfer is expected to take place in the great city of the West tomorrow.

Why are we Bilious?—Why do we have sick headache? Why do we feel weak and tried with little or no appetite? Why that coating of the tongue and that bad taste of the mouth? Your liver is out of order, and does not do its work as nature designs. Baxter Mandrake Bitters act directly on the liver, stomach and bowels, and will relieve you at once. They are the best medicine known for costiveness, which is the starting point of ninety-nine cases out of a hundred of all the complaints that human flesh is heir to.

A Word of Caution.—As is usually the case where an article of true merit has attained a world-wide reputation by its wonderful results, as the celebrated Electric Bitters have done, certain unprincipled parties have endeavored to imitate them, and expect to induce an unsuspecting public to purchase their fraudulent wares. Ask your druggist for the genuine Electric Bitters, that are guaranteed to cure, and take no others. Sold by Taylor & McDonold at 50c.

N. H. DOWNS' Vegetable Balsamic ELIXIR!

This valuable medicine is purely vegetable, the discovery of which was the result of many years' close study, in order to discover the cause, the symptoms and the cure—viz.:

Consumption, Coughs, Colds, Catarrh, Croup, Asthma, Influenza, Pleurisy, Hoarseness, Spitting Blood, Bronchitis,

and every species of oppression of the Chest and Lungs. In all cases where this Elixir has been duly administered its efficacy has been invariably manifested, convincing the most incredulous that is not incurable, if properly attended to.—Consumption, at its commencement, is but a slight irritation of the membrane which covers the lungs; then an inflammation, when the cough is more observable, but rather dry; then becomes local fever and the paleness more frequent, the cheeks flushed and chills more common. This Elixir in curing the above complaints, operates so as to remove all morbid irritations and inflammation from the lungs to the surface, and finally expel them from the system. It facilitates expectoration.

CONSUMPTION

IT HEALS THE ULCERATED SURFACES

and relieves the cough and makes the breathing easy. It supports the strength and at the same time reduces the fever. It is free from strong opiate and astringent articles, which are of so drying a nature as to be in great danger of destroying the patient; whereas this medicine never dries or stops the cough, but, by removing the cause, generally destroys the hectic before the cough is entirely gone. Consequently, when the cough is cured the patient is well. Send address for pamphlet giving full directions for cure of pulmonary diseases. Price 25cts. and $1 per bottle. Sold everywhere.

THE PRINCESS LOUISE.

Her Return to Canada—The Future of the Marquis of Lorne.

NEW YORK, May 29.—The Mail and Express newspapers says:—The Princess Louise is at last on the way across the Atlantic to join her husband in Canada. The Marquis of Lorne must have been more surprised than any one else that her visit to England was so long, and he has good reason to rejoice that it has at last come to an end. A less resolute man would have resigned his position as Governor-general of the Dominion and returned to England to please his royal spouse, bnt he has gained in the world's respect by his firmness in remaining at his post. There is reason to believe that before the end of another year he will be transferred to another position in the British service, and one more congenial to his wife's tastes. It has been suggested that changes are possible which will leave the position of viceroy of India open to him. The splendor of Queen Victoria's court and the social refinement of English life have made the Princess Louise unwilling to reside in Canada. The governor-general is rich and draws a salary of $50,000 a year, and the Princess Louise has an income of $30,000 a year from the revenues of the British crown, but there is neither magnificence nor social refinement enough to satisfy her in her surroundings in the Dominion. Life in Cananada in summer is delightful, and it is intimated that not many weeks after the Sarmatian lands her at Quebec or Montreal a party of her friends will join her for the season, and it is even possible that the Prince of Wales will make a trip across the Atlantic before next winter. A visit from the future British sovereign would doubtless do much to atone to Canadians for any grievance they may have in the reluctance of the Princess Louise to reside among them.

WHO IS COMING WITH THE PRINCESS.

OTTAWA, May 29.—Her royal highness is being accompanied to Canada by Miss Harvey, a lady in waiting; Lieut. Douser, of the Coldstream Guards, who will remain here for some time; Hon. Mr. Bagot, cousin of Capt. Bagot, the present A.D.C., and Sir John C. McNeil, A.D.C., as equerry, who will remain here for a fortnight. Major A. Collins will follow in a week or so. It is not proposed that her royal highness will proceed to Halifax, but to Quebec. The Messrs. Allan have, however, received instructions in case of any danger from ice in the Gulf to send the Sarmatian to Halifax.

OFF FOR QUEBEC TO MEET THE PRINCESS.

His Excellency the Governor-general, accompanied by Mr. Stephenson and servants, embarked on board the yacht Nautilus at McKay's bay yesterday morning and left at 11 a.m. today for Montreal en route for Quebec. The members of his excellency's staff assembled on the bank, and as the yacht steamed off waved an adieu. The party spent the night at Mrs. Richeys hotel. The coachman and assistants, with five horses and seven dogs, left this morning for Montreal by the Canada Pacific railway. Capt. Bagot, Major Short, A.D.C., and servants left at five o'clock this afternoon for Montreal. Col. De Winton, R.A., his excellency's secretary, leaves on Wednesday for Quebec.

A WIFE'S CRIME.

A Former Resident of Chatham Poisons her Husband.

MONTREAL, May 27.—A sensation was created here to-day by a report that Charles Bailey, a well known gardener living about two miles from this city, had been deliberately poisoned with strychnine by his wife. It appears the couple, no longer young, had never lived happily together, and that Mrs. Bailey had often been heard to express the wish that her husband was out of the way. Yesterday Bailey was attending to his duties as usual. In the evening he ate a hearty supper, and afterwards went to bed without complaining. He was shortly after attacked by violent spasms, and before a doctor could be summoned he died in great agony. During the time he was suffering his wife gave herself no concern, but looked on with stoical indifference. On being told that her husband was dead she, with apparent unconsern, replied:—"Oh, is he dead at last? Well, now I'll have some peace. He has been the plague of my life." Dr. Finnie an eminent physician of Montreal, entered the house just as the vital spark had fled. He made an examination of the remains of the food Bailey had beed eating, and from the result, as well as from a description of the symptoms under which Bailey succombed, he declared his conviction that the man was poisoned with strychnine. Bailey was an Englishman, and a veteran of the British army. His wife is a Canadian, having been born in Chatham, Ont. She is about 50, by no means good looking, and of tall masculine appearance. She betrays no symptoms of grief, and to a reporter said, pointing to the body:—This is no place for that; they were to have been here at 10 o'clock." She was referring to the coroner's men, and seemed anxious to get rid of the corpse. She looks like a crazy woman; in fact far more sane-looking women have been seen in the Provincial Asylum.

Edison's Electric Motor.

The bed of Edison's electric railway at Menlo Park is as yet unballasted, so that a drive over its two miles of length is productive of unpleasant jerks and bumps. From the building next to the workshop at Menlo Park, where the steam engine and dynamo-electric machines are placed, a narrow plank walk leads across the field towards the woods in the rear. In this are the wires running from the dynamo-electric machines to the railway track, distant perhaps a quarter of a mile. Here the wires are noticeable, emerging from the casing and communicating with the rails. At first sight the track appears to differ from an ordinary railroad only in in its gauge, which is three feet six inches. But a closer examination reveals three distinctive features. When two rails meet they are joined together on the sides. On each side of the joint is a strip of copper, the ends of which are nickel-plated. Outside these strips are screwed on flat bars of iron, the inner surface being also nickel-plated. Thus the current of electricity passes uninterruptedly from rail to rail. As this cannot be done at the switches, however, thin plates of copper are placed underneath the ends of both rails, so the circuit is not broken. It is three feet long, and as the drivingwheel of the engine is four and a half feet in diameter, the wheel passes over the frog with no perceptible interruption. In appearance the the engine is peculiar. If an ordinary engine were cut in two, midway of the boiler, the forward half discarded, and the cab reduced in size, it would present a tolerably correct representation of the electric engine. Its length is fifteen feet, and the height to the top of the cab nine feet. Of course, there is no smokestack. The road, three miles long, will soon be completed and ballasted. The chief merits which Mr. Edison claims in favour of this electric motor are greater economy in fuel, in help, and in the wear and tear of material and the absence of smoke and cinders. One central station for every ten miles of track in his estimate, and the current sent through the rails for five miles on each side of the station. After elaborate calculations in the case of the electric motor as compared with the steam locomotive engine. Mr. Edison claims that the ratio of mean economy for both is 4 to 8.93, or 55½ per cent. in favour of the electric engine.

RELIGIOUS LITERATURE.

Some person sends us a copy of the Liverpool Daily Courier containing the following marked article:—

We hear that a gentleman has just made a very liberal offer in order to promote the circulation of Christian literature in Canada and the United States. It is to bear the expense of sending to the people of the New World, at almost nominal rates, a large number of parcels of books and pamphlets. These are to be sent to any minister or Sunday-school teacher who may like to apply for them. Some thousands of such parcels have, we know, in the same way, lately been sent all over this country; and now a number are to be sent across the Atlantic. Each parcel is to contain some of the newest English publications by well-known authors, among whom are Haslam, Aitken, Spurgeon, etc., and especially of Miss F. R. Havergal, whose works have lately had such an immense circulation in this country. These names are sufficient indication of the charater of the books. The British Gospel Book Association of this city has the matter in hand, and we understand that so long as the present grant lasts any Christian worker in the States or Canada, by enclosing to them a one dollar bill, will have a two and a half dollar (or ten shilling) parcel forwarded free. The parcels have been so much appreciated in this country that we are sure many people on the other side of the Atlantic will gladly avail themselves of such help, especially in districts that may have been awakened ud by Mr. Moody's preaching.

Election Bribery in Berlin Prusfia.

Some pithy disclosures just made show that the Conservatives spent more money in their canvass at the late German elections in Berlin alone than was expended by all factions of the liberals together throughout the empire. Much of this was contributed by persons who desired to injure the Jews as a class, in order to reach individual members of the race, against whom they grudges. One extensive dealer in dry goods in Berlin, of the name of Hertzog, whose rage at certain active and successful competitors of the Mosaic faith knows no bounds, alone raised over 400,000 marks for the Conservative campaign fund, and of this is believed to have taken 160,000 marks out of his own pocket. The aristocracy contributed very little to the outlay and this fact, together with the poor returns obtained for the money, is causing a good deal of dissatisfaction among those who have the best cause of complaint.

WILL YOU EXCHANGE a case of Dyspepsia or Biliousness for 75 cents? It is awfully unwise to agonize under the many ailments arising from Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Disordered Stomach and Liver, when this offer is made to you in your own home in all sincerity, with an absolute certainty of curing you.

ZOPESA (from Brazil) cures Dyspepsia and Biliousness. A single dose relieves; a sample bottle convinces; a 75 cent bottle cures.

It acts directly upon the Stomach, Liver, and Kidneys.

Cleansing, Correcting, Regulating, Zopesa gives energy and vim to the Brain, Nerve, and Muscle, simply by working wonders upon the Digestion, and giving activity to the Liver.

Cut this out, take it to any dealer in medicines, and get at least one 75 cent bottle of Zopesa, and tell your neighbor how it acts. It is warranted to cure Dyspepsia and Biliousness.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—An EXTERNAL MEANS of CURING SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic; whilst old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalcule which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produce a clear, healthy natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION, a FLUID peculiar in itself, is the most potent enemy to all Skin Disorders. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the least degree comparable for its Healthy Action on the Human Skin.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. Startin, and every year it is used adds more and more favourably to its widly increasing reputation. Anyone, however deeply and hopelessly afflicted with Skin Disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent in a diminished appearance of the malady, a growing tendency to fade away, and complete obliteration of the eruption.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—BOTTLES CONTAINING NEARLY HALF A PINT.—SOLD BY CHEMISTS EVERYWHERE. Made in London, Eng.

THURSDAY, JUNE 1, 1882.

Street Cleaning.

The Street Inspector has his men at work cleaning George street south of Charlotte. The other streets will be treated in a like manner in their turn. There are many other streets that have never been scrapped and a good cleaning would be a desirable thing.

Annual Picnic.

The annual picnic at Ennismore will take plac In Hennessie's grove on the Boundary, on the 14th June next. Great preparations are being made to entertain an enormous crowd. Further particulars may be learned from the large posters.

The Weather.

Rain fell for some hours during yesterday afternoon and night, but to-day is clearer with stronger wind. The weather probabilities for this district for the following twenty-four hours, as reported from Toronto at 10 a. m. to-day, by the Great North-western Telegraph Company, are as follows:—Lakes—Fresh to strong west and north west winds, fair weather.

Midland Railway Traffic Returns.

The traffic of the above railway for the week ending May 27th, 1882, was as follows:—Passengers and mails, $5,379.21; freight, $14,444.52; total, $19,823.73, as compared with $15,685.55 for the corresponding week of 1881, being an increase of $4,138.18; and the aggregate traffic to date is $353,825.15, being an increase of $104,760.14 over 1881.

Bank Branch.

The Brandon, Manitoba, Sun says:—

Messrs. Wallis, Ramsay & Co., bankers and broker of this city, have made arrangements for opening as branch office at Minnedosa. Mr. Ramsey will proceed at once to take charge of the Minnedosa business, Mr. Wallis continues here. While regretting tht loss to Brandon of a gentleman of Mr Ramsey's standing and abilillities, we congratulate our sister town on its acquisition, and bid him good speed.

The above gentlemen are all well known here and we congratulate them on their success.

The Waterworks.

Another consignment of pipes for the waterworks mains have arrived and will be laid down on water street. The contractor for the trenching. Mr. Kinchella of Ottawa, is here and informs us that he will commence work on Monday morning next. The pipe layers, practical men who have just arrived from England, are now ready and are getting their tools, apparatus etc., in good order, so that everything will work smoothly. The contractor finds it impossible to get labourers here to dig the trenches and will have to bring them from Ottawa or Quebec.

The First Accident.

The first accident of any moment that has yet occurred on the Missing Link work occurred on Monday last, and it came very nearly having a fatal termination. One of the navvys, whose name we have not learned, was buried by a portion of a sand embankment falling on him. The land slide was noticed by his fellow workers, who at once set diligently to work and in a short time brought the buried man to the top. Blood was gushing from his eyes, ears and mouth, and all thought that he was dead, but under proper care he recovered consciousness and is now pretty nearly all right. He had a very narrow escape.

Railway Notes.

The Uxbridge Guardian says this time it is the worthy Conductor of the Express train, running between Lindsay and Toronto, Mr John Lethbridge. Previous to his departure from Woodville, for Lindsay, some of his many friends took possession of his home in a very unexpected manner, and spent a very pleasant evening, but all deeply regretting Mr. Lethbridge and his family's removal from their midst.

The wife of conductor Bradley of the Midland was presented with a purse of $150 in gold, upon severing her connection with the choir of the Metropolitan church Toronto.

The Intelligencer says that there is a great scarcity of rolling stock on the Grand Junction division of the Midland. The company are having cars built at half a dozen factories, just as fast as they can be turned out, but they find use for them as fast as received. They expect to soon remedy the difficulty.

Messrs. Cox, Gooderham, White, Jeffers, Beemer and other railway men arrived on the official car from Belleville on Tuesday evening.

POLICE COURT.

AN ARISTOCRATIC DRUNK.

WEDNESDAY, May 31.—P. C. McGhee this afternoon found a shabby genteel looking individual in a beastly state of intoxication and lodged him in the cells. Later on, when his man had somewhat sobered up, he was brought before the Police Magistrate and was a pitiable sight; a regular wreck, shaking like a leaf from the effects of his debauch.

When asked his name he looked around the room and after thinking for a time he gave one which we did not catch, then another and finally, after asking the court not to give it away to "those newspaper fellows," he gave his name as John Arthur Cassal, of Seymour, stated that he owned one hundred acres of land four miles from Campbellford, that he was a gentleman and had been brought up as such. He then proceeded in a very verbose manner to give his family history, saying that his father, who was a major in the Thirty-Second Regiment, had been killed at Waterloo, and further he said he was born the day after the great battle and therefore he never saw his father alive, and he was not sure whether he saw him dead or not.

THE MAGISTRATE at last stopped him and asked him why he got drunk.

THE PRISONER could give no reason, but said he felt awfully "shaky" and he thought a little drop of "whiskey and water" would make a new man of him again.

THE MAGISTRATE remanded him to gaol until Friday morning, so that he might sober up.

Wanted.

Twenty-five or thirty men to work on the Midland Railway ballast trains. Wages $1.25 per day. Apply at the Engineer's Office, George street.

Rifle Match.

The score of the Keene company in the match on Wednesday, was 166, Number one company thus winning by 24 points. In 10 consecutive shots at 400 yards fired by the victorious team (two by each member) 47 were made out of a possible 50.

The Lakefield Meeting.

The West Riding Campaign opened on Wednesday night at Lakefield when Messrs. Hilliard and Burnham held a joint meeting. The attendance was good, but the meeting was too much one-sided, the Reformers not daring to send a man to oppose the Concervatives.

A Grand Rally.

All the members of ward committees are requested to be on hand at Hill's old Music Hall on Friday evening and report progress. Victory is certain, but we want such a majority that it will astonish the Province. Nothing but work will accomplish it, and the work must be done. Let every one be on hand.

New York Church Choir Co.

Mr. Bookhouse the celebrated Tenor is with this famous concert company, also Mr. Howard Clifton the great comic Vocalist and Ventriloguict, who appears in Bradburn's Opera House on Monday evening. The Church Choir Quartette is said to be one of the best in America.

The Circus.

Mr Jaques of Ottawa the advance agent of the Nyers and Sorby's New Great Eastern Circus, was to town to-day making arrangements for the appearance here on the 15th of June, of his mammoth show. It is well spoken of by the press of the various places, where it has exhibited. The exhibition will be on the same ground as the last one, in the south end of the town near the Midland Railway track.

Robbed.

We are informed that the rumour recently heard about town, that a Peterborough man had been relieved of a large sum of money, some $2200, by pickpockets, between Winnipeg and St. Paul, turns out to be correct. It is said that the money was taken while the man was asleep by a stranger who shortly before engaged him in conversation. Probably the loser will take a draft next time, instead of carrying such a large sum in bills.

Immigrant Children.

Mr. John T. Middlemore, the founder of the Orphan Children's Emigration Charity, London, Ont., left Liverpool on the 1st inst., in the S. S. Polynesian with a party of 23 girls and 39 boys between the ages of 3 and 18 years, who are brought out to this country for adoption or hire, chiefly among farmers. They are expected to arrive at the Guthrie Home, near the city on or about the 14th inst. This will be Mr. Middlemore's 10th annual visit to these shores with juvenile emigrants from Birmingham, England, since 1872. Already many applications accompanied with good references have been made for the children expected to arrive, but more are required. Further particulars may be obtain by addressing Mr. H. Gibbens, Manager of the Guthrie Home, London, Ontario.

WRITING HIS ADDRESS.

To the Editor of the Review.

DEAR SIR,—The address of the Reform candidate for the West Riding of Peterborough, has been put in my hands. It is dated on the 28th of May. It is to be hoped that our would be representative did not desecrate the Lord's day by writing his address to the "Free and Independent electors" on Sunday afternoon.

I am, Sir, yours &c.
CHRISTIAN.

IN THE SPRING of the year almost every one requires a good Blood Purifier, more especially in the month of May. We would earnestly advise our readers to try Dr. Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters. A few doses will soon convince you that it is the best remedy known for affections of the stomach, Bowels, Liver and Kidneys. In large bottles at 50 cents. J. D. Tully, Agent.

A GENTLEMAN AGED 65, writes: "I heartly thank you for the great boon I have obtained through the use of your wonderful rejuvenator, known as Mack's Magnetic Medicine. I am fully restored—feel like a young colt" Read advertisement in another column.

PORT HOPE.

FOR THE WEST.—The Guide says that Mr Charles A. Wilson, son of the senior member of the firm of Geo. Wilson & Sons, of the Guide, who went to Winnipeg some months ago and entered into the printing business with his brother, G. H. Wilson, returned a couple of weeks ago for his wife and family, who have been stopping for some months past in Port Hope. They all left this morning by the early train for their home in the "Prairie City." Miss Maggie Lydon, daughter of Mr. John Lydon, also went out in company with Mr. and Mrs. Wilson. They made quite a little party—three grown up persons and four children. There was a large number of personal friends at the station to bid them good cheer on their way. Mr. Wilson is well pleased with his business prospects in Winnipeg.

PLEADED GUILTY.—The old scoundrel who was arrested a week or ten days ago by Chief Marshall, for stealing a horse and buggy from Mr. Van Blaricom, Trenton, was brought up for trial on Monday before Judge Lazier at Belleville, and pleaded guilty. Sentence was deferred. It seems this man's correct name is Russel. He was sentenced to fifteen years in the Penitentiary for robbing the post office at Bath and threatening to shoot the clerk; also three years for stealing a horse from from a man in Belleville named Lott, and got five years for stealing from farmers in the township of Hope.

THE CAMPAIGN!

GENTLEMEN,—

The political issues of the campaign are with us Let us cherish them—they are about the best we are likely to see for some time.

It is reasonable to expect that for the next three weeks votes will be an article of commercial value—that is we so anticipate.

A voter in a new suit of clothes is a more estimable constituent than a voter in an old suit, though, of course a voter in an old suit is preferable to no voter at all—at least so we are told.

It will be an additionally gratifying circumstance to find that the successful man has been elected by voters wearing Dolan's Stylish Suits.

Hence it is the duty of all, without regard to previous condition of political servitude, to repair to T. DOLAN & CO'S, and clothe themselves as befits the "Free and Independent."

GENTLEMEN,—This opportunity may not occur again for the next five years. THEN DELAY NOT.

T. DOLAN & Co

Nos. 1 and 2, Cluxton's Block, Corner of George and Hunter Streets.

THE CONTENTED MAN,
Who is He?

The discussion of this question by an able lecturer was listened to a few evenings ago with interest by large audience.

We venture to think that one of this class may be represented by the head of a family, who has been instructed to purchase a supply of that essential commodity for the table—TEA.

He has an indefinite idea that the article ought to be cheaper on account of the removal of the duty, but when he finds that he can save 10 cents per lb., instead of 5 he is jubilant.

THE CONTENTED MAN is he who gets the full benefit of the reduction of the duty on his tea for this year by making a saving of, say $3.00 on a purchase of 30 lbs.

Prove it by inspecting my stock of JAPANS AND YOUNG HYSONS.

A leading line of sweet and good drawing JAPAN offering at 35 cents, formerly sold at 45 cents.

"CHAMPION COWARD."

To the Editor of the Review.

DEAR SIR,—Under the above heading, a light shower of perfectly unprovoked malice has fallen upon me. It is too late now to ward it off, even if it were worth one's while to do so, but I may still be permitted to shake off some of the unpleasant effect, by a simple statement of fact. In the first place, I am not the fortunate possessor of the largest dog in the neighbourhood. In the second, the large dog was not the one attacked, but a smaller one, and in the third, I did not use any walking cane against the cat, but in her defence. I had two other dogs with me, and I did not wish to see her harmed before her owner's eyes, for I have some respect for the feelings of others, and especially of those who do not injure me. What I have done to cause your correspondent to select me as the object of his malice, I am utterly at a loss to conceive. If I have unintentionally given him offence, I am sorry for it. He should have told me of it and I would have endeavored to make amends, (for I have always acted in a square and upright manner towards him.) It would have been far better than inflicting an absurd story like "the champion coward" upon an unappreciative public.

I am, Sir, yours, &c.
SPARHAM SHELDRAKE.

BIRD'S NESTING.

To the Editor of the Review.

We understand that your Lakefield correspondent has been writing some ridiculous nonsense about the boys in the clearing, teaching the boys in the village, the pernicious habit of sucking eggs: and not only that, but pay them to do it. The boys in the village are not our servants, as your correspondent would appear to insinuate, and we should think they will scarcely thank him for the insinuation. A great many underhand attempts have been made to create ill feeling between us and the village boys, but, fortunately, without success: and beyond hoping to beat them some day at cricket, there is no antagonism between us. Then, Mr. Editor, about the statutes, the constable, and the J. P. Do the statutes protect all birds, or only a few? and, if a boy climbs a big pine tree after a mud-turtle's nest, must the constable and J. P. shine up too always, to see that he does not steal the eggs? In conclusion, Mr. Editor, we rather think that the boys in the village, and their grand-parents before them, knew how to suck eggs, and did it without being paid, long before we taught them. Please let our letter appear, in your next issue, because we do not think it fair, that your own correspondent should be allowed to write all sorts of unpleasant fiction about other people, without receiving a check sometimes.

We remain,
Yours &c.

OVERBEARING SOLDIERY.

CAIRO, June 1.—A collector on the Ramleh railway to-day stopped an Egyptian soldier for not producing his ticket, when the soldier assaulted and wounded the collector, and other soldiers carried off the station master, who defended the collector. The English and French consuls demanded the release of the station master and the trial of the soldiers. The demands were granted.

READY FOR ACTION.

LONDON, June 1.—On board the vessels of the fleet shells have been suspended for the immediate loading of the guns. The electric light used on the squadrons has created a scare among the Egyptian soldiers. The petitions for the deposition of the Khedive are being withdrawn from circulation.

MORE INSOLENCE.

CAIRO, June 1.—The troops in barracks at Cairo have held excited meetings, demanding that Halim Pasha be immediately proclaimed Khedive. It is contended that as long as the Khedive remains in Cairo he is held as a hostage by the rebels. Arabi's military demonstration has been postponed till Saturday. The military officers swagger about the streets in a most offensive manner. Fresh earthworks have been thrown up at Gabary, and 394 cases of cartridges have been landed.

ANGLO-FRENCH NOTE.

CAIRO, June 1.—The announcement that England and France have agreed to invite the other powers to a conference for the settlement of the Egpptian question has scared the Europeans in Egypt, who declare that the delay such a step would necessarily occasion before any interference by the foreign powers would be dangerous.

BEING ENTRENCHED.

LONDON, June 1.—In the House of Lords today the Marquis of Salisbury said that he had information that six thousand soldiers were erecting earthworks around Aledandria, and that the British Government would not allow the fleet to interfere. If they allowed the works to be continued, grave consequences might result. He hoped the conference at Constantinople would be short. Earl Granville replied that the Government were fully aware of all the circumstances, and must be left to judge how best to fulfil their duty.

DEBATE IN THE COMMONS.

LONDON, June 1.—In the House of Commons, Sir Charles Dike said the Government at the suggestion of France had agreed to invite the other powers to a conference for the settlement of the Egyptian question on the baisis of the status quo. The Government had already proposed to M. de Freycinet to take the powers into their confidence. The Government believed that the conferance would expedite a settlement. It had been suggested to the Sultan that it was desirable that the Turkish flag be displayed in Egyptian waters, and that the Turkish commissioners be conveyed to Egypt thereunder. Admiral Seymour, he said, had been instructed to take steps to protect the Suez canal. Mr. Gladstone said he did not apprehend any immediate necessity for landing troops. The Government consider themselves pledged to uphold the present Khedive. It is feared intervention by Europe instead of by Turkey would inflame fanaticism. There was no reason to consider the life of the Khedive or the lives of Europeans were endangered. Sir Charles Dike stated that French and English gunboats were at either end of the Suez canal. Mr. Gladstone said a telegram had just been received announcing that Arabi Pasha had completely thrown off the mask, and would probably act on the pretended deposition of Tewfilh and proclaim Halim Pasha Khedive.

SPANISH AFFAIRS.

MADRID, June 1.—The council of Ministers to-day was presided over by the King. After examining the refusal opposed by the republic of Uruguay to the demand for satisfaction for repeated outrages on the person and property of Spanish subjects, it was decided to order Senor Llorento, the Spanish Minister to Uruguay, to present a concise memorandum asking for satisfaction within a short delay, which the Minister will determine, and if Uruguay refuses again Spain will suspend all relations as the first step toward a more active vindication of her long-standing claims.

DUE TO FENIANS.

LONDON, June 1.—Mr. Forwood, late Mayor of Liverpool, is convinced that the outrages in Ireland are perpetrated by the hirelings of a small knot of Fenians in America. To suppress these, he says, American co-operation is indispensable.

THE REPRESSION BILL.

LONDON, June 1.—The House of Commons to-day went into committee on the Repression bill. Mr. O'Donnell's amendment that commissions for trial without a jury be issued by the Lord-Lieutenant and Chief Secretary conjointly on sworn information to be communicated to Parliament, was rejected by 28 to 162.

AMERICAN.

THE MILLS STOPPED.

CINCINNATTI, June 1.—Except the rolling mill, which works scrap iron exclusively, and two mills which are working up three or four days accumulations, all the mills in Cincinnatti and vicinity have stopped. The mill owners believe that all will resume on Monday and complete the adjustment to be made.

OUT OF WORK.

CHICAGO, June 1.—Twelve hundred men at the Irondale mills, are out on strike. There is no disturbance. The representatives of the manufacturers and the men are consulting. The impression is that the men will be ordered to work on the arrival of Garrett, President of the amalgamated association.

BURNED TO DEATH.

CHICAGO, June 1.—The planing mill of Reasburg and Rinne, was burned this morning. The body of the foreman John Garthieser is supposed to be in the ruins. Three other employees were badly burned. The loss is $30,000.

RAILWAY ACCIDENT.

AUBURN, N. Y., June 1.—The engine of the morning express ran into an open drawbridge at Cayuga. The road will be blocked for two days. The engineer and fireman were slightly injured.

INDIANS AND CHILIANS.

LIMA, May 12.—The Indian revolt against the Chilian forces in the interior was principally occasioned by the Indians who volunteered to assist the Chilians in protecting the cattle. Thirty-nine Chilian cavalry were surrounded in a narrow defile and boulders rolled upon them until all were killed. Another detachment was attacked and cut off. The Chilians afterwards destroyed five villages and killed 2,000 Indians including a number of women and children.

CONKLING'S CASE.

NEW YORK June 2.—In a letter to Conkling dated Washington, Senator Jones of Nevada says that at a conference of Conkling's friends at New York after the resignation, there was but one voice as to Conkling's duty to stand for re-election and nearly all insisted that he should go in person to Albany. Jones says no one was more emphatic in his confidence of the result or in his advice that you were bound to stand for re-election and meet the members of the Legislature personally than General Sharpe.

LONG ISLAND CITY, June2.—Mayor de Bevoises in answer to the charge of misappropriation of $108,000 city bonds alleges that the apparent discrepancy is due to blunders of expert accountants employed by the citizens' committee.

AN UNTRUE TALE.

BURLINGTON, Vt., June 2.—Douglas, a clerk of the Vermont Central Railway, at Essex junction, confesses that the story that he was assailed and robbed is untrue. He stole the money and wounded himself on the head. He has refunded nearly all the money.

TRESCOT AGAIN.

NEW YORK, June 2.—Trescot's son says that Montero refused to accept the Chilian ultimatum. Montero is very popular in Peru. He dare not leave his stronghold in the mountains, as he would be taken a prisoner to Chili, as he has only five hundred troops. Young Trescot thinks that his father's mission has given both countries a more correct view of the position of this government than was possible before, and in that way peace will be more readily concluded. It is learned from another member of Trescot's party that the Chilians treated Trescot with cold courtsey, if not positive contempt. The Chilian Government left Santiago the day before he was expected, and left him to hunt them up at Vina Delamar.

CRUEL KEEPERS.

SYRACUSE, June 2.—Watchman Drum and Moore an ex-prisoner alleges that Michael Donohue of Oswego who was sent to Penitentiary here for intoxication while suffering from delirum tremens was brutally whipped by keeper Enoe because he could not work. FRIDAY, JUNE 2, 1882.

TOO LATE.

It is said that the saddest words in the English language are "too late," and it is certain that the party led by Mr. Blake will find themselves saddened by the reflection on the 20th of June, that it was too late when they tried to change their platform as to the tariff, after taking up a great part of the time of Parliament in condemning the National Policy, after their organs, the Peterborough Examiner among them, have filled column after with revilings of it. Some of their candidates are now endeavoring to persuade the electors that they are favourable to Canadian industries, and would not interfere much with their protection.

To show what hypocrisy this, we will quote, from the official Hansard, some of the sayings of their leaders on this subject during the session which is just closed.

Sir R. Cartwright on February 24th, in the Budget debate said :—

"They talk of Canada being a free country, why sir, I tell them to-day that Canada is a country in which no man is free to buy or sell, to eat or to drink, to travel or to stand still, without paying toll to some extortioner or another."

Mr. Mackenzie on March 7th in the Budget debate said :—

"We have a firm belief that the tariff that is in existence now, or any protection tariff must necessarily be ultimately a serious mischief to the country."

Mr. Burpee (St. John) on March 21st in the Budget debate said :—

"The Liberal party believe this enterprize and energy are the only true motive powers to secure success in any enterprize; they do not believe in the assistance of legislation or protection for enterprizes which are thereby held to depend more on state support than on the energy and enterprize of the promoters."

Mr. Mills on March 23rd in the Budget debate said :—

"It has been conclusively shown that the attempt to give the manufacturer strength and vigor by a system of protection has wholly failed."

Mr. Blake on April 3rd in Committee of Supply, speaking on the cost of convicts, said :—

"The increase is due to the advance in prices of provisions and materials—the National Policy prices in fact."

Mr. Mackenzie on April 21st, in the debate on Mr. Blake's commercial independance motion said :—

"The Hon. gentleman by his National Policy has deviated from the Imperial policy of Britain, which characterizes the legislation of all her colonies but one and ourselves, and has thereby dealt a blow at the Imperial relationship which it will not be very easy to make good by remedial legislation. And that is absolutely the only thing he has done. We find that during the last two years our foreign trade has declined under the pressure of that incubus he has placed upon it by his policy."

Sir Richard Cartwright on April the 26th in the debate on Mr. Anglin's motion against the cotton and wool duties said :—

"I have always felt that our late tariff was put up as high as it ought to be, having regard for the great mass of the community. In some important respects I thought it was too high."

Again in the same speech he said :—

"He (Sir Leonard Tilley) has done all that in him lay to make it possible by this monstrous tariff, what cannot even be called a protective tariff, but which is an unjust tariff, especially to poor, to deprive us to very great extent, of the advantage which we might otherwise have fairly expected."

Sir R. Cartwright on May 6th in introducing his motion condemning the expenditure said :—

"By the foolish and unnecessary system of taxation we are deprived to a great extent of the advantages we might naturally have possessed."

Mr. Mackenzie in the same debate said :—

"Nothing will prevent me from expressing my views freely on the National Policy, which I consider to be a national folly and a national crime."

These are only a few specimens from the speeches of leaders of the Reform party, gentlemen of cabinet rank; if we had quoted the utterances of the rank and file of the party, Messrs. Ross, Cameron, Anglin, Paterson, Charlton, Killam, Ryma, Snowball, etc., we might have filled columns.

Will the manufacturers or those they employ think that the present tariff is likely to be retained by those who condemn it as a serious mischief, an incubus on trade, a monstrous and unjust tariff, a foolish system of taxation and a national folly and national crime?

Will the manufacturers and those whom they employ believe that men are friendly to them who have so lately termed them "extortioners?"

The fact is that the Reform leaders have found that the country is so prosperous under the National Policy that their attempts to excite the people against it have utterly failed. They therefore attempt at this late hour to conceal their animosity to it, and to persuade the electors that if not in love with the tariff, they are at all events reconciled to it. They do this because they dare not do otherwise. What better testimony could there be to the statemanship of Sir John Macdonald and his colleagues?

We think the electors are too wary to be deceived by this pretended change, for no one can believe it, under the circumstances, to be genuine. Even if it were a real conversion, it would s till be wise to leave a policy, under which the country is flourishing, to be carried out by its old friends, and not to trust it to the prentice hands of those who but yesterday were reviling and cannot yet fully understand its merits.

Support the leaders who are giving us the Trent Valley Canal, and not for those who denounce it as a folly.

LAKEFIELD NEWS.

From Our Own Correspondent.

POLITICAL MEETING.

Messrs. Hilliard and Burnham held a political meeting here on Wednesday evening last. The meeting was held in the P. C. A. Hall, and was largely attended considering the state of the weather. Both candidates created very favourable impression by their speeches and manner of address. The meeting would have been more lively and interesting if the opposition had sent a representative, as it was no one was present on behalf of Mr. Lundy or Mr. Roxburgh and of course the meeting was all one sided.

SPORTS FOR DOMINION DAY.

There has been during the past week considerable talk about getting up sports for the 1st of July next, in order to celebrate in a becoming manner our national holiday. Quite a number of our citizens are strongly in favour of doing something in the way of getting up races etc., but no decided action has been taken as yet. If anything is going to be done it is time that a move was made towards it.

DISTRICT MEETING.

The semi annual meeting of the Lakefield District Orange Lodge, will be held in Orange Hall, Lakefield, on Wednesday evening next the 7th June at 8 o'clock. The principal business of the meeting will be to make arrangements for the ensuing 12th of July.

SPEARING FISH.

The spearing of fish contrary to law at a place—well, not more than fifty miles from Lakefield, has for some considerable time been a notorious fact and it is time that an effectual stop was put to that kind of work. It is manifestly unfair that the people on one part of these waters should be prohibited from spearing, while those in another part break the law with impunity. If the law, which certainly is in the interest of all, is to be enforced at all, then the enforcement should be general. A great many people complain bitterly tnat at present it is all one sided and that those who break the law should be severely punished or all should be allowed to spear. It is to be hoped that these parties will take timely warning and quit their illegal practices, for we understand that Mr. Cochrane intends to put it down with a strong hand.

COURT OF REVISION.

The first sitting of the Court of Revision will take place in the Council room on Wednesday evening next, the 7th instant at 7 o'clock.

FISHING.

Fish are beginning to take the bait, several fine maskinonge having been taken lately with the rod and line, besides large numbers of bass.

Mr. Jonathan Griffin has a dog which seems thoroughly to enjoy the sport of fishing. One day this week it caught and brought to shore, two large suckers, a perch and sun fish without any assistance.

FIRE.

On Monday last, May 29th, about noon, a dense smoke was seen rising from near Ross & Co.'s office. Those in the neighborhood soon discovered that the smoke issued from Ross & Co.'s stable and that the wind was blowing in such a direction that the row of cottages near their office would be in danger of being consumed also. Mr. James Caldwell, who was working near by, loading a car with flour, ran at once and rang the church bell, giving timely warning, and two of our fire engines were soon on the ground with a large number of pails from the stores. The people went to work with willing hands and the row of cottages was saved, notwithstanding the wind blew the fire directly onto them. No people ever worked better at a fire. Every one seemed to realize that the village could not afford to lose one house, as there is not one to spare. The stable and contents were entirely consumed except a couple of horses which were cut loose by Mr. William Neal, just in the nick of time. A very few seconds after they were got out the building was entirely envelloped with flames. The loss on the contents will not be so heavy as would have been the case if the teams usually kept there had not been away at the time, at work drawing timber. The building was one of the best of the kind in Lakefield. The loss which is quite heavy is we understand partially covered by insurance.

ORANGE MEETING.

The monthly meeting of L. O. Lodge No. 122 commonly called the "Old Lodge," will be held on Monday evening next the 5th of June, in the Orange Hall on Caroline street, Lakefield, at 8 o'clock.

FORESTERS' MEETING.

Court Lakefield, No. 43 C. O. F. will meet in Union Hall on Queen street, on Thursday evening next, the 8th of June, at 8 o'clock.

MASONIC MEETING.

The regular communication of Clementi Lodge of A. M. and A. F., will be held in the Masonic Hall, on Queen street, on Tuesday evening next, the 6th June, at 8 o'clock sharp.

CRICKET CLUB.

At a meeting held on May 25th for the purpose of organizing a cricket club for the village of Lakefield, the following officers were duly elected for the present season :—

President	R. C. Strickland
Vice-President	A. J. Wright
Secy. and Treas	W. D. Strickland
Captain	James Watson

Managing Committee,—F. Lillicrap; R. C. Strickland; Jas. Watson; F. Dinwoodie; G. A Strickland.

Mechanics, will you vote for a party which says you should go on the streets or to the poorhouse?

Medicines taken into the Stomach in concentrated form such as Pills and Powders, are most injurious. The great substitute for these nauseous littlle Calomel pills is Dr. Carson,s Stomach and Constipation Bitters. They cleanse the bowels stimulate the Liver and Kidneys, and cure all stomach disorders, such as Dyspepsia and Indigestion. In large bottles at 50 cents. J. D. Tully, Agent.

A VAIN APPEAL.

The independent Toronto Telegram says :—

"It is all very well for the chief organ of the Reform party to appeal to former friends to come to the rescue of the party now and save it from annihilation. But in many quarters the appeal will not meet with a ready response. The organ has been abusing these people for years and can hardly expect them to swallow all its abuse and meekly turn round and do its bidding. After the rout of September, 1878, it denounced the manufacturers of Ontario as knaves, and the farmers as fools, and now it has the hardihood to appeal to these same "knaves" and "fools" to come to its aid and help to overturn the Government. Its rabid utterances have done the party more harm than good."

Capt. O'Farrell, of Chicago, Ills., says : "I am only too happy that I used St. Jacobs Oil. My leg was suddenly crippled with rhumatism, and my sufferings were extreme. I used St. Jacobs Oil, and it cured me."

A Word of Caution.—As is usually the case where an article of true merit has attained a world-wide reputation by its wonderful results, as the celebrated Electric Bitters have done, certain unprincipled parties have endeavored to imitate them, and expect to induce an unsuspecting public to purchase their fraudulent wares. Ask your druggist for the genuine Electric Bitters, that are guaranteed to cure, and take no others. Sold by Taylor & McDonold at 50c.

Are you a martyr to headache? Suffer no longer. A remedy is found in Burdock Blood Bitters. It regulates the Bowels, cleanses the system, allays nervous irritation and restores health and vigor. Sample bottles 10 cents.

GOD SAVE THE QUEEN.

To the Free and Independent Electors of the

WEST RIDING

OF PETERBOROUGH.

Gentlemen,—

At the urgent solicitation of my political friends I have consented to be again a candidate for your suffrages at the approaching election.

While I would have preferred not to have been a candidate on the present occasion, yet now that I have placed my services again at your disposal, you may rest assured that no private duty or engagement will be allowed to interfere with the proper discharge of my duties as your representative, should I be honoured with your confidence for the second time.

Although I failed to be present at every division during the recent session, I would venture to challenge my political opponents to specify a single instance in which I have neglected the interests of my constituents or failed to discharge the duties devolving upon me as your representative to the best of my ability and judgment.

During the past four years I have rendered a cheerful support to the government of Sir John A. Macdonald, believing that it has not only redeemed the pledges given previous to the last general election, but that its policy has been and is one eminently calculated to promote the prosperity of the country, and should you again honor me with your confidence I shall continue to give the present government the same cordial support, so long as their policy commends itself to my judgment.

In conjunction with the other representatives from this section of Ontario, I have done all in my power to secure the early construction of the Trent Valley Canal, and the large measure of success which has attended our past efforts should assure the electorate of this district that if their present representatives are re-elected and the present government sustained, this great and long-looked-for work will be brought to an early completion.

As it will be impossible for me to undertake anything like a personal canvas between this and polling day, I trust those favorable to the cause of good government will render me their hearty support without waiting to be asked, and that all the electors will make it a point to attend the meetings which I propose holding in different parts of the constituency for the purpose of public explanation and discussion of the several questions involved in the present campaign.

Again thanking you for the confidence reposed in me in 1878, and soliciting a renewal of the same,

I am, gentlemen,

Your ob't. serv't.,

GEO. HILLIARD.

SIR JOHN A. MACDONALD

OUR VETERAN STATESMAN DISCOURSES ON THE QUESTIONS OF THE DAY.

A Telling Speech to a Large and Enthusiastic Audience—Mr. Blake's Sophistries Exposed—Canadian vs. Foreign Industries—The Boundary and Veto Questions.

Sir John Macdonald on Tuesday, May 30th, made an able and effective speech to a vast assembly in the amphitheatre at Toronto. Messrs. A. W. Wright, John O'Donohoe, Plumb and Beaty also delivered stirring addresses.

We give Sir John Macdonald's speech in full as reported in the Mail.

Sir JOHN MACDONALD, who was received with tremendous cheering, said—Mr. Chairman and gentlemen, when I stand in this place and see this crowded ampitheatre, I begin to think that I must be a regular old Rip Van Winkle—(loud laughter)—that I have been asleep for three years; but that I now come to find the same place, the same crowd, the same friends, the same enthusiasm, the same supporters as I had on the same ground in 1878. (Loud cheers.)

A VOICE—More.

Sir JOHN MACDONALD—Yes; as a friend says behind me, a larger crowd; because, thanks to the N. P., Toronto has grown larger, the population has increased, you are all richer, you have better looking hats—(laughter)—and better looking coats. (Cheers and laughter,) And, I really must say as a bloated aristocrat and officeholder, that I myself am not a bit the worse for my three years' salary. (Renewed laughter.) I therefore congratulate myself, you, and the country, that after three years I come back and find the enthusiasm, the hope—not only hope, but certainty—of the future. (Great cheering.) Let us look back to the year before the 17th of September, 1878. Let us remember the time of depression, the time of sinking hearts, empty pockets, and empty larders—(hear, hear, and applause)—and let us bear in mind that since the National Policy has been inaugurated we see in the country a prosperous, contented, and happy people, and we find Canada standing among the first of the nations of the world in credit, in resources, in standing, in reputation, and in fruition. (Cheers.) Mr. Chairman, I owe much, and those who act with me owe much, to the people of Toronto, to

THE WORKINGMEN OF TORONTO.

(Loud cheers.) It was here on this platform that the first spark was lighted. (Applause.) It was here that the wave of enthusiasm which spread over the whole Dominion originated. (Cheers.) It was here that the foundation of the National Policy were laid. (Cheers.) And I ask you if there has not been a noble, magnificent superstructure raised on the foundation which you, the working men of Toronto, so successfully prepared in 1878. (Applause.) You gave me you confidence, gentlmen—and although it was said by those who were opposed to me that my policy was only a pretence, that the line I had taken in Parliament, the line that the Conservative Opposition had taken in Parliament, with a view to rescuing the country from the depression was only a political cry, that when we came into power we would not carry out our policy, that there would be no National Policy, no readjustment of the tariff, no attempt to encourage our industries, agricultural, manufacturing, and mining, that our policy was a mere political dodge, and that we were not in earnest—although all this was said, we did carry out our policy. (Cheers.) And I appeal to you as workingmen to witness whether I have not fully carried out the pledge I made before I took office, whether the tariff you expected has not been adopted, whether the industries which I said ought to be encouraged have not been developed, and whether instead of despondency there is not hope, enterprise and activity in every branch of business, public and private? (Applause.) It is true, gentlemen, we see yet but the infancy of the manufactures and industries which we have established, or have tried to establish. These things cannot be established in a hurry. You cannot plant the seed to-day and get the crop to-morrow. But we have sown the seed; and much more rapidly, much more speedily, than even I—sanguine as I was of the success of the policy—expected, it has grown; and it now shows the certainty of a future crop which will make this country envied and looked up to by every other country in the world. (Cheers.) Mr. Chairman, although our progress is great, we are still in the bud, hoping and believing that there will be an early flower and early maturity. And already? Three years is a short time, but in three years much has been done. Why then, I ask, has not more been done? Because we have had an unscrupulous Opposition. (Loud cheers.) The gentlemen composing the Opposition have told capitalists, "It is no use your investing your money in manufactures in Canada, because the present Government will never last more than five years. A new vote of the people will sweep away all that, and we return to power and adopt a free trade policy, and reverse that under which the country prospers to-day." That, in effect, has been their statement, and I tell you—and this is not a matter of supposition, but of certainty and knowledge on my part—that there are millions of dollars waiting to be invested in Canada; millions in England, and large sums in the United States, waiting to come to Canada, waiting to be invested in every kind of industry, in mines and in manufactures of every kind; but the capitalists say, "Your Opposition say that your policy is only the result of a temporary madness on the part of the people of Canada in 1878, because times were bad then, and that it will be reversed at the next election." (Cries of "Never, never.") They say that after the new election John Macdonald and the National Policy will disappear, and we will have Reform purity, and economy, and free trade. (Renewed cries of "Never.") I hear you, gentlemen, and I know that you are right. Capitalists, men who have by hard word and great industry, but by slow degrees, collected capital, are naturally timid with reference to the investments they make. They do not like to put their money in an uncertain enterprise; and they have written to me, and Sir Leonard Tilley, chiefly, saying: "We are ready to invest large sums of money; Canada is a great field for enterprise; it is a country of all others where manufactures can be most successfully introduced and carried on, but we are told by Mr. Mackenzie"—and, sir, this was said in the Parliament of Canada in my hearing, and you will find it in the published debate—"that protection is a national crime and that it must be abandoned." Sir Richard Carwright too, the mixer and muddler of figures—(hear, hear, and laughter)—who kept the financial conscience of Mr. Mackenzie, and expects to keep the financial conscience of Edward also, said—what? That all protection was legalized robbery. He said that all protection was legalized robbery. (Laughter.) So capitalists were afraid to invest money in this country. Mr. Blake says in his address, "Why did these gentlemen dissolve and go to the country? Why did they ask the people to give a verdict when they might have remained in power eighteen months longer?" Our answer was this:—That we wanted to let the people declare after three years' experience whether they were resolved to adhere to that policy or whether they were willing to reverse it. (Cries of "Never.") It shows, at all events, that we, the bloated aristocrats, were disinterested for once. (Loud laughter and cheers.) Yes I take out of your pockets a salary of $8,000 a year as Prime Minister—(cries of "You deserve it")—and I might of remained in office quietly for eighteen months longer. There was no compulsion to go to the country, but I have given up $12,000 of salary in order that I may come before you, the people of Canada, to know whether you want the N. P. to be maintained or not. (Loud cheers.) I have no doubt from the enthusiastic voices I hear around me that

THE PEOPLE WILL STAND BY THE NATIONAL POLICY.

(Cheers.) These voices are merely repetitions, affirming the same sound as will be heard at every poll in the whole Dominion. I am confident the result of the elections will be that the country will declare that the policy which the people calmly, coolly, and deliberately adopted in 1878 shall be the policy of Canada for the next five years. That is the reason that we have appealed to the country, because, as I have said already, we know money is waiting for investment, and all that is wanted by capitalists in Canada, England, and the United States, aye, in France and Germany, is to learn whether this country is of the fixed, constant, opinion, that the National Policy shall be continued as settled in 1878. (Cheers.) If, as I am sure it will be, the national voice confirms the decision given by the people in 1878, I can retire on my laurels. (Cries of "No.' I have fought the good fight, and I can then make way for younger and stronger men. (Renewed cries of "No.") I have carried out the policy which I believed, and I believe now, was for the interest of the country. (Loud cheers.) I have carried out that policy, and the country has sustained me. And at the end of five years the manufacturers have generated so much capital, while the workingmen, the skilled and unskilled labour that surrounds those varied industries, will have become so powerful, the capitalists will be linked together in associations, and workingmen will be bound together in trades unions, and they will fight the battle together. (Loud cheers.) Capital and labour will go hand in hand, and they will put down all attempts to make this couhtry what it was before, a mere agricultural country, from which all skilled labour went to the United States to find employment, and that skilled labour will remain in the country. (Hear, hear.) Capital and labour will join together, and at the end of five years I defy Sir Richard Cartwright, if he had half a dozen titles, or Mr. Blake, or all the free-traders from John Stuart Mill down to David Mills—(loud laughter and cheers)—to take down the edifice the people of Canada will have raised. (Renewed cheers.) This country, blessed in every respect, with a fertile soil, a fine climate, an industrious people, with a manufacturing population consuming the products of the farmer, will go forward, and not all the attempts of theorisers and philosophisers—(laughter)—will set aside the actual state of facts, that Canada will become, like the Mother Country, great in manufacturing industries of all kinds and great in agricultural development, for it possesses all the elements that make a great nation. (Loud cheers.)

[On account of the length of the speech we had to reserve the remainder, but will continue it in to-morrow's issue of the REVIEW.—ED.]

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—An EXTERNAL MEANS of CURING SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic; whilst old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them, It destroys the animalculæ which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produce a clear, healthy natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION, a FLUID peculiar in itself, is the most potent enemy to all Skin Disorders. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the least degree comparable for its Healthy Action on the Human Skin.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. Startin, and every year it is used adds more and more favourably to its widly increasing reputation. Anyone, however deeply and hopelessly afflicted with Skin Disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent in a diminished appearance of the malady, a growing tendency to fade away, and complete obliteration of the eruption.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—BOTTLES CONTAINING NEARLY HALF A PINT.—SOLD BY CHEMISTS EVERYWHERE. Made in London, Eng.

POLICE COURT.

ALLOWED TO GO.

FRIDAY, June 2.—John Arthur Cassal, of Campbellford or vicinity, was brought up on remand by P. C. McGhee to answer to a charge of being found drunk on the streets.

He admitted the charge and after receiving a rather severe lecture from the magistrate, he was allowed to go, sentence being reserved. He promised to take the next G. J. R. train for home and vowed he would never repeat the offence.

Creditor's Meeting.

A meeting of the creditors of the W. A. Scott estate was held this morning at the council chamber. Sheriff Kempt of Lindsay, the assignee, presided and there was quite a large number of creditors present. The proceedings were of course private.

Servant Girls.

A large number of servant girls is daily arriving at Quebec. They are drafted off to the several towns in Ontario, as demanded. Any person wanting servants can leave word at this office, when communication will be opened with the Emigrant Agent at Coburg, and a sufficient number will be at once forwarded to this town.

Railway Notes.

A contractor is in town looking over the Ontario and Quebec line with a view of tendering for the construction. We understand that Mr. Hugh Ryan, who is a member of the Canada Pacific Syndicate and who has the control of the Ontario and Quebec division of the Canada Pacific Railway, will be here this evening.

Sentenced.

The horse thief Guest alias Russell, who was recently arrested at Harwood by Chief Marshall of Port Hope, for stealing a horse and buggy at Belleville a few days ago, has been sentenced to three years in the Kingston Penitentiary. He is a hardened offender and has gazed at the penetentiary walls from the interior for several years before.

A Cold Winter Coming.

Mr. Vennor reiterates his statement respecting "a very stormy autumn, with early setting in of extreme severity and heavy snowfalls, reaching to remote] southern points. We are likely to experience one of the coldest periods in a long term of years, during the early part of the winter of 1882-83, but we will have the cold all together, and the latter portion is likely to be mild and open with a very advanced spring."

Opening the Ball.

The third ward pound near the creek was only finished on Thursday night, and this morning the keeper had no less than seven cows in charge. This is opening the ball with a vengeance, and is only a sample of what we may expect to see. If all our citizens impound the vargrant cows that they see on the streets, not only in the outskirts but in the very centre of the town, the various pounds will speedily have to be enlarged to many times their present size.

The Weather.

The weather was fine but cloudy for a time this morning, but rain commenced and has continued at intorvals since, ceasing for very short periods only. The weather probabilities for this district for the following twenty-four hours, as reported from Toronto at 10 a. m. to-day, by the Great North-western Telegraph Company, are as follows:—Lakes—Moderate to fresh winds, southwest to-day, north and east to-morrow, fair warmer weather to-day, rain in southern portion to-morrow.

To-night's Meeting.

A meeting of all the Ward Committees of the Liberal Conservative Central Committee is called for this evening at Hill's old Music Hall. All the members are particularly requested to be present as important business will be transacted. The report of the canvassers so far are the most encouraging ever received and the reports from the country are of the same tenor. Success is certain, but no stone should be left to rout the Reformers horse, foot and artillery in order to show them that the whole country is in accord with the policy of the Right Hon. Sir John A. Macdonald. Let there be a full meeting.

ARRIVAL OF EMIGRANTS.

One Hundred Men and Fifty Women and Children—A Novel Repast.

Finding it impossible in Canada, owing to the N. P., and kindred causes, to obtain navvys, or in fact workmen of any kind, to complete his contract on the extension of the Midland Railway from Peterborough to Omemee, Mr. Beemer, the energetic contractor for that portion of the line has been driven to his wits end to secure the necessary complement of men. Already he has three hundred and fifty men at work, but in order to complete his contract by the specified time, a thing he will do, if any living person can, he required at least one hundred additional men. Hearing that a large number of emigrants and their families had recently arrived in Toronto, he sent an agent there, who succeeded in securing the necessary number of men. They were brought here by a special train from Lindsay on Thursday night, arriving shortly before 12 o'clock.

They were indeed a motley looking crowd, in the eyes of Canadians, their dress being almost similiar in every respect, and somewhat antiquated looking in the eyes of young Canada, who only occasionally sees garments of such cut. The three countries, England, Ireland and Scotland, are well represented, but the Irish predominated, judging by appearance and brogue, which was not disguised in the least. Judged by our standard the men were small, there not being a single one in the party over five feet nine. They were also of all ages from the tottering old man to the youth not yet out of his teens, but the majority were men of from 30 to 35, stout and healthy and looking as if they were able to endure any amount of hardship, to which according to some of their number they were thoroughly accustomed.

Many of the men are married and together with their families they left their native land to seek their fortune in the new, on account of evictions and other cruelties practised by the non-resident landlords. One old man was very loud in his denunciation of the land system of Ireland, and seemed to be the leader, as nearly all the others acquiesed in what he said. All looked forward to lots of work with good wages and all spoke hopefully of a bright future in this Canada of ours.

Mr. Beemer provided accommodation for all, some at the Station, some at hotels, and many at the different boarding houses along the line. The men appeared overjoyed at the prospect of so speedily getting to work in order that something might occupy their minds, and help them to forgot the land they had left—their native land.

On the regular Midland noon train to-day, there arrived fifty women and children, the wives and families of t he men who had come the previous evening. Their coming being known a large crowd assembled at the station, including the great majority of the men who had arrived on the previous evening.

As the train drew up at the station, many eager faces were seen at the windows, and when it stopped it was with difficulty that the space at the exits of the cars could be kept clear enough to let the passengers off, so eager were the emigrants to welcome their wives and families. One by one the women alighted, always allowing the children to be taken off first, and as they stepped on the platform, they were claimed by their liege lords, and escorted under the varandah around the station to a place of shelter. Although husband and wife had been separated for only about 24 hours, perhaps longer than ever before, some of the meetings, were very effective, such as we are accustomed to see only after many years of separation.

The females like the sterner sex were of all ages, and attired in all costumes. The women all looked haggard and worn, as if they had been pinched by poverty, while the girls and children were all as lively as crickets with their rosy cheeks, that betokened an intimate acquaintance with the country air.

Soon after landing the women were all seated, huddled up in a manner strange to our eyes, around the station, chatting and talking in groups, while the children, as children will, no matter where they may be, ran about from place to place, playing as lively as possible, little knowing what future was before them.

Those in quest of girls for household work, servants and etc. were on had in good numbers and before half an hour had elapsed all the tidy looking girls, to the number of over twenty, were provided with situations, and several who had gone to the station for the purpose of securing servants, had to leave disappointed.

Mr. Raphael of Mr. Beemer's staff was on hand and upon request of some of the men, sent up town for provisions, the emigrants preferring to take their first meal in Peterborough in the open air. Soon a van arrived filled with steaming hot loaves of bread and another containing butter and other things. Each was supplied with a loaf of bread, butter and other things, and at once set to work at the work of demolition in a manner wondrous to see, giving bystanders the opinion that they had had nothing to eat for several days. With some one loaf was but an appetizer and three or four merely a lunch. The women were not so raven and seated along the wall with their children they ate their meal and sipped their tea, provided at a neighbouring house, in a most nonchalant manner, paying not the slightest attention to the numerous persons who watched the proceedings with pardonable interest.

Dinner being over the men proceeded to Mr. Beemer's office where their names were enrolled and preparations made for putting them at work immediately.

The question of accommodation is a serious one and one we think that deserves the attention of the town authorities. It is a well known fact that there is not a house in town unoccupied which is fit to live in, and as these people have to be provided with accommodation for some days at least we think it is well worth consideration.

The men are to commence work at this end of the line immediately, beginning near W. Hamilton's foundry.

One incident worth mentioning occurred at the station. Two young lads were tossing the ball from one to the other with lacrosses which puzzled the men greatly. At last curiosity got better of the men and he asked the boys what they called "that machine." The boy commenced to give explanations and soon had the whole crowd around him who listened in a wondrous manner to the boy's yarn.

THE CAMPAIGN!

GENTLEMEN,—

The political issues of the campaign are with us Let us cherish them they are about the best we are likely to see for some time.

It is reasonable to expect that for the next three weeks votes will be an articie of commercial value—that is we so anticipate.

A voter in a new suit of clothes is a more estimable constituent than a voter in an old suit, though, of course a voter in an old suit is preferable to no voter at all—at least so we are told.

It will be an additionally gratifying circumstance to find that the successful man has been elected by voters wearing Dolan's Stylish Suits.

Hence it is the duty of all, without regard to previous condition of political servitude, to repair to T. DOLAN & CO'S, and clothe themselves as befits the "Free and Independent."

GENTLEMEN,—This opportunity may not occur again for the next five years. THEN DELAY NOT.

THE CONTENTED MAN,
Who is He?

The discussion of this question by an able lecturer was listened to a few evenings ago with interest by large audience.

We venture to think that one of this class may be represented by the head of a family, who has been instructed to purchase a supply of that essential commodity for the table—TEA.

He has an indefinite idea that the article ought to be cheaper on account of the removal of the duty, but when he finds that he can save 10 cents per lb., instead of 5 he is jubilant.

THE CONTENTED MAN is he who gets the full benefit of the reduction of the duty on his tea for this year by making a saving of, say $3.00 on a purchase of 30 lbs.

Prove it by inspecting my stock of JAPANS AND YOUNG HYSONS.

A leading line of sweet and good drawing JAPAN offering at 35 cents, formerly sold at 45 cents.

FAIR PLAY.

To the Editor of the Review.

DEAR SIR,—I have received through the post a copy of Mr. Lundy's address and a fly sheet containing Mr. Hilliard's letter of the 17th ult. This no doubt is intended to convey to the electors the idea that Mr. Hilliard is not in the field, or that he is there against his wishes. If the former, it is taking a sneaking advantage of an honorable opponent, if the latter, Mr. Lundy is in the same box, as he states in the first paragraph of his address that he is a candidate against his own wishes.

Yours &c.
A LOVER OF FAIR PLAY.

A Match Ahead.

The "Earls" lacrose club of Kingston, which we understand is the strongest club in the city, is to play here on the first of July for the "Gilderasleeve Cup." If our boys wish to retain it they will have to play a better game than they did on the 24th of May. Practise alone will do it, and any amount of practise wont hurt them in the least. Now boys to work!

An N. P. Benefit.

Mr. Tobias Fitzgerald has just made a contract to manufacture forty farm waggons to go to Manitoba in one lot. This order is to be completed in twenty-five days. It would never have come to Peterborough but for the National Policy, for the farmers of Manitoba would have procured them from the other side of the line. We may add that Mr. Fitzgerald has not increased the price of his waggons since the new tariff came into effect.

Personal.

The Orillia Packet says:—

"Mr. Melville Millar left on Friday morning for Peterborough, where he has re-purchased his former business from Mr. John Bertram. He takes with him the good wishes of the people of Orillia. We are assured on the best of authority, that the rumours of Mr. Millar's financial losses, have been grossly exaggerated, and that his position to-day is better than that of three-fourths of the men in business throughout the Province. In returning to Peterborough he is in a measure going home, as he was in business there for a length of time before coming to Orillia."

In company with the public of Peterborough we have much pleasure in welcoming back Mr. Millar and presage for him a prosperous business career in our midst.

AMERICAN LITERATURE.

LONDON, June 2.—At the opening of the Central library at Birmingham yesterday Mr. John Bright dwelt upon the growth of literature in America. He recommended the study of the American poets, especially Whittier, and of Bancroft's history of the United States, as conveying a knowledge of some of the most important events of the last century, and showing how the colonies grew to what will soon be the greatest nation on the face of the globe.

THE REPRESSION BILL.

LONDON, June 2.—In the House of Commons to-day Sir William Harcourt said the treason-felony clause of the Repression Bill would only apply to offences committed after the passage of the Act. Mr. Parnell said Sir William Harcourt's statement was satisfactory as far as it goes, but political offences ought to be entirely excluded from the bill. After a warm discussion, Mr. Davey's amendments excluding cases of treason or treason-felony from those to be tried by special commission courts was rejected by 70 to 227. Mr. Parnell moved to amend the bill by excepting murder from trial by special commission courts. This was rejected by 123 to 22. Mr. O'Connor moved an amendment that any of the crimes enumerated in the first clause of the bill, viz., treason, murder, attempt to kill, aggravated violence, arson, and attack on dwellings be tried in the first instance by a jury, and in the event of the law failing, by a special commission court. Rejected by 124 to 22. Mr. Healy moved an amendment that treason do not apply to persons committed for treason in consequence of words appearing in Irish newspapers, or words spoken at public meetings in Ireland. Mr. Cowen wished to see the bill restricted to the punishment of crime, not of opinion. The amendment was rejected by 61 to 26.

STOCK GAMBLING.

DETROIT, Jnne 2.—Connsel for the pool-sellers have made a written application to the City Attorney for the issuance of a complaint against the various members of the Detroit Board of Trade for violation of the ordinance for the suppression of gambling. They claim that the ordinance includes the Board of Trade as well as the pool-rooms and bucket-shops, and that these men should be brought up and placed upon the same footing as the men who run the pool-rooms and bucket-shops.

GUITEAUISTIC.

WASHINGTON, June 2.—The morning Mr. Reed presented a petition to the district Supreme Court, general term, asking for a re-hearing of the case of Guiteau, The application is based upon purely technical grounds, and embodies liberal citations from the official records of the trial. A decision will be rendered as soon as the judges can consult, probably to-morrow. Mr. Reed denies that he applied for a writ of habeas corpus to Justice Grey at Boston. No doubt is expressed but that the court in banc will overrule Mr. Reed's new motion for a re-hearing in the Guiteau case. The only point made is that the record is false in that Guiteau was found guilty as indicated, whereas several courts allege that the death of General Garfield was in Washington, and Mr. Reed says that upon these counts the verdict should have been "not guilty." A decision will be rendered to-morrow.

TERRIBLE RIOT.

CHICAGO, June 2.—A terrible riot occured this evening at Brighton Park, five miles south of this city on the Chicago and Alton railway, where the iron works of the Joliet Iron and Steel Company are located. The company have been employing non-union men from Joliet. This evening while fifteen workmen were on the train proceding home about 100 strikers rushed aboard the train, armed with pistols, knives, clubs, and strips of iron, and commenced a murderous attack upon all the passengers. Judge Pillsbury, of Pontiac, Ill., was shot through the hip and dangerously wounded, and four coloured non-union men were terribly and fatally beaten, and many passengers badly wounded.

STOCK GAMBLING.

DETROIT, June 2.—Thomas D. Critten, charged with carrying on a bucketshop, was tried in the Recorder's Court yesterday. There was considerable interest manifested in the case, especially among the proprietors of similar places, as it was the first of the kind tried. After evidence tending to show that the business of the bucketshops was as legitimate as that of the Board of Trade, Recorder Swift charged the jury that insomuch as there was no evidence offered to show that the wheat purchased was not delivered there had been no case made out in behalf of the people, and they must therefore acquit, which they did without leaving their seats. The County Attorney says he has not yet decided what course to pursue.

FARMERS AND PROTECTION.

WASHINGTON, June 2.—The investigation of the rate of wages of farm labour, made by the Department of Agriculture, shows an increase of 24 per cent. since 1879 in the Eastern States, 14 per cent. in the Western States, and 13 in the Southern. Wages declined gradually from 1866 to 1875, and very heavily from that to 1879 when rapid recuperation commenced. The influence of manufactures in advancing the local rates of farm wages is exhibited, as also the proximity of large commercial cities. The districts of high wages are those of high productions and net profit in agriculture. The present average rates are:—Eastern States, $26; Middle, $22; Southern, $15; Western, $23; California, $38.

NEVADA MINE DISASTER.

VIRGINIA CITY, June 2.—This morning Richard Bennett and Dennis Callahan, with a skiff, ventured into the Alta drift in search of the imprisoned miners. Neither has since been heard of, and it is feared they have been suffocated by the heat and gas. Afterwards "Dutch George" waded into the shaft, but soon returned delirious. He saw a light and a boat, but no men. Two others attempted to wade in, but found the heat and gas insupportable. It is reported that raps are still heard on the air pipe, indicating that the imprisoned miners are yet alive.

LATER.—A miner named Pike, of the Union shaft, by wearing a helmet, penetrated to the end of the Alta drift, and found the seven men all right sitting in the cooling off house, 200 feet from the end of the drift. The only lives lost were those of the two men who went in with the boat this morning.

The disease seems to be sweeping through New Jersey from north to south, It was an alarmingly short time ago prevalent in Elizabeth and appeared in Jamtville. Scarcely a house escaped. The spread is believed to be due to moving parties from the infected district into one not infected. The disease attacked a large number of adults, and many children, who had it before, have been attacked the second time. In some of the cases the second attack was worse than the first.

LET HIM SLEEP.

RICHMOND, Va., June 3.—The sentiment here is against the removal of the remains of Jefferson to the Cemetery at Washington. It is stated that Thomas Jefferson Randolph nephew of Jefferson who died recently at Charlottesville, devoted his whole life to the payment of his uncle's debts, and it is said that in so doing he left his own numerous progeny dependent upon their own exertions. There is comment here as to whether to this branch of the family belongs the right to say where Jefferson shall sleep.

BALTIMORE, Md., June 3.—There is a flutter in society circles, over the sudden departure from the city of Emal Williams son of the President of the State Senate. Williams lately came into a fortune estimated at $250,000, and was to have been married on June 14th. It is understood that he made over a deed of trust of the fortune, to his father, who is to pay him $2,000 a year. Some say Williams has gone to California, others to Europe and still others say to the house of a relative.

THE BIGGEST WHISTLE.

New Brunswick, N.J., has a steam whistle whose deep bass notes are as familiar as sunrise to farmers within a radius of thirty miles of the town. The people of Bay Ridge, L.I., regulate their clocks and watches by its accurate blasts. On calm, pleasant days it has been heard at the Battery. The ocean and sound steamers have whistles, from 8 to 12 inches in diameter, that can be heard from 10 to 20 miles. There is a heavy toned whistle at Sandy Hook, about fifteen inches in diameter. Many of the coal mines of the country have big whistles to warn miners of impending dangers, and to indicate the time for beginning and quitting work.

But the largest whistle in the world may be seen at the store of the Eaton, Cole & Burnham Company, 58 John street. It was made at their factory in Bridgport, Conn., and ordered from them by Manning, Maxwell & More, of Liberty street, for a Montreal firm. It will be used by the largest saw mill in Canada. Experts in brass work and steam whistles pronounced it one of the best proportioned and the largest of all the steam whistles they had ever seen.

It is about the size of a flour barrel, being 27 inches long and 20 inches in diameter. The average diameter of saw mill whistles is four inches. Its extreme length, from the bowl to the ornament on top, is four feet nine inches. Its spindle is 3½ inches in diameter, or as large as an ordinary steam whistle. It is made of cast brass, and cost $500. It will be blown by means of a spring valve connected with a steam pipe four inches in diameter. A long blast upon it would almost empty a 100-horse power boiler. The Canadian mill that will use it has a boiler of 150-horse power.

The mill has been totally destroyed by fire several times. The proprietors, in order to guard against future destruction of property, ordered the whistle, In case a fire breaks out all employees of the mill and the various fire departments in neighbouring towns will be summoned by the big whistle. It is also to be used, by a system of signals, to give orders to wood choppers and employers at a distance.

Charming Girls.

If you are fortunate in possessing beauty, my dear girls, be thankful for the gift, but do not over-rate it. The girl who expects to win her way by her beauty and to be admired and accepted simply because she is a lady has the wrong idea. She must secure a lovable character if she wishes to be loved, and my advice to you all is to lay the foundation of a permanent influence. To win and hold admiration you must cultivate the gifts that nature has bestowed upon you. If you have a talent for music, develope it; learn to play some instrument, for many are charmed more by music than by handsome features. Pursue the same course with regard to painting, drawing and designing, and if you have power to obtain useful knowledge in any direction, do it. I have heard young men in speaking of their young lady acquaintances say, "Oh, they look well but they don't know anything." There is no necessity for such a state of things; books are cheap and accessible. If you labor all day in a shop or store still at odd intervals you can gather up an education and contend with no greater difficulties than did Clay, Filmore, Webster and others of our greatest men. If you go through life a flitting butterfly, how will you be spoken of by-and-by? I own it is nice to eat, drink and be merry, and be courted and flattered by all your friends; but how much better to cultivate character, sense and true womanliness!

A VILE POLICY.

We had hoped that the Examiner was about to turn over a new leaf and to discuss the questions of the day as a reason for supporting one or the other of the candidates in each of the Peterborough Ridings, but this seems to be impossible for our contemporary, which is again busy at its old work of personalities and slander. We would greatly prefer now as always, to discuss measures not men, but we may be forced to, "carry the war into Africa," in order to do justice to the gentlemen we support, if they are thus assailed. The Examiner has one advantage or disadvantage, whichever it may be considered, as compared with us, since it knows that we will not return slander for slander, or imitate it in its vile abuse. Feeling, however, that we can compare favourably with our opponents as regards the personal qualifications of our candidates, as well as in respect to their political opinions, and the policy of their leaders, we need not shrink from making the comparisons, if we are forced to do so.

When Mr. Hilliard had declined the nomination, and it was supposed that he would not be in the field as a candidate, the Examiner, thankful not to have such a dreaded opponent to contend against, wrote of him as follows :—

"Regarding him as an opponent we regret that Mr. Hilliard is out of the field. He was an honorable opponent, and on personal grounds, we could heartily have given him the preference over any other Conservative in the whole Riding of West Peterborough, both as a candidate and as a representative, should the electors so egregiously fail to justify our estimate of their sound sense and good judgment as to return a supporter of the present Government."

At the earnest solicitation of his constituents that have been and will be, Mr. Hilliard at a great personal sacrifice consented to reconsider his determination, and to allow himself to be again nominated as the Conservative candidate. Immediately the Examiner, apparently beside itself with abject terror at the certainty of defeat, pours forth a flood of personal and foul abuse up on the honorable opponent, the Conservative to be prefered to all others in the riding, according to its own description of the previous week.

Could there be anything more degraded in journalism than the vile effrontery of such a change in one short week. There is not the slightest pretence of a regard for truth or honesty, but because a confessedly estimable man becomes a political opponent, dirt is to be thrown at him in the vain hope that some of it may stick.

Fancy a journal like the Examiner with its bad notoriety for unscrupulous mendacity, and utter want of honour in its conduct, daring to describe a man like Mr. Hilliard, in Peterborough, where he is so well known, as criminal, dishonest, lying and void of conscience. Such an attack upon one who is respected, as Mr. Hilliard is, by all who know him, either personally or by repute, coming from such a source, would be laughable, did it not excite disgust to think that any human being could fall so low.

A DIRTY TRICK.

A very mean and dirty trick is being played by some friend (or is it an enemy?) of Mr. J. J. Lundy. A circular is being sent around which contains the letter in which Mr. Hilliard declined to accept his first nomination as a candidate. Appended to this is a lying statement that Mr. Hilliard had only been at Ottawa attending to the interests of his constituents a few days during the past session, when it is known that he attended to them zealously and successfully. It is also objected that Mr. Hilliard again offers himself for a position which he has stated he could not devote the time to. And pray could not Mr. Hilliard, when he found there was such a strong desire for him to stand again, make such business arrangements as will enable him, at a considerable personal sacrifice, to attend to his parliamentary duties?

This disgraceful production winds up with an appeal for "your vote and influence" in favour of Mr. J. J. Lundy, on the ground that he has the requisite "time, leisure, and ability." The friends of Mr. Hilliard are desirous to conduct this contest, not on personal grounds, but on the political questions of the day, but if necessary they are quite ready to make a comparison of the respective candidates, either as to "ability" or any other personal qualification.

This circular begins in the style of a letter "Dear Sir," but there is no signature to it, as indeed is only natural, for no man of honour would affix his name to such a tissue of meanness and falsehood.

CAMPAIGN NOTES.

The Montreal Herald, one of the leading journals of the Opposition, says :—

"The first duty of a Liberal Government will be to readjust the tariff."

An old cooking book, before describing the method of cooking a hare, made the preliminary remark "first catch your hare." In this case not only the hare but the cook has to be caught. The Liberals have both to catch the people of Canada and secure a Government before they can begin this cooking operation.

Ten years ago, when it became necessary to increase the representation of Ontario, the Conservatives did not make a general re-distribution of the constituencies, and the Reformers were furious and abusive. Mr. Mackenzie moved and the Reform members voted :—

"That the six additional members to be allotted to Ontario are due to the increased population of that Province, and should be allotted with reasonable regard to that population ; that the bill be referred back to committee of the whole House with instructions to amend the same by allotting the members for Ontario in such a manner as to give, as far as practicable, representation to those parts of the population which, by the present provision, would be excluded from their fair share of political power."

Now that there is again the necessity of an increase, the Conservatives have adopted the plan thus recommended, and again the Reformers are furious and abusive. They are really very hard to please.

The Examiner says that Mr. Hilliard only voted five times last session. Of course this is a wilful falsehood, as the official record, and indeed its own columns, show. It also says that all of his votes were bad. Now, we fancy that by some inadvertence our contemporary may be telling the truth as to one of these occasions, for the division list shows Mr. Hilliard's name in company with those of Messrs. Blake, Mackenzie, Cartwright, et al.

Though Mr. Roxburgh is holding meetings in the East Riding, no announcement of them has been made in the Examiner, so that nobody knows of them or is able to attend them except those of the immediate neighbourhood. Full and free discussion is evidently not what is desired.

We observe that the Montreal Witness quotes from the Examiner the forged figures published by the latter as to the answers to the questions of Mr. Orton's Committee. We cannot absolve the Witness from a share in the responsibility for this dishonest act, for, like the Examiner, it had the official returns to Parliament from which to learn the truth. And these are the means by which Reformers support their cause —misrepresentation, forgery and slander.

* * *

It is asserted that Mr. Roxburgh is a farmer, and that the farmers should therefore vote for him. We would be glad if Mr. Roxburgh, or any friend of his, would inform us where his farm is, and how long he has had it.

Vote for BURNHAM and HILLIARD, whose motto is "Canada for the Canadians."

YOUNG'S POINT.

From Our Own Correspondent.

Political Meeting.—An enthusiastic meeting of Mr. Hilliard's supporters was held on Thursday evening at the School House, which was well filled and the utmost unanimity of feeling in favour of Mr. Hilliard, the Conservative candidate, was manifested by the audience. Mr. Jas. Stewart was voted into the chair and explained that the meeting had been called to hear Mr. Hilliard discuss the political questions of the day and called upon that gentleman to address the electors present. Mr. Hilliard came forward and was received very cordially. Mr. Hilliard made a capital speech and proceeded to say that it was not on account of personal merits he claimed their suffrages, but as a firm supporter of Sir John A. Macdonald's Government and that he would if returned continue to support that Government and to uphold the National Policy which had proved a very great benefit to the whole Dominion. His speech which occupied two hours was listened to very attentively throughout. Mr. Bertram was present and being called upon by the chairman to address the meeting in Mr. Lundy's favour, he brought up the usual old song that the present Government is corrupt and to save the country from ruin the sooner John A. Macdonald's government is turned out the better, and the Grit party put in their place. Mr. Bertram had to be interrupted several times by Mr. Hilliard for misstatements. Mr. Poussette was next called upon to address the meeting and replied very forcibly to Mr. Bertram's speech and showed up the fallacies of Mr. Bertram's speech more especially with regard to the Ontario Boundary award, the Pacific Railway Contract and the Gerrymandering of Constituencies, particularly dwelling upon Mr. Oliver Mowat's way of doing it. Mr. Poussette's speech was a telling one and knocked Mr. Bertram's into a cocked hat. The meeting broke up at a late hour. Three cheers were given for the Queen and Mr. Hilliard, which were heartily responded to.

DOURO.

Political Meeting.—At a meeting in the Town Hall in Douro on Tursday night there was a large attendance. Mr. Burnham addressed the meeting and was well received. He gave an able explanation of the political questions of the day. Some friends of Mr. Roxburgh who were present were invited to take the platform and reply, but they declined to do so. Mr. Roxburgh had driven through in the evening and was asked to stay for the meeting, but he also was unwilling to do so. There was a well attended meeting and much confidence was expressed that Mr. Burnham will be returned.

J. Werts & Son, Freedomville, Ohio, write :—"This informs you that we have sold all those Baxter's Mandrake Bitters you sent us. We sold the last three bottles to-day. Two of our customers disputed about which should have the last bottle, and we decided the matter by promising to send for more at once. The Bitters give universal satisfaction to all who have tried them. We want you to send us twelve dozen forthwith." Accident.—Mr. Fred. Stephens and Mr. R. White, of Seymour, received slight injuries at a "raising" on the premises of Mr. Fulford, on Monday, the former across the nose, and the latter on the side of the head, by the falling of a hand-spike from the building. The accident was caused by the misplacement of the hand-spike by one of the workmen.

The First Drive.—A large drive of logs, one of the largest that ever passed down the river, is now an its way southwards. There are about four hundred thousand pieces in all. The logs are the property of Messrs. Gilmour & Co., and Rathburn & Son.

Contract for a New Church Given.—The Trustee Board of the Methodist Church gave the contract for building their new church to Messrs. Russel and Dunk, on Monday last. The edifice will be 66 by 42 feet, with basement and gallery, and will cost $6,220. It is to be built in the centre of the lot about 30 feet farther back than the old building. The grounds were measured off on Monday evening, and work will commence immediately. The old church is to be torn down. While the new work is in progress, service will probably be held in the Town Hall.

A Word of Caution.—As is usually the case where an article of true merit has attained a world-wide reputation by its wonderful results, as the celebrated Electric Bitters have done, certain unprincipled parties have endeavored to imitate them, and expect to induce an unsuspecting public to purchase their fraudulent wares. WEST RIDING OF PETERBOROUGH.

Gentlemen,—

At the urgent solicitation of my political friends I have consented to be again a candidate for your suffrages at the approaching election.

While I would have preferred not to have been a candidate on the present occasion, yet now that I have placed my services again at your disposal, you may rest assured that no private duty or engagement will be allowed to interfere with the proper discharge of my duties as your representative, should I be honoured with your confidence for the second time.

Although I failed to be present at every division during the recent session, I would venture to challenge my political opponents to specify a single instance in which I have neglected the interests of my constituents or failed to discharge the duties devolving upon me as your representative to the best of my ability and judgment.

During the past four years I have rendered a cheerful support to the government of Sir John A. Macdonald, believing that it has not only redeemed the pledges given previous to the last general election, but that its policy has been and is one eminently calculated to promote the prosperity of the country, and should you again honor me with your confidence I shall continue to give the present government the same cordial support, so long as their policy commends itself to my judgment.

In conjunction with the other representatives from this section of Ontario, I have done all in my power to secure the early construction of the Trent Valley Canal, and the large measure of success which has attended our past efforts should assure the electorate of this district that if their present representatives are re-elected and the present government sustained, this great and long-looked-for work will be brought to an early completion.

As it will be impossible for me to undertake anything like a personal canvas between this and polling day, I trust those favorable to the cause of good government will render me their hearty support without waiting to be asked, and that all the electors will make it a point to attend the meetings which I propose holding in different parts of the constituency for the purpose of public explanation and discussion of the several questions involved in the present campaign.

Again thanking you for the confidence reposed in me in 1878, and soliciting a renewal of the same,

I am, gentlemen,
Your ob't. serv't.,

SIR JOHN A. MACDONALD

OUR VETERAN STATESMAN DISCOURSES ON THE QUESTIONS OF THE DAY.

A Telling Speech to a Large and Enthusiastic Audience—Mr. Blake's Sophistries Exposed—Canadian vs. Foreign Industries—The Boundary and Veto Questions.

The following is the continuation of Sir John A. Macdonald's speech, delivered at Toronto :—

Gentlemen, I addressed a body of workingmen at Ottawa the other day, and I had to

CONTRAST THE STATE OF AFFAIRS THERE FIVE YEARS AGO,

when Mr. Mackenzie was in power, and at the present time. I stated, and you may remember it was mentioned in all the newspapers at the time, that there was actually no employment for labour, and that the Parliament buildings and Government offices were surrounded by men asking for the means of earning their bread, asking for half or quarter time or half or quarter wages, in order to support their families. I have seen it myself at Ottawa. I was in Opposition, but I lived there a year and a half before I came to Toronto, and I had my house besieged by persons asking employment, and that I would give them some work to prevent them from being compelled to beg. Now a different state of things prevails. The boot is on the other leg now. (Cheers.) I told the Ottawa workingmen this story. Years ago, when Parliament was sitting in Toronto, we had a five months' session. I was in the Government, and I had a very hard fight, because the Opposition was led by a man—George Brown—by a strong man, who made a strong fight of it. We got through at last, and when the guns were firing, telling us that the Governor-General was coming down to prorogue the House, a great friend of mine came up to me and said: "John A., you do not care a farthing for us now; when the Governor comes we have to go, and you no longer care." "No, my good friend," I said, "I have been kissing your feet for the last five months, and now you may kiss mine for the next seven." (Laughter.) So it was with the workingmen of Ottawa. For four years they were wandering around imploring the people to give them work. Now, in Ottawa the boot is on the other leg, and if I want any work done I cannot get it done, because the men are so fully employed—(loud cheers)—and I think it is the same in Toronto, Hamilton, and elsewhere. The boot is on the other leg, and long may it remain there. (Enthusiastic cheers.) Every session during the last three years of Mr. Mackenzie's Goverment I moved an amendment in favour of the National Policy, but it was derided, laughed at, and voted down. I was treated contemptuously, as a theorist, as a man of no practical policy, and as merely getting up clap-trap motions for clap-trap purposes. The moment we came into power we carried the National Policy. For one whole month, night and day, Messrs. Mackenzie, Blake, Mills, Sir Richard Cartwright, and the whole of their party opposed every step we took, every motion we made, every readjustment we suggested, and opposed our tariff, both in principle and detail. The Globe, gentlemen, which is the able exponent of the principles of the Opposition, has been a free trade journal and is so now. Up to three weeks ago it advanced arguments in favour of free trade. Now, at the last moment, these gentlemen, finding that they were going to the people, that they want their votes, come to you, cap in hand, and say: "Gentlomen, we don't intend at all to interfere with the manufacturers." (Laughter.) Well gentlemen, they were either fools or rogues; fools if they opposed a policy which they now admit was correct, or rogues for opposing it for factious purposes. What say they now? Mr. Mackenzie says, "We don't intend to disturb the manufacturers; we are going to educate them to

FREE TRADE BY SLOW DEGREES;

we will show the people the fallacies of protection." This is something like the Dutchman who tried to reduce the feed of his horse by slow degrees from half a bushel of oats to a single wisp of straw, and thus do away with what he called the extravagance of the oats. Unfortunately for his experiment, just as he was about to succeed the horse died. (Laughter.) So it is with Mr. Mackenzie's proposition, with the proposition of Mr. Blake, in the address which he published to the electors of West Durham. But perhaps Mr. Blake is not going to get in. He has got a man, a Mail to oppose him. (Laughter and cheers.) Mr. Blake says: "Of course the expenses of the country are so great that we shall have to keep up the taxation for the present, but by-and-by we will reduce them, and take off all the burdens from the people." But, gentlemen, the horse will die, the manufacturers will be abolished, and we shall be driven back to where we were in 1875-7, and you will suffer this great loss when I shall be too old to try to remedy matters again. (Voice—"I hope you will never get old.") Well they say in Parliament I am too old for my friends in Opposition. (Laughter.) You, the people of Canada, know the party that laid down the great principle of nationol protection, and you put a Government in power to carry it out. You know that the present Government have honestly and sincerely carried that policy out, although they have been attacked in England for so doing. We all desire to stand well with the great Old Mother Country, but her people are the judges of their interests and we of ours. (Cheers.) Although free trade prevails in England just now, although we have been reproved and I abused in the English papers, which said that Sir John ought to know better than to support any such faded old fallacy as protection and fair trade, nevertheless we have honestly and fairly carried that policy out. We have stood all the obloquy heaped upon us, and shall continue to do so, if we have your support. (Cheers.) I am not going to speak to you at any length to-night. (Cries of "Go on," "We like to hear you.") Like many old persons I like to hear myself—(laughter)—but still I must make way for others, and although I may not think their speeches are so interesting as my own—(laughter)—I must affect to be modest and let them come forward and address you. Besides, you are reading men, and must be well acquainted with a subject which has been discussed for the last five years. It would be an insult to your intelligence now to discuss the abstract doctrines of protection and the National Policy. You have made up your minds on this subject, and my feeble arguments are not wanted. You know and have felt the benefits of the National Policy, are resolved they shall be retained for the country, for yourselves, and for your children. (Cheers.) The Opposition who have been for the last three years fighting about the National Policy, are now keeping singularly quiet about it. They are saying as little as possible about it. They pretend to be semi-converts. (Laughter.) You know what semi-converts are. We read in the Scripture about the Church of Laodicea, and we are told they were spewed out of the mouth because they were neither hot or cold. (Laughter.) We have nailed our colours to the mast, and we stand by the NATIONAL POLICY.

"No poverty," new potatoes. (Laughter.) If we fail it will be your fault. Upon you and your children, upon the people, will fall the consequences of a reversion of that policy which has been so successful. If Mr. Blake and his party came into power to-morrow, I do not suppose they would set to work to alter the tariff at once, but we know their position, and what they must as honest men carry out. They say they believe protection is a falsehood and a fallacy, and free trade a true principle, and they will educate the people up to it, and then by degrees men who have now invested their money in manufactures will get out of the scrape as soon as they can, and as to getting new capitalists to establish endustries, that hope will be gone for ever; and therefore I say, that as men of common sense, let alone patriotism, you will stand by the Government that through good report and evil report stood by the National Policy and the national industries. (Loud cheers.) I say they are trying to lead you away. Just as sometimes a herring is drawn across a dog's nose to lead it away from the scent, so they are are trying to raise a number of questions in order to draw you away from the question at issue. They talk about

THE BOUNDARY AWARD.

They say Ontario is robbed, because the award of three gentlemen appointed by Messrs. Mackenzie and Mowat has not so far been accepted. Now, in the first place the country in dispute either belongs to Ontario or to Manitoba. Manitoba is now being settled by Ontario men, and it is not of much consequence whether that country is owned by yourselves or your sons. (Hear, hear.) But, gentlemen, I tell you as a lawyer, as a constitutional lawyer—and it is with some pride that I say I have never laid down yet since 1867, a constitutional principle which on reference to the highest courts of the realm has not been sustained, and that I have not in one case expressed a constitutional opinion but that the highest courts in this country and England have sustained my opinion—I tell you, I say, as a constitutional lawyer, that award whether confirmed by the Legislature of Ontario or the Parliament at Ottawa, has no legal validity whatever, and that it is a mere piece of waste paper. It cannot and will not decide the question. There are only two ways of solving the question where the true boundary is. One is by an act of the Imperial Parliament. The Imperial Parliament can settle the boundary or unsettle it. The other is by a judicial decision of the highest Court of Appeal in the British Empire. (Cheers.) Now, Mr. Chairman and gentleman, when that country was bought from the Hudson's Bay Company the Dominion paid £300,000 sterling, and gave one-twentieth of the whole of the land in that country, for it. Who paid that money? It was not Ontario. It was the whole Dominion. Ontario, Quebec, Nova Scotia, New Brunswick paid that money, and are now paying that money, for that country. The Government of which I was a member were the trustees for the whole Dominion. I was an Ontario man, but as one of the trustees of the land for the whole Dominion. I was bound to get a legal decision that would settle beyond all possibility of a doubt where Ontario ended and where the North-West began. And ten long years ago I proposed that we should make up the case at once and send it home to England in order that the highest Court of Appeal there might settle it. And if the Reform Government of Ontario had yielded to that proposition —supposing that it would take two years to prepare the case, lay it before the court and get a decision—the whole matter would have been settled eight years ago, and this discussion would have never been raised. (Cheers.) Gentlemen, so long ago as before 1800, in a capital case, a case in which the life of a man depended, the case of the Queen v. Reinhardt, we find a court of law unanimously deciding that the line ran close to Thunder bay. Until that decision was reversed in some way or other by the highest court of appeal, we were bound as law-abiding people to hold that decision, given by a competent tribunal after a discussion of the whole subject, was correct. Now, the Government here in Toronto would not agree to an appeal, and they left it to three men to decide where the true line is. Now, I tell you as a lawyer, and notwithstanding my respect for the three arbitrators, who were friends of mine, that whether their judgment is right or wrong it is

A MERE PIECE OF WASTE PAPER.

And if a trial for murder in the territory in question came up, and the question arose as to whether the crime was committed in Ontario or Manitoba, the award would not decide it, no Act passed either in Toronto or Ottawa would decide it, and the murderer might get off on account of the uncertainty of the decision. (Applause.) Now at the time the case was brought up for discussion in the House of Commons at Ottawa I was ill, and was confined to my house, but when I heard that the discussion was on I went down and lay on a sofa in the Parliament House, waiting to see whether Mr. Blake—who is a first-rate equity lawyer, though knowing very little of constitutional law—would risk his reputation as a lawyer by defending the award and declaring it valid. Gentlemen, he dared not do it. (Hear, hear.) He was silent. (Hear hear.) He left that to Mr. David Mills. And who was he? A member of Parliament who was supposed to fight the battles of the people, but who was the hired servant of Mr. Mowat, from whom he had received money to make out a case against the Dominion. Mr. Mills spoke of the long brief for which he was paid—I do not know how much—from Mr. Mowat.

A VOICE—$3,400.

SIR JOHN MACDONALD—But Mr. Blake did not venture to get up and defend the award for, as a lawyer, he could not do that. (Hear, hear.) Gentlemen, we do not vary from our position on this matter. We say the Dominion does not want; Quebec, Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, Prince Edward Island, Manitoba, and British Columbia, do not want one inch of land which belongs to Ontario. All we want is a proper settlement of the question "Where is the line?" (Cheers.) Why, if the North-West belongs to Ontario, Ontario has a right to it and that, gentlemen, is the simple question.

WHAT THE OPPOSITION ARE KEEPING BACK.

But I have to tell you another thing which Mr. Mowat and the Opposition have kept secret—that not a single acre of that land belongs to the province of Ontario, and I will tell you why. You can quite easily understand it. The land belonged, so far as the grant of Charles II. could give it, to the Hudson Bay Company, but it was subject to the Indian title. The Indians were the original owners of the lands and it has been the pride of England and of Canada to stand by the rights of the Indians, for barbarous and wild though they be, they are fellow-beings, made by the same God and subjects of the same Sovereign. (Loud cheers.) Well, those lands all belonged to the Indians until the Dominion Government purchased them. Those lands were purchased, not by the Province of Ontario—it did not pay a farthing, and refused to pay a farthing—but by the Dominion, and you are paying taxes on account of that purchase. The people of Vancouver Island on the Pacific are taxed to pay the Indians for the deed of surrender they gave. To whom did they surrender the lands? They did not give any deed to Ontario. By seven treaties the Indians of the North-West conveyed the lands to Canada, and every acre belongs now to the people of Canada, and not to you as the people of Ontario. So much is that the case that the Government of Manitoba says, "We do not want that country, because the only consequence of taking it will be that we will have the expense and trouble of governing it while the whole lands belong to the Dominion." (Cheers.) If you will take the trouble to look at the speech which Mr. Mackenzie, who was then head of the Government, placed in the mouth of the Earl of Dufferin when he was was Governor-General at the prorogation of Parliament in 1877, you will find that Mr. Mackenzie and Mr. Blake and that Government made the Earl of Dufferin, as the representative of the Sovereign, say that we congratulate you on having purchased all that land from the Indians, and on the fact that the whole of that magnificent country, from Lake Superior to the Rocky mountains, belongs to the Dominion of Canada. (Loud cheers.) That was the language placed by Mr. Mackenzie in the mouth of the Earl of Dufferin, and that land now belongs to the Dominion of Canada. Mr. Mowat does not say that. He says that we have lost all that timber and land. Even if all the teritory he asks for were awarded, there is not one stick of timber, one acre of land, or one lump of lead, iron, or gold that does not belong to the Dominion, or to the people who purchased from the Dominion Government. So it is absurd to say that Ontario has been robbed; she has not been robbed of a farthing. (Cheers.) You know there is Brantford in Ontario, and that there is the township of Onondago. Mr. Mowat is the head of the Provincial Government, but that township belongs to the Indians, it does not belong either to the Ontario Government or the Dominion Government. In the same way all the country from Lake Superior to Red river belonged to the Indians until it was ceded to the purchaser, and the person who purchased it is known as Queen Victoria, the Queen of the Dominion of Canada. (Loud and long continued cheering.) That is a plain story, and you, gentlemen, will understand how unfair, fallacious, and wicked have been the charges made that we, actuated by improper motives, have been trying to rob Ontario, when it is a matter of not the slightest consequence so far as the land is concerned whether that land belongs to the people of Ontario or to their sons up in Manitoba. My son has gone there—(cheers)—and I suppose a good many of your sons have gone their also. (A voice, "Your son was there before.") My son went there as a soldier to fight Riel; now he has gone there as a settler. (Cheers.) You, gentlemen, can quite understand how false and unfair the charge is which has been brought against me that I have endeavoured to rob or despoil Ontario. It is just a herring dragged across the track in front of the noses of the hounds to prevent them following the scent. We were hunting down the Opposition with a

DOG WHICH HAD ON ITS COLLAR "N. P."

Following the true scent, it was about running the party to the earth, when there was dragged accross the track a herring marked "Boundary," but he is too old a dog to be led away by the smell of a herring, and he is following the free trade fox to the death. Long continued applause.)

[On account of the length of the speech we had to reserve the remainder, but will continue it in Monday's issue of the REVIEW.—ED.]

Daily Evening Review

SATURDAY, JUNE 3, 1882.

SIR JOHN A. MACDONALD

THE PREMIER AND J. B. PLUMB TO SPEAK HERE ON MONDAY EVENING.

At the Drill Shed—A Telegram Received Just as we go to Press—A Grand Opportunity for the Electors to hear the Distinguished Orators.

The following telegram has been received by Mr. Hilliard:—

"Sir John Macdonald and Mr. J. B. Plumb will speak at Peterborough on Monday evening at eight o'clock, provided they can be sent by special train from Lindsay at half past five, and provided they can be sent to Port Hope at the close of the meeting."

Business.

In Port Hope, every person that puts a cow in pound receives $1.00. At the same price here, a boy would make a fortune quicker than he would by investing his wealth in Manitoba mud—at the present time. The seven imprisoned brutes have all been taken out. The cow question is now agitating Port Hope to its very centre.

Machinery.

The Lindsay Post says that Mr. John Makins is sending out this week a large quantity of machinery, shafting, circular saw-mill, and other matters, for the sawmill at Nogey's creek being built and owned by Messrs. Robinson & Elliott of Peterborough. The capacity of the mill will be about 20,000 feet per day. A quantity of ties, shingles, etc., will be cut at the mill, as the firm have several large contracts for the above on hand.

The Richelieu Company.

At a meeting of the Directors of the Richelieu & Ontario Navigation Company it was decided to advance the passenger rates from Cornwall to Montreal by fifty cents. At the next meeting a general advance on passengers and freight will be made all over the line. An offer was received for the purchase of two of the steamers from Upper Canada Company. The steamers ply on the upper lakes. The proposal was left in abeyance until the meeting of Directors next week.

It is Coming.

On Thursday the 15th of June, we are promised a visit from the Big U. S. Circus and Menagerie combined with a Great Eastern Hippodrome and Balloon Racing Show, two colossal entertainment under one monster pavillion. The Strathroy Despatch says that, the new tariff placed on all printed matter is so strong as to almost shut all shows out—6 cts. per lb., and 20 per cent ad valorem—was specially meant to protect the Canadian printers and it operates like a charm. In proof, this show, during its tour of our Provinces, will spend over $7000 for printing, not including newspaper advertising. Our Minister of Customs he Hon. Mackenzie Bowell, belongs to that class who lay special claim to the art preservative, and every publisher and printer has just cause to be proud of the course he has pursued in taxing printed matter. But now for the show. From the solid working effects of this tariff we are given to understand that this is the only show that will visit Canada this summer, we advise our readers to prepare for a gigantic holiday on the 15th. In its array of arenic talent is a long list of well known champions, several wearing diamond studded gold medals, trophies that give proof—proof undeniable of their prowess. The Menagerie is said to be the finest collection of the animal kingdon ever seen under a tent. One of the enormous golden chariots contains three monster lions, captured near Allahabad, in the distant jungles of India, in another, the largest lioness held in captivity, and which fifteen days ago gave birth to five juveniles—mother and family doing well—thank you. There are a thousand other animals and grand curiosities of nature to be seen, and all for one price of admission. Above all, don't miss seeing the free to all Oriental procession at 9 a. m. It is truly worth going one hundred miles to gaze upon. Mark down the day and date, and don't forget it.

Farmers, vote for the National Policy, which has increased the value of your products.

HUNGRY AND HOMELESS.

The Irish Emigrants Housed at the Skating Rink—Lots of Work for all.

As we stated in Friday's issue we anticipated that the corporation would be compelled to provide accommodation and food for the Irish emi-emigrants that arrived here on that day. The men were all right as there was any amount of employment for them, but the women and children were in a pitiable plight, being without money or food, except what was supplied them at the station by Mr. Beemer.

As we stated before the emigrants remained at the Midland station for several hours and as the rain came pelting down on them they huddled in heaps wherever they could find the slightest chance of shelter and presented a most woeful aspect.

During the afternoon Councillor Cahill and several others of the city fathers exerted themselves in the cause of suffering humanity and through their efforts the skating rink was procured for the accommodation of the homeless people, until they are provided with situations or places of residence. The police officers, acting upon instructions, proceeded to the station and requested the new arrivals to pack up their goods and utensils and prepare to take a short walk to to a place of shelter. Many were the expressions of thanks when this was heard and with alacrity everything the people possessed on earth was gathered together and were prepared to march. Women bareheaded with a shawl thrown over their shoulders, children with babies strapped on their backs, after the style of squaw and papoose, and men bearing heavy bundles formed the procession as they proceeded in knots along Charlotte street and up Water to the skating rink, under the guidance of the police. The poor unfortunates, only half clad as they plodded along through the pelting rain were a most pitiable sight, and many remarked that if they were fair specimens of the Irish people, it was no wonder that they were discontented. It must be remembered however, that these emigrants are of the very lowest class, but even then the very lowest type of people to be met with in Canada are vastly their superiors in every respect. Of course there were some intelligent persons among them, but the great majority were exceedingly ignorant, not only of this country, but of the one which they had left, let us hope for their own good. Upon arriving at the skating rink, the large committee room up stairs and the two dressing rooms down stairs were fitted up as comfortably as possible under the circumstances, fires lighted and the place generally cleaned up. Soon the emigrants made themselves perfectly at home and rejoiced at the welcome change in their situation, remarking that it was the best place they had been in since they landed in Canada. Although the river flows within a few feet of the rink, the greater portion of the people did not take advantage of the fact to indulge in a good wash, a thing that, judging by appearances, would have rather improved their appearance after such a long journey.

In the afternoon all the males able to work were employed by railway men, the waterworks contractor and by farmers, while all the girls fit for service were snapped up like "hot cakes."

In the evening the people seemed perfectly at home and were visited by a large number of persons, many out of more curiosity, but by some who did all they could to encourage and alleviate the positions of the unfortunates.

Chief Johnston provided a bountiful supper of bread, butter, tea and suggar, and their second meal was enjoyed with far greater gusto than their first. At an early hour all retired to sleep, but a gang of roughs, said to be men paid off from Rathbun's shanty or drives, made night hideous in the vicinity of the rink.

They are still under the care of the town officials but by Monday it is expected that all will be provided with accommodation.

Electors of West Peterborough, vote for GEORGE HILLIARD, your tried and approved member, who has his residence and business among you.

The Lacrosse Association.

The tenth annual meeting of the National Lacrosse Association was held at Toronto on Friday. All the leading clubs sent delegates. Messrs. H. LeBrun, President and W. A. Sanderson, Captain, represented Peterborough. Five new clubs were elected to affiliation. The annual report was a very encouraging one and showed that $106.55 remained in the Treasury after meeting all disbursements. There were several changes in the constitution proposed.

The first, that the width of the goals should be changed from six feet to five, was on motion lost.

Amendment No. 2—That the umpire shall be appointed by the referee and must be duly qualified as required by section 1 of this rule, and for championship matches they shall be appointed the day before the match. After some discussion this amendment was lost.

An amendment providing that there shall be no appeal from the decision of the referee was adopted, as was also an amendment limiting jurisdiction of a referee to the match to which he is appointed.

The fifth amendment, which was adopted, provides that every game must be won by putting the ball through the front of the flags.

The sixth amendment provides that a player when he loses his lacrosse must consider himself out of the play until he secures his stick and that he must not kick the ball. This clause was adopted.

The seventh amendment, which was passed, provides that local championships will be created with a view of inducing clubs that are debarred from competing for the championship, and that in each district trophies will be offered by the association. A proposition to induce the Indians to join the association was rejected.

Mr. Quinn of Montreal was elected President, Mr. W. K. McNaught. Hon. Secretary-Treasurer and Mr. W. A. Sanderson was elected one of the council of ten.

Found.

The body of Thomas Lancaster, who was drowned on May 24th, at Bewdley, was recovered on Friday, by some parties who were fishing, It was almost erect in the water. The remains were buried to-day.

New York Choir Co.

Our readers will remember that the celebrated Clifton's New York Church Choir Co. appear in the Opera House next Monday evening in their classical, original and novel entertainment. New charming melodies by the far-famed quartette.

Large Eggs.

Mrs. John Crowley, of South Douro, to-day showed us some of the largest hen's eggs we have ever seen. The largest weighed 4½ ounces, and measured 10 inches by 8½. They were laid by hens of the Houdan variety. Can one of our subscribers beat that?

Our Orchestra.

On Tuesday evening next the Peterborough Orchestra, whose playing has delighted our citizens on numerous occasions, give their first concert, in the new Temperance Hall, over Trennum's Block, Water street. They will be assisted by Mr. James Ormond and the leading local talent. All lovers of music should not fail to be present, particularly as the price of admission has been fixed at such a low figure.

Friday's Meeting.

The Conservative Committees meeting on Friday night was a large one and the reports from the various polling sub-division were of the most encouraging character. Very little remains to be done, they have the whole canvas of the town completed and before the next meeting we hope to see the work fully accomplished. The Grits are working like beavers, are leaving no stone unturned and are using all kinds of schemes and misstatements to catch votes. Electors should be on the lookout and not be caught by any of the many devices used to entrap them The old music Hall is open every evening and affords an excellent place for the committees to meet and confer with each other.

Vote for HILLIARD and BURNHAM, for Canadian, not Yankee industries.

THREE requisites—pens, pins and needles. The latter you can get of any makes, but when you want a good pen get one of Esterbrook's.

A GENTLEMAN AGED 65, writes: "I heartly thank you for the great boon I have obtained through the use of your wonderful rejuvenator, known as Mack's Magnetic Medicine. I am fully restored—feel like a young colt" Read advertisement in another column.

OUR GRANDMOTHERS taught their daughters that "a stitch in time saves nine." A pill in time saves not only nine, but oftimes an incalculable amount of suffering as well. An occasional dose of of Dr. Pierce's Pellets, (Little Sugar-coated Pills), to cleanse the stomach and bowels, not only prevents diseases but often breaks up sudden attacks, when taken in time. By druggists.

IN THE SPRING of the year almost every one requires a good Blood Purifier, more especially in the month of May. We would earnestly advise our readers to try Dr. Careon's Stomach and Constipation Bitters. A few doses will soon convince you that it is the best remedy known for affections of the stomach, Bowels, Liver and Kidneys. In large bottles at 50 cents. J. D. Tully, Agent.

THE CAMPAIGN!

GENTLEMEN,—

The political issues of the campaign are with us Let us cherish them—they are about the best we are likely to see for some time.

It is reasonable to expect that for the next three weeks votes will be an articie of commercial value—that is we so anticipate.

A voter in a new suit of clothes is a more estimable constituent than a voter in an old suit, though, of course a voter in an old suit is preferable to no voter at all—at least so we are told.

It will be an additionally gratifying circumstance to find that the successful man has been elected by voters wearing Dolan's Stylish Suits.

Hence it is the duty of all, without regard to previous condition of political servitude, to repair to T. DOLAN & CO'S, and clothe themselves as befits the "Free and Independent."

GENTLEMEN,—This opportunity may not occur again for the next five years. THEN DELAY NOT.

Vegetable Balsamic

ELIXIR!

This valuable medicine is purely vegetable, the discovery of which was the result of many years' close study, in order to discover the cause, the symptoms and the cure—viz.:

Consumption, Coughs, Colds, Catarrh, Croup, Asthma, Influenza, Pleurisy, Hoarseness, Spitting Blood, Bronchitis,

and every species of oppression of the Chest and Lungs. In all cases where this Elixir has been duly administered its efficacy has been invariably manifested, convincing the most incredulous that is not incurable, if properly attended to.—Consumption, at its commencement, is but a slight irritation of the membrane which covers the lungs; then an inflammation, when the cough is more observable, but rather dry; then becomes a coal fever and the pulse more frequent, the cheeks flushed and chills more common. This Elixir in curing the above complaints, operates so as to remove all morbid irritations and inflammation from the lungs to the surface, and finally expel them from the system. It facilitates expectoration,

CONSUMPTION

IT HEALS THE ULCERATED SURFACES

and relieves the cough and makes the breathing easy. It supports the strength and at the same time reduces the fever. It is free from strong opiate and astringent articles, which are so far drying a nature as to be in great danger of destroying the patient; whereas this medicine never dries or stops the cough, but, by removing the CAUSE, generally destroys the hectic before the cough is entirely gone. Consequently, when the cough is cured the patient is well. Send address for pamphlet giving full directions for cure of pulmonary diseases. Price 25cts. and $1 per bottle. Sold everywhere.

THE CONTENTED MAN,
Who is He?

The discussion of this question by an able lecturer was listened to a few evenings ago with interest by large audience.

We venture to think that one of this class may be represented by the head of a family, who has been instructed to purchase a supply of that essential commodity for the table—TEA.

He has an indefinite idea that the article ought to be cheaper on account of the removal of the duty, but when he finds that he can save 10 cents per lb., instead of 5 he is jubilant.

THE CONTENTED MAN is he who gets the full benefit of the reduction of the duty on his tea for this year by making a saving of, say $3.00 on a purchase of 30 lbs.

Prove it by inspecting my stock of JAPANS AND YOUNG HYSONS.

A leading line of sweet and good drawing JAPAN offering at 35 cents, formerly sold at 45 cents.

BOBCAYGEON.

FIRE.—The Independent says that again has the village been visited with a disastrous fire. At about a quarter past ten on Tuesday night the dread alarm of fire was raised, and when it was found that the fire had possession of a shed in the rear of Mr. Harlow's saddlery. The shed, which was a very long one, connected the shop with a house at the back of the lot, in which resided Mr. and Mrs. Murray, an aged couple. About opposite the centre of the shed and separated by a few yards was a stable, loft and general outbuildings in the rear of Mr. McConnell's dwelling. The fire originated about the centre of the shed, and in an incredible short space of time, it appeared to be in a moment, the fire spread to the Saddlery, Murray's, the stable, and from that to McConnell's and the whole block was in a blaze at once. One of the first on the gronnd was Miss Orr, who with great presence of mind rushed to Murray's house, burst in the door, and awoke the inmates who were fast asleep, and quite unconscious of any danger. The old gentleman being deaf Mrs. Murray had great difficulty in impressing him with the position of affairs, and so rapid was the progress of the fire that when he was finally awakened he barely escaped from the building. The flames were leaping into the doorway as the old gentleman passed through, and he got severly scorched about the face. No. 3 engine under the captaincy of Mr. Early, was the first to arrive, and was speedily followed by the others. It was at once seen to be useless to attempt to do anything with the fire, and all efforts were directed to protecting the surrounding buildings. The shop and McConnell's were speedily sacked of their contents, and the force of the Fire Brigade was concentrated on Mr. Garden's large building. At the crisis of the fire Mr. Armstrong's shop, and the buildings on that side of the street were only saved by the greatest exertions. The engines worked well, long lines of willing hands passed up water from the neighbouring wells, and the contest for mastery was magnificently fought; that portion of the line which were in front of the fire standing to their posts though they were being scorched with the heat. The greatest praise is due to the large number of the fair sex, who were as brave as they were fair who worked as the dear ones always do, with their whole heart; and were a stricking contrast to many persons in men's clothing who on such an occasion either shirk the work entirely or go through the form of work simply because they can't with decency get out of it. Captain Bottom, the Reeve, as ex-officio Chief of the Brigade, commanded the operations with skill and tact. The saddlery and dwelling were the property of Mr. S. Murry, and were insured for some $300. Mr. Harlow was insured, but the most unfortunate of the sufferers is McConnell, who has no insurance.

WHY suffer from Indigestion and Dyspepsia when Burdock Blood Bitters will positively cure these ailments? A trial bottle only costs 10 cents.

A COMMON, and often fatal, disease is Jaundice. Regulate the action of the Liver, and cleanse the blood with Burdock Blood bitters, and the worst case may be speedily cured.

BECAME INSANE.

CAIRO, June 3.—It is reported that Ali Sadek, Minister of Finance, has become insane owing to fear of violence from his colleagues.

THE INSURRECTION.

CAIRO, June 3.—The disturbing rumours from the Soudan are not confirmed. The reported capture of Khartoum by the insurgents is denied.

THE CONFERENCE.

BERLIN, June 3.—The conference of the powers on the Egyptian question will probably assemble on Tuesday.

SNUBBED BY THE SULTAN.

PARIS, June 3.—The Sultan has informed the French ambassador that the Porte is able to remove the difficulties in Egypt without a conference. The Sultan said he expected his commissioners to be obeyed, and he felt confident of being able to restore Egypt to its normal state.

A SOCIETY SCANDAL.

PARIS, June, 3.—A strange scene occured at the Cirque d'Ete a few nights ago. The Marquis de Boisherbert and his charming wife, from whom he is separated, met there accidentally. The Marquis had her little boy with her, and was sitting quietly in the front seats when her husband came behind her and forcibly carried off the child, not however till his wife had stabbed him in the face with a tiny gilt dagger which she was wearing in her bonnet. M. le Marquis it appears had objected to the child being in the company of a gentleman who had accompanied its mother to the circus. The Marquise was at first distracted, but her anxiewas quickly calmed when on driving home she found the boy sleeping quietly in bed. His father had had time to reflect, and probably to repent of his violence. It is understood that heroine of this affair will soon make her appearance on the operatic stage.

FRANCE'S POLICY.

PARIS, June 3.—In committee of the French Chamber of Deputies, on the credits for Tunis, M. de Freycinet said the policy of the Government was not the annexation of Tunis, but only the establishment of a protectorate, as defined by the Bardo treaty.

GENERAL GARIBALDI.

ROME, June 3.—Several Italian cities claim the possession of Garibaldi's remains, especially Genoa and Palermo, but Signor Filopanti, in the Chamber of Deputies, has proposed their interment in the Pantheon at Rome. General Garibaldi's will indicates a wish that his sepulture should take place at Caprera. The funeral ceremonies at Rome and Caprera will take place on the 11th of June, without ecclesiastical intervention. The Italian Parliament has voted ten thousand francs each annually to the widow and the five children of Garibaldi; the national festival has been postponed to the 18th of June.

AMERICAN.

THE PETROLEUM ACT.

CALCUTTA, June 3,—There is great excitement here regarding the order of the Marquis of Hartington, Secretary of State for India, for immediate repeal of the Petroleum Act of 1881, and the substitution of a new Act allowing the importation of any oil, subject to the orders of the Viceroy. The order is due to the arrival of several cargoes of inferior oil, which have been seized by the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal. The Chamber of Commerce has presented an address to the Government strongly deprecating Lord Hartington's measures. The Indian Government will consider the subject.

CHESS TOURNAMENT.

VIENNA, June 3.—In the Vienna chess tournament the score now stands:—McKenzie 13½, Winawer and Mason 13, Steinitz and English 12½, Blackburne 12, Zeukertort 11½, Hurby 11, and Ware 6½.

THE SPANISH TARIFF.

MADRID, June 3.—The Opposition journals at Madrid attach great importance to the speech in the Chamber of Deputies on Saturday by Senor Moret on the tariff question, indicating a tendancy on the part of the Monarchical Democrats to seperate from the Government, whose policy they have hitherto supported.

A SENSATION.

LONDON, June 3.—The latest Fenian scare is a threat to blow up the Purfleet magazine. A man within the walls was challenged by a sentry, and answered, "All right, chummy," and disappeared over the wall. The alarm bell was rung, the guard turned out, the police quickly joined in the pursuit, but there was no trace of the mysterious being. The affair has created a great sensation in the locality, the inhabitants being afraid of the propinquity of gunpowder sufficient, as they think, to lay half of London in ruins.

GUITEAU'S CASE.

WASHINGTON, June 4.—The district gaol was visited by large crowds to-day, Brockway, the Forger, being added to the list of attractions. Under the rules Guiteau is prevented from seeing the public, though a few persons have talked with him in the presence of the Warden. The stories that the prisoner is losing nerve are unfounded. The gaol officials say he talks less, but is never despondent. In reference to the published report that the court en banc had refused a rehearing in his case he said to-day he had expected nothing else, that he did not know what else Mr. Reed would try to do, and he did not care; God was with him still, and if He wanted him to hang he would not flinch; he would just as leave hang as die. A decision will be promulgated by the court to-morrow. Mr. Reed does not deny that no further effort will be made to save Guiteau. Mr. Reed is indignant that the court en banc should talk of their decision before it was rendered. He says that Judge Carter told him on Saturday that he had no help now but from the White house. He says, however, that after the motion for a rehearing is overruled he shall prepare for another move before the court on Tuesday. The nature of the move is not disclosed.

It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately—depend upon it; there is no mistake about it. There is not a mother on earth who has ever used it, who will not tell you at once that it will regulate the bowels, and gives rest to the mother, and relief and health to the child, operating like magic. It is perfectly safe to use in all cases and pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians, and nurses in the United States. FOR EGYPT.

LONDON, June 5.—The Port has informed the powers that Dervisch Pasha and Lehib Bey would start for Egypt to-day with full powers. The Sultan said even should the commissioners encounter obstacles he felt confident of being able to surmount any difficulty, therefore he cannot share in the views of the powers as to the necessity of a conference.

BRITISH INFLUENCE.

CAIRO, June 5.—In consequence of the protest of the British Government against the military preparations in Egypt the sultan has telegraphed to the Kehdive to arrest Arabi Pacha and discontinue and order the cessation of work on the fortifications at Alexandria.

DAVITT'S DENIAL.

LONDON, June 5.—Michael Davitt, has published a reply to the pamphlet of Arnold Foster, attacking the Land League, in which he denies emphatically that the League had any hand in the Clerkenwell explosion, or that the Fenians as a body knew anything of or planned the outrage.

A HEAVY FINE.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 5.—The British steamer Straitherly brought 326 more passengers than she is entitled to carry. This subjects the captain to a fine of $17,000.

JESSE'S BROTHER.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., June 5.—Frank James, his mother, his wife, Police Commissioner Craig and Marshall Murphy of Kansas City, on Saturday had an interview with the Governor, and made propositions in the bandit's behalf. The governor refused to act until the case came before him through the proper legal channel.

THE STOLEN PLATES.

CHICAGO, June 5.—It is stated that after his conviction Doyle urged Brockway to tell Folger all about his embezzlement of plates from the treasury, and printing spurious bonds. Brockway did so. It is said that in investigating the case Folger ignored the secret service operatives and employed special treasury agents. It is said that the authorities at Washington are considerably worried by the information produced by Brockway and Folger.

THE LEAGUERS.

PITTSBURG, Pa., June 5.—It is probable that several hundred Land Leaguers will participate in the proposed demonstration here which may be turned into a grand union confederation of the trades of the country.

A BURNED VILLAGE.

EPES, Ala., June 5.—This town was almost totally burned on Saturday night. Seven stores were destroyed, the loss is unknown. It is said that riotous negroes driven out of town by the citizens, returned and fired it. Four of the negroes were arrested.

GAINING STRENGTH.

NEW YORK, June 5.—The Herald's Washington special says, that the independent movemen in the Southern States, from all accounts gains strength constantly.

COUNTERFEIT BONDS.

NEW YORK, June 5.—The World's Washington special says, it is rumored that the plate upon which the extended six per cent bonds were printed, has been stolen from the Bureau of engraving, and printing twenty-two million dollars of spurious bonds, were been issued therefrom. The regular bonds are all registered, so the theft could be of little consequence except perhaps to innocent purchasers of the fraudulent issue. The rumor gets little credence in view of the certificate, signed by five officers of the treasury, declaring that the plate was destroyed in their presence.

A FOOL'S LEAP.

NEW YORK, Sune 5.—John Brumley while intoxicated yesterday jumped from the middle arch of High bridge to Harlem river, 140 feet, to win a bet for the drinks, he turned two complete somersalts but struck the water feet first. He was picked up unconscious but uninjured. Brumley is a sailor and has been in the habit of leaping from mast heads to the water. He claims to have jumped from one mast 160 feet high.

BOUND TO SWING.

WASHINGTON, June 5.—The Court en banc today rendered the following decision in the case of Guiteau. The judges who listened to the argument in that case have come to the conclusion that they have exhausted their powers upon it. They have heard it patiently, fully and fairly, and re-argument would bring them to no other conclusion than that which they have already arrived at, and they decline to re-open the case for argument. Reed received a letter from Mrs. Dumore, formerly the wife of Guiteau, saying "I shall esteem it a personal favour if you will inform me at once if any effort will be made with the President for the commutation of the sentance of Charles, if I can do anything to assist to successfully accomplish it, I am ready to do so as we are not in favour of having him hanged."

GUITEAUISTIC.

WASHINGTON, June 5.—It is stated that Guiteau no longer indulges in reading or writing. He broods much and sometimes paces the floor of his cell, wringing his hands and talking incoherently. It is reported that he awoke the other night trembling and exclaimed, "Oh why did I assassinate him." When quieted, he said that he had been dreaming. He was not afraid to die, but did not think it was possible that the President would allow him to be hanged.

THE FARMERS BENEFITTED.

As it is disputed that farmers have been benefitted by a protective tariff, and as attempts have been made to manipulate price lists and market records in such a manner as to mislead them into the belief that they have been injured, we beg to call attention to the following interesting table compiled by the Chicago Inter-Ocean, which shows the quantities of the various goods that agricultural produce would purchase under free trade and protection respectively :—

	Salt, Stock.	Coal, Ton.	Blanket, Sheet'g, yds.	Prints, yds.	Pig iron, Ton.	Bar iron, Ton.	R.R. iron, Ton.
1 bu. wheat would buy—
Under free trade.....	.91	482	8.54	12.21	107.3	35.8	47.82
Under protection.....	1.90	719	11.01	16.27	134.00	57.35	72.6
1 bu. corn would buy—
Under free trade.....	.47	295.65	4.46	6.4	56.34	18.78	24.76
Under protection.....	.78	332.85	4.40	6.66	54.40	28.32	39.36
1 bu. oats would buy—
Under free trade.....	.31	16.85	2.08	4.20	86.04	13.33	16.26
Under protection.....	.536	24.01	3.27	4.39	39.57	17.07	21.63
10 lbs butter would buy—
Under free trade.....	1.112	60.75	10.39	14.92	131	43.74	57.09
Under protection.....	3.417	130.2	20.95	31.04	254	102.80	137.87
10 lbs. cheese would buy—
Under free trade.....	.474	25.09	4.26	6.98	55.02	18.37	24.23
Under protection.....	1.376	61.03	8.43	12.12	102.36	43.82	60.53
1 lb. wool would buy—
Under free trade.....	.264	14.17	2.46	3.54	31.06	10.37	13.66
Under protection.....	.661	29.65	4.05	6.00	49.16	21.64	21.08
10 lbs Kentucky tobacco would buy—
Under free trade.....	.431	23.13	4.03	5.79	50.82	16.97	22.94
Under protection.....	1.117	52.09	6.19	10.66	87.38	37.33	47.37

These tables were calculated for the United States, but the question there was the same as in Canada, and similar tables would show a similar result for the Dominion. Under a protection tariff our farmers can obtain more goods for the same amount of produce than under free trade, to which they have no desire to return, as they will show by their votes.

FALSE PRETENCES.

It seems that the Reformers are determined to carry on the present campaign by falsehood, and trickery. Following the slanderous circular that has been distributed by Mr. Lundy's friends in this Riding, there comes a similar low piece of trickery in the East, where the following card has been sent to the electors :—Your vote and influence is respectfully solicited for Mr. W. E. Roxborgh, in support of the Hon. E. Blake and, The Trent Valley Canal.

We would be loath to attribute this dishonest act to Mr. Roxburgh, and indeed there is some internal evidence to make one doubt that it is his, for we believe that Mr. Roxburgh has sufficient education to write decent English, while the unscrupulous and dishonest author of this card cannot pen the two dozen words without a mistake in his grammar, showing that his grammatical, as well as his moral education, has been sadly neglected.

The insinuation that Mr. Blake and his allies are favourable to the Trent Valley Canal, is a flagrant attempt to deceive the electorate. We know that when they were in power, far from doing anything towards its construction, they handed over the works to Mr. Mowat that he might carry out his project of destroying them. We know that those leaders of the Reform party who have not treated the project with contemptuous neglect, have spoken against it, and that their Minister of the department has condemned it in Parliament, as a wild scheme, utterly absurd and impracticable, and has urged the desirability of giving up the work altogether. We know too that Mr. Blake and his friends are condemning the surplus without which such works to develope the country could not be undertaken. Indeed they would be impossible with a return of the "Reform" era of deficits.

Mr. Roxburgh may be personally in favour of the Trent Valley Canal, but he must have a vast amount of self conceit, if he thinks he can influence his party to reverse their policy in this respect, while Messrs. Hilliard and Burnham, have already, in conjunction with other members from this district, obtained so large a grant for the works from a friendly Government, and may be relied upon to secure the completion of this navigation.

These attempts to delude the electorate as to who are really the friends of the Trent Valley Canal, only serve to prove its great popularity, and to show what a debt of gratitude the country, and in particular this county, owe to Sir John Macdonald, Sir Charles Tupper, and their colleagues, for undertaking this important work for the development of your resources.

Vote for BURNHAM and HILLIARD, whose motto is "Canada for the Canadians."

CAMPAIGN NOTES.

THE Montreal Star, an independent journal, says :—

"Mr. Mackenzie has declared that he will admit no "half measure" in regard to the tariff, and he has come out squarely against the National Policy. There thus become two wings to the Opposition party, the one led by Mr. Blake and the other by Mr. Mackenzie."

The truth is that the Reform party at present is a regular lusus naturæ, having any number of wings and no body to speak of. And it is this disorganized rabble that the electors are asked to restore to power, in place of leaders and a party with a consistent policy, under which the country is flourishing.

MR. ROXBURGH says that Sir John Macdonald has been urged by the Bleus of Quebec to deprive Ontario of territory by ignoring the Boundary Award, and Mr. Lundy characterizes it as an "attempt to rob." The contrary is just the truth. Mr. Laurier, the leader of the Quebec Reformers, and a colleague of Mr. Blake in the late Cabinet, supported the award because it does an injustice to Ontario, which he fears may be rectified by a competent tribunal. According to Hansard Mr. Laurier said in the House of Commons on the 4th of April of this year :—

"Now, let us suppose that the question is opened anew. The award may be set aside, and it may be that Ontario will be increased to the extent claimed as her right by the Dominion Government, or it may be that the territory of Ontario will be increased to the extent claimed by Ontario, and granted by Sir George Cartier, namely, to Red River—what then? You will have the Province of Ontario made greater than it is by the award."

"Of course no one can tell how the elections are going. But the opinion seems to be prevalent among those who are not particularly interested in the success of either side, that the Government will be sustained, but that the majority, instead of being about ninety, will not be more than thirty-five or forty. This is majority enough for any Government, no matter what its political complexion may."

We believe that our contemporary is correct as to its facts, but we feel doubtful as to the accuracy of its figures. It is certain that the Government will be sustained, and the amount of the majority is alone in question.

WE recently referred to the statement that had been made that Mr. Wilkinson, Inspector of Weights and Measures, was taking an active part in the present campaign, and expressed our opinion that, if it were true, such conduct was to be condemned. We are glad to learn on good authority that Mr. Wilkinson tendered his resignation more than three weeks ago, and that it has been accepted.

THE Montreal Herald, a Reform journal, says :—

"There is a report in political circles that as soon as Lieutenant-Governor Robitaille's term of office has expired, he will not be reappointed to a second term, but will be made a Senator and be succeeded as Lieutenant-Governor by Sir Hector Langevin, whose position at Ottawa will be taken by Mr. Chapleau, Mr. Loranger becoming Premier of Quebec."

We are glad to learn that the Herald is convinced that Sir John Macdonald will be in power after the election to make such arrangements, and that Mr. Blake will not have an opportunity to make appointments.

AN EXHIBITION OF WEAKNESS.

The Toronto World, an independent journal with Reform leanings, contains the following paragraph :—

On the whole Mr. Blake has given about a round dozen of reasons why he should be returned to parliament at the head of a minority. The address is an elaborate exhibition of weakness, useful only as furnishing notes for his friends when making stump speeches to their constituents, but beyond that it can serve no purpose of any kind. Unless Mr. Mackenzie can do something, or produce something, to redeem the party from dulness, the contest on the twentieth of June will be an uninteresting, one-sided affair.

Money Lenders at a Discount.

The Brantford Courier has the following :—

"A few days ago a gentleman of our city was asked by one of our money lenders how he was going to vote, he replied by saying that he would vote for the National Policy candidate, Mr. Watts. The money lender said he would not. He was asked why? He said that four years ago he could lend his money at fifteen and twenty per cent., but now he could not get a cent for it, that it was lying in the bank bringing only a small per centage and that he would have to go into business if this Government was continued in power, for this reason he would vote for Wm. Paterson, as he was against the National Policy and in favour of the money lenders.

The money lenders, occupation is gone since the accession to power of John A. Macdonald's Government and the National Policy. The working men and all others are now making good wages and there is no need to have recourse to such men for assistance—this fact is patent to all. The working men and all others should then vote for the National Policy candidate.

Vote for the National Policy and good times, not for "Flies on the Wheel" and hard times.

A WORD OF CAUTION.—As is usually the case where an article of true merit has attained a world-wide reputation by its wonderful results, as the celebrated Electric Bitters have done, certain unprincipled parties have endeavored to imitate them, and expect to induce an unsuspecting public to purchase their fraudulent wares. Ask your druggist for the genuine Electric Bitters, that are guaranteed to cure, and take no others. Sold by Taylor & McDonold at 50c.

SIR JOHN A. MACDONALD

OUR VETERAN STATESMAN DISCOURSES ON THE QUESTIONS OF THE DAY.

A Telling Speech to a Large and Enthusiastic Audience—Mr. Blake's Sophistries Exposed—Canadian vs. Foreign Industries—The Boundary and Veto Questions.

The following is the conclusion of Sir John A. Macdonald's speech, delivered at Toronto :—

Another cry raised was that we are destroying provincial rights because we

DISALLOWED THE STREAMS BILL.

You are well aware, gentlemen, that a Government cannot exist unless it is supported by a majority of Parliament, and that Parliament is composed of members from the different provinces of the Dominion. Do you think the Government, if it trampled on the rights of the provinces, would be supported by members from those provinces? Mr. Mowat has eighty-eight members representing Ontario in the Local House, but the people of this province have also eight-eight representatives in the Dominion Parliament, elected by the same people, under the same franchise. Quebec is more jealous respecting her rights than any other province. Why? Because it has different language, laws, religion, and institutions, which the people brought with them from Old France. They are, as I have said, exceedingly anxious to preserve their provincial rights against Dominion authority, and yet Parliament, by an enormous majority, composed of members of every province, voted that the Government were right in disallowing the Streams bill. (Cheers.) Shall I tell you the story of the Streams bill? (Cries of "Yes.") The two parties are McLaren and Caldwell. You have read at school the fable as to whether the ox gored the bull or the bull gored the ox. Mr. McLaren was like most of you, if not all, a workingman. He came to this country with his axe in his hand, and he worked his way up from being a labourer in a shanty to becoming a lumber merchant with large interests in the lumber trade. He had made large sums of money by hard-handed and honest industry. He obtained from the Mowat Government large timber limits on the Upper Ottawa. The timber is now being cut away in the vicinity of the Ottawa river, and as the supply recedes the lumberers have to bring it down small streams and creeks flowing into the Ottawa. Mr. McLaren had running through his limits, which he had acquired from the Ontario Government, and for which he was still paying a yearly rent, a small brook or stream. It was not a navigable river—a boat could not float on it. It is not what is called a floatable river, as saw logs could not come down it. Scarcely more than a chip could come down in summer. Mr. McLaren, an enterprising man, wished to get out his timber, and what did he do? He bought land on both sides of this stream, built at great expense a dam, made an artificial lake to store up the water behind this dam, in order to float his logs. (A Voice—"You are speaking against the law.") I heard a man say I am speaking against the law. I do not think that he knows much about the law, and he must know little about justice, or he would not interrupt me in the middle of an explanation. (Cheers.) Well, Mr. McLaren, by means of these improvements, was able to get his logs down the stream, and could send them to Ottawa to find a market. Mr. Caldwell, who also had limits, had not sufficient enterprise to build a dam for himself. Perhaps he has no stream to do it in. The moment he found Mr. McLaren building this dam, he said he would use it, and wanted to force his logs over it, which would have prevented Mr. McLaren using his own property, and on which he had spent over $100,000. (A voice, $200,000.) Well, at any rate, I have not exaggerated. He was resolved to force his way, Mr. McLaren resisted, and there was a suit in law at the courts as to whether Mr. Caldwell had the right or not. When before the court, one judge decided in his favour, and another against him, and the matter was standing in the Court of Appeal, and is still standing before the Supreme Court as to which was right or wrong. It was improper, unneighbourly, and unchristian for Mr. Caldwell to try to take advantage of another man's money and improvements in this way. He would not wait for the decision of the Supreme Court. You know why. Mr. Mowat was in power here. Mr. Mowat is a Grit; Mr. Caldwell is a Grit. (Laughter.) Mr. McLaren is a Conservative. But more than that, Mr. Caldwell, a very respectable man in his way for a Grit—(laughter)—had a nephew whom he had elected to the Legislature, and who was one of Mr. Mowat's supporters, and as I heard a gentleman say, a rather uncertain supporter. He had fits of independence. It was necessary to keep Mr. Caldwell right, and so Mr. Caldwell, the younger, in order to help his uncle, got a bill passed declaring that everybody had a right to use the dam and send logs over it, although they had not contributed a farthing towards its construction, and although, on account of the shortness of the season, Mr. McLaren would be prevented from using his own property. A clause was inserted in the bill stating that Mr. McLaren might get compensation by charging tolls. In the first place he would lose the interest on his money, and in the second, the opportunity of doing his summer's work. The amount of toll he would have got from the logs of Mr. Caldwell would take to the day of judgment to pay for the expenditure of Mr. McLaren. (Laughter.) As I pointed out when speaking on this subject in Parliament, this illusory compensation was adding insult to injury. It would be better to give everybody the right of using the improvements for nothing than to make this pretence at compensation. It reminds me of the story of the old lady whose hen was stolen by a neighbour. The latter promised to pay her for the value of the hen out of the eggs the hen laid. (Laughter.) This question then is the other herring drawn across the nose of the staunch old hound, the N. P. What else can I say? We disallowed the bill, and there was a great cry about provincial rights. Well, the fact is there were more bills disallowed during the time Messrs. Mackenzie and Blake were in power, from 1874, than there were by the Conservative Government from 1867 till now. The reasons why we disallowed this measure were three. In the first place it interefered with the rights of property; in the second place it was retroactive in its effect; and in the third place it was interfering with a case before the courts, and no act should be passed till the courts decide the question. What do you think we did? In the order-in-Council disallowing the bill we copied word for word the order-in-Council passed by Mr. Mackenzies's Government in disallowing a bill passed by the Legislature of Prince Edward Island exactly to the same affect. (Cheers.) The Government in disallowing a provincial bill have to consider well whether they are interfering with provincial rights. But there are some great primary principles which lie at the basis of all constitutional government, and one was the preservation of

THE RIGHTS OF PROPERTY.

It was the boast of civilization that the rights property are maintained. There was an attack —a causeless, senseless attack upon the rights of the property of a single, humble individual, ruining him and his property—an attack upon the legal tribunals of the country, introducing an element of uncertainty which would prevent people from Germany and England coming here, because it would prove to them that no man's rights in property were safe, and that the legislature could sweep them away at any moment. The bill struck at the very root of the prosperity and reputation of the Dominion. And I, sir, as Prime Minister, as chiefly responsible for the good government of this country, under the representative of our Sovereign, would be justly chargeable with a failure to perform my duty if I did not respect the rights of property. (Hear, hear.) What did I care if my action was followed with a storm of obloquy and unpopularity? It is my duty in my position to disregard fears of unpopularity, to do that which, though it may prejudice me in the eyes of some, I believe in my conscience to be for the good of the country, and to protect the rights of property in the community, even at the risk of losing the position I hold. (Cheers.) So I take the whole responsibility of that act, and I say I will do it again. (Loud applause.) I say that no matter how humble and helpless a man may be, if he has rights, and if any Government or any Legislature in the wantonness of power, or for a political or other purpose, destroy those rights, I will come forward, and no matter what the consequence may be, no matter if I am expelled the next day from office, I will stand by those rights—(cheers)—and I will have at all events the consolation of knowing that the sober second thought of the country will say I was a good and faithful servant to do so—(renewed applause)—even though by doing so I had brought down upon myself the condemnation of Oliver Mowat, Esquire. (Loud laughter.)

PATRIOTIC MEN MUST WORK NOW.

Gentleman, I have to ask you to move your boots pretty lively between now and the 20th of June. (Laughter and applause.) I have no fear of the result if you will work. Do not sleep; do not be too confident. I have said again and again that the two most uncertain things in the world are an election and a horse-race. (Laughter.) Don't let the Opposition horse beat the good old N. P. nag by a nose. (Applause.) You must show your tail to the hindermost horse. (Hear, hear.) Indeed you must win the race. (Continued cheering.) You must remember though that you are fighting with purists, and with them there is such a thing as money being used. (Hear, hear.) "Oh purists never use money!" you say; but you surely cannot forget that H. H. Cook—a very good fellow—confessed to having spent in his own election as much as $28,000

A VOICE—I bet you.

ANOTHER VOICE—And there was Walker.

SIR JOHN MADDONALD—Yes; the gentleman who wrote "Come along, John; let's put down bribery and corruption; I've lots of money,"

ANOTHER VOICE—And Paddy Hughes!

SIR JOHN MACDONALD—Paddy Hughes is a countryman av moine—(laughter)—so we'll say nothing about him. He's a pretty good fellow, to be sure; but he tried to get a plumb, and the plumb had a stone in it, and he was sorry for it. (Loud laughter.) But, gentlemen let me in all seriousness warn my friends not to rest on their oars, or to fancy that the goodness of their cause, or the fact that the majority of the people are in favour of the National Policy, will prevent the occurrence of a mistake. Why, a factious minority will beat the largest majority in the world if the majority is inactive. (Hear, hear.) I tell you this, that the hesitation I have in my mind about telling you I am sure we will have an overwhelming majority is caused by the fear my friends, knowing that, will rest on their oars and stay at home. Gentleman, those who do that take upon themselves an awful responsibilty, and they will, should we lose, carry to their dying day the reproach in their consciences that they, by their neglect, have been instrumental in bringing about the ruin of their country. (Hear, hear.)

A VOICE—What about the Redistribution bill?

SIR JOHN MACDONALD—I am asked what about the Redistribution bill.

MR. PLUMB—I think I was redistributed as badly as anybody. (Hear, hear.)

Sir JOHN MACDONALD—Well, the Grits complain that they are hived altogether. It seems they do not like the association. (Laughter.) I told my constituents the other day—well, I hope, indeed, I know, they will be my constituents—(cheers)—a story. When the Reform Club was build in London it was the finest club-house there, and the club-room was really a magnificent chamber, Theodore Hook, who was a great wit, and the editor of a Tory paper, was taken into the Reform Club by a friend who desired to show him the place. When he was in the club-room, the friend said, "Well, how do you like our room?" Said Hook: "I would rather have your room than your company." (Loud laughter.) So it is with the Grits. They do not like each other's company. (Renewed laughter.) They like to associate with Conservative gentlemen such as you. Your being with them rather gives tone to their society. Gentlemen, I will tell you what we did. In the first place, to show you that we were impartial, I may say that Niagara and Cornwell being under the average population we wiped them out, notwitnstanding that Niagara, represented so ably by Mr. Plumb, would return a Conservative again, and Cornwall was sure to elect a Conservative again. These boroughs were sure to return Conservatives, but in order to equalize the population we wiped them out, and deprived our party of two certain votes.

A VOICE—You gerrymandered yourself.

Sir JOHN MACDONALD—But, say the Opposition, you have not equalized the population all round. Some constituencies still have small populations and some large. But, gentlemen, we had only four members to give—six altogether, with Cornwall and Niagara—and we could not divide up every county out of the 92 in Ontario according to population; but whatever we did, we did in that direction. We have only six constituencies to add, and we so arranged the matter that if you look at the population, you will find that whatever change was made it was in the direction of representation by population. That is the only true principle. A Government is not bound to see that certain counties are Grit and others Conservative, and arrange them according to their supposed political proclivities. In 1874, when there was a sweep made of the Conservative party in consequence of the Pacific slander, when we had not a corporal's guard, the majority of the constituencies in Ontario were Grit. In 1878, when the people had come to their senses and restored us to power, the majority was Conservative. Who, then, is to decide as to the political proclivities of any constituency? The only principle is representation by population, and that we carried out. To give a striking illustration of the absurdity of trying to lay out constituencies with regard to supposed political learning, look at the North-West. Twenty, twenty-five, or even fifty-thousand Ontario people may go there this summer. When settled we have to divide the territory up into townships and counties. Have they to be laid out according to the political views of the population? If there happens to be a lot of Grits in one corner, must we consider that; and so with Conservatives? The only true principal, I repeat, is representation by population, and that we have carried out. You know I am what they call a perennial flower; I am always in the Government, or nearly always—(laughter)—and I happened to be in the Government in 1872 when, according to our constitution, we had to readjust the representation. The census takes place every ten years, 1871, 1881, and 1891, and so on, and by our constitution we are obliged to re-adjust the parliamentary representation after the census has been taken. In 1872 I was Prime Minister, as I am now, and the duty was thrown on me, not to give four new constituencies to Ontario but to give eight new constituencies. I came down with my plan, as I did last session, and I was abused as a gerrymanderer, as one who was "hiving" the Grits, as a corruptionist, and indeed just as I was last session. When I brought down my scheme last session, Mr. Blake, Mr. Mills, Mr. Mackenzie, and others rose in the House and stated that the plan in 1872 was an honest and good one, and they wished me to stick to it. I said that if they would look back at their speeches they would find, if such were the case with respect to the scheme, that their comments were neither just nor honest; that their attacks in 1882 were just as dishonest; and I said I would be in the Government of 1892, and in that year you will do exactly as you have done now, you will blame me for not adhering to the settlement of 1882. (Laughter and cheers, and a voice, "What about Mr. Mowat's gerrymandering?") I cannot say anything about Mr. Mowat's gerrymandering; he is too small potatoes for me. (Laughter.) He did his little best. (Laughter and cheers.) Gentlemen, I feel great pride in occupying the position that has been awarded me by the people of this this country. I can, at my age, have no other wish than to live well in the midst of my fellow-country men, and when I die to live well in their recollection. (Cheers.) I have had a long life of politics, a long life of official duties. I have committed many mistakes. Looking back with the light of experience, there are many things I have done wrongly, and many things I have neglected that I should have done. These rise to me; I know them, I recognize them; but I would be more than human if I had not committed errors; I say this to you, and I believe the majority of the country will believe me when I state that whatever I have done, in every act of legislation and administration, I I have tried, according to the best of my judgment, to do what I could for the well-being of good government and the future prosperity of this, my beloved country.

The right hon. gentleman resumed his seat amid loud and long-continued cheering.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—An EXTERNAL MEANS of CURING SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic; whilst old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalcule which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produce a clear, healthy natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION, a FLUID peculiar in itself, is the most potent enemy to all Skin Disorders. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the least degree comparable for its Healthy Action on the Human Skin.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. Startin, and every year it is used adds more and more favourably to its wildly increasing reputation. Anyone, however deeply and hopelessly afflicted with Skin Disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent in a diminished appearance of the malady, a growing tendency to fade away, and complete obliteration of the eruption.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—BOTTLES CONTAINING NEARLY HALF A PINT.—SOLD BY CHEMISTS EVERYWHERE. Made in London, Eng.

Daily Evening Review

MONDAY, JUNE 5, 1882.

N. Y. Church Choir Co.

This celebrated company have arrived and will appear in Bradburn's Opera House to-night.

Board of Education.

The regular monthly meeting of the Board of Education will be held on Tuesday evening at the Collegeate Institute at 7.45 o'clock.

Moses Oates Predicts.

Moses Oates predicts much heat in June —weather wise and otherwise,—but cold chills will prevail generally about the 21st.

P. B. C.

The regular monthly meeting of the Boating Club will be held to-morrow, (Tuesday) evening at 7 o'clock, instead of this evening. Members will recollect that to-morrow will be the canoeing evening.

Dominion Day.

We have received from the Guide office, Port Hope, a poster stating that there is to be a grand celebration in that town on Dominion Day and that $1200 will be given away in prizes. How about our celebration.

The Waterworks.

The work of digging the trenches commenced this morning at the northern end of the town, all the available men in town, being placed at work by Mr. Kensella, the contractor. Some of the pipes are now laid on George Street from Hunter to Murray and before many days it is expected that all the necessary pipes will be here.

The Immigrants.

The newly arrived immigrants have been removed from the Rink to a vacant house at the south end of George street, Mr. Kensella having made arrangements to rent the premises from Mr. Lundy for $12 a month. We are glad to find that they are hopeful and satisfied and that they express their gratitude for the great kindness they have received from the people here. Nearly all the men have now gone to work, having secured employment. Some of the women have also been engaged, but there are some who have not yet secured situations. Some of the ladies of Peterborough have visited them to look after their comfort. We find that objections have been taken to some remarks made by our reporter on Saturday in regard to the immigrants. We need hardly say that there was no intention to say anything derogatory to them, or to make light of their misfortunes. Our idea was to point out the well known fact that their position would be greatly improved by coming to Canada, at which we heartily rejoice. Here they will be equal in the race with other people.

The Circus.

The Toronto World says that the big tents of the United States circus were pitched on the old cricket ground bright and early on Friday morning. The place was the centre of attraction for old and young during the day. In the forenoon a procession was made through the streets, being witnessed by thousands of people. The first performance took place in the afternoon at 2 o'clock. The tents were found to be very large and the accommodation equal to anything seen under canvas. The rain doubtless kept hundreds away, but the seating accommodation was all occupied, but there was no crowding. The menagerie contains some fine specimens of foreign and rare animals, and a lioness with several cubs was an object of much interest. The hippotamus, iyz, camels, elephants lions, monkeys, etc., etc., all come in for a share of attention. If the names of the beasts were placarded on their cages, visitors would be saved the trouble of asking many questions of the keepers. A hint to the enterprising management on this point ought to be sufficient. The performance in the ring was of a very satisfactory nature and evoked much applause. All the acts are good some of them especially so. The aerial feats, the barrel act, the trick dogs, the bareback riding of Melville, and the leaping are worthy of special mention. The only thing that marred the afternoon was the rain and mud which must have bee equally disagreeable to performers ts it was to the audience. The attendance at night was much larger than it was in the evening, the tents being crowded. The same performance was presented, to the pleasure and satisfaction of all. Everybody should see the show. Take the children ; it will delight them.

THE CANADIAN PREMIER

THE RIGHT HON. SIR JOHN A. MACDONALD AND J. B. PLUMB.

Will Speak To-night in the Drill Shed—Everything Prepared for a Grand Reception—Accommodations for all—Seats Reserved for Ladies.

As nearly all our readers are aware by this time, the Right Hon. Sir John A. Macdonald, will address the electors of West Peterborough at the drill shed this evening at 7.30 o'clock. Preparations are being made to accommodate an enormous crowd and we have no doubt that the capacious building will be filled. There will be seats reserved for ladies. The Premier will be accompanied by Mr. J. B. Plumb and others and the party will arrive here on a special Midland train, in the official car at an early hour in the evening.

The Fire Brigade.

By order of the Chief, the Firemen will assemble to-night at the Simcoe Street Hall, for the purpose of escorting Sir John to the Midland Station by a torchlight procession.

Personal.

Mr. C. W. Sawers returned home on Saturday night from the State of Michigan.

Mr. Geo. A. Cox leaves for Europe on Thursday. He will be accompanied by Mr. R. Jaffray of Toronto.

The Paste Brigade.

The U. S. circus paste brigade are here in full force and soon the bill boards will be decorated with highly illuminated posters. As is customary, this concern has a handsome special car, which they use for carrying their paper, etc.

Missing.

And we hear of still another case of a child being missing. A small boy, whose parents reside near the West Ward School, has not been seen since Saturday morning. He was last seen on the bridge near the factory.

The Weather.

The weather probabilities for the following twenty-four hours, as reported from Toronto at 10 a. m. to-day, by the Great Northwestern Telegraph Company, are as follows:—Lakes—Fresh to strong northwest winds and fair weather to-day, moderate to fresh northwest to west wind and fine warm weather to-morrow.

Run In.

A man named Robert Scott, who has been on a rather prolonged spree, was raising a disturbance on George street this morning and was lodged in the cells by P. C. McGhee, after considerable trouble, a conveyance having to be secured, as the prisoner acted in a very obstinate manner and refused to move for the officer. Chief Johnston also ran another vagrant in at an earlier hour.

Runaway and Run in.

On Saturday night a horse driven by a young man shied at something and ran out of the archway at the City Hotel. The driver was thrown on the street and dragged about half way across, when the horse was stopped. The man was not injured any. After being picked up the fellow became abusive and raised such a row that he was placed in the cells, where he soon cooled down. This morning he paid $2 fine and $1.50 costs for his impudence.

Electors of West Peterborough, vote for GEORGE HILLIARD, your tried and approved member, who has his residence and business among you.

Meeting at Lakefield.

Mr. Roxburgh held a meeting at Lakefield on Saturday evening in Leonard's Hall, which was well filled. Mr. Roxburgh spoke for about an hour, denouncing the N. P. the non-ratification of the Boundary award and the disallowance of the River and Streams Bill. Strange to say although he declares the T.V.C. to be a vital question in his address, and has issued a card soliciting support for the "Hon. E. Blake and the Trent Canal" yet he forgot to say anything about it until his attention was called thereto as he was leaving the platform. Of course he informed his hearers that he was in favour of the T.V.C., and said he had confidence that Mr. Blake would build it because he would be guided by whatever a majority of his supporters desired. What moonshine! Does any one suppose that Mr. Roxburgh or Mr. Lundy would vote want of confidence in Mr. Blake if he failed to continue the work? Not a bit of it! And as for getting a majority of his supporters to declare in favour of it, why Messrs. Bertram and Hall when they were in could'nt bring influence enough to bear on Mr. Mackenzie to get even a few snags taken out of the river below the locks. Mr. Roxburgh was followed by Mr. Carnegie for an hour, who was in turn followed by Mr. Bertram. The feeling of the meeting was evidently largely with the N. P. candidate, and we have not the slightest doubt but that Lakefield will give a good account of itself on the 20th inst.

THE CAMPAIGN!

GENTLEMEN,——

The political issues of the campaign are with us Let us cherish them—they are about the best we are likely to see for some time.

It is reasonable to expect that for the next three weeks votes will be an article of commercial value—that is we so anticipate.

A voter in a new suit of clothes is a more estimable constituent than a voter in an old suit, though, of course a voter in an old suit is preferable to no voter at all—at least so we are told.

It will be an additionally gratifying circumstance to find that the successful man has been elected by voters wearing Dolan's Stylish Suits.

Hence it is the duty of all, without regard to previous condition of political servitude, to repair to T. DOLAN & CO'S, and clothe themselves as befits the "Free and Independent."

To the Free and Independent Electors of the

WEST RIDING OF PETERBOROUGH.

GENTLEMEN,—

At the urgent solicitation of my political friends I have consented to be again a candidate for your suffrages at the approaching election.

While I would have preferred not to have been a candidate on the present occasion, yet now that I have placed my services again at your disposal, you may rest assured that no private duty or engagement will be allowed to interfere with the proper discharge of my duties as your representative, should I be honoured with your confidence for the second time.

Although I failed to be present at every division during the recent session, I would venture to challenge my political opponents to specify a single instance in which I have neglected the interests of my constituents or failed to discharge the duties devolving upon me as your representative to the best of my ability and judgment.

During the past four years I have rendered a cheerful support to the government of Sir John A. Macdonald, believing that it has not only redeemed the pledges given previous to the last general election, but that its policy has been and is one eminently calculated to promote the prosperity of the country, and should you again honor me with your confidence I shall continue to give the present government the same cordial support, so long as their policy commends itself to my judgment.

In conjunction with the other representatives from this section of Ontario, I have done all in my power to secure the early construction of the Trent Valley Canal, and the large measure of success which has attended our past efforts should assure the electorate of this district that if their present representatives are re-elected and the present government sustained, this great and long-looked-for work will be brought to an early completion.

As it will be impossible for me to undertake anything like a personal canvas between this and polling day, I trust those favorable to the cause of good government will render me their hearty support without waiting to be asked, and that all the electors will make it a point to attend the meetings which I propose holding in different parts of the constituency for the purpose of public explanation and discussion of the several questions involved in the present campaign.

Again thanking you for the confidence reposed in me in 1878, and soliciting a renewal of the same,

I am, gentlemen,
Your ob't. serv't.,

GEO. HILLIARD.

THE CONTENTED MAN, Who is He?

The discussion of this question by an able lecturer was listened to a few evenings ago with interest by large audience.

We venture to think that one of this class may be represented by the head of a family, who has been instructed to purchase a supply of that essential commodity for the table—TEA.

He has an indefinite idea that the article ought to be cheaper on account of the removal of the duty, but when he finds that he can save 10 cents per lb., instead of 5 he is jubilant.

THE CONTENTED MAN is he who gets the full benefit of the reduction of the duty on his tea for this year by making a saving of, say $3.00 on a purchase of 30 lbs.

Prove it by inspecting my stock of JAPANS AND YOUNG HYSONS.

TUESDAY, JUNE 6, 1882.

TORONTO.

[Special to the Review, June 6.

MALONEY THE DRUNKEN TAYLOR who pulled a revolver on Constable Gregory was this morning committed to the central prison for one year.

THE THREE SNEAK THIEVES Wilson, Webb and Miller were before Judge Mackenzie this morning when an application was made on their behalf for bail which was refused.

A SPECIAL CABLE from London, England, says that it is reported that on the completion to the arrangements for the fusion of the Grand Trunk and the Great Western Railway, the shareholders of the two roads will receive a contingent of deferred shares entitling them to all the surplus earnings of the amalgamated roads over the guaranteed three per cent.

THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS of Toronto have subscribed over $2,000 for the Russell monument.

Electors of East Peterborough, vote for JOHN BURNHAM, who has served you to your satisfaction as Reeve, Warden, and Member of Parliament.

The Quarter Sessions.

The usual half yearly Session, commenced here to-day, before Judge Dennistoun. There were no criminal cases, and therefore nothing whatever for the twenty-four gentlemen, who had been brought from all parts of the county to do, and they were at once sworn in and dismissed. The civil docket too was light. The whole business consisted of one appeal a from Magistrate's decision, one jury case, and one non jury case. Evidently the N.P. is not productive of litigation

THE Chief Clerk of the New York City Sheriff's Office, Mr. John A. Lowe, thus speaks of St. Jacobs Oil: "I happen to be one who has been cured by St. Jacobs Oil, and I think that the remedy cannot be excelled for rheumatism. I certainly found it a most pleasant and effective remedy and one which did for me what many others failed to do—cure me. I therefore have a good word for the Oil, whenever opportunity presents itself, for I consider it a splendid remedy."

The Campaign.

The Old Music Hall will be open to-night for the use of the Liberal Conservative Committees.

Board of Education.

The regular monthly meeting of the Board of Education will be held this evening at the Collegiate Institute at 7.45 o'clock.

Saw Mill Accident.

A young lad named O'Dette or Gosling had two of his fingers badly cut by a buzz saw in Dickson's saw mill the other day. Dr. Bell had to amputate both of the injured members.

Personal.

The Brampton Times says that it notes with pleasure that Mr. Harry Willoughby, son of the Rev. N. R. Willoughby, formerly of Peterborough, has been appointed House Surgeon and Superintendent of the "General and Marine Hospital" at St. Catherines. It is a very lucrative position.

McGhee vs. Bradburn.

The objection taken by Mr. Bradburn to the jurisdiction of the Police Magistrate, in the matter of the verandah in the rear of No. 1 and 2 Market Block, was sustained by the County Judge to-day, on the evidence offered on the part of the town. The conviction was quashed. Mr. Weller conducted the case for Mr. Bradburn and Mr. Edwards that of the town.

Fined.

The man Robert Scott arrested on Monday by P.C. McGhee, on a charge of being drunk and disorderly was brought before the Police magistrate on Monday afternoon, and fined for his offence. At the same time another man named Scott was charged with being drunk by Chief Johnston. He too was asked to contribute a few dollars to the town coffers.

The Weather.

The weather continues fine, although showers fell at intervals yesterday. The outlook is now good and we are inclined to think that the fine weather is going to continue. The weather probabilities for the following twenty-four hours, as reported from Toronto at 10 a. m. to-day, by the Great Northwestern Telegraph Company, are as follows:—Lakes—Moderate to fresh westerly to southwesterly winds. Fine warm weather.

Body Recovered.

The body of the lad Thomas Barrett son of Mr. Cole Barrett, who was drowned by falling from a pier of the locks dam while fishing on May 23rd was recovered on Monday evening in the river near Hale's Bridge. A woman saw him floating rapidly down the stream, and gave information to Mr. James Greer, who secured it and brought the news to the father in town the same evening. Mr. Barrett proceeded to the spot, and brought home the remains which were buried next morning in the Little Lake Cemetery.

Incendiary Fire.

Shortly after three o'clock this morning a very feeble fire alarm sounded and those who heard it perceived a blaze on Simcoe Street, near the railway track. Closer investigation revealed the fact that the unoccupied old frame premises, just east of Flavelle's storehouse were on fire, but burning very slowly. The Fire Brigade kept the fire from spreading to any of the adjoining property. We do not know the owner of the buildings destroyed, but feel confident that the loss is not great and that there is no insurance. The fire was of incendiary origin, an attempt to burn the same place having been made just a week ago.

New York Church Choir Co.

Owing to the address given by Sir John A. Mcdonald in the Drill Shed last night, this Company postponed their performance until this evening. When they will appear in a grand double bill—double entertainment—introducing the far famed Quartette in their charming melodies, also Howard Clifton in his great musical and ventrilloquist acts, and the whole company in the ever popular drama, Uncle Tom's Cabin, making in all one of the most pleasing and attractive entertainments ever presented to a Peterborough audience. Our readers will bear in mind, this is the last and only opportunity of seeing this excellent Company of talented performers. The admission is within the reach of all, being 25 and 50 cents.

ECONOMIZING OUR FORESTS.

At the meeting of the Royal Canadian Society, in the scientific section, a paper was read by Mr. Wm. Saunders, of London, Ont., on "The Importance of Economizing and Preserving our Forests," in which he referred to the importance of forests in providing shelter from storms, regulating the temperature, equalizing violent alternations of heat and cold, and on the manner in which the humidity of the atmosphere is equalized and conserved. Reference was also made to the importance of forests in influencing the rainfall and purifying the soil and atmosphere. He alluded also to the forest policy of Germany as showing the possibility of a country, by proper forest regulations and sufficient forest area, growing a sufficient supply of timber for the use of the people. He also called attention to the needless waste of timber from the carelessness of the lumberer and the wanton destruction of vast quantities by forest fires. In conclusion, he suggested that more stringent rules were needed to remedy these evils, urging also that more attention should be given to the replanting of the denuded districts.

The President called the attention of the meeting to the importance of the subjects, and remarks in connection with the paper were made by Professor Macoun and Dr. Lawson.

It was afterwards moved by Principal Dawson, seconded by Dr. Lawson, that at the general session to-morrow the attention of the society be directed to the subject of the preservation and planting of forests by public and private means as an important object to be promoted in connection with this society and with the International Forestry Association.

LONDON, June 5.—Another little flutter occured in Leicester during the visit of the Prince and Princess of Wales. A drunk and disorderly man approached the royal carriage, and wanted to shake hands with the Princess, who pushed him away with her parasol. The royal couple have been busy this week opening parks and town halls, and visiting the horse show at Islington, where a remarkable small pony, named Lady Jumbo, thirty inches high, has created a great sensation.

CAMPAIGN NOTES.

THIS is the advice that Mr. Blake gave during his tour last summer in the Maritime Provinces :—

"Your natural channel of trade is with the neighboring Republic; your exports will find the best market there, and your imports should come from there."

This was Mr. Blake's platform, till finding the feeling in favour of the N. P. too powerful to be combatted, he is now shilly-shallying with the question after his usual manner. Will the people of Ontario vote for a leader who advises the Maritime Provinces to obtain their food and manufactured articles from the United States rather than from this Province, as they are doing at present?

WE are told that Sir John Macdonald and his colleagues are sacrificing the rights of Ontario as regards our boundary. On the 16th of January of this year Mr. Mowat spoke as follows in the Ontario Legislature, according to the Globe's report :—

"He recalled the history of the boundary question, pointing out that the only ground upon which the Dominion Government justified its claim to the territory of the Hudson Bay Company was that it belonged to the old Province of Canada. It was solely on that contention that a territory of 1,300,000 square miles was given over to the Dominion. Though having obtained this large amount of land through the instrumentality of Ontario's claim, what was given to Ontario by the award? Only 100,000 square miles, or one-thirteenth part, was awarded to Ontario, and still the Government meanly refused to recognize their right to that small amount of the disputed territory."

Is it not clear then that it is Mr. Mowat, and Mr. Blake who is in league with him who are sacrificing our rights, and that it is Sir John Macdonald and his colleagues who are protecting them by insisting upon a reference to an impartial and competent tribunal?

* * *

THE Ottawa Free Press has for some time past been devoting columns of personal abuse to Mr. Tasse and Mr. Mackintosh, the Conservative candidates. A correspondent of the Citizen has retorted very severely upon the writer, who objects to his own style of political argument, and threatens legal proceedings. Journalists who trade in personalities generally cry out the loudest if they are themselves made to suffer in turn.

THE Reformers when in power were constructing the Canada Pacific Railway at the cost of the whole Dominion, including Ontario, and they scouted the idea that the North-West lands could be made to provide for the expenditure. This is what Mr. Blake said last year, according to the official report in Hansard —

"According to the former figures of the hon. gentlemen's engineer, and to the view of the hon. member for Lambton, our own interest charges will be about two millions a year when the road is completed as far as Edmonton. All that we can get from the lands in that country for the next few years, during which we shall be engaged in the construction of the road, will not. I believe, do more than help to eke out that interest."

In spite of this prophet of evil, under the statesmanlike arrangements of Sir John Macdonald and his colleagues, the land sales in the North-West are providing the whole funds for the construction, and at the same time our territories are being rapidly filled up with a population that will help us to bear the present debt of the Dominion.

MESSRS. LUNDY and Roxburgh say it was the duty of the Dominion government to give effect to the Boundary award. The Globe does not agree with them, for in its issue of the 14th February last it said :—

"Had there been any ground whatever for suspecting that the award was in the slightest degree too favourable to Ontario, the Dominion Government might have been justified in declining or refusing to be bound by it. Mr Mackenzie, with his usual caution, reserved the right to do so for cause."

The right which the Reform Government reserved has been very rightly exercised by their successors.

Vote for our old members, who would secure for us our rightful boundaries, not for supporters of Blake and Laurier, who fears that the Privy Council would give us our rights.

FAITHFUL STEWARDS.

UNDERHAND attempts have been made to insinuate that our late members have not sufficiently promoted the interests of their constituents, and that they are not likely to do so if re-elected. We will give a few instances to show that they can give a good account of their stewardship in the past, and we may therefore fairly assume that they will continue to do so, when we send them back to Ottawa, as we will do.

Messrs. Hilliard and Burnham supported by their voices in the House of Commons the grant of $290,000 for the Trent Valley Canal, when it was denounced by the Reform ex-Minister of the department. They also, in common with the other members from this district, advocated the project with the members of the administration, and secured a personal visit from the Minister of Railways and Canals with one of his colleagues, repeated grants for surveys, and a large appropriation for construction.

When, we may ask did our Reform members, with a Reform Minister in power, secure such an expenditure of public money in this locality for a project which will be so advantageous to us. They did however support their leaders without any protest, when they gave the Trent works to Mr. Mowat that he might destroy them, as he intended.

Messrs. Hilliard and Burnham have for the last few years successfully advocated and have obtained minor improvements in this navigable route both to the north and south of the town, and this year have secured as a beginning a grant of $1000 for dredging, so that our steamboats may be able to approach our wharves.

Under a Reform regime on the other hand we could not get even a snag removed.

Mr. Hilliard and Mr. Burnham also lent their weight to the advocacy of a grant in aid of a railway to connect our system with that of our great trans-continental line, and have secured a vote of $660,000 from the Dominion treasury towards the construction of a line which will bring through Peterborough a portion of the traffic from the north west and Pacific Coast, besides opening to us a means of easy access to those regions.

With Reform members and a Reform administration on the contrary, neither Peterborough nor indeed Ontario got any such benefit, though they could grant a large sum for the construction of a line for the benefit of Quebec, connecting their provincial railway system with the Canada Pacific at its terminus at Callendar.

We need not particularize minor matters, such as postal facilities, etc., in which our late (and future) members have looked after our interests, for it is well known that in these less important details, as in the greater questions upon which we have dwelt, they have ever been ready and willing to forward the wishes of their constituents. With such representatives it would be folly indeed to make a change, and neither the electors of the West Riding nor the East are likely to commit such a blunder.

Vote for BURNHAM and HILLIARD, whose motto is "Canada for the Canadians."

THE WORKINGMAN'S INTEREST.

To the Editor of the Review.

DEAR SIR,—As we are now on the eve of a general election, I would like to address a few words to my fellow workingmen, through your colums. Four years ago, when the N. P. was proposed, it might be said as an experiment, the workingmen throughout the Dominion of Canada were in a bad state, wages were very low, our factories were closed, or working only with a few hands on short time, work of all kinds was scarce, and could be obtained only for a few days at a time, and then very often only by the intercession of a friend, our workingmen were leaving the country as fast as they could, and those of them who had a little property were forced to sell it in order to take them away. This being the case—and I believe no man will deny it—it was not to be wondered at, that the workingmen of the Dominion, supported the new Policy, which promised to bring them some relief. That Policy has now been enforced about three years, and what is the result? Compare the state of things then and now. Now the workingman is sought for, wages are good, and employment constant. Our foundries and factories have been enlarged, new ones have been erected, the hands have been doubled, and quadrupled, and they are working constantly, and making overtime. Property is advancing, and the workingman who has a little property is able not only to retain but to improve it, and instead of having to leave his wife and family behind him "to go elsewhere to seek employment," he can now remain at home to look after them, and comfort them. Every workingman knows that higher wages is not the only advantage? He knows that employment is more steady, and that he is more thought of, and that instead of having to get the assistance of some friend to obtain work, he can leave his boss any time he does not suit him, and get a job almost anywhere without having to seek for it, in fact that instead of having to look for work the work is looking for him. Now Mr. Editor I think the facts I have stated are beyond dispute, and therefore that every workingman should support by his vote and influence the men who have introduced this national prosperity, and work at home in place of national ruin, and having to go away from home to get work. Every workingman owes it to himself to vote for the man who protects him against the refuse of Yankee workshops, that were thrown on our markets. If boots and shoes are to be made, let us have them made in Canada instead of Massachuetts, if locomotives are needed, let them be made in Canada instead of New Hampshire, if boilers and machinery are required, let them be made at the Hamiltons' instead of York State, or Pennsylvania? If labor is to be employed let it be employed here instead of in a foreign country. Let us keep our money and men at home to enrich our own country, instead of sending them to a foreign country to enrich it. The Americans will not admit our products into their markets, until we pay them a heavy duty. Why in the name of common sense and fair play should we admit theirs? I lived on both sides of the lines, I prefer Canada all things considered, but the only way Canadians can live here in comfort, is by protecting their own industries, as the Americans protect theirs, since they will give us neither reciprocity nor free trade.

Thanking you for your valuable space,

I am Sir yours, &c.,

A WORKINGMAN.

AGRICULTURAL IMPLEMENTS.

The Owen Sound Times gives the following facts showing that the assertions that the farmers are paying more for their agricultural implements on account of the N.P. are utterly false, as they are in fact paying less :—

The Grits are trying to make the farmers believe that every article they have to buy is made dearer by the N.P., but unfortunately for their stories, the facts are against them, and the farmers know it from practical experience. How is it with agricultural implements—have they been made dearer? We have got some facts from one of our Owen Sound dealers, and here they are :—

Before the N.P., Masson Single Seeders and Drills sold at $85. They are now selling at $75

Before the N.P., Masson Combined Seeder and Sower sold at $110—now better machines are selling at $85!

Patterson Reapers sold at $110 before the N.P.—Now they sell, with improvement, for $105!

Patterson Mowers sold before the N.P. at $85—now they are selling at $75!

Patterson Steel Ploughs, before the N.P. sold at $20—they are now selling for $18.

Gerolamy's Turnip Sowers sold for $22 before the N.P.—they can now be got for $15.

And so the list could be prolonged. Nearly every implement is cheaper—while none have been increased in price. These are facts which cannot be disputed.

Vote for the National Policy and good times, not for "Flies on the Wheel" and hard times.

A WORD OF CAUTION.—As is usually the case where an article of true merit has attained a world-wide reputation by its wonderful results, as the celebrated Electric Bitters have done, certain unprincipled parties have endeavored to imitate them, and expect to induce an unsuspecting public to purchase their fraudulent wares. Ask your druggist for the genuine Electric Bitters, that are guaranteed to cure, and take no others. Sold by Taylor & McDonold at 50c.

Vegetable Balsamic

ELIXIR!

This valuable medicine is purely vegetable, the discovery of which was the result of many years' close study, in order to discover the cause, the symptoms and the cure—viz.:

Consumption, Coughs, Colds, Catarrh, Croup, Asthma, Influenza, Pleurisy, Hoarseness, Spitting Blood, Bronchitis,

and every species of oppression of the Chest and Lungs. In all cases where this Elixir has been duly administered its efficacy has been invariably manifested, convincing the most incredulous that is not incurable, if properly attended to.—Consumption, at its commencement, is but a slight irritation of the membrane which covers the lungs; then an inflammation, when the cough is more observable, but rather dry—then becomes oscalfever and the pulse more frequent, the cheeks flushed and chills more common. This Elixir in curing the above complaints, operates so as to remove all morbid irritations and inflammation from the lungs to the surface, and finally expel them from the system. It facilitates expectoration.

CONSUMPTION

IT HEALS THE ULCERATED SURFACES

and relieves the cough and makes the breathing easy. It supports the strength and at the same time reduces the fever. It is free from strong opiate and astringent articles, which are often drying a nature as to be in great danger of destroying the patient; whereas this medicine never dries or stops the cough, but, by removing the CAUSE, generally destroys the hectic before the cough is entirely gone. Consequently, when the cough is cured the patient is well. Send address for pamphlet giving full directions for cure of pulmonary diseases. Price 25cts. and $1 per bottle. Sold everywhere.

MONTREAL, P. Q.

N. H. DOWNS' ELIXIR

FENELON FALLS.

HORSE BUYERS.—The Gazette says that Mr. C. Quintell, the well known and popular horse dealer from Montreal, was in Fenelon Falls on Friday of last week, but he only found three or four animals to suit him, having pretty well cleared the locality of them at his previous visit. His way of doing business is satisfactory in the extreme. If a horse offered is not of the kind he wants he says so at once and turns away from it; if it is, he asks the owner its price, and, unless unreasonably high, pays it at once without haggling. As Mr. Quintell is not very particular about an animal's age, provided it be of fair size, sound and in good condition, many of our farmers have obtained liberal prices for teams which have been in active service for several years.

RUNAWAY.—Mr. Quiball, carter, of this village, has a new horse which is not yet able to divest itself of the idea that a shrieking locomotive possesses the same instincts and appetites as a roaring lion. On Monday morning last the engine from the north, upon approaching the Fenelon Falls station, omitted a peculiarly preternatural yell, which so terrified the horse that he rushed madly away, with his owner clinging to his bridle, and dashed through the fence around Mr. Lockhart's lot. Mr. Quiball lost his hold and fell just as the wheels of the waggon passed over the bottom board of the fence, and it was feared by the spectators that he was badly injured; but, happily his only hurt was a slight scratch on the neck. He was up again in an instant, and, with others, persued the horse which was captured in the far corner of the lot, where it had met with an immovable obstruction in the shape of a collection of outbuildings.

ROADSIDE TREES.

The Country Gentleman says:—Objections are sometimes raised against tree planting on the roadside, preventing, as is claimed, any drying of the road bed. This would be a small objection on a well drained road. The planting of shade trees on the roadside is very generally conceded to be an improvement to both the road and adjoining property. Particular avenues of well-grown trees often gain world-wide reputation. There are many kinds of trees suitable for roadside planting, but for a select list the following are reliable, given in succession according to their merits:

White elm, tulip, scarlet maple, Norway maple, hard maple, horse chestnut, catalpa (speciosa), chestnut, white oak and English elm. The tulip, hard maple, and chestnut require a naturally deep, well drained soil in order to thrive. The best effects are obtained by planting one kind for long distance, and neighbors should club together and decide on a tree, and have no other planted in a section of road. Apple trees are very objectionable for this purpose, being naturally low and spreading. The continued trimming up required to keep the branches out of the way soon ruins them. Fruit trees are out of place on the roadside. The proper distance for planting is eight to ten feet from the line and thirty feet apart. Trees should be well protected by stakes or boxes for a few years. Nursery-grown trees are the cheapest in the end.

Pulp Paper Process.

The methods of manufacturing paper from wood are being revolutionized. One Stephen M. Allen has invented a machine which dispenses with the beater and other apparatus heretofore in use, so that wood, sizing and other necessary material is by one operation ground, beaten and delivered to the paper machines, requiring, as is claimed, but five minutes to convert the wood in its stick form, with the other essentials, into a sheet of dried white paper Commonly wood-grinding has been a separate enterprise, pulp-mills being established to make the material for the paper men, who bought it already prepared, mixing it with rags and other material, and after proper manipulation running it off on to paper machines, which shows the greater economy and increased efficiency of the new device.—North Western Lumberman.

To the Free and Independent Electors of the

WEST RIDING

OF PETERBOROUGH.

GENTLEMEN,—

At the urgent solicitation of my political friends I have consented to be again a candidate for your suffrages at the approaching election.

While I would have preferred not to have been a candidate on the present occasion, yet now that I have placed my services again at your disposal, you may rest assured that no private duty or engagement will be allowed to interfere with the proper discharge of my duties as your representative, should I be honoured with your confidence for the second time.

Although I failed to be present at every division during the recent session, I would venture to challenge my political opponents to specify a single instance in which I have neglected the interests of my constituents or failed to discharge the duties devolving upon me as your representative to the best of my ability and judgment.

During the past four years I have rendered a cheerful support to the government of Sir John A. Macdonald, believing that it has not only redeemed the pledges given previous to the last general election, but that its policy has been and is one eminently calculated to promote the prosperity of the country, and should you again honor me with your confidence I shall continue to give the present government the same cordial support, so long as their policy commends itself to my judgment.

In conjunction with the other representatives from this section of Ontario, I have done all in my power to secure the early construction of the Trent Valley Canal, and the large measure of success which has attended our past efforts should assure the electorate of this district that if their present representatives are re-elected and the present government sustained, this great and long-looked-for work will be brought to an early completion.

As it will be impossible for me to undertake anything like a personal canvas between this and polling day, I trust those favorable to the cause of good government will render me their hearty support without waiting to be asked, and that all the electors will make it a point to attend the meetings which I propose holding in different parts of the constituency for the purpose of public explanation and discussion of the several questions involved in the present campaign.

Again thanking you for the confidence reposed in me in 1878, and soliciting a renewal of the same,

I am, gentlemen,
Your ob't. serv't.,

CEO. HILLIARD.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—AN EXTERNAL MEANS of CURING SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic; whilst old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalculæ which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produce a clear, healthy natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION, a FLUID peculiar in itself, is the most potent enemy to all Skin Disorders. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the least degree comparable for its Healthy Action on the Human Skin.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. Startin, and every year it is used adds more and more favourably to its widly increasing reputation. Anyone, however deeply and hopelessly afflicted with Skin Disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent in a diminished appearance of the malady, a growing tendency to fade away, and complete obliteration of the eruption.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—BOTTLES CONTAINING NEARLY HALF A PINT.—SOLD BY CHEMISTS EVERYWHERE. Made in London, Eng.

WELCOMING THE CHIEF.

Visit of the Premier, Lady Macdonald and Mr. Plumb.

AN ENTHUSIASTIC RECEPION TO THE PLATE GLASS CITY.

SIR JOHN AND MR. PLUMB DISCOURSE ON THE GREAT PUBLIC QUESTIONS

At the Drill Shed to Over three Thousand People—The Trent Valley Canal an Assured Fact—The Chieftain Cheered to the Echo and Escorted to the Station by the Fire Brigade and a Torchlight Procession.

On Saturday night we kept our issue late for the purpose of announcing that the Right Hon. Sir John A. Macdonald and Mr. Plumb were to address the electors of Peterborough on the great questions of the day on Monday evening. Even after it had been announced there was some doubt about it, and it was not until Monday morning that we were assured of his visit. Committees were at once formed and preparations made for welcoming the distinguished visitors and orators.

Through the extreme kindness of the Midland Railway management the magnificent official car of the line was placed at the disposal of the party from Toronto to Lindsay, from Lindsay here and back to Toronto again.

Everything being in readiness for the reception, Messrs. A. White, J. Stevenson, R. A. Morrow, Dr. Boucher, Dr. G. Burnham, A. P. Poussette, Thos. Leplant, Rev. J. W. R. Beck, J. G. Macdonald and one or two others left here on the 6.40 train and met the special at Fraserville and accompanied the party to Peterborough.

On the special car were Sir John and Lady Macdonald, Messrs. J. B. Plumb, T. D. Belcher, H. H. Smith and Mrs. Smith. The Rev. Father Kielty, of Ennismore, a most enthusiastic Conservative, who had driven from Ennismore to Lindsay, attended the meeting there and was so delighted that he accompanied Sir John to town and was present at the oration here. There were also several other gentleman on board, among whom we noticed Mr. E. Flood, late of the Lindsay Warder, and Dr. Coulter, Lindsay.

Upon arriving at the Union Station it was found that an enormous crowd numbering thousands had assembled including the members of the Fire Brigade Band, who had turned out in full force, and when Sir John and Lady Macdonald alighted, the applause was almost deafening and continued until after they had taken their seats in the carriages provided. A procession was at once formed and headed by the band proceeded along the principal streets of the town to the Oriental, the sidewalks en route being thickly lined with people who cheered lustily as the chieftain came in sight.

The party after partaking of dinner were escorted to the drill shed, where the largest crowd that ever assembled in Peterborough on any similar occasion, were present. Seats had been provided for the ladies, but long before the appointed hour the fair sex had turned out so strong, that several more rows had to be reserved for their accommodation. When Sir John and Mr. Plumb, accompanied by the leading Conservatives of the town, entered the building it fairly shook so great was the shouting and the Premier was forced again and again to bow his acknowledgements. Several gentlemen accustomed to estimating crowds all agreed that there was fully three thousand persons present, while others think that number under the mark.

Mr. Jas. Stevenson, occupied the chair and among the others present on the platform were Messrs. H. H. Smith, Mayor of the town, H. Collins, Warden of the County, Councillors Poussette and Kelly, Rev. J. W. R. Beck, Rev. W. J. Kielty, Ennismore, and Messrs. Geo. Burnham, T. Cavanagh, C. W. Sawers, G. W. Hall, R. A. Morrow and numerous others. Lady Macdonald and Mrs. H. H. Smith, also occupied seats on the platform during a portion of the proceedings.

MR. JAMES STEVENSON, upon assuming the duties of chairman, briefly introduced the distinguished speakers and said that any unprejudiced person who would listen to the arguments advanced in a careful manner must confess that the National Policy and the Government of Sir John A. Macdonald had advanced the interests of the country in every respect. (Cheers.)

MR. J. B. PLUMB, who was the first speaker, received a regular ovation on rising. He said that he had been told before coming to town that he might expect to see a small meeting, on account of the fact that the notice had been so short, but when he looked at the immense assemblage before him he must say that Peterborough, for drawing a crowd upon short notice, was the banner town of Canada. (Hear, hear.) He had addressed many audiences, but seldom had it been his lot to address such an audience as he saw before him, and he should hesitate, but he knew that the cause he advocated was a good one and any person advocating it had nothing to fear. He only asked the people of Peterborough, and of the whole Dominion as well, to continue their confidence in Sir John A. Macdonald and his Government, feeling certain as he did that by so doing they were acting in the best interests of themselves. (Hear, hear.) In 1878 this riding threw off its yoke and returned an honored representative, whom he trusted would be returned on the 20th of June by an overwhelming majority. (Hear, hear, and cheers.) Just here the speaker caused a great laugh by advising some boys who were whistling, "to sell their whistles, as there was no protection on them." The speaker proceeded to say that the policy of the Conservative party was well known, and he had only to point to the N. P., the Pacific Railway and the good times, and ask his hearers to contrast their positions prior to 1878 with those they occupied today. (Cheers.) He claimed that the depression before 1878 was due to the supineness of the Government, but that since that memorable year, owing to the pledges given and fulfilled by Sir John Macdonald, every son of toil had a fair day's wage for a fair day's work. (Cheers.) Labour is now in demand, and instead of the labourer looking for work the master is looking for men—(hear, hear)—and the contrast was so great that any fair minded man must support the National Policy, which, if it did not support him, did a good deal in that direction. (Hear, hear.) When the Mackenzie Government were in power, Bastiat, Mill and others had full sway, and protection for our struggling industries was laughed to scorn. (Hear, hear.) England was pointed out as a nation that had prospered under free trade, but he (the speaker) characterized the free trade laws of England as the worst under the sun. When that country had obtained a position equalled by none other, the cotton kings thought that all the rest of the world would have to pay tribute to them, and that an angel would sit on guard and collect their tolls, but as all knew the expected angel did not file an appearance, but instead the United States commenced the manufacture of cotton goods and actually crowded England out of many of the principal markets of the world. (Hear, hear.) He was a firm believer in the N. P. and fondly clung to the hope that protection was yet going to make Canada one of the most permanently prosperous countries on the face of the earth. (Cheers.) No country had yet become permanently prosperous from agriculture alone. There was great inventive genius among our people, and they must be employed in other arts than agriculture. When Sir John A. Macdonald assumed power in 1878 Canada was nothing but a slaughter market for the Americans. They sold at home for full prices but slaughtered their goods here, and this killed out the Canadian manufacturer. They sold us every thing from a melodeon to a nutmeg grater. (Laughter.) In one year they sold us $52,000,000 worth of goods, and we paid $26,000,000 for the balance of trade in that same year—(hear, hear.)—in gold or products of the soil. The imported articles were only taxed 17½ per cent., while everything we sold them was heavily taxed. For instance, they charged us 20 cents a bushel on wheat and 20 cents on a bag of potatoes. When John A. came into power he saw that he must raise more revenue as the condition of the country demanded it. Protection was no new scheme, but one carefully evolved, and one brought out after long consideratian. As far as the United States is concerned the balance of trade is greatly reduced and what we formerly paid the Americans we now pay to our own mechanics (Cheers.) If any person after studying both sides of the question says that Canada should go on as it did under Alex. Mackenzie, he is as old and antiquated as Bastiat himself. (Hear, hear.) However much Reformers may trim on the eve of an election, they are all tarred with the same stick and will reverse the present policy as soon as they get into power. The present Government has done its best, not all it can do, as they were greatly hampered by Mackenzie et al who had since swopped horses in the middle of the stream and now Blake had joined them. (Hear, here.) The speaker next touched on the suggar and cotton questions, showing that the former was no dearer and the extreme duty placed on cotton did not raise the duty one cent per yard making the increased cost per year to a workingman about 50 cents per year, taking Blake's shirt measurement, and in that case surely the greatly advanced scale of wages more than paid the increased cost. And then much had been said about the "iniquitous" coal taxes, but wood was a staple article here and coal was not used to any extent, but at any rate, after adding the cost of transportation, coal is sold as cheap here to-day as it is in many of the American cities. (Cheers,) He had read Mr. Lundy's address and found several things to complain about. The first clause complained of the sudden dissolution but the writer was not consistent. He had only to refer to the dissolution on the first of January 1873 and the election on the 28th of the same month. The Government were desirous to allow the country to pass judgment on the great policy it had adopted in 1878 and had given up all its advantages to go back to the country, and judging from the magnificent meeting here Sir John had not reckoned without his host. With reference to the Gerymandering Bill he would not speak, having been gerymandered out of a sure seat, by having it abolished. (Laughter.) With regard to taxation the present Government taxed luxuries and admitted necessaries, such as tea and coffee, free. (Cheers.) The present Government encouraged and fostered Canadian industries and the policy under which it had been done was termed by Mr. Mackenzie a national folly and a national crime. The Globe within the last four days had given up the argument that cotton was dearer owing to the increase in consumption and improved machinery. (Hear, hear.) He defended the Pacific Railway policy of the Government and showed how Mackenzie could not raise the money to build it, after hawking it to all the great money markets of the world. He was willing to stake his reputation that within two years we would have a Canadian railway from Red river to the Rockies. (Loud Cheers.) And further he might say that the same dilligence was shown in the Lake Superior section. (Cheers.) He defended the disallowance of the South Western Railway Charter on the ground that if the privileges asked for were granted the Americans would control the trade. (Hear, hear.) The Syndicate had 25,000,000 acres of land in the North West of which only 9,000,000 were on the main trunk line, so that to make their lands available for settlement they would have to build branches, here, there, and everywhere, and as the Government owned every alternate block the value of their lands increased in the same ratio as the others. (Cheers.) Under the Mackenzie regime we were swiftly drifting towards direct taxation, and what did that mean? It meant that the farmers and owners of real estate in towns would have to pay the taxes as they could not conceal their property, while the holder of bonds, mortgages, and etc., escaped scot free. (Cheers.) There was another matter touched in Mr. Lundy's address that was of the utmost importance to the people of this locality, he referred to the Trent Valley Canal. (Great applause.) The inland navigation of these lakes and rivers needed the fostering hand of the Government to develop it into one of the finest means of communication on this Continent. (Cheers.) He had seen that nature had given this country chains of rivers and lakes, which by forty miles of cutting and dredging in some places to the depth of six feet, we would have a canal that would float barges carrying 20,000 bushels of grain each, making it a great rival to the Erie Canal, (Loud applause.) As far as he was concerned he would make the fact known throughout the Dominion, as he knew that very few outsiders were aware of the true facts of the case. Extending as it does through over half a dozen counties a large number of persons were interested and he would do all he possibly could to promote its early construction. (Loud cheers.) The scheme is a great one and has merits which no Government can or shall overlook. (Loud cheers.) If we come back to the Stagnation Policy there is no chance whatever for the project. The present Government has put $290,000 in the estimates. The Engineers are here and substantial work has already been done. If we look at the past we will see which government has tried to kill the work. Upon Sir John assuming office one of the first things he did was to repeal an Order in Council to place the works in the hands of Oliver Mowat, and if the Mackenzie Government had been returned such undoubtly would have been done. If the John A. Government is returned, and of course it will be (hear, hear,) it will promote a plan to benefit this part of the country, which nature so evidently intended for a great through route. It will benefit not only this portion of Province but the whole of Ontario as well. (Hear hear.) After discussing some minor matters the speaker thanked the audience for his cordial reception and the great attention paid to him. He had not expected such a magnificent assembly and in conclusion he again returned thanks and resumed his seat amidst thunders of applause.

THE RIGHT HON. SIR JOHN A. MACDONALD upon rising to speak received an ovation the likes of which was never before seen in Peterborough. The applause lasted for several minutes, the immense audience rising to their feet almost cheered themselves hoarse. After silence had been restored the veteran expressed the pleasure he had upon again coming to Peterborough and stated that as he had spoken that afternoon at Lindsay, those present must not expect a very long speech from him. The meeting had been arranged at the last moment, but the attendance was far greater than he had anticipated. There was no necessity to enter into a long argument to uphold his policy of protection, as Peterborough has greatly gained in every respect owing to the N. P. and will go on and if the policy is reversed the prosperity will be obstructed if not destroyed. (Cheers.) In 1872 his Government had put forward the policy of protection and Sir Leonard Tilley said then that the Government during the next session would bring down a policy that would make Canada a fit place for Canadians. But the Government went out before the next session, owing to the Pacific Slander, and could not therefore keep its pledge. He was asked how it was that, being such an ardent protectionist, he did not at an earlier day bring down a policy of protection? The answer was very simple. The United States was in a state of war, manufactures were at a standstill in that country, and in consequence we shipped large quantities of goods there and imported nothing or next to nothing. But in 1872 our neighbours were rallying from the effects of the terrible struggle, and then it was seen that if Canada was ever to become a nation, it must adopt a policy of protection. The Mackenzie Government, which followed him, owing to their deficits, had to increase the tariff. Cartwright taxed tea and coffee and other articles which we could not produce, and thus increased prices without giving any corresponding advantage. (Cheers.) It did not encourage our workingmen or manufacturers, but the deficiencies went on increasing year after year, and nothing was accomplished in the proper direction. If any nation or individual or nation cannot pay their debts, they must go down. When he resigned in 1873 he had all along paid their debts—(cheers)—and always had some money in the treasury. (Hear, hear.) When he went out of power he handed over to his successors a clean sheet, and a surplus. Mackenzie took the reigns of power and year after year he had deficiencies and when he resigned in 1878 the speaker had to face $7,500,000 of deficiencies. (Hear, hear.) The situation reminded him of two boys who were talking about the houses owned by their respective fathers. Said one boy "My father has a varandah on his house." "Oh," said the other "mine has a mortgage on his." (Laughter.) The political situation was very similar; his Government had a surplus, the varandah; Mackenzies a deficit, the mortgage. (Cheers.) His policy spoken of in 1872 he tried to impress on the Mackenzie Government every year from 1873 to 1878 and asked for protection, and promised that the Opposition would support the Governmentif they adopted it. (Loud Cheers.) Himself and colleagues were called lunatics, people said it was absurd to fight the United States and the proposition was not entertained. The country was depressed, workmen were idle or only employed half time and many present could well remember when they were forced to remain idle or expatriate themselves by crossing to the United States, which country fully understood the benefits of protection. (Cheers.) Every year while in opposition he moved a series of resolutions asking for a readjustment of the tariff to encourage farming, mining and manufacturing and to prevent us being made a slaughter market for the United States. (Hear, hear.) He pressed it on the Government in the House, all over the country and through the press, through pamphlets that appealed to the common sense of the people, for the people of Canada are a reading people. The issue in 1878 was protection or free trade, and the people of Canada gave no uncertain sound on that question. (Loud cheers.) Protection was not thrust on the people of Canada, but after three years of deliberation they were asked to give their verdict. Some persons had said that he dare not introduce a policy of protection, but he asked every political friend and political opponent if he had not carried out his pledge to make the revenue and expenditure meet? (Cries of "Yes," and cheers.) He had appealed to many mixed audiences and all acknowledged that he had. The deficiency of $7,500,000 which he had to assume upon coming into power in 1878 disappeared the very first year—(cheers)—and Sir Leonard Tilley, cautious man as he is, said last year that our surplus this year would be $4,000,000 and now he said the other day it would be over $5,000,000. (Loud Cheers.) If the present prosperity goes on the surplus will increase and we will soon have enough money to pay our debts, build the Pacific Railway, Welland Canal, and enough to build the Trent Valley Canal too. (Great Cheering.) When the Opposition found that his Government had a surplus they said it was a bad thing, it encouraged extravagance and that the money was taken out of the pockets of the people. No individual ever complained of being too rich and no nation could. He did not propose to go into dry figures, but he challenged any person to prove that the controllable expenditure was any greater now than ever it was. (Cheers.) Of course as the country developes, the cost of Government and the cost of improvements will be greater, but it will not increase any more per head when we have 10,000,000 of people instead of 4,000,000. A surplus was a good thing for any young country to have. In every town there was a demand for public buildings for Post Offices and Custom Houses and for public works, just as you are now getting the Trent Valley Canal. (Great cheers.) It was just by mere chance that they would have an opportunity of carrying out that great work, that great system of inland navigation. If Mackenzie had been in power any longer that opportunity would have been lost. (Hear, hear.) An order in Council had been passed to hand over the Trent Works to the Ontario Government, but upon finding out that Mowat would not keep them in repair, the order was cancelled by us,—(cheers)—and Mr. Ferris, M. P. P., did not get the land he desired so much. He claimed the works as Dominion property. They run through a large section of fine country, and he had kept them until the revenue was in snch a state that he had granted $290,000 to commence the works. (Cheers.) The grant was sufficient to make a good start, Every Province has its demands and all must be attended to. The Welland and other canals have to be completed and on the whole it is now reasonable to suppose that the Trent Valley Canal will be completed as fast as the state of the revenue will allow. (Loud cheers.) To show the ignorance of Reformers regarding such a great work, he said that Mr. Mackenzie, on the floor of the House, asked where the Otonabee was. (Laughter.) Referring again to the state of the revenue, he said that it was now in such a position that he had been enabled to throw off $1,250,000 taxes. (Cheers.) He had at a former period taken off the duty on tea and coffee, but Mackenzie had put it on again, and he in turn had reduced it. At first it was necessary to move cautiously, but now the tariff had been proved a success and he took off the duties on necessaries and raw materials to encourage manufacturers. He had taken off $1,250,000, but still had a surplus to build such works as the Trent Valley Canal. (Loud cheers.) He had also removed a very vexatious tax—the stamp tax. His Government encouraged the development of foreign trade, and the people had been told by Cartwright and others that by encouraging manufacturers the Government were building up a class of monopolists, while the manufacturers themselves were told that they would be ruined by internal competition. Such had occurred in England, but he set to work to open the North-west where the large majority of the people are engaged in agricultural, not manufacturing pursuits, and our manufacturers must supply them. (Cheers.) He had also opened up a trade with Brazil, which country used a large amount of wooden manufactures, sashes, doors, blinds, etc., and he had made an arrangement with the Emperor, by which Brazil paid one half of the subsidy to a line of steamers, running from Québec, and Halifax, to Brazil, and even now he was making arrangements to run a line from the St. Lawrence to France. (Cheers.) For the next 25 years at least the Northwest will consume all the articles that the eastern section can send to them. (Cheers.) Before the Northwest was made accessible to emigrants, there could not have been a great emigration policy, as it would have been against the interests of the workingmen to bring men here to cut down wages. (Hear. Hear.) But, now that the Northwest is open there is no competition here, and all go to the Northwest, instead of helping to build up a foreign nation. Mackenzie when in power had tried to build the Pacific Railway, but could not do it, and when he came in he was bound to succeed, and he had succeeded. (Hear, hear.) With that object in view he had gone to Europe two years in succession and had interested capitalists in England and France, as well as New York and Canada, in the project, and now the Canada Pacific was or soon will be the greatest Railway on the face of the earth. (Cheers.) The 25,000,000, acres of land were of no value without the Railway, as without it the country would be roamed by Indians and buffaloes as it had been for centuries. (Hear, hear.) He did not give every block but only every alternate section of 640 acres, and now any man or woman who desires it can take up 160 acres of land, build a small house on it, and if the required improvement are made at the end of three years the government hands the occupant a free deed of the premises. (Cheers.) There is land enough reserved for ten times the present population of the Dominion of Canada and sufficient for more persons than will settle there in the next fifty years. (Cheers) If after getting a deed for his 160 acres a man wants the next 160 acres he can obtain it at a fixed price. That in short was his land policy and he asked if that was a monopoly? Some land had been sold to capitalists but only alternate blocks and the money received went to form a sinking fund to pay the subsidy to the Canada Pacific Railway. (Cheers) Already colonization companies had agreed to pay $10,000,000 almost half enough to pay the entire subsidy, (Loud cheers) and before long they would be able to wipe ont the whole debt. One thousand emigrants a week are now going into the country, and not one cent of the subsidy would come out of our pockets, the land will pay it all. (Cheers) The financial position of the country is now so good that money to pay off the debts incurred for the Intercolonial Grand Trunk and Great Western Railways, falling due in 1884-9, can now be secured for 4 per cent. now paid. He asked if the North West was not prosperous? If the N. P., was not successful and everything in a properous condition? (Cheers.) He asked the electors to calmly consider the situation and if they trusted to the blind leader who had led them before, on their own heads rested the fault. (Hear, hear) He had been for nearly 30 years in Parliament, and for nearly 20 a Minister of the Crown, he had been brought up in Canada and hoped to leave his bones here when he died, but he wanted to see his policy carried out and the country always as prosperous as it is at present. (Cheers.) He asked his opponents and all candid men, who set country above party, to come forward as they did so nobly in 1878 and sustain the Government that had done so much to make Canada a nation. (Loud cheers.) He knew that he would be sustained, but he wanted to see Ontario, the chief Province of the Dominion, send men to Ottawa to stand by him and send supporters of his and his policy, that was acting for the benefit of the people. The speaker then spoke at length on the Rivers and Streams bill and the Boundary Award, explaining them in the lucid manner he did at Toronto, as already shown in our columns. In conclusion the right hon. gentleman expressed his heartfelt thanks for this kind reception and patient hearing, and asked all to vote for the Government candidates and protection, and resumed his seat amidst loud and long continued applause.

Mr. A. P. POUSSETTE moved, and the Rev. J. W. R. BECK seconded, a vote of thanks to the speakers, which was carried unanimously.

The meeting wound up with cheers for the Queen, Sir John and Lady Macdonald, Mr. Plumb, and Messrs. Hilliard and Burnham.

TORCHLIGHT PROCESSION.

The meeting being over the vistors were again escorted to carriages and headed by the Fire Brigade Band and the members of the brigade, all carrying torches and discharging rockets the procession reformed and proceeded to the Union Station where the special train was in waiting. After music by the band three cheers were given for the party and upon Sir John appearing on the platform three more followed, and amidst music, the shrieking of the locomotive whistles, and the plaudits of thousands the train moved out and one of the most memorable nights in the history of Peterborough was brought to a close.

POLITICAL POINTS!

GENTLEMEN,

Recurring again to the subject of politics—these politics that we are trying to talk about, but not a word of this to the ladies. Neither politics nor spring poetry are playthings for women. So by special request, not a word of this to the women.

All of us have made up our minds to give these party claims our most careful consideration. But we go to the jovial ward meeting—and that is, the last of our firm resolve to give an upright, honourable, squaretoed, astraddle-the-fence vote.

For whom will you vote?

In answering this, remember that you are not obliged to criminate yourself—the law protects you to that extent. Bless the law!

Do you not notice that there is a more exuberant warmth about the greetings of candidates, and an increase of dignity about the man in overalls not apparent a few weeks ago? If you have not, then you have no vote.

Be jubilant while the present opportunities are on deck. After the campaign they will be laid away and stand up behind the door like an old umbrella.

Also remember that just now we are giving away FINE and MEDIUM TWEED SUITS! Giving them away, gentlemen! Of course we accept a trifling compensation for our cloth, trimmings and make—always did. These concessions to the electorate will last for the next three weeks. Make a note of it.

THE CONTENTED MAN, Who is He?

The discussion of this question by an able lecturer was listened to a few evenings ago with interest by large audience.

We venture to think that one of this class may be represented by the head of a family, who has been instructed to purchase a supply of that essential commodity for the table—TEA.

He has an indefinite idea that the article ought to be cheaper on account of the removal of the duty, but when he finds that he can save 10 cents per lb., instead of 5 he is jubilant.

THE CONTENTED MAN is he who gets the full benefit of the reduction of the duty on his tea for this year by making a saving of, say $3.00 on a purchase of 30 lbs.

Prove it by inspecting my stock of JAPANS AND YOUNG HYSONS.

WEST PETERBOROUGH ELECTION.

To the Editor of the Review.

SIR,—I learn that some member of that party of purity represented by Mr. Lundy has circulated the false report that Mr. Hilliard was a foreigner, and in fact a Yankee. He has been met in his canvass with the reply to his request to support him, that the elector would never vote for a Yankee, and a more forcible than polite adjective is sometimes prefixed. As Mr. Hilliard is a Canadian born, descended on his father's side from one of the braves who fought under Wellington in many a dearly bought battle, and on his mother's side from a U. E. Loyalist, his friends have every reason to feel proud of a candidate who is as true and pure a born Briton as breathes in Canada.

The contemptible lie above referred to was intended for a bad and wicked purpose by the unscrupulous supporters of an opponent, who, if they base their hope of success on such conduct, I hope may find themselves sadly disappointed. Mayhap the boomerang of any such personality of reference may strike their own candidate with some force, if it continues to be indulged in.

Yours,

ELECTOR.

Vote for HILLIARD and BURNHAM and the National Policy, under which we are flourishing.

PARLIAMENTARY OATHS.

MADRID, June 7.—It is rumoured in the lobbies of Congress that Senor Sagasta, with the assent of the King, will leave the question of the suppression of parliamentary oaths of allegiance open to the decision of the House. Consequently it is most probable that the report of the committee will be adopted, and the oath abolished this session.

THE DEED OF DEVILS.

VIENNA, Ill., June 7.—J. Boyles was sitting in a chair reading, when unknown parties entered the house, bound him to the chair and held a lamp under his feet till they were burned to a crisp, and then split his head with an axe. After searching the house they ran to Boyles and pushed him on the floor, where the neighbours found him dead. There is no trace of the assassins.

SENATORIAL TOPICS.

NEW YORK, June 7.—The World's Washington says: The hitch in the conference committee over the diplomatic bill is over the Senate amendment appropriating ninety thousand for secret service expenses under the state department. Frelinghuysen avowed to certain Senators that the money was needed to meet expences incurred to counteract European influence in Central and South America, against the right of this government to control the isthmian transit. The department have learned that European agents are kept for the purpose, when by personal effort and other means of persuasions they can do the best service. The House refuses to legitimatize the outlay. The Senate members strongly sanction it. There seems to be a prospect of a failure to agree.

A ROBBER DEAD.

DALLAS, Texas, June 7.—Another of the gang, who tried to rob a train on the Missourie Pacific road, on Monday, was overtaken by a posse and killed.

FAILURE OF CROPS.

ST. LOUIS, June 7.—Letters from the south predict a failure of the cotton crop in the northern Belt line, owing to the incessant rains and cold nights. Whole sections heretofore devoted to cotton and tobacco, have been ploughed up, and corn and other grain substituted. AFFAIRS IN EGYPT.

CAIRO, June 6.—The conference on Egyptian affairs, though neither abandoned nor indefinitely postponed, has been pushed into the background by the action of the Porte. A Constantinople despatch says the German representative, after an audience with the Sultan informed the British ambassador that the Sultan would sustain the Khedive loyally and energetically. Lord Dufferin suggested that the conference hold a formal sitting and adjourn until the termination of Dervish's mission. Four more English ironclads have left Suda bay for Alexandria.

THE KHEDIVE'S LIFE.

CAIRO, June 6.—The military leaders at Cairo held a meeting in Arabi's house, and decided to await the disclosure of the Sultan's intentions by Dervish Pasha. VISITATION OF GOD.

RICHMOND, Va., June 6.—It is stated that a boy in the congregation of the Rev. John Jasper (coloured) who maintains "De Sun do move," told a lie to his mother and said he hoped God would paralyze his tongue if he was not telling the truth. The boy afterwards became dumb. There is great excitement reported among Jasper's congregation.

GUITEAU AND GALLOWS.

WASHINGTON, July 6.—Mr. Reed this morning appeared before Judge Wylie, and moved a motion setting forth that the first, second, fourth, fifth, seventh, and eighth counts of the indictment against Guiteau allege that President Garfield died in the District of Columbia. Other counts allege that he died in New Jersey. The undisputed record shows that General Garfield died in New Jersey. The verdict of the jury was a general verdict on all the counts; the judgment of the court was a general judgment, without specifying particular counts. Judgment should have been specially rendered upon the counts of the indictment supported by the evidence, and not generally upon the entire indictment. The defendant has a lawful right to a truthful record, and should not be embarrassed or jeopardized by a false record. The motion prays that the record and judgment be corrected so as to show and conform to the facts appearing on the record in the cause. Mr. Reed said he was pressed for time, as Guiteau was sentenced to be hung on June 30th, and he had other motions in view which necessitated a clean record. After hearing the authorities of Reed, and frequently interrupting the speaker to point out their inapplicability, Judge Wylie said he was compelled to deny the motion. He did not question the power of the court to correct its record, but it was not for him, sitting in another term, and having no personal knowledge of the record, to undertake to amend it. The general verdict was based upon the good counts in the indictment, the court in passing sentence shutting its eyes to the vicious counts. Guiteau received with outward composure the announcement of the failure of the last effort of Mr. Reed to secure a rehearing of his case. He denounced the court in banc as cowards and cranks, and said God had revealed to him that he was to be taken care of. God, he said, works through human agencies, and President Arthur is to be the agent to save him, if necessary. Mr. Reed has not yet given up the case, and contemplates further action.

PROMOTING STRIFE.

"THE electors of Ontario have now in their own hands the power to confirm or reject the award," Globe, June 6th.

Indeed! Pray how? Even were Ontario to declare unanimously in favour of the award they would not make a majority of the House of the House of Commons and it would require that according to their own showing to secure the Dominion's assent thereto. But then it could not be confirmed without Manitoba's consent, and even if all this were done Sir John Macdonald states on his reputation as a constitutional lawyer, and his opinion has never yet been reversed, that the award would not be worth the paper it is written upon. It is obvious that the Blake-Mowat party's only hope is built upon the existence of interprovincial strife and antagonism, and that they do not care what becomes of the Dominion so long as their own selfish purposes are served. They succeeded in bringing thing to a dead-lock once before. It remains to be seen whether they will succeed now in accomplishing the same feat a second time.

A UNTRUTHFUL DEFENCE.

THE Globe has been driven to defending Mr. Mowat's redistribution bill and in doing so says the changes were made necessary because from increase of population, there were six new members to be added to the 82 already existing. No such thing. The necessity which exists for an increase in the representation of Ontario in the Dominion Parliament every ten years, does not exist so far as the Local Legislature is concerned. Had Mr. Mowat retained the representation at 82 no interests would have suffered while economy would have been promoted. It is to be hoped that Mr. Mowat does not propose to again increase the already overgrown Legislature of Ontario.

"In not one single instance did Mr. Mowat go beyond the municipal boundaries of a county in order to make up his electoral districts," says the Globe of June 6th.

Yes he did. He created the electoral district of Dufferin by taking townships from adjoining counties. At a subsequent period, it is true Mr. Mowat also created this electoral district into a municipal county at the instance of some hungry followers, for whom it was in the interest of the party that offices should be provided. But this followed and did not precede the electoral district.

"In whatever point Mr. Mowat's Redistribution Act is criticised it will be found invulnerable," says the Globe.

Perhaps so but we venture to think, different and as one reason for so thinking we beg to give the fact that while it wiped out the borough of Niagara which did not support Mr. Mowat it continued the two little constituencies of Stormont and Cornwall, in one county, because they did support him.

Vote for our old members, who would secure for us our rightful boundaries, not for supporters of Blake and Laurier, who fears that the Privy Council would give us our rights.

CAMPAIGN NOTES.

THE independent Montreal Star says:—

"It will be noticed that Sir John gives what must be admitted as an excellent reason for bringing on the elections at the present time."

A better reason could not be given than the desire to obtain, after a fair trial, a popular endorsation of the National Policy, for which capitalists are waiting before they care to invest their money in factories. The Opposition have been howling each year for an appeal to the people, and now they shrink from it! As a proof that such a dissolution is not without precedent, there is the fact that not one imperial Parliament has sat out its full term during the last three reigns.

THE Norfolk Reformer, the editor of which is secretary of the local Reform association, and a leading supporter of Mr. Charlton, has the following:—

"Though this gerrymandering bill is the most contemptible and cowardly act of a life stained by all that is mean, despicable, base and fraudulent, we will regard it as a blessing if it culminates in placing our beloved Ontario in the great sisterhood of the United States of America."

We do not believe there is a Conservative who will echo this unpatriotic wish, nor do we believe that there is any decent Reformer who will not be disgusted at this disgraceful abuse of our veteran statesman.

The Reform candidate for the city of London in a public speech last week denounced the National Policy as a "National Fraud." It will be seen that he nearly agrees with Mr. Mackenzie, who in the House of Commons last month called the N. P. "a National Folly and a National Crime." Yet there is a vain attempt made to persuade the electors that the Reform party are not now bitterly opposed to a protective tariff.

AMONG the falsehoods telegraphed to the Globe as to the visit of Sir John Macdonald, one of the most conspicuous is that he concluded his speech without reference to the Disallowance or Boundary questions. Sir John, having already delivered a long address at Lindsay that afternoon, felt some natural fatigue, and as he could not cover the whole ground he offered to explain any particular points to which his attention was invited by the audience. In response to a suggestion he gave a lucid account of the disallowance question, and then, saying that he could not sit down without saying a few words on the boundary award, he dealt with that subject in a very clear and comprehensive manner. All who were present know this, but it is hoped to deceive those who were absent by telegraphic false reports.

THE value of the reports which appear in both the Mail and Globe as to the meetings now being held in every part of the Dominion, received a fitting illustration in the issues of those journals of Tuesday last. While the Mail of that day stated there were 7,000 people present at Sir John Macdonald's meeting in Peterborough on the previous evening, the Globe of the same day says that "it did not turn out a very conspicuous success," and that there was only "a small crowd present," neither of which was correct. While the meeting in question was undoubtedly a great success, under the circumstances, yet it did not require 7,000 people to be present to make it so, and there was not that many present. It would be just as well, and serve the cause a great deal better, were both of our big brethren to to stick a little closer to the truth on such matters.

Vote for BURNHAM and HILLIARD, whose motto is "Canada for the Canadians."

THE TARIFF AND THE ELECTIONS.

THE Monetary Times which every body knows is as "gritty" as such a paper will dare to be, says:—

Mr. Blake reminds us that the present tariff has increased the rate of taxation. It was absolutely necessary to raise more revenue. There had been a series of deficits aggregating between six and seven millions. The first duty of any government to the State must have been to put an end to this condition of things; any Minister of Finance who failed to do so would have been in the last degree culpable and unworthy. When the party now in power said they reform finances without adding to the taxes, would they proposed what was impossible; but in restoring the equilibrium between the revenue and the expenditure, they did, it must be admitted, a statesmanlike and necessary thing.

During the week there has been announced the formation of a national party, containing some prominent names in Toronto. This party declares the tariff a dead issue. Its members are all without exception, we believe, advanced Reformers. The leading organs of the Reform party do not accept this view; while Mr. Blake says, in effect, that manufacturers have nothing to fear from a change of government. The party of which Mr. Blake is the recognized leader is not at one on this question. The Nationalists are only a wing of this party; they declare themselves for the first time and set up a platform on the eve of an election. This is not the way to win confidence. If a new party is to announce a new policy, it should be deliberately when the only object of the move plainly is to make the new views prevail, by force of reiterated argument. That the Opposition shows a divided front on the tariff question concerns the general public only so far as the effect is to create a doubt as to their real position and what may be the result of a change of government. There are advocates of the National Policy who are very decidedly in earnest, and they desire to know exactly where they stand, They believe that safety is to be found only on one side, and in that side they put their trust. They see this broad fact, that one side supports the tariff and the other opposes it; and they believe that the exceptions may betray a fear that a lost cause is being adhered to at the risk of defeat.

It is too late for any party now to change its position on the tariff. No eleventh hour conversion will be of saving efficacy. On the whole, the tariff policy will be decided mainly on the old lines. The public only acts on broad general views. Mr. Blake arraigns the tariff on the ground that it is not perfect. Here he can count on easy victory. He says it is defective, and this few will deny; he says it is unjust, and in some details this also is true. But the public does not expect theoretical perfection; it can overlook minor defects in connection with a scheme which has the merit of having reformed the finances, and it will decide whether the particulars in which the tariff is unjust are sufficiently weighty to counterbalance the general results produced,—the raising of adequate revenue and the encouragement afforded to native manufactures.

Workingmen be true to your own interests, and vote for HILLIARD, your friend.

"A Little Mixed."

The truth is, that the liberals of Montreal are just like the Liberals the country over, including the leaders of the party, a little "mixed," as our neighbours across the line would say. They talk of Free Trade one hour, and spend the next hour explaining that they do not mean Free Trade at all—they simply mean a revenue tariff, slightly protective—that is to say, not quite so high as it is now, and duty off coal and food altogether, so that the two parties are marked by a distinction which means a very little difference in this respect. Mr. Mackenzie declares Protection to be a national crime and digrace, and Mr. Blake dilates against it with cold and cynical eloquence, but when they condescend from the general to the particular they are found to be less dangerous than they appear, or ignorant of the subject, or deceiving the people.—Canadian Spectator.

THE agent of the Milwaukee and St. Paul Railroad, Mr. Kroeger, 451 Virginia street, Milwaukee, Wis., says: "St. Jacobs Oil will always be fondly remembered by me; it cured me both of rheumatism and neuralgia. I consider it an indispensable article of the household, and it never fails to do good."

NORWOOD.

METHODIST DISTRICT MEETING.—The Register says that the annual gathering of the seventeen ministers and an equal number of laymen, elected by their several quarterly meetings, passed off pleasantly in Norwood last week. The strangers were all comfortably billeted and expressed the highest satisfaction with their temporary homes. This meeting is preparatory to the Annual Conference to be held in Toronto in June, and the General Conference in Hamilton in September. The Rev. J. C Wilson was elected to the Stationing Committee, and Mr. Morrison, of Peterborough, and Mr. Ferguson, of Millbrook, to the General Conference. All the funds were well in advance. An interesting public service was held on Tuesday evening.

A CONVERSATION.—A man living in the north-eastern part of the village remonstrated with a surveyor for tramping through an oat-field. The surveyor answered him by saying that he would be spared the trouble of harvesting the oats, as before they would be ready for that operation the "railroad navies" would be in full possession of the field. Mr. C——thinks that this "looks like railroad."

NEW JERSEY SUNKEN FORESTS.

There are in New Jersey, in the township of Dennisville, immense swamps partly covered by thick water weeds and white cedar, and partly by stumps and fallen logs of immense size, which are merely surface indications of wealth below, which consists of sunken forests, of which an exchange gives the following account: These huge trees which lie under swamps to unknown depths are of the white cedar variety, an evergreen known scientifically as the Cypressus Thyoides. They grew years ago in the fresh water, which is necessary for their sustenance, and when, either by a subsidence of the land or a rise of the seas, the salt water reached them they died in great numbers. But many of them, ere they died, fell over as living trees, and were covered slowly by the desposits of muck and peat which fill the swamps. These trees that fell over by the roots are known as windfalls to distinguish them from the breakdowns. The trees which broke off are the ones most sought for commercial uses, and they are found and worked as follows: The log digger enters the swamp with a sharpened iron rod. He probes the soft soil until he strikes a tree, probably two or three feet below the surface. In a few minutes he finds the length of the trunk, how much still remains firm wood, and at what place the first knot, which will stop the straight split necessary for singles, begins. Still using his prod, like the divining-rod of a magician, he manages to secure a chip, and by the smell knows whether the tree is a wind-fall or breakdown. Then he inserts in the mud a saw, like that used by ice cutters, and saws through the roots and muck until the log is reached. The top and roots are thus sawn off, a ditch dug over the trees, the trunk loosened, and soon the great stock, sometimes five or six feet thick, rises and floats on the water, which quickly fills the ditch almost to the surface. The log is next sawn into lengths two feet long, which are split by hand and worded into shingles, as well as into the staves used for pails and tubs. The wood has a course grain, and splits straight as an arrow. The shingles made from it last from sixty to seventy years, and are now eagerly sought for by builders in Southern New Jersey, and command in the market a much higher price than the ordinary shingles made of pine or chestnut. In color the wood of the white cedar is a delicate pink, and it has a strong flavor, resembling that of the red cedar used in making lead pencils. The trees once fairly buried under the swamp never become waterlogged, as is shown by their floating in the ditches as soon as they are pried up, and what is more singular, as soon as they rise they turn underside uppermost. These two facts are mysteries which science has thus far left so. The number of trees which lie below the surface of the ten square miles of swamp is almost numberless. In many places the probe will not be sunk many times before it fails to strike a log. As the workmen only dig for those near the surface, and none but the best trees are selected, it is certain that only a small fraction of the logs have been exhumed since 1812, when the industry first sprang up. The sunken forests lie in all shapes. Sometimes the trees are found parallel, as though a wind blowing from one quarter had felled them, but usually they lie pointing in every direction, and when as occasionally happens, the wet soil sinks or dries, the mighty trunks are seen piled upon each other as in a Maine log jam. It would be impossible to make even an approximate estimate of the vast amount of timber contained in these veritable "timber mines," suffice it is to say, there is as yet hardly a perceptible sign of any diminution of the supply.—Buffalo Lumber World.

Lady Drummers.

A New York paper says that two great firms, at least, in New York city think they have hit upon the very idea. They have each taken some of their youngest, best looking and cheekiest saleslades, (saleswomen is meant) and sent them out on the road with samples to work up the trade, which, under the old system of drumming, was fast slipping away from them. The success of the ladies has been quite phenomenal. We are informed that hardly in a single instance have they failed to secure large orders from the recalcitrant merchants who have "gone back on" the drummers of the bifurcated garments. Surely the astute tradesmen of Gotham are ahead when it comes to the ways and means of securing and holding trade,

BRIGHT'S DISEASE, DIABETES.—Beware of the stuff that pretends to cure these diseases or other serious Kidney, Urinry or Liver diseases, as they only relieve for a time and make you ten times worse afterwards, but rely on Hop Bitters, the only remedy that will surely and permanently cure you. It destroys and removes the cause of disease so effectually that it never returns.

OUR GRANDMOTHERS taught their daughters that "a stitch in time saves nine." A pill in time saves not only nine, but oftimes an incalculable amount of suffering as well. An occasional dose of of Dr. Pierce's Pellets, (Little Sugar-coated Pills), to cleanse the stomach and bowels, not only prevents diseases but often breaks up sudden attacks, when taken in time. By druggists.

MEDICINES taken into the Stomach in concentrated form such as Pills and Powders, are most injurious. THE DOCTOR'S SECRET.—Probably no new development will more surprise the public, than to learn the secret of success of certain leading physicians. When they have a difficult case of throat or lung disease that baffles their scientific skill, they prescribe Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, Coughs and Colds, having it disguised in a prescription bottle, with their own directions and name attached. The patient is cured and they get the credit.—Tribune. Trial bottles free at Taylor & McDonald's Drug Store. Large size $1.—2

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—An EXTERNAL MEANS of CURING SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic; whilst old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalcule which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produce a clear, healthy natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION, a FLUID peculiar in itself, is the most potent enemy to all Skin Disorders. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the least degree comparable for its Healthy Action on the Human Skin.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. Startin, and every year it is used adds more and more favourably to its widly increasing reputation. Anyone, however deeply and hopelessly afflicted with Skin Disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent in a diminished appearance of the malady, a growing tendency to fade away, and complete obliteration of the eruption.

Who will do it?

As has been frequently intimated by Bandmaster Miller and the members of the band, they are not only willing but anxious to play in public once a week, providing they could get the necessary light. Will some of our music loving citizens not take some steps towards attaining this end.

Timely Warning.

Mr. Vennor says the probabilities are that throughout the months of June and July Saturday and Sunday will be the days of change to unfavorable weather. Consequently he adds that it would be well if some other day of the week than Saturday should, when possible be chosen for pleasure excursions. Wednesday for instance, will prove nearly always fair. Saturday, the 10th, will be showery or threatening with local storms.

Y. M. C. A.

We are requested by the Society of the Y. M. C. A. to announce that Mr. Gilbert will conduct a Bible Class in the Lecture room of their Association next Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock and will continue during the summer months to hold this class, once a month. Subject for next Tuesday will be the "Transfiguration." We understand that the Association have secured the services of Dr. Wild, of Toronto, who will lecture in Peterborough, early in the lecture season.

Board of Education.

Tuesday was the regular monthly night of meeting, but at the appointed hour, only the Chairman, Mr. Jas. Stephenson, and Dr. Geo. Burnham, were on hand, so that no meeting could take place. There was but very little if any business to transact, so that the meeting would have lasted but a very short time if any had been held. There is very little use of trying to hold any meeting until after the election excitement is over, and as there is some necessary repairs to be made to the various school buildings it is probable that a special meeting will be held before the schools close.

The 12th of July.

The arrangements for the celebration of the coming anniversary of the 12th of July, are being rapidly pushed forward by the energetic committee who have the matter in hand. The County Lodge holds its semi-annual meeting in Lakefield on Tuesday, the 13th, at which a large attendance of members is looked for. A 'bus will leave the District Orange Hall here at 6.30 p.m., so that all who are desirous of attending should not fail to be on hand. The District Lodge of Peterborough meets here on Thursday, the 15th of June, when it is expected that all those who have subscribed to help on the celebration will have handed in their subscriptions. It is also expected that a full list of all the lodges that have signified their intention of being present will be read. It is to be hoped that every Orangeman why is desirous of seeing the most successful demonstration ever held in Central Ontario will be present at the meeting, and by their presence and otherwise aid all they can.

A Good By-Law.

In Toronto a by-law provides that small pamphlets or "dodgers" are not to be thrown promiscuously around the streets, that dirt or waste from stores shall not be swept out on the streets, that ashes shall not be thrown into the gutters, but that all such refuse shall be placed in boxes or barrels and put outside for scavengers to carry away. Any person, whether he be citizen or visitor, while walking the streets of our town cannot fail to see the necessity there exists for the passage and enforcement of some such by-law here. Paper and refuse of all kinds is swept out on George street and nine out of every ten of the runaways that occur are ascribed to the horses being frightened by flying scraps of paper. We know of one George street merchant who cannot leave his express horse standing in front of his premises from the above cause, and we will undertake to say that there are many others in the same fix. We think the subject well worthy the attention of the Councillors.

EAST PETERBOROUGH.

The Government Sustained—Mr. Burnham's Prospects of Re-election Excellent.

The election campaign in East Peterborough is progressing more favorably for the Conservative candidate than was anticipated at the outset of the contest by the most sanguine supporters of Mr. Burnham; and the canvas is still being vigorously pushed by him and his friends. To augur from the reports received from the different portions of the riding, already canvassed, there is every reason to believe that Mr. Burnham will be returned by a sweeping majority. Though this result was never for a moment doubted, still the leading Conservatives of the riding, along with Mr. Burnham, are working with a determination that will give Conservatives another telling victory on the 20th. At all the meetings so far held by Mr. Burnham, his reception has been remarkably favourable, promising and enthusiastic, without a single exception, and at numerous places he has received promises of support from electors who, at the election of 1878, gave their support to Mr. Buck. The meeting at Norwood, the vicinity of the stronghold of the Grit candidate, gave Mr. Burnham undoubted assurances of their adherence to his cause and standard. The town hall was densely packed by the electors of Norwood and vicinity for miles around, and nearly the whole of the gathering unmistakeably pronounced enthusiastically in his favour, while the attempt to bolster up the cause of his opponent proved an utter failure, and, according to the testimony of many present, highly beneficial to Mr. Burnham, who, without any great effort, entirely refuted the statements uttered by Mr. Roxburgh's champion. The Indian River meeting, held on Monday evening last, was also a decided success, and indicates that Douro will poll a large Conservative vote, larger than that towship has done for many elections back.

On the whole the contest in East Peterborough, though it will be a hot one, as the Grits are leaving no stone unturned to secure victory, promises the return of Mr. Burnham by a telling majority, one that will show the Grit party that the loyal electors of that riding have no desire whatever to go back to the days of deficits, misrule and hard times.

The Weather.

The weather yesterday and last night was decidedly agreeable and to-day it is hot. According to the probs thunder showers may be expected this evening "in some localities," and judging by past experience Peterborough comes in for its share of the storms. The weather probabilities for the following twenty-four hours, as reported from Toronto at 10 a. m. to-day, by the Great Northwestern Telegraph Company, are as follows:—Lakes and Upper St. Lawrence—Fresh to strong southwesterly winds, fair warmer weather, thunder showers to-night in some localities.

The Circus.

The Chicago Daily News says that for some cause or other, the earliest circus is looked upon with suspicion, and the merits of the exhibition have to be circulated by the adventurous ones before the general public "catch on." The Big United States Circus has been an exception to the general rule; business has began good and improved at every performance. The rain yesterday afternoon interfered but little with the grand ring, although it uncomfortably penetrated the menagerie, and the foggy and lowering condition of the evening had a somewhat diminishing effects upon the crowd, although there was a good paying audience present. The collection of animals is a very interesting one, especially so the brood of young ones, which, nursed by the mother, are the offspring of the mastiff, the dam being the a wolf, and the lioness, with her fine fluffy-looking cubs, reminding you of Newfoundland puppies. The hippopotamus is also a noble specimen of the ugliest of the monster mammalia. A great favorite with the young folks is a pony about the size of an Italian greyhound, which the clown carries into the ring. To-day and to-morrow are the last opportunities for the young people, as the circus strikes its tents on Saturday nights after the performance. The "Big United States Circus and Hippo-Zoological Aggregation" will exhibit at Peterborough Thursday, June 15th.

THE MANUFACTURING BOOM.

Four New Factories now in Course of Erection on one Mill Race.

Those who have the slightest doubt that Peterborough under the N. P. is not becoming very rapidly a manufacturing centre, have but to take a short walk along Dickson's race and see the four new factories now in course of construction. During the depression policy of the Mackenzie Government, not a single factory or mill of any moment was established in Peterborough, and the workingmen employed in the manufacturies prior to 1878 were either working half or three quarter time at starvation wages or were walking around the town, while to-day all these men and hundreds of others have steady employment at greatly advanced wages, and the boom continues and as we stated above no less than four new factories are being erected on Dickson's mill race alone.

The first of these is a frame building, 60x40, three stories high and will be occupied by the Messrs. McKee Brothers, furniture frame manufacturers and general planing mill and sash, door and blind factory. This firm now employs upwards of thirty hands and with the increased facilities which will be afforded, they expect to double that number if they can obtain the men. Although established but a short time, this firm does an enormous trade with nearly all the principal places of the Dominion and so busy are they kept that they have had to refuse many large orders, finding it impossible to turn out the work required.

The second is close to the first named, also of frame, three stories high 65x40. It will be occupied by Mr. Forsyth, manufacturer of agricultural implements, pumps, etc., his present factory being far too small to allow of him turning out the amount of work demanded of him.

The third is for Mr. Robert Brodie, and will be used as a portion of the large woollen mill he intends to establish here in the course of a few months. This building will be considerably larger than either of the others mentioned.

A new project, and one of which very little has been heard in public, is the pulp mill, to be established on the Ashburnham side of Dickson's dam, by a number of American capitalists. The machinery has already been ordered from Messrs. J. Whyte & Co., and an Oshawa firm, and is to be ready for placing in position in a few months. Work on the building will be commenced as soon as it is possible to obtain the necessary complement of workmen.

POLITICAL POINTS!

GENTLEMEN,

Recurring again to the subject of politics—these politics that we are trying to talk about, but not a word of this to the ladies. Neither politics nor spring poetry are playthings for women. So by special request, not a word of this to the women.

All of us have made up our minds to give these party claims our most careful consideration. But we go to the jovial ward meeting—and that is, the last of our firm resolve to give an upright, honourable, square-toed, astraddle-the-fence vote.

For whom will you vote?

In answering this, remember that you are not obliged to criminate yourself—the law protects you to that extent. Bless the law!

Do you not notice that there is a more exuberant warmth about the greetings of candidates, and an increase of dignity about the man in overalls not apparent a few weeks ago? If you have not, then you have no vote.

Be jubilant while the present opportunities are on deck. After the campaign they will be laid away and stand up behind the door like an old umbrella.

Also remember that just now we are giving away FINE and MEDIUM TWEED SUITS! Giving them away, gentlemen! Of course we accept a trifling compensation for our cloth, trimmings and make—always did. These concessions to the electorate will last for the next three weeks. Make a note of it.

To the Free and Independent Electors of the

WEST RIDING OF PETERBOROUGH.

GENTLEMEN,—

At the urgent solicitation of my political friends I have consented to be again a candidate for your suffrages at the approaching election.

While I would have preferred not to have been a candidate on the present occasion, yet now that I have placed my services again at your disposal, you may rest assured that no private duty or engagement will be allowed to interfere with the proper discharge of my duties as your representative, should I be honoured with your confidence for the second time.

Although I failed to be present at every division during the recent session, I would venture to challenge my political opponents to specify a single instance in which I have neglected the interests of my constituents or failed to discharge the duties devolving upon me as your representative to the best of my ability and judgment.

During the past four years I have rendered a cheerful support to the government of Sir John A. Macdonald, believing that it has not only redeemed the pledges given previous to the last general election, but that its policy has been and is one eminently calculated to promote the prosperity of the country, and should you again honor me with your confidence I shall continue to give the present government the same cordial support, so long as their policy commends itself to my judgment.

In conjunction with the other representatives from this section of Ontario, I have done all in my power to secure the early construction of the Trent Valley Canal, and the large measure of success which has attended our past efforts should assure the electorate of this district that if their present representatives are re-elected and the present government sustained, this great and long-looked-for work will be brought to an early completion.

As it will be impossible for me to undertake anything like a personal canvas between this and polling day, I trust those favorable to the cause of good government will render me their hearty support without waiting to be asked, and that all the electors will make it a point to attend the meetings which I propose holding in different parts of the constituency for the purpose of public explanation and discussion of the several questions involved in the present campaign.

Again thanking you for the confidence reposed in me in 1878, and soliciting a renewal of the same,

I am, gentlemen,
Your ob't. serv't,

GEO. HILLIARD.

THE CONTENTED MAN, Who is He?

The discussion of this question by an able lecturer was listened to a few evenings ago with interest by large audience.

We venture to think that one of this class may be represented by the head of a family, who has been instructed to purchase a supply of that essential commodity for the table—TEA.

He has an indefinite idea that the article ought to be cheaper on account of the removal of the duty, but when he finds that he can save 10 cents per lb., instead of 5 he is jubilant.

THE CONTENTED MAN is he who gets the full benefit of the reduction of the duty on his tea for this year by making a saving of, say $3.00 on a purchase of 30 lbs.

Prove it by inspecting my stock of JAPANS AND YOUNG HYSONS.

Daily Evening Review

THURSDAY, JUNE 8, 1882.

TORONTO.

Special to the Review, June 8.

IT IS LEARNED that at the manufacturers meeting here the utmost confidence was expressed in the administration of the present Government. A committee was appointed to set before the electors of Ontario the advantages that have resulted from the National Policy, and the still greater advantages that will follow if the policy is still preserved.

Vote for HILLIARD and BURNHAM and the National Policy, under which we are flourishing.

An Official Car.

The official car of the old Toronto and Nippissing Railway came here to-day with some of the railway officials. It is not as handsome as the Midland car.

Shipment of Cattle.

Mr. J. Duncan, of Buffalo, has shipped to to that city fifty more head of fine cattle. It is plainly proven by the great demand and the high prices paid that there is lots of money in raising good cattle.

American Canoe Association.

The many friends of Mr. N. H. Bishop the former secretary of the Association, will be glad to learn that he has returned to his home at Lake George, after his long cruise in the south. A letter just received by a member of last year's Peterborough contingent expresses the hope that a large party of Canadian canoemen will visit Lake George this year. He also speaks of the probability of the camp of the association being held next year in this vicinity, which he thinks would be the cause of promoting canoeing, and the interests of the association. He speaks highly of the map sent him by Mr. T. D. Belcher, showing in detail the waters of the Trent Valley Navigation.

Knave and Fools Invited.

It is all very well for the chief organ of the Reform party to appeal to former friends to come to the rescue of the party now, and save it from annihilation. But in many quarters the appeal will not meet with a ready response. The organ has been abusing these people for years and can hardly expect them to swallow all its abuse and meekly turn around and do its bidding. After the rout of September, 1878, it denounced the manufacturers of Ontario as knaves, and the farmers as fools, and now it has the hardihood to appeal to these same "knaves" and "fools" to come to its aid, and help to overturn the Government.—Toronto Telegram.

STILL UNEASY.

CONSTANTINOPLE, June 8.—It is learned from Arabian sources that Arabi Pacha is acting in conjunction with Sheik Oum Um Refik, brother of the late Grand Sheriff of Mecca, whose assassination it was believed was investigated by the Sultan. They are secretly fanning disloyalty among the tribes of Hedjaz in the North of Arabia and Syria, and encouraging them to throw of the Turkish yoke and proclaim an Arabian Caliphate. The Sultan has informed the Foreign representatives that he is prepared to go almost any length to prevent the proposed Constantinople conference which he regards as a direct infringement on his rights as Sultan.

THE POOR JEWS.

CONSTANLINOPLE, June 8.—A deputation representing over 40 Russian and Roumanian Jewish communities urges Gen. Wallace to exert his good officers with the Sultan to enable them to colonize Syria in groups of from 200 to 1000. The Jewish refugees here are starving and more are still coming. Wallace asked instructions from Washington.

NEW YORK, June 8.—The Tribune's Washington special says that comment upon the tariff commission nominations is generally favourable and is certainly so among the Repnblicans.

GUILTY OF MURDER.

HIRKIMER, June 8.—Jack Walsh who killed his wife at Little Falls Feb 5th. was last night found guilty in the second degree.

FAILURE.

NASHVILLE, June 8.—A. B. Tavee seal printer has failed with liabilities of $50,000.

STRIKE ENDED.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., June 8.—The great strike of the cigar makers here, which lasted five months, is now ended, chiefly because plenty of workmen have been secured, and owing to the failure of the funds upon which the strikers relied.

DRINK'S DOINGS.

COHOES, N. Y., June 8.—This moring Lorenzo Greeman, suffering from delerium tremens, followed his wife, aged 60, half a mile to the bridge crossing the Erie street basin of the Cohoes Water Power Company's canal. Here he seized her and a struggle ensued. The woman's stength gave way and she dropped into the water. Greeman followed and watched the woman's struggles. Mrs. Greeman was rescued by Gemer Adams, a clerk in the post office. Greeman has been arrested.

THE IRON STRIKES.

MILWAUKEE, June 8.—Yesterday representatives of the North Chicago Rolling Mill Co., held a conference with delegates from the various departments of the mill with a view to arriving at arrangements relative to a number of matters involved in the great strike. It is understood that the manufacturers here are willing to meet the workmen halfway and allow them a part of the advance where such is possible. It is expected that at the conference on Friday arrangements will be made to start up several departments next week. The workmen are elated at the hope the difficulties will be amicably adjusted. Interviews with the manufacturers developed the fact that they dreaded to cede a number of important points although they claim that they only decided upon the advances which seem necessary and just to them.

PROPOSED MILL.

WHEELING, W. Va., June 8.—The authorities have learned that a prize fight is arranged to take place in Brook County on Monday morning between Jim Weedin and Owen Malony, of Pittsburg, for $1,000 a side. The Sheriff is prepared to stop the fight.

MURDER.

PELHAM, N. C., June 8.—Iverson Slade (coloured) shot and killed his sister-in-law yesterday The cause is unknown. Slade surrendered and refused to speak. Lynching is threatened.

THE ASCOT RACES.

ASCOT, June 8.—The St. James' palace stake for three year old, was won by Battlefield, Garret 2nd, Lorillard's Sachem 3rd. Eight Started.

PENNSYLVANIA N. J. June 8.—Brody denies that Gallagher was found in the river with three bricks fastened to his arm on Friday. He was reported as drowned by the capsizing of a boat and had three companions. The matter is being investigated.

A DEAD PROJECT.

NEW YORK, June 8.—The Herald's Washington special says that one of the incorporators of the national Railway between New York and Washington states that the project is practically dead, as no company could ever build the road under the conditions imposed by the proposed amendments to the incorporating bill prepared by the House committee.

BEAT THE RECORD.

REDWING, Minn., June 8.—In the races of the Northwestern circuit yesterday, pacer Little Brown Jug, made the fastest time ever paced on a half mile track, time 2.16½.

A NEW ENTERPRISE.

Shipping Grain to Europe—An Engagement with the Prop. St. Magnus.

The completion of the enlarged new Welland Canal, a piece of Canadian enterprise, was announced a month or so ago. This new canal admits of the passage of craft double the dimensions the old canal did, and great steam and sail vessels drawing 14 feet of water can now ply between the St. Lawrence River and Duluth, the head of navigation on Lake Superior. Thus cargoes from Duluth, Chicago, and all lake ports can be carried to Montreal and then put aboard ocean-going craft for Europe and all parts of the world. Or cargoes can be taken to and brought from Europe and other ports in the lake craft without breaking bulk at all. The era of through navigation from and to the lakes has arrived, and is something of the present. The first large craft to arrive in Chicago, says the Inter-Ocean, from the St. Lawrence is the propeller St. Magnus, which made the harbor on Thursday. As if to take in the entire circuit of the St. Lawrence and lake route, she went from Montreal to Duluth, where she discharged a cargo, and from there came to Chicago. She was chartered during the afternoon and will take a large cargo of corn and other freight from here to Montreal on a through rate to Europe. The St. Magnus is 180 feet long, measures 800 tons, and is a full cabin boat, having good accommodation for passengers as well as freight. She is a strong, staunch craft throughout. Captain D. A. Kiah is in command. A project for a line of steamers like the St. Magnus, to ply regularly between the St. Lawrence and Chicago is well advanced and this trip of the St. Magnus is a great deal of an experiment. There is great depression in lake freights just now, and rates are very low, but the present trip will prove a success, and with freights improved, as they certainly will improve, the line will be put on, and Allan's line of steamships out of Montreal will then compete on through rates to Europe with the steamship lines out of Portland, Boston, New York, Philadelphia, and Baltimore. The St. Magnus will get away during Friday afternoon for Montreal.—Kingston Whig.

ENNISMORE.

From Our Own Correspondent.

CHEESE FACTORY.—The Myrtle Cheese Factory commenced operations on Monday, the 22nd May, with very favourable prospects. Although the full supply of milk has not yet been attained, Mr. Cribbins has already made a quantity of fine cheese, from 60 to 70 lbs. weight. The Directors have appointed their officers required at present, so that we will soon be able to take our place at the cheese market in Peterborough, when we expect, through the management of Mr. Cribbins, we will be second to none. The progress of our enterprise will be watched with interest, not only by those who have already joined, but those who yet intend doing so, should all go well during the year.

CROP PROSPECTS.—The crops are making little progress, owing to the quantity of rain falling, the soil not yet attaining much warmth for the first week in June. The rain storm of last Saturday has made the roads bad in some localities, a very uncommon thing at this time of the year,

The record, wages higher, food and clothing cheaper. Vote for HILLIARD and BURNHAM.

An Undelivered Speech.

A correspondent writes us a good thing as follows:—"While travelling on the Northern railway the other day a gentleman, who is a Conservative, happened to get drawn into a discussion with a Grit merchant, an elector of North Simcoe, the point under discussion being the boundary award. As a matter of course, the 'red herring' man soon found himself getting worsted. A friend of his, a Grit lawyer doing business not a hundred miles fron Stayner, sitting near, and noticing his friend's discomfiture, boldly rushed in to his rescue, and displaying a much greater amount of conceit than knowledge of the subject under discussion, the gentleman aforesaid, getting somewhat riled, turned to him and severely demanded, 'Have you, sir, read the reports of the debates on this matter?' 'Yes, sir, I have,' replied the limb of the law, 'Have you read Mr. Blake's speech upon it?' was again demanded. 'Yes, I have,' was again replied. 'Well, sir, you are the only man in this broad Dominion who has,' he was told. It is needless to add that the discussion ended here, and that the man of law at once decided to avoid all discussion on politics for the future."—Mail.

AN EXPLANATION.

To the Readers of the Review:

It is seldom that a journalist is called upon to bring his own personality before his readers, but in consequence of the persistent breach of this wholesome rule by the Examiner, which is continually making false and cowardly attacks upon Mr. John Carnegie personally, I feel that I am compelled in justice to my partner, to myself, and to our readers, to state the facts plainly.

The publishers of the REVIEW are Messrs. Toker & Co.—The editors of the REVIEW are Messrs. E. J. Toker and John Carnegie, who are equally responsible for all that appears in the editorial columns. The have also, as is necessary for a daily paper, a staff of reporters in town and country, the character of whose writings they are generally responsible for without being able to verify at the moment each of their statements, or to revise every expression they use.

No one is better aware of these facts than the Examiner, yet ever since we succeeded Mr. Romaine in this office, it has for personal and malicious motives violently assailed Mr. Carnegie by name or innuendo, twisting to his disadvantage everything that could be so used that has appeared in our columns, censuring him personally for articles written by others, sometimes in his absence, and for reports that he did not even see till published. In short a constant attempt has been made to excite enmity against Mr. Carnegie.

As an instance of this to-day's Examiner contains a letter which I am convinced was concocted in their own office, for I think too highly of Irishmen to believe that there is one man in Ennismore or from Galway, who would make such a cowardly and unfounded attack upon a gentleman like Mr. Carnegie, when the writer shows by his own letter that he knew the report in question was written, not by Mr. Carnegie, but by a reporter, nor would have misrepresented an account sympathising with the emigrants for their present state, and rejoicing at the prospect of an improvement of their circumstances in this country, as an attack upon them. As a matter of fact Mr. Carnegie did not see the report till the following morning.

In the same issue of the Examiner, as is constantly the case, Mr. Carnegie is also villified for articles for which he has no separate and personal responsibility.

I regret to have had to intrude myself personally upon your attention in this manner, but a regard for justice compells me to show the baseness and baselessness of these vindictive assaults upon Mr. John Carnegie.

THE PREMIER'S VISIT.

THE impromptu visit of Sir John Macdonald had a very good effect, and his enthusiastic reception must have been very gratifying to our veteran statesman. His speech in the drill shed was an excellent one, and though of course, after speaking for some hours that afternoon at Lindsay, he could not be expected to cover the whole ground, he gave such a clear explanation of his views on the chief questions of the day as fully satisfied the vast majority of his very numerous and attentive audience.

Beginning with the National Policy, he showed how he and his friends had year after year advocated the protection of our native industries, while the Reformers had as persistently opposed it. It was not a matter that they had taken up on the eve of an election for political effect, and he challenged friend or foe to deny that they had fulfilled their pledges as soon as they were placed in power by the country. As to the criticism that he had not raised the tariff when previously in office, he showed conclusively that owing to the civil war the then existing tariff was sufficient protection against the manufacturers of the States. Amidst much laughter he compared those manufacturers who, though greatly benefitted by the N. P., now voted against him, to hogs feeding on chestnuts without looking up to thank the boy who shook them from the tree above them.

Turning to the railway and land policy of the government, he showed how the railway was being rapidly constructed with money derived from the land sales, and yet there was land enough to give free homesteads to all who could apply for them for half a century.

The Trent Valley Canal received due attention from Sir John, who related how he had only just been in time to prevent Mr. Mackenzie from handing over the works to Mr. Mowat to be destroyed for the pecuniary gain of some of his greedy supporters. His pledge to complete this important work was most satisfactory to his hearers, confirming the hopes that had already been excited by the substantial sum recently voted for construction.

Having explained the matter of the disallowance of the Streams Bill, he declared, with an outburst of true eloquence, that while in power he would never shrink from defending from spoliation the rights even of the humblest man in the Dominion, even if he knew that he would be driven from office in consequence. He told his hearers that the recommendation of disallowance was copied word for word from a similar document of the Reformers in reference to a Prince Edward Island measure disallowed by them, and with stinging sarcasm pointed out the wide difference made by Mr. Blake and his colleagues between the case of a small province like the Island with few votes, and a powerful province like Ontario where they might hope to make some political capital.

His explanation of the Boundary Question was equally clear. He maintained as a constitutional lawyer that the award was invalid, and showed that any delay in obtaining our rights was due to the Reformers, as he had pressed them ten years ago to submit the case to the Privy Council, which alone could settle it without imperial legislation. Going into the history of the matter, he showed that the Indian right to the land had been acquired at great cost to the Dominion under Mr. Mackenzie's government as well as under his own, and that when the territory was awarded to Ontario she would have to recoup this past expenditure and assume the liabilities of the Dominion in this respect, so that the exaggerated estimates of the value of the territory to us were absurd.

On every point upon which he touched Sir John threw light which modified the views of many of his hearers.

Vote for BURNHAM and HILLIARD, whose motto is "Canada for the Canadians."

CAMAPIGN NOTES.

WE find the following paragraph in the Montreal Star:—

"Evidence of the way capital is flowing into our great North-West is found in the statement that there are in the Winnipeg banks, on deposits by immigrants, at least five million of dollars. This enormous sum is the surplus brought by immigrants, which they deposit till opportunity for investment offers or necessity for expenditure occurs."

During the Reform reign of depression and the slow construction of the C. P. Railway with the funds of the whole Dominion, we never heard of such an influx of immigrants, nor of such large sums of money being brought in to enrich the country and to share in bearing its present indebtedness.

THE Independent Toronto Telegram contains the following opinions unfavourable to the N. P.:—

"I'd like to know what the N. P. has done for my business.—The Pawnbroker.
Yes, and for mine too. The Note Shaver.
And I'll vote against it. The Bailiff."

* * *

MR. MOWAT, Premier of Ontario, is stumping on behalf of his political allies in the Dominion. Of course his chief object is to show the close agreement between "Reform" precept and practice.

MR. LUNDY and Mr. Roxburgh in their addresses, maintain that Ontario is "robbed" by the refusal to ratify the Boundary award. Sir F. Hincks, one of the arbitrators does not agree with them, for he has published a pamphlet in which he explains and confesses the injustice with which Ontario was treated by them. He says:—

"It is not a little singular that the award was promptly accepted by Ontario, although the only questions of doubt were decided in favor of the Dominion. Both on the west and north the doubts were whether Ontario should not have had more territory."

And again he says in the same pamphlet:—

"The arbitrators made no secret of their decision on the main points in controversy, and they were strongly urged by a Dominion officer, Col. Dennis, to save the great cost of surveys and the inconvenience that would attend such a line as the first by connecting the two points by the natural boundary of the Albany river and other water communications. It has been already pointed out that the Hudson Bay Company offered on two occasions to accept the Albany river as their southern boundary. The effect of selecting the natural boundary was, as anyone can see from the map, to take from Ontario a considerable quantity of land and to give it to the Dominion, so that the latter ought not to complain that the natural boundary was preferred."

We must confess we prefer the decision of the highest court of the empire, which will give Ontario its due, rather than an irregular tribunal which confessedly decided every question of doubt against us, and took a considerable quantity of land from us to give it to the Dominion.

IF Mr. Roxburgh were an eligible candidate, and his cause were a good one, it would not be necessary for his friends to misrepresent his occupation in the hope of catching a few votes from deceived electors. The Examiner to-day repeats the falsehood that Mr. Roxburgh is a farmer, but we have no answer to our enquirers as to where his farm is situated, orw ho long he has owned it.

The Popular Voice.

The Hamilton Spectator writes as follows:—"The Grits have made the same mistake that their friends have made all over the country. The names of Mr. James E. Merlihan and Mr. Stull, old time Grits, who never voted anything but the straight party ticket, were put on the list of committee men for the Reform candidate, Mr. Innis. Both gentlemen write to the Conservative Herald to repudiate the committee business. They say that the names was put in without their consent, and announce their intention of voting for the National Policy condidate."

N. H. DOWNS' Vegetable Balsamic ELIXIR!

This valuable medicine is purely vegetable, the discovery of which was the result of many years' close study, in order to discover the cause, the symptoms and the cure—viz.:

Consumption, Coughs, Colds, Catarrh, Croup, Asthma, Influenza, Pleurisy, Hoarseness, Spitting Blood, Bronchitis,

and every species of oppression of the Chest and Lungs. In all cases where this Elixir has been duly administered its efficacy has been invariably manifested, convincing the most incredulous that is not incurable, if properly attended to.—Consumption, at its commencement, is but a slight irritation of the membrane which covers the lungs; then an inflammation when the cough is more observable, but rather dry; then becomes local fever and the paisemore frequent, the cheeks flushed and chills more common. This Elixir in curing the above complaints, operates so as to remove all morbid irritations and inflammation from the lungs to the surface, and finally expel them from the system. It facilitates expectoration,

CONSUMPTION

IT HEALS THE ULCERATED SURFACES

and relieves the cough and makes the breathing easy. It supports the strength and at the same time reduces the fever. It is free from strong opiate and astringent articles, which are of so drying a nature as to be in great danger of destroying the patient; whereas this medicine never dries or stops the cough, but, by removing the cause, generally destroys the hectic before the cough is entirely gone. Consequently, when the cough is cured the patient is well. Send address for pamphlet giving full directions for cure of pulmonary diseases. Price 25cts. and $1 per bottle. Sold everywhere.

LINDSAY.

THE OPERA HOUSE.—The Post says that the repairs and refitting of the opera house will have to stand over until after the elections. A proposition has been made to Mr. Bradburn by the committee, but as that gentleman is at present from home, no answer has been received.

HORSES.—Mr. W. Weese shipped a carload of seventeen horses to Boston the other day. The prices ranged from $55 to $225—the latter for a fine bay mare, 6 years old, raised by Mr. John Cullis of Fenlon. Mr. Weese wants heavy horses and good drivers.

THE BOOM.—The trenches for the foundation of Mr. Jas. Hamilton's extension are already dug, and the material for the building is on the ground. As soon as Mr. Williams, who has the contract for the brick work for Mr. Hamilton, can get through with the Sylvester works, he will make a start getting up the walls. Mr. Hamilton is putting in steam power to run his machines, and has purchased his boiler and engine, the latter of twelve horse-power. This week he ships a quantity of work to Montreal.

REMOVING.—Messrs. B. Mowry & Son have decided to remove to Gravenhurst their foundry and machine business, and a part of the plant used in Lindsay has already gone forward. They anticipate that a favorable trade can be done in their line at Gravenhurst, a large amount of repairing and new work being constantly required by the large sawmills in that vicinity. We regret very much that the Messrs. Mowry have decided to leave Lindsay. They have always been most obliging, and the party who went to them in a fix over his machines was always sure of prompt and cheerful assistance. We have no doubt that they will work up a large trade in their new location and that the lumbermen will appreciate the convenience of getting what they may need done almost at their doors.

OBITUARY.—The Warder says that there was but one expression, and that of heartfelt sympathy and genuine regret, as the funeral cortege of Tuesday last wended its mournful way through the streets of this town. There was no feigning of sorrow, no forced tears, as the remains of William McDonnell jr. were escorted to their last resting place in Riverside Cemetery. The funeral was probably the largest ever witnessed in Lindsay, and from the time the procession left the family residence until the service at the church was completed the streets were lined with spectators and sympathisers. The Lindsay and Omemee companies of the 45th Batt., in which the deceased held a captaincy, along with the band, turning out to do honor to the memory of their lamented officer the customary three rounds being fired over the grave. All places of business were closed as the procession passed through the town. In addition to the many carriages, and citizens on foot, the members of the bar turned out in a body. The deceased was the only son of Mr. Wm. McDonnell one of the earliest settlers in Lindsay, where he was born in 1849, being at his death in his 33rd year. Accomplished, of a most amiable disposition, and a general favourite, the remembrance of William McDonnell jr., will long linger in the memories of those who knew him best. His family have the heartliest sympathy of the community in their sudden bereavement.

COBOURG.

ACCIDENT.—The Sentinel-Star says that while the conductor of the G. T. R. dining-car was passing from one car to another on Saturday night near Trenton, a gust of wind blew him off the train, breaking one of his arms.

RE-ORGANIZED.—We believe the Longshoremen's Union in this town has been re-organized, with Charles Martin as President and James Taylor, Secretary. We think, however, if the Union is to work properly, and the purpose for which it was organized carried out, the members will have to act in harmony with one another, which, we are sorry to learn, was not the case last season.

RUNAWAY.—While Mr. T. Comrie was delivering flour for Mr. A. Pratt on Tuesday afternoon last, near "the commons" in Corktown some mischievous rascal threw a large piece of hard dirt at one of the horses, which frightened them, causing the team to run away. They gallopped down the commons until the waggon struck a bank, when it upset and the horses were stopped by two young fellows who happened to be near. Considerable damage was done to the waggon and the driver received a severe cut on one of his fingers. Steps have been taken to make the young miscreant who caused the trouble to pay for his thoughtlessness.

THE NEW PRESBYTERIAN BELL.—The World says that the new bell, for the Presbyterian Church in this town, has arrived, and is being placed in position. It is a fine bell, weighing 1400 pounds, and gives out a clear and well-sounding peal. We congratulate the congregation on its arrival, and should be glad to see a good bell on each of the other churches now without one. The difference between the price of this bell and the metal in the old one, which had been cracked for many years, was kindly donated by Mr. Robert Mulholland.

COURT OF REVISION.—The Court Revision for Harvey was held at the town hall, on Monday the 29th of May, 1882. Wm. Bick's assessment was reduced $75; Francis Freeman's was allowed to stand as assessed; part of lot 16 con. 10, was changed from Mossom Boyd's assessment to W. T. Robinson & Co's., assessment; West half of lot 24 con. 16, was changed from Reuben Clark's to Wm. Ventress' assessment, and Reuben Clark entered for part of lot 23 con. 16. Several errors and omissions in copying the roll were corrected and the assessment roll as revised finally passed, when the members of the court resumed in council. Patrick Murphy's taxes for 1881 were erased from the collector's roll. The collector returned his roll to the treasurer. Thomas Nichols, pathmaster on beat No. 6, was authorized to procure a road scraper from Peter Hamilton. James Crowley was allowed to commute 25 days of statute labour in building a bridge between two of his islands under the inspection of the pathmaster. Orders drawn on the treasurer in favour of James Weir, salary as assessor and postage $40.60; Wm. Ventress, salary as collector and postage, $51; James Hicks and W. P. Chase, each $2 as auditors; Peter N. Murdock for work done on side line between lot 24 and 25, con. 19, $6. Wm. J. Northy was appointed road commissioner to expend $300 on the roads in South Harvey, and John Tate was appointed road commissioner to expend $250 on the roads in North Harvey. The Council adjourned to meet at Lark Hall, on the 10th of July next.

THE WEATHER.—Cold by day, frosty at night and rain all through has been the kind of weather we have had in this part of the country for the last ten days. Still, the spring crops look very well, and the meadows have improved wonderfully. At one time it looked as if the hay crop was going to be nowhere. One or two well-off farmers in this section have a considerable stock of old hay and are holding on to it, but these gentlemen will have to sell it, as the new crop of hay has every appearance of being a good one.

SAW LOGS.—Messrs. Ullyot and Saddler had a large drive of saw logs pass through last week, consisting of 45,000 logs, en route to their mills at Harwood—P. Bergin, foreman. A large drive is expected here in a few days, consisting of 190,000 logs, belonging jointly to the Messrs. Rathbun and Ullyot and Saddler. The logs will be assorted at Harwood Mills, Rice Lake.

MR. LUNDY'S CIRCULAR.—There came through this Post Office one day last week, a circular to all the electors, announcing that Mr. Hilliard had declined the first nomination etc., as a candidate, and another in the form of an address from J. J. Lundy. This is a new dodge got up. The most of the voters around this section, will vote for Mr. Lundy to stay at home, and attend to his own office business. Mr. Hilliard on the other hand will be sent to Ottawa for the second time, to attend to the best interests of our country, and this constituency in particular. Mr. Hilliard is a sample of what a public man ought to be, and that is supporting good and useful measures for the benefit of the whole Dominion, not party all the time.

THE question involved in a St. Louis lawsuit was whether a wink, said to have been made by the defendant, qualified the words which he uttered at the time. The jury decided against the wink theory.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—AN EXTERNAL MEANS of CURING SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic; whilst old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them, It destroys the animalculæ which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produce a clear, healthy natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION, a FLUID peculiar in itself, is the most potent enemy to all Skin Disorders. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the least degree comparable for its Healthy Action on the Human Skin.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. Startin, and every year it is used adds more and more favourably to its widly increasing reputation. Anyone, however deeply and hopelessly afflicted with Skin Disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent in a diminished appearance of the malady, a growing tendency to fade away, and complete obliteration of the eruption.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—BOTTLES CONTAINING NEARLY HALF A PINT.—SOLD BY CHEMISTS EVERYWHERE. Made in London, Eng.

Daily Evening Review

THURSDAY, JUNE 8, 1882.

It was Wanted.

A new sidewalk has been laid on the west side of Bethune street, from Brock to Hunter. It has been badly wanted for some months.

The N. P.

Three carloads of flour were shipped from Hastings over the Grand Junction on Wednesday, for Summerside, Prince Edward Island. Score another for the N. P.

Commenced Work.

The large sawmill belonging to the Dickson estate, has commenced cutting for the season. A large number of men are employed, and an extra large quantity of lumber will be cut this season.

The Pay List.

The regular fortnightly pay list, of men employed on street and bridge work, has been presented to the town Treasurer, by the street and bridge Inspecter. It amounts to $375.68, which however includes payment for a considerable quantity of lumber.

The Ennismore Picnic.

We understand an enormous crowd is expected at the picnic to be held in Ennismore on Wednesday June 14th. We believe that both the candidates to represent the riding in the House of Commons are to be invited to be present. The contest for the cane is expected to be lively and every arrangement has been made for the amusement and comfort of those who attend. A "good time" may be expected.

Personal.

Messrs. H. Calcutt and R. B. Rogers, are home from Winnipeg.

Messrs. H. P. Dwight, W. Gooderham, J. M. Ferris, M. P. P. and Lewis Ross, directors of the Midland Railway, F. C Taylor, Mayor of Lindsay, J. C. Bailey, Chief Engineer of the Toronto and Ottawa division of the Midland, and J. Hoggas, Mechanical Superintendant of the same road are in town.

Mr. Geo. A. Cox and family start this evening on a short trip to Europe.

The Campaign.

There was a very fair attendance of the members of the various Liberal Conservative ward committees at the old Music hall last night, and considerable work was accomplished. There will be another meeting this evening at the same place when a full attendance is requested. To-morrow (Friday) night, Mr. Hilliard opens the campaign in town, by holding a meeting in the Opera House. We expect that the electors will turn out in large numbers, as discussion is invited.

The Weather.

The weather continues fine and warm, rather too warm in fact. The thunder shower promised yesterday came during the early portion of the night, but did not amount to much. Showers are promised again and will probably come. The weather probabilities for the following twenty-four hours, as reported from Toronto at 10 a. m. to-day, by the Great Northwestern Telegraph Company, are as follows:—Lakes—Moderate to fresh winds mostly southwesterly. Continued fair warm weather with showers in some localities.

Cheese Market.

The regular fortnightly cheese market was held at the drill shed on Wednesday afternoon, when nearly all the leading factories in this and neighboring counties were represented. Mr. W. H. Wrighton purchased all the cheese offered at 9⅛ cents. It was all of the May make. The following are the factories and the number of cheeses sold by each:—

Runaway Accident.

On Wednesday evening, as a lady was driving down George street, her horse was frightened, it is supposed by a loud peal of thunder, and ran from Murray street down, the lady holding the lines and keeping the excited animal well under control. Just as she had about succeeded in bringing the horse to a stop, the buggy collided with a waggon standing in front of A. Hall's tinshop, the horse ran through the harness, the lady was thrown forward on the road, and the buggy turned completely upside down. Those who witnessed the affair felt confident that the lady was seriously injured, and medical aid was summoned, but in a few minutes she recovered, and was taken home. We are now glad to hear that she is all right.

POLICE COURT.

DRUNK AND DISORDERLY.

WEDNESDAY, June 7.—J. Adlum was acting in disorderly manner on George Street yesterday afternoon, while under the influence of liquor, and upon being cautioned by P. C. McGhee he became abusive and refused to keep quiet or move off, so at last the officer took him into custody, but our bold John was headstrong and refused to move, so a cart was procured, he was thrown on it and driven to the cells, where he passed the night let us hope comfortably.

This morning he was brought before the Magistrate and was remanded to gaol so that he might be in a fit state for trial.

DRUNK AND DISORDERLY.

THURSDAY, June 8.—John Adlum appeared on remand, to a charge of being drunk and disorderly in a public place.

P. C. McGHEE detailed the circumstances as given by us yesterday.

The PRISONER admitted that he had been drunk, but said he was on his way home, when the officer interfered, and if he had not been annoyed by a lot of boys he would not have made any disturbance.

The MAGISTRATE lectured the prisoner, and fined him $5, or 21 days in gaol.

POLITICAL POINTS!

GENTLEMEN,

Recurring again to the subject of politics—these politics that we are trying to talk about, but not a word of this to the ladies. Neither politics nor spring poetry are playthings for women. So by special request, not a word of this to the women.

All of us have made up our minds to give these party claims our most careful consideration. But we go to the jovial ward meeting—and that is, the last of our firm resolve to give an upright, honourable, square-toed, astraddle-the-fence vote.

For whom will you vote?

In answering this, remember that you are not obliged to criminate yourself—the law protects you to that extent. Bless the law!

Do you not notice that there is a more exuberant warmth about the greetings of candidates, and an increase of dignity about the man in overalls not apparent a few weeks ago? If you have not, then you have no vote.

Be jubilant while the present opportunities are on deck. After the campaign they will be laid away and stand up behind the door like an old umbrella.

Also remember that just now we are giving away FINE and MEDIUM TWEED SUITS! Giving them away, gentlemen! Of course we accept a trifling compensation for our cloth, trimmings and make—always did. These concessions to the electorate will last for the next three weeks. Make a note of it.

To the Free and Independent Electors of the WEST RIDING OF PETERBOROUGH.

GENTLEMEN,—

At the urgent solicitation of my political friends I have consented to be again a candidate for your suffrages at the approaching election.

While I would have preferred not to have been a candidate on the present occasion, yet now that I have placed my services again at your disposal, you may rest assured that no private duty or engagement will be allowed to interfere with the proper discharge of my duties as your representative, should I be honoured with your confidence for the second time.

Although I failed to be present at every division during the recent session, I would venture to challenge my political opponents to specify a single instance in which I have neglected the interests of my constituents or failed to discharge the duties devolving upon me as your representative to the best of my ability and judgment.

During the past four years I have rendered a cheerful support to the government of Sir John A. Macdonald, believing that it has not only redeemed the pledges given previous to the last general election, but that its policy has been and is one eminently calculated to promote the prosperity of the country, and should you again honor me with your confidence I shall continue to give the present government the same cordial support, so long as their policy commends itself to my judgment.

In conjunction with the other representatives from this section of Ontario, I have done all in my power to secure the early construction of the Trent Valley Canal, and the large measure of success which has attended our past efforts should assure the electorate of this district that if their present representatives are re-elected and the present government sustained, this great and long-looked-for work will be brought to an early completion.

As it will be impossible for me to undertake anything like a personal canvas between this and polling day, I trust those favorable to the cause of good government will render me their hearty support without waiting to be asked, and that all the electors will make it a point to attend the meetings which I propose holding in different parts of the constituency for the purpose of public explanation and discussion of the several questions involved in the present campaign.

Again thanking you for the confidence reposed in me in 1878, and soliciting a renewal of the same,

I am, gentlemen,
Your ob't. serv't.,

GEO. HILLIARD.

THE CONTENTED MAN,

Who is He?

The discussion of this question by an able lecturer was listened to a few evenings ago with interest by large audience.

We venture to think that one of this class may be represented by the head of a family, who has been instructed to purchase a supply of that essential commodity for the table—TEA.

He has an indefinite idea that the article ought to be cheaper on account of the removal of the duty, but when he finds that he can save 10 cents per lb., instead of 5 he is jubilant.

THE CONTENTED MAN is he who gets the full benefit of the reduction of the duty on his tea for this year by making a saving of, say $3.00 on a purchase of 30 lbs.

Prove it by inspecting my stock of JAPANS AND YOUNG HYSONS.

LETTER FROM BRANDON.

To the Editor of the Review.

DEAR SIR,—I arrived here from Stonewall about two weeks ago, as agent for Messrs. Jackson & McArthur also Johnston & Co., the first firm are erecting a block of eight stores and an hotel. I am besieged every day by applicants for the stores, seven for each one, and when it is known by your readers that the occupant takes the shop without counter or fixtures they can form a slight idea of the demand. A shop like Mr. Geo. Rubidge's, in size, rents for from $40 to $50 per month according to location.

Brandon is beautifully situated on the south bank of the Assiniboine and is said to surpass any city on the C. P. R. One year ago only three tents were to be seen, now places of business and houses were going up as if by magic. There are two or three hundred tents some of them are very large and are used as hotels, the names given to them are high sounding, such as the Rossin, Queens, Tabernacle, (formerly the Methodist Church) Bungalow, Grand Union etc. The rapid growth of this place is a cause of wonder to old settlers who thought a town would never be seen here. The town is laid out in squares from the C. P. R. at the north. We have avenues, Pacific, running parallel with and close to the railroad, then Rossin avenue Princess, Lorne, Louise and Victoria are numbered from east to west, first second etc.

The County Council met this week, among the faces at the board I noticed that of Mr. Wm. Lundy, brother of the Ex-mayor of Peterboroug. He is a land owner here and appears to think that this is the best spot in the Dominion. I have met a great many from around home, so many that I often think Ontario must be depopulated, if every county turns out the same number.

Steamers are passing here every week, yesterday Major Walsh and a party of the Mounted Police on board the Manitoba went west, from Winnipeg to Brandon. It takes five days by boat, by rail this distance is done from 8 a. m. to 5.30 p. m.

No beer, wine or other spirituous Liquors can be sold in this Province, the legal drink being "lemonade straight" but when $300 can be made out of one barrel of whiskey, the temptation to make it crooked or to put a stick in it is too great. Yesterday one man was said to have laid by for the purpose of speculating $1,000 made from half the fines by informing on the hotel keepers and the owners of tents.

The express is now running daily to Flat Creek, a miserable swampy hole about 30 miles west from here. Every evening six coaches pass here filled with passengers, a great many remain here but the majority are passing through.

The C. P. R. construction trains are running fifty miles further than Flat Creek and one hundred miles west of that the country is thickly settled with squatters, numbers of men have gone out looking for land thinking it was to be had without any trouble, and have returned disgusted.

One well known man from Ashburnham Mr. Tom Lyle, undertook the pleasant task of escorting a Peterborough friend to find land, in fact he could walk right to it, they arrived last week and after numerous enquiries from returning land hunters, who informed them that the land was all taken up, Mr. L. gave vent to his favourite expression, boarded the train and went back to Silver Heights to resume the trade he understands so well.

I may at some future date give a further description of this place,

I remian Dear Sir,
Yours etc.,
G. H. JOHNSTON.

A NEW PROGRAMME.

LONDON, June 8.—It is stated that the object of Davitt's proposed visit to America is to explain the scope and meaning of the new developement of the land agitation, which has for its aim the nationalization of lands. It is said that Davitt has embarked with the communistic writers and holds that the ownership of such land should be completely vested in the State and not in private owners. It is thought that this doctrine will not be favourably received by 600,000 people, who have been taught by the agitation of the past few years, to look forward to the ownership of farms. It is said that the launching of this programme at a time so critical, has them generally condemned by Davitt's parliamentary associates, who believe the introduction of Communistic theories will drive from the Land League ranks the Conservative and Clerical elements. Parnell will have nothing to do with the new theory, as he intends to continue the struggle for the abolition of landlordism, on the old Land League lines of the establishment of a peasant proprietorship.

THE REPRESSION BILL.

LONDON, June 8.—The debate on the Repression bill was resumed in the House of Commons to-day. Mr. Russell's amendment defining intimidation as threat or acts of violence to person or property, or incitement thereto, was rejected. Before the vote, Sir William Harcourt undertook to insert the words "providing the act proscribed by this clause must to be punishable, be done with animus." Mr. Parnell declared the so called concession made the clause worse. The amendment offered by Mr. Parnell seeking to define intimidation and limiting it to certain definite acts, was rejected. Mr. T. P. O'Connor, supporting the amendment, accused the ministry of imbecility. An objection was made, but the Chairman ruled that the language was not unparliamentary.

GARIBALDI'S OBSEQUIES.

ROME, June 8.—Garibaldi died with the window of his apartment open and while the sun was setting. Before the last agony a bird alighted on the sill, where it remained twittering. Garibaldi saw it and stammered, "How joyful it is." The remains of Garibaldi were interred in the cemetery at Caprera this afternoon. A storm of wind and rain raged the whole time. The coffin was covered with garlands and flowers, borne by the survivors of the Thousands of Marsala, and followed by the Duke of Genoa, Signor Zanardelli, Gen. Ferrero, the representatives of both Chambers, and delegates of three hundred various associations. Speeches were delivered at the grave by the Vice-President of the Senate, the President of the Chamber of Deputies, two Cabinet Ministers, and Signor Crispi. All applauded the deeds of the deceased. As the coffin was lowered salutes were fired by the Italian men-of-war Washington and Garibaldi.

ANOTHER LANDLORD MURDERED.

LONDON, June 8.—Mr. Walter Bourke, a Galway landlord, was shot dead to-day. A soldier, his escort, was also killed. A volley was fired at Mr Bourke and his escort from behind a wall as they were riding near Gort, and both fell dead. Mr. Bourke was a magistrate and a son of the late Crown Solicitor. He was a barrister, and amassed a fortune in India. Mr. Bourke contested the seat in Parliament for Mayo against Mr. Nelson. He had disputes with his tenants, and recently left London to carry out evictions. A few months ago he entered a church at Carraro with a rifle while mass was being celebrated, when the priest ordered him to leave. He escaped by a side door to avoid being mobbed. The news of the murder of Mr. Bourke created a sensation in the House of Commons to-night. Mr. Parnell and other Irish members expressed regret at the assassination. They stated that the Land League of the Gort district ceased to exist six months ago.

THAT DESPATCH.

LONDON, June 8.—The News says, regarding Secretary Frelinghpysen's despatch, that Earl Granville will not fail to remember that commercial, as legal and political, considerations are decisive against the position Mr. Frelinghusen has chosen to assume. The Standard says—"Mr. Frelinghuysen's considerations are arguments that affect the validity of the Clayton-Bulwer treaty, and can only be regarded as topics of local prejudice introduced to show the strength and the motives which urge the American Government to withdraw from their engagements, and render it imposible for their representatives to take a just and dispassionate view of the legal side of the question. The answer to all this rhetoric is that the treaty has been made und ought to be kept."

BRITISH TRADE RETURNS.

LONDON, June 8.—During May the British trade imports increased three and a half million pounds compared with the same month last year. The exports increased $950,000.

MR. DAVITT AT CORK.

CORK, June 8.—Mr. Davitt, addressing a meeting at Cork this evening, explained that his object in going to America was to make an appeal toward the support of Miss Anna Parnell and the ladies of the League, and to contradict the lying rumour of a split in the League.

AMERICAN.

BUILDING CANALS.

NEW YORK, June 8.—The Time's Washington special says it is said that the Senate Committee will add to the river and harbor bill four million for the Hennepin Canal. In this way the bill is promised to dispose of about 22 millions, when it is finally passed.

ACCIDENTAL.

BROOKLIN, June 8.—While working excavating here yesterday, John Cannon accidently drove a pick axe into Dominick Jeffries' back, inflecting fatal injuries.

Electors of West Peterborough, vote for GEORGE HILLIARD, your tried and approved member, who has his residence and business among you.

BRILLIANT SCIENTIFIC TRIUMPH.—Thousands cured of catarrh, bronchitis, asthma and lung disease by Dr. M. Souvielle's Spirometer, an instrument which conveys medicinal properties direct to the parts affected. These wonderful instruments are used in all first-class hospitals, and prescribed by leading physicians. Full directions, for treatment sent by letter, and instruments expressed to any address. It is only since Souvielle's invention that lung disease are no longer feared until their very last stage. Write for particulars to Dr. M. The whole of the Charton hills are alive with armed men and escape is impossible.

JERSEY CITY, June 9.—Miller Bros. & Co., grain and provision merchants have suspended in consequence of the failure of Miller, Healy & Co., a branch House at Copocton, N. Y. The bulk of the indebtedness is said to have been made by the firm at Copocton to Canton people, and it is reported to be one hundred thousand dollars.

THE OCEAN'S PERILS.

ST. JOHN, N.F. June 9.—The fishing schooner Gironde arrived having lost two men. A brig with a number of passengers arrived after a passage of seventy-nine days, forty of which were spent in an area full of ice. The passengers and crew suffered terrible hardships and were constantly in fear that the vessel might be crushed.

PRODUCE IN DEMAND.

WARSAW, N. Y., June 9.—The high prices of beef are causing an extra large demand for fish, fowl and eggs in the markets of western New York. Poultry buyers are scouring the country for fowls for city consumption. The price of eggs is expected to advance. The oil centres in McKean and Warren counties, Pensylvania, and Allegany county New York, are now good markets for produce. Many counties which heretofore shipped to New York, are now sending honey, butter and cheese to the oil towns The largest shipment of fowls, ever made over the Erie, went on Wednerday.

Electors of East Peterborough, vote for JOHN BURNHAM, who has served you to your satisfaction as Reeve, Warden, and Member of Parliament.

RUBBISH ON THE STREETS.

To the Editor of the Review.

DEAR SIR.—In yesterday's issue you referred to a by-law of the city of Toronto for preventing the littering up of the streets by paper, shop sweepings &c., and suggested the passing of of similar by-law here. If you will look at by-law No. 396 you will find that this is unnecessary, for Sec. 19 provides "That no person shall cast or throw on any street, any dirt, filth, or rubbish," and Sec. 30 "That any person who shall deposit any rubbish, &c., in any street be subject to the penalty as provided by the by-law," namely a fine not exceeding $50. This perhaps does not cover the distribution of handbills, but it certainly does the other matter complained of and if constable McGhee would continue his good work of enforcing our by-laws, and compell the observance of them he will gain the thanks of all who wish to see the town improve in appearance and healthfulness. And among those he should provide against is the the town bill poster who when removing the old advertisements from his boards allows a great part of them to remain on and litter up the streets.

Yours,
Peterborough, June 8. H.

THE DOCTOR'S SECRET.—Probably no new development will more surprise the public, than to learn the secret of success of certain leading physicians. When they have a difficult case of throat or lung disease that baffles their scientific skill, they prescribe Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, Coughs and Colds, having it disguised in a prescription bottle, with their own directions and name attached. The patient is cured and they get the credit.—Tribune. Trial bottles free at Taylor & McDonald's Drug Store. Large size $1.—2

PRIVATE, EH?

At his Bridgenorth meeting Mr. Lundy read letters which he had obtained from Messrs. P. Hamilton. W. Hamilton and Adam Hall as a proof that the N. P. had not benefitted the business of those gentlemen. At his following meeting, Mr. Lundy was asked to allow a copy of these letters to be taken and agreed to give them for that purpose the following morning in town. When the next morning came, however, Mr. Lundy backed out of his previous night's promise on the plea that these letters were "private." Now, all we have got to say is that their contents are either true or untrue. If true, neither the writers nor Mr. Lundy should be afraid of their publication; if not true, then Mr. Lundy is trying to deceive the electors with letters that will not stand investigation. We may add that Mr. A. Hall's letter was represented to contain the extraordinary statement that the price of tin and hollow ware has been advanced thirty-five per cent. by the N. P.—a statement which, if made, can easily be disproved.

In 1878 workingmen idle. In 1882 workingmen busy. Vote for HILLIARD and BURNHAM and the Government's policy, which brought such a state of hings about.

A GOOD RECORD.

We are glad to see that, from whatever motive it may be, the Examiner writes in a less objectionable and personal style regarding the candidate for the West Riding. Our contemporary does not like the chastisement we were compelled to administer to it, and claims the right to examine and criticise Mr. Hilliard's parliamentary record. We freely concede to it this right, but we as decidedly dispute its right to say one week that Mr. Hilliard was an honorable opponent and preferable to any other Conservative in the Riding as a representative, and the next week, simply because he has become a candidate, to condemn him for criminality, dishonesty, lying, and want of conscienciousness. We certainly must dispute the Examiner's right to do this, and we can find no more fitting words to describe its language than "a flood of personal and vile abuse" of an honorable opponent.

We really fear that we must also dispute our contemporary's right to take such a liberty with mathematical science as to state that 40 and 20 make 63, even though it is with the laudable view of belittling Mr. Hilliard's parliamentary services. If the Examiner thinks that such services can only be measured by figures, it should at least give the figures accurately. We prefer, for our part, to measure by results, and we are satisfied that whatever number of days he may have attended Parliament he need not fear to compare his record with that of his predecessors. In matters of especial local interest he can point to appropriations of over $300,000 for the Trent Valley Canal, with the pledge of a continuance $660,000 towards a railroad to connect lines centreing here with the Canada Pacific, $1,000 for dredging the water approaches to the town, &c.

In more public matters he can claim his share of the merit of the great measures that have made the last parliament the most memorable and beneficial since confederation, viz., the adoption of a fiscal policy that has caused to flourish our home industries and the whole country with them; the arrangements for the construction of our great trans-continental line, which is now hastening to completion without any further cost to the people of Ontario; and the steps for the settlement of our Northwestern territories, so that our population, our wealth and our resources are now being augmented at a rate which is unprecedented, and which the Opposition denied to be possible. It is rarely that it falls to the lot of one parliament to take such important steps towards building up a country.

Vote for our old members, who would secure for us our rightful boundaries, not for supporters of Blake and Laurier, who fears that the Privy Council would give us our rights.

CAMPAIGN NOTES.

The Examiner had in its columns a statement that the Methodists were discontented at not having a representative in the Cabinet. We condemned in appropriate terms this attempt to excite sectarian animosities by a false statement, since the Methodists, if they care for such a thing, are well represented in the Cabinet. Our contemporary excuses itself by the plea that it saw the statement in another newspaper. Well, it placed the statement in its editorial column, in editorial leaded type, and without any mark of its being quoted, thereby appropriating it as its own. If a man throws dirt at an opponent, the Police Magistrate would not give much weight to the excuse that the offender stole the filth from another man's muck heap.

We are authorized to say that Mr. Bertram's statement at Bridgenorth that Mr. Geo. C. Rogers had not to this day complied with the conditions under which he imported some American wheat is simply untrue. More need not be said.

* * *

Mr. Lundy complains that the elections have been brought on so suddenly that there is no time left for a "personal canvass." For our part we think it is fortunate that such is the case. No candidate should have ought to say to any elector that he is afraid, or deems it inexpedient to say on the platform. It is only those who desire to use "undue influence" that are anxious for the opportunities afforded by a "private" canvass.

CAMPBELLFOLD.

Marrying too much.—The Herald says that there is a report gaining much currency concerning the son of a respectable and prominent farmer of Percy township, a young man who has gained some notoriety by marrying a second time while the woman of his choice still lives. This "young man from the country" went to reside in British Columbia some time ago, and became very intimate with the family of redskins of the ocean frontier. Some months ago he returned on a visit to his friends, and married the only daughter of a gentlemen residing a few miles from his father's farm. When the ceremony was over, the couple took their departure for Manitoba, where they were to meet the parents of the bride some time later. Soon after their arrival in their new home, it is said a very respectable dressed squaw made her appearance and marred the happiness of the couple by claiming the sweet young man as her truant husband. Matters were explained to the grief of the younger bride, an understanding was arrived at, and at the bidding of the redskin the young man accompanied her to her home in the west, leaving the young woman to grieve over her mistake and await the arrival of parents. The story the squaw tells is that the man married her with an understanding that her dowry was $3000, but it was not customary with the Indians to give the endowment soon after the marriage contract because some white men had absconded on getting possession of it. She gave her white husband $800 to go home to visit his friends, but as he had prolonged the visit, she started out in search of him to hasten his return.

Laying the Corner Stone.—The laying of the corner stone of the new Presbyterian Church in this village, is to take place with masonic honors on Thursday next, 15th inst., at 12 o'clock. The ceremony will be performed by the Worshipful Grand Master, in the presence of the craft from neighbouring places to whom invitations have been sent. After the service is completed, a dinner will be served in the Music Hall, by the ladies of the congregation. Arrangements have been made with the Midland Railway to issue tickets at one fare for the occasion. (We learn that the date has since been changed to Wednesday June 14th.)

Cost in Full.—The total cost of the new Methodist Church now in course of erection—including furnishings— will amount to about $7,200. The building will have a seating capacity of 700, and give accomodation to about 800.

Vote for HILLIARD and BURNHAM, and encourage manufacturers to locate here.

HASTINGS.

A Good Test.—The Star says that an interesting test, and one of very great importance to merchants and business men, as to the fire resisting properties of safes occured at our late fire. We had a small safe made by Goldie & McCulloch, of Galt, which was subjected to the most intense heat, remaining for four days in the burning ruins, and yielding up the contents uninjured, in fact the varnish on the drawers was as unstained as the day it left the factory, whilst a large Taylor safe owned by the Messrs. Fowlds, which was got out of the building and lay face downwards on the sidewalk exposed only to the flame a few feet distant, was very much injured.

Accidents.—On Tuesday last, Mr. Oakley, while driving his milk waggon near Killoran's was thrown out, owing to the roughness of the road; and dislocated his shoulder. On June 1st (Thursday) a son of Mr. Crozier, section man, while helping his father at work on the new switch, slipped and fell in front of the truck, which passed over his right hand, severely crushing it. Both cases, we are glad to learn, are doing well under the care of Dr. O'Gorman.

The Size of English Farms.

A few years ago large farms were all the rage in England. Small holdings were scouted, and confident predictions were made that they would share the fate of the hand loom and the spinning wheel. Now the tide has turned, and it is running as strongly in the other direction. Large farms cannot be let; small holdings are snapped up at once. According to Land, there is all through the west and the midlands the keenest competition for small farms, and men who a few years ago were in possession of farms of 200 or 250 acres, without possessing the capital necessary for their proper cultivation, are now taking farms of forty or fifty acres, upon which, if they have less capital than they had five or six years ago, they will have a larger capital in proportion to their holding and better security than they had to encourage them in the free use of their capital and skill alike. An agricultural, if not an agrarian, revolution is thus going on silently, which can hardly fail profoundly to modify both the political and social condition of English rural life.

Why suffer from Indigestion and Dyspepsia when Burdock Blood Bitters will positively cure these ailments? A trial bottle only costs 10 cents.

Woodman Spare the Tree.

Within a bow shot of the great town gate of Morat, in Switzerland, stands a venerable oak more than 500 years old. It was a full-grown tree on the eve of the famous battle of Morat, when Charles the Bold held conference with his Generals under the shade of its wide-spreading branches. Twenty-four hours later the leaders of the Swiss gathered round this self-same tree, and there offered thanks up to Heaven for their signal victory. They despatched a messenger to Freilburg with the tidings, and, in conformity with a foregone arrangement, confided to him a token by which the Federalists of that city might recognize him as accredited envoy. This token was a leafy branch, cut from the oak in question. Its bearer put forth such speed in executing his mission that when he reached Freilburg he had just strength enough left to gasp out his message, and then dropped dead on the ground, grasping his oak branch to the last. He was buried where he fell, and the branch, planted on his grave, is at the present moment one of the largest and staunchest trees in Europe, having completed its 405th year.

Oration by Col. Ingersoll.

Col. R. G. Ingersoll spoke at New York on Decoration Day. It was a magnificent effort, remarkable alike for its transcendent eloquence and epigrammatic force. The orator explained in short burning sentences the history of the country from the revolution to the rebellion. We give his concluding sentences only, which are fair specimens of the whole:

"This day is sacred to the heroic host who kept our flag above our heads—sacred to the scarred and to the maimed—sacred to the wives who gave their husbands, to the mothers who gave their sons.

Here in this peaceful land of ours—here where the sun shines, where flowers grow, where the children play—millions of armed men battled for the right and breasted on a thousand fields the iron storms of war.

These brave these incomparable men founded the first Republic.

They fulfilled the prophesies; they brought to pass the dreams; they realized the hopes that all the great and good and wise and just have made and had since man was made.

But what of those that fell?

There is no language to express the debt we owe, the love we bear to all the dead who died for us. Words are but barren sounds. We can but stand beside there graves, and in the hush and silence feel what speech has never told.

They fought, they died, and for the first time since man has kept a record of events, the heavens bent over and domed a land without a serf, a servant, or a slave."

Tree Growth.

Careful observations have shown the following to be about the average growth in twelve years of several varieties of hard wood when planted in groves and cultivated: White maple becomes one foot in diameter and thirty feet high; ash-leaf maple or box elder, one foot in diameter and twenty feet high; white willow, eighteen inches in diameter and forty feet high; blue and white ash, ten inches in diameter and twenty-five feet high; black walnut and butternut, ten inches in diameter and twenty feet high, yellow willow, eighteen inches in diameter and thirty-five feet high; Lombary poplar, ten inches in diameter and forty feet high.

THE publication of the French census statistics revives the periodical jeremiad over the stagnant condition of the French population; but inasmuch as this goes along with extraordinary material prosperity, while in other countries tens of thousands have to emigrate to get their bread, it is hard to say why the thing is so much deplored.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—AN EXTERNAL MEANS of CURING SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic; whilst old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalculæ which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produce a clear, healthy natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION, a FLUID peculiar in itself, is the most potent enemy to all Skin Disorders. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the least degree comparable for its Healthy Action on the Human Skin.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. Startin, and every year it is used adds more and more favourably to its widly increasing reputation. Anyone, however deeply and hopelessly afflicted with Skin Disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent in a diminished appearance of the malady, a growing tendency to fade away, and complete obliteration of the eruption.

Daily Evening Review

FRIDAY, JUNE 9, 1882.

Court of Revision.

The Court of Revision on the assessment roll of 1882, meets to-night at the council chamber at 7.30 o'clock. Some of the cases will probably occupy considerable time.

Excursion to Belleville.

Although no public intimation has as yet been given of the fact, we are informed on good authority that the Freemasons of Peterborough and Lakefield intend running an excursion to Belleville on St. John's Day, June 24th.

The First Shot.

Mr. Hilliard opens the campaign in town this evening. He will hold a meeting in the Opera House commencing at 7.30 o'clock. Mr. Lundy is invited to attend and address the electors. We anticipate a crowded meeting as the excitement is pretty well worked up by this time.

Hole and Corner Meetings.

Mr. Roxburgh is, we believe, holding meetings throughout the East Riding, but with his "usual caution" fails to announce their time and place through the columns of the Examiner. Such an evasion of free discussion may be convenient but is scarcely creditable.

Workingman, vote for employers of labor, and for the party that supports our home industries.

Law Examinations.

The Senate of Toronto has adopted the report of the law examiners and among the names of the successful canidates we find two from Peterborough.

SECOND YEAR.—Class II, D. J. Lynch.

THIRD YEAR.—Class III, W. A. Stratton.

We beg to congratulate the boys on their success.

A Narrow Escape.

An inebriated individual, fancying he was on his way to Ashburnham, where he resides, came very near breaking his neck last night, by falling over the high bank of the creek, north of the Protestant Home. He was just walking over the place, when a gentleman passing by noticed the danger and rescued him just in time, or he would undoubtedly have been killed. He was seen home, after considerable trouble, by his rescuer.

Attention.

The atttention of the authorities is respectfully drawn to the condition of the market square. A large amount of filth has accumulated in different places, and under the hot sun, does not give off a very refreshing odor. It has been customary in past years to clean it at least once every season, but so far this year such has not been done and we are of the opinion that it is high time that such was done. On one or two recent occasions very offensive smells have pervaded the atmosphere in the rear of this office and the cause is not far to seek. Next time such a thing occurs the public may hear more of it.

The N. P. is making us a great nation. Vote for HILLIARD, BURNHAM and the N. P.

Sale of Lots.

Although there were quite a large number of monied men and real estate owners present at the sale of the fine building lots, offered by Mr. D. G. Hatton yesterday afternoon, the "mud" was not dispersed of very freely, only three out of the twenty-four lots offered being disposed of and these at what may be termed a sacrifice. A fine lot fronting on the boundary line, containing about one third of an acre, was sold to Mr. Edward Green for $170, an undoubted bargain. Mr. H. LeBrun purchased a full acre fronting on McDonnell street for $700, and can already obtain a considerable advance on his bargain. Another lot also fronting an McDonnell street was purchased by Mr. Cope for $165. Besides these sold by public auction we understand that several others have been sold by private sale. As all our readers are already aware these lots are situated in one of the finest and healthiest portions of the town just about the right distance away from the business centre and it would be impossible to find a more eligible place for a family residence. Mr. Hatton informs us that he does not intend to offer the remainder by public auction, but will be happy to see intending investors at his office, where all desired information can be obtained. The sale was conducted by Mr. Stapleton in his usual businesslike manner.

For Europe.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. A. Cox, Miss M. Cox and Master F. Cox, left on the 7.45 train on Thursday evening on a trip to Europe. A large number of the officials and employees of the road and a great many personal friends, assembled at the Union Station to see them off, and as the train left they gave Mr. Cox and family three rousing cheers. In common with their many friends we wish them a pleasant trip and a safe return. The official car of the Midland went through to Montreal with the party. Mr. Aaron Cox also accompanied his brother.

Five and a half millions surplus at the end of the present fiscal year. Vote for BURNHAM, HILLIARD and the Surplus Government.

The City Hotel.

As may have been seen by an advertisement in our columns, Messrs Banks & Dolan, who for the last four months have conducted the City Hotel, have dissolved partnership, the former retiring. The business will in the future be conducted by Mr. James Dolan, whose geniality and winning manner has made him a favourite with all classes of the community, to such an extent that, although the City has only been established for a few months, to-day it does a business excelled by but few hotels in town. Although Mr. Banks was but a short time in town he was a general favourite with the public and our readers will be pleased to learn that he proposes to go into business in Brussels, where we understand he intends to purchase the leading hotel in the town.

The Waterworks.

Good progress is being made with the renching and pipe laying. On Thursday the trenchers had finished digging about two thirds of the distance from the wheel house to the place where the pipes first cross the Midland track, but the pipe laying was not completed over half the distance. The ground is exceedingly hard, and blasting has to be resorted to frequently to remove the boulders that obstruct the workmen. Being at the foot of a large hill, there is considerable soakage, so bad in fact that a pump is used to keep the water down, while at every joint, where the trench is a little deeper than along the pipe, men are kept bailing, while the pipes are being run together with lead. It is expected that after the Railway track is passed, that the soakage will cease and the work become easier. There are now about thirty men at work. The pipes are being laid six feet deep and being one foot in diametar, there will be five feet of earth on top of them amply sufficient, it is thought to keep out the frost. It is not expected to have the mains laid down George street the full distance, for fully two or three months yet.

Incendiarism.

Again the much dreaded fire bug, after a short season of repose, is on the war path and is doing his best to destroy all the old buildings he can without being detected. Only the other night an old frame building was entirely destroyed on Simcoe street, and the surrounding property, including a brick store and dwelling and two storehouses, one containing a large number of barrels of coal oil, were only saved after very hard work. In that case the work was undoubtedly the work of an incendiary, and in the present instance the proof that the same cause was at the bottom is even stronger than in the other. The facts are that about 12.30 o'clock this morning a son of Mr. W. Logan, who resides on Brock street, near Aylmer, discovered a blaze in the old building now used as a storehouse, but formerly used as the Murray street Bible Christian Church, and at once informed his father of the fact. At first it appeared as if some person inside had a lamp and the reflection was shining through the windows and cracks, but very soon the whole interior seemed to be in a blaze and those who saw it at once knew that it was on fire. Donning their clothes as soon as possible, Mr. Logan and his son ran across the road to the building, and by means of a few pails of water applied in the proper place, soon extinguished the flames, which had obtained but slight headway. Mr. W. J. Hall, the owner of the building, who resides close by, was awakened, but the fire was out before he arrived on the scene. The building is of very little value and in it were stored quite a number of reapers and mowers, the majority of them being old and of little value. A view of the interior of the storehouse shows a heap of pine shavings in one corner close to the door and the blackened appearance of the door, etc., shows what a narrow escape the building had from total destruction. Of course there is not the slightest clue to the incendiary. If the fire had got a good start with the high wind prevailing the consequences might have been very disastrous.

Personal! To Men Only!

The Voltaic Belt Co., Marshall, Mich., will send Dr. Dye's Celebrated Electro-Voltaic Belts and Electric Appliances on trial for thirty days to men (young or old) who are afflicted with Nervous Debility, Lost Vitality and Manhood, and kindred troubles, guaranteeing speedy and complete restoration of health and manly vigor. Address as above. N. B.—No risk is incurred, as thirty days' trial is allowed.

IN THE SPRING of the year almost every one requires a good Blood Purifier, more especially in the month of May. We would earnestly advise our readers to try Dr. Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters. A few doses will soon convince you that it is the best remedy known for affections of the stomach, Bowels, Liver and Kidneys. In large bottles at 50 cents. J. D. Tully, Agent.

Railway Notes.

The Campbellford Herald says that in addition to constant changes now being made on the line for the easier running of the coaches and the more rapid transportation of the increasing freight, new steel rails are to be laid on the Grand Junction division of the Midland Railway, immediately. We may safely expect to see this 33 miles of road at no very distant day, one of the safest and best managed lines in Ontario.

A number of new coaches for the Midland Railway have arrived from London and will be supplemented every few days by others, until the company has sufficient coaches to accommodate their rapidly increasing passenger traffic and enough for extra exsursion trains.

Work on the missing link is to commence at the foot of the Protestant Home in a day or two. The work on the other parts of the line is going ahead rapidly.

The Intelligencer says that the tenders for the new Midland elevator which have so far been received are very high, and it is doubtful whether any of them will be accepted. Probably the Company will not award any contract, but will itself undertake the erection of the elevator.

POLITICAL POINTS!

GENTLEMEN,

Recurring again to the subject of politics—these politics that we are trying to talk about, but not a word of this to the ladies. Neither politics nor spring poetry are playthings for women. So by special request, not a word of this to the women.

All of us have made up our minds to give these party claims our most careful consideration. But we go to the jovial ward meeting—and that is, the last of our firm resolve to give an upright, honourable, square-toed, astraddle-the-fence vote.

For whom will you vote?

In answering this, remember that you are not obliged to criminate yourself—the law protects you to that extent. Bless the law!

Do you not notice that there is a more exuberant warmth about the greetings of candidates, and an increase of dignity about the man in overalls not apparent a few weeks ago? If you have not, then you have no vote.

Be jubilant while the present opportunities are on deck. After the campaign they will be laid away and stand up behind the door like an old umbrella.

Also remember that just now we are giving away FINE and MEDIUM TWEED SUITS! Giving them away, gentlemen! Of course we accept a trifling compensation for our cloth, trimmings and make—always did. These concessions to the electorate will last for the next three weeks. Make a note of it.

To the Free and Independent Electors of the

WEST RIDING

OF PETERBOROUGH.

GENTLEMEN,—

At the urgent solicitation of my political friends I have consented to be again a candidate for your suffrages at the approaching election.

While I would have preferred not to have been a candidate on the present occasion, yet now that I have placed my services again at your disposal, you may rest assured that no private duty or engagement will be allowed to interfere with the proper discharge of my duties as your representative, should I be honoured with your confidence for the second time.

Although I failed to be present at every division during the recent session, I would venture to challenge my political opponents to specify a single instance in which I have neglected the interests of my constituents or failed to discharge the duties devolving upon me as your representative to the best of my ability and judgment.

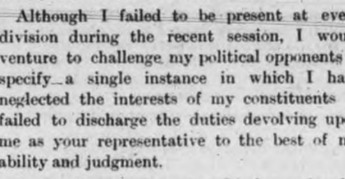
During the past four years I have rendered a cheerful support to the government of Sir John A. Macdonald, believing that it has not only redeemed the pledges given previous to the last general election, but that its policy has been and is one eminently calculated to promote the prosperity of the country, and should you again honor me with your confidence I shall continue to give the present government the same cordial support, so long as their policy commends itself to my judgment.

In conjunction with the other representatives from this section of Ontario, I have done all in my power to secure the early construction of the Trent Valley Canal, and the large measure of success which has attended our past efforts should assure the electorate of this district that if their present representatives are re-elected and the present government sustained, this great and long-looked-for work will be brought to an early completion.

As it will be impossible for me to undertake anything like a personal canvas between this and polling day, I trust those favorable to the cause of good government will render me their hearty support without waiting to be asked, and that all the electors will make it a point to attend the meetings which I propose holding in different parts of the constituency for the purpose of public explanation and discussion of the several questions involved in the present campaign.

Again thanking you for the confidence reposed in me in 1878, and soliciting a renewal of the same,

I am, gentlemen,



Your ob't. serv't.,

CEO. HILLIARD.

THE CONTENTED MAN, Who is He?

The discussion of this question by an able lecturer was listened to a few evenings ago with interest by large audience.

We venture to think that one of this class may be represented by the head of a family, who has been instructed to purchase a supply of that essential commodity for the table—TEA.

He has an indefinite idea that the article ought to be cheaper on account of the removal of the duty, but when he finds that he can save 10 cents per lb., instead of 5 he is jubilant.

THE CONTENTED MAN is he who gets the full benefit of the reduction of the duty on his tea for this year by making a saving of, say $3.00 on a purchase of 30 lbs.

Prove it by inspecting my stock of JAPANS AND YOUNG HYSONS.

SATURDAY, JUNE 10, 1882.

T. V. C.

To the Editor of the Review.

SIR,—I heard last night that the Reform aspirant for parliamentary honors in the West Riding has been boasting that he was the great lever, the magical motive power of the T. V. C. agitation; that his efforts were untiringly, his influence unceasingly, used to promote the furtherance of that great work. When? where? how? Assertion may go down with the gullible; the thinking man wants proof. What? Because he was the figure head of the Peterborough municipality—because the duties of his office compelled him to fill the official chair—because he had, as a matter of routine, to put this or that question to the vote—because, as that figure head, he headed the deputation to Ottawa—are these the grounds on which he claims that he has promoted energetically, unceasingly and triumphantly the T. V. C. project? What does his cash book say on this head? Will it show an expenditure of a dollar to further the affair? I doubt it. Well, all I shall say more about it is, I can't find a man in the constituency who is able to point out a single effort he ever made by voice, pen, means, or influence in aid of the scheme.

What about the carworks, Mr. Lundy.

A MECHANIC.

Peterborough, June 9.

The Weather.

The weather probabilities for the following twenty-four hours, as reported from Toronto at 10 a. m. to-day, by the Great Northwestern Telegraph Company, are as follows:—Lakes Moderate to fresh winds, north and easterly, generally fair and slightly cooler weather, and light local rains in southwestern Ontario.

Midland Railway of Canada.

The Traffic of the above Railway for the week ending June 3rd 1882, was as follows:—Passengers and Mails, $4993,92; Freight, $15341.72; Total, $20335.64 as compared with $16419.81; for the corresponding week of 1881, being an increase of $3915.83; and the aggregate traffic to date is $374160.79; being an increase of $108685.97; over 1881.

The N. P. is making us a great nation. Vote for HILLIARD, BURNHAM and the N. P.

The Sault Ste Marie Bridge.

A telegram from Washington states that the House Commerce Committee on Friday, report favourably on Representative Hubbell's Bill, which makes it lawful whenever due authority has been granted by Canada with the sanction of the British Government for an organized company to construct a railroad bridge across the Sault Ste. Marie River in Michigan.

Worthy of Notice.

Much admiration was expressed by the large audience at the tasty manner in which Mr. E. C. Hill had fitted up the stage of the Opera House on Friday evening. The flags, Chinese lanterns, etc., were very appropriate and well deserved the notice given them by the public. Since Mr. Hill has had charge of the hall, he has made many improvements in both the auditorium and stage, and we understand he still further intends to improve the building until it is behind no similar place in the Province.

Running Night and Day.

On passing Mr. G. C. Rogers' flour mill in Ashburnham, the other evening, we were surprised to find it lit up, for we have been given to understand by some of our Reform orators that our local millers had almost closed down their mills owing to the N. P. We were stil more surprised when we learned on inquiry, that Mr. Rogers has been running his mill night and day for some months past. He does not complain of the N. P. and most assuredly his employees do not.

Vote for BURNHAM and HILLIARD, whose motto is "Canada for the Canadians."

The Baptist Church.

The Rev. J. H. Castle, D.D., President of the Baptist College, Toronto, will preach in the Peterborough Baptist Church, Aylmer street, to-morrow at 11 a.m. and at 7 p.m.

Broke his Leg.

The other evening, while Mr. Samuel Clegg was playing lacrosse on the Ashburnham ground, he slipped, and on being taken home it was ascertained by a surgeon that one of the small bones of his leg had been broken.

First of July.

The Fire Brigade and Lacrosse Club are making extensive preparations for a grand gala day here on Dominion Day. The programme includes a lacrosse match, athletic sports, procession, promenade concert, torchlight procession and grand display of fireworks. Full particulars will be given in a few days.

Court of Revision.

Owing to the election excitement or something else, Councillor Rutherford was the only member of the Court of Revision who turned up on Friday night, and of course no meeting took place. At this rate of going on the Court will complete its business sometime before the end of the year.

T. V. C.

The Bobcaygeon Independant says that Mr. T. D. Belcher the Superintending Engineer of the Trent Works, was in the village during the week. He made a thorough inspectation of all the works. Considerable alterations and improvements are to be made during the season, which will give employment for a large force of men.

Golden Wedding.

To have the pleasure of again so soon chronicling a Golden Wedding in our midst, speaks well for our town. Mr. Abraham Dormer, of Ashburnham, now in his 81st year, was married on the 10th June, 1832, and also on the anniversary of the same day in the year 1848 he sailed from Dublin, Ireland, for this country. He is now, and for some years past has been in the employ of Colonel Haultain. Mr. Dormer and his wife have our hearty wish that they may long be spared in our midst in their accustomed good health.

Electors of East Peterborough, vote for JOHN BURNHAM, who has served you to your satisfaction as Reeve, Warden, and Member of Parliament.

TORONTO.

Special to the Review, June 10.

MR. ANGUS MORRISON was found dead in his bed this morning.

LATER.—MR. ANGUS MORRISON, whose sudden death was announced in an earlier despatch was born at Edinburgh on Jan. 20, 1822, and came to this country when only eight years old, in company with his father, Hugh Morrison who was killed by an accident on the old market Square at a political meeting in 1836. Mr. Morrison was educated partly at Belfast, Ireland, and partly at Upper Canada College, Toronto, finishing his studies at a private school. In his younger days he was an athlete taking much to rowing in which he was proficient. He won and held the championship of Toronto Bay in 1840-41-42, and at the time of his death possessed the trophies of his victories. He was president of the Toronto Rowing Club for fourteen years. Curling shooting, cricketing and kindred sports, he excelled in and was first Secretary and afterwards President of the Toronto Curling Club. Discontinuing all connection with sporting matters he devoted his time to the study of the law in the office of Messrs. Blake and Morrison, and was called to the bar in 1846. He entered upon a most successful practice, and worked hard. His business was a lucrative one, and he made considerable money. In 1853-4 he sat in the Council for St. James' ward. In 1854, he represented North Simcoe in Parliament during 1863, when he was defeated, he went to Niagara and represented that constituency in 1864, and until he was defeated in 1873. In 1874 he was defeated in centre Toronto by the late Mr. Robt. Wilkes. In 1876 he was elected Mayor of Toronto by 1980 of a majority. He was relected in 1877 and again in 1878. He was made Queen's Counsel in 1864. Mr. Morrison was married in 1856 to Janet Gilmour of Three Rivers. By the union they had six children four sons and two daughters, Mr. Morrison was a Conservative in politics, and was generous almost to a fault, he was naturally genial and pleasant in manner, possessing a courteous and hopitable disposition at all times and was withal a true gentleman. He had many warm and sincere friends who will be shocked at the news of his death.

Electors of West Peterborough, vote for GEORGE HILLIARD, your tried and approved member, who has his residence and business among you.

CRIME IN IRELAND.

DUBLIN, June 10.—The reports concerning the agrarian crimes, have created a profound sensation in Dublin. The Lord Lieutenant and prominent officials were at the castle until a late hour last night sending instructions to various parts of the country rogarding the protection of land officials. The feeling of despondency here was never greater, and the feeling is intensified by the fact that the agricultural prospects throughout the country are particularly bright. The attempt to assassinate farmer Brown near Ballina was a work of daring, six men approached him in a field and asked him why he took the farm when warned not to do so. Six shots were fired at him, and two bullets lodged in his thigh. Brown was found insensible. He is aged 60, and will probably die. The police passed the scene of the outrage five minutes before the daring deed. Three men with blackened faces carrying heavy bludgeons jumped over the wall of the barn yard of a man named East in the day time and attacked him, but his son came to his assistance but was compelled to flee The assailed threatened to muder his assailants when they shot East in the hip, knee, and ankle. He is sinking rapidly. Four men have been arrested but he could not identify them.

The fire was extinguished before the vessel reached port.

Daily Evening Review

SATURDAY, JUNE 10, 1882.

SOME STRIKING CONTRASTS.

THE Conservative Government, in pursuance of their pledges before they were placed in power by the country in 1878, established the National Policy, and by their patriotic and statesmanlike tariff, have caused the Dominion to flourish and prosper under their administration. Our manufacturing industries, with the home market secured for them, have been fostered and extended, the farmers have obtained better prices, not only for their grain and for their live stock, but also for the numberless small articles of produce which must chiefly depend for a lucrative market upon the local demand, and the mechanics and labourers can obtain good wages and constant employment, instead of lower pay and many idle days.

On the other hand under Reform Ministers, who were by their own confession mere "flies on the wheel" in times of depression, and who clung to the theory that it was better to trade with foreigners than with their own manufacturers, our factories were working short time or were being closed, while we were using goods from abroad that might have been made at home, our Ontario farmers were sending their grain to England, while the agriculturists of the States to a large extent supplied the more profitable Canadian market as well as their own mechanics, who were making goods for us; and our mechanics either had to submit to low wages and want of work or go abroad to obtain them.

The Conservative Government, according to their original plan, have made arrangements for the construction of our great trans-continental railway by the instrumentality of a company, which, with its great resources and wide connections, is pushing on the work with astonishing rapidity. They have also arranged so that the cost of this gigantic enterprise shall be borne by the land which it makes valuable, and which is being sold so rapidly as even already to meet the current expenditure and eventually to cover the whole cost.

On the other hand the Reform Government carried on the construction themselves in such a desultory, tedious and unbusiness like manner that no satisfactory progress was made. It is true that they attempted to secure the intervention of a company by the offer of more land and more money than the amount of the present subsidy, but they were unsuccessful, for the reason that capitalists had not sufficient confidence in their administration or in the credit of the country while under their rule. And while they were carrying on this great work in such an inefficient manner, the heavy outlay, which was increased by futile Georgian Bay branches, first begun and then abandoned, Neebing Hotel purchases, St. Francis Lock construction and other blunders or worse, was imposed by them upon the Dominion treasury, to which Ontario contributes its full share.

The Conservative Government also, by the intervention of the same company and by other means, including the prestige of its successful administration, is settling the vacant territories of the Dominion with astonishing rapidity, the enormous immigration not only by their purchases of land providing for the cost of their railway, but also increasing the population and wealth of Canada at a rate that is surprising even the most sanguine.

On the other hand the Reform Government secured only an infinitessimal amount of settlement, their dilatory extension of the Canada Pacific Railway did little towards opening up the country, their feeble and unstatesmanlike administration offered no attraction for immigrants, and their unpatriotic tariff policy drove Canadians out of the country to seek employment where industries were fostered and encouraged.

The Conservative Government, ever ready to assist in the development of the country and having the means to do so through able financing and a full treasury, as soon as the benefits of the Trent Valley Canal were brought to their notice, inspected it themselves, caused surveys and estimates to be made, have voted a large appropriation for the completion of one section, and have pledged themselves to complete the construction.

On the other hand the Reform administration, not giving the same attention to opening up our resources, and from their chronic deficits having no means of doing so, handed over the Trent Works to Mr. Mowat that he might carry out his intention of destroying them, opposed the grants for surveys, condemned the appropriation for construction, and denounced the project as a folly and a waste of money.

Such is the contrast between the administration of the two governments, such is the record of their policy and their performances. Yet we are asked to turn out the Government under which the country is flourishing, and to replace in power their inefficient opponents, with their record of depression, deficits and indifference to our interests.

Electors! can you hesitate in your choice between them?

In 1878 workingmen idle. In 1882 workingmen busy. Vote for HILLIARD and BURNHAM and the Government's policy, which brought such a state of things about.

CAMPAIGN NOTES.

We welcome a new convert to the N. P., ranks. The Brighton Ensign which has always been a sturdy Reform journal, prints the following:—

"For a considerable time we have been considering the N. P. question, and have at last decided to throw up the old way of running things and go in boldly and squarely for the N. P. This will no doubt be a surprise to all our old friends, both Liberal and Conservatives, yet we cannot help it. Some may say that this, in the face of an impending election, is unfair. But business before pleasure or expediency is our motto henceforth, therefore in we go for the N. P."

We learn from the Mail that a Morrisburg grocer advertises as follows:—

The Government has taken the duty off tea, making the following reductions in prices at J. M. Watson's:—

Price, duty on.	Price, duty off.
5 for $1.00	5½ for $1.00
4 for $1.00	5 for $1.00
3 for $1.00	3½ for $1.00
40c per lb	33c per lb
45c per lb	38c per lb
50c per lb	43c per lb
55c per lb	47c per lb
60c per lb	52c per lb
65c per lb	56c per lb

It will be remembered that the Conservatives took the duty off tea, that the Reformers on coming into power reimposed it, that the Conservatives have again remitted it, and that the Reform leaders and journalists condemn the remission.

* * *

MR. A. JURY, who is taking the stump, under the masquerade of a workingman, in some of the constituencies, does not believe in the N.P. This is unfortunate, but Mr. Jury does not believe in the Bible either. Some men are hard of belief.

THE following quotation from Junius gives a striking description of the state of affairs under the "Reform" rule:—

"The ruin or prosperity of a State depends so much upon the administration of its Government that to be acquainted with the merit of a ministry we need only observe the condition of the people. If we see a universal spirit of distrust and dissatisfaction, a rapid decay of trade, we may pronounce without hesitation that the Government of the country is weak, distracted and corrupt."

The electors of Canada, will certainly prefer to continue upon an administration under which the country is flourishing.

Vote for BURNHAM and HILLIARD, and stand by the Government that has stood by the country.

TRENT VALLEY CANAL.

THE following correspondence has appeared within the last few days in the Toronto Telegram. It will be seen that the Toronto people do not undervalue the importance of this great undertaking, and that they have no idea that the appropriation for its construction is a mere electioneering dodge, as has been alleged by Peterborough men, who should be ashamed thus to prejudice the interests of this town and county for a supposed party advantage:—

SIR,—Is it not a strange thing that when the appropriation of $290,000 was voted for the construction of locks, etc., to the Trent Valley canal in the House at Ottawa, the members of the Government representing Toronto raised no voice against the appropriation? Why should our members ignore Toronto's interests in favour of a canal which immediately destroys our trade? True, the Trent Valley route is but intended to be a ditch canal, but it will be found sufficiently extensive to take half the business from its legitimate market. What can the citizens of Toronto be about that they permit their interests to be fleeced from them so freely, and tamely submit to the indignity as they would over some grim joke? The name of the Huron and Ontario ship canal may have become a by-word in Toronto, but if the Trent Valley scheme becomes an accomplished fact the time is coming when her citizens will have wished that they had not let this great object slip through their fingers so freely. The Dominion Government has granted, conditionally, to H. G. Ketchum's scheme, for the construction of the Bay Verte Ship Railway, and why could not the Government have done the same with the Huron and Ontario Ship Canal? If the members representing Toronto had been loyal to their constituents, this also would have been an accomplished fact.

HERBERT G. PAULL.

SIR,—Mr. Paull's letter in your Friday's issue on this subject was evidently written merely to get a drive at Toronto's members and the Government. As such of course it would not call for a reply, did not the subject he takes advantage of make his communication of some importance. We understand that some engineers and business men generally, deem the H. & O. Canal impracticable. Even if practicable the great cost would prevent its being built, when one by the Trent Valley, (a better route) can be constructed for such a comparatively small sum as the Government engineers estimate. If those estimates are near the mark, the Trent Valley could have been constructed for less than has been spent enlarging the Welland. Only for Toronto's foolish jealousy it no doubt would have been constructed instead of enlarging the Welland. Enlarging the Welland instead of constructing it, was worse than a national blunder. The Welland benefits the States almost almost as much as Canada—perhaps more. The Trent Valley on the contrary would benefit Canada chiefly if not exclusively, especially Ontario. It would direct a large portion of the Erie's traffic to the St. Lawrence and furnish enough of the finest water power to drive all the machinery in the country; flouring mills and manufactures would spring up all along it. They would be right in Ontario's heart and on the route to the North-west. The canal would benefit Ontario and Montreal at the expense of Buffalo and New York, and Ontario more than any public work yet constructed; benefitting Ontario, it would benefit Toronto; therefore as the H. & O. is out of the question, Mr. Paull and other Toronto people, who oppose constructing the Trent Valley lest it should prevent the H. & O. being constructed, are worse than the dog in the manger. They would starve themselves rather than let others eat.

MANUFACTURING IN CANADA.

The following interesting extract is from the Textile Manufacturer, an Irish trade organ of high repute:—

Under the Protective regime in Canada, all kinds of manufacturing appear to be looking up, and the sanguine anticipations of those who have worked for its adoption are being fulfilled. Most people in this country probably entertain erroneous views regarding the causes that have led to the adoption of a Protective system in Canada. By most it is believed that it has been owing to a want of faith in the soundness of Free Trade principles as such. This, however is not the case. It is simply the exercise of a little sound common sense on the part of the Canadian people. Mankind, generally speaking, make a great mistake when, after elaborating a set of ideas they baptise them with the name of "principles," and forthwith fall down and worship them as poor African niggers do a fetish. The Canadians have proved themselves above this sort of thing. They were next door neighbors to a country of great natural wealth, which has adopted a policy which puts a premium upon all industry and capital transferred to its soil, and the effect was to drain the very vitals of their country, destroying its prosperity and hindering its development. The milder climate of the States and its greater realized wealth enabled them to beat Canada in the markets of the world in agricultural produce. The textile and other industries within the States afforded employment suitable and profitable to their women and children, whose earnings supplemented the income of its people from their farms. For a while this transitional condition endured, but was eventually superseded by the manufacturing communities, as it were, becoming self-sustaining. When the latter had risen into great communities they formed profitable markets for agricultural produce. Canada could not grow grain successfully against this competition, and manufactures, it had none for the employment of its women and children. Its chief successful trade was therefore in lumber, whilst its agricultural development did not much exceed what served for the requirements of its sparse population. The premium offered to emigrants by the fiscal policy of the States was irresistible, and the European emigrant who went out to America, with a sentiment impelling him to pitch his tent in those domains over which the Union Jack was displayed, glanced round, took in the situation, and immediately went South. Even the impassive, unimpressionable descendants of the French in Canada have taken the same course in great numbers. This depletion of the strength of the country had to be stopped, and it was determined it should be done. Is was not therefore a question with Canadian statesmen whether certain maxims, embodying "Free Trade" or "Protection," were incontestably the most in accordance with "the immortal principles of truth and justice" or not; but it was whether one or the other would conduce most to the material prosperity of the individual and the nation in each case. The course each has taken is the answer each gives. Of course no one denies that this is a policy of selfishness. To those most interested it is proving satisfactory. A Canadian manufacturer recently told us that their population is now staying at home; that new comers like the outlook better and settle down; that with the rise of manufactures employment can now be found for women and children. The descendants of the French have now ceased to emigrate and many are even returning from the New England States, whither they had mostly gone."

N. H. DOWNS' Vegetable Balsamic ELIXIR!

This valuable medicine is purely vegetable, the discovery of which was the result of many years' close study, in order to discover the cause, the symptoms and the cure—viz.:

Consumption, Coughs, Colds, Catarrh, Croup, Asthma, Influenza, Pleurisy, Hoarseness, Spitting Blood, Bronchitis,

and every species of oppression of the Chest and Lungs. In all cases where this Elixir has been duly administered its efficacy has been invariably manifested, convincing the most incredulous that is not incurable, if properly attended to.—Consumption, at its commencement, is but a slight irritation of the membrane which covers the lungs, then an inflammation, when the cough is more observable, but rather dry; then becomes loaded fever and the pulse more frequent, the cheeks flushed and chills more common. This Elixir in curing the above complaints, operates so as to remove all morbid irritations and inflammation from the lungs to the surface, and finally expel them from the system. It facilitates expectoration,

CONSUMPTION

IT HEALS THE ULCERATED SURFACES

and relieves the cough and makes the breathing easy. It supports the strength and at the same time reduces the fever. It is free from strong opiates and astringent articles, which produce drying a nature as to be in great danger of destroying the patient; whereas this medicine never dries or stops the cough, but, by removing the cause, generally destroys the hectic before the cough is entirely gone. Consequently, when the cough is cured the patient is well. Send address for pamphlet giving full directions for cure of pulmonary diseases. Price 25cts. and $1 per bottle. Sold everywhere.

Daily Evening Review

SATURDAY, JUNE 10, 1882.

SOME STRIKING CONTRASTS.

THE Conservative Government, in pursuance of their pledges before they were placed in power by the country in 1878, established the National Policy, and by their patriotic and statesmanlike tariff, have caused the Dominion to flourish and prosper under their administration. Our manufacturing industries, with the home market secured for them, have been fostered and extended, the farmers have obtained better prices, not only for their grain and for their live stock, but also for the numberless small articles of produce which must chiefly depend for a lucrative market upon the local demand, and the mechanics and labourers can obtain good wages and constant employment, instead of lower pay and many idle days.

On the other hand under Reform Ministers, who were by their own confession mere "flies on the wheel" in times of depression, and who clung to the theory that it was better to trade with foreigners than with their own manufacturers, our factories were working short time or were being closed, while we were using goods from abroad that might have been made at home, our Ontario farmers were sending their grain to England, while the agriculturists of the States to a large extent supplied the more profitable Canadian market as well as their own mechanics, who were making goods for us; and our mechanics either had to submit to low wages and want of work or go abroad to obtain them.

The Conservative Government, according to their original plan, have made arrangements for the construction of our great trans-continental railway by the instrumentality of a company, which, with its great resources and wide connections, is pushing on the work with astonishing rapidity. They have also arranged so that the cost of this gigantic enterprise shall be borne by the land which it makes valuable, and which is being sold so rapidly as even already to meet the current expenditure and eventually to cover the whole cost.

On the other hand the Reform Government married on the construction themselves in such a desultory, tedious and unbusiness like manner that no satisfactory progress was made. It is true that they attempted to secure the intervention of a company by the offer of more land and more money than the amount of the present subsidy, but they were unsuccessful, for the reason that capitalists had not sufficient confidence in their administration or in the credit of the country while under their rule. And while they were carrying on this great work in such an inefficient manner, the heavy outlay, which was increased by futile Georgian Bay branches, first begun and then abandoned, Neebing Hotel purchases, St. Francis Lock construction and other blunders or worse, was imposed by them upon the Dominion treasury, to which Ontario contributes its full share.

The Conservative Government also, by the intervention of the same company and by other means, including the prestige of its successful administration, is settling the vacant territories of the Dominion with astonishing rapidity, the enormous immigration not only by their purchases of land providing for the cost of their railway, but also increasing the population and wealth of Canada at a rate that is surprising even the most sanguine.

On the other hand the Reform Government secured only an infinitesimal amount of settlement, their dilatory extension of the Canada Pacific Railway did little towards opening up the country, their feeble and unstatesmanlike administration offered no attraction for immigrants, and their unpatriotic tariff policy drove Canadians out of the country to seek employment where industries were fostered and encouraged.

The Conservative Government, ever ready to assist in the development of the country and having the means to do so through able financing and a full treasury, as soon as the benefits of the Trent Valley Canal were brought to their notice, inspected it themselves, caused surveys and estimates to be made, have voted a large appropriation for the completion of one section, and have pledged themselves to complete the construction.

On the other hand the Reform administration, not giving the same attention to opening up our resources, and from their chronic deficits having no means of doing so, handed over the Trent Works to Mr. Mowat that he might carry out his intention of destroying them, opposed the grants for surveys, condemned the appropriation for construction, and denounced the project as a folly and a waste of money.

Such is the contrast between the administration of the two governments, such is the record of their policy and their performances. Yet we are asked to turn out the Government under which the country is flourishing, and to replace in power their inefficient opponents, with their record of depression, deficits and indifference to our interests.

Electors! can you hesitate in your choice between them?

In 1878 workingmen idle. In 1882 workingmen busy. Vote for HILLIARD and BURNHAM and the Government's policy, which brought such a state of hings about.

CAMPAIGN NOTES.

We welcome a new convert to the N. P., ranks. The Brighton Ensign which has always been a sturdy Reform journal, prints the following:—

"For a considerable time we have been considering the N. P. question, and have at last decided to throw up the old way of running things and go in boldly and squarely for the N. P. This will no doubt be a surprise to all our old friends, both Liberal and Conservatives, yet we cannot help it. Some may say that this, in the face of an impending election, is unfair. But business before pleasure or expediency is our motto henceforth, therefore in we go for the N. P."

We learn from the Mail that a Morrisburg grocer advertises as follows:—

The Government has taken the duty off tea, making the following reductions in prices at J. M. Watson's:—

Price, duty on.	Price, duty off.
5 for $1.00	5½ for $1.00
4 for $1.00	5 for $1.00
3 for $1.00	3¾ for $1.00
40c per lb	33c per lb
45c per lb	38c per lb
50c per lb	43c per lb
55c per lb	47c per lb
60c per lb	52c per lb
65c per lb	56c per lb

It will be remembered that the Conservatives took the duty off tea, that the Reformers on coming into power reimposed it, that the Conservatives have again remitted it, and that the Reform leaders and journalists condemn the remission.

* * *

MR. A. JURY, who is taking the stump, under the masquerade of a workingman, in some of the constituencies, does not believe in the N.P. This is unfortunate, but Mr. Jury does not believe in the Bible either. Some men are hard of belief.

THE following quotation from Junius gives a striking description of the state of affairs under the "Reform" rule:—

"The ruin or prosperity of a State depends so much upon the administration of its Government that to be acquainted with the merit of a ministry we need only observe the condition of the people. If we see a universal spirit of distrust and dissatisfaction, a rapid decay of trade, we may pronounce without hesitation that the Government of the country is weak, distracted and corrupt."

The electors of Canada, will certainly prefer to continue upon an administration under which the country is flourishing.

Vote for BURNHAM and HILLIARD, and stand by the Government that has stood by the country.

TRENT VALLEY CANAL.

THE following correspondence has appeared within the last few days in the Toronto Telegram. It will be seen that the Toronto people do not undervalue the importance of this great undertaking, and that they have no idea that the appropriation for its construction is a mere electioneering dodge, as has been alleged by Peterborough men, who should be ashamed thus to prejudice the interests of this town and county for a supposed party advantage:—

SIR,—Is it not a strange thing that when the appropriation of $290,000 was voted for the construction of locks, etc., to the Trent Valley canal in the House at Ottawa, the members of the Government representing Toronto raised no voice against the appropriation? Why should our members ignore Toronto's interests in favour of a canal which immediately destroys our trade? True, the Trent Valley route is but intended to be a ditch canal, but it will be found sufficiently extensive to take half the business from its legitimate market. What can the citizens of Toronto be about that they permit their interests to be fleeced from them so freely, and tamely submit to the indignity as they would over some grim joke? The name of the Huron and Ontario ship canal may have become a by-word in Toronto, but if the Trent Valley scheme becomes an accomplished fact the time is coming when her citizens will have wished that they had not let this great object slip through their fingers so freely. The Dominion Government has granted, conditionally, to H. G. Ketchum's scheme, for the construction of the Bay Verte Ship Railway, and why could not the Government have done the same with the Huron and Ontario Ship Canal? If the members representing Toronto had been loyal to their constituents, this also would have been an accomplished fact.

This valuable medicine is purely vegetable, the discovery of which was the result of many years' close study, in order to discover the cause, the symptoms and the cure—viz.:

Consumption, Coughs, Colds, Catarrh, Croup, Asthma, Influenza, Pleurisy, Hoarseness, Spitting Blood, Bronchitis,

and every species of oppression of the Chest and Lungs. In all cases where this Elixir has been duly administered its efficacy has been invariably manifested, convincing the most incredulous that is not incurable, if properly attended to.—Consumption, at its commencement, is but a slight irritation of the membrane which covers the lungs, then an inflammation, when the cough is more observable, but rather dry—then becomes loose, fever and the pulse more frequent, the cheeks flushed and chills more common. This Elixir in curing the above complaints, operates so as to remove all morbid irritations and inflammation from the lungs to the surface, and finally expel them from the system. It facilitates expectoration.

CONSUMPTION

IT HEALS THE ULCERATED SURFACES

and relieves the cough and makes the breathing easy. It supports the strength and at the same time reduces the fever. It is free from strong opiate and astringent articles, which are so drying a nature as to be in great danger of destroying the patient; whereas this medicine never dries or stops the cough, but by removing the CAUSE, generally destroys the beetle before the cough is entirely gone. Consequently, when the cough is cured the patient is well. Send address for pamphlet giving full directions for cure of pulmonary diseases. Price 25cts. and $1 per bottle. Sold everywhere.

COBOURG.

COMPLIMENTARY SUPPER.—The Sentinel-Star says that on Friday of last week, a complimentary supper was given by the proprietor of the Horton House, to Mr. Kilgannon, who has had charge of the goverment work on the harbor here, since last fall. At the supper there were a number of the friends of the guest. After the excellent spread provided had been done ample justice to, several toasts were proposed. To the toast of "Our Guest," Mr. Kilgannon replied in a neat little speech; he regretted much at leaving Cobourg, he said, for he had made many friends during his short stay. Dr. Craig, who occupied the chair, and Messrs. Winch, Longhi Hartnett, and others also made short speeches, when "all aboard for the east" broke the pleasent company up. Several of his friends accompanied Mr. Kilgannon to the train, and gave him a parting cheer as it left the station.

FIRE.—A fire alarm was sounded on Thursday afternoon about four o'clock, as smoke was observed issuing from an out-house in the Separate School yard. Some boys had placed a quantity of paper in it, to which they set fire, but the flames were extinguished before any serious damage was done. The fire brigade responded to the alarm and were promptly on hand.

FOR THE WEST.—Rev. H. Pedley, pastor of the Cobourg Congregational Church, leaves this week for Winnipeg, and will be absent two months; one month of which is his annual vacation, and during the other he takes the place of the Rev. Mr. Silcox, who is at present in poor health. We wish the Rev. gentleman a pleasent trip and safe return.

HORSE RACE.—A race for $25 a side between Presquisle, owned by T. O'Neill, and Cobourg Billy, owned by Mr. Adam Dickson, took place from the first toll gate to the Court House on Thursday evening, Cobourg Billy being the winner.

A BATH.—On the schooner Picton coming into the harbor on Saturday, a sailor while in the act of placing a line on a pile struck his foot against a plank and fell into the water. No injury was done to him, beyond receiving a very cool bath.

DUCKED.—Another woman fell into the factory creek on Sunday, in consequence of the apology of a bridge which is erected over that place. We will mention, for the information of the Council, that they are personally responsible for any damages that may occur at this place.

A TRIP.—We believe "Ever ready" No. 2 Fire Co., have accepted an invitation to go to Rochester in a few weeks. Their parade cart is being fixed up in first-class style.

TIMBER.—Several hundred sticks of timber are now lying on "the commons" awaiting to be made into a raft. Continued supplies are still coming in from the back country. Of those sticks on the shore several of them are three feet square.

Mechanics, will you vote for a party which says you should go on the streets or to the poorhouse?

LINDSAY.

THE GAS HOUSE.—The Post says that the plans for the gas-works' buildings show a very neat and substantial structure, entirely of brick, with iron rafters and slated roof. They will therefore be practically fire-proof. The gasometer, a receptacle for storing the manufactured gas in, and from which the mains are supplied, will be circular, forty-five feet in diameter and a depth of seventeen feet. While this will provide ample storage capacity to begin with, it is to be hoped, that it will not for any length of time be sufficient to meet the demand for gas. It might be said that the apprehension of parties living in the vicinity of the proposed works that its location will be somewhat detrimental is entirely groundless. It is now well known that no better disinfected portion of a city exists than that in the immediate vicinity of gas factories. And it will be remembered that our company will make the comparatively new water gas, which will call for a great deal less coal than by the usual method of production, lessening what might be deemed an inconvenience, the smoke from the furnaces, charging the retorts, etc.

THE BY-LAW.—It will be seen by the resolution passed at the special meeting of the school board held recently that the chairman is authorized—indeed he is positively directed—to take legal steps to compel the council to submit to a vote the $8,000 by-law. As the season is not sufficiently advanced to allow of a holiday being taken with comfort, it is probable that the stubborn councillors will be gaoled. Incarceration in a dungeon is bad enough at any time, but to be snatched out of the pleasureable excitement of a tight election contest is galling. And think of the good votes lost to both sides, and the empty gulf in the bosoms of both political parties. The mandamus will be issued directly, and all jokes being laid aside and all excuses whatsoever ceasing, Mr. Jackson will have an accession to the number of boarders at that pleasent retreat up by the court house. The bill of fare is, we believe, exceedingly good, although not comprising all the season's luxuries. But we fancy they will have an obstreperous time with Councillor Walker.

NORWOOD.

CHURCH OPENING.—The Register says that the new Methodist Church at Westwood. was opened on Sabbath last by the Rev. W. H. Laird, of Port Hope. Large congregations, good sermons, and good collections. A tea meeting was held on Monday, and there was a grand turn out. The Rev. H. Kenner read the financial statement, showing an expenditure of nearly $700, all of which was provided for but $15. A gentleman immedistely handed up that amount. Short addresses were delivered by the Rev. Messrs. Sanderson and Clewworth. Music by the Hastings Choir. The people of Westwood have now, a neat brick church, on a good site, a fine large shed, a melodeon, and thanks to the Rev. Mr. Kenner and many others—all paid for. Mr. Blezard, M. P. P., presided and presented a Bible and Hymn Book for the use of the Church.

MILITARY.—Lieut. F. H. Brennan, of No. 5 Co'y 57th Battalion of 'Peterborough Rangers,' left here Monday morning last for Kingston, to join the class newly formed at B. Battery, for the instruction of Infantry officers, who are desirous of obtaining 1st or 2nd class certificates. We wish Lieut. B. every success, and from the interest he takes in Military affairs, we have no doubt, but that he will take a high stand at B. Battery, and return a more efficient officer than ever.

ONTARIO & QUEBEC.—An engineer in the employ of the Ontario & Quebec Railway Co'y, arrived here on Tuesday night last, for the purpose of ascertaining whether our two "little lakes" would require bridging or not. He has five or six men with him.

Lubricating Bearings.

Lewis F. Lyne, in the American Machinist says: "I remember, some years ago in a mill there was a wall-box supporting a five-inch shaft which would get hot and remain so in spite of all efforts made to cool it. Oil, sulphur and tallow, water, were each used in great abundance, but still the journal refused to surrender. Finally, one night I raised the shaft and removed the composition box, and had it carefully cleaned. The shaft having also been cleaned, a very light film of lamp black was gently rubbed over it. This test revealed the fact that the bearing was all right so far as fitting was concerned, but the surface of both the shaft and box were rough, and the skin of the metal disturbed. The load upon the bearing being heavy, it was sure to heat. I obtained some pure flake graphite, and having melted a pot of pure tallow, I stirred in a liberal dose of the graphite. The box having been replaced, both bearing surfaces were covered with the mixture of graphite and tallow, and the shaft lowered to its place. In the morning, when the machinery was started, the box warmed up about to blood heat and remained so for several hours, after which it cooled down and gave no more trouble. In a few days it was examined, when the surface was found polished like a looking glass. The graphite had become imbedded in the pores of the metal and formed a very fine wearing surface, which ran with every little friction. I have since made use of this mixture for cooling heavy journals and have always found it successful."

Support the leaders who are giving us the Trent Valley Canal, and not for those who denounce it as a folly.

The Channel Tunnel and Carbonic Acid Gas.

Professor Tyndall writes to the London Times to describe "a small experiment" which he made with reference to the proposal which Dr. Siemens is reported to have laid before the military authorities to fill the channel tunnel with carbonic acid gas in the event of its occupation by an enemy:—

"Coming down here from London to-day, on a part of the line where our speed was about thirty miles an hour, I took out my watch and determined how long I could hold my breath without inhalation. By emptying my lungs very thoroughly, and then charging them very fully, I brought the time up to nearly a minute and a half. In this interval I might have been urged through more than half a mile of carbonic acid gas with no injury and with little inconvenience to myself. Indeed, supposing the tunnel to be entirely filled with carbonic acid gas, I have sufficient confidence in my friend's ability to wager that in six hours he would be able to devise a means of sending troops safely through it. The problem of supplying fresh air to persons surrounded by an irrespirable atmosphere has been already solved by Mr. Fleuss and others."

Chloride of Lime for Trees.

Le Cultivateur, a French journal, says that if chloride of lime be spread on the soil or near plants, insects and vermin will not be found near them, and adds:—"By its means plants will easily be protected from insect plagues by simply brushing over the stems with a solution of it. It has often been noticed that a patch of land which has been treated in this way remains religiously respected by grubs, while the unprotected beds all round it are liberally devested. Fruit-trees may be guarded from the attacks of grubs by attaching to their trunks pieces of tow smeared with a mixture of hogs' lard, and ants and grubs already in possession will rapidly vacate their position. Butterflies, again, will avoid all plants whose leaves have been sprinkled with lime-water."

Vote for the National Policy and good times, not for "Flies on the Wheel" and hard times.

A New Kind of Veneers.

A Boston genius has invented glass veneers. Underneath a plate of glass is a substance made in exact imitation of the grain of wood—oak, mahogany, rosewood, maple, etc.,—and the whole attached to the article of furniture, either as a panel top or otherwise. The effect thus produced is said to be beautiful in the extreme, surpassing any polish of the natural wood that it is possible to produce. One of the most important features attending these glass veneers is the great variety of uses to which they are applicable. They are adapted for paneling, dado work, top of center or side tables, mantels, office furniture and even doors.

Murderer O'Rourke Respited.

Michael O'Rourke, who was sentenced to be hanged to-mrrow at Milton, has been respited till Jan. 5 1883. This respite was secured by the production of a fiat of the attorney-general of Ontario, which was granted for the purpose of letting the objections of the prisoner's counsel as to the legality of the proceedings in the trial be argued before a superior court.

FOR WEAK LUNGS, spitting of blood, weak stomach, night sweats, and the early stages of Consumption, "Golden Medical Discovery" is specific. By druggists.

A GENTLEMAN AGED 65, writes: "I heartly thank you for the great boon I have obtained through the use of your wonderful rejuvenator, known as Mack's Magnetic Medicine. I am fully restored—feel like a young colt" Read advertisement in another column.

A NEIGHBOUR Gave me a dose of Dr. Smith's German Worm Remedy and it removed a large number of worms from my children, after all so-called worms' medicines failed.—Thomas McElligott, 51 Anderson street, Montreal. 25 cents of J. McKee Peterborough.

The exemption of several individuals from Typhoid Fever, which recently prevailed very largely in a Western town, was directly traced to the fact that they maintained an excellent state of health by the use of Dr. Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters. This medicine is purely vegetable, non-alcoholic, and may be had of all Druggists. Price 50c.

BRIGHT'S DISEASE, DIABETES.—Beware of the stuff that pretends to cure these diseases or other serious Kidney, Urinry or Livor diseases, as they only relieve for a time and make you ten times worse afterwards, but rely on Hop Bitters, the only remedy that will surely and permanently cure you. It destroys and removes the cause of disease so effectually that it never returns.

J. Werts & Son, Freedomville, Ohio, write:—"This informs you that we have sold all those Baxter's Mandrake Bitters you sent us. We sold the last three bottles to-day. Two of our customers disputed about which should have the last bottle, and we decided the matter by promising to send for more at once. The Bitters give universal satisfaction to all who have tried them. We want you to send us twelve dozen forthwith." Baxter's Mandrake Bitters never fail to cure all diseases of the Stomach, Liver and Bowels. 25 cents per bottle. Sold by all dealers in medicine.

WILL YOU EXCHANGE a case of Dyspepsia or Biliousness for 75 cents? It is awfully unwise to agonize under the many ailments arising from Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Disordered Stomach and Liver, when this offer is made to you in your own home in all sincerity, with an absolute certainty of curing you.

ZOPESA (from Brazil) cures Dyspepsia and Biliousness. A single dose relieves; a sample bottle convinces; a 75 cent bottle cures.

It acts directly upon the Stomach, Liver, and Kidneys.

Cleansing, Correcting, Regulating, Zopesa gives energy and vim to the Brain, Nerve, and Muscle, simply by working wonders upon the Digestion, and giving activity to the Liver.

Cut this out, take it to any dealer in medicines, and get at least one 75 cent bottle of Zopesa, and tell your neighbor how it acts. It is warranted to cure Dyspepsia and Biliousness.

EARS FOR THE MILLION

Foo Choo's Balsam of Shark's Oil

Positively Restores the Hearing, and is the only Absolute Cure for Deafness known.

This Oil is abstracted from peculiar species of small White Shark, caught in the Yellow Sea, known as CARCHARODON RONDELETII. Every Chinese fisherman knows it. Its virtues as a restorative of hearing were discovered by a Buddhist Priest about the year 1410. Its cures were so numerous and many so seemingly miraculous, that the remedy was officially proclaimed over the entire Empire. Its use became so universal that for over 300 years no Deafness has Existed among the Chinese People. Sent, charges prepaid, to any address at $1.00 a bottle.

Hear What the Deaf say!

It has performed a miracle in my case.
I have no unearthly noises in my head and hear much better.
I have been greatly benefited.
My deafness helped a great deal—think another bottle will cure me.

"Its virtues are UNQUESTIONABLE and its CURATIVE CHARACTER ABSOLUTE, AS THE WRITER CAN PERSONALLY TESTIFY, BOTH FROM EXPERIENCE AND OBSERVATION. Write at once to HAYLOCK & JENNEY, 7 Dey Street, New York, enclosing $1.00, and you will receive by return a remedy that will enable you to hear like anybody else, and whose curative effects will be permanent. KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE,

The most successful remedy ever discovered, as it is certain in its effects and does not blister. READ PROOF BELOW.

From Rev. P. N. GRANGER,

Presiding Elder of the St. Albans District.

ST. ALBANS, Vt., Jan. 20th, 1880.

DR. B. J. KENDALL & Co., Gents:—In reply to your letter I will say that my experience with Kendall's Spavin Cure has been very satisfactory indeed. Three or four years ago I procured a bottle of your agent, and with it, cured a horse of lameness caused by a spavin. Last season my horse became very lame and I turned him out for a few weeks when he became better, but when I put him on the road he grew worse, when I discovered that a ringbone was forming. I procured a bottle of Kendall's Spavin Cure, and with less than a bottle cured him so that he is not lame, neither can the bunch be found.

Respectfully yours, P. N. GRANGER.

PERSEVERANCE WILL TELL.

STOUGHTON, MASS., March 16th, 1880.

B. J. KENDALL & Co., Gents:—In justice to you and myself, I think I ought to let you know that I have removed two bone spavins with Kendall's Spavin Cure, one very large one, don't know how long the spavin had been there. I have owned the horse eight months. It took me four months to take the large one off and two for the small one. I have used ten bottles. The horse is entirely well, not at all stiff, and no bunch to be seen or felt. This is a wonderful medicine. It is a new thing here, but if it does for all what it has done for me, its sale will be very great.

Respectfully yours, CHAS. E. PARKER.

KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE is sure in its effects, mild in its action, as it does not blister, yet it is penetrating and powerful to reach every deep seated pain or to remove any bony growth or other enlargement, such as spavins, splints, curbs, callous, sprains, swellings, and lameness and all enlargements of the joints or limbs, or rheumatism in man and for any purpose for which a liniment is used for man or beast. It is now known to be the best liniment for man ever used, acting mild and yet certain in its effects.

Send address for Illustrated Circular which we think gives positive proof of its virtues. No remedy has ever met with such unqualified success to our knowledge, for beast as well as man.

Price $1 per bottle, or six bottles for $5. All druggists have it or can get it for you, or it will be sent to any address on receipt of price by the proprietors, DR. B. J. KENDALL & CO., Enosburgh Falls, Vt.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—AN EXTERNAL MEANS of CURING SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic; whilst old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalcules which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produce a clear, healthy natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION, a FLUID peculiar in itself, is the most potent enemy to all Skin Disorders. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the least degree comparable for its Healthy Action on the Human Skin.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. Startin, and every year it is used adds more and more favourably to its widly increasing reputation. Anyone, however deeply and hopelessly afflicted with Skin Disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent in a diminished appearance of the malady, a growing tendency to fade away, and complete obliteration of the eruption.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—BOTTLES CONTAINING NEARLY HALF A PINT.—SOLD BY CHEMISTS EVERYWHERE. Made in London, Eng.

WEST PETERBOROUGH!

MR. HILLIARD HOLDS THE FIRST MEETING OF THE CAMPAIGN IN TOWN.

A Splendid representative gathering in Bradburn's Opera House—Addresses by the Candidate, Mr. Carnegie and Mr. Bertram—The Government's Policy ably Championed—The usual Grit tactics.

The first meeting of the campaign that has been held in the town, took place on Friday evening at Bradburn's Opera House. The meeting was called by Mr. Hilliard, and the Reform candidate having been invited, Mr. John Bertram appeared on behalf of Mr. Lundy.

The large hall was well filled by a thoroughly representative gathering of electors, nearly all the leading ratepayers on both sides of politics being present. The meeting was conducted in the best of spirit throughout, personalities not being indulged in, and both sides getting a fair hearing, until the Grits, probably disgusted with the weakness of their own cause, left the Hall, when Mr. Carnegie rose to speak.

MR. JAMES STEVENSON was moved to the chair, and in opening the meeting spoke of the great benefit that the National Policy had been to our manufacturing, mining and agricultural interests, and closed by introducing the Conservative Candidate.

MR. GEORGE HILLIARD was received with great applause. He asked for a kind hearing not only for himself, but for any others who might desire to speak on behalf of the opposition. Four years ago he had been elected a member for this riding and was now prepared to give his reasons for supporting the government as he had done. After alluding to the dissolution and the causes that led to it, the principal being the cry of the Grits themselves, and the necessity there existed for establishing our policy on a firmer basis for five years more, in order that a large amount of money now awaiting investment, should be invested here (cheers) he spoke of our trade policy, and said that free trade was not so bad, but the question was how are we going to get it? We had Reciprocity, but the Americans ended the treaty and in spite of Sir John A., Sir Francis Hincks, and Hon. Geo. Brown, the Americans would give us no fair treaty but only a "jug handled" policy, that benefited themselves and injured us as it would swamp out our infant manufactures. (Cheers.) He claimed that the N. P. was a decided benefit, and asked the electors to compare the years previous to 1878 with the present time. While then the laborer could only obtain a half loaf, he was now independent and dictated to his employer. (Applause.) Ruin and disaster had been predicted by the Grits on account of the N.P., but ruin and decay had not come, though prosperity had instead. (Applause.) It had been said that England would be against us and that the Americans would set us at rest, but like all other of the Grit predictions, they had not been fulfilled. Previous to 1878 we had deficit upon deficit, but when John A. came in the scene changed and instead of deficit, year after year, surpluses stared us in the face. (Applause.) The knight of the two faced shield next received some attention, and the speaker claimed that the N. P. had cheapened goods and living and the taxes per capita had decreased from $4.88 in 1878 to about $4.60 in 1881. Our markets are now secured for our people to a large extent and our workingmen are now kept busy. He next gave valid reasons to prove that the N. P. benefited the farmers by making spring wheat dearer than fall, something never before known before the N. P. A committee had been appointed to ascertain the effect of the N. P. on agriculture and had sent a list of questions to our leading farmers including nearly all the Ontario reeves, and of the replies 75 per cent were favourable and 25 per cent unfavourable. He read several of the answers from leading men in the adjoining counties, all favourable, and from Mr. Moir, of Cornwall, formerly of Auburn, stating that woollens were never cheaper—(applause)—also from Mr. J. Tweed, of Stormont, stating that the cotton industry was flourishing and that cottons were just as cheap as in 1878. He then referred to the matter of his absence from the House, and produced the letter of the Clerk, showing that $320 of his sessional allowance had been deducted, and after also deducting his travelling expenses for fourteen trips and his board bill, he had $447 to the good to pay him for his time while at Ottawa. Besides, all his duties were not at Ottawa, as he had to answer communications and write many letters for his constituents. Again all must remember that the Dominion and not West Peterborough paid his salary, and the expense was one-tenth of one mill on each inhabitant of the riding, and as Mr. Bertram had a family of eight or nine he would gladly hand him his share—(laughter and applause)—and would do the same to any elector who desired it. Then again, Mr. Bertram had been at Ottawa for five years and had drawn $5,000, and had secured no return to his constituency, even to the extent of one-tenth of a mill. (Applause.) That is not all. Worse than that, Mr. Bertram made application for a sum of money for river improvements. Did he get it? No.

MR. BERTRAM said yes, just before leaving the House he had secured a grant to repair the Buckhorn dam.

MR. HILLIARD stood corrected, but asked where was Mr. Bertram when the Government handed over to Mr. Mowat the magnificent water system of the Trent? Was he in the House? If not he should have been. Was he consulted? If not he was a mere figure head. (Applause.) The speaker had assisted to do something the like of which had not been accomplished since he came to Peterborough in 1847. He had assisted to get $300,000 for the Trent Valley Canal—(cheers)—and to secure it they had to battle right and left against the most strenuous opposition. The scandal monger's sheet up street had promised to support the scheme and he met the Examiner man on the train one day and asked him to give a helping hand to get the T. V.C. He asked him to make that question his politics and inferred from what he was told, that such would be done, but such has not been done, the paper preferred not to support the public weal, but party, party before country.—(Applause). The Opposition candidates in Toronto were urging the electors to defeat the men, who had supported the canal. He felt positive, in fact he knew, that the Government would proceed with the great work at once and if such was not done, he would stand before the electors and tell them he had been deceived, and he thought that the best policy for the Grits was to keep "mum." (Cheers). He next spoke of the Pacific Railway contract, showing that the present Government had made a contract to construct the road without one dollar of expense to the country, after Mackenzie had signally failed even when he offered many millions more. He also strongly condemned the "bogus" syndicate that raised the cry for political purposes that they would construct the road at a lower rate than the other Syndicate. He next touched on the Rivers and Streams Bill, and stated that the Dominion Government in disallowing that Act did as any honest and fair Government, not wishing to interfere with the vested right of any individual without giving fair recompense therefor, should have done. (Cheers.) Mr. J. C. Miller, of Muskoka, a large lumberman and a strong supporter of the Ontario Government, had hit the nail on the head exactly when he stated that the Government might just as well have taken a tramway or railway off his land as interfere with Mr. McLaren's dams. He, personally, had a little dealing with another Mr. Caldwell, a brother of the Caldwell interested in the Streams bill and he would tell his audience about the matter to show that all the family were tarred with the same stick. Some years ago in 1866 or 1867 he had improved a stream in the back country for the purpose of aiding him to get his timber down. While other lumbermen interested came to his assistance and contributed towards the cost of the works, this man Caldwell refused to give one cent, and tried to head the speaker off. He ran his timber in and then said "You cannot get over without putting mine over first." That was a fair sample of the family and the other case was far worse. He had applied to the Ontario Government for aid to make streams more navigable for timber and logs but received nothing, while he found that his neighbors who were good Grits received handsome appropriations for the same purpose that he had asked a grant for, but because he was not a supporter of Mowat, he could not get any. (Applause.) On another occasion the sum of $8000 had been given to a supporter of the Ontario Government, to open a certain stream on which there was not one stick of timber that could not have been taken to the market far easier by some other route. (Cheers.) In conclusion he asked the electors to vote for him if he had acted in a manner to deserve their confidence, and if in their opinion he had not done so, he could not expect their votes. All knew the benefits that the N.P. had conferred on Canada, and by voting against the present Government the electors were voting against their own interests. Mr. Lundy appealed for support on the ground that he would encourage Canadian industries, but was he in earnest or did he draw up his address? He could not consistently do it. A short time ago Mr. Lundy being a monied man was appealed to to aid a carworks factory, the citizens of Peterborough thought so much of the scheme that they voted $20,000 aid to it, and other enterprising citizens subscribed stock, but not enough to start the works, but Mr. Lundy refused to contribute one cent, stating that he preferred to put his money into mortgages. (Applause.) Mr. Lundy had done nothing whatever to benefit the town, and he would undertake to say that the poorest laborer was of more benefit to it than Mr. Lundy (cheers), as every laborer was of some benefit but Mr. Lundy was of no benefit whatever. The speaker then retired amid loud applause.

MR. JOHN BERTRAM, who followed was received with applause. His speech was a tirade of abuse against the N.P., and he proclaimed himself an ardent free trader and in favor of the suicidal policy of the Mackenzie Government. He eulogized Mr. Lundy and claimed that no man stood higher in town, and thought Mr. Lundy could do with his money as he liked and that instead of encouraging carworks and other industries he could lend his money on mortgages if he saw fit to do so. He characterized the N. P. as a machine for taxing the people and said the prosperity of Canada was not due to the N.P., but to the good times, forgetting to state however what the good times are due to. He read letters from Mr. W. Hamilton stating that his iron and coal were dearer and his business was not benefitted by the duties. The letter was couched in careful language but did not state that at present his foundry was running night and day, that he could not fill his orders, that he employed more men and that he paid higher wages than in 1878; from P. Hamilton stating that agricultural implement manufacturers were not benefitted by the N. P. but not stating that the machines were not any dearer now than 1878, although the material cost more and the workmen received higher wages. The "tall chimney" stale tale next followed, but fell very flat. Bewildering figures came next that neither the speaker nor the audience understood. He instanced a little hose speculation on which he had not made as much money as he anticipated, but never mentioned that he could have purchased just as good an article manufactured in Canada at a lower rate, but then he prefers to patronize foreign manufacturers and let Canadian mechanics starve. In spite of the evidence that has been adduced he sought to prove what every person knows is not true, that cottons and woollens are dearer to-day than in 1878. He also asserted that living was higher now than in 1875, while wages were no higher. He next spoke of the Pacific Railway, going over all the exploded Grit fallacies in endeavouring to sustain his position, and concluded by asking the electors to return to power the starvation Government.

MR. JNO. CARNEGIE was received with loud applause and as he arose to speak the more ignorant Grits, including some of the head men of the party, judging by their rapturous applause when Mr. Bertram was speaking, interrupted the audience and speaker by making a hasty exit, although they profess to be so desirous of hearing both sides of the question, but in this case as in all others they don't practice what they preach. After referring to the departure of the Reformers the speaker spoke of the settlement of the North-west and said that in all other countries, where there were great tracts of land to settle the same policy had been pursued as here. Mr. Bertram had not stated that the present Pacific Railway contract was not infinitely better than Mackenzie's, but complained of the monopoly given to the railway company, but the speaker showed by reading from the bill that the clause was inserted to prevent the Americans slipping in and carrying away our legitimate trade. (Cheers.) When Mr. Bertram spoke of the duties he referred to the importers, not the manufacturers, and as Mr. Bertram belonged to the former class the N. P. was a bad thing for him as it was cutting down that class of middlemen, and therefore it was plain to see why he opposed the N. P. (Cheers.) Mr. Bertram had spoken of the increase of duty, but had not referred to the mortgages that rolled up under the Mackenzie Government. John A. made tea free, but Cartwright taxed it. John A. also took the stamps off the poor man's note and had done everything he could to better the condition of the workingman. Silks and satins, wines, spirits, whiskeys and tobaccos had all contributed more than in 1878—(cheers)—while the poor man's tea was free. (Cheers.) Mr. Bertram dare not say that a Reform government would reduce the taxes on the luxuries mentioned. The importations of tea had increased 50 per cent., so that the population had increased greatly or the people were better off. He claimed that John A. was not responsible for the deficit of 1878 as he had to meet the extravagant expenditure of his predecessors. As regards Mr. Hamilton, he instanced one particular case in which that gentleman himself told him that if it was not for the duty he would not have received the work. (Cheers.) As regarded agricultural implements they were no dearer than 1878, and owing to the N. P. the manufacturers were enabled to ship to Manitoba. He also touched on the oat question, showing how the farmer was benefitted. Mr. Bertram had said that the N. P. had done nothing for Peterborough, but he asked that gentleman to take a walk along Dickson's race and see the four new factories in course of erection and another about to be re-opened. (Loud cheers.) He claimed that the letters read ought to be published so that all the electors could see them. Regarding Mr. Hilliard's absence from the house and the assertion that if he had been there he would have voted as a machine, he asked his electors to examine Mr. Bertram's record and see the kind of a machine he was, voting every time with his party, even to defending the Speaker and his printing job. (Cheers.) Mr. Bertram said that he got a few dollars to fix a dam at Buckhorn but Mr. Bertram asked for but could not obtain a single dollar to take a few snags out of the river. (Cheers.) The T.V.C. was practically killed under Mackenzie and Bertram and if Mackenzie had his way the canal would have been dead before this. Mr Bertram influence in the House was so great that his proposal to get a great through line of Railway from the North West through our town, fell like a bag of feathers on the House. (Cheers) Thanks to the energy of our member, we will now get a through line of water communication and a through railway, which will place our town on a par with any other place in Canada. (Loud cheers.) The only way to build up and promote manufacturies is to support and uphold the government that stands by us. Mackenzie handed over the T.V.C. to Mowat to destroy it, Mackenzie denounced the scheme on the floor of the House, while Mr. Blake sat silent, as he did when the Boundary award question was up and gave no sound on the matter, and still his organ say that Blake is the man to build the canal. (Cheers.) It had been said that the $290,000 was for political purposes, but the circumstances did not warrent such an assertion. He concluded by asking all present to vote for Hilliard and Burnham.

The meeting broke up with cheers for the Queen, Messrs. Hilliard, Burnham, Carnegie and the chairman.

POLITICAL POINTS!

GENTLEMEN,

Recurring again to the subject of politics—these politics that we are trying to talk about, but not a word of this to the ladies. Neither politics nor spring poetry are playthings for women. So by special request, not a word of this to the women.

All of us have made up our minds to give these party claims our most careful consideration. But we go to the jovial ward meeting—and that is, the last of our firm resolve to give an upright, honourable, square-toed, astraddle-the-fence vote.

For whom will you vote?

In answering this, remember that you are not obliged to criminate yourself—the law protects you to that extent. Bless the law!

Do you not notice that there is a more exuberant warmth about the greetings of candidates, and an increase of dignity about the man in overalls not apparent a few weeks ago? If you have not, then you have no vote.

Be jubilant while the present opportunities are on deck. After the campaign they will be laid away and stand up behind the door like an old umbrella.

Also remember that just now we are giving away FINE and MEDIUM TWEED SUITS! Giving them away, gentlemen! Of course we accept a trifling compensation for our cloth, trimmings and make—always did. These concessions to the electorate will last for the next three weeks. Make a note of it.

To the Free and Independent Electors of the WEST RIDING OF PETERBOROUGH.

GENTLEMEN,—

At the urgent solicitation of my political friends I have consented to be again a candidate for your suffrages at the approaching election.

While I would have preferred not to have been a candidate on the present occasion, yet now that I have placed my services again at your disposal, you may rest assured that no private duty or engagement will be allowed to interfere with the proper discharge of my duties as your representative, should I be honoured with your confidence for the second time.

Although I failed to be present at every division during the recent session, I would venture to challenge my political opponents to specify a single instance in which I have neglected the interests of my constituents or failed to discharge the duties devolving upon me as your representative to the best of my ability and judgment.

During the past four years I have rendered a cheerful support to the government of Sir John A. Macdonald, believing that it has not only redeemed the pledges given previous to the last general election, but that its policy has been and is one eminently calculated to promote the prosperity of the country, and should you again honor me with your confidence I shall continue to give the present government the same cordial support, so long as their policy commends itself to my judgment.

In conjunction with the other representatives from this section of Ontario, I have done all in my power to secure the early construction of the Trent Valley Canal, and the large measure of success which has attended our past efforts should assure the electorate of this district that if their present representatives are re-elected and the present government sustained, this great and long-looked-for work will be brought to an early completion.

As it will be impossible for me to undertake anything like a personal canvas between this and polling day, I trust those favorable to the cause of good government will render me their hearty support without waiting to be asked, and that all the electors will make it a point to attend the meetings which I propose holding in different parts of the constituency for the purpose of public explanation and discussion of the several questions involved in the present campaign.

Again thanking you for the confidence reposed in me in 1878, and soliciting a renewal of the same,

I am, gentlemen,

Your ob't. serv't.,

GEO. HILLIARD.

THE CONTENTED MAN,

Who is He?

The discussion of this question by an able lecturer was listened to a few evenings ago with interest by large audience.

We venture to think that one of this class may be represented by the head of a family, who has been instructed to purchase a supply of that essential commodity for the table—TEA.

He has an indefinite idea that the article ought to be cheaper on account of the removal of the duty, but when he finds that he can save 10 cents per lb., instead of 5 he is jubilant.

THE CONTENTED MAN is he who gets the full benefit of the reduction of the duty on his tea for this year by making a saving of, say $3.00 on a purchase of 30 lbs.

Prove it by inspecting my stock of JAPANS AND YOUNG HYSONS.

THE STEAMER QUEBEC, which arrived here last night from Lake Superior, reports that the steam barge Vanderbilt, bound from Midland to Mamainee, Lake Superior, took fire off Meldrum Bay, Manitoulin Island, on Saturday and was beached on Serpent Island. The crew and passengers were all saved.

How the Irish Assassins Probably Escaped.

I am not greatly surprised at the Dublin murderers not having been discovered. The original fault was unquestionably in the police allowing Lord Frederick and Mr. Burke to walk through the park without any precautions being taken for their safety. The mistake being made, and the idea of driving up to them in a fast car having occurred to the murderers, the rest was easy.

Let us suppose that the murder was planned by six men. Their first object would be to find a car and a car driver. This driver they would have to take into their secret. Two men would be set to watch the victims, and the four would mount the car. The murder being affected, the car would be driven back by a circuitous route into the town. The men would get out of it go severally to their lodgings and burn any portions of their clothes which might be stained with blood. Then they would either remain in Dublin, and do precisely what they would have done had they not committed the crime, or they would slip out of the country one by one on some of the numerous vessels bound for America. It is evident, therefore, that with ordinary prudence they might render it impossible for the police to obtain any clue either to their identify or to their whereabouts.

Murderers are almost always found out owing to some fault in their planning, or to some accidental circumstance in their perpetration. Either a weapon is dropped, or a chance word is heard, or blood is seen by some one on the clothes of one of the perpetrators, or the previous relation of the murderer and his victim becomes a clue. To follow up a thread is easy, but where, as in this case, the murderers have been evidently most cautious, there is no thread to follow up.—London Truth.

The Bishop Who Would Not Pray for Rain.

The Bishop of Melbourne was recently asked to frame a special from of prayer for rain, to be used throughout his diocese in view of the severe drouth with which the colony was afflicted. To the astonishment of everybody, the bishop flatly refused. Changes in the weather, he said, were the result of unwavering natural laws, and prayer was an agency more fitted for securing spiritual blessings than material needs. It would be much wiser if people set themselves, to utilize the water which they now allow to flow to waste into the sea than to content themselves with praying to be delivered from the consequences of their own neglect. A great sensation has been produced by this refusal in the colony, where it is felt that the bishop has taken adroit advantage of the opportunity to make a telling point against the colonial government, which, with the sanction of parliament, has refused to carry out his favorite scheme of a grand national system of irrigation.

Mrs. Garfield is Very Well off.

She has $300,000 in government bonds, the result of the subscription. Then her husband's life was insured for $50,000, which was promptly received. She also was paid the salary of the president for the unoccupied first year, amounting to about $20,000 then add to it about $30,000, the total value of Garfield's estate. That was the total amount, after all the abuse that was received, that he was able to accumulate in a life of fifty years. That makes $400,000 does it not? I suppose that the income from this total of more than $400,000 will be perhaps $16,000 a year. She is also put on the pension list at $5,000 a year. So she is comfortable, and can raise her children well.

JEWISH EMIGRANTS.
